11 And one of Joab's men stood near him and said, "Whoever favours Joab and whoever is for David, let him go after Joab." 12 And Amasa was wallowing in blood in the middle of the highway. And when the man saw that all the people stood still, he moved Amasa out of the highway into the field and threw a cloth over him, seeing that everyone who came near him stood still. 13 When he had been moved out of the highway, all the people went on after Joab to pursue Sheba the son of Bichri.

14 And he went through all the tribes of Israel to Abel, and to Beth-Maachah and all the Berites, and they were gathered together and also went after him. 15 And they came and besieged him in Abel of Beth-Maachah, and they threw up a mound against the city, and it stood by the wall; and all the people who were with Joab battered the wall to 19:41-43 The men of the northern tribes of Israel had spoken before the men of Judah of bringing David back (v 11), but Judah performed the ceremony of bringing him over Jordan. In the argument which resulted, Israel claimed their right on the ground of numbers (v 43), Judah claimed theirs on the ground of relationship (v 42). What should have been a time of united rejoicing became an occasion for jealousy and dissension.

20:1 "Wicked man" - Prov 15:18; 16:28; 17:14,19; 20:3; 28:25. There will always be someone ready to promote dissension among God's people, for his own ends.

20:2 A brief time before (19:43) the men of these northern tribes insisted they had ten shares in David. Now they say they have none. The affection of the masses is a fickle thing

(Num 14:10; 1 Sam 30:6; Matt 27:20-26). 20:3 15:16; 16:21,22.

20:4 "Amasa" - David did what he said he would do in 19:13. He ignored Joab.

20:5 "The set time" - no reason is given for this. Perhaps the men of Judah were hesitant about following a new commander. They showed their loyalty to Joab in vs 11,13,15.

20:6 David turned for help again to one of the sons of Zeruiah who were "too much" for him, whom he had called "adversaries" (19:21,22). Indeed they were adversaries of everything gentle, humble, and spiritual.

20:7 "Pelethites" - 8:18.

20:9 "Kiss him" - the hypocrite's way (Matt 26:49).

20:10 2:23; 3:27; 18:14; 1 Kings 2:5.

20:14 "Maachah" - in the far north of the land.

bring it down. 16 Then a wise woman cried out from the city, "Listen! Listen! Please say to Joab, 'Come near here, so that I may speak with you.'" 17 And when he had come near her, the woman said, "Are you Joab?"

And he answered, "I am."

Then she said to him, "Listen to the words of your maid servant."

And he answered, "I am listening."

18 Then she spoke, saying, "In olden times they used to speak, saying, 'They will surely ask counsel at Abel' and so they ended any dispute. 19 I am one of the peaceable and faithful in Israel. You are seeking to destroy a city and a mother in Israel. Why would you swallow up the inheritance of the Lord?"

20 And Joab answered and said, "Far be it, far be it from me, that I should swallow up or destroy. 21 The case is not like that; but a man from mount Ephraim, Sheba by name, the son of Bichri, has raised his hand against the king, against David. Only hand him over, and I will depart from the city."

And the woman said to Joab, "Look, his head will be thrown to you over the wall." 22 Then the woman went to all the people in her wisdom. And they cut off the head of Sheba, the son of Bichri, and threw it out to Joab. And he blew a trumpet, and they withdrew from the city, each man to his tent. And Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

23 Now Joab was over all the army of Israel, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Kerethites and over the Pelethites, 24 and Adoram was over the tribute, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder, 25 and Sheva was scribe, and Zadok and Abiathar were the priests, 26 and Ira the Jairite also was a minister under David.

21 Then there was a famine in the days of David for three years, year after year, and David inquired of the LORD. And the LORD answered, "It is on account of Saul and on account of his house of bloodshed, because he killed the Gibeonites."

2 And the king called the Gibeonites and spoke to them. Now the Gibeonites were not a part of the children of Israel, but of the remnant of the Amorites. And the children of Israel had sworn to spare them, but Saul sought to strike them down in his zeal for the children of Israel and Judah. 3 Therefore David said to the Gibeonites, "What shall I do for you? And how shall I make atonement, so that you may bless the inheritance of the LORD?"

4 And the Gibeonites said to him, "For us it is not a matter of silver or gold with Saul or with his house; nor should any man in Israel be put to death for us."

And he said, "I will do for you whatever you say."

5 And they answered the king, "As for the man who consumed us, and who planned that we should be ruined with no place remaining for us in any of the territories of Israel, 6 let seven men among his offspring be handed over to us, and we will hang them up before the LORD in Gibeah of Saul, the chosen of the LORD."

And the king said, "I will hand them over."

7 But the king spared Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan, the son of Saul, because of the LORD's oath that was between them, between David and Jonathan, the son of Saul. 8 But the king took the two sons of Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah, whom she bore to Saul, Armoni and Mephibosheth, and 20:19 "Mother" – in the Bible towns and cities are sometimes spoken of using the female gender (Ps 137:8; Isa 1:8; 23:10, 12; Jer 50:12; Gal 4:26; Rev 17:5,18; etc). 20:22 "Jerusalem" – and the king accepted Joab again as commander of the army (v 23). Joab was not the kind of person one could shunt aside. David had tried and failed. 20:23-25 8:15-18; 1 Chron 18:14-17.

"Adoram" (v 24) – a variant of Adoniram. 21:1 "Famine" – observe that God sent a famine because of the nation's sin. Putting the Gibeonites to death violated the promise Joshua made to them (Josh 9:3-21). The sin was Saul's, but the trouble came to all. Compare Josh 7:1,11. God dealt with the nation as a unit. And the nation had not confessed and dealt with this sin. 21:2 "Gibeonites" – Josh 9:15,18-26. 21:3 "Atonement" – when wrong has been done it has to be put right. Otherwise God's blessing should not be expected (Ex 22:1-15; Lev 6:4,5; 24:18,21; 1 Sam 12:3; 2 Sam 12:6; Luke 19:8).

"Inheritance" – the land of Israel. 21:5,6 Gen 9:5,6; Num 25:4; 35:31. Saul himself was dead, so retribution was made on his descendants. Many more than seven Gibeonites had been killed, but they were willing to accept the death of seven of Saul's descendants as a just retribution. Was it right for Saul's descendants to pay the penalty of sin committed by Saul? In this case it was right, for God accepted it and stopped the famine (v 14), and certainly we may say that God would not have done so if the action by David had not been right. At first sight this all seems contrary to God's word in Ezekiel chapter 18. But there sin is regarded as a personal matter; in Saul's case God regarded it as a national matter, as in the case of Achan. Also, for all we know, it may be that Saul's descendants had guilty knowledge of Saul's wicked deed, were one with him in it, were wicked people themselves.

the five sons of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom she brought up for Adriel, the son of Barzillai, the Meholathite, 9 and he delivered them into the hands of the Gibeonites. And they hanged them on the hill before the LORD. And all seven of them fell together, and were put to death during the first days of harvest, in the beginning of the barley harvest.

10 And Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah, took sackcloth and spread it for herself on the rock there, from the beginning of harvest until rain fell on them from the sky, and did not let either the birds of the air come on them by day or the beasts of the field by night. 11 And it was told David what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, the concubine of Saul, had done. 12 And David went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son from the men of Jabesh Gilead, who had stolen them from the street of Beth-Shan, where the Philistines had hanged them after the Philistines had killed Saul in Gilboa. 13 And David brought the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son up from there; and they gathered the bones of those who had been hanged.

14 And they buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan in the country of Benjamin in Zelah, in the tomb of his father Kish, and they did all that the king commanded. And after that God heard prayer for the land.

15 Once again the Philistines were at war with Israel, and David went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Philistines, and David became exhausted. 16 And Ishbi-benob, who was one of the descendants of a giant, and the weight of whose spear was three hundred bronze shekels in weight, and who was girded with a new sword, said he would kill David. 17 But Abishai, the son of Zeruiah, helped him, and struck the Philistine and killed him. Then David's men swore to him, saying, "You shall no longer go out with us to battle, so that you do not extinguish the light of Israel."

18 And it happened after this, that again there was a battle with the Philistines at Gob. Then Sibbechai, the Hushathite, killed Saph, who was one of the descendants of a giant.

19 And again there was a battle in Gob with the Philistines, where Elhanan, the son of Jaare-oregim, a Bethlehemite, killed the brother of Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

20 And there was another battle in Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had six fingers on each hand, and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in number, and he too had been born to a giant. 21 And when he defied Israel, Jonathan, the son of Shimeah the brother of David, killed him.

22 These four were born to a giant in Gath, and fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

22 And David spoke to the LORD the words of this song on the day that the LORD delivered him out of the hands of all his enemies and out of the hands of Saul,

2 And he said,

"The LORD is my rock, and my fortress,
and my deliverer,

3 My God, my rock.

In him I will trust.

He is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour.

You save me from violence.

4 I will call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised,

and I will be saved from my enemies.

5 "When the waves of death came around me,
the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

6 The sorrows of hell came all around me;
the snares of death were before me.

7 In my distress I called to the LORD,
and cried out to my God;

and he hear my voice from his temple,
and my cry came into his ears.

8 "Then the earth shook and trembled;
the foundations of heaven moved and shook, because he was angry.

9 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils,
and devouring fire out of his mouth.

Coals were kindled by it.

10 And he bowed the heavens and came down, and darkness was under his feet.

21:10 "Rain" – God sent rain in answer to prayer (v14), because just retribution had been made.

21:12 1 Sam 31:8-13.

21:14 "After that God heard prayer" – 24:25; Josh 7:26; 2 Chron 7:13,14.

21:16 "Three hundred shekels" – about 3.5 kilograms.

21:17 "Light" – 18:3; 1 Kings 11:36. David was like a light to Israel only because God was a light to him (22:29).

22:1 Ex 15:1; Jud 5:1; Rev 15:2-4.

22:2-51 Apart from a few slight changes this song is the same as Ps 18:2-50. See notes there. It was written just after the victories recorded in 2 Sam 8:1-14, before David's sin with Bathsheba. Chapters 21-23 of this book (for the most part) refer to events before those recorded in chapter 20.

22:6 "Hell" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

- 11 And he rode on a cherub and flew,
and he was seen on the wings of the wind.
- 12 And he made darkness canopies around him, dark waters,
and thick clouds of the skies.
- 13 Through the brightness before him coals of fire were kindled.
- 14 The LORD thundered from heaven,
and the Most High uttered his voice.
- 15 And he sent out arrows, and scattered them; lightning, and routed them.
- 16 And the channels of the sea appeared, the foundations of the earth were uncovered, at the rebuke of the LORD, at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.
- 17 "He sent from above; he took me;
he drew me out of many waters.
- 18 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
and from those who hated me,
for they were too strong for me.
- 19 They confronted me in the day of my calamity,
but the LORD was my support.
- 20 And he brought me out into a spacious place.
He delivered me because he delighted in me.
- 21 "The LORD has rewarded me in accordance with my righteousness;
in accordance with the cleanness of my hands he has repaid me.
- 22 For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.
- 23 For all his judgments were before me;
and as for his statutes,
I did not depart from them.
- 24 And I was blameless before him,
and have kept myself from my iniquity.
- 25 Therefore the LORD has repaid me in accordance with my righteousness, in accordance with my cleanness in his eyes.
- 26 "With the merciful you show yourself
merciful,
and with the blameless man you show yourself to be blameless.
- 27 With the pure you show yourself pure, and with the twisters you show yourself able to twist.
- 28 "And you will save the afflicted people;
but your eyes are on the haughty,
whom you will bring down.
- 29 For you are my lamp, O LORD,
and the LORD will light up my darkness.
- 30 For by you I have run through a troop.
By my God I have leaped over a wall.
- 31 "As for God, his way is perfect.
The word of the LORD is tested.
He is a shield to all those who trust in him.
- 32 For who is God, except the LORD?
And who is a rock, except our God?
- 33 "God is my strength and power,
and he makes my way perfect.
- 34 He makes my feet like the feet of a deer, and sets me on my high places.
- 35 He teaches my hands to war,
so that a bow of bronze is broken
by my arms.
- 36 You have also given me the shield
of your salvation;
and your gentleness has made me great.
- 37 You have enlarged the place of my steps under me;
and my feet did not slip.
- 38 "I pursued my enemies, and destroyed them, and did not turn back until
I had made an end of them.
- 39 And I made an end of them, and crushed them, so that they could not rise;
yes, they fell under my feet.
- 40 For you have clothed me with strength
for battle.
You have subdued under me those who
rose up against me.
- 41 You have also given me the necks of my enemies,
so that I could destroy those who hate me.
- 42 They looked, but there was no one to save;
even to the LORD, but he did not answer them.
- 43 Then I beat them as small as the dust
of the earth.
I stamped them like the mire of the street, and scattered them around.
- 44 "You have also delivered me from the strivings of my people.
You have kept me as head of the nations.
A people that I did not know serve me.
- 45 Foreigners submit themselves to me.
As soon as they hear, they become obedient to me.
- 46 Foreigners lose heart and are afraid
from their strongholds.
- 47 "The LORD lives; and blessed be my rock, and exalted be the God of the rock of my salvation.

- 48 It is God who avenges me and who brings down the people under me, 49 And who brings me out from my enemies. And you have lifted me up on high above those who rose up against me. You have delivered me from the violent man.
 50 Therefore I will give thanks to you, O LORD, among the nations, and I will sing praises to your name.
 51 He is the tower of salvation for his king, and shows mercy to his anointed, to David and to his seed forever."

23 Now these are the last words of David.

David the son of Jesse said, and the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet psalmist of Israel, said,

- 2 "The Spirit of the LORD spoke by me, and his word was in my tongue.
 3 The God of Israel spoke, the Rock of Israel said to me, 'He who rules over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God.
 4 And he will be like the light of the morning, when the sun rises, a morning without clouds; like the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain.'
 5 Although my house is not so with God; still he has made an everlasting covenant with me, ordered in all things, and sure.
As for all my salvation and all my desire, will he not make it grow?

- 6 But wicked men, all of them, will be like thorns thrown aside because they cannot be taken by hand, 7 and the man who touches them must be armed with iron and the shaft of a spear; and they will be utterly burned with fire in the same place."

8 These are the names of the mighty men whom David had: The Tachmonite who sat in the seat, chief among the captains; he was called Adino the Eznite. He lifted up his spear against eight hundred, whom he killed at one time. 9 And after him was Eleazar, the son of Dodo the Ahohite, one of the three mighty men with David when they defied the Philistines who were gathered together there to battle, and the men of Israel had drawn back. 10 He arose and struck down the Philistines until his hand was weary, and his hand stuck to the sword. And the LORD accomplished a great victory that day; and the people returned after him only to plunder.

11 And after him was Shammah, the son of Agee the Hararite. And the Philistines were gathered together in a band where there was a piece of ground full of lentils. And the people fled from the Philistines, 12 but he stood in the middle of the ground and defended it and killed the Philistines; and the LORD accomplished a great victory.

13 And at harvest time three of the thirty chief men went down and came to David at the cave of Adullam; and the Philistine troops were camping in the valley of Rephaim. 14 And David was then in a stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethlehem. 15 And David felt a longing and said, "Oh that someone would give me a drink of the water from the well at Bethlehem, which is by the gate!" 16 And the three mighty men broke

23:1 "Last words" – the first seven verses of this chapter were words David spoke by inspiration (the Hebrew means this) toward the end of his life. From v 8 the narrative returns to events much earlier in his life.

"Anointed" – 1 Sam 16:12,13.

"Sweet psalmist" – seventy-three of the psalms are attributed to David, and he probably wrote several more of them.

23:2 Matt 22:43; 2 Tim 3:16; 2 Pet 1:21. When David declared the Word of God he was conscious of the inspiration of God's Spirit.

23:3 "Rock" – note at Deut 32:4.

"Just" – this was always David's aim. See Ps 101.

"Fear of God" – notes at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; Prov 1:7.

23:4 "Light" – 21:17; Prov 4:18. An unjust ruler is all black clouds and darkness, without rain.

23:5 "Covenant" – 7:12; Ps 89:29; Isa 55:3.

"Desire" – Ps 37:4.

23:6 Isa 9:18; 10:17; Mic 7:4; Nah 1:10; Mal 4:1; Matt 13:41,42; Heb 6:8; Rev 21:8.

23:8-39 "Mighty men" – 1 Chron 11:10-41. David's day was a time of much warfare. Here his most notable warriors are singled out for honor. It is not unlikely there will be something similar at Christ's return, for those who have fought in His spiritual battles. See 2 Tim 4:7,8.

23:9 "Three" – two groups of three and one group of thirty are referred to (vs 8-12, 13-23, 23-39).

23:12 If those engaged in spiritual warfare would show this courage and determination there would be more victories.

23:13 "Three" – a different three from those in vs 8-12. Of these three, only Abishai and Benaiah are named.

23:14 1 Sam 22:4,5.

23:16,17 In David's eyes their action was through the army of the Philistines, and drew water from the well at Bethlehem that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David. However he would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD.

17 And he said, "Far be it from me, O LORD, that I should do this! Is not this the blood of the men who went in jeopardy of their lives?" So he would not drink it. These things these three mighty men did.

18 And Abishai, the brother of Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was chief among three. And he lifted up his spear against three hundred and killed them, and had a name among the three. 19 Was he not the most honoured of the three? Therefore he was their captain. However he did not attain to the level of the first three.

20 And there was Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man, of Kabzeel, who did many deeds. He killed two lion-like men of Moab. He also went down and killed a lion in the middle of a pit in a time of snow. 21 And he killed an Egyptian, an impressive man; and the Egyptian had a spear in his hand, but Benaiah went down to him with a staff and pulled the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. 22 These things Benaiah the son of Jehoiada did, and had a name among three mighty men. 23 He was more honoured than the thirty, but he did not attain to the level of the first three. And David appointed him over his guard.

like a sacrifice of their lives. And the blood of sacrifices was to be poured out or sprinkled around the altar - Ex 29:12; Lev 1:5; 4:7; 17:10.

23:18 2:18; 10:10; 8:2; 19:21; 1 Sam 26:6.

23:20 8:18; 20:23.

23:23 "First three" - the three mentioned in vs 8-12.

23:24 "Asahel" - 2:18.

23:34 "Eliam" - the father of Bathsheba.

23:39 "Uriah" - the husband of Bathsheba whom David later had killed (11:14,15; 12:9).

"Thirty-seven" - the names of replacements for those who died are probably included in this list. Notice that Uriah appears in this list but Joab does not.

24:1-25 1 Chron 21:1-27.

24:1 "Anger" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11. The specific reason for God's anger here is not given, but we may be sure there was a good reason for it. God is never angry without good reason.

"Moved" - 1 Chron 21:1 says that Satan moved David to take a census of Israel. God's will was the root cause, Satan's work in David's mind was the immediate cause. Behind the act of Satan stood the purpose of God in judgment. When God determines to test someone, or send punishment, or 24 Asahel, the brother of Joab, was one of the thirty; as were Elhanan, the son of Dodo of Bethlehem, 25 Shammah the Harodite, Elika the Harodite, 26 Helez the Paltite, Ira, the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, 27 Abiezer the Anethothite, Mebunnai the Hushathite, 28 Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite, 29 Heleb the son of Baanah, a Netophathite, Ittai, the son of Ribai from Gibeah of the children of Benjamin, 30 Benaiah the Pirathonite, Hiddai, from the brooks of Gaash, 31 Abi-Albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite, 32 Eliahba the Shaalbonte, of the sons of Jashen, Jonathan, 33 Shammah the Hararite, Ahiam, the son of Sharar the Hararite, 34 Eliphelet, the son of Ahasbai, the son of the Maachathite, Eliam, the son of Ahithophel the Gilonite, 35 Hezrai the Carmelite, Paarai the Arbite, 36 Igal, the son of Nathan of Zobah, Bani the Gadite, 37 Zelek the Ammonite, Nahari the Beerothite, armour bearer to Joab, the son of Zeruiah, 38 Ira an Ithrite, Gareb an Ithrite, 39 Uriah the Hittite: thirty-seven in all.

2 For the king said to Joab the commander of the army, who was with him, "Go now through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, and count the people, so that I may know the number of the people."

work His will in anything, He may use any instrument He chooses. See 1 Kings 22:19-23; Job 1:6-12; 2:6; Isa 10:5,6; Jer 51:20-23; Hab 1:6; Acts 2:23; 4:28; Rev 17:17. God is the sovereign ruler of the universe and rules justly and righteously over the nations (Ps 22:28; 47:2; 93:1; 97:1). God does not tempt any man to do wrong (Jam 1:13,14), and taking a census itself was not wrong (in Num 1:1-3 God Himself ordered a census to be taken). But God, in accordance with His wise will, permits Satan to tempt men, and taking a census from wrong motives was wrong. And the verses which follow make it clear that David demanded a census from wrong motives. 24:2 "From Dan to Beersheba" - an expression meaning from one end of the country to the other. Like saying from "Kashmir to Cape Comorin."

"That I may know" - this suggests David wanted to take pride in the number of his fighting men, or that for success he had begun to depend on them instead of on God. It seems that he forgot, for the time, that the power and security of Israel were not in arms and soldiers, but in God. He was acting contrary to the mind he himself had shown more than once - 22:2-4, 47-51; 1 Sam 17:26,37,45-47; Ps 33:16-20.

3 And Joab said to the king, "Now may the LORD your God add a hundredfold to the people, however many they may be, so that the eyes of my lord the king may see it. But why does my lord the king delight in this thing?"

4 However the king's word prevailed against Joab, and against the officers of the army. And Joab and the officers of the army went out from the presence of the king, to count the people of Israel.

5 And they crossed the Jordan and camped in Aroer, on the right side of the city that lies in the middle of the river valley of Gad, and toward Jazer. 6 Then they came to Gilead, and to the land of Tahtim-Hodshi, and they came to Dan-Jaan, and around to Sidon, 7 and came to the stronghold of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Hivites and of the Canaanites. And they went out to the south of Judah, to Beersheba.

8 So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 And Joab handed over to the king the sum of the number of the people. And there were in Israel eight hundred thousand valiant men who drew the sword, and the men of Judah were five hundred thousand men.

10 And David was struck to the heart after he had counted the people. And David said to the LORD, "I have sinned greatly in what I have done. And now, I beg you, O LORD, take away the wickedness of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly."

11 And when David was up in the morning, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying, 12 "Go and tell David, 'Thus says the LORD: I offer you three things. Choose one of them, so that I may do it to you.'"

13 So Gad came to David and told him and said to him, "Shall seven years of famine come to you in your land? Or will you flee three months before your enemies, while they pursue you? Or shall there be three days' of plague in your land? Now find out and see what answer I should take back to the one who sent me."

14 And David said to Gad, "I am in great distress. Let us fall now into the hands of the LORD, for his mercies are great. But do not let me fall into the hands of man."

15 So the LORD sent a plague on Israel from morning to the time appointed, and seventy thousand men of the people, from Dan even to Beersheba, died. 16 And when the angel stretched out his hand over Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD relented concerning the disaster, and said to the angel who was destroying the people, "It is enough. Now hold back your hand." And the angel of the LORD was by the threshing place of Araunah the Jebusite.

17 And David spoke to the LORD when he saw the angel that struck down the people, and said, "Look, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly. But these sheep, what have they done? I pray you, let your hand be against me and against my father's house."

18 And Gad came to David that day and said to him, "Go up, erect an altar to the LORD in the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite." 19 And David, in accordance with the word of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded. 20 And Araunah looked and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him, and Araunah went out and

24:4 David does not give a reason for wanting a census. Did he realize himself that his motives were wrong? In any case, he stubbornly rejected Joab's criticism, and insisted on having his own way. God's servants should learn to weigh humbly and carefully any criticism of their actions. It could save them much trouble.

24:10 "Sinned" - now David fully realized that his motives in making a census were sinful. He repented, and no doubt was forgiven. But there were serious consequences of his sinning.

24:11 "Gad" - 1 Sam 9:9; 22:5.

"Seer" - note at 1 Sam 9:9.

24:12,13 Compare 12:9-14. Confession and forgiveness do not mean that God's chastisement will not come. Famine, defeat by enemies, and plague were three of the means God threatened to use to punish a disobedient people (Deut 28:15-25; Jer 14:12; Ezek 14:21). David chose to have

God deal directly with him and the people rather than indirectly through famine or enemies.

24:14 "Mercies" - Ex 34:6; Ps 103:8-13.

24:15 "Seventy thousand" - remember that God's anger burned against the whole nation (v 1).

24:16 "Angel" - Ex 12:23; 33:2; 2 Kings 19:35; Ps 35:5,6; 78:49.

"Relented" - David's choice to put himself and the people in God's hand was a good one. It once again brought out God's compassion.

24:17 "Sheep" - David may not have been aware that God was angry with the whole nation. In any case, he is willing to take the whole blame for the disaster if only the people could be spared. Though he had sinned he was still a true shepherd (Ps 78:71,72).

24:18 "Gad" - the angel of the Lord sent him. See 1 Chron 21:18.

"Altar" - for the purpose of offering sacrifices which God had appointed (v 25).

prostrated himself before the king with his face on the ground.

21 And Araunah said, "Why has my lord the king come to his servant?"

And David said, "To buy the threshing floor from you, to build an altar to the LORD, so that the plague may be held back from the people."

22 And Araunah said to David, "May my lord the king take and offer up whatever seems good to him. Look, here are oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing sledges and the yokes of the oxen for wood. 23 O king, all these things Araunah gives to the king." And Araunah said to the king, "The LORD your God accept you."

24 And the king said to Araunah, "No, but I must buy it from you at a price, for I will not offer burnt offerings to the LORD my God from what costs me nothing." So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

25 And David built an altar there to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD heard prayer for the land, and the plague was held back from Israel.

"Jebusite" - 5:6.

24:21 "Held back" - compare Num 16:44-50. For the significance of sacrifices under the law see notes at Lev 1:2.

24:24 Alas, that many of God's people are willing to give their worst to God, or that which costs them the least (Mal 1:13,14). In this way they show that their love for Him is very small or non-existent. Note and references on giving at 2 Cor 9:15.

"Fifty shekels" - about 0.6 kilogram.

David paid 50 shekels of silver for the threshing floor and oxen. He paid 600 shekels of gold for the area which contained the threshing floor (1 Chron 21:25; 22:1).

24:25 These offerings spoke of dedication to God and reconciliation after sinning against Him. See notes at Leviticus chapters 1 and 3. After the events of this chapter, the people might well have prayed the prayer of Moses (psalm 90). It is a fitting commentary on this chapter.

1 KINGS

Title:

Originally 1 Kings and 2 Kings were one book (in the Hebrew Bible). The translators of the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the Old Testament) divided the one book into two.

Author, date:

According to ancient Jewish tradition the author was the prophet Jeremiah, but there is no proof for this. It was probably written shortly after the Jews went into captivity in Babylon.

Themes:

This book continues the history of the kings who ruled the people of Israel from David to Jehoshaphat and Ahaziah. Some important events recorded here are the construction of the temple by Solomon, the division of the tribes of Israel into two kingdoms, the rapid descent of the northern kingdom into idolatry and corruption, and the remarkable ministry of the prophet Elijah. The events in 1 Kings cover a period of 118 years.

1 Now king David was old and advanced in years, and they put covers over him, but he did not keep warm. 2 Therefore his servants said to him, "Let a young virgin be sought for my lord the king, and let her attend the king and take care of him, and let her lie in your bosom, so that my lord the king may keep warm."

3 So they looked for a beautiful girl throughout all the territories of Israel, and found Abishag, a Shunammite, and brought her to the king. 4 And the girl was very beautiful, and took care of the king and ministered to him, but the king did not know her.

5 Then Adonijah, the son of Haggith, exalted himself, saying, "I will be king," and he prepared chariots and horsemen for himself, and fifty men to run before him. 6 And his father had not displeased him at any time by saying, "Why have you done so?" And he also was a very handsome man; and his mother bore him after Absalom.

7 And he conferred with Joab the son of Zeruiah, and with Abiathar the priest; and they followed Adonijah and helped him. 8 But Zadok the priest, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Shimei, and Rei, and David's mighty men, were not with Adonijah.

9 And Adonijah slaughtered sheep and oxen and fat cattle at the stone of Zoheleth, which is by En-rogel, and invited all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the men of Judah, the king's servants. 10 But he did not invite Nathan the prophet and Benaiah and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother.

1:1 "Years" – David was about seventy years old (2 Sam 5:4).

1:3 "Shunam" – Josh 19:17,18; 1 Sam 28:4; 2 Kings 4:8.

1:4 "Know" – note at Gen 4:1.

1:5 "Adonijah" – he was the fourth son of David. Haggith was one of the wives of David (2 Sam 3:4). But both Amnon and Absalom were dead, and probably Kileab also (after his birth nothing is written about him anywhere). Evidently Adonijah thought he should be next in line for the throne of Israel.

"Exalted himself" – he (and all Israel) knew that God had chosen Solomon to be king after David. See 1 Chron 28:5-7. But Adonijah was not willing to accept this. Now Christians do not have the right to put themselves forward to grasp power and position. See Jer 45:5; Matt 10:38,39; 16:24,25; 20:25-28.

1:6 "Not displeased him" – parents who let their children do what they please, instead of disciplining them and bringing them up in the fear of the Lord, will be storing up trouble and sorrow for later years. David is now once again reaping what he had sown.

11 Therefore Nathan spoke to Bathsheba, the mother of Solomon, saying, "Have you not heard that Adonijah, the son of Haggith, has become king, and our lord David does not know it? 12 Now therefore come, please let me give you counsel, so that you may save your own life and the life of your son Solomon. 13 Go and approach king David and say to him, 'My lord the king, did you not swear to your maid servant, saying, 'Your son Solomon shall certainly reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne?' Why then has Adonijah become king?' 14 Look, while you are still talking there with the king, I also will come in after you, and confirm your words."

15 And Bathsheba went in to the king in his room. And the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite ministered to the king. 16 And Bathsheba bowed and prostrated herself to the king.

And the king said, "What do you wish?"

17 And she said to him, "My lord, you swore by the LORD your God to your maid servant, saying, 'Your son Solomon shall certainly reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.' 18 And now, look, Adonijah has become king, and now, my lord the king, you do not know it. 19 And he has slaughtered oxen and fat cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the sons of the king, and Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army, but he has not invited your servant Solomon. 20 And as for you, my lord the king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, that you should tell them who will sit on the throne of my lord the king

On bringing up children see Prov 13:24; 19:18; 22:15; 23:13,14; 29:15,17; Eph 6:4; 1 Tim 3:4,5; Heb 12:5-11.

1:7 "Joab" – the commander of the army (2 Sam 8:16).

"Helped him" – power lovers will usually find a following of some kind or other.

1:8 "Benaiah" – captain of David's bodyguard (2 Sam 8:18).

"Shimei and Rei" – or perhaps it could be translated "Shimei and his friends." It is very unlikely that this means the Shimei of 2:8,9 and 2 Sam 16:5-9.

1:9 "En-Rogel" – just outside the wall of Jerusalem to the southeast.

1:10 "Solomon" – 2 Sam 12:24,25.

1:11 "Bathsheba" – 2 Sam 11:3,27. Adonijah had not actually ascended the throne, but his conspiracy was well supported and certain to succeed unless something was done.

1:13 This promise is not recorded in the Bible, but David says in v 30 that he had made it. And God had made it clear to David that Solomon was the one to be David's successor (1 Chron 22:6-10; 28:5-7). One main difference between Adonijah and Solomon is that Adonijah "exalted himself" (v 5), but God appointed Solomon.

after him. 21 Otherwise it shall come about, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be regarded as offenders."

22 And, then, while she was still talking with the king, Nathan the prophet also came in. 23 And they told the king, saying, "Look, Nathan the prophet." And when he had come in before the king, he bowed down before the king with his face to the ground.

24 And Nathan said, "My lord the king, have you said 'Adonijah shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne?' 25 For he has gone down this day, and slaughtered oxen and fat cattle and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king's sons and the officers of the army and Abiathar the priest, and, see, they are eating and drinking in his presence, and they are saying, 'God save king Adonijah!' 26 But he has not invited me, me your servant, or Zadok the priest or Benaiah the son of Jehoiada or your servant Solomon. 27 Is this thing done by my lord the king? And have you not told your servant who would sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?"

28 Then king David answered and said, "Call Bathsheba for me." And she came into the king's presence, and stood before the king.

29 And the king took an oath and said, "As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my soul out of all distress, 30 just as I swore to you by the LORD God of Israel, saying, 'Solomon your son shall certainly reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my stead', just so I will certainly do today."

31 Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the earth and prostrated herself to the king, and said, "May my lord king David live forever."

32 And king David said, "Call Zadok the priest for me, and Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada." And they came before the king. 33 And the king said to them, "Take with you the servants of your lord, and have my son Solomon ride on my own mule, and bring him down to Gihon, 34 and have Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him king there over Israel, and blow with the trumpet, and say, 'God save king Solomon.' 35 Then you shall come up after him, that he may come and sit on my throne. For he shall be king in my place, for I have appointed him to be ruler over

36 And Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, answered the king, and said, "Amen! May the LORD God of my lord the king say so too. 37 As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may he be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord king David."

38 So Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and the Kerethites and the Pelethites, went down and had Solomon ride on king David's mule, and brought him to Gihon. 39 And Zadok the priest took a horn of oil out of the tabernacle and anointed Solomon. And they blew the trumpet, and all the people said, "God save king Solomon!" 40 And all the people came up after him, and the people were playing on flutes and rejoicing with great joy, so that the earth split with their noise.

41 And Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished eating. And when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he said, "Why is that noise of uproar coming from the city?"

42 And while he was still speaking, suddenly Jonathan the son of Abiathar the priest came, and Adonijah said to him, "Come in, for you are a brave man, and bring good news."

43 And Jonathan answered and said to Adonijah, "On the contrary. Our lord king David has made Solomon king. 44 And the king has sent with him Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and the Kerethites and the Pelethites, and they had him ride on the king's mule. 45 And Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon. And they have come up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar again. This is the noise that you heard. 46 And also Solomon is seated on the throne of the kingdom. 47 And, moreover, the king's servants have come to congratulate our lord king David, saying, 'May God make the name of Solomon better than your name, and make his throne greater than your throne.' And the king bowed down on the bed. 48 And also the king has said, 'Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who has given one to sit on my throne today, with my eyes seeing it."

1:21 She was afraid that Adonijah would put to death any potential rivals for the throne.

1:24 Nathan could be blunt when that was needed (2 Sam 12:7). He could also be diplomatic and shrewd. He well knew that David had not chosen Adonijah.

1:29 "Distress" – 2 Sam 4:9; Ps 34:6.

1:30 Verse 13.

1:33 "Gihon" – a spring on the slope of Mt Zion.

1:34 1 Sam 10:1; 16:3,12; 2 Sam 15:10.

1:38 "Pelethites" – note at 2 Sam 8:18.

1:39 Anointing with oil indicated that God was setting apart a person to be king.

1:41 Gihon was not far from En-Rogel and loud noise from one place would carry to the other.

1:48 "Who has given someone to sit on my throne" – 2 Sam 7:12; Ps 132:11,12. David did what he could to see that Solomon succeeded him, but he knew that it was God's doing.

49 And all the guests who were with Adonijah were afraid and rose up, and every man went his way. 50 And Adonijah was afraid because of Solomon, and arose and went and took hold of the horns of the altar. 51 And it was told Solomon, saying, "Look, Adonijah is afraid of king Solomon, for, see, he has taken hold of the horns of the altar, saying, 'Let king Solomon swear to me today that he will not kill his servant with the sword.'"

52 And Solomon said, "If he shows himself a worthy man, not a hair of his will fall to the ground, but if wickedness is found in him, he will die." 53 So king Solomon sent men, and they brought him down from the altar. And he came and bowed down to king Solomon, and Solomon said to him, "Go to your house."

2 Now David's time to die drew near, and he gave a charge to his son Solomon, saying, 2 "I am going the way of all the earth, therefore be strong, and show yourself a man, 3 and keep the charge of the LORD your God to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes and his commandments and his judgments and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses, that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn, 4 so that the LORD may fulfil his word which he spoke concerning me, saying, 'If your children are careful about their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, you will not lack (he said) a man on the throne of Israel.'

5 "Moreover, you know also what Joab the son of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two commanders of the armies of Israel, to Abner the son of Ner, and to Amasa the son of Jether. He killed them, shedding the blood of war in peace, and putting the blood of war on his belt that was around his waist, and on his shoes that were on his feet. 6 Therefore act according to your wisdom, and do not let his gray head go down to the grave in peace.

7 "But show kindness to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among those who eat at your table, for so they came to me when I fled because of Absalom your brother.

8 "And, look, you have with you Shimei the son of Gera, a Benjamite of Bahurim, who cursed me with a terrible curse on the day when I went to Mahanaim. But he came down to meet me at the Jordan, and I swore to him by the LORD, saying, 'I will not put you to death with the sword.' 9 Now therefore do not consider him innocent, for you are a wise man, and know what you ought to do to him, and bring his gray head down to the grave with blood."

10 So David slept with his ancestors, and was buried in the city of David. 11 And the time that David reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron, and he reigned thirty-three years in Jerusalem. 12 Then Solomon sat on the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was firmly established.

13 And Adonijah, the son of Haggith, came to Bathsheba, the mother of Solomon. And she said, "Do you come peaceably?"

And he said, "Peaceably." 14 He also said,

1:49 When Adonijah's attempt to be king failed he suddenly lost his supporters. As so often among men, fear destroyed any loyalty they may have had.

1:50 "Horns" - Ex 27:2. By this action Adonijah was seeking sanctuary and safety in God's place of worship - a custom common in many times and places.

2:1 "Time to die" - compare Deut 31:1-8; Josh 23:1-16; 1 Sam 12:1-25.

2:2 "Be strong" - Deut 31:6,23; Josh 1:6,7; 23:4.

2:3 "His ways" - Deut 4:5,6; 10:12,13; 17:18-20; Josh 1:7.

2:4 "His word" - see 2 Sam 7:11-16.

"With all their heart" - Deut 4:29; 6:5; 10:12; 30:6. Both Solomon and most of his successors on the throne failed to do this, and eventually disaster overtook the people of Israel. But the promise to David was not canceled. Christ, the Son of David, will fulfil it.

2:5 "He killed them" - 2 Sam 3:27-39; 20:4-10. See also 18:9-14. Joab was a skillful general but a hard and bloodthirsty man. David was never able to deal with him as he should have.

2:6 David wanted Solomon to do what he himself had been too weak to do. David knew that if Joab lived he could be a continual source of trouble to Solomon's reign.

"Grave" - in Hebrew "Sheol" (also v 9) - note at Gen 37:35.

2:7 2 Sam 17:27-29; 19:31-38.

2:8 "Shimei" - 2 Sam 16:5-8; 19:18-23.

2:9 "Innocent" - Shimei could not be considered innocent. See Ex 22:28. David knew that Shimei too could be a source of trouble to the new king. For the sake of a peaceful reign it was better, David thought, to rid the kingdom of such people as Joab and Shimei. See notes on psalm 101. Compare Luke 19:27; etc.

2:10 "Slept" - a choice of word by the Holy Spirit which indicated death, but this word may also suggest, as some think, survival after death. For those who sleep wake again. See Dan 12:2. It is the body which "slept", the spirit went into the unseen world.

"City of David" - 2 Sam 5:6,7; Acts 2:29.

2:11 2 Sam 5:4,5. His reign was from about 1010 to 970 B.C.

2:13 1:5. "Peaceably" - Adonijah had not shown himself to be a man of peace and

"I have something to say to you."

And she said, "Speak."

15 And he said, "You know that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel was looking to me to be king. However the kingdom has turned around and become my brother's, for it was his from the LORD. 16 And now I make one request of you. Do not deny me."

And she said to him, "Speak."

17 And he said, "Please speak to Solomon the king (for he will not refuse you) that he may give Abishag the Shunammite to me as my wife."

18 And Bathsheba said, "Very well. I will speak for you to the king."

19 So Bathsheba went to king Solomon to speak to him for Adonijah. And the king rose up to meet her, and bowed down to her, and sat down on his throne, and had a seat placed for the king's mother; and she sat at his right hand.

20 Then she said, "I will make one small request of you. Please do not refuse me."

And the king said to her, "Ask, my mother, for I will not refuse you."

21 And she said, "Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to your brother Adonijah as his wife."

22 And king Solomon answered and said to his mother, "And why are you asking Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Ask the kingdom for him also, for he is my older brother. Ask it for him and for Abiathar the priest and for Joab the son of Zeruiah."

23 Then king Solomon swore by the LORD, saying, "God do harm to me, and more also, if Adonijah has not spoken this word against his own life. 24 Now therefore, as the LORD lives, who has established me and placed me on the throne of my father David, and who has founded a house for me, as he promised, Adonijah will be put to death today." 25 And king Solomon sent orders to Benaiah the son of Jehoiada; and he struck him down, and Adonijah died.

26 And the king said to Abiathar the priest, "Go to Anathoth, to your own fields, for you are worthy of death. But I will not put you to death at this time, because you carried the ark of the LORD God in front of my father David, and because you suffered in everything my father suffered." 27 So Solomon dismissed Abiathar from being a priest to the LORD in fulfillment of the word of the LORD, which he spoke in Shiloh concerning the house of Eli.

28 Then news came to Joab, for Joab had turned after Adonijah, though he had not turned after Absalom. And Joab fled to the tabernacle of the LORD, and took hold of the horns of the altar. 29 And it was told king Solomon that Joab had fled to the tabernacle of the LORD, and was there by the altar. Then Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, saying, "Go, strike him down."

30 And Benaiah came to the tabernacle of the LORD, and said to him, "This is what the king says, 'Come out.'"

And he said, "No, but I will die here."

And Benaiah brought word back to the king, saying, "This is what Joab says, and this is what he answered me."

31 And the king said to him, "Do as he has said, and strike him down and bury him, so that you can remove from me and from my father's house the innocent blood which Joab shed. 32 And the LORD will bring back his blood onto his own head. He struck down two men more righteous and better than he, and killed them with the sword, my father David being unaware of it, Abner the son of Ner, commander of the army of Israel, and Amasa the son of Jether, commander of the army of Judah.

Bathsheba had reason to doubt his purpose in coming.

2:15 He may have thought that as the oldest living son of David, the kingdom was his. However, the kingdom was really God's and He had not given it to Adonijah.

2:17 "Abishag" - 1:3,4. This request was not a simple, innocent one. See v 22.

2:19 "Right hand" - place of honor. Eph 1:20,21, etc.

2:22 "Kingdom for him" - obviously Abishag was regarded as David's concubine or wife, and Adonijah's desire to marry her was the same as making a claim to the throne. See 2 Sam 3:7; 12:8; 16:21.

2:23 See 1:52. Adonijah had proved unworthy.

2:24 "Promised" - 2 Sam 7:11-13; 1 Chron 22:10.

2:26 "Abiathar" - 1:7,25. He deserved to die because he, with Adonijah, was in rebellion against God's appointed king and so against God Himself.

"Suffered" - 1 Sam 22:20-23; 23:6-9; 30:7; 2 Sam 17:15; 19:11.

2:27 1 Sam 2:27-36.

2:28 "Altar" - 1:50.

2:29 "Strike him down" - Joab was guilty of murder and rebellion, sins worthy of death under the law. He had no right to seek asylum in God's place of worship. Asylum of any kind was only for those who accidentally killed someone. See Ex 21:12-17. It is no use at any time for the guilty to try to find safety under the shelter of religion, without repentance. God will not spare such. See Ezek 9:1-6. There is refuge in God only for the truly repentant and believing.

2:31 "Remove. . .innocent blood" - this was a very important concept. The guilt of one leader could cling to a whole nation and cause great trouble. Compare 2 Sam 21:1. See also Joshua chapter 7.

2:32 "Bring back his blood" - Gen 9:6; Deut 32:40,41; Jud 9:24,57; 2 Sam 3:27,29,39; 20:9,10; Ps 7:15,16;

33 Therefore their blood will return onto the head of Joab, and onto the head of his offspring forever, but there will be peace from the LORD forever on David, and on his offspring, and on his house, and on his throne."

34 So Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, went up and struck him down and killed him. And he was buried in his own house in the wilderness. 35 And in his place the king put Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, over the army, and the king put Zadok the priest in the place of Abiathar.

36 And the king sent and called for Shimei and said to him, "Build a house for yourself in Jerusalem, and live there, and do not go anywhere from there. 37 For this is the way it will be: on the day you go out and cross the brook Kidron, you may know for certain that you will surely die; your blood will be on your own head."

38 And Shimei said to the king, "The word is good. Your servant will do just as my lord the king has said." And Shimei lived in Jerusalem many days.

39 And it so happened at the end of three years, that two of Shimei's servants ran away to Achish, son of Maachah king of Gath. And they told Shimei, saying, "Look, your servants are in Gath." 40 And Shimei arose and saddled his donkey and went to Gath to Achish to seek his servants. So Shimei went and brought his servants from Gath.

41 And it was told Solomon that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath, and had returned. 42 And the king sent and called for Shimei and said to him, "Did I not make you swear by the LORD, and solemnly warned you, saying, 'Know for certain that on the day you go out and travel around anywhere, you shall surely die'? And you said to me, 'The word I have heard is good.' 43 Why then have you not kept the oath you swore by the LORD, and the command that I gave you?"

44 Moreover the king said to Shimei, "You know all the evil that you did to my father David which your heart is aware of; therefore the LORD will bring back your evil on your own head, 45 and king Solomon will be blessed, and the throne of David will be established before the LORD forever."

46 So the king gave a command to Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and he went out and struck him down, and Shimei died.

And the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

3 And Solomon made an alliance with Pharaoh king of Egypt, and took Pharaoh's daughter in marriage and brought her into the city of David, until he had finished building his own house and the house of the LORD and the wall around Jerusalem. 2 However the people sacrificed on the high places, because up to that time there was no house built for the name of the LORD. 3 And Solomon loved the LORD, walking in the statutes of his father David. However he sacrificed and burned incense on the high places.

4 And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the great high place. Solomon offered a thousand burnt offerings on that altar. 5 In Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream at night and God said, "Ask. What shall I give you?"

6 And Solomon said, "You have shown great mercy to your servant David my father, because he walked before you in truth and in righteousness, and in integrity of heart with you; and you have Jer 25:14; Gal 6:7.

2:33 Only by cleansing the kingdom from guilt could peace be expected.

2:37 A wise way of making Shimei himself responsible for whether he was to live or die.

2:44 "Evil that you did" - 2 Sam 16:5-13.

"Bring back" - v 32.

2:45 Verses 32,33.

2:46 The death of two potential troublemakers helped to make Solomon's position stable.

3:1 "Marriage" - this cemented a political alliance.

"City of David" - 2 Sam 5:6,7.

3:2 The high places were shrines used in idol worship by the people of Canaan before the Israelites entered the land. The Israelites used them as places in which to worship Jehovah the true God. But this violated the law (Deut 7:5; 12:3-6,13,14). Later in history they forsook Jehovah and worshipped idols and false gods on the high places.

3:3 Solomon loved the Lord, but he failed in this one matter early in his reign. This seed of disobedience or carelessness regarding God's laws came to full and terrible flower in his later years - 11:4-8.

3:4-15 2 Chron 1:3-13.

3:4 "Gibeon" - Josh 9:3-27; 18:25; 21:17. The reason for Gibeon's importance was that the tabernacle and bronze altar (Ex 25:8,9; 27:1,2) were there - 1 Chron 21:29; 2 Chron 1:2-6.

3:5 "Dream" - notes at Gen 15:12; Num 12:6; Deut 13:1.

"Ask. What shall I give you" - God loves to give good gifts to men (Rom 8:32; James 1:17; John 3:16; etc). If God promised to give us the one thing we asked for, what would we ask? Wisdom, as Solomon asked? Riches? Power? Humility? Love? Purity? The thing we asked for would reveal what kind of people we are. Is it spiritual blessings we would ask for? Then see Eph 1:3. We should understand what these spiritual blessings are and ask for them all. In our asking God does not limit us to one thing, but we should always be very careful what we ask for.

3:6 "Solomon said" - the prayer which follows shows Solomon at his spiritual best.

"Integrity of heart" - notes at Ps 18:20-26.

"Given him a son" - 1:48; 2 Sam 7:8-16.

kept for him this great kindness, and you have given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

7 "And now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king in place of my father David, and I am but a little child. I do not know how to go out or come in. 8 And your servant is among your people whom you have chosen, a great people, who are so many they cannot be numbered or counted. 9 Therefore give your servant an understanding heart to judge your people, so that I may discern between good and bad, for who is able to judge this your so great people?"

10 And the speech (that Solomon had asked this thing) pleased the Lord. 11 And God said to him, "Because you have asked this thing, and have not asked for yourself long life and have not asked the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern judgment, 12 see, I have done according to your words; I have given you a wise and understanding heart, so that there was no one like you before you, and after you no one will arise like you. 13 And I have also given you what you have not asked, both riches and honour, so that all your days there will not be any among the kings like you. 14 And if you will walk in my ways to keep my statutes and my commandments, as your father David walked, then I will prolong your days."

15 And Solomon awoke and saw that it was a dream. And he came to Jerusalem and stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and offered up burnt offerings and offered peace offerings, and made a feast for all his servants.

16 Then two women, prostitutes, came to the king and stood before him. 17 And the one woman said, "O my lord, I and this woman live in one house. And I gave birth to a child, with her in the house. 18 And it came about the third day after I gave birth that this woman also gave birth. And we were together. No stranger was with us in the house – just the two of us in the house. 19 And this woman's child died during the night, because she lay on top of it. 20 And she got up at midnight and took my son from my side, while your maid-servant was sleeping, and put it in her bosom, and put her dead child in my bosom. 21 And when I arose in the morning to nurse my child, see, it was dead. But in the morning when I looked at this child, see, it was not my son, the one I had borne."

22 And the other woman said, "No, but the living one is my son, and the dead one is your son." And this one said, "No, but the dead one is your son, and the living one is my son." Thus they spoke before the king.

23 Then the king said, "The one says, 'This living one is my son. Your son is the dead one.' And the other says, 'No, but your son is the dead one, and my son is the living one.'" 24 And the king said, "Bring me a sword." And they brought a sword into the king's presence. 25 And the king said, "Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one and half to the other."

26 Then the woman whose son was alive spoke to the king, for she was moved with compassion for her son, and she said, "O my lord, give her the living child, and do not at all kill him!" But the other had said,

"Let it be neither mine nor yours, but divide it."

27 Then the king answered and said, "Give her the living child, and do not at all kill him. She is his mother."

28 And all Israel heard of the judgment which the king had given, and they feared the king, for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to give judgment.

3:7 "I am but a little child" – compare Jer 1:6,7. At the beginning of his reign Solomon was probably about 20 years old. He felt incapable of leading God's people. In a way this made him more capable, because he cast himself on God who is able to make men capable for anything.

3:8 "Cannot be numbered" – Gen 13:16; 15:5; 22:17; Ex 19:6; Deut 7:6. Solomon asked for wisdom that he might carry out his duties in governing, not that he might gain a reputation for wisdom or use his wisdom for his own ends.

3:9 "Understanding heart" – 2 Sam 14:17; Dan 2:21; Heb 5:14.

"Who is able" – 2 Cor 2:16; 3:5,6. Possibly Solomon's desire for wisdom was produced, or at least encouraged, by David's words to him in 1 Chron 22:12.

3:10 This was a prayer God delighted to answer. It was for the right thing and came out of right motives. Compare Jam 1:5; 4:3.

3:11 Solomon had not asked for the things so many kings would have asked for. We should all be very careful what we ask God for. Compare Ps 106:15.

3:12,13 "I have done according to your words" – Matt 7:7-11; 1 John 5:14,15.

"Wise" – 4:29-34; 10:23,27; 1 Chron 29:12. If our lives and requests please God He may give us far more than we asked or thought. Compare Eph 3:20.

3:14 Verse 6. David was far from perfect and he sinned grievously in the matter of Bathsheba and Uriah. But on the whole he was obedient to God's laws.

"Prolong your days" – under the law a long life was a reward for obedience to God.

3:15 "Ark" – note at Ex 25:10-22.

"Offerings" – notes on Leviticus chapters 1 and 3.

3:16 People in Israel could bring a case directly to the king. In this particular case Solomon began to show the wisdom God

4 So king Solomon was king over all Israel. 2 And these were the officials he had: Azariah the son of Zadok the priest, 3 Elihoreph and Ahiah, the sons of Shisha, scribes, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud, the recorder. 4 And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the army, and Zadok and Abiathar were the priests. 5 And Azariah the son of Nathan was over the officers, and Zabud the son of Nathan was the principal officer, and the king's friend, 6 and Ahishar was over the household, and Adoniram the son of Abda was over the labour force.

7 And Solomon had twelve officials over all Israel, who provided food for the king and his household, each one providing this in his appointed month in a year. 8 And these were their names: The son of Hur, in Mount Ephraim; 9 the son of Dekar, in Makaz and in Shaalbim and in Beth Shemesh and Elon-beth-hanan; 10 the son of Heses, in Aruboth – he had Sochoh and all the land of Hopher; 11 the son of Abinadab, in all the region of Dor (his wife was Taphath, the daughter of Solomon); 12 Baana the son of Ahilud – he had Taanach and Megiddo and all Beth Shean, which is near Zartanah below Jezreel, from Beth Shean to Abel Meholah and beyond Jokneam; 13 the son of Geber, in Ramoth Gilead – he had the towns of Jair the son of Manasseh which are in Gilead, and his was the region of Argob, which is in Bashan, sixty great cities with walls and bars of brass; 14 Ahinadab the son of Iddo had Mahanaim, 15 Ahimaaz, in Naphtali (also he married Basmath, the daughter of Solomon); 16 Baanah the son of Hushai was in Asher and in Aloth; 17 Jehoshaphat the son of Paruah, in Issachar; 18 Shimei the son of Elah, in Benjamin; 19 Geber the son of Uri was in the country of Gilead, the land of Sihon king of the Amorites and of Og king of Bashan, the only had given him.

4:4 "Benaiah" – 2:27,35.

4:6 "Labour force" – 9:15; 2 Sam 20:24. Non-Israelites who had been captured in battle, or some of the original Canaanites who remained in the land, became servants or slaves in Israel. Compare Josh 9:22-27. See Deut 20:17. Note on slavery at Ex 21:2.

4:7 "Household" – see 1 Sam 8:10-18.

4:8 "Son of Hur" – or "Ben-Hur." In Hebrew "ben" means "son."

4:18 This was not the Shimei of 2:8,44.

4:19 "Bashan" – Deut 3:8-10.

4:20 "Rejoicing" – they were prosperous (v 25) and at peace (5:4). But before too long some in Israel began to feel the burden of supporting the king's household and royal court – 12:4.

4:21 "River" – this was the full extent of the land promised to Abraham's descendants (Gen 15:18). Only David and Solomon, of all the kings of Israel, ruled so much territory.

4:22 Solomon's retinue in his palace must official who was in that land.

20 In number Judah and Israel were as many as the sand which is by the sea, eating and drinking and rejoicing. 21 And Solomon reigned over all kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt; they brought tribute and served Solomon all the days of their life. 22 And Solomon's provision for one day was thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of meal, 23 ten fat oxen and twenty oxen from the pastures, and a hundred sheep, besides deer and roebucks and gazelles and fatted fowl. 24 For he had dominion over all the region on this side of the River, from Tiphseh to Azzah, over all the kings on this side of the River. And he had peace on all sides around him. 25 And Judah and Israel lived in safety all the days of Solomon, each man under his vine and under his fig tree, from Dan to Beersheba.

26 And Solomon had forty thousand stalls of horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen. 27 And those officials provided food for king Solomon, and for all who came to king Solomon's table, each man in his month. They lacked nothing. 28 They also brought barley and hay for the horses and steeds where they were, each man according to his charge.

29 And God gave Solomon exceedingly great wisdom and understanding and largeness of heart, as great as the sand on the seashore. 30 And Solomon's wisdom surpassed the wisdom of all the people of the East country, and all the wisdom of Egypt. 31 For he was wiser than all men, wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite and Heman and Chalcol and Darda, the sons of Mahol. And his fame was in all nations around Israel. 32 And he uttered three thousand proverbs, and his songs were a thousand and five. 33 And he spoke of trees, from have been very large.

"Measure" – in Hebrew "kor" – about six to ten bushels (depending on the size of the bushel), or 220 liters.

4:25 Two of the things people want most – peace and prosperity.

4:26 10:26. In this Solomon violated the instructions given in Deut 17:16.

"Forty thousand" – some Septuagint manuscripts have "four" (see also 2 Chron 9:25). Hebrew manuscripts available now have "forty."

4:29 3:12; 4:20.

4:30 "The East" – Hebrews generally regarded this as the area east of the Jordan river and Dead Sea extending to Babylonia on the Euphrates river.

4:31 "Wiser than all men" – wiser than any until the Lord Jesus came (Luke 11:31).

4:32 Prov 1:1; Eccl 12:9; Song of Songs 1:1.

4:33 Solomon's wisdom was primarily a knowledge of God, an understanding of the cedar tree in Lebanon to the hyssop that springs out of the wall. He also spoke of animals and of birds and of creeping things and of fish. 34 And some from every people came to hear the wisdom of Solomon, from all the kings of the earth who had heard of his wisdom.

5 And Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants to Solomon, for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the place of his father. For Hiram had always loved David.

2 And Solomon sent word to Hiram, saying, 3 "You know that my father David could not build a house for the name of the LORD his God because of the wars which surrounded him on every side, until the LORD put them under the soles of his feet. 4 But now the LORD my God has given me rest on every side, so that there is neither adversary nor evil event. 5 And, see, I purpose to build a house for the name of the LORD my God, as the LORD spoke to my father David, saying, 'Your son, whom I will set on your throne in your place, will build a house for my name.' 6 Now therefore, give orders for cutting cedar trees for me out of Lebanon. And my servants will be with your servants, and I will pay the wages of your servants in accordance with all you determine. For you know that there is no one among us who can skillfully cut timber like the Sidonians."

7 And when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, it came about that he greatly rejoiced, and said, "Blessed be the LORD this day, who has given to David a wise son over this great people."

8 And Hiram sent word to Solomon, saying, "I have considered the things about which you sent me word. I will do everything you want about cedar logs and fir logs. 9 My servants will bring them down from Lebanon to the sea, and I will have them sent on by sea in rafts to the place you appoint for me, and I will have them separate them people, an ability to administer the kingdom, etc, but included such matters as these.

4:34 1 Kings 10:1; 2 Chron 9:23.

"Earth" – that is, the civilized world known by the people of Israel in those days. This would have been Egypt, parts of Arabia, and nations of western Asia, and possibly a few well-known countries somewhat more distant.

5:1 "Hiram" – 2 Sam 5:11.

5:2-11 2 Chron 2:3-16.

5:3 "Under. . .his feet" – for David's desire to build God's temple see 2 Sam 7:1-5. For the reason why he could not do so see 1 Chron 22:8; 28:2,3.

5:5 2 Sam 7:12,13.

5:6 Lebanon was famous for its cedar trees.

5:7 "LORD" – the king of an idolatrous people knew the name "Jehovah" and was there. Then you can take them away. And you shall fulfill my desire of providing food for my household."

10 So Hiram gave Solomon cedar and fir logs, as many as he wanted. 11 And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thousand measures of wheat as food for his household, and twenty measures of pressed olive oil. Solomon gave this year by year to Hiram.

12 So the LORD gave Solomon wisdom, as he had promised him. And there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and the two of them made a treaty together. 13 Then king Solomon raised up a labour force from all Israel, and the labour force was thirty thousand men. 14 And he sent them to Lebanon in shifts, ten thousand a month. They were one month in Lebanon, and two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the labour force. 15 Solomon had seventy thousand who carried burdens, and eighty thousand who quarried stones in the mountains, 16 besides thirty-three hundred from among the chief deputies of Solomon who supervised the people who were labouring in the work. 17 And the king gave orders, and they brought great stones, costly stones, cut stones, to lay the foundation of the house. 18 And Solomon's builders and Hiram's builders, and the men from Gebal, one cut them. So they prepared timber and stones to build the house.

6 And it came about in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Israel had come out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month Zif, which is the second month, that he began to build the house of the LORD. 2 The length of the house which king Solomon built for the LORD was sixty cubits, and its width was twenty cubits, and its height was thirty cubits. 3 And the length of the portico before the main room of the house was twenty cubits, in accordance with the breadth of willing to praise Him. Whether he had a mere head knowledge or true faith in Him, we do not know.

5:12 Solomon's wisdom was seen in part in the way he dealt with neighboring countries.

5:13 Note at 4:6. Those conscripted were non-Israelites living in the land. Solomon did not conscript any Israelites for labor. See 9:22,23.

5:15-18 The work was great and required a great number of people.

5:18 "Men from Gebal" – the KJV has "stonesquarers" here, a very unlikely meaning of the Hebrew.

6:1-28 2 Chron 3:1-13.

6:1 "Fourth year" – 966 B.C. The temple Solomon built remained standing until 586 B.C. when the Babylonians destroyed it.

6:2 The temple building followed the pattern of the tabernacle, but most dimensions were doubled. It was about the house, and its width before the house was ten cubits. 4 And he made windows of beveled frames for the house.

5 Against the wall of the house he built chambers all around the surrounding walls of the house, both of the main room and the sanctuary. And he made chambers all around. 6 The lowest chamber was five cubits wide, and the middle chamber was six cubits wide, and the third was seven cubits wide. For he made narrow ledges around the outside so that the beams would not be fastened into the walls of the house. 7 And the house, while it was being built, was made of stone prepared before it was brought there, so that there was neither hammer nor axe nor any other iron tool heard in the house, while it was being built. 8 The door for the middle chamber was on the right side of the house, and they went up by winding stairs to the middle chamber, and from the middle to the third.

9 So he built the house and finished it, and covered the house with beams and cedar boards. 10 And then he built chambers against the entire house, five cubits high, and they rested on the house with cedar timber.

11 And the word of the LORD came to Solomon, saying, 12 "Concerning this house which you are building: If you will walk in my statutes, and administer my judgments, and keep all my commandments to walk in them, then I will perform my word with you, which I spoke to your father David. 13 And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel."

14 So Solomon built the house and finished it. 15 And he made the inside walls of the house with cedar boards, from the floor of the house to the ceiling, and he paneled them on the inside with wood, and covered the floor of the house with fir planks. 16 And at the rear of the house he built a twenty-cubit room, from floor to ceiling, with cedar boards. He built it inside as the sanctuary, as the Most Holy Place. 17 And before it the house, that is, the temple, was forty cubits long. 18 And the cedar of the house was carved inside with buds and open flowers. Everything was of cedar. No stone was seen. 19 And he prepared the sanctuary on the inside of the house, to place there the ark of the covenant of the LORD. 20 And the inner sanctuary was twenty cubits long and twenty cubits wide and twenty cubits high. And he overlaid the inside of the house with pure gold, and likewise overlaid the altar made of cedar. 21 So Solomon overlaid the inside of the house with pure gold. And he made a partition with gold chains in front of the sanctuary, and he overlaid the sanctuary with gold.

22 And he overlaid the whole house with gold until he finished the entire house. He also overlaid with gold the entire altar which was by the sanctuary.

23 And he made two cherubs of olive wood for the inside of the sanctuary, ten cubits high. 24 And one wing of a cherub was five cubits, and the other wing of a cherub was five cubits. There were ten cubits from one end of the one wing to the end of the other. 25 The other cherub was also ten cubits. Both cherubs were of one measure and one size. 26 The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was the height of the other cherub.

27 And he placed the cherubs inside the inner house. And the wings of the cherubs were stretched out, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall, and their wings touched one another in the middle of the house. 28 And he overlaid the cherubs with gold. 29 And he carved all the surrounding walls of the house with carved figures of cherubs and palm trees and open flowers, both inside the sanctuary and outside. 30 And he overlaid the floor of the house with gold, both inside the sanctuary and outside.

31 And for the entrance of the sanctuary he made doors of olive wood. The lintel and the side posts were one-fifth of the wall. 32 The two doors were of olive wood, and he carved on them carvings of cherubs and palm trees and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold and spread 27 meters long and 9 meters wide. A cubit is about 18 inches.

6:11 "Word of the LORD came" – 12:22; 13:20; 16:1,7; 17:2; 21:17; Jer 1:4; Ezek 3:16. This means that God sent His message to him, perhaps directly in a vision or dream, perhaps through a prophet.

6:12 The message revealed that God was more concerned with what Solomon built. The character of His people and their attitude toward His Word are of more importance to God than any work they may undertake to do.

"I will perform my word" – 2 Sam 7:5-16.

6:13 "I will dwell" – note at Ex 25:8. His continuing presence with them was based on their obedience to the covenant made at Sinai. Note at Ex 19:5,6.

6:16 "Most Holy Place" – Ex 26:33; Lev 16:2.

6:17 "House" – the holy place. See Ex 26:35; Heb 9:1-5.

6:18 1 Kings 7:24.

6:19 "Sanctuary" – v 16.

"Ark" – note at Ex 25:10-22.

6:20 "Cubits" – about 9 meters by 9 meters.

6:21 "Gold" – a huge amount of gold was used in the temple – vs 22,28,30; 7:48-50.

6:23 "Cherubs" – notes at Gen 3:24; Ex 25:18-20.

gold on the cherubs and on the palm trees. 33 So for the door of the temple he also made posts of olive wood, one-fourth of the wall. 34 And the two doors were of fir wood. The two leaves of one door were folding, and the two leaves of the other door were folding. 35 And he carved on them cherubs and palm trees and open flowers, and overlaid them with gold, fitted on the carved work. 36 And he built the inner courtyard with three rows of cut stone, and a row of cedar beams.

37 The foundation of the house of the LORD was laid in the fourth year, in the month Zif, 38 and the house throughout all its parts and according to all its plans was finished in the eleventh year, in the month Bul, which is the eighth month. So he was seven years in building it.

7 But Solomon was building his own house thirteen years, and he finished his whole house. 2 He also built the house of the Forest of Lebanon. Its length was a hundred cubits and its width fifty cubits and its height thirty cubits. It rested on four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams on the pillars. 3 And it was paneled with cedar above the beams, which rested on forty-five pillars, fifteen in a row. 4 And there were window frames in three rows, and window was opposite window in three ranks. 5 And all the doors and doorposts were square, with the window frames; and window was opposite window in three ranks.

6 And he made a hall of pillars. Its length was fifty cubits and its width thirty cubits. And a porch was in front of them, and pillars and a threshold were in front of them.

7 Then he made a hall for the throne where he would judge, the Hall of Judgment; and it was paneled with cedar from one side of the floor to the other. 8 And his house where he lived had another court inward from the hall, which was of the same workmanship. Solomon also made a house like this hall for Pharaoh's daughter, whom he had taken as his wife.

9 All these were of choice stones, according to the measure of cut stones, sawed with saws, inside and outside, from the foundation to the coping, and so on the outside toward the great courtyard. 10 And the foundation was of choice stones, great stones, stones of ten cubits and stones of eight cubits. 11 And above were choice stones, according to the measure of cut stones, and cedars. 12 And the great court all around was with three rows of cut stones, and a row of cedar beams, both for the inner court of the house of the LORD, and for the hall of the house.

13 And king Solomon sent and brought Hiram from Tyre. 14 He was a widow's son of the tribe of Naphtali and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in bronze. And he was filled with wisdom and understanding and skill for work in all kinds of bronze workmanship. And he came to king Solomon and did all his work.

15 For he cast two pillars of bronze, each eighteen cubits high; and it took a measuring line of twelve cubits to go around either of them. 16 And he made two capitals of molten bronze, to set on the tops of the pillars. The height of the one capital was five cubits and the height of the other capital was five cubits; 17 and he made a filigree of checkered work, and wreaths of chain work, for the capitals which were on the top of the pillars, seven for one capital and seven for the other capital. 18 So he made the pillars, and two rows of pomegranates all around on the one filigree, to cover the capitals that were on the top, and did the same for the other capital. 19 And the capitals that were on the top of the pillars were of lily work in the hall, four cubits. 20 And the capitals on the two pillars also had pomegranates above, near the rounded part which was by the filigree. And there were two hundred pomegranates in rows around on the other capital. 21 And he set up the pillars in the hall of the temple; and he set up the right pillar, and called its name Jachin, and he set up the left pillar, and called its name Boaz. 22 And on the top of the pillars was lily work. So the work of the pillars was finished.

23 And he made a molten sea, ten cubits from one brim to the other. It was completely circular, and its height was five cubits; and it took a measuring line of thirty cubits to go around it. 24 And all around under its brim there were gourds surrounding it, ten to a cubit, surrounding the sea.

6:36 There was both an inner and an outer courtyard (7:12). The inner one was for the priests only (2 Chron 4:9).

6:37 "Fourth year" - 6:1. The month Zif (or Ziv) included parts of what we call April and May; Bul parts of October and November.

7:1 Solomon's palace was larger than the temple (6:2) and so took longer to build (6:38). See v7.

7:7 "Judge" - the people could bring difficult cases directly to the king. An example is in 3:16. Solomon's palace was also the administrative headquarters of the kingdom. Probably for this reason it was made larger than the temple.

7:13 This takes the narrative back into chapter 6 before Solomon built his own palace.

7:21 "Jachin" - may mean "He (God) establishes."

"Boaz" - may mean "Strength" or "In Him (God) is strength."

7:23 "Sea" - compare the basin in the courtyard of the tabernacle (Ex 30:17-21). This sea, as well as the oxen it stood on (v

The gourds were cast in two rows, when it was cast.

25 It stood on twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east. And the sea was set over them, and all their back parts were toward the inside. 26 And it was a hand breadth thick, and its brim was made like the brim of a cup, like a lily blossom. It held two thousand baths.

27 And he made ten stands of bronze. Four cubits was the length of each stand, and its width four cubits, and its height three cubits. 28 And the work of the stands was like this: they had borders, and the borders were between the ledges; 29 and on the borders that were between the ledges were lions, oxen, and cherubs, and on the ledges there was an upper support. And below the lions and oxen were certain additions made of thin work. 30 And every stand had four bronze wheels and axles of bronze, and its four corners had supports. Under the laver were molten supports, at the side of every addition. 31 And its opening inside the crown and above was a cubit, but its opening was round like the work of the stand, a cubit and an half; and also on its opening were engravings with their borders. They were square, not round. 32 And under the borders were four wheels, and the axle of the wheels were joined to the stand, and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit. 33 And the design of the wheels was like the design of a chariot wheel. Their axles and their rims and their hubs and their spokes were all cast metal.

34 And there were four supports at the four corners of one stand, and the supports were one with the stand itself. 35 And on the top of the stand there was a circular shape half a cubit high, and on the top of the stand its ledges and its borders were one with it. 36 And on the plates of its ledges, and on its borders, he engraved cherubs, lions and palm trees, in proportion to each one, and additions all around. 37 In this way he made the ten stands. All of them had one casting, one measure, and one size.

38 Then he made ten lavers of bronze. One laver held forty baths, and each laver was four cubits; and one laver rested on each of the ten stands. 39 And he put five stands on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house, and he set the sea on the right side of the house eastward toward the south. 40 And Hiram made the lavers and the shovels and the basins.

So Hiram finished doing all the work that he made for king Solomon for the house of the LORD: 41 The two pillars and the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the two pillars, and the two filigrees to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the pillars, 42 and four hundred pomegranates for the two filigrees, two rows of pomegranates for each filigree, to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the pillars, 43 and the ten stands and ten lavers on the stands, 44 and one sea and twelve oxen under the sea, 45 and the pots and the shovels and the basins. And all these vessels, which Hiram made for king Solomon for the house of the LORD, were of burnished bronze.

46 The king cast them in the plain of Jordan, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zarthan. 47 And Solomon left all the vessels unweighed, because they were so very many, and the weight of the bronze was not found out.

48 And Solomon made all the vessels that belonged to the house of the LORD: the altar of gold and the table of gold, on which was the Showbread, 49 and the lampstands of pure gold, five on the right side, and five on the left, before the inner sanctuary, with the flowers and the lamps and the tongs of gold, 50 and the bowls and the snuffers and the basins and the spoons and the censers of pure gold, and the hinges of gold, both for the doors of the inner house, the Most Holy Place, and for the doors of the house, that is, of the temple.

51 So all the work that king Solomon made for the house of the LORD was finished. And Solomon brought in the things which David his father had dedicated. He put the silver and the gold, and the articles among the treasures of the house of the LORD.

8 Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the 25), was made of bronze.

7:26 "Two thousand baths" – about 11,500 gallons or 44 kiloliters.

7:27 On these stands were placed the basins of v 38. These basins contained water for washing parts of the animal sacrifices (Lev 1:9,13; 2 Chron 4:6).

7:38 "Forty baths" – about 880 liters.

7:45 For work around the altar. See Ex 27:1-3.

7:48 "Altar of gold" – Ex 30:1-6.

"Table" – Ex 25:23-30.

7:49 "Lampstands" – Ex 25:31-38. In the tabernacle there was only one lampstand.

7:50 "Censers" – all these articles were for the work of the Holy Place.

7:51 "Dedicated" – 2 Sam 8:9-12; 1 Chron 18:7-11.

"Treasures" – 15:18; 2 Kings 12:18; 1 Chron 9:26; 26:20-26; 28:12.

8:1 "Ark" – note at Ex 25:10-22. David had brought the ark to Jerusalem. See 2 Samuel chapter 6.

fathers of the children of Israel, to king Solomon in Jerusalem, that they might bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the city of David, which is Zion. 2 And all the men of Israel assembled in king Solomon's presence at the feast in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.

3 And all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark, 4 and they brought up the ark of the LORD, and the tabernacle of the congregation and all the holy articles that were in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites brought these up. 5 And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, who were assembled in his presence, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen that were so many they could not be counted or numbered.

6 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, into the inner sanctuary of the house, to the Most Holy Place, under the wings of the cherubs. 7 For the cherubs spread out their two wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark and the its poles from above. 8 And they drew out the poles, so that the ends of the staves were seen out in the Holy Place before the inner sanctuary, but they were not seen outside. And they are there to this day. 9 There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets of stone, which Moses put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel when they came out of the land of Egypt.

10 And it came about, when the priests had come out of the Holy Place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD, 11 so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of the LORD.

12 Then Solomon said, "The LORD said that he would dwell in the thick darkness. 13 I have surely built you a house to dwell in, a settled place for you to stay in forever."

14 And the king turned his face around, and blessed all the congregation of Israel (and all the congregation of Israel stood), 15 and he said,

"Blessed is the LORD God of Israel, who spoke with his mouth to my father David, and with his hand has fulfilled it, saying, 16 'Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I did not choose any city from all the tribes of Israel to build a house, that my name might be in it; but I chose David to be over my people Israel.'

17 "And it was in the heart of my father David to build a house for the name of the LORD God of Israel. 18 And the LORD said to my father David, 'Because it was in your heart to build a house to my name, you did well that it was in your heart. 19 Nevertheless you shall not build the house, but your son who will come from your body will build the house for my name.'

20 "And the LORD has fulfilled his word that he spoke, and I have risen up in the place of my father David and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised, and have built a house for the name of the LORD God of Israel. 21 And I have made there a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

22 And Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven, 23 and said,

"LORD God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven above, or on earth below, who keeps covenant and mercy with your servants who walk before you with all their heart. 24 You have kept 8:2 "Feast" - the Feast of Tabernacles (2 Chron 7:8-10). Note at Lev 23:33-36.

8:4 "Tabernacle" - 3:4.

8:5 All these sacrifices symbolized Christ (Lev 1:2), just as the ark, the tent, and the temple did.

8:6 Ex 26:33,34.

8:7 "Cherubs" - Ex 25:18-20.

8:9 "Tablets" - Ex 25:16; 34:1; 40:20. See Heb 9:4. This reveals that by Solomon's day the pot of manna and Aaron's rod had been lost.

"Horeb" - Sinai.

8:10,11 "Glory of the LORD" - compare Ex 40:34,35. This cloud was the visible sign of God's presence with His people. Note at Ex 25:8. The temple took the place of the tabernacle, and like the tabernacle, it spoke of the Lord Jesus. Compare John 2:18-21. Jesus who was the "temple" of God contained the glory of God in full measure - John 1:14,18; Heb 1:3. Individual believers are also called the temple of God

(1 Cor 6:19). And the church as a whole is called a holy temple (Eph 2:21). And God's glory is bound up with each believer and the whole church (John 17:10; etc).

8:12 "Darkness" - compare Ex 20:21; Deut 5:22; 2 Sam 22:12; Ps 97:2.

8:13 "Forever" - 2 Sam 7:13; Ps 132:13,14.

8:14 Verse 55; 2 Sam 6:18. Note at Num 6:22-27.

8:16 2 Sam 7:4-6,8.

8:17 2 Sam 7:2,3; 1 Chron 17:1,2.

8:19 5:3-5; 2 Sam 7:5,12,13; 1 Chron 22:8-10.

8:20 1 Chron 28:5,6.

8:21 "Covenant" - Ex 19:5.

8:22 "Stood" - in prayer the state of the heart is the important thing, not the posture of the body. The prayer which follows is the longest public prayer recorded in the Bible.

8:23 "Like you" - Ex 15:11; Deut 7:9; 1 Sam 2:2; 2 Sam 7:22; Ps 86:8-10; Isa 44:6,7.

"Covenant and mercy" - other gods are with your servant David my father what you promised him. You spoke also with your mouth, and have fulfilled it with your hand, as it is today.

25 "Therefore, now, LORD God of Israel, keep with your servant, my father David, what you promised him, saying, 'You will not lack a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Israel; so that your children might be careful about their way, so that they walk in my presence as you have walked in my presence.' 26 And now, O God of Israel, I pray you, let your word which you spoke to your servant, my father David, come true.

27 "But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Look, the heavens and heaven of heavens cannot contain you. How much less this house that I have built! 28 Yet have regard for the prayer of your servant and for his supplication, O LORD my God, to listen to the cry and to the prayer which your servant prays before you today, 29 that your eyes may be open toward this house night and day, toward this place of which you have said, 'My name will be there,' that you may listen to the prayer which your servant makes toward this place. 30 And listen to the supplication of your servant and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place, and hear in heaven, your dwelling place; and when you hear, forgive.

31 "If any man sins against his neighbour, and he is put under oath to cause him to swear, and the oath comes before your altar in this house, 32 then hear in heaven and act and judge your servants, condemning the wicked, to bring his conduct on his own head; and justifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteousness.

33 "When your people Israel are struck down unable either to make covenants or to keep them, or to show mercy (Ps 115:2-8).

8:25 2 Sam 7:12,16.

8:27 2 Chron 2:6; Ps 139:7-16; Isa 66:1; Jer 23:24; Acts 7:49; 17:24,25. Solomon and the human authors of the Bible knew something of the grandeur of God. Because the visible sign of God's presence appeared in tabernacle or temple, that did not make them have small views of God, or cause them to think that the whole of God could be contained in space.

8:30 "Dwelling place" - Solomon knew that in relationship to Israel, Jerusalem was God's dwelling place, in relationship to the world Israel was His dwelling place, in relationship to the universe, heaven was His dwelling place.

8:31 Solomon looks into the future, knows that the people will sin, and begs God for mercy.

8:32 Deut 25:1; Ezek 18:20.

8:33,34 "Bring them back" - evidently, Solomon knew from the Word of God that this would happen (Lev 26:17,40-42; Deut 28:25,48).

8:35 "No rain" - Solomon could know this before the enemy, because they have sinned against you, and turn back to you and confess your name, and pray and plead with you in this house, 34 then hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land which you gave to their fathers.

35 "When the heavens are shut up and there is no rain, because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place, and confess your name and turn from their sin, when you afflict them, 36 then hear in heaven and forgive the sin of your servants, and of your people Israel. So teach them the good way in which they should walk, and give rain on your land, which you have given to your people as an inheritance.

37 "If there is famine in the land, if there is pestilence, blight, mildew, locust, or if there is the caterpillar, if their enemy besieges them in the land of their cities, whatever plague, whatever disease there may be, 38 whatever prayer and supplication is made by any man, or by all your people Israel, each one knowing the plague of his own heart, spreading out his hands toward this house, 39 then hear in heaven, your dwelling place, and forgive, and act and give to every man according to his ways, whose heart you know (for you, you alone, know the hearts of all the children of men), 40 so that they may fear you all the days that they live in the land which you gave to our fathers.

41 "Also, as for the foreigner, who is not of your people Israel, but comes from a far country for your name's sake 42 (for they will hear of your great name, and of your strong hand and of your stretched out arm), when he comes and prays toward this house, 43 hear in heaven, your dwelling too would happen (Lev 26:19; Deut 11:16,17; 28:23).

8:36 "Teach them" - Ps 25:4,5; 27:11; 94:12.

"Give rain" - it is the true God, the Creator of the universe alone who gives rain, and not some imagined rain god (Lev 26:4; Job 5:10; Ps 68:9; 147:8; Acts 14:17).

8:37 Lev 26:16,25,26; Deut 28:21-23, 38-42; 2 Chron 20:9; Joel 1:1-4.

8:38 "Plague" - or it could be translated "affliction" or "trouble" or "sickness." Compare Jer 17:9. The Hebrew word has all these meanings.

8:39 1 Sam 2:3; 16:7; 1 Chron 28:9; Ps 11:4; Jer 17:10; John 2:24,25.

8:40 "Fear" - notes at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; Prov 1:7. In the Bible to fear God is to regard Him with awe, and to honor, believe, and obey Him.

8:41 Solomon wanted the God of Israel to be known as the God of all people, as indeed, in some sense, He is (Isa 44:6; Jer 32:26,27).

8:42 "They will hear" - Ex 13:3; Deut 3:24.

8:43 Josh 4:23,24; 1 Sam 17:46; 2 Kings

place, and do according to all that the stranger calls to you for, so that all peoples of the earth may know your name, to fear you, as your people Israel do, and so that they may know that this house, which I have built, is called by your name.

44 "If your people go out to battle against their enemy, wherever you send them, and pray to the LORD toward the city which you have chosen, and toward the house that I have built for your name, 45 then in heaven hear their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

46 "If they sin against you (for there is no one who does not sin), and you are angry with them and hand them over to the enemy, so that they carry them away captives to the land of the enemy, far or near, 47 and if they turn their hearts back to you in the land where they were carried captives, and repent and plead with you in the land of those who carried them away captives, saying, 'We have sinned and have done wrong; we have committed wickedness,' 48 and so turn back to you with all their heart and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies who led them away captive, and pray to you toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city which you have chosen and the house which I have built for your name, 49 then in heaven, your dwelling place, hear their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause, 50 and forgive your people who have sinned against you and all their transgressions in which they have transgressed against you, and grant them compassion in the presence of those who carried them away captive, so that they may have compassion on them; 51 for they are your people and your inheritance, whom you brought out of Egypt, from the midst of the iron furnace; 52 that your eyes may be open to the supplication of your servant, and to the supplication of your people Israel, to listen to them in everything about which they call to you.

53 "For you separated them from among all the people of the earth, to be your inheritance, as you spoke through Moses your servant, when you brought our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God."

54 And it came about, that when Solomon had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication to the LORD, he arose from before the altar of the LORD, from kneeling on his knees with his hands spread up to heaven. 55 And he stood and blessed all the congregation of Israel with a loud voice, saying,

56 "Blessed be the LORD who has given rest to his people Israel, in accordance with all that he promised. Not one word has failed of all his good promise which he promised by the hand of Moses his servant. 57 The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers. Let him not leave us or forsake us. 58 So may he incline our hearts to him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, which he commanded our fathers. 59 And may these my words, with which I have made supplication before the LORD, be near to the LORD our God day and night, so that he maintains the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel at all times, as each day requires, 60 so that all the peoples of the earth may know that the LORD is God, and that there is no one else. 61 Let your heart, therefore, be perfect with the LORD our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day."

62 And the king, and all Israel with him, offered sacrifice before the LORD. 63 And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered to the LORD, twenty-two thousand oxen and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the LORD.

64 The same day the king consecrated the middle of the courtyard that was in front of the house of the LORD; for there he offered burnt offerings and grain offerings and the fat of the peace offerings,

"Captives" – Lev 26:34-39; Deut 28:36,64; Jer 29:10-14. In his prayer of confession for the people Daniel used almost these exact words (Dan 9:5).

8:58 "Our hearts" – Solomon knew that if men are to turn their hearts to God, God must do a work of grace in them. See Ps 119:36. Compare Ps 51:10; 2 Tim 2:25.

8:59 Solomon wanted his prayer to have a continuing effect.

8:61 He could know from portions of God's Word such as Leviticus chapter 26 and Deuteronomy chapter 28 that the only way to blessing was obedience, and that disobedience meant disaster.

8:63 "Peace offerings" – Leviticus chapter 3.

8:64 Notes on these offerings at Leviticus chapters 1-3.

because the bronze altar that was before the LORD was too small to take the burnt offerings and meat offerings and the fat of the peace offerings.

65 And at that time Solomon, and all Israel with him, a great congregation from the entering in of Hamath to the river of Egypt, celebrated a feast before the LORD our God, seven days, then seven days more, fourteen days. 66 On the eighth day he sent the people away; and they spoke a blessing on the king, and went to their tents joyful and glad of heart for all the good that the LORD had done for David his servant, and for Israel his people.

9 And it came about, when Solomon had finished the building of the house of the LORD and the king's house, and had done all of Solomon's desire that he delighted in, 2 that the LORD appeared to Solomon the second time, as he had appeared to him at Gibeon.

3 And the LORD said to him, "I have heard your prayer and your supplication, that you have made before me. I have consecrated this house, which you have built, to put my name there forever, and my eyes and my heart will be there perpetually.

4 "And if you will walk before me, as your father David walked, in integrity of heart and in uprightness, to do according to all that I have commanded you, and will keep my statutes and my judgments, 5 then I will establish the throne of your kingdom over Israel forever, as I promised to your father David, saying, 'You will not lack a man on the throne of Israel.'

6 "But if you at all turn away from following me, you or your children, and do not keep my commandments and my statutes which I have set before you, but go and serve other gods and

"Hamath" - this was in the far north of Israel.

"River of Egypt" - or "Wadi of Egypt" - this does not indicate the River Nile, but a stream on the southern border of Israel, between Israel and Egypt.

8:66 "The eighth day" - after the second period of seven days.

"Joyful" - it is a recognition of the goodness of God which brings joy (Ex 18:9; 2 Chron 6:41; Neh 9:25; 1 Pet 1:3-9).

worship them, 7 then I will cut off Israel from the land which I have given them; and this house, which I have consecrated for my name, I will cast from my sight; and Israel will become a proverb and a byword among all peoples. 8 And as for this house, which is exalted, every one who passes by it will be astonished and will hiss, and will say, 'Why has the LORD done like this to this land and to this house?' 9 And they will answer, 'Because they forsook the LORD their God, who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and have taken hold of other gods and have worshipped them and served them; therefore the LORD has brought on them all this evil.'"

10 And it came about at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the LORD and the king's house 11 (now Hiram, the king of Tyre, had provided Solomon with cedar trees and pine trees and with gold, according to all his desire), that then king Solomon gave Hiram twenty towns in the land of Galilee. 12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to see the towns which Solomon had given him, and they did not please him. 13 And he said, "What towns are these which you have given me, my brother?" And he called them the "Land of Cabul", their name to this day. 14 And Hiram had sent to the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold.

15 And this is the reason for the forced labour which king Solomon raised: to build the house of the LORD and his own house, and Millo and the wall of Jerusalem and Hazor and Megiddo and Gezer. 16 For Pharaoh king of Egypt had come up and taken Gezer and burned it with fire, and killed the Canaanites who lived in the city, and given it as a present to his daughter, Solomon's wife. 17 And 9:11 "Hiram" - 5:1. He had provided Solomon with wood, labor, and gold (5:6-11; 9:14). That is, Solomon went into debt to finish his great building projects. He paid the debt by giving this territory. In other words, part of the land God had given Israel Solomon handed over to an idolatrous nation. Compare Lev 25:23,24. It is easy to go into debt, not so easy to pay; and it increases the burden of those involved in it. Rom 13:8 is always a good principle to follow. 2 Chron 8:2 tells of the return of these cities, the loan presumably having been repaid.

9:13 "Cabul" - probably means "good for nothing." It appears that Solomon used his worldly wisdom to get the best of Hiram. If so, in this matter he behaved in a way that brought no honor to either himself or to God. In fact, just the opposite.

9:14 "A hundred and twenty talents" - about 4 metric tons (4,000 kilograms).

9:15 "Forced labour" - note at 4:6.

9:16 "Gezer" - Josh 16:10. "Daughter"-3:1.

Solomon built Gezer, and lower Beth-Horon 18 and Baalath and Tadmor in the wilderness, in the land, 19 and all the storage cities that Solomon had, and cities for his chariots and cities for his horsemen, and what Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon and in all the land of his dominion.

20 And all the people who were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites, who were not of the children of Israel, 21 their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel were also not able to destroy completely, these Solomon conscripted as forced slave labourers to this day. 22 But Solomon did not make any slaves of the children of Israel, but they were warriors and his servants and his officials and his captains, and those in charge of his chariots and his horsemen. 23 These were the chief officials who were over Solomon's work, five hundred and fifty, who supervised the people who did the work.

24 And Pharaoh's daughter came up from the city of David to her house which Solomon had built for her. Then he built Millo.

25 And three times in a year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar which he built to the LORD, and he burned incense on the altar that was before the LORD. So he finished the house.

26 And king Solomon made a fleet of ships in Ezion-geber, which is near Elath, on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom. 27 And Hiram sent his servants in the fleet, sailors who had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Solomon. 28 And they came to Ophir, and brought gold from there, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Solomon.

10 And when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon concerning the name of the LORD, she came to test him with hard questions. 2 And she came to Jerusalem with a very large retinue, with camels carrying spices, and very much gold and precious stones. And when she had come to Solomon, she spoke with him of all that was in her heart. 3 And Solomon answered all her questions. There was nothing hidden from the king, which he did not tell her. 4 And when the queen of Sheba had seen all of Solomon's wisdom, and the house that he had built, 5 and the food of his table, and the seating of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers and their apparel, and his cupbearers, and his ascent by which he went up to the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her.

6 And she said to the king, "It was a true report that I heard in my own land of your acts and of your wisdom. 7 However I did not believe the reports, until I came and my eyes saw it; and, look, the half was not told me. Your wisdom and prosperity exceeds the fame which I heard. 8 Happy are your men, happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you and who hear your wisdom. 9 Blessed be the LORD your God, who delighted in you, to set you on the throne of Israel. Because the LORD loved Israel forever, he made you king, to maintain judgment and justice."

10 And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and a very large amount of spices, and precious stones; such an abundance of spices as these which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon never again came in.

11 And also the fleet of Hiram, that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir a great quantity of almug trees, and precious stones. 12 And with the almug trees the king made pillars for the house of the LORD, and for the king's house, also harps and lyres for singers. No such almug trees came in again, or have been seen to this day.

13 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all she desired, whatever she asked, besides what Solomon gave her from his royal bounty. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her

9:27 "Hiram" - v 12. Evidently he recovered from his discontent, or else thought he could get his gold back (v 14), by helping Solomon.

9:28 The location of Ophir is not known. Probably it was in Arabia, or along the east coast of Africa. It was famous for gold - 2 Chron 8:18; Job 28:16; Ps 45:9; Isa 13:12.

14 Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, 15 beside what he had from the merchants, and of the trade of the spice merchants, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the governors of the country.

16 And king Solomon made two hundred large shields of beaten gold; six hundred shekels of gold went into one shield. 17 And he made three hundred small shields of beaten gold. Three minas of gold went into each shield. And the king put them in the house of the Forest of Lebanon.

18 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the best gold. 19 The throne had six steps, and the top of the throne was round at the back, and there were armrests on each side at the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the armrests. 20 And twelve lions stood there on one side and on the other on the six steps. Nothing like it was made in any kingdom. 21 And all king Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; none were of silver; it was not considered valuable in the days of Solomon. 22 For the king had at sea the ships of Tarshish with the ships of Hiram. Once in three years the ships of Tarshish came in, bringing gold and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

23 So king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth for riches and for wisdom. 24 And the whole world sought audience with Solomon, to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart. 25 And each one of them brought his present: vessels of silver and vessels of gold, and garments,

10:17 7:2. "Three minas" - about 1.7 kilograms.

10:23 Did all this splendor, wealth, and wisdom make Solomon a happy man? See Eccl 1:2,12-14,18; 2:9-11. Did these things make the people of Israel happy? Not at all. See 12:1-4.

"Six hundred shekels"- about 7 kilograms.

11:1 "Women"- now begins the sad story of Solomon's decline and terrible sin. His wisdom was no safeguard against the sins of the flesh. The wise also may be carried away by lust, and human wisdom out of touch with God may fall into incredible folly. (Walking in the Spirit of God is the only way and armour, and spices, horses, and mules, so much year by year.

26 And Solomon amassed chariots and horsemen, and he had a thousand four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jerusalem. 27 And the king made silver as common as stones in Jerusalem, and he made cedars as abundant as the sycamore trees that are in the lowlands. 28 And Solomon had horses brought from Egypt, and linen yarn. The king's merchants obtained the linen yarn at a price. 29 And a chariot was imported from Egypt for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty; and so for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria; they brought them out by their means.

11 But king Solomon loved many foreign women along with the daughter of Pharaoh: women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites, 2 of the nations concerning which the LORD said to the children of Israel, "You must not go in to them and they must not come in to you, for they will surely turn your heart away after their gods." Solomon held fast to them in love. 3 And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines; and his wives turned away his heart. 4 For it came about, when Solomon was old, that his wives turned his heart away after other gods, and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, as the heart of his father David had been. 5 For Solomon went after Ashtoreth, the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom, the abomination of the Ammonites. 6 And Solomon did evil in the sight of the LORD, to holiness of life. Compare Ps 51:10-12; Gal 5:16.) Taking many wives was forbidden to kings in Deut 17:17. And God warned His people repeatedly not to marry those who practiced idolatry. See Ex 34:16; Deut 7:1-4; Josh 23:12,13.

11:3 Of what value is the greatest wisdom if we are unable to govern our own desires?

"Turned away his heart" - Deut 17:17; Neh 13:26; Prov 31:3.

11:4 "David" - though David sinned grievously in the matter of Bathsheba (2 Samuel chapter 11), he repented and remained steadfast in his worship of the one true God.

11:5 "Ashtoreth" - Jud 2:13; 10:6. In 2 Kings 23:13 she is called a "vile goddess." In Canaan she was regarded as the wife of Baal. She was the goddess of war and fertility and was worshipped with sexual rites. She was associated with the evening star. In Babylon she was Ishtar; to the Greeks, Astarte or Aphrodite; to the Romans, Venus.

"Milcom" - another name for the god Molech (also v 33). Here he is called an abomination. Sometimes children were burned in the fire as an offering to him.

and did not fully follow the LORD, as his father David had done.

7 Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh, the abomination of Moab, in the hill that is east of Jerusalem, and for Molech, the abomination of the children of Ammon. 8 And he did the same for all his foreign wives, who burned incense and sacrificed to their gods.

9 And the LORD was angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned from the LORD God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice, 10 and had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not follow other gods. But he did not observe what the LORD commanded. 11 Therefore the LORD said to Solomon, "Since you have done this, and have not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I commanded you, I will surely tear the kingdom away from you, and give it to your servant. 12 However, I will not do it in your days, for the sake of your father David; but I will tear it out of the hand of your son. 13 However, I will not tear away the whole kingdom, but will give one tribe to your son for the sake of my servant David, and for the sake of Jerusalem which I have chosen."

14 And the LORD stirred up an adversary to Solomon, Hadad the Edomite. He was of the royal house of Edom. 15 For it so happened, when David was in Edom, and Joab the commander of the army had gone up to bury the slain, after he had struck down every male in Edom 16 (for six months Joab remained there with all Israel, until he had cut off every male in Edom), 17 that Hadad fled, he and certain Edomites among his father's servants with him, to go to Egypt; Hadad being still a little child. 18 And they arose out of Midian and came to Paran, and they took men with them out of Paran and they came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house, and ordered that food be provided for him, and gave him land.

19 And Hadad found great favour in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him the sister of his own wife, the sister of Tahpenes the queen, as his wife. 20 And the sister of Tahpenes bore him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh's house. And Genubath was in Pharaoh's household among the sons of Pharaoh.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his ancestors, and that Joab the commander of the army was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, "Let me depart, so that I may go to my own country."

22 Then Pharaoh said to him, "But what have you lacked with me, that, lo and behold, you seek to go to your own country?"

And he answered, "Nothing. But let me go in any case."

23 And God stirred up another adversary against Solomon, Rezon the son of Eliadah, who fled from his lord Hadadezer, king of Zobah. 24 And he gathered men around him, and became captain over a band, when David killed those of Zobah. And they went to Damascus, and lived there and reigned in Damascus. 25 And he was an adversary to Israel all the days of Solomon, besides the mischief that Hadad did. And he hated Israel, and reigned over Syria.

26 And Jeroboam the son of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zereda, Solomon's servant, whose mother's name was Zeruah, a widow woman, also lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the reason that he lifted up his hand against the king: Solomon built Millo, and closed the breaches of the city of David his father. 28 And the man Jeroboam was a strong and brave man. And Solomon, seeing that the young man was industrious, put him in charge of the whole

See 2 Kings 16:3; 17:17; 21:6; Lev 18:21; 20:2-5.

11:7 "Chemosh" - or better, Kemosh. He, too, was an abomination (2 Kings 23:13). That is, he was detestable to the true God, though worshipped by people. Judging from 2 Kings 3:26,27 this god of Moab was sometimes worshipped with human sacrifices.

11:8 The gods mentioned above were only a few among many which Solomon allowed to be brought into God's land and God's city. And with them, we have good reason to think, came a whole host of demons. When Solomon lost the fear of God he lost much of his wisdom, at least in spiritual matters - Ps 111:10; Prov 1:7.

11:9 "Angry" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11. "Appeared" - 3:5; 9:2.

11:13 "One tribe" - Judah (12:20).

"Jerusalem" - 9:3.

11:14-25 God raised up two adversaries against Solomon - Hadad of Edom and Rezon of Syria, one in the southeast, the other in the northeast. Raising up enemies to oppose His people was frequently a way God expressed His anger against them because of their sins (Deut 28:15,49,50; Jud 2:10-23; 2 Sam 12:10; 2 Chron 36:15-17; Isa 10:5,6; Jer 1:15,16). There is reason to think God still acts in a similar way among the nations.

11:15 2 Sam 8:14.

11:21 Note at 2:10.

11:23 "Zobah" - 2 Sam 8:3. Damascus was, and remains, the capital of Syria.

11:26 "Jeroboam" - v 40; 12:2,20.

11:28 "Labour force" - note at 4:6.

"Joseph" - Jeroboam was from the tribe of Ephraim (v 26) descended from Joseph (Gen 41:50-52).

labour force of the house of Joseph.

29 And it came about at that time, as Jeroboam was going out of Jerusalem, that the prophet Ahijah, the Shilonite, met him in the road. And he was wearing a new cloak; and the two of them were alone in the field. 30 And Ahijah took hold of the new garment he was wearing and tore it in twelve pieces, 31 and said to Jeroboam, "Take ten pieces. For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Look, I will tear the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give ten tribes to you 32 (but he will have one tribe for my servant David's sake, and for Jerusalem's sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel), 33 because they have forsaken me, and have worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, Chemosh the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and have not walked in my ways, to do that which is right in my eyes and to keep my statutes and my judgments, as his father David did."

34 "However I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, but I will make him ruler all the days of his life for the sake of my servant David, whom I chose, because he kept my commandments and my statutes. 35 But I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand, and will give it to you, ten tribes. 36 And I will give one tribe to his son, so that my servant David will always have a light before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for myself to put my name there. 37 And I will take you, and you will reign in all ways just as your soul desires and will be king over Israel. 38 And if you will listen to all that I command you, and walk in my ways and do what is right in my sight, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as my servant David did, this will happen: I will be with you and build you an enduring house, as I built for David, and will give Israel to you. 39 And I will afflict David's descendants because of this, but not forever."

40 Therefore Solomon sought to kill Jeroboam. And Jeroboam arose and fled to Egypt, to Shishak, king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

41 And the rest of the acts of Solomon and all that he did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the book of The Acts of Solomon? 42 And the time that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel was forty years. 43 And Solomon slept with his ancestors, and was buried in the city of his father David. And his son Rehoboam reigned in his place.

12 And Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king. 2 And it came about when Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, who was still in Egypt, heard this (for Jeroboam had fled from the presence of king Solomon, and he lived in Egypt), 3 that they sent word and called him. And Jeroboam and all the congregation of Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying, 4 "Your father made our yoke hard. Now therefore lighten the hard service of your father and his heavy yoke which he put on us, and we will serve you."

5 And he said to them, "Depart for three days, then come back to me." And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam conferred with the old men who stood before his father Solomon while he was still living, and said, "How do you advise me to answer this people?"

7 And they spoke to him, saying, "If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them, and answer them, speaking good words to them, then they will be your servants forever."

11:29 12:15; 14:2. There were many prophets in Bible times about whom we know almost nothing. Ahijah was one of these.

11:30 Compare 1 Sam 15:27,28.

11:31 Verses 11-13. These ten tribes were the whole of the nation except Judah, Simeon, and Levi. Originally Simeon had no separate territory but had been allotted land inside Judah's boundaries (Josh 19:1-9). Levi had no territory of its own but lived in cities scattered throughout the land (Josh 13:14; 21:41). The division of the northern tribes from Judah had its roots in Solomon's sin. But previously there had been trouble between these two sections of the country. See 2 Samuel chapter 2; 19:40-43; 20:1,2. 11:35 12:16,17.

11:36 "Light" - that is, the house of David would continue. God would not put out that lamp.

11:38 God gave the same promises to Jeroboam that He gave to Solomon (2:3,4; 3:14; 6:12,13). God's covenant applied to Jeroboam and northern tribes just as it did to the kingdom of Judah and its rulers.

11:41 "The Acts of Solomon" - no man knows what has become of this book.

11:43 "Slept" - note at 2:10. Rehoboam means "enlarger of the people", or "the people are enlarged." This must have been Solomon's hope when he named him. But the exact opposite happened. Sin is the great crusher of human hopes.

12:1-19 2 Chron 10:1-19.

12:1 "Shechem" - Gen 12:6; 33:18-20; Josh 8:30-35; Jud 9:6. It was located in the territory of Ephraim. See 11:26.

12:4 1 Sam 8:10-18. Solomon's demand for provisions and his huge building projects were a burden evidently felt by many people (4:7,22-25; 6:38; 7:1; 9:15-19).

12:6 1 Kings 4:1-7.

12:7 "Servant" - God appointed kings to serve the people, not to lord it over them. Compare Mark 10:42-45; 1 Pet 5:1-4. The elders gave very good advice.

8 But he rejected the counsel of the old men, which they had given him, and conferred with the young men who had grown up with him and who stood before him. 9 And he said to them, "What advice do you give to us to answer this people, who have spoken to me, saying, 'Lighten the yoke which your father put on us?'"

10 And the young men who had grown up with him spoke to him, saying, "Speak to this people who spoke to you like this and said 'Your father made our yoke heavy, but you lighten it for us,' and tell them this: 'My little finger will be thicker than my father's waist. 11 And now, though my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will add to your yoke. My father punished you with whips, but I will punish you with scorpions.'"

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, "Come back to me on the third day." 13 And the king answered the people roughly, and rejected the old men's counsel that they gave him, 14 and spoke to them in accordance with the counsel of the young men, saying, "My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke. And my father punished you with whips, but I will punish you with scorpions." 15 So the king did not listen to the people, for the turn of events was from the LORD, that he might fulfil his word which the LORD spoke by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam, the son of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, saying, "What part do we have in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents, O Israel! Now see to your own house, David!" So Israel departed to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Israel who lived in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Adoram, who was over the forced labour, and all Israel pelted him with stones, and he died. Therefore king Rehoboam hurriedly mounted his chariot to flee to Jerusalem. 19 So Israel is in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

20 And it happened that when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had come back, they sent and called him to the congregation and made him king over all Israel. Only the tribe of Judah followed the house of David, no one else.

21 And when Rehoboam arrived in Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah, with the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thousand chosen men who were warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to bring the kingdom back to Rehoboam, the son of Solomon.

22 But the word of God came to Shemaiah, the man of God, saying, 23 "Speak to Rehoboam, the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and to the rest of the people, saying, 24 'Thus says the LORD, You shall not go up, or fight against your brethren the children of Israel. Each man is to go back to his house, for this thing is from me.'" So they listened to the word of the LORD, and turned around and went back, in accordance with the word of the LORD.

25 Then Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim and lived in it, and went out from there and built Peniel.

26 And Jeroboam said in his heart, "Now the kingdom may return to the house of David, 27 if this people go up to offer sacrifice in the house of the LORD at Jerusalem. Then the heart of this people will turn back to their lord, to Rehoboam king of Judah, and they will kill me and go back to Rehoboam king of Judah."

28 Then the king took counsel and made two gold calves, and said to the people, "It is too much for you to go up to Jerusalem. See your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt!"

12:8-11 Rehoboam rejected the counsel of experience and wisdom and allowed himself to be led into a ruinous policy. This advice was to make the burdens of the people heavier, and to punish them more if they failed in carrying them. Youth may sometimes be wise (see Job 32:6-9), but in this case they were extremely foolish. But behind their foolishness and Rehoboam's acceptance of their advice, God stood, working out His purpose (v 15). 12:15 God can use even the foolishness and the evil acts of men to accomplish His will. The supreme example of this is the cross. See note at Gen 50:20.

12:16 "Israel" – the ten northern tribes.

"Part" – 2 Sam 20:1.

12:17 "In the cities of Judah" – people from the 10 northern tribes who had come to live there. See 2 Chron 11:14-17.

12:18 Rehoboam, of course, was reluctant to see 10 tribes slip away from his authority.

12:20 11:13,32,36; 2 Kings 17:21.

12:21-24 2 Chron 11:1-4.

12:22 "Shemaiah" – 2 Chron 12:5-8,15.

12:24 "Is from me" – v 15.

12:25 Shechem and Peniel were ancient cities (Gen 32:30,31; Jud 8:8,17; 9:45-49. "Peniel" – or "Peniel.")

12:27 Jeroboam was aware of the unifying force of religion with its central place of worship. He cared nothing about obedience to God's laws; he wanted only to cling to power. 12:28 Ex 32:4-8; 2 Kings 10:29; 17:16; Hos 8:4-7; Ex 20:3-6,23. Jeroboam gave them a form of worship of their own which would keep them from going to Jerusalem. Now too there are many forms of worship and religions which keep people from worshipping the true God.

29 And he placed one in Bethel and the other he put in Dan. 30 And this thing became a sin, for the people went to worship before the one, to Dan.

31 And he made houses on high places, and made priests of the lowest of the people, who were not of the sons of Levi. 32 And Jeroboam ordained a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like the feast that is in Judah, and he made offerings on the altar. He did this in Bethel, offering sacrifices to the calves that he had made. And he placed in Bethel the priests of the high places which he had made. 33 So he made offerings on the altar in Bethel, which he had made, on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, in the month which he had chosen in his own heart, and ordained a feast for the children of Israel, and he made offerings on the altar and burned incense.

13 And just then a man of God came to Bethel from Judah by the word of the LORD; and Jeroboam was standing by the altar to burn incense. 2 And the man cried out against the altar

by the word of the LORD, and said, "O altar, altar! Thus says the LORD: 'Look, a child will be born to the house of David, Josiah by name; and he will offer on you the priests of the high places who burn incense on you, and men's bones will be burned on you.'" 3 And he gave a sign the same day, saying, "This is the sign which the LORD has spoken: 'Look, the altar will split apart and the ashes on it will spill out.'"

4 Then this happened: when king Jeroboam heard the words of the man of God who cried out against the altar in Bethel, he put out his hand from the altar, saying, "Seize him!" And his hand, which he stretched out against him, withered, so that he could not pull it back to him. 5 And the altar split apart and the ashes spilled out of the altar, in accordance with the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

6 And the king answered and said to the man of God, "Please plead with the face of the LORD your God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored to me." And the man of God pleaded with 12:29 "Bethel" - this town was about 20 kilometers north of Jerusalem, near the border between Ephraim and Benjamin.

"Dan" - in the far north of Israel.

12:30 Israel had just complaints against Rehoboam, but they allowed their objections to move them to accept the leadership of an evil man, Jeroboam, who led them to spiritual ruin. A wrong reaction to injustice or troubles of other kinds can lead people into still worse troubles.

12:31 "High places" - note at 3:2.

"Levi" - Ex 29:9; 40:15; Num 3:9,10; 18:1-7. In his determination to hold power he cared not at all how many of God's laws he violated, or what spiritual damage he did to God's people. What but ruin can be the end of such a course, anytime, anywhere?

12:32,33 "He had chosen" - compare Lev 23:33,34; Num 29:12. Jeroboam was inventing a substitute religion, complete with places of worship, a priesthood, sacrifices, and festivals. But the whole thing was an abomination to the one true God (14:9-11), because it violated His laws and ignored His desires altogether. Let us learn that not all religions are good, and not all ways lead to God - in fact, some ways lead directly away from Him. Jeroboam's religion was like this. He completely corrupted Israel, and his deeds had a profound effect on all their later history.

Ever after this, Jeroboam is remembered in the Bible for his wickedness in leading Israel into sin - 15:30,34; 16:2,19,26,31; 22:52; 2 Kings 3:3; 10:29; etc. The sins of Jeroboam are mentioned more than 20 times in the Old Testament - surely some sort of record for an individual. Sins in the sphere of religion, sins which keep people from the true God, are among the most serious and deadly of all sins. Compare Matt 23:13-15.

13:1 "Man of God" - often, as here, means a prophet. He is not named. Sometimes God commits great and difficult work to those who are comparatively unknown. Compare 1 Cor 1:12-29.

"Judah" - then considered enemy territory by Jeroboam.

"To burn incense" - 12:32. Compare 1 Sam 13:8-14. Jeroboam little knew that his religion made him hateful to God. God now reveals this through His prophet.

13:2 "Josiah" - a prophecy which was not fulfilled for nearly 300 years. But then it was fulfilled to the letter - 2 Kings 23:15-20. It was unusual for prophecies of the future to give the name of an individual. Besides Josiah only Cyrus (Isa 44:28) and Solomon were so named. In Old Testament prophecy the Lord Jesus was clearly revealed and many titles were given to Him (such as Immanuel and those names in Isa 9:6), but it is not said that His name would be Jesus.

13:3 God gave evidence to Jeroboam and to the nation that the prophet was declaring the Word of God. It was important for them to know this, for Israel was at a very critical stage in its history. Compare Ex 4:1-9; Deut 18:21,22; Heb 2:4.

13:4 "Seize him" - Jeroboam did not want messages from God. Political power was his delight.

13:6 "Pray" - how like Pharaoh in Egypt, and, for that matter, many people today. Many want healing without repenting of their sins, and help from God without obedience to God. But what is more important - healing of the hand or healing of the inner person? Jeroboam should have been crying the LORD, and the king's hand was restored to him and became as it was before.

7 And the king said to the man of God, "Come home with me and refresh yourself, and I will give you a reward."

8 And the man of God said to the king, "Even if you would give me half your house, I would not go in with you, nor would I eat bread or drink water in this place, 9 because this is what the word of the LORD commanded me, saying, 'Eat no bread and drink no water, and do not return by the same way that you go.'" 10 So he went another way, and did not return by the way that he came to Bethel.

11 Now an old prophet lived in Bethel, and his sons came and told him all the deeds that the man of God had done that day in Bethel, and they told their father the words which he had spoken to the king. 12 And their father said to them, "What way did he go?" For his sons saw the way the man of God who came from Judah had gone. 13 And he said to his sons, "Saddle the donkey for me." So they saddled the donkey for him, and he rode on it.

14 And went after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak. And he said to him, "Are you the man of God who came from Judah?"

And he said, "I am."

15 Then he said to him, "Come home with me, and eat bread."

16 And he said, "I cannot return with you or go in with you, and I will not eat bread or drink water with you in this place, 17 because it was said to me by the word of the LORD, 'You shall not eat bread or drink water there, or return by the way that you go.'"

18 He said to him, "I am also a prophet, just as you are; and an angel spoke to me by the word of the LORD, saying, 'Bring him back with you into your house, so that he can eat bread and drink water.'" But he lied to him.

19 So he went back with him, and ate bread in his house and drank water. 20 And it came about, as they sat at the table, that the word of the LORD came to the prophet who brought him back, 21 and he cried out to the man of God who came from Judah, saying, "Thus says the LORD, 'Because you have disobeyed the word spoken by the mouth of the LORD, and have not kept the commandment which the LORD your God commanded you, 22 but came back and ate bread and drank water in the place concerning which the LORD said to you, 'Eat no bread and drink no water, your dead body will not go to the tomb of your fathers.'"

23 And it came about after he ate bread and after he drank, he saddled the donkey for him, that is, for the prophet whom he brought back. 24 And as the man was going, a lion met him in the road and killed him. And his dead body was thrown down in the road, and the donkey stood by it, and the lion stood by the body. 25 And men appeared, passing by, and saw the body thrown down in the out for prayer for his withered heart.

13:7 "Reward" – possibly an attempt to corrupt this prophet and use him for his own ends.

13:8-10 The prophet had received his instructions from God, and he was firm in his determination to follow them completely. So far so good.

13:11 This old prophet sets out to ruin the prophet from Judah (v 18). His motive is not stated. It may have been envy (and envy is deadly). Perhaps he reasoned like this – "I am a prophet and live right here in Bethel. Why did God bring a prophet from Judah to give His message. Why am I passed over?" Or it may have been simply that this old prophet was a backslidden failure and was pleased to see other prophets fail too. Who can say for sure? (Jer 17:9). But we know there are such people in the world and among God's people.

13:15 Verse 7. The testing of this prophet came a second time. Temptations once overcome may cause us to fall when they come again. Continual vigilance is the price of victory (Eph 6:18; 1 Pet 5:8; etc). Satan knows an individual's weakness and will bring the same temptations again and again throughout a person's life.

13:16 Verse 9. Sometimes the command of God may seem strange and unreasonable to His servants. Compare Ezek 4:12-14;

Hos 1:2; Acts 10:9-14.

13:18 "Lied to him" – he was not the last person to tell lies in the name of God. We make a big mistake if we ignore what God has revealed to us and let others get our guidance for us. Observe that temptations and testings may come in God's name. These may be among the most difficult to overcome.

13:19 How important it is to hold firm in obedience to what God has said.

13:20 This old man had the true prophetic gift.

13:21 This man of God should have realized that God would not change His instructions, that his obedience was being tested. Once God has told us to do something we must do it, even though a world of prophets and all our family and friends try to turn us from God's will. If we do not we will experience great loss.

13:22 Disobedience in what men might regard as a small matter may result in the destruction of our whole ministry, may indeed cost us our lives. No disobedience is small in God's eyes, and little matters may bring great tests. Compare Luke 16:10. For the terrible results of another act of disobedience see Rom 5:12,15,17-19.

13:24 The donkey did not run away, the lion did not attack the donkey – evidence to those who saw it that this was an act of God.

road, and the lion standing by the body; and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet lived.

26 And when the prophet who had brought him back from the way heard this, he said, "It is the man of God, who was disobedient to the word of the LORD. Therefore the LORD has delivered him to the lion, which has torn him and killed him, in accordance with the word of the LORD, which he spoke to him."

27 And he spoke to his sons, saying, "Saddle the donkey for me." And they saddled it for him. 28 And he went and found his body thrown down in the road, and the donkey and the lion standing by the body. The lion had not eaten the body, nor torn the donkey. 29 And the prophet took up the body of the man of God, and laid it on the donkey and brought it back, and the old prophet came to the city to mourn and to bury him. 30 And he laid his body in his own grave, and they mourned over him, saying, "Alas, my brother!"

31 And it came about, after he had buried him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, "When I am dead, then bury me in the tomb where the man of God is buried. Lay my bones beside his bones; 32 for the thing which he cried out by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel, and against all the houses of the high places which are in the cities of Samaria, will surely come true."

33 After this incident Jeroboam did not turn from his evil way, but again made priests for the high places from the lowest of the people. He consecrated whoever had the desire to be a priest, and he became one of the priests of the high places. 34 And this thing became sin to the house of Jeroboam, even to cut it off, and to destroy it from the face of the earth.

13:26 A man of God died for one act of disobedience, but the lying prophet and wicked Jeroboam lived on. Strange appear the ways of God to men (Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34), and none of us will understand all He does on earth. But we should learn not to judge people's character by what happens to them, by the measure of their present punishment or lack of it. Some faithful children of God suffer greatly and die young. Many rascals live on untroubled, and seem to prosper (Ps 73:3-12). But the end is not yet - Rev 22:12. 13:29,30 It seems this strange old man was genuinely sorry. He had ruined his "brother", and his heart was saddened and troubled. Perhaps, when he started out to test him, he did not think it would result in the young man's death.

13:33 "Did not turn" - miracles and prophecies do not change the human heart. Jeroboam went ahead as before (12:31-33).

"Desire" - the priesthood was thrown open to those who were looking for such a

14 At that time Abijah, the son of Jeroboam, fell sick. 2 And Jeroboam said to his wife, "Please arise and disguise yourself, so that you will not be recognized as the wife of Jeroboam, and go to Shiloh. See, Ahijah the prophet is there, who told me that I would be king over this people. 3 And take ten loaves and cakes and a jar of honey with you, and go to him. He will tell you what is to become of the child."

4 And Jeroboam's wife did so. She arose and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah. Now Ahijah could not see, for his eyes were set because of his age. 5 And the LORD said to Ahijah, "Now the wife of Jeroboam is coming to ask something of you for her son, for he is sick. You are to say such and such to her; for it shall be, when she comes in, that she will pretend to be another woman."

6 And so it was that when Ahijah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in the door, he said, "Come in, you wife of Jeroboam. Why do you pretend to be someone else? For I have been sent to you with bad news. 7 Go, tell Jeroboam, Thus says the LORD God of Israel, 'Because I exalted you from among the people, and made you ruler over my people Israel, 8 and tore the kingdom away from the house of David and gave it to you, and yet you have not been like my servant David who kept my commandments and who followed me with all his heart to do only what was right in my eyes, 9 but have done evil above all who were before you, for you have gone and made other gods and cast metal idols for yourself to provoke me to anger, and have thrust me behind your back, 10 therefore, look, I will bring disaster on the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off every male person from Jeroboam, both bond position. God's desire had nothing to do with it. So instead of the best men leading the spiritual life of the nation, the worst men pressed forward. So now. If God's call is not the sole criterion, men after money, power, and position will strive for places and leadership in Christian circles. Compare Jud 17:11; 18:20.

13:34 "Destroy it" - 14:10; 15:29; 2 Kings chapter 9.

14:1,2 13:6. Like many people in every generation Jeroboam was ready to seek God for something he wanted, but was not willing to forsake his sins.

"Ahijah" - 11:29-31.

14:5 Compare 1 Sam 9:15-17; 2 Kings 6:32.

14:9 "Evil" - 12:28-33. "Anger" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

"Have thrust me behind your back" - Neh 9:26; Ps 50:17; Jer 2:27; 32:33; Ezek 23:35. This is how some people dare to treat Almighty God, the Creator of the universe!

and free in Israel, and will sweep away the rest of the house of Jeroboam, as a man sweeps away dung, until it is all gone. 11 Those who belong to Jeroboam who die in the city will be eaten by the dogs, and those who die in the field will be eaten by the birds of the air; for the LORD has spoken it.'

12 "So arise. Go to your own house. And when your feet enter the city, the child will die. 13 And all Israel will mourn for him and bury him, for he alone of those who belong to Jeroboam will come to the grave, because in him there is found some good thing toward the LORD God of Israel in the house of Jeroboam.

14 "Moreover the LORD will raise up for himself a king over Israel who will cut off the house of Jeroboam that day. And what now? 15 For the LORD will strike Israel. It will be like a reed shaken in the water. And he will root up Israel out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and will scatter them beyond the River, because they have made their idolatrous groves, provoking the LORD to anger. 16 And he will give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, who sinned and who caused Israel to sin."

17 And Jeroboam's wife arose and left and came to Tirzah, and when she came to the threshold of the door, the child died. 18 And they buried him, and all Israel mourned for him, in accordance with the word of the LORD which he spoke through his servant Ahijah the prophet.

19 And the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, how he made war, and how he reigned, see, they are written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel. 20 And Jeroboam reigned for twenty-two years. Then he slept with his ancestors, and Nadab his son reigned in his place.

21 And Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD chose out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naamah. She was an Ammonite.

22 And Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD, and provoked him to jealousy with their sins which they committed, above all that their fathers had done. 23 For they also built for themselves high places and made idols and idolatrous groves, on every high hill and under every green tree. 24 And there were even male shrine prostitutes in the land, and they behaved in accordance with all the abominations of the nations which the LORD drove out before the children of Israel.

25 And this occurred in the fifth year of king Rehoboam: Shishak, king of Egypt, came up against Jerusalem, 26 and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house. He took them all away, and took away all the shields of gold which Solomon had made. 27 And in their place king Rehoboam made bronze shields, and committed them into the hands of the chief of the guard, who kept the door of the king's house. 28 And the custom was that whenever the king went into the house of the LORD, the guard carried them, and later brought them back into the guard room.

29 Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 30 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all their days. 31 And Rehoboam slept with his ancestors, and was buried among his ancestors in the city of David. And his mother's name was Naamah. She was an Ammonite. And Abijah his son reigned in his place.

14:11 God had warned that this was one of the penalties of disobedience to His covenant (Deut 28:26).

14:12,13 "Some good thing" – see note at 13:26. In this case, considering the destruction to come on the house of Jeroboam, the death of this boy was a merciful act of God. It may be so in a great many cases, as far as we know. Compare Isa 57:1,2.

14:14 15:27-29.

14:15,16 "Strike Israel" – Deut 28:63,64; 29:25-28; 2 Kings 17:21-23.

"The River" – the Euphrates.

"Idolatrous groves" – or "Asherah poles" – note at Jud 3:7.

"Sins of Jeroboam" – 12:28-33.

14:17 "Tirzah" – the first capital of the northern kingdom of Israel.

14:19 "Annals" – these were not the books of Chronicles, but earlier records. No man knows what has become of them.

14:20 "Slept" – note at 2:10. "Nadab" – 15:25.

14:21 "Rehoboam" – 11:32,36,43.

"Ammonite" – Rehoboam was the offspring of a forbidden marriage – 11:1,2.

14:22 "Evil" – see 2 Chron 12:1,14.

"Jealousy" – Ex 20:3-6.

14:23 Deut 12:2; 16:22.

14:24 "Prostitutes" – groups of both male and female prostitutes were kept at various places of worship in the old Canaanite religion. Now Judah adopted this detestable custom and made it a part of their worship. God had warned them about this in Deut 20:18; 23:17.

14:25-31 This was because God was punishing the people for their sins (2 Chron 12:1,2). See note at 11:14-25.

14:26 "Solomon had made" – 10:16,17.

14:29 "Annals" – note at 14:19.

14:31 "Slept" – note at 2:10. "Abijah" – Abijah.

15 Now in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, Abijam became king over Judah. 2 He reigned three years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maachah. She was the daughter of Abishalom.

3 And he walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him, and his heart was not perfect with the LORD his God, like the heart of David his father. 4 Nevertheless for David's sake the LORD his God gave him a lamp in Jerusalem, to set up his son after him, and to establish Jerusalem, 5 because David did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, and did not turn aside from anything that he commanded him all the days of his life, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.

6 And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the days of his life. 7 Now the rest of the acts of Abijam and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? And there was war between Abijam and Jeroboam. 8 And Abijam slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the city of David; and Asa his son reigned in his place.

9 And in the twentieth year of Jeroboam, king of Israel, Asa became king over Judah. 10 And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maachah. She was the daughter of Abishalom.

11 And Asa did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, like David his father had done. 12 And he took away the male shrine prostitutes from the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made. 13 And he also removed his mother Maachah from being queen, because she had made an idol in a grove; and Asa destroyed her idol, and burned it by the brook Kidron. 14 But the high places were not removed. Nevertheless Asa's heart was perfect with the LORD all his days. 15 And he brought into the house of the LORD the things which his father had dedicated, and the things which he himself had dedicated, silver and gold and utensils.

16 And there was war between Asa and Baasha, king of Israel, all their days. 17 And Baasha, king of Israel, went up against Judah, and built Ramah, not allowing anyone to go out or come in to Asa, king of Judah.

18 Then Asa took all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasuries of the king's house, and entrusted them into the hands of his servants; and king Asa sent them to Ben-Hadad, the son of Tabrimon, the son of Hezion, king of Syria, who lived at Damascus, saying, 19 "There is a treaty between me and you, and between my father and your father. See, I have sent you a present of silver and gold. Come and break your treaty with Baasha, king of Israel, so that he will leave me."

20 So Ben-Hadad listened to king Asa, and sent the commanders of the armies which he had against the cities of Israel and attacked Ijon and Dan and Abel-Beth-Maachah, and all Kinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali. 21 And it came about, when Baasha heard this, that he stopped the building of Ramah, and lived in Tirzah. 22 Then king Asa made a proclamation throughout all Judah. No one was exempt; and they took away the stones of Ramah and its timber, with which Baasha had built, and with them king Asa built Geba of Benjamin and Mizpah.

15:2 "Three years" – many of the kings of Israel and Judah were insignificant and their reigns brief.

"Abishalom" – a different way of spelling "Absalom."

15:3 "Father" – 14:21-24; 2 Chron 12:1.

"His heart" – this was the root reason for his many sins.

15:4 "Lamp" – 11:36.

15:5 "Hittite" – 2 Sam 11:2-4, 14-17; 12:9, 10; 1 Kings 9:4; 14:8. Does this mean that David's adultery with Bathsheba and murder of Uriah were his only sins? Obviously not. His numbering of Israel, for example, was sin and brought punishment (2 Sam 24:1, 10). But David was a man after God's own heart (1 Sam 13:14), and he earnestly sought God and tried to do God's will all his life. When he failed he repented and confessed and forsook his sin. Only in the case of Uriah and Bathsheba did he fail to do so. Many months went by without repentance and God had to send Nathan the prophet to rebuke him (2 Sam 12:1, 7).

15:6 14:30.

15:7 "Annals" – note at 14:19. More about

Abijam is recorded in 2 Chron 13:2-22.

15:8 "Slept" – note at 2:10.

15:11 "Asa" – among the kings of Judah he was rated a good king. It may surprise us that evil men sometimes have good sons, and good men evil sons. More about Asa at 2 Chronicles chapters 15 and 16.

15:12, 13 Asa dealt with the sin in his own home also. This is where obedience to the Lord and our witness must always begin. Compare Jud 6:24-27; Josh 24:15; Gen 35:1-4. And this is often where failure is most evident – 1 Sam 8:1-5; 2 Sam 13:21, 39; 1 Kings 1:6.

"Idol in a grove" – probably a wooden idol or pole representing the goddess Asherah.

15:16 The division of Israel into two parts was a source of continual trouble to both of them.

15:17 "Ramah" – a town only about eight kilometers north of Jerusalem.

15:18, 19 "Treaty" – surely it was a mistake on Asa's part to look to an idolatrous nation for security against his enemies. It reveals a weakness in his faith. See 2 Chron 16:7. Note also at Isa 31:1.

15:21 "Tirzah" – 15:17.

23 All the rest of the acts of Asa, and all his might, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? Nevertheless, in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet. 24 And Asa slept with his ancestors, and was buried among his ancestors in the city of his father David. And Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place.

25 And Nadab, the son of Jeroboam, began to reign over Israel in the second year of Asa, king of Judah, and reigned over Israel two years. 26 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father and in his sin with which he made Israel to sin.

27 And Baasha, the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him and Baasha struck him down at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines; for Nadab and all Israel laid siege to Gibbethon. 28 And in the third year of Asa, king of Judah, Baasha killed him and reigned in his place.

29 And this happened when he became king: he struck down all the house of Jeroboam. He did not leave to Jeroboam any who breathed, until he had destroyed him, in accordance with the word of the LORD, which he spoke by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite, 30 because of the sins of Jeroboam which he committed, and which he caused Israel to commit, because of his provocation with which he provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger.

31 Now the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 32 And there was war between Asa and Baasha, king of Israel, all their days.

33 In the third year of Asa, king of Judah, Baasha, the son of Ahijah, began to reign over all Israel in Tirzah, and he reigned twenty-four years. 34 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD and walked in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin with which he caused Israel to sin.

16 Then the word of the LORD came to Jehu, the son of Hanani, against Baasha, saying, 2 "Because I exalted you from the dust and made you ruler over my people Israel, and you have walked in the way of Jeroboam and have caused my people Israel to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins, 3 look, I will consume Baasha and his house, and will make your house like the house of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat. 4 Those who belong to Baasha who die in the city will be eaten by the dogs, and those of his who die in the fields will be eaten by the birds of the air."

5 Now the rest of the acts of Baasha, and what he did, and his might, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 6 So Baasha slept with his ancestors and was buried in Tirzah, and Elah his son reigned in his place.

7 And also the word of the LORD had come through the prophet Jehu, the son of Hanani, against Baasha and against his house, because of all the evil that he did in the sight of the LORD, in provoking him to anger with the work of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam, and because he killed him.

8 In the twenty-sixth year of Asa, king of Judah, Elah, the son of Baasha, began to reign over Israel in Tirzah, and he reigned two years.

9 And his servant Zimri, commander of half his chariots, conspired against him while he was in Tirzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, the steward of his house in Tirzah. 10 And Zimri went in and struck him and killed him in the twenty-seventh year of Asa, king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

11 And it happened when he began to reign, as soon as he sat on his throne, that he killed all the house of Baasha. He did not leave him a single male person, none of his relatives or of his friends. 12 Thus did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha, in accordance with the word of the LORD, which he spoke against Baasha by Jehu the prophet, 13 because of all the sins of Baasha, and the sins of his son Elah, which they committed and which they made Israel commit, in provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their worthless idols.

14 Now the rest of the acts of Elah and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel?

15 In the twenty-seventh year of Asa, king of Judah, Zimri reigned seven days in Tirzah. And the people were camped against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines. 16 And the people who were camped heard this said: "Zimri has conspired, and has also killed the king." Therefore that day all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel in the camp. 17 And Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged Tirzah. 18 And it happened that when Zimri saw that the city was taken, he went into the citadel of the king's house, and burned down the king's house over himself with fire, and died, 19 because of his sins which he committed in doing evil in the sight of the LORD, in walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his sin which he committed, to cause Israel to sin. 20 Now the rest of the acts of Zimri, and his plot which he carried out, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel?

21 Then the people of Israel were divided into two parts. Half of the people followed Tibni, the son of Ginath, to make him king, and half followed Omri. 22 But the people who followed Omri prevailed against the people who followed Tibni, the son of Ginath. So Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 In the thirty-first year of Asa, king of Judah, Omri began to reign over Israel, and he reigned twelve years. He reigned six years in Tirzah. 24 And he bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver, and built on the hill, and called the name of the city which he built, Samaria, after the name of Shemer, owner of the hill.

25 But Omri did evil in the eyes of the LORD, doing more evil than all who were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, and in his sin with which he caused Israel to sin, to provoke the LORD God of Israel to anger with their worthless idols.

27 Now the rest of the deeds of Omri which he did, and his might that he showed, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 28 So Omri slept with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria, and his son Ahab reigned in his place.

29 And in the thirty-eighth year of Asa, king of Judah, Ahab, the son of Omri, began to reign over Israel, and Ahab, the son of Omri, reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. 30 And Ahab, the son of Omri, did more evil in the sight of the LORD than all who were before him. 31 And it came about, as if it were a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, that he took Jezebel, the daughter of Ethbaal, king of the Sidonians, as his wife, and went and served Baal and worshipped him. 32 And he set up an altar for Baal in the house of Baal, which he had built in Samaria. 33 And Ahab made an idolatrous grove, and Ahab did more to provoke the LORD God of Israel to anger than all the kings of Israel who were before him.

34 In his days Hiel, the Bethelite, built Jericho. He laid its foundation at the cost of his firstborn Abiram, and set up its gates at the cost of his youngest son Segub, in accordance with the word of the LORD, which he spoke by Joshua the son of Nun.

power. Selfish struggles for position and power in Christian circles can be just as disastrous. Wise men will avoid them.

16:20 "Annals" - 14:19.

16:23 "Tirzah" - 14:17.

16:24 Omri built Samaria and established it as the new capital of the northern kingdom of Israel. The northern kingdom was even called "Samaria" at times (21:1; Isa 10:10; Amos 6:1).

"Two talents" - about 70 kilograms.

16:25-28 From a secular point of view Omri was one of the northern kingdom's most successful kings. But the writer dismisses him with a few verses. God's standards are different from man's. Omri denied God's covenant and followed Jeroboam. In God's sight he was an evil failure. Compare Luke 16:15.

16:25 To say he was worse than Jeroboam was to condemn him utterly.

16:30 Jeroboam was bad, Omri was worse, Ahab the worst of all. Why did God permit such kings to rule His people? He was justly giving them the rulers they deserved because of their own evil behavior. Is there not here a principle in God's dealings with the nations of earth? Usually does He not let come to power the kind of leaders and rulers that the people as a whole deserve? Sometimes, in mercy, He may give them better ones than they deserve, but never worse ones.

16:31 Jezebel was one of the most wicked women recorded in history (18:4,13,19; 19:2,3; 21:5-15,25). This marriage of Ahab was in contempt of God's law - Deut 7:1-5.

"Baal" - note at Jud 2:11.

16:32 2 Kings 10:21-27. We read of no temple he built for Jehovah the one true God.

16:33 "Grove" - or "Asherah pole" - note at Jud 3:7.

"Anger" - Num 25:3; Deut 4:25; Ps 90:7-11. Ahab made Baal worship the predominant religion of the northern kingdom.

16:34 Josh 6:26. Jericho had continued in existence as a village without walls and gates (Josh 18:21; Jud 1:16; 3:13; 2 Sam 10:5). Hiel decided to rebuild it as a city with walls and gates.

17 And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said to Ahab, "As the LORD God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there will be no dew or rain these years, except by my word."

2 And the word of the LORD came to him, saying, 3 "Go from here, and turn eastward, and hide yourself by the brook Kerith, that is east of the Jordan. 4 And it is to be like this: you will drink from the brook; and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there."

5 So he went and did according to the word of the LORD, for he went and stayed by the brook Kerith, that is east of the Jordan. 6 And the ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening; and he drank from the brook.

7 And after a while it happened that the brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land. 8 And the word of the LORD came to him, saying, 9 "Arise, go to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and stay there. See, I have commanded a widow woman there to provide for you." 10 So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, just then the widow woman was there gathering sticks. And he called to her and said, "Please bring me a little water in a jar, so that I can drink." 11 And as she was going to bring it, he called to her and said, "Please bring me a piece of bread in your hand."

12 And she said, "As the LORD your God lives, I do not have a loaf, but only a handful of flour in a barrel, and a little oil in a jug. And, look, I am gathering two sticks, so that I can go in and prepare it for myself and my son, so that we can eat it, and die."

13 And Elijah said to her, "Do not be afraid. Go and do as you have said, but with it make for me a little cake first, and bring it to me, and afterwards make for yourself and for your son. 14 For thus says the LORD God of Israel, 'The barrel of flour will not be exhausted, and the jug of oil will not fail, until the day that the LORD sends rain on the earth.'"

15 And she went and did according to the word of Elijah. And she, and he, and her household, ate for many days. 16 And the barrel of flour was not exhausted, and the jug of oil did not fail, in accordance with the word of the LORD which he spoke by Elijah.

17 And it came about after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick, and his sickness was so severe, that there was no breath left in him. 18 And she said to Elijah,

17:1 Deut 28:23,24; 1 Kings 18:1; Luke 4:25,26; Jam 5:17; Rev 11:6. Elijah was one of the greatest figures of the Old Testament. Moses and Elijah, representing the law and the prophets, appeared with the Lord Jesus on the mount of transfiguration (Matt 17:3; Luke 9:31). John the Baptist, the forerunner of the Lord Jesus, came in the spirit of Elijah (Matt 11:13,14; 17:11-13; Mark 9:11-13; Luke 1:17). And it seems that Elijah will appear again before the second coming of Christ (Mal 4:6). His name means "Jehovah is my God." His home was east of the Jordan river.

"Before whom I stand" – servants stood in the presence of a ruler to obey his orders. So Elijah remained in the presence of the heavenly King waiting for His word. He lived consciously in God's presence with an attitude of obedience, as ever believer today should do.

"No dew or rain" – because of the false worship of the people God was sending them drought and famine in judgment. Compare Lev 26:3,4,18,19; Deut 28:15,22-24; 2 Sam 21:1; 2 Kings 6:24,25. Baal, the god Israel was worshiping in the place of Jehovah, was thought to be the god who gave fertile fields and rain from heaven. The true God was proving to the people through Elijah that He Himself, Jehovah, had control of rain and fields and that Baal was powerless. Compare Ex 12:12.

17:3 "Hide" – his life was in danger from the murderous pair of Ahab and Jezebel.

17:4 "Ravens" – God supplied Elijah's needs in a supernatural way but used natural means. Observe God's sovereignty over creation, and how He may use any means He pleases to meet His peoples' needs. Compare Ex 16:4,13-18; 17:1-7. See 2 Cor 9:8; Phil 4:19.

17:7 "Dried up" – surely this tested Elijah's faith. We should learn, as he did, that if one source of supply dries up God will provide another for His servants (Ps 23:1). We should learn to trust God Himself and not the means God may use to help us.

17:9 "Zarephath" – a town between Tyre and Sidon on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. God sent Elijah far from his home, far from the ravens, and out of the territory ruled by Ahab, to a poor non-Israelite. See Luke 4:25,26.

"Commanded" – v. 4. God can move on human hearts also to fulfill His will and to meet the needs of His people, even without their knowing it.

17:10,11 Elijah recognized her as the one God had appointed to meet his needs.

17:12 To meet the needs of His servants God often passes by the rich and uses the poor. Compare 2 Cor 8:1-4.

17:13 Here was an opportunity for her to learn of the power of the miracle-working God of Israel, and she believed and experienced it (v 15). We all may have such opportunities. See Luke 6:38.

17:18 She thought, perhaps, that Elijah had discovered her past sin and had spoken of them to God. And she believed that the death of her son was a punishment for her

"What have I to do with you, O man of God? Have you come to me to call my sin to remembrance, and to kill my son?"

19 And he said to her, "Give me your son." And he took him from her bosom, and carried him up into the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed. 20 And he cried out to the LORD and said, "O LORD my God, have you also brought disaster on the widow with whom I am staying, by killing her son?" 21 And he stretched himself on the child three times, and cried out to the LORD and said, "O LORD my God, I pray you, let this child's soul come back into him."

22 And the LORD heard the voice of Elijah, and the soul of the child came back into him, and he revived. 23 And Elijah took the child, and brought him down from the room into the house and handed him to his mother, and Elijah said, "See, your son is living."

24 And the woman said to Elijah, "Now by this I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is truth."

18 And it came about after many days, that the word of the LORD came to Elijah in the third year, saying, "Go, appear to Ahab, and I will send rain on the earth." 2 And Elijah went to appear to Ahab.

And there was a severe famine in Samaria. 3 And Ahab called Obadiah, who was over his house. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly; 4 for it happened, when Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, that Obadiah took a hundred prophets and hid them by fifties in a cave, and fed them with bread and water.) 5 And Ahab said to Obadiah, "Go throughout the land, to all the springs of water and to all the streams. Perhaps we may find grass to keep the horses and mules alive, so sin. This was not true, as we can see from what follows.

17:20 Elijah was as puzzled as the widow. God's servants often find themselves in puzzling circumstances. Compare 2 Cor 4:8.

17:22 This is the first recorded raising of the dead in the Bible. And it happened, not in Israel, not among believers in Judah, but to the son of a poor widow of another nation. Such is God's grace.

17:24 In faith this woman leaped ahead of the people of Israel who had rejected both Elijah and God who spoke through him.

18:1 "I will send rain" – there had been no repentance in Israel, but God in sovereign grace, decided to send rain anyway, so that the land and the nation would not be totally destroyed.

18:2 Observe Elijah's unquestioning obedience in everything (17:5,10; 18:36; 19:15,19). A possibility of danger in meeting Ahab did not deter him. Truly he stood as a servant in the presence of God (17:1).

that we do not lose all the animals." 6 So they divided the land between them to survey it; Ahab went one way by himself, and Obadiah went another way by himself.

7 And as Obadiah was on the way, suddenly Elijah met him, and Obadiah knew him and prostrated himself and said, "Are you my master Elijah?"

8 And he answered him, "I am. Go, tell your master, 'Look, Elijah is here.'"

9 And he said, "What sin have I done, that you would deliver your servant into the hands of Ahab to kill me? 10 As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my master has not sent to seek you; and when they said, 'He is not there', he made that kingdom and nation swear that they could not find you. 11 And now you say, 'Go, tell your master, Look, Elijah is here.' 12 And it will happen, as soon as I have gone from you, that the Spirit of the LORD will carry you I don't know where; and so when I go and tell Ahab, and he cannot find you, he will kill me. But I your servant have feared the LORD from my youth. 13 Was it not told my master what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid a hundred of the LORD's prophets by fifties in a cave, and fed them with bread and water? 14 And now you say, 'Go, tell your master, Look, Elijah is here'; and he will kill me."

15 And Elijah said, "As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely appear to him today."

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab and told him, and Ahab went to meet Elijah. 17 And it came about, when Ahab saw Elijah, that Ahab said to him, "Are you the one who is troubling Israel?"

18 And he answered, "I have not troubled Israel, but you, and your father's house, in that you have forsaken the commandments of the LORD, 18:3 "Obadiah" – not the prophet of the same name, but a steward in Ahab's house.

18:4 "Jezebel" – 16:31.

"Hid them" – God sometimes may make use of individuals in high positions to preserve His people. Compare Est 4:14.

18:12 2 Kings 2:16; Ezek 3:12,14; Acts 8:39.

18:13 "Hundred" – there were groups of prophets then as in Samuel's day (1 Sam 10:5,10). See 1 Kings 20:35; 2 Kings 2:7,15.

18:15 "LORD of hosts" – note at 1 Sam 1:3.

18:17 "One who is troubling Israel" – it was Ahab who was the real troubler of Israel. God sent Elijah to help preserve Israel in spite of men like Ahab. The great troublemakers of mankind are sinful men, sinful leaders, not those who rebuke sin and demand repentance. Compare Josh 7:24-26; Acts 17:6; 24:5. Compare Ahab's attitude, when faced with famine, with David's attitude (2 Sam 21:1).

18:18 "Baal" – 16:30-33. Note on Baal at Jud 2:11.

and have followed the Baals. 19 Now therefore send and gather in my presence at Mount Carmel all Israel, and the four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal and the four hundred prophets of the groves who eat at Jezebel's table."

20 So Ahab sent to all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together at mount Carmel. 21 And Elijah came to all the people, and said, "How long will you limp between two opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him, but if Baal, then follow him."

And the people did not answer him a word.

22 Then Elijah said to the people, "I, I alone, remain a prophet of the LORD, but Baal's prophets are four hundred and fifty men. 23 Therefore let them give us two bulls; and let them choose one bull for themselves, and cut it in pieces and lay it on wood, and put no fire under it. And I will prepare the other bull and lay it on wood, and put no fire under it. 24 And you call on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the LORD; and the God who answers by fire, let him be God."

And all the people answered and said, "It is well spoken."

25 And Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, "You choose one bull for yourselves, and prepare it first, for there are many of you; and call on the name of your gods. But do not put any fire under it."

18:19 "Carmel"— a long flat-topped range of high hills running to the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. "Of the groves" — Asherah. Note at Jud 3:7.

"Table" — Jezebel was using part of the wealth of Israel, the people of God to provide for these false prophets of a false god. Note on false prophets at Gen 20:11; Deut 13:1; 18:20; Jer 14:14.

18:20 Ahab was willing to accept the challenge. After all, it seemed that the odds were 850 to 1 against Elijah. For a similar contest see note at Ex 7:11.

18:21 Ex 32:26; Josh 24:15; 2 Kings 17:41; Matt 6:24. Men must decide what is true and what they will follow. Many people consider it broad-minded and tolerant to try to accept every outlook on life as legitimate or good. And some like to think that all religions are good, and that all gods are one. Elijah and the God of the Bible, the only true and living God, will have no part in such thinking. They knew that to worship Baal was to reject the true God, to follow the true God meant to reject Baal. Israel could not succeed in its attempt to have both. So it is now. Those who want to worship and serve the God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ must reject all other gods. See also Josh 24:14,15; 2 Kings 17:32,33; Isa 42:8. 18:22 19:10,14. Elijah felt how alone he was. Compare Ps 12:1. His meaning is that he was the only one to make a public stand to fight against false religion. 18:24 "The God who answers by fire" in other

26 And they took the bull which was given them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning to noon, saying, "O Baal, answer us!" But there was no voice or anyone who answered. And they leaped on the altar which was made.

27 And at noon it came about that Elijah mocked them and said, "Call with a loud voice, for he is a god! Either he is conversing, or is pursuing someone, or is on a journey. Or perhaps he is asleep and must be awakened!" 28 And they called out with a loud voice, and cut themselves according to their custom with knives and lances until the blood gushed out on them. 29 And it came about, when noon was past, and they had prophesied until the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that there was no voice, or anyone to answer, or anyone who paid attention.

30 And Elijah said to all the people, "Come near to me." And all the people came near to him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that had been torn down. 31 And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD came, saying, "Your name will be Israel." 32 And with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD, and he made a trench around the altar, large enough to hold two measures of seed. 33 And he put the words, let the true God reveal Himself by a miracle. Elijah knew that the LORD (Jehovah) could do this (Lev 9:24), and that Baal could not. The people could see that the challenge was a perfectly fair test. Note on fire as a symbol for God at Ex 3:2.

18:26 "Answered" — Baal did not answer because he could not. He was like all the gods of men (Ps 96:5; 115:4-7; Isa 41:22-24; 44:6,15-26; Hab 2:18-20).

"Leaped" — trying to arouse their deity to action.

18:27 "Mocked" — how bold, how confident in God was Elijah!

18:28 "Blood gushed" — a desperate attempt to get their god to respond.

18:29 "Prophesied" — here means shouting words under the influence of evil spirits or in the heat of their own spirits. See notes at Num 11:25; Gen 20:7; etc.

"Evening sacrifice" — Ex 29:38-41.

"Attention" — it is tragic and pathetic in the extreme that men will make such efforts to get the attention of gods who can never hear them, when they could call to the true God, the Creator, who answers prayer (Ps 65:2).

18:30 "That had been torn down" — people had expressed contempt for the worship of the true God.

18:31 Gen 32:28; 35:10.

18:32 "Altar" — he wanted everyone to know that his life and ministry was related to Jehovah the God of Israel.

18:33 This was to show the undeniable

wood in order, and cut the bull in pieces and laid it on the wood, and said, "Fill four barrels with water, and pour it on the burnt sacrifice and on the wood."

34 And he said, "Do it a second time." And they did it a second time. And he said, "Do it a third time." And they did it a third time. 35 And the water ran around the altar; and he also filled the trench with water.

36 And it came about at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near, and said, "LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, let it be known today that you are God in Israel, and that I am your servant, and that I have done all these things at your word. 37 Answer me, O LORD, answer me, so that this people may know that you are the LORD God, and that you have turned their heart back again."

38 Then the fire of the LORD fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood and the stones and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces, and said, "The LORD, he is the God! The LORD, he is the God!"

40 And Elijah said to them, "Seize the prophets of Baal! Don't let one of them escape!" And they seized them, and Elijah brought them down to the brook Kishon and killed them there.

41 And Elijah said to Ahab, "Go up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain."

genuineness of the miracle which followed. 18:36 Contrast Elijah's brief believing prayer with the long frantic praying of the false prophets. See Matt 6:7,8.

"LORD God of Abraham" - Ex 4:5; etc, the covenant God of Israel.

18:37 Observe the object Elijah had in mind - he did not want to put on a spectacular show, or call attention to himself, or gain any kind of personal benefit. His desire was that people might know who the true God is. This most important matter is everywhere emphasized in the Bible - Ex 9:16; Josh 4:24; etc. 18:38 Verse 24. Observe the willingness of God to reveal Himself when there is obedience and believing prayer. Compare John 14:21,23.

18:39 Verses 21,24,37. The object of this contest (v 37) was achieved. But the results were not permanent. Before long the people and their rulers forsook God again. See 2 Kings 17:7-17.

18:40 "Killed them" - this was in accordance with God's law for the nation (Deut 13:5, 13-18; 18:20). It was a just punishment on men who led God's people into the wickedness of false worship.

18:41 "Sound of abundance of rain" - there was as yet no cloud. This was the language of faith (17:1).

18:42 "Ahab went up" - the king did nothing

42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel, and threw himself down on the ground, and put his face between his knees, 43 and said to his servant, "Go up now. Look toward the sea." And he went up and looked, and said, "There is nothing." And seven times he said, "Go back."

44 And it came about at the seventh time that he said, "Look, a little cloud is rising from the sea, like a man's hand."

And he said, "Go up, say to Ahab, 'Prepare your chariot, and go down, so that the rain does not stop you.'"

45 And in the meantime it came about that the sky was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab rode and went to Jezreel. 46 And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah, and he tucked up his robe and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

19 And Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and the whole account of how he had killed all the prophets with the sword. 2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, "So let the gods do harm to me, and more also, if I do not make your life like the life of one of them by tomorrow about this time."

3 And when he saw that, he arose and went for his life, and came to Beersheba, which belonged to Judah, and left his servant there. 4 But he himself to prevent the slaughter of Baal's prophets. Now he departs at Elijah's word. It seems he was temporarily overwhelmed by the events he had seen. Overwhelmed, but not repentant, as we know from what follows. Miracles by themselves do not produce repentance, do not change man's sinful heart. This is abundantly clear from the ministry of the Lord Jesus on earth. See notes at Matt 8:1-4; Luke 16:31; John 2:11.

18:43 "Seven times" - see Elijah's perseverance in prayer. Compare Luke 11:5-10; 18:1-8.

18:45 See Jam 5:16-18; Mark 11:22-25.

18:46 "Hand of the LORD" - Elijah was given strength beyond his own and was able to outrun the chariot of the king. Compare Isa 40:29-31; Col 1:29.

19:1 "Jezebel" - 16:31. "Killed" - 18:40.

19:3 "Went for his life" - Elijah at times revealed great courage, as we know from chapter 18. Now he is probably suffering a complete emotional letdown (as often happens after a great victory). Anyone may experience fear in certain circumstances, and Elijah was a man with the same emotions as other men (Jam 3:17). God's servants may be bold and fearless in God, weak and fearful in themselves (for example, compare Matt 26:69-74; Acts 4:8-13).

19:4 Num 11:15; Jonah 4:3,8. See notes on depression at psalm 42.

went a day's journey into the desert, and came to a juniper tree and sat down under it, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, "It is enough. Now, O LORD, take away my life, for I am not better than my fathers."

5 And as he lay down and slept under the juniper tree, suddenly an angel touched him, and said to him, "Arise and eat."

6 And he looked, and there appeared a cake baked on the coals, and a jar of water at his head. And he ate and drank and lay down again.

7 And the angel of the LORD came again a second time and touched him, and said, "Arise and eat, because the journey is too great for you."

8 And he arose and ate and drank, and in the strength of that food travelled forty days and forty nights to Horeb, the mountain of God. 9 And he came there to a cave, and spent the night there. And suddenly the word of the LORD came to him and said to him, "What are you doing here, Elijah?"

10 And he said, "I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hosts, for the children of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. And I, I alone, am left; and they seek to take my life."

11 And he said, "Go out and stand on the mountain before the LORD." And suddenly the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind split the mountains, and broke the rocks in pieces before the LORD. But the LORD was not in the wind. And after the wind an earthquake came, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. 12 And after the earthquake a fire appeared, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire came a still small voice. 13 And it came about, when Elijah heard it, that he covered his face in his cloak and went out and stood in the entrance of the cave.

And then a voice came to him and said, "What are you doing here, Elijah?"

14 And he said, "I have been very jealous for the LORD God of hosts, because the children of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword. And I, I alone, am left; and they seek to take my life."

15 And the LORD said to him, "Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damascus, and when you arrive, anoint Hazael to be king over Syria. 16 And you shall anoint Jehu, the son of Nimshi, to be king over Israel, and you shall anoint Elisha, the son of Shaphat, of Abel-Meholah to be prophet in your place. 17 And it will come about that the one who escapes the sword of Hazael Jehu will kill, and the one who escapes from the sword of Jehu Elisha will kill. 18 Yet I have left seven thousand for myself in Israel, all the knees which have not bowed to Baal, and every mouth which has not kissed him."

19 So he left there and found Elisha, the son of

"Not better" – perhaps God permitted this experience that Elijah might learn this. Had he been thinking he was better than others? This temptation may come to God's servants. They may begin to think that God has used them in a great way because they are better than other men. They should not give in to this temptation. See Rom 3:9,10; Luke 18:9; Phil 2:3.

19:5 "Angel" – note at Gen 16:7; etc.

19:6 This shows God's tender care for His servant. Compare 17:4,9. See Ps 23:1.

19:7 "Angel of the LORD" – Gen 16:7. The Son of God came to Elijah.

"Journey" – God knew the journey Elijah planned, but He had not told him to make it. Elijah, even while running away from danger, without God's orders, is still under God's gracious care. This is grace. Jonah's history gives a similar (but not exact) case. 19:8 "Horeb" – Mount Sinai (Ex 3:1,12; 19:1-3). It is about 400 kilometers south of Beersheba.

19:9 "What are you doing here" – in other words, what are you seeking, Elijah? Are you merely running away from trouble and danger?

19:10 Elijah is still in the pit of depression. He feels his ministry has come to nothing, and that only death awaits him.

"I alone" – 18:22.

19:11,12 Sometimes God did come to His people in spectacular ways, in windstorm, quake and fire (18:38; Ex 19:16-19; Job 38:1; Ps 18:6-15; Isa 29:6). But Elijah had already seen enough of the spectacular. He needed to find calm and peace. Perhaps he needed to understand better that God can accomplish His purposes in quiet and gentle ways also. Compare Isa 42:1-4. God does not need to speak to people in a voice of thunder, with the power of miraculous activity.

19:14 Apparently Elijah did not understand what God was trying to teach him. Do we?

19:15,16 Elijah did not carry out these commands as far as we know. Elisha went to Hazael (2 Kings 8:8-15), and sent another to anoint Jehu (2 Kings 9:1-10). Elijah did seek out Elisha but did not, it seems, literally anoint him. The mention of Elisha here indicates that Elijah's ministry was coming to an end. He had been given his work and had almost finished it. Now he must appoint his successor. Compare Moses and Joshua (Deut 31:1,2,7,8).

19:17 God was going to send judgment on Israel.

19:18 "Seven thousand" – Elijah was not as alone as he thought (v 14). God always has a few people who remain faithful to Him, however evil the state of society may be (Isa 1:9; Rom 11:4,5; Matt 16:18). This is one of the great lessons of church history.

19:19 "Plowing" – often God calls His servants

Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen in front of him, and he with the twelfth; and Elijah passed by him and threw his mantle on him. 20 And he left the oxen and ran after Elijah, and said, "Please let me kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you."

And he said to him, "Go back again, for what have I done to you?"

21 And he went back from him, and took a yoke of oxen and slaughtered them, and boiled their flesh with the implements of the oxen, and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he arose and went after Elijah, and ministered to him.

20 And Ben-Hadad, the king of Syria, gathered all his army together, and there were thirty-two kings with him, and horses and chariots; and he went up and besieged Samaria and made war against it. 2 And he sent messengers to Ahab, king of Israel, into the city, and said to him, "Thus says Ben-hadad: 3 Your silver and your gold are mine. Also your most beautiful wives and children are mine."

4 And the king of Israel answered and said, "My lord, O king, in accordance with your word, I am yours, and all that I have."

5 And the messengers came again and said, "Thus speaks Ben-Hadad, saying, I have sent men to you, saying, 'You must hand over to me your silver and your gold and your wives and your children.' 6 So I will send my servants to you tomorrow about this time, and they will search your house, and the houses of your servants; and it shall be that whatever is desirable in your eyes, they will lay hands on it and take it away."

7 Then the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, "Please observe and see how this man is looking for trouble; for he sent men to me for my wives and for my children, and for my silver and for my gold; and I did not refuse him."

8 And all the elders and all the people said to him, "Do not listen to him or agree."

9 Therefore he said to the messengers of Ben-Hadad, "Tell my lord the king, All that you sent when they are engaged in the simple, common tasks of life (Matt 4:8; 9:9).

"Mantle" - a mantle is a long, loose, sleeveless cloak. Throwing his mantle on Elisha was possibly Elijah's way of anointing him.

19:20 "Go back" - Elijah had not asked Elisha to come with him.

19:21 Elisha was eager for God's service, even lowly service (2 Kings 3:11). He burned his bridges behind him - destroyed his means of livelihood, and went forth for God. Compare Mark 1:16-20.

20:1 "Ben-Hadad"-15:9,10,18-20,33.

20:4 Ahab saw no hope of victory.

for to your servant at first I will do, but this thing I am not able to do." And the messengers departed and brought word back to him.

10 And Ben-Hadad sent to him, and said, "The gods do harm to me, and more also, if the dust of Samaria is enough for handfuls for all the people who follow me."

11 And the king of Israel answered and said, "Tell him, 'The one who puts on his armour should not boast like the one who takes it off.'"

12 And it came about, when Ben-Hadad heard this message, as he was drinking, he and the kings in the tents, that he said to his servants, "Set yourselves in array." And they set themselves in array against the city.

13 And then a prophet came to Ahab, king of Israel, saying, "Thus says the LORD: 'Have you seen all this great multitude? Look, I will deliver it into your hands today, and you will know that I am the LORD.'"

14 And Ahab said, "By whom?"

And he said, "Thus says the LORD, 'By the young men of the rulers of the provinces.'"

Then he said, "Who should begin the battle?"

And he answered, "You."

15 Then he counted the young men of the rulers of the provinces, and they were two hundred and thirty-two. And after them he counted all the people, all the children of Israel. There were seven thousand. 16 And they went out at noon. But Ben-Hadad was drinking himself drunk in the tents, he and the kings, the thirty-two kings who were helping him. 17 And the young men of the rulers of the provinces went out first. And Ben-Hadad sent out observers, and they told him, saying, "Men have come out of Samaria."

18 And he said, "If they have come out for peace, take them alive; or if they have come out for war, take them alive."

19 So these young men of the rulers of the provinces came out of the city, with the army which followed them. 20 And each one of them killed his man; and the Syrians fled, and Israel pursued them; and Ben-Hadad, the king of Syria, escaped on a 20:6 A further demand which would have meant a complete surrender of the city.

20:11 Prov 27:1.

20:13 "Thus says the LORD" - we see here the greatness of God's grace in sending a prophet with a message of victory to an evil ruler like Ahab. This does not mean that God approved of Ahab's life and conduct. It indicates that the time for the destruction of Samaria had not yet come.

"You will know" - 18:37.

20:15 Ahab was willing to follow God's instructions if it meant victory in battle, but not if it required him to repent and change his way of living.

horse with the horsemen. 21 And the king of Israel went out, and attacked the horses and chariots and killed the Syrians in a great slaughter.

22 And the prophet came to the king of Israel, and said to him, "Go, strengthen yourself, and observe and watch what you do; for at the turn of the year the king of Syria will come up against you."

23 And the servants of the king of Syria said to him, "Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they were stronger than we. But let us fight against them on the plain, and surely we will be stronger than they. 24 And do this thing: remove each one of the kings from his position, and put captains in their place, 25 and recruit an army for yourself, like the army that you lost, horse for horse, and chariot for chariot; and we will fight against them in the plain, and surely we will be stronger than they." And he listened to their voice and did so.

26 And this occurred at the turn of the year: Ben-Hadad recruited the Syrians, and went up to Aphek to fight against Israel. 27 And the children of Israel were counted, and were all present, and went against them, and the children of Israel camped before them like two little flocks of young goats; but the Syrians filled the countryside.

28 And a man of God came and spoke to the king of Israel, and said, "Thus says the LORD, 'Because the Syrians have said, The LORD is God of the hills, but he is not God of the valleys, therefore I will deliver all this great multitude into your hands, and you will know that I am the LORD.'"

29 And they camped opposite one another seven days. And it happened that on the seventh day the battle was joined, and the children of Israel killed a hundred thousand foot soldiers of the Syrians in one day. 30 But the rest fled to Aphek, into the city, and there a wall fell on twenty-seven thousand of the men who were left. And Ben-Hadad fled and came into the city, into an inner room.

31 And his servants said to him, "Look now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful kings. Please let us wrap sackcloth around our waists, and ropes on our heads, and go out to the king of Israel. Perhaps he will save your life."

32 So they wrapped sackcloth around their waists, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Israel and said, "Your servant Ben-Hadad says, 'Please let me live.'"

And he said, "Is he still alive? He is my brother."

33 Now the men were watching carefully whether any sign would come from him, and quickly caught it, and they said, "Your brother Ben-Hadad."

Then he said, "Go, bring him." Then Ben-Hadad came out to him; and he had him come up into the chariot.

34 And Ben-Hadad said to him, "I will give back the cities which my father took from your father. And you can make market streets for yourself in Damascus, as my father made in Samaria."

Then Ahab said, "I will send you away with this treaty." So he made a treaty with him, and sent him away.

35 And a certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his neighbour at the word of the LORD, "Please strike me." And the man refused to strike him.

36 Then he said to him, "Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, look, as soon as you have gone away from me, a lion will kill you." And as soon as he went away from him, a lion found him and killed him.

37 Then he found another man and said, "Please strike me." And the man struck him, striking and wounding him. 38 So the prophet left and waited for the king by the road, and disguised himself with ashes on his face. 39 And when the king passed by, he called out to the king and said, "Your servant went out into the middle of the battle, and, see, a man turned aside and brought a man to me and said, 'Guard this man. If for any reason he is missing, then it will be your life for his life, or else you must pay a talent of silver.' 40 And as your 20:22 Ahab was given a year to prepare, also to repent and seek God if he would. Alas, he did not.

20:23 "Hills" – this was a superstitious idea that various gods had control of various areas of land. Little did they know that Israel's God was the possessor of heaven and earth.

20:27 Compare Josh 11:1-5; Jud 6:3-5; 1 Sam 13:5.

20:28 "Man of God" – vs 13,23.

"You will know" – one of God's purposes revealed in His acts is that men might know who He is. This is seen throughout the Bible—Ex 6:7; 9:16; etc.

20:31 "Sackcloth" – a sign of mourning, a symbol of disaster.

20:32 "Your servant" – words indicating submission, surrender.

20:34 Ahab had no understanding of God's Word, or the reason why God had given him victory. For his own ends he entered into a covenant with the evil Ben-Hadad, an alliance which was to cause the people of Israel further suffering.

20:35 "Sons of the prophets" – means a community of prophets (2 Kings 2:3,5,7,15; 4:1; etc).

20:36 Presumably it was clear to both men that God was speaking and that the one was consciously disobedient. Compare 13:23,24.

20:39 "Talent" – about 34 kilograms.

"Or else" – an ordinary soldier could not pay 34 kilograms of silver, and so must sufservant was busy here and there, the prisoner disappeared."

And the king of Israel said to him, "So shall your judgment be. You yourself have decided it."

41 And he quickly took the ashes from his face, and the king of Israel recognized him, that he was one of the prophets. 42 And he said to him, "Thus says the LORD, 'Because you have let a man whom I had appointed to utter destruction go out of your hand, your life will go for his life, and your people for his people.'" 43 And the king of Israel went to his house sullen and angry, and came to Samaria.

21 And this occurred after these things: Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard which was in Jezreel, close to the palace of Ahab, king of Samaria. 2 And for it I will give to you a better vineyard than it.

3 And Naboth said to Ahab, "The LORD forbid me that I should give the inheritance of my fathers to you."

4 And Ahab came into his house sullen and angry because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken to him, because he had said, "I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers." And he lay down on his bed and turned his face away, and would not eat food.

5 But his wife Jezebel came to him and said to him, "Why is your spirit so sad that you aren't eating any food?"

6 And he said to her, "Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite and said to him, 'Give me your vineyard for money. Or, if it pleases you, I will give you another vineyard for it.' And he answered, 'I will not give you my vineyard.'"

7 And his wife Jezebel said to him, "Do you now rule over Israel? Get up and eat food, and let your heart be merry. I will give you the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite."

8 So she wrote letters in Ahab's name and sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters to the elders and to the nobles who lived in Naboth's city with him. 9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, "Proclaim a fast, and set Naboth at the front of the people, 10 And set two men, scoundrels, before him, to testify against him, saying, 'You cursed God and the king.' And then take him out and stone him, so that he dies."

11 And the men of his city, the elders and the nobles who were residents of his city, did as Jezebel had sent orders to them, and as it was written in the letters which she had sent to them. 12 They proclaimed a fast, and set Naboth at the front of the people. 13 And two men came in, scoundrels, and sat in front of him, and the scoundrels testified against him, against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, "Naboth cursed God and the king." Then they took him out of the city, and pelted him with stones; and he died. 14 Then they sent word to Jezebel, saying, "Naboth has been stoned, and is dead."

15 And it came about, when Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned and was dead, that Jezebel said to Ahab, "Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give you for money; for Naboth is not alive, but dead." 16 And this happened when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead: Ahab got up to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

fer the sentence of death. In giving this verdict Ahab condemned himself. Compare 2 Sam 12:5-7.

20:42 God had delivered Ben-Hadad to Ahab, not that he might make a treaty with him, but that he might destroy an enemy of Israel. Ahab's act appears kind and merciful, but actually was merely weakness, and an attempt to gain personal advantage. And he did not seek God about it. God knows when to show mercy, and when to severely punish.

21:1 The capital of the northern kingdom was the city of Samaria, but Ahab also maintained a residence at Jezreel, about forty kilometers from Samaria.

21:3 Lev 25:23; Num 36:7.

21:4 By coveting Naboth's vineyard Ahab was breaking one of the most important of God's commandments - Ex 20:17. His coveting led on to murder. Compare Jam 4:1,2. On coveting see Ps 119:36; Isa 57:17; Jer 6:13; Mark 7:22,23; Luke 12:15; Rom 1:29; Eph 5:3; Col 3:5; 1 Thess 2:5; 1 Tim 6:6,7; Heb 13:5; 2 Pet 2:3.

"Would not eat" - Ahab was like a spoiled child who cannot get what he wants.

21:7 "Jezebel" - note at 16:31. Compared to Jezebel Ahab, evil as he was, appears almost righteous.

21:9 "Proclaim a fast" - days of fasting were called in times of disaster to seek God's face for its cause and to plead for His mercy. Compare Jud 20:26,27; 2 Chron 20:2-4. Jezebel was using religion to put a man to death and gain her own ends. She was not the last to do such things.

21:10 "Scoundrels" - there are always some willing to lie to destroy others. See Matt 26:59-61.

"So that he dies" - the penalty for cursing God (Lev 24:15,16). Evidently, Naboth's sons were killed at the same time (2 Kings 9:26). They wished to be sure no heir was left to claim the property. See the awful destructive power of covetousness, of the love of property, of the desire for forbidden things. What murders it has been guilty of! What disasters it has caused in the world! What multitudes it has led to everlasting punishment!

17 And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 18 "Arise, go down to meet Ahab, king of Israel, who is in Samaria. See, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, where he has gone down to possess it. 19 And you shall speak to him, saying, 'Thus says the LORD, Have you killed, and also taken possession?' And you shall speak to him, saying, 'Thus says the LORD, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth dogs will lick your blood, even yours.'"

20 And Ahab said to Elijah, "Have you found me, O my enemy?"

And he answered, "I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do evil in the sight of the LORD. 21 Look, I will bring disaster on you, and will sweep away your descendants, and will cut off from Ahab every male, both slave and free in Israel, 22 and will make your house like the house of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha, the son of Ahijah, because of the provocation with which you have provoked me to anger, and caused Israel to sin.

23 "And the LORD has spoken about Jezebel also, saying, 'The dogs will eat Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel. 24 The one belonging to Ahab who dies in the city the dogs will eat, and the one who dies in the field the birds of the air will eat.'"

25 But there was no one like Ahab, who sold himself to commit wickedness in the sight of the LORD, whom his wife Jezebel stirred up. 26 And he acted very abominably in following idols, in all things just like the Amorites did, whom the LORD drove out before the children of Israel.

27 And it came about, when Ahab heard those words, that he tore his clothes, and put sackcloth on his body and fasted and lay in sackcloth, and walked around slowly.

28 And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 29 "Do you see how Ahab is humbling himself before me? Because he is humbling himself before me, I will not bring the disaster in his days, but in his son's days I will bring the disaster on his house."

22 And they continued for three years without war between Syria and Israel. 2 And it came about in the third year that Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, came down to the king of Israel. 3 And the king of Israel said to his servants, "Do you know that Ramoth in Gilead is ours, and we are quiet and not taking it out of the hand of the king of Syria?"

4 And he said to Jehoshaphat, "Will you go with me to fight at Ramoth Gilead?"

And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses." 5 And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Please consult the word of the LORD today."

6 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets

21:17 Ps 9:12; Num 31:3; Deut 32:41,42. Naboth was dead, but God was not.

21:18 Heb 4:13.

21:19 Ahab did not kill Naboth with his own hand, but he was, nevertheless, guilty of murder. Compare 2 Sam 12:9. If we go along with what others do we share their guilt.

21:20 "O my enemy" – Ahab counted as enemies those who told him the truth. See 22:8. Compare 2 Sam 12:13.

"Sold yourself" – when men rush after the things of this world they may think they are receiving some gain, but actually they are selling themselves. And to buy themselves back will be beyond their power. So Mark 8:36,37.

21:21,22 14:10,11; 16:3,4. None of these kings learned proper lessons from the history of their predecessors.

21:23 2 Kings 9:10,30-37.

21:24 14:11; 16:4.

21:25 16:30-33; 21:20. Bad as Ahab was, Jezebel was worse.

21:26 "Amorites" – Gen 15:16; Lev 18:25-30; Josh 24:15.

21:27 Ahab displayed the outward signs of mourning and repentance.

21:29 Ahab's repentance was shallow, as can be seen from events which follow, yet God took notice of it. He is a God of great grace, and would much rather show mercy than punish (Ex 34:6,7; Ps 86:15; Isa 30:18; 55:7; Ezek 18:31,32). In this case He delayed the punishment but could not, in justice, cancel it. 22:1-35 2 Chron 18:1-34.

22:2 Jehoshaphat was allied with Ahab king of Israel by marriage (2 Chron 18:1). Ahab's daughter, Athaliah, married Jehoram, son of Jehoshaphat. The results of this were very grave for the whole nation of Judah. The wicked influence of the house of Ahab permeated Judah through Athaliah. See 2 Kings 8:16-18; 2 Chron 22:1-3,10. So because of the foolishness of a good man (Jehoshaphat – v 43), great evil came to God's people. Wrong marriage alliances can bring much harm to the people of God. So God has given us 2 Cor 6:14-18.

22:4 Jehoshaphat was a godly man (v 43), but he made a very bad mistake in allying himself with the evil Ahab, and God's anger came on him because of it. See 2 Chron 19:1-3.

22:5 "Word of the LORD" – v 43. But he did not seek God's counsel when he married off his son to Ahab's daughter. And he did not pay any attention to the counsel that God sent through Micaiah in the following verses. What use is there in asking for God's counsel if there is no determination to follow it?

22:6 "Prophets" – in that apostate system of religion (see 12:28-33) there were those who professed to speak in God's name. These called by Ahab were men-pleasers who together, about four hundred men, and said to them, "Should I go against Ramoth-Gilead to battle, or should I refrain?"

And they said, "Go up, for the LORD will deliver it into the hands of the king."

7 And Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not here a prophet of the LORD besides, that we might consult him?"

8 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is yet one man, Micaiah, the son of Imlah, by whom we can consult the LORD. But I hate him, because he does not prophesy good concerning me, but disaster."

And Jehoshaphat said, "May the king not say so."

9 Then the king of Israel called an officer and said, "Bring here Micaiah the son of Imlah, quickly."

10 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, having put on their robes, each sat on his throne at the threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them. 11 And Zedekiah, the son of Kenaanah, had made iron horns for himself, and he said, "Thus says the LORD, 'With these you will gore the Syrians, until you make an end of them.'"

13 And the messenger who had gone to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, "Look now, the messages of the prophets with one accord declare good to the king. Please let your message be like one of their messages, and speak what is good."

14 And Micaiah said, "As the LORD lives, I will speak just what the LORD says to me."

15 So he came to the king. And the king said to him, "Micaiah, should we go against Ramoth-Gilead to battle, or should we refrain?"

And he answered him, "Go, and prosper, for the LORD will deliver it into the hands of the king."

16 And the king said to him, "How many times shall I make you swear to tell me nothing but what is true in the name of the LORD?"

17 And he said, "I saw all Israel scattered on the hills, like sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, 'These have no master. Let each one of them return to his house in peace.'"

18 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Did I not tell you that he would prophesy no good concerning me, but disaster?"

19 And Micaiah said, "Hear, therefore, the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him at his right hand and at his left. 20 And the LORD said, 'Who will entice Ahab, so that he goes up and falls at Ramoth-Gilead?' And one said this, and another said that. 21 And a spirit came forward and stood before the LORD, and said, 'I will entice him.' 22 And the LORD said to him, 'How?' And he said, 'I will go out and I will be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.' And he said, 'You will entice him, and also succeed. Go and do so.'

23 "Now therefore, look, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouths of all these your prophets, and the LORD has spoken disaster concerning you."

24 But Zedekiah, the son of Kenaanah, went near, and struck Micaiah on the cheek, and said, "Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?"

spoke what they thought Ahab wanted to hear. There are many such people in the world today. Compare Gal 1:10; 2 Tim 4:1-3; Isa 30:10. On false prophets see Deut 18:10; Jer 14:14.

22:7 Jehoshaphat was uneasy about these prophets (and he did well to be), and wanted a more sure word.

22:8 "I hate him" - see 18:17; 21:20. Ahab did not want the truth; he wanted messages which pleased him. This is the way men in general fall into great spiritual deception and perish in their sins. Compare 2 Thess 2:9-12.

22:9 "Micaiah" - except for this one incident (which is repeated in 2 Chron 18:7-27) nothing else is recorded about this remarkable man. There are many great servants of God in history about whom we now know nothing.

22:11,12 These were all lies spoken in the name of God. Let us beware of such. This is how Satan ensnares men, keeps them in bondage and destroys them (John 8:44).

22:13 Did they think God's true prophets could invent their own messages? How little are God's true servants understood!

22:14 This is the only business of a true prophet.

22:15 Micaiah spoke in a mocking way which Ahab immediately saw (v 16).

22:16 Verse 8. Ahab spoke so because of the presence of Jehoshaphat.

22:17 Ahab said he wanted the truth, though he did not (see another example of this in Jeremiah chapters 42 and 43. Men frequently deceive themselves in a similar manner). In this case Micaiah gave the truth to him straight.

22:19-23 God is sovereign and even evil spirits can operate only within the bounds of His will and wise purposes (1 Chron 21:1; Job 1:6; Matt 8:28-32; etc). God had decided to bring disaster on Ahab and this was the method He chose. When individuals love to hear lies and reject the truth, God will permit others to tell them the lies they want to hear. This is God acting in perfect justice. See Ps 18:25,26. Compare Jud 9:23; 1 Sam 16:14; Ezek 14:9; 2 Thess 2:11.

22:24 "From me" - no doubt many people think they have the Spirit of God when they do not.

25 And Micaiah said, "Look, you will see in that day, when you go into an inner room to hide yourself."

26 And the king of Israel said, "Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon, the governor of the city, and to Joash, the king's son, 27 and say, 'Thus says the king: put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I come in peace.'"

28 And Micaiah said, "If you return at all in peace, the LORD has not spoken by me." And he said, "Listen, O people, every one of you."

29 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, went up to Ramoth-Gilead. 30 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will disguise myself and enter the battle, but you put on your robes." And the king of Israel disguised himself and went into the battle.

31 But the king of Syria commanded his thirty-two captains who had charge of his chariots, saying, "Do not fight with either small or great, but only with the king of Israel." 32 And it happened that when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they said, "Surely it is the king of Israel!"; and they turned aside to fight against him, and Jehoshaphat cried out. 33 And it came about, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him.

34 And a certain man drew a bow at random, and hit the king of Israel between the joints of the armour. Therefore he said to the driver of his chariot, "Turn around and take me out of the battle, for I am wounded." 35 And the battle increased that day, and the king was propped up in his chariot facing the Syrians, and at evening he died. And the blood ran out of the wound into the middle of the chariot. 36 And about sunset a cry went throughout the army, saying, "Every man to his city, and every man to his own country."

37 So the king died and was brought to Samaria,

22:25 Micaiah indicates that Zedekiah will try to hide from the danger that would come to him.

22:27 "Prison" – this is Micaiah's reward for telling the truth. This is a not uncommon suffering of God's true servants (2 Chron 16:10; Jer 20:2; 37:15; Matt 14:3; Acts 12:3,4; 16:22-24; Heb 11:35-38).

22:28 Deut 18:21,22.

22:29 Verses 3,4.

22:30 Ahab, it appears, was worried by Micaiah's prophecy. But did he not realize that God can see through all disguises? See Heb 4:13. How great is the folly of men in the games they try to play with God!

22:33 God showed mercy to His foolish servant.

22:34-38 Ahab could not escape the judgment of God. He chose what pleased and they buried the king in Samaria. 38 And someone washed the chariot in the pool of Samaria. And the dogs licked up his blood, and they washed his armour, in accordance with the word of the LORD which he had spoken.

39 Now the rest of the acts of Ahab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he made, and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 40 So Ahab slept with his ancestors, and his son Ahaziah reigned in his place.

41 And Jehoshaphat, the son of Asa, began to reign over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab, king of Israel. 42 Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Azubah. She was the daughter of Shilhi. 43 And he walked in all the ways of Asa his father. He did not turn aside from it, doing what was right in the eyes of the LORD. However the high places were not taken away, for the people still offered and burnt incense on the high places. 44 And Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

45 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, and his might that he showed, and how he made war, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 46 And he removed from the land the rest of the male temple prostitutes who had remained in the days of his father Asa. 47 There was then no king in Edom. A deputy was king.

48 Jehoshaphat had ships of Tarshish go to Ophir for gold, but they did not go; for the ships were broken at Ezion-Geber. 49 Then Ahaziah, the son of Ahab, said to Jehoshaphat, "Let my servants go with your servants in the ships." But Jehoshaphat would not.

him rather than the message God sent, and he had to suffer the consequences. The "random" shot was not mere accident. God is sovereign over all circumstances, and can guide the flight of an arrow as easily as He can do anything else.

22:39 Ahab was a great builder in the material realm, a great destroyer in the spiritual realm.

22:40 "Slept" – note at 2:10.

22:41-43 2 Chron 20:31-33.

22:43 "Asa" – 15:11-14.

"High places" – note at 3:2.

22:46 Note at 14:24.

22:48,49 This was God's judgment for his alliance with the evil Ahab – 2 Chron 20:35-37.

51 Ahaziah, the son of Ahab, began to reign over Israel in Samaria the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigned two years over Israel. 52 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the way of his father and in the way of his mother and in the way of Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin. 53 For he served Baal and worshipped him, and provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger, as his father had done in everything.

1 Moab rebelled against Israel, after the death of Ahab. 2 And Ahaziah fell down through a lattice in his upper room that was in Samaria and was injured. And he sent messengers, saying to them, "Go, inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, whether I will recover from this injury."

3 But the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, "Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say to them, 'Is it because you think there is no God in Israel, that you go to inquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron? 4 Now therefore thus says the LORD, You will not come down from that bed on which you have gone up, but will surely die.'" And Elijah departed.

5 And when the messengers returned to Ahaziah, he said to them, "Why have you now returned?"

6 And they said to him, "A man came up to meet us, and said to us, 'Go, return to the king who sent you and say to him, Thus says the Lord, Is it because you think there is no God in Israel, that you send to inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you will not come down from that bed on which you have gone up, but will surely die.'" 7 And he said to them, "What kind of man was he who came up to meet you, and told you these words?"

8 And they answered him, "He was a hairy man, and had a leather belt fastened around his waist."

And he said, "It is Elijah the Tishbite."

9 Then the king sent a captain of fifty with his fifty men to Elijah. And he went up to him; and he appeared sitting on the top of a hill. And he spoke to him, "Man of God, the king says, 'Come down.'" 10 And Elijah answered and said to the captain of fifty, "If I am a man of God, then may fire come down from heaven, and consume you and your fifty." And fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

11 And he also sent to him another captain of fifty with his fifty. And he answered and said to him, "Man of God, the king says, 'Come down quickly.'" 12 And Elijah answered and said to them, "If I am a man of God, may fire come down from heaven, and consume you and your fifty." And the fire of God came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

13 And again he sent a captain of a third fifty with his fifty. And the third captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on his knees before Elijah, and pled with him and said to him, "Man of God, please let my life, and the life of these fifty of your servants, be precious in your sight. 14 See, fire came down from heaven, and burned up the two captains of the former fifties with their fifties; therefore let my life now be precious in your sight."

15 And the angel of the LORD said to Elijah, "Go down with him. Do not be afraid of him." And he arose and went down with him to the king.

16 And he said to the king, "Thus says the LORD: 'You have sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron. Is it because you think there is no God in Israel to inquire of his word? Therefore you will not come down from that bed on which you have gone up, but will surely die.'" 17 So he died

1:1 "Moab" - Gen 19:37; Num 22:1-7; 2 Sam 8:2.

"Death of Ahab" - 1 Kings 22:40.

1:2 "Ahaziah" - Ahab's son who became king.

"Baalzebub" - the name means "Lord of the flies." One of the gods of the Philistines (Ekron was a Philistine city) was named Baal-Zebul, which means "Baal the prince." Apparently Jewish writers changed his name in ridicule. Later the Jews applied the name to Satan. See Mark 3:22.

1:3 "Angel of the LORD" - note at Gen 16:7.

"Elijah" - 1 Kings 17:1. The king sent his messengers, God sent His. Ahaziah's sin in trying to consult a false god was very great. Obviously he wanted nothing to do with the God of Israel, the one true God. God calls for an exclusive allegiance from His people (Ex 20:1-6; Josh 24:15; 1 Kings 18:21; Matt 6:24; 2 Cor 6:14-18). Is it not because people think there is no true God that they rush after false gods and idols? 1:4 Ezek 18:10-13.

1:8 Compare Matt 3:4. John came in the spirit and power of Elijah (Luke 1:17).

1:9 The king wanted to show authority over

God's prophet. He wanted either to kill him or force him to change his prophecy, hoping thereby to escape the force of the prophecy already uttered. The superstitious idea that this was possible was not uncommon in those days.

1:10 This was a contest between the true God and His spokesman and an unbelieving king who looked to false gods. In the circumstances it was important for God to demonstrate His reality and power. Compare the contest between Moses and Pharaoh. Notes at Ex 7:11-17; 12:12.

"Fire" - Num 16:35; 1 Kings 18:36-38; Rev 11:5; 20:9. God does not always choose the way of fiery judgment (compare Luke 9:54,55), but He does so when it is necessary and wise to do so.

1:12 Since Ahaziah would not stop the contest, neither would Elijah.

1:13 The third captain had more sense than the king - he could see who the winner of the contest was.

1:16 Because of Ahaziah's senseless stubbornness 102 men of Israel died, but the message remained the same.

1:17 Every word of God will be fulfilled - according to the word of the LORD which Elijah had spoken. And because he had no son, Jehoram became king in his place, in the second year of Jehoram, the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah.

18 Now the rest of the acts of Ahaziah which he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel?

2 And it happened, when the LORD would take Elijah up into heaven in a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Elisha from Gilgal. 2 And Elijah said to Elisha, "Please wait here, for the LORD has sent me to Bethel."

And Elisha said to him, "As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you." So they went down to Bethel.

3 And the sons of the prophets who were at Bethel came out to Elisha, and said to him, "Do you know that the LORD will take away your master from over you today?"

And he said, "Yes, I know it. Be silent."

4 And Elijah said to him, "Elisha, please wait here, for the LORD has sent me to Jericho."

And he said, "As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you." So they came to Jericho.

5 And the sons of the prophets who were at Jericho came to Elisha, and said to him, "Do you know that the LORD will take away your master from over you today?"

And he answered, "Yes, I know it. Be silent."

1 Sam 15:29; Isa 44:26; 46:11; Matt 5:18. "Jehoram" - or "Joram." He was Ahaziah's younger brother.

1:18 "Annals" - 1 Kings 14:19.

2:1 "Up into heaven" - apparently God had revealed this to Elijah, Elisha, and others (vs 3,5).

2:2 "Wait here" - said possibly to test Elisha. If so, Elisha was equal to the test. See 1 Kings 19:20,21. Compare Matt 4:20,22; 19:27; Luke 9:62; 24:28,29; John 6:67-69.

2:3 "Prophets" - see 1 Sam 10:5; 19:10; 1 Kings 18:4; 20:35.

2:8 Compare Ex 14:16,21,22; Josh 3:7-17. God demonstrated publicly once again that He was the true God and that Elijah was His prophet. See 1 Kings 18:36,37; 2 Kings 1:10. This is what Elijah's ministry was all about.

2:9 "Ask what I should do for you" - three times, it seems, Elijah had tested Elisha. Three times Elisha had declared his determination to stay with Elijah to the end, regardless of what might happen. His faith and devotion now have the promise of reward. Compare Mark 10:28-30. Deut 21:17 reveals that a "double portion" was the share of the heir. Elisha was the spiritual heir of Elijah. He was not asking to be twice as spiritual as Elijah, but that he should be his successor as prophet. Perhaps he felt a

6 And Elijah said to him, "Please wait here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan."

And he said, "As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you." And the two of them went on.

7 And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went and stood at a distance to watch. And the two of them stood by the Jordan. 8 And Elijah took his cloak and folded it, and struck the waters, and they were divided left and right, so that the two of them went over on dry ground.

9 And it happened, when they had crossed, that Elijah said to Elisha, "Ask what I should do for you, before I am taken away from you."

And Elisha said, "Please, may a double portion of your spirit be on me."

10 And he said, "You have asked a hard thing. Nevertheless, if you see me when I am taken from you, it will be so to you; but if not, it will not be so."

11 And it came about as they still walked on and talked, that, suddenly, a chariot of fire and horses of fire appeared and separated the two of them; and Elijah went up in a whirlwind into heaven. 12 And Elisha saw it and cried out, "My father, my father! The chariot of Israel and its horsemen!" And he saw him no more; and he took hold of his own clothes and tore them in two pieces.

13 He also took up the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him, and went back and stood by the bank of the Jordan. 14 And he took the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him, and struck the double portion of Elijah's spirit was needed for him to serve as a prophet, that he was twice as weak and needy as Elijah. Or perhaps he was inspired by God to utter this request without understanding himself the reason for it. On desiring gifts from God see 1 Kings 3:5,9-12; 1 Cor 12:31.

2:10 Elijah recognizes that Elisha's request is not his to grant, and leaves it to God. But Elisha must be with him to the very end (v 3).

2:11 "Fire" - 6:17; Ps 68:17. Elijah had always been under God's protection. Here was the visible sign of that.

"Went up" - only two persons in the whole Bible were taken to heaven without dying, Elijah and Enoch (Gen 5:24; Heb 11:5). In this they are a picture of a great many in the future - 1 Cor 15:51,52; 1 Thess 4:16-18.

2:12 13:14. "Tore" - Gen 37:29; Job 1:20. Elijah's departure was a grief to Elisha. He was not glad to see him gone so that he himself might be in the limelight.

2:13 Verse 8. The cloak was a symbol that Elisha was Elijah's successor. See 1 Kings 19:19.

2:14 Elisha acted in faith and was willing to act in the sight of those who may have been watching. He believed that according to Elijah's word (v 10), he now had a double waters and said, "Where is the LORD God of Elijah?" And when he also had struck the waters, they were divided left and right, and Elisha went over.

15 And when the sons of the prophets who were watching at Jericho saw him, they said, "The spirit of Elijah is resting on Elisha." And they came to meet him, and bowed down to the ground before him. 16 And they said to him, "See now, there are fifty strong men with your servants. Please let them go and look for your master. Perhaps the Spirit of the LORD has taken him up, and thrown him on some mountain or into some valley."

And he said, "You must not send."

17 And when they urged him until he was ashamed, he said, "Send." So they sent fifty men, and they looked for three days, but did not find him. 18 And when they came back to him (for he waited at Jericho) he said to them, "Did I not tell you not to go?"

19 And the men of the city said to Elisha, "Please look, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees. But the water is bad, and the ground is barren."

20 And he said, "Bring me a new jar, and put salt in it." And they brought it to him.

21 And he went out to the spring of water, and threw the salt in there, and said, "Thus says the LORD, 'I have healed this water. From it there will be no more death or barren land.'" 22 So the water has been healed to this day, according to the word of Elisha which he spoke.

23 And he went up from there to Bethel, and as he was going up on the road, youths came out of the city, and mocked him and said to him, "Go up, you bald head! Go up, you bald head!" 24 And he turned back and looked at them, and pronounced a curse on them in the name of the LORD. And two female bears came out of the woods, and tore forty-two of the youths. 25 And he went from there to mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria.

3 Now Jehoram, the son of Ahab, began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, and he reigned twelve years. 2 And he did evil in the sight of the LORD, but not like his father and like his mother; for he put away the image of Baal that his father had made. 3 Nevertheless he clung to the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin; he did not depart from them.

4 And Mesha, king of Moab, was a sheep owner, and paid tribute of a hundred thousand lambs and a hundred thousand rams, with the wool, to the king of Israel. 5 But it happened when Ahab was dead, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel. 6 And king Jehoram went out of Samaria at that same time, and counted all Israel. 7 And he went and sent word to Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, saying, "The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me against Moab to fight?"

And he said, "I will go up. I am as you are, my people as your people, and my horses as your horses."

8 And he said, "Which way should we go up?"

portion of Elijah's spirit. Now God publicly reveals by this miracle that Elisha was His chosen prophet. It has been estimated that Elisha's ministry was twice as long as Elijah's, and the number of his recorded miracles is double that of Elijah's.

2:15 "Bowed down" – an open recognition that Elisha was Elijah's successor.

2:16 Compare 18:12. It seems they did not believe that a man in the body could be taken completely out of the world.

2:19 "The city" – Jericho.

2:21 "Healed" – compare Ex 15:25,26. Notice it was the Lord who healed the waters, not the salt. Salt was but a symbol of God's covenant with Israel (Lev 2:13; Num 18:19).

2:23 "Youths" – these were not children. The same Hebrew word is used of Joseph at the age of 17 (Gen 37:2), and Absalom after he was grown to full manhood (2 Sam 18:5). Another Hebrew word is translated "youths" in v 24. This word is used of Daniel and his friends in Dan 1:4,10,13,15,17. The insults of these young people expressed their scornful rejection of God and all that Elijah and Elisha stood for. Bethel (where this happened) was the center of the wicked apostate religion introduced by Jeroboam (1 Kings 12:32,33; Amos 7:13).

2:24 "A curse" – God Himself had already pronounced a curse against such. See Deut 28:15,45. Elisha was anointed by the Spirit of God and his response to the ridicule of these young men was in complete harmony with the Law of God.

"Bears came" – a fulfillment of Lev 26:21,22. Sometimes God has to judge harshly in order to emphasize how serious it is to show contempt for His Word and His servants. It can never be a light matter to belittle the things of God. See what the book of Proverbs has to say on the subject – 1:22-27; 3:33,34; 9:12; 19:29; 21:11; 29:8; 30:17.

3:2 "Like his father" – his father was Ahab who had been the worst of Israel's kings (1 Kings 16:30-34; 21:25,26), and his mother was Jezebel, one of the worst women in history.

3:3 1 Kings 12:28-33; 14:9,16.

3:7 "Jehoshaphat" – note at 1 Kings 22:2,4. Apparently Jehoshaphat had learned nothing from his experience with Ahab and the rebuke of the prophets (2 Chron 18:1; 19:1,2; 20:35-37). The marriage alliance

And he answered, "The way through the wilderness of Edom."

9 So the king of Israel and the king of Judah and the king of Edom went and circled around on a seven days' march; and there was no water for the army and for the livestock that followed them.

10 And the king of Israel said, "Alas, that the LORD has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hands of Moab!"

11 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not here a prophet of the LORD, so that we can inquire of the LORD through him?"

And one of the servants of the king of Israel answered and said, "Elisha the son of Shaphat, who poured water on the hands of Elijah, is here."

12 And Jehoshaphat said, "The word of the LORD is with him." So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Elisha said to the king of Israel, "What have I to do with you? You go to the prophets of your father and to the prophets of your mother." And the king of Israel said to him, "No, for the LORD has called these three kings together to deliver them into the hands of Moab."

14 And Elisha said, "As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, if it were not that I respect the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would not even look at you or see you. 15 But now bring me a musician." And it happened when the musician played, that the hand of the LORD came on him. 16 And he said, "Thus says the LORD: 'Make this valley full of ditches.' 17 For thus says the LORD: 'You will not see wind, nor will you see rain, yet that valley will be filled with water, so that you may drink, both you, and your livestock and your animals.' 18 And this is but a small thing in the sight of the LORD. He will also deliver the Moabites into your hands. 19 And you shall defeat every fortified city, and every choice city, and shall fell every good tree, and stop up all the wells of water, and ruin every good piece of land with stones."

20 And it came about in the morning, when the grain offering was offered, that water appeared coming by the way from Edom, and the region was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, they gathered all who were able to put on armour, and older, and stood at the border. 22 And they rose up early in the morning, and the sun was shining on the water, and the water on the other side appeared to the Moabites as red as blood. 23 And they said, "This is blood! The kings have surely been killed, and have struck one another down. Now therefore, Moab, to the plunder!"

24 And when they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and attacked the Moabites, so that they fled before them. And they advanced, striking down the Moabites, even into their country. 25 And they broke down the cities, and each man threw his stone on every good piece of land and filled it up, and they stopped all the wells of water, and felled all the good trees. Only in Kir-Haraseth did they leave its stones. However the slingers went around it and attacked it.

26 And when the king of Moab saw that the battle was too fierce for him, he took with him seven hundred men who drew swords, to break through to the king of Edom, but they could not. 27 Then he took his oldest son, who would have reigned in his place, and offered him as a burnt offering on the wall. And there was great indignation against Israel; and they departed from him, and returned to their own land.

4 Now a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried out to Elisha, saying, "Your servant my husband is dead. And you know that your servant feared the LORD. And the creditor has come to take my two sons to be slaves for himself."

2 And Elisha said to her, "What shall I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in the house?"

he had made with the house of Ahab continued to pervert his judgment and lead him into evil compromise.

3:9 "King of Edom" – Edom was controlled by Judah and this king had been appointed by the king of Judah.

3:11 "Inquire of the LORD" – 1 Kings 22:7. "Elisha" – 1 Kings 19:21.

"Who poured water on the hands of Elijah" – this indicates that he acted as Elijah's personal servant.

3:13 1 Kings 22:6. Elisha knew that the king of Israel had no love for the true God, and was only consulting him because he was in trouble.

3:14 "LORD of hosts" – note at 1 Sam 1:3. "Jehoshaphat" – 2 Chron 17:1-6.

3:15 1 Sam 16:23. "Musician played" – note at 1 Chron 25:1.

3:18 "Small" – Gen 18:14; Jer 32:17,27; Mark 10:27. Doing miracles is easier for God than digging ditches is for men.

3:20 "Offering" – Ex 29:38-40.

3:27 "Sacrifice" – the god of Moab was Chemosh. Note at 1 Kings 11:7. By this sacrifice Moab's king lost his son and gained nothing. Men can get no profit by abominable worship of detestable gods, only loss.

4:1 "Prophets" – 2:3,5. "Feared the LORD" – notes at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; Prov 1:7.

4:2 "What shall I do for you" – a desire to help others is one of the marks of a true servant of God. Compare Matt 24:45-51;

And she said, "Your maidservant does not have anything in the house, except a pot of oil."

3 Then he said, "Go outside, borrow utensils from all your neighbours, empty utensils. Do not borrow a few. 4 And when you have come in, you must shut the door behind you and behind your sons, and pour out the oil into all those utensils, and put aside what is full."

5 So she went from him and shut the door behind her and behind her sons, who had brought the utensils to her, and she poured out the oil. 6 And it came about, when the utensils were full, that she said to her son, "Bring me another utensil."

And he said to her, "There is not another utensil." And the oil stopped.

7 Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, "Go, sell the oil and pay your debt, and you and your children live off the rest."

8 And one day it came about that Elisha passed over to Shunem, where there was a great woman; and she urged him to eat bread. And so it was, that whenever he passed by, he turned in there to eat bread. 9 And she said to her husband, "Look now, I perceive that this is a holy man of God, who is always passing by us. 10 Please let us make a little room on the wall, and let us place there a bed and a table and a stool and a candlestick for him. And it shall be that whenever he comes to us, he can turn in there."

11 And one day it happened that he came there, and went into the room and lay there, 12 and said to Gehazi, his servant, "Call this Shunammite." And when he had called her, she stood before him. 13 And he said to him, "Now tell her, 'Look, you have taken all this care to look after us, what is to be done for you? Would you be spoken for to the king, or to the commander of the army?'"

And she answered, "I live among my own people."

14 And he said, "What then is to be done for her?"

And Gehazi answered, "She has no child at all, and her husband is old."

15 And he said, "Call her." And when he called her, she stood in the door. 16 And he said, "About this season next year you will embrace a son."

And she said, "No, my lord, you man of God, do not lie to your maid servant."

17 And the woman conceived, and bore a son at that season the next year as Elisha had said to her.

18 And the child grew; and it happened one day that he went out to his father to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, "My head! My head!"

And he said to a lad, "Carry him to his mother."

20 And when he had picked him up and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees until noon and then died. 21 And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door behind him and went out.

22 And she called to her husband and said, "Please send one of the young men to me, and one of the donkeys, so that I may hurry to the man of God, and come back."

23 And he said, "Why will you go to him today? It is neither new moon nor Sabbath."

And she said, "It is well."

24 Then she saddled a donkey and said to her servant, "Drive, and go forward. Do not slow the pace for me, unless I tell you." 25 So she went and 25:34-36; Acts 3:6; 20:33-35; Jam 1:27.

4:3-6 God was ready to perform a miracle for this poor widow. She experienced the miracle only by her obedience and faith. Unbelief or disobedience would have robbed her of God's miraculous provision. Notice that she was to shut the door while pouring the oil. This was not a public miracle to prove to Israel that Jehovah was God. It was a private miracle demonstrating God's compassion and faithfulness to His servant. Many are the miracles of provision God has shown in secret to His believers. God's people have a shepherd who provides for them (Ps 23:1; 37:25; 2 Cor 9:8; Phil 4:19).

4:8 "Great woman" – the Hebrew word translated "great" can mean great in any sense – in age, size, position, wealth, family background. It may mean wealthy here, but the greatness of this woman's character is revealed in the following verses. She wanted to help the servants of God (vs 8-10); she was a woman of spiritual perception (v 9); she was humble and undemanding (v 13); she had a large faith (vs 22-37). Let us seek greatness in these things that are truly great.

4:9 "I perceive" – Matt 7:15-20; 1 John 4:1.

"Holy man of God" – see the splendid name Elisha had earned. Man of God was a usual way of designating a prophet.

4:12 "Gehazi" – vs 29-31; 5:20-27; 8:4,5.

4:13 "What" – v 2. The woman was content and was not looking for favors from the mighty. Compare 1 Tim 6:6-8; Heb 13:5.

4:16 Gen 18:10-14.

4:20 Here was a severe test of this great woman's faith. The verses which follow show her faith was equal to the test.

4:21,22 She did not reason that when a person is dead he is dead, and nothing can be done about it. She believed God could work a miracle through Elisha. Compare Heb 11:35.

4:23 "Why" – the husband was a different sort of person from his wife. It was her suggestion, not his, to help Elisha (vs 8-10). He seemed to care little for his son (v 19), and after the boy's death he could not imagine why his wife wanted to go to Elisha.

"New moon, Sabbath" – Num 10:10; 28:9,11; 2 Chron 23:31.

came to the man of God at mount Carmel. And it came about, when the man of God saw her at a distance, that he said to Gehazi his servant,

"Look, there is that Shunammite. 26 Please run now to meet her, and say to her, 'Is it well with you? Is it well with your husband? Is it well with the child?'"

And she answered, "It is well."

27 And when she came to the man of God on the hill, she took hold of his feet, but Gehazi came near to thrust her away. And the man of God said, "Let her alone, for her soul is troubled in her, and the LORD has hidden it from me and has not told me."

28 Then she said, "Did I ask a son from my lord? Did I not say, 'Do not deceive me?'"

29 Then he said to Gehazi, "Tuck up your robe in your belt, and take my staff in your hand, and go your way. If you meet anyone do not greet him, and if anyone greets you, do not reply; and lay my staff on the face of the child."

30 And the mother of the child said, "As the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, I will not leave you." And he arose and followed her.

31 And Gehazi passed on before them and laid the staff on the face of the child, but there was neither sound nor response. Therefore he went back to meet him, and told him, saying, "The child did not wake up."

32 And when he came into the house, Elisha saw that the child was dead, and had been laid on his bed. 33 Therefore he went in and shut the door behind the two of them, and prayed to the LORD. 34 And he went up and lay on the child, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands, and he stretched himself on the child. And the flesh of the child became warm. 35 Then he got off and walked to and fro in the house, and went up and stretched himself on him. And the child sneezed seven times,

"She said" – evidently her husband was not the kind of person she could share her thoughts with.

4:26 Being a woman of discernment, she would not share her thoughts with Gehazi either, and she had no confidence he could do anything (vs 29,30).

4:27 "Her soul is troubled" – God's good gifts can lead us into trial and grief. But the end was not yet.

"The LORD has hidden it" – God does not tell His servants everything, only what they need to know.

4:30 This was language Elisha could well understand. See 2:2,4,6.

4:33 1 Kings 17:19-22; Matt 6:6; 9:25; Luke 8:51; Acts 9:40.

4:37 1 Kings 17:23; Heb 11:35. Great faith receives great rewards.

4:38 "Famine" – famine was an evidence of

and the child opened his eyes.

36 And he called Gehazi and said, "Call this Shunammite." So he called her. And when she had come in to him, he said, "Take up your son." 37 Then she went in and prostrated herself at his feet, bowing down to the ground, and took up her son and went out.

38 And Elisha went back to Gilgal. And there was a famine in the land. And the sons of the prophets were sitting before him, and he said to his servant, "Put on the large pot, and cook stew for the sons of the prophets."

39 And someone went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered his lap full of wild gourds from it, and came and shredded them into the pot of stew, for they did not know what they were. 40 So they poured out the stew for the men to eat. And it came about, as they were eating the stew, that they cried out and said, "O man of God, there is death in the pot!" And they could not eat it.

41 But he said, "Then bring flour." And he threw it into the pot and said, "Pour it out for the people, so they may eat." And there was no harm in the pot.

42 And a man came from Baal Shalisha, and brought the man of God bread from the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley, and full heads of grain in its husk. And he said, "Give it to the people, so that they may eat."

43 And his servant said, "What, should I set this before a hundred men?"

He said again, "Give it to the people, so that they may eat. For thus says the LORD: 'They will eat, and leave some of it.'" 44 So he set it before them, and they ate, and left some of it, according to the word of the LORD.

5 Now Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Syria, was a great and highly respected God's anger on His people's sins (Lev 26:18-20; Deut 28:15,23,24; 2 Sam 21:1; 1 Kings 8:35-39).

4:39,40 "Death in the pot" – because of a poisonous plant put in the stew. In times of famine people search for anything that might be eaten whether they know what it is or not.

4:41 Compare 2:21. God will provide for His servants even if He has to perform a miracle to do so. Ps 33:18,19; 37:18,19.

4:42 Another way which God uses to provide for His servants. God can provide their necessities in famine as easily as in years of plenty.

4:43,44 A miracle of the same kind as that of Matt 14:13-21.

5:1 "Namaan" – Luke 4:27.

"Victory" – Syria was not God's chosen nation as Israel was. It was an idolatrous man with his master, because by him the LORD had given victory to Syria. He was also a valiant warrior, but he was a leper.

2 And the Syrians had gone out in raiding bands, and had brought a little girl captive from the land of Israel; and she waited on Naaman's wife. 3 And she said to her mistress, "Would God my lord were with the prophet who is in Samaria! For he would heal him of his leprosy."

4 And he went in and told his lord, saying, "Thus and thus is what the girl who is from the land of Israel said." 5 And the king of Syria said, "Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel." And he departed, and took with him ten talents of silver and six thousand pieces of gold and ten changes of clothing. 6 And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which said: "Now when this letter comes to you, see, with it I have sent Naaman my servant to you, that you may heal him of his leprosy."

7 And it came about, when the king of Israel had read the letter, that he tore his clothes and said, "Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man sends word to me to heal a man of his leprosy? Therefore please consider, and see how he is seeking grounds for a quarrel against me."

8 And it came about when Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent word to the king, saying, "Why did you tear your clothes? Let him come now to me, and he will know that there is a prophet in Israel." 9 So

Naaman came with his horses and with his chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisha. 10 And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, "Go and wash in the Jordan seven times, and your flesh will be restored to you, and you will be clean."

11 But Naaman was angry and went away, and said, "Look, I thought he will surely come out to me, and stand and call on the name of the LORD his God, and wave his hand over the place and heal the leprosy. 12 Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? May I not wash in them and be clean?" So he turned and went away in a rage.

13 And his servants came near, and spoke to him and said, "My father, if the prophet had told you to do some great thing, would you not have done it? How much more then, when he says to you, 'Wash and be clean?'" 14 Then he went down and dipped seven times in the Jordan, in accordance with the word of the man of God, and his flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

15 And he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and came and stood before him, and said, "Look, now I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel. Therefore now please accept a gift from your servant."

16 But he said, "As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will not accept any." And he urged him to take it, but he refused.

nation usually hostile to Israel. They would have attributed their victories to the power of their gods. But observe it was the LORD (Jehovah) who gave them victory. God is sovereign over the world and works His will among all nations (Dan 4:35).

"Leper" - see note at Lev 13:2.

5:3 "Prophet" - Elisha.

5:5 "Silver" - ten talents equals about 340 kilograms.

"Gold" - 6000 shekels equals about 70 kilograms. Obviously this was an extremely valuable gift. It indicates how serious Namaan's disease was and how much he longed to be rid of it. King Omri had purchased the whole hill of Samaria for two talents of silver (1 Kings 16:24).

5:7 "Tore his clothes" - 2 Sam 13:31; 1 Kings 21:27; Est 4:1,3; Job 1:20; 2:8. The captive girl (vs 2,3) knew more than the king of Israel about Elisha and God's power working through him. It is often true that the meek and lowly know important things about God that the high and mighty are ignorant of. The king could think only that the Syrians had some sinister plot in mind.

5:8 "Why" - this was a rebuke to the unbelief and ignorance of the king.

5:10 Elisha did not even come out to see or meet this "great" man (v 1).

"Jordan" - the waters of the Jordan had no power to heal the body, cleanse from sin, or do any spiritual good whatever. In this it was like all other rivers in the world. None of them anywhere have any spiritual power. God is the healer (Ex 15:26; Deut 32:39). When Namaan was healed it was faith and obedience to God's word given through His prophet that brought the healing.

5:11,12 Namaan had pre-conceived ideas of how the prophet should heal him. He was not ready yet for childlike obedience. It seems also that his pride was offended. He thought surely Elisha would come out to him - after all, he was a great man in Syria. Pride can rob men of God's blessings (Jam 4:6,10; Mark 10:15).

5:14 Faith and humble obedience gain from God what nothing else ever can.

5:15 This foreign idolater learned what Israel as a nation had not learned (1 Kings 18:21, etc). They were rushing after other gods, he was about to abandon his. This knowledge Namaan gained was a far greater gift of God than the healing of his body. Compare John 17:3.

5:16 Elisha did not serve God for the gifts he might get. This one gift from Namaan would have made him a rich man (v 5), but Elisha was not interested in obtaining wealth, even by gifts others wanted to give him. How unlike Balaam and many others since (2 Pet 2:15. See Paul's warning to Timothy in 1 Tim 6:6-11).

17 And Naaman said, "Then, please, shall not two mules' load of earth be given to your servant? For from now on your servant will offer neither burnt offering nor sacrifice to other gods, but to the LORD. 18 In this thing the LORD pardon your servant, that when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, and he leans on my hand, and I bow in the house of Rimmon. When I bow down in the house of Rimmon, the LORD pardon your servant in this thing."

19 And he said to him, "Go in peace." So he departed from him a little distance.

20 But Gehazi the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, "Look, my master has let this Syrian Naaman off lightly, by not accepting from his hands what he brought. But, as the LORD lives, I will run after him and take something from him."

21 So Gehazi went after Naaman. And when Naaman saw him running after him, he got down from the chariot to meet him, and said, "Is all well?"

22 And he said, "All is well. My master has sent me, saying, 'Look, just now two young men of the sons of the prophets have come to me from Mount Ephraim. Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of clothing.'"

23 And Naaman said, "Be pleased to take two talents." And he urged him, and tied up two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of clothing, and placed them on two of his servants, and they carried them in front of him. 24 And when he came to the tower, he took them from their hand and stored them in the house, and he let the men go, and they departed. 25 But he went in and stood before his master.

And Elisha said to him, "Where are you coming from, Gehazi?"

And he said, "Your servant did not go anywhere."

26 And he said to him, "Did not my heart go with you, when the man turned back from his chariot to meet you? Is it a time to accept money and to accept clothes, and olive groves and vineyards and sheep and oxen, and male and female servants? 27 Therefore the offspring of Naaman will cling to you and to your offspring forever." And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snow.

6 And the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, "Now look, the place where we are living with you is too small for us. 2 Please let us go to the Jordan, and each man take a beam from there, and let us make a place for ourselves there, where we can live."

And he answered, "Go."

3 And one of them said, "Please be willing to go with your servants."

And he answered, "I will go."

4 So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees. 5 But as one of them was felling a tree, the axe head fell into the water, and he cried out and said, "Alas, master! For it was borrowed."

6 And the man of God said, "Where did it fall?" And he showed him the place. And he cut down a stick and threw it in there, and the iron floated up.

5:17 "Earth" – to make an altar in Damascus. It seems he did not understand that the earth of Israel was no more sacred for this purpose than earth anywhere else.

5:18 Namaan knew that bowing to another god would not be right, but did not see how he could escape when the king with him bowed.

5:19 Elisha did not try to be Namaan's conscience, but left it to him to work out his own problem.

5:20 Gehazi is typical of all those who seek personal gain through the service of God. He was eager for money. The mind of Gehazi is often seen in Christian circles today. It leads to God's judgment (Matt 6:24; Luke 12:15; 1 Tim 6:5,9). Man of God, flee these things! Beware of greed, of trying to make gain from your position, of taking gifts God does not want you to have. Those things can ruin your ministry and your life.

5:22 Getting what he wanted involved Gehazi in lying and misrepresenting his master. One sin, as often happens, led to another. He loved money more than truth, like so many today. When they who say they are servants of Christ are greedy for money and twist the facts to get it, they are misrepresenting Christ, bringing harm to His work on earth, and eventually great harm to themselves.

5:24 The cover-up begins. Compare Achan (Josh 7:1,11,12,21).

5:25 The attempt to cover up wrongdoing usually leads to more lying, all of which is hateful to God (Prov 6:16-19. See also Prov 28:13).

5:26 "Did not my heart go" – God enabled Elisha to know what Gehazi had been doing. He had an ability to see things others could not see. Compare 6:17. Of course, it may be possible for men to hide their sins from other men. But God sees what is going on and in His time and way will expose and punish it (Ps 90:8; 139:1-7; Heb 4:13).

5:27 It is as though Elisha was saying "You wanted something belonging to Namaan, did you? Take, then, his leprosy!"

6:1 "Prophets" – 2:3,5; 4:1,38. Evidently, part of Elisha's ministry was training these prophets for God's service.

6:5 "It was borrowed" – here is a problem that can always arise with borrowed things – they can be lost or ruined. And this can produce hard feelings in the lender. One should be just as careful with borrowed things as with one's own – or even more so. And any loss should be paid for by the borrower. See Ex 22:14.

6:6,7 Through the prophet God showed His

7 So he said, "Lift it out for yourself." And he stretched out his hand and took it.

8 Then the king of Syria was at war against Israel, and he took counsel with his servants, saying, "My camp will be in such and such a place."

9 And the man of God sent word to the king of Israel, saying, "Beware that you do not pass that place, for the Syrians have come down there."

10 And the king of Israel sent men to the place about which the man of God had told him and warned him, and saved himself there, not once or twice.

11 Therefore the heart of the king of Syria was greatly troubled about this thing, and he called his servants and said to them, "Will you not tell me which of us is for the king of Israel?"

12 And one of his servants said, "No one, my lord, O king; but Elisha, the prophet who is in Israel, tells the king of Israel the words that you speak in your bedroom."

13 And he said, "Go and find out where he is, so that I can send men and bring him." And it was told him as follows: "See, he is in Dothan."

14 Therefore he sent horses and chariots and a large army there, and they came at night and surrounded the city.

15 And when the servant of the man of God rose early and went out, he saw an army surrounding the city with both horses and chariots. And his servant said to him, "Alas, my master! What shall we do?"

16 And he answered, "Do not be afraid, for those who are with us are more than those who are with them."

17 And Elisha prayed and said, "LORD, I pray you, open his eyes, so that he can see." And the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he looked and saw that the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire around Elisha.

18 And when they came down to him, Elisha prayed to the LORD and said, "I pray you, strike this people with blindness." And he struck them with blindness in accordance with the word of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said to them, "This is not the way, nor is this the city. Follow me, and I will take you to the man you are looking for." But he led them to Samaria.

20 And it came about, when they came into Samaria, that Elisha said, "LORD, open the eyes of these men, so that they can see." And the LORD opened their eyes, and they looked and saw that they were in the middle of Samaria.

21 And when he saw them, the king of Israel said to Elisha, "My father, shall I strike them down? Shall I strike them down?"

22 And he answered, "You shall not strike them down. Would you strike down those whom you take captive with your sword and with your bow? Set food and water before them, that they may eat and drink and go to their master." 23 And he prepared a great feast for them. And when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. So the bands of Syria no longer came into the land of Israel.

24 But after this it happened that Ben-Hadad king of Syria gathered all his army, and went up and besieged Samaria. 25 And there was a great famine in Samaria, and, see, they besieged it until an ass's head was sold for eighty pieces of silver, and the fourth of a kab of dove's dung for five pieces of silver.

26 And as the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, a woman cried out to him, saying, "Help, my lord, O king."

27 And he said, "If the Lord does not help you, from where shall I help you? From the barn floor or from the winepress?" 28 And the king said to her, "What is troubling you?"

And she answered, "This woman said to me, 'Give your son so that we can eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow.' 29 So we boiled my concern for even small matters which affected His servants. Compare Matt 10:30. 6:9 "There" - 5:26. God revealed to Elisha the movements of the Syrian army.

6:11 The king thought there was a traitor in their midst sending information to Israel.

6:16 "With us are more" - see 2 Chron 32:7,8; Ps 18:16-18; 34:7; 55:16-19; 68:17; 91:11; Matt 26:53; Rom 8:31; Heb 1:14.

6:17 See 5:26. "Fire" - 2:11,12. God guards all of His servants. He has all the angels of heaven available for this purpose. It is not possible for anyone to capture any servant of God or do any physical harm to him without God's permission and wise purpose.

6:18 "Blindness" - Gen 19:11; Acts 13:10,11. God may use such means to protect His people and to further His work.

6:22,23 The purpose of Elisha's actions was not to destroy these men, but to prove to them that God was defending Israel. For the time being they learned their lesson.

6:24 "After this" - often kings do not grasp the lessons of history. See 1 Kings chapter 20.

6:25 Eighty shekels equals about one kilogram. In times of famine there are usually those who make profit from the suffering of others and in this way show the baseness of their character.

"A kab" - probably about 0.3 liter.

"Of dove's dung" - or this could be translated "of seed pods." There may have been a plant or its fruit called "dove's dung", strange as the name might seem to us.

"Five shekels" - about 55 grams.

6:28,29 God told them such things would happen if they did not obey Him. See Lev 26:27-29; Deut 28:52-57.

son and ate him. And the next day I said to her, 'Give your son so that we can eat him.' And she has hidden her son."

30 And when the king heard the words of the woman, it came about that he tore his clothes, and he passed by on the wall, and the people looked and there inside he had sackcloth on his body. 31 Then he said, "May God do harm to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the son of Shaphat remains on him today."

32 But Elisha was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him. And the king sent a man from his presence, but before the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, "Do you see how this son of a murderer has sent someone to take off my head? Look, when the messenger comes, shut the door and hold him fast at the door. Is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?"

33 And while he was still talking with them, there was the messenger coming down to him. And the king said, "Look, this disaster is from the LORD. Why should I wait for the LORD any longer?"

7 Then Elisha said, "Hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the LORD: Tomorrow about this time a measure of fine flour will be sold for a shekel and two measures of barley for a shekel, in the gate of Samaria."

2 Then an officer on whose hand the king was leaning answered the man of God and said, "Look, even if the LORD made windows in heaven, could this thing be?"

And he said, "Look, you will see it with your eyes, but will not eat of it."

3 And there were four men with leprosy at the entrance of the gate, and they said to one another, "Why should we sit here until we die? 4 If we say, We will go into the city, then the famine is in the city, and we will die there. And if we still sit here, we will die also. Therefore, come now and let's go over to the camp of the Syrians. If they save us alive, we will live; and if they kill us, we will but die."

5 And they rose at twilight to go to the camp of the Syrians, and when they arrived at the outskirts of the Syrian camp, there was no one there. 6 For the Lord had caused the army of the Syrians to hear a sound of chariots and a sound of horses, the sound of a large army. And they said to one another,

"Look, the king of Israel has hired against us the kings of the Hittites and the kings of the Egyptians, to attack us." 7 Therefore they arose and fled at twilight, and left their tents and their horses and their donkeys, the camp just as it was, and fled for their life.

8 And when these lepers came to the outskirts of the camp, they went into one tent, and ate and drank, and carried silver and gold and clothes from there and went and hid it, and came back, and entered another tent, and carried things from there also, and went and hid them.

9 Then they said to one another, "We are not behaving well. Today is a day of good news, and we are keeping silent. If we wait till morning light, some punishment will come on us. Therefore come now, let's go and tell the king's household."

10 So they came and called to the gatekeepers of the city and told them, saying, "We went to the camp of the Syrians, and, see, there was no one there, not a human sound, but horses tied up and donkeys tied up, and the tents as they were."

11 And the gatekeeper called out, and they reported it inside the king's house.

12 And the king arose in the night and said to his servants, "I will now tell you what the Syrians are doing to us. They know that we are hungry, so they have gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, 'When they come out of the city, we will capture them alive, and get into the city.'"

13 And one of his servants answered and said,

6:30 "Sackcloth" – Gen 37:34; 1 Kings 21:27; Est 4:1,2; Job 16:15.

6:31 Compare 1 Kings 18:10,16; 21:20. Elisha by his prayers, walk with God, and counsel to the king (6:9,10) was the greatest human protector of the kingdom. It was madness for the king to blame him for something that resulted from the unbelief and disobedience of himself and the people. Such is fallen human nature. And such has been and still is the experience of many of God's servants.

6:33 "Why should I wait. . .any longer" – Jehoram was an evil man (3:1-3), and was seeking to kill the greatest man in Israel. He had not been waiting for the Lord in repentance and faith.

7:1 "Measure" – this measure was about

7.3 liters.

"A shekel" – about 11 grams. Compare 6:25. Elisha is predicting an end, at least a temporary end, of the famine.

7:2 "Not eat" – v 17. Possibly his death was God's judgment for his unbelief.

7:3 "Leprosy" – note at Lev 13:2.

"Gate" – excluded from the city (Lev 13:46; Num 5:2,3).

7:6 "The LORD had caused" – God has many ways of protecting His people and working His sovereign will.

"A sound of chariots" – 6:17.

7:9 "Not behaving well" – it is never right to keep good news from those who might benefit from it. Compare Mark 16:15; Acts 20:20.

7:12 The king did not believe Elisha's word in v 1.

"Please let some men take five of the horses that remain, which are left in the city. Look, they may become like all the multitude of Israel who are left in it; yes, I say, they may become just like the whole multitude of the Israelites who have perished. But let us send them and see."

14 So they took two chariot horses, and the king sent them after the army of the Syrians, saying, "Go and see." 15 And they went after them to the Jordan, and saw the whole road was full of clothes and articles which the Syrians had thrown away in their haste. And the messengers returned and told the king. 16 And the people went out and plundered the tents of the Syrians. So a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, in accordance with the word of the LORD.

17 And the king appointed the officer on whose hand he leaned to have charge of the gate; and the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died, as the man of God had said, who spoke when the king came down to him. 18 And it happened just as the man of God had spoken to the king, saying, "There will be two measures of barley for a shekel and a measure of fine flour for a shekel, tomorrow about this time in the gate of Samaria." 19 And that officer had answered the man of God and said, "Now, look, even if the LORD made windows in heaven, might such a thing be?" And he had said, "Look, you will see it with your eyes, but will not eat of it." 20 And so it happened to him; for the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died.

8 Then Elisha spoke to the woman whose son he had restored to life, saying, "Arise, and go with your household, and stay for a time wherever you can stay, for the LORD has called for a famine; and also it will come on the land for seven years." 2 And the woman arose and acted in accordance with the word of the man of God, and she went with her household and stayed in the land of the Philistines for seven years.

3 And it came about at the end of the seven years that the woman returned from the land of the Philistines, and she went to cry out to the king for her house and for her land. 4 And the king was talking with Gehazi the servant of the man of God, saying, "Please tell me all the great things that Elisha has done." 5 And it so happened that as he was telling the king how he had restored a dead body to life, that suddenly the woman whose son he had restored to life, cried out to the king for her house and for her land.

And Gehazi said, "My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son whom Elisha restored to life." 6 And when the king asked the woman, she told him. So the king appointed an officer for her, saying, "Restore all that was hers, and all the produce of the field from the day that she left the land until now."

7 And Elisha came to Damascus. And Ben-Hadad the king of Syria was sick, and it was told him, saying, "The man of God has come here. 8 And the king said to Hazael, "Take a present in your hand, and go, meet the man of God and ask the LORD through him, saying, "Will I recover from this disease?"

9 So Hazael went to meet him and took a present with him, some of every good thing in Damascus, forty camels' loads, and came and stood before him and said, "Your son Ben-Hadad, king of Syria, has sent me to you, saying, "Will I recover from this disease?"

10 And Elisha said to him, "Go, say to him, 'You may certainly recover,' however the LORD has revealed to me that he will surely die." 11 And he fixed his gaze steadily, until he was ashamed. And the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, "Why is my lord weeping?" And he answered, "Because I know the evil that you will do to the children of Israel. You will set

7:16 Verse 1. To fulfill His word God put a strong army to flight. God would move heaven and earth, if He needed to, to do what He has said.

7:17-19 Verse 2; Isa 44:26.

8:1 "Restored to life" - the son of the woman of Shunem (4:18-35).

"Famine" - 2 Sam 21:1; 1 Kings 8:37; 17:1; 2 Kings 6:25; Ps 105:16; Haggai 1:11. God has often sent famine because of the disobedience and wickedness of people.

8:4 "King" - which king is not stated. Jehoram was familiar with many of Elisha's great works. This king may have been Jehu who succeeded Jehoram.

8:7 In this foreign capital Elisha was famous for his miraculous deeds.

8:8 Interesting that this idolatrous king wanted to consult Jehovah the God of Israel. The story of Namaan, the commander of his army, perhaps had a profound effect on him.

8:9 "A present" - it is unlikely that Elisha accepted any part of this. See 5:16.

8:10 "Recover" - Elisha's meaning seems to be that Ben Hadad's illness was not to death. If left alone he would recover. But Elisha knew what Hazael would do (vs 14,15). Possibly the Hebrew may also be translated "Go and say, 'You will certainly not recover,' for the LORD", etc.

8:12 10:32,33; 12:17; 13:3,7; Amos 1:3,4. Hazael is a terrible warning of the depths to which a man can sink when he refuses the control of God (Jer 17:9).

their strongholds on fire, and you will kill their young men with the sword, and will dash their children down, and rip open their pregnant women."

13 And Hazael said, "But what! Is your servant a dog that he would do this great thing?"

And Elisha answered, "The Lord has revealed to me that you will be king over Syria."

14 So he left Elisha and came to his master, who said to him, "What did Elisha say to you?" And he answered, "He told me that you would surely recover." 15 And it came about the next day that he took a thick cloth and dipped it in water, and spread it on his face, so that he died, and Hazael reigned in his place.

16 And in the fifth year of Joram the son of Ahab king of Israel, Jehoshaphat being then king of Judah, Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah began to reign. 17 He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. 18 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done, for his wife was Ahab's daughter. And he did evil in the sight of the LORD. 19 Yet, for the sake of his servant David, the LORD would not destroy Judah, since he promised him to give to him, and to his descendants, a perpetual light.

20 In his days Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over themselves. 21 So Joram went over to Zair, and all the chariots went with him; and he rose at night and attacked the Edomites who surrounded him, and the captains of the chariots; and the people fled to their tents. 22 Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah to this day. Then Libnah revolted at the same time.

23 And the rest of the acts of Joram and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the Annals of the Kings of Judah? 24 And Joram slept with his ancestors and was buried among his ancestors in the city of David, and Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

25 In the twelfth year of Joram, the son of Ahab king of Israel, Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah began to reign. 26 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he began to reign and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Athaliah, the daughter of Omri king of Israel. 27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did evil in the sight of the LORD, as the house of Ahab had done; for he was a son-in-law of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Joram, the son of Ahab, to the war against Hazael, king of Syria, in Ramoth-Gilead, and the Syrians wounded Joram. 29 And king Joram went back to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds which the Syrians had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to see Joram, the son of Ahab, in Jezreel, because he was sick.

9 And Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, "Tuck up your robe in your belt, and take this flask of oil in your hand and go to Ramoth-Gilead. 2 And when you arrive there, look for Jehu, the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, and go in and have him stand up among his brethren, and take him to an inner room. 3 Then take the flask of oil, and pour the oil on his head, and say, Thus says the LORD, 'I have anointed you king over Israel.' Then open the door and flee, and do not wait."

4 So the young man, the young man the prophet, went to Ramoth-Gilead. 5 And when he

"Ahab's daughter" - 2 Chron 18:1. The marriage of Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat to Athaliah daughter of Ahab was a tragedy for Judah. Those who arranged it probably meant to encourage peace and cooperation between Israel and Judah, but it led to the corruption and degradation of Judah. Failure to live according to God's standards always has serious consequences. Every believer should be very careful about marriage alliances. See 2 Cor 6:14-18.

9:4 "Gilead" - Ramoth Gilead was east of the Jordan river, nearly 100 kilometers from arrived, there were the commanders of the army sitting, and he said, "I have a message for you, O commander!"

And Jehu said, "To which one of all of us?"

And he said, "To you, O commander."

6 And he arose and went into the house; and he poured the oil on his head, and said to him, "Thus says the LORD God of Israel, 'I have anointed you king over the people of the LORD, over Israel.

7 And you shall strike the house of Ahab your master, so that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD, at the hand of Jezebel. 8 For the whole house of Ahab will perish; and I will cut off from Ahab every male person, both bond and free in Israel. 9 And I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah.

10 And the dogs will eat Jezebel in the plot of ground in Jezreel, and there will be no one to bury her.'" And he opened the door and fled.

11 Then Jehu came out to the servants of his lord; and one of them said to him, "Is all well? Why did this mad fellow come to you?"

And he said to them, "You know the man and his talk."

12 And they said, "That is not true! Tell us now."

And he said, "Thus and thus he told me, saying, 'Thus says the LORD: I have anointed you king over Israel.'"

13 Then each one of them hurriedly took his cloak, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with trumpets, saying, "Jehu is king!"

14 So Jehu, the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, conspired against Joram. (Now Joram had been guarding Ramoth-Gilead, he and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria. 15 But king Joram had returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria.) And Jehu said, "If you are so minded, then let no one go out or escape from the city to go to tell it in Jezreel. 16 So Jehu rode in a chariot and went to Jezreel, for Joram lay there. And Ahaziah king of Judah had come down to see Joram.

17 And a watchman stood on the tower in Jezreel, and he saw the troop of Jehu as he was coming, and said, "I see a troop."

And Joram said, "Take a horseman and send him to meet them, and have him say, 'Is it peace?'"

18 So someone went on horseback to meet him, and said, "Thus says the king, 'Is it peace?'"

And Jehu said, "What have you to do with peace? Turn in behind me." And the watchman reported this, saying, "The messenger went to them, but he is not coming back."

19 Then he sent out a second man on horseback, who went to them and said, "Thus says the king, 'Is it peace?'"

And Jehu answered, "What have you to do with peace? Turn in behind me."

20 And the watchman reported this, saying, "He also went to them, and is not coming back. And the driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi; for he drives furiously."

21 And Joram said, "Make ready." And his chariot was made ready. And Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah set out, each in his chariot, and they went out against Jehu, and met him in the plot of ground of Naboth the Jezreelite. 22 And it came about when Joram saw Jehu that he said, "Is it peace, Jehu?" And he answered, "What peace, as long as the acts of prostitution of your mother Jezebel and her acts of witchcraft are so many?"

23 And Joram turned his hands and fled, and said to Ahaziah, "There is treachery, Ahaziah!"

24 And Jehu drew a bow with his full strength, and hit Jehoram between his shoulders, and the arrow went out through his heart, and he sank down in his chariot. 25 Then Jehu said to Bidkar his captain, "Take him up and throw him in the plot of ground of Naboth the Jezreelite; for remember when you and I were riding together behind his father Ahab that the LORD laid this burden on him: 26 'I have certainly seen yesterday the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons, says the LORD, and I will repay you in this plot, says the LORD.' Now, therefore, take him and throw him into that plot of ground, in accordance with the word of the LORD."

27 But when Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden house. And Jehu followed him, and said, "Strike him down too, in the chariot." And they did so at the ascent to Gur, which is at Ibleam. And he fled to Megiddo, and died there. 28 And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his tomb with his ancestors in the city of David. 29 And in the eleventh year of Joram, the son of Ahab, Ahaziah began to reign over Judah.

30 And when Jehu came to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it, and she painted her eyes and adorned her head, and looked out at a window. 31 And as Jehu came in at the gate, she said, "Did Zimri, who killed his master, have peace?"

32 And he raised his face to the window, and said, "Who is on my side? Who?" And two or three eunuchs looked out at him. 33 And he said, "Throw her down." So they threw her down; and some of her blood splattered on the wall and on the horses; and he trampled her under foot.

34 And when he had come in, he ate and drank, and said, "Go, see now to that cursed woman, and bury her, for she is a king's daughter." 35 And they went to bury her, but they found no more of her than the skull and the feet and the palms of her hands. 36 Therefore they came back and told him. And he said, "This is the word of the LORD, which he spoke through his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, 'In the plot of ground at Jezreel dogs will eat the flesh of Jezebel. 37 And the corpse of Jezebel will be like dung on the surface of the ground in the plot at Jezreel, so that they will not say, This is Jezebel.'"

10 And Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria, to the rulers of Jezreel, to the elders and to those who brought up Ahab's children, saying, 2 "Now as soon as this letter reaches you, since your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, also a fortified city and weapons, 3 choose the best and most worthy of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house."

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and said, "Look, two kings did not stand before him. How then shall we stand?"

5 And the one who was in charge of the house, and the one who was over the city and the elders, and those who brought up the children, sent word to Jehu, saying, "We are your servants and will do all that you tell us. We will not make any king. You do what is good in your eyes."

6 Then a second time he wrote a letter to them, saying, "If you are mine, and if you will listen to my voice, take the heads of the men, your master's sons, and come to me to Jezreel by this time tomorrow." Now the king's sons, seventy persons, were with the chief men of the city who brought them up. 7 And it came about, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and killed the seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets and sent them to him at Jezreel. 8 And a messenger came and told him, saying, "They have brought the heads of the king's sons."

And he said, "Lay them in two heaps at the entrance of the gate until morning."

9 And in the morning it came about that he went out and stood, and said to all the people, "You are righteous. See, I conspired against my master, and killed him. But who killed all these? 10 Know now that not a word of the LORD, which the LORD spoke concerning the house of Ahab, will fall to the earth; for the LORD has done what he said through his servant Elijah." 11 So Jehu killed all who remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his chief men and his relatives and his priests, until he left no one remaining to him.

12 And he arose and departed and came to Samaria. And when he was at the shearing house on the way, 13 Jehu met with the relatives of

Ahaziah, king of Judah, and said, "Who are you?"

And they answered, "We are Ahaziah's relatives, and we are going down to greet the children of the king and the children of the queen."

14 And he said, "Take them alive!" And they took them alive, forty-two men, then killed them at the pit of the shearing house. He did not leave any of them.

15 And when he left there, he met Jehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him, and he greeted him and said to him, "Is your heart right, as my heart is with your heart?"

And Jehonadab answered, "It is."

Jehu said, "If it is, give me your hand." And he gave him his hand, and Jehu took him up to him into the chariot. 16 And he said, "Come with me and see my zeal for the LORD." So they had him ride in his chariot.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he killed all who were left of Ahab's family in Samaria, until he had destroyed him, in accordance with the saying of the LORD which he spoke to Elijah.

18 And Jehu gathered all the people together, and said to them, "Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him much. 19 Now therefore call to me all the prophets of Baal, all his servants, and all his priests. Do not let one be missing. For I have a great sacrifice to make to Baal. Whoever is missing will not live." But Jehu did this deceptively, for the purpose of destroying the worshippers of Baal.

20 And Jehu said, "Proclaim a solemn assembly for Baal." And they proclaimed it. 21 And Jehu sent word through all Israel. And all the ministers of Baal came, so that there was not a man who did not come. And they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other. 22 And he said to the one in charge of the wardrobe, "Bring out robes for all the worshippers of Baal." And he brought out robes for them.

23 And Jehu and Jehonadab the son of Rechab

went into the house of Baal, and said to the worshippers of Baal, "Search and see that there are none of the servants of the LORD with you here, but only the worshippers of Baal." 24 And when they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings, Jehu appointed eighty men outside, and said, "If any of the men whom I have brought into your hands escapes, the life of the one who lets him go will be required for his life."

25 And it came about, as soon as he finished offering the burnt offering, that Jehu said to the guard and to the captains, "Go in, and kill them! Do not let anyone get out." And they struck them with the edge of the sword, and the guard and the captains threw them out, and went into the inner shrine of the house of Baal. 26 And they brought the images out of the house of Baal and burned them. 27 And they broke down the image of Baal, and tore down the house of Baal and made it a latrine, as it is to this day.

28 Thus Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel. 29 However Jehu did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, that is, the golden calves at Bethel and at Dan.

30 And the LORD said to Jehu, "Because you have done well in carrying out what is right in my eyes, and have done to the house of Ahab in accordance with all that was in my heart, your offspring will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation." 31 But Jehu was not careful to walk in the law of the LORD God of Israel with all his heart, for he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin.

32 In those days the LORD began to cut away parts of Israel, and Hazael defeated them in all the territories of Israel, 33 from the Jordan eastward, all the land of Gilead, the Gadites and the Reubenites and the Manassites from Aroer, which is by the river Arnon, Gilead and Bashan.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehu, and all that 10:16 1 Kings 19:10 – it would seem from Jehu's later actions that his "zeal for the LORD", which he apparently so much wanted others to see, was more for his own advancement than for God's glory. Let us be careful against using the service of God for selfish ends.

10:18 "Baal" – 1 Kings 16:30-33. Note at Jud 2:11.

10:19 Men often think (mistakenly) that they must use deceitful means to accomplish God's purposes. Compare Gen 27:18-26; Josh 2:4-6; 1 Sam 21:2,13; etc.

10:28 The worship of this false god was a disgrace to the people of Israel, and Jehu did well to root it out. But the people did not turn back to the Lord. A work of destruction is not the same as a work of creation.

10:29 1 Kings 12:26-32; 13:33,34. Jehu himself, though professing great zeal for Jehovah, was guilty of false worship and of following the evil Jeroboam.

10:30 "To the fourth generation" – the four were Jehoahaz, Joash, Jeroboam II, Zechariah.

10:31 Jehu showed great energy in destroying evil, but was not equally concerned in building up what was good. There is an important principle here. God's servants are called not only to condemn error, but to follow and encourage what is true and edifying. A mainly negative ministry is of little lasting value.

he did and all his might, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel?

35 And Jehu slept with his ancestors; and they buried him in Samaria. And Jehoahaz his son reigned in his place. 36 And the time that Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria was twenty-eight years.

11 And when Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal offspring. 2 But Jehosheba, the daughter of king Joram, sister of Ahaziah, took Joash the son of Ahaziah, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were killed. And they hid him from Athaliah, him and his nurse, in a bedroom, so that he was not killed. 3 And he was with her hidden at the house of the LORD for six years. And Athaliah reigned over the land.

4 And the seventh year Jehoiada sent men and brought the rulers over hundreds, with the captains and the guard, brought them to him into the house of the LORD, and made a covenant with them, and took an oath from them in the house of the LORD, and showed them the king's son. 5 And he commanded them, saying, "This is what you must do: a third of you who come on duty on the Sabbath shall keep watch over the king's house, 6 and a third will be at the Sur gate, and a third at the gate behind the guard. So you must keep watch over the house, that it be not broken into. 7 And two-thirds of all of you who go off duty on the Sabbath, shall keep watch over the house of the LORD, around the king. 8 And you shall surround the king, each man with his weapons in his hand. And whoever comes near your ranks must be killed. And you shall be with the king as he goes out and as he comes in."

9 And the captains over the hundreds acted in accordance with everything that Jehoiada the priest commanded, and each one took his men who were to come on duty on the Sabbath, with those who would go off duty on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest. 10 And the priest gave to the captains over hundreds king David's spears and shields, that were in the temple of the LORD. 11 And the guards stood, each man with his weapons in his hand, all around the king, from the right corner of the temple to the left corner of the temple, along by the altar and the temple.

12 And he brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him and gave him the Testimony; and they made him king and anointed him, and clapped their hands and said, "God save the king!"

13 And when Athaliah heard the voice of the guards and of the people, she came to the people into the temple of the LORD. 14 And when she looked, there stood the king by a pillar, as the custom was, and the leaders and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land rejoicing and blowing with trumpets. And Athaliah tore her clothes and cried out, "Treason! Treason!"

15 But Jehoiada the priest gave a command to the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the army, saying to them, "Take her out of the area, and kill with the sword anyone who follows her." For the priest had said, "Do not let her be killed in the house of the LORD." 16 And they seized her; and she arrived at the path by which the horses came to the king's house, and she was killed there.

17 And Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD and the king and the people, that they would be the LORD's people; also between the king and the people. 18 And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal and broke it down. They completely smashed his altars and his images and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, before the altars. And Jehoiada the priest appointed officers over the house of the LORD. 19 And he took the rulers over hundreds and the captains and the guard, and all the people of the land, and they brought the king down from the house of the LORD, 11:1 "Athaliah" - 8:18,26; 9:27.

"The royal offspring" - this was the royal house of David. See God's promise to David in 2 Sam 7:11,16; 2 Kings 8:19. Satan used this evil woman in an attempt to destroy David's family line and leave God's word unfulfilled. Athaliah's attack was principally on her own grandchildren, and was for the sole purpose of seizing power for herself. She was not the last person to side with Satan for power's sake. And many wicked persons since Athaliah have tried to destroy the purposes of God. But none have succeeded, and none ever will.

11:2 "Jehosheba" - God always has instruments to accomplish His will. Compare Ex 1:22-2:10; Matt 2:13-16. Joash was only a year old at this time. Compare v 3 with v 21.

and came by the road of the Gate of the Guard to the king's house. And he sat on the throne of the kings. 20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet, for they had killed Athaliah with the sword beside the king's house.

21 Jehoash was seven years old when he began to reign.

12 Jehoash began to reign in the seventh year of Jehu, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zibiah. She was from Beersheba. 2 And Jehoash did what was right in the sight of the LORD all the days in which Jehoiada the priest instructed him. 3 But the high places were not taken away. The people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

4 And Jehoash said to the priests, "All the money of the dedicated things that is brought into the house of the LORD, each man's census money, the money from each man's assessment, and all the money any man's heart prompts him to bring into the house of the LORD, 5 let the priests themselves take it, each one from his acquaintances, and let them repair the damaged places of the house, wherever any damage may be found."

6 But it so happened that by the twenty-third year of king Jehoash the priests had not repaired the damaged places in the house. 7 Then king Jehoash called for Jehoiada the priest and the other priests, and said to them, "Why are you not repairing the damaged places of the house? Now therefore accept no more money from your acquaintances, but deliver it for the damaged places in the house." 8 And the priests agreed to receive no more money from the people, and not to repair the damaged places in the house themselves.

9 But Jehoiada the priest took a chest and bored a hole in its lid, and set it beside the altar, on the right side as one comes into the house of the LORD; and the priests who were doorkeepers put in it all the money that was brought into the house of the LORD. 10 And so it was that whenever they saw there was much money in the chest, the king's scribe and the high priest came up and put it in bags, and counted the money that was found in the house of the LORD. 11 And they gave the counted money into the hands of those who did the work, who had the oversight of the house of the LORD; and they paid it out to the carpenters and builders who worked on the house of the LORD, 12 and to masons and stone cutters, and to buy timber and cut stone to repair the damaged places in the house of the LORD, and for all that was paid out for the house to repair it.

13 However, no silver bowls, snuffers, basins, trumpets, no gold or silver articles were made for the house of the LORD, from the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, 14 but they gave it to the workmen, and made repairs to the house of the LORD with it. 15 Moreover, they did not demand an account with the men into whose hands they delivered the money to be given to workmen, for they dealt faithfully. 16 The money for trespass offerings and money for sin offerings was not brought into the house of the LORD. It belonged to the priests.

12:2 2 Kings 11:4. Joash did right as long as he was under the instruction of Jehoiada, but later forsook the truth he knew (2 Chron 24:17-27). Blessed are they who faithfully serve God to the end of their lives - 2 Tim 4:6,7; Heb 3:14; 6:11,12; Rev 2:10,26.

12:3 1 Kings 3:2; 15:14; 22:43. At this time on these high places they worshiped Jehovah and not false gods. Even so, this was not according to God's instructions for worship - Ex 20:24; Num 33:52; Deut 7:5; 12:3,5,8,13,14.

12:4 "Census money" - Ex 30:11-16; 38:25,26; Num 2:32.

"Man's heart prompts him" - Lev 22:18-23; Deut 16:10.

12:6 The temple had been finished in 959 B.C. The 23rd year of Joash was 835. The date when Joash spoke the words of v 4 is not known, but evidently a considerable length of time had gone by and no repairs had been made. The question arises, what had happened to the money the priests had been receiving for the work? And where was their zeal for God's service? How vital it is that Christian workers, and all of God's people, should be completely honest in money matters. To misuse money given for the work of God is to steal from God. And to be lacking in zeal for God and His work is to show the smallness of our love for Him.

12:9 "Chest" - Mark 12:41; Luke 21:1.

12:11-14 With proper supervision the work went ahead and funds collected were used in a proper way. The money for repair work was not spent on something else.

12:15 "Faithfully" - 22:7; 1 Cor 4:2. How important this is in the work of God. It cannot be overemphasized. God is a God of truth and demands truth in our hearts (Ps 31:5; 51:6). If we lack honesty we have no right to expect blessing or reward from God, and we might well wonder if we know God at all.

12:16 Lev 4:24,29; 5:15-18; 7:7; Num 4:9,19.

12:17-21 2 Chron 24:23-26 reveals that these events occurred after Joash murdered the son of Jehoiada.

12:17 "Hazael" - 8:9-13; 10:32,33.

go up to Jerusalem. 18 And Jehoash king of Judah took all the sacred things that Jehoshaphat and Jehoram and Ahaziah, his forefathers, kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own sacred things, and all the gold that was found in the treasuries of the house of the LORD and in the king's house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria; and he went away from Jerusalem.

19 And the rest of the acts of Joash, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 20 And his servants arose and made a conspiracy, and killed Joash in the house of Millo, on the way down to Silla. 21 For Jozachar the son of Shimeath and Jehozabad the son of Shomer, his servants, struck him, and he died; and they buried him with his ancestors in the city of David. And his son Amaziah reigned in his place.

13 In the twenty-third year of Joash, the son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz the son of Jehu began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned for seventeen years. 2 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin. He did not depart from them. 3 And the anger of the LORD burned against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hands of Ben Hadad the son of Hazael, all their days.

4 And Jehoahaz pleaded with the LORD, and the LORD listened to him, for he saw the oppression of Israel; because the king of Syria oppressed them. 5 And the LORD gave Israel a saviour, so that they escaped from under the hand of the Syrians; and the children of Israel lived in their tents as before. 6 Nevertheless they did not depart from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin, but walked in them; and also the idolatrous grove in Samaria remained.

7 For he left of the people of Jehoahaz only fifty horsemen and ten chariots and ten thousand foot soldiers; for the king of Syria had destroyed them and had made them like the dust of threshing.

8 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, and all that he did and his might, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 9 And Jehoahaz slept with his ancestors; and they buried him in Samaria. And his son Joash reigned in his place.

10 In the thirty-seventh year of Joash, king of Judah, Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned for sixteen years. 11 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, but he walked in them.

12 And the rest of the acts of Joash and all that he did, and his might, with which he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 13 And Joash slept with his ancestors; and Jeroboam sat on his throne. And Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 Now Elisha had fallen sick with his sickness, of which he died. And Joash the king of Israel came down to him, and wept over his face and said, "O my father, my father, the chariot of Israel and its horsemen!"

15 And Elisha said to him, "Take bow and arrows." And he took bow and arrows. 16 And he said to the king of Israel, "Put your hand on the bow." And he put his hand on it, and Elisha put his hands on the king's hands.

17 And he said, "Open the east window." And 12:18 1 Kings 15:18; 2 Kings 16:8; 18:15,16. Using God's property to bribe God's enemies was surely both wrong and unnecessary. It showed a lack of faith in God's protection. What Joash needed to do was repent and turn to God with all his heart.

12:19 "Annals" – 1 Kings 14:19.

12:20 "Killed Joash" – the reason for this is seen in 2 Chron 24:25.

12:21 "City of David" – 2 Sam 5:6,7.

13:2 1 Kings 12:26-33.

13:3 "Anger" – notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

"Hazael" – 8:11,12; 10:32,33.

"Ben-Hadad" – v 24.

13:4 Verse 26,27; Ex 3:7,9; Jud 2:14-18; 2 Chron 33:10-13; Ps 78:38,39; 103:13,14; Isa 55:6,7.

13:5 "Saviour" – possibly Jehoahaz's son Jehoash (v 25).

13:6 God's goodness did not lead them to repentance. Compare Joel 2:18,19; Rom 2:4. "Grove" – or "Asherah pole" – note at Judges 3:7.

13:7 Verse 22; 8:12; 10:32; Amos 1:3.

13:8 "Annals" – 1 Kings 14:19.

13:9 "Slept" – note at 1 Kings 2:10.

13:11 1 Kings 12:26-33.

13:14 "Sickness" – Elisha was a great prophet, a faithful man of God. He did miracles for others (4:32-37; etc.), but there was no miracle for him when he fell ill. Compare 1 Tim 5:23; 2 Tim 4:20. Jehoash, king of Israel, like many godless men, had respect for God's prophet. But though he used the same words to Elisha that Elisha had used to Elijah (2:10), he did not have their faith. Many today can use the language of Bible-believing Christians without believing the Bible.

13:17 "East window" – facing the area controlled by Syria beyond the Jordan river. "Aphek" – 1 Kings 20:26.

he opened it. Then Elisha said, "Shoot." And he shot. And he said, "The arrow of the LORD's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria. For you shall strike down the Syrians in Aphek until you have destroyed them."

18 And he said, "Take the arrows." And he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, "Strike the ground." And he struck three times and stopped. 19 And the man of God was angry with him and said, "You should have struck five or six times. Then you would have struck Syria until you had destroyed it, but now you will strike Syria only three times."

20 And Elisha died; and they buried him.

And the raiding bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the beginning of the year. 21 And it so happened when they were burying a man, that suddenly they saw a band of men, and they threw the man into the tomb of Elisha; and when the man dropped down and touched the bones of Elisha, he came to life and stood up on his feet.

22 But Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz. 23 And the LORD was gracious to them and had compassion on them, and showed regard for them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them or cast them from his presence as yet.

24 So Hazael king of Syria died, and Ben Hadad his son reigned in his place. 25 And Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz took back out of the hands of Ben Hadad the son of Hazael the cities which he had taken by war out of the hands of Jehoahaz his father. Three times Joash defeated him and recovered the cities of Israel.

14 In the second year of Joash son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah the son of Joash became king of Judah. 2 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jehoaddan. She was from Jerusalem. 3 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, but not like David his father. He did everything as his father Joash had done. 4 However the high places were not taken away. The people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

5 And it came about, as soon as the kingdom was established in his hands, that he killed his servants who had killed his father the king. 6 But he did not kill the children of the murderers, in accordance with what is written in the book of the law of Moses, in which the LORD gave a command, saying, "The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but each man shall be put to death for his own sin."

7 He killed ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt, and took Selah in a battle and called its name Joktheel, as it is to this day.

8 Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash, the son of Jehoahaz son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us look one another in the face."

9 And Jehoash the king of Israel sent word to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, "The thistle that was in Lebanon sent word to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter in marriage to my son.' And a wild beast that was in Lebanon passed by and trampled down the thistle. 10 You have indeed defeated Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Glory in this, but stay at home, for why should you meddle with trouble so that you fall, you, and Judah with you?"

11 But Amaziah would not listen. Therefore Jehoash king of Israel went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah looked one another in the face at Beth-Shemesh, which belongs to Judah. 12 And Judah was defeated by Israel, and they all fled to their tents. 13 And Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash the son

13:19 Verse 25.

13:21 Elisha's bones had no power in themselves to raise the dead or to do anything else. They were dead and death cannot give life. The power to raise the dead was, and is, in the God Elisha served. God was reminding the people of this. Compare 1 Sam 2:6; John 5:21.

13:22 8:12,13; 10:32,33.

13:23 "Compassion" - Ex 34:6; Deut 32:36; Jud 2:18; Ps 86:15; Isa 49:15; Matt 9:36. "Covenant" - Gen 13:16,17; 17:2-7; Ex 2:24,25.

13:25 10:32,33; 12:17; 13:18,19; 14:25. God gave these victories and a further period of prosperity to Israel to give the nation the opportunity to repent, but Israel did not learn its lesson. Later God punished them and removed them from the land altogether - 17:1-23.

14:1-6 2 Chron 25:1-4.

14:1 "Joash" - or "Jehoash."

14:3 David worshiped Jehovah, the only true God, and had nothing to do with gods. Amaziah did not follow that example. See 2 Chron 25:14-16.

14:4 "High places" - 12:3.

14:5 12:20.

14:6 Deut 24:16; Jer 31:29,30; Ezek 18:1-32.

14:7 2 Sam 8:13; 1 Chron 18:12; Ps 60.

14:8-14 2 Chron 25:17-24.

14:8 "Face" - he meant face to face in battle.

14:9 Jehoash thinks of himself as a mighty cedar, Amaziah as a tiny thistle.

14:10 Prov 16:18.

14:11 "Beth-Shemesh" - a town about 25 kilometers west of Jerusalem.

14:12 Amaziah's defeat was a punishment from God for his idolatry. See 2 Chron 25:14-16,20.

of Ahaziah, at Beth-Shemesh, and came to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate, four hundred cubits. 14 He took all the gold and silver, and all the articles that were found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's house, and hostages, and returned to Samaria.

15 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoash which he did, and his might and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 16 And Jehoash slept with his ancestors, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel, and his son Jeroboam reigned in his place.

17 And Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Jehoash son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel. 18 And the rest of the acts of Amaziah, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah?

19 Now they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish, but they sent men after him to Lachish and killed him there. 20 And they brought him on horses, and he was buried at Jerusalem with his ancestors in the city of David.

21 And all the people of Judah took Azariah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah. 22 He built Elath and restored it to Judah, after the king slept with his ancestors.

23 In the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, began to reign in Samaria, and he reigned forty-one years. 24 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin. 25 He restored the territory of Israel from the entrance of Hamath to the Sea of the Plain, in accordance with the word of the LORD God of Israel, which he spoke through his servant Jonah, the son of Amittai, the prophet, who was from Gath-Hepher.

26 For the LORD saw that the suffering of Israel was very bitter; for there was no one either slave or free to come to the help of Israel. 27 And the LORD did not say that he would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven, but he saved them by the hands of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

28 Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, and all that he did and his might, how he made war and how he recovered Damascus and Hamath, which had belonged to Judah, for Israel, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 29 And Jeroboam slept with his ancestors, with the kings of Israel, and his son Zachariah reigned in his place.

15 In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam, king of Israel, Azariah son of Amaziah, king of Judah, began to reign. 2 He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jeholiah; she was from Jerusalem. 3 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, in accordance with all that his father Amaziah had done, 4 except that the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

5 And the LORD struck the king, so that he was a leper to the day of his death and lived in a house apart. And Jotham, the king's son, was over the house, judging the people of the land.

14:15 "Annals" – 1 Kings 14:19.

14:16 "Slept" – 1 Kings 2:10.

14:17-20 2 Chron 25:25-28.

14:19 2 Chron 25:27.

14:21 2 Chron 26:1,2. Azariah is known also as Uzziah.

14:22 "Elath" – a seaport in the south on the Gulf of Aquaba.

14:23 1 Kings 12:26-33.

14:25 10:32; 13:25. Hamath was in the extreme north of the land of Israel. The Sea of the Plain is the Dead Sea.

"Jonah" – this was the prophet of the book of Jonah.

14:26 "Saw" – 13:23.

"Suffering" – because of the Syrians (8:12; 10:32,33; 13:3,4).

14:27 13:5,23. The fact that God used Jeroboam does not mean he was a good man. It means God had mercy on the people and used their leader to help them even though he was a wicked man – v 24.

14:28 From the military and secular point of view Jeroboam II was a mighty king who brought victory and prosperity to Israel. But from a spiritual point of view he was a disaster, even as the first Jeroboam had been. Both Hosea and Amos prophesied during his reign, and a reading of their books makes clear the sad spiritual condition of the people during his rule.

14:29 "Slept" – 1 Kings 14:19.

15:1 14:17,21. Azariah is called Uzziah in v 13, 2 Chron 26:1-4, and some other places.

15:4 12:3; 14:4.

15:5 "Leper" – the reason why God afflicted him like this is seen in 2 Chron 26:16-23. Observe that God at times may send disease as punishment. But because this is so, we should not think that every person who gets a disease is being punished by God. Note on leprosy at Lev 13:2.

"House apart" – Lev 13:46. Here this may indicate a house where he was relieved of responsibility.

6 And the rest of the acts of Azariah and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 7 So Azariah slept with his ancestors; and they buried him with his ancestors in the city of David; and his son Jotham reigned in his place.

8 In the thirty-eighth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Zachariah the son of Jeroboam reigned over Israel in Samaria six months. 9 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his fathers had done. He did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin.

10 And Shallum the son of Jabesh conspired against him, and struck him in front of the people and killed him, and reigned in his place. 11 And the rest of the acts of Zachariah, see, they are written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel. 12 This was the word of the LORD which he spoke to Jehu, saying, "Your sons will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation." And so it happened.

13 Shallum the son of Jabesh began to reign in the thirty-ninth year of Uzziah king of Judah, and he reigned a full month in Samaria. 14 For Menahem the son of Gadi went up from Tirzah and came to Samaria, and struck down Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria and killed him, and reigned in his place.

15 And the rest of the acts of Shallum, and the conspiracy which he made, see, they are written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel.

16 Then from Tirzah Menahem attacked Tiphshah, and all who were in it, and its territories. He attacked it because they did not open to him, and he ripped open all the pregnant women in it.

17 In the thirty-ninth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Menahem the son of Gadi began to reign over Israel, and he reigned ten years in Samaria.

18 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. All his days he did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin.

19 And Pul the king of Assyria came against the land; and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents of silver, so that he might join hands with him to establish the kingdom in his hand. 20 And Menahem exacted the money from Israel, from all the wealthy men, fifty shekels of silver from each man, to give to the king of Assyria. So the king of Assyria turned back and did not stay there in the land.

21 And the rest of the acts of Menahem and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel? 22 And Menahem slept with his ancestors, and his son Pekahiah reigned in his place.

23 In the fiftieth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Pekahiah, the son of Menahem, began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned two years. 24 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin. 25 But Pekah the son of Remaliah, a captain of his, conspired against him and struck him down in Samaria, in the citadel of the king's house, with Argob and Arieah; and with him were fifty Gileadite men. And he killed him, and reigned in his place.

26 And the rest of the acts of Pekahiah and all that he did, see, they are written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel.

27 In the fifty-second year of Azariah, king of Judah, Pekah the son of Remaliah began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned twenty years. 28 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin.

15:6 "Annals" - 1 Kings 14:19.

15:7 "Slept" - note at 1 Kings 2:10.

15:8 2 Kings 14:29; 5:1.

15:8-31 These verses present a picture of national confusion, of plots and murder, of swift succession of evil leaders. All this resulted from the fact that the nation would not honor God and walk in His ways. The repeated refrain in these verses is "the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat" (vs 9,18,24,28).

15:9 1 Kings 12:28-33.

15:10 Amos 7:9.

15:12 10:30. Zechariah was the last of Jehu's descendants to occupy the throne. Once more the Word of God was fulfilled to the letter.

15:13 Uzziah is Azariah (v 1).

15:16 "Women" - here was a man from Israel, God's people, behaving as the cruel and idolatrous king of Syria had behaved (8:12).

15:18 1 Kings 12:28-33.

15:19 Pul is another name for Tiglath-Pileser

(1 Chron 5:26).

"Assyria" - an ancient kingdom that lay to the northeast of Israel and controlled the area which is now occupied by Iraq, Syria, and parts of Iran and Turkey. Its name was derived from Asshur its national god and also the name of one of its principal cities. Its capital became Nineveh, a city founded by Nimrod (Gen 10:11), and one of the largest and most famous cities of ancient times (see Jonah 1:2). Assyria reached its greatest power and extent between 700-650 B.C. Nineveh was destroyed in 612 B.C. and Assyria lost its power to the Babylonians.

"Thousand talents" - about 34,000 kilograms.

15:20 "Fifty Shekels" - about 0.6 kilogram. Because of their sin the people of God had to send bribes to a heathen king to keep him away.

15:24 1 Kings 12:28-33.

15:27 Isa 7:1.

15:28 Verses 9,18,24.

29 In the days of Pekah, king of Israel, Tiglath Pileser, king of Assyria, came and took Ijon and Abel Beth Maachah and Janoah and Kedesh and Hazor and Gilead and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali, and carried them captive to Assyria. 30 And Hoshea the son of Elah conspired against Pekah the son of Remaliah, and struck him down and killed him and reigned in his place, in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah.

31 And the rest of the acts of Pekah and all that he did, see, they are written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Israel.

32 In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, Jotham the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, began to reign. 33 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jerusha. She was the daughter of Zadok. 34 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD. He did everything just as his father Uzziah had done. 35 However the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places. He built the upper gate of the house of the LORD.

36 Now the rest of the acts of Jotham and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 37 In those days the LORD began to send Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, against Judah. 38 And Jotham slept with his ancestors, and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David his father. And his son Ahaz reigned in his place.

16 In the seventeenth year of Pekah, the son of Remaliah, Ahaz the son of Jotham, king of Judah, began to reign. 2 Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And he did not do what was right in the sight of the LORD his God, like his forefather David, 3 but he walked in the way of the kings of Israel. He even made his son pass through the fire, in accordance with the abominations of the nations whom the LORD drove out from before the children of Israel. 4 And he sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5 Then Rezin, king of Syria, and Pekah, son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to fight, and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome him. 6 At that time Rezin king of Syria recovered Elath for Syria, and drove the Jews from Elath; and the Syrians came to Elath, and have lived there to this day.

7 So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath Pileser, king of Assyria, saying, "I am your servant and your son. Come up and save me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, who have risen up against me." 8 And Ahaz took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasuries of the king's house, and sent it as a present to the king of Assyria. 9 And the king of Assyria listened to him; for the king of Assyria went up against Damascus and took it, and carried its people captive to Kir, and killed Rezin.

10 And king Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath Pileser, king of Assyria, and saw an altar that was at Damascus, and king Ahaz sent to Urijah the priest the design of the altar and its pattern, in accordance with all its workmanship. 11 And Urijah the priest built an altar in accordance with all that king Ahaz had sent from Damascus. So Urijah the priest made it before king Ahaz returned from Damascus. 12 And when the king returned from 15:29 This was the beginning of the end of the northern kingdom of Israel.

16:1 Isa 1:1; 7:1.

16:3 "Pass through the fire" - this probably means burning them in the fire as a sacrifice - Lev 18:21; Deut 12:31; 18:10; 2 Kings 17:17; 21:6,11; Ps 106:37,38. Two nations near Israel who made such abominable sacrifices were Moab and Ammon. The gods to whom they sacrificed were Chemosh and Molech.

16:4 "High places" - 12:3; 1 Kings 3:2.

"Tree" - 17:10; 1 Kings 14:23; Deut 12:12; Jer 2:20; 3:6; 17:2.

16:5 15:37; 2 Chron 28:5,6; Isa 7:1-17.

16:7-16 2 Chron 28:16-25.

16:7 "Assyria" - note at 15:19. Tiglath Pileser is the same as Pul in 15:19,29.

"Save me" - king Ahaz had religion (vs 3,4), but did not have God. Those without God have to look elsewhere for help. They have to try to find their security in some worldly power rather than in the Almighty. Compare Ahaz with Hezekiah (chapter 19). Because of Ahaz Judah fell under the power of Assyria until Hezekiah rebelled (18:7).

16:8 12:17,18. Because there was no faith and obedience in the leader of God's people, once again God's money was spent to bribe a heathen power.

16:9 Isa 7:16; Amos 1:3-5.

16:10-14 By this action Ahaz openly departs even further from the true God and His worship. The altar built according to God's instructions (Ex 27:1-8) was put in a secondary position, an altar designed for idolatrous worship in a foreign country is given the first place, and Ahaz made his

Damascus, the king saw the altar, and the king approached the altar and made an offering on it. 13 And on the altar he burned his burnt offering and his grain offering, and poured out his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings. 14 And also he took the bronze altar, which was before the LORD, from the front of the house, from between the altar and the house of the LORD, and put it on the north side of the altar.

15 And king Ahaz commanded Urijah the priest, saying, "On the great altar burn the morning burnt offering and the evening grain offering, and the king's burnt sacrifice and his grain offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land and their grain offering, and their drink offerings; and sprinkle on it all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice. And the bronze altar will be for me to make inquiry." 16 Urijah the priest did so, in accordance with all that king Ahaz commanded.

17 And king Ahaz cut off the panels from the stands, and removed the lavers from them, and took the sea down from the bronze oxen that were under it, and put it on a pavement of stones. 18 And he removed the pavilion for the Sabbath that they had built in the house, and the king's outer entrance from the house of the LORD, on account of the king of Assyria.

19 Now the rest of the acts of Ahaz which he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 20 And Ahaz slept with his ancestors, and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David, and Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

17 In the twelfth year of Ahaz, king of Judah, Hoshea the son of Elah began to reign in offerings on the new altar. So little did he have room in his religion for the true God. 16:13 "Burnt offering", etc - Leviticus chapters 1-3.

16:15 Ahaz tried to shove God aside and worship as he pleased. But in time of need he wanted to get guidance from God's altar (but not by seeking God Himself). Actually nothing is said anywhere in the Bible about the altar being able to give guidance. Ahab was showing superstition, not faith. And should anyone expect to get guidance from God in time of need when they ignore God at all other times?

16:16 "Commanded" - all too often those who should stand for truth and oppose error, weakly give in to a strong corrupt leader.

16:17 1 Kings 7:23-28,38. Ahaz began to destroy the work of Solomon.

16:19 "Annals" - 1 Kings 14:19.

16:20 "Slept" - 1 Kings 2:10.

"City of David" - 2 Sam 5:6,7.

17:1 15:30.

17:3 18:9-12. Shalmaneser succeeded

Samaria over Israel. He reigned nine years. 2 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, but not like the kings of Israel who were before him.

3 Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against him, and Hoshea became his servant and paid him tribute. 4 And the king of Assyria found out a conspiracy by Hoshea; for he had sent messengers to So, king of Egypt, and brought no tribute to the king of Assyria, as he had done year by year. Therefore the king of Assyria shut him up and bound him in prison. 5 Then the king of Assyria came up throughout the whole land, and went up to Samaria and besieged it three years. 6 In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria captured Samaria and took Israel away into Assyria, and placed them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan and in the cities of the Medes.

7 Now this occurred because the children of Israel had sinned against the LORD their God who had brought them up from the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and they had feared other gods, 8 and walked in the customs of the nations whom the LORD drove out from before the children of Israel, and those of the kings of Israel which they had introduced. 9 And the children of Israel secretly did those things that were not right against the LORD their God, and they built high places for themselves in all their cities, from the watchman's tower to the fortified city. 10 And they set up images and groves for themselves on every high hill and under every green tree, 11 and there they burnt incense on all the high places, like the nations whom the LORD took away before them, and did wicked things, provoking the LORD to anger; 12 for they served idols, about which the LORD had said to them, "You shall not do this thing." 13 Though the LORD testified against Israel

Tiglath-Pileser (15:19,29).

17:4 When God has given up an individual or a people to punishment, there will be no help from human beings in trying to avert it.

"To So, king" - or "to Sais, to the king."

17:6 Israel's captivity was the inevitable punishment for their sin, as the following verses make clear. See also Lev 26:33; Deut 28:63,64. All the curses God pronounced on a disobedient people in Deuteronomy chapter 28 came upon them. God always does exactly as He says He will do.

17:7,8 Ex 20:1-5; Josh 23:16; Jud 6:10; 1 Kings 12:28-33; 16:31-33; 2 Kings 16:3.

17:9 16:3,4; 1 Kings 3:2; 15:14.

17:10 Ex 34:12,13; 1 Kings 14:15,23.

17:11 "Incense" - a symbol of prayer and worship (Ex 30:7,34-38). If they follow the depravity of their hearts men will misuse and pervert all the holy things of God.

17:12 Ex 20:3-5; 23:13; Lev 26:1.

17:13 "All the seers" - during the time of

and against Judah, through all the prophets and through all the seers, saying, "Turn from your evil ways and keep my commandments and my statutes, in accordance with all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my servants the prophets."

14 However, they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like the necks of their fathers who did not believe in the LORD their God. 15 And they rejected his statutes and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them. And they followed vanity and became vain, and went after the nations that were around them, concerning whom the LORD had commanded them not to do like them.

16 And they left all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made cast metal images for themselves, two calves, and made a grove, and worshipped all the starry host of heaven, and served Baal. 17 And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divination and sorcery, and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

18 Therefore the LORD was very angry with Israel, and removed them out of his sight. None was left except the tribe of Judah alone. 19 Judah also did not keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the customs of Israel which they made. 20 And the LORD rejected all the offspring of Israel, and afflicted them, and delivered them into the hands of plunderers, until he had cast them out of his sight.

21 For he tore Israel from the house of David; and they made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king. And Jeroboam drove Israel away from following the LORD, and caused them to commit a great sin. 22 For the children of Israel walked in all the sins of Jeroboam which he did. They did not depart from them, 23 until the LORD removed Israel out of his sight, as he had said by all his servants the prophets. So Israel was taken away out of their own land to Assyria, as it is to this day.

24 And the king of Assyria brought people from Babylon and from Cuthah and from Ava and from Hamath and from Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in place of the children of Israel. And they possessed Samaria, and lived in its cities. 25 And it so happened, when they began to live there, that they did not fear the LORD, so the LORD sent lions among them, which killed some of them. 26 Therefore they spoke to the king of Assyria, saying, "The nations which you have removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, do not know the ways of the God of the land. Therefore he has sent lions among them, and, lo and behold, they are killing them, because they do know not the ways of the God of the land."

27 Then the king of Assyria commanded,

Israel's apostasy God raised up some of the greatest men of God who ever lived: the prophets Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Hosea, Amos, and others not so well known. He spoke through them repeatedly to warn and exhort the people, but all to no avail. Nothing - no promises, no threats, no punishment, no rewards - nothing at all would keep them from following the desires of their depraved hearts. In other words, they were ordinary sinful people like all other people in the world.

17:19 16:3; 1 Kings 14:22,23. The fall of the northern kingdom of Israel should have been a warning to Judah. But they did not learn from that and became even worse than Israel (Jer 3:6-11; Ezek 16:51,52). Eventually they went the same way of punishment and captivity. Do we learn from Bible history? See Rom 15:4; 1 Cor 10:1-12.

We would make a big mistake if we thought we were, by nature, better than those sinful, stubborn and rebellious people of Israel and Judah. See Rom 3:9. Verses 7-17 reveal what the heart of man is like. In words of the New Testament the people whose actions are described here walked "after the flesh", followed their sinful natures (Gal 5:16-21). Now, as then, the only way to a life of victory over the sinful nature is knowing God, loving God, and walking in the power of God's Spirit (Rom 8:3,4; Gal 5:16).

17:21 1 Kings 11:11,31; 12:20,28-33.

17:23 Verse 13; 1 Kings 14:14-16; Hos 10:1-7; 11:5; Amos 5:27. This is the origin of the Samaritans who appear in the New Testament (Luke 9:52; 10:33; John 4:9,39; Acts 8:5-9).

17:25 The land belonged to Jehovah God and He had given it to His people Israel. These foreign idolaters had no right to live saying, "Take there one of the priests whom you brought from there; and let him go and live there, and let him teach them the ways of the God of the land." 28 Then one of the priests whom they had taken away from Samaria came and lived in Bethel, and taught them how they should fear the LORD.

29 However each nation made gods of their own, and put them in the shrines of the high places which the Samaritans had made, each nation in the cities where they lived. 30 And the men of Babylon made Succoth Benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima, 31 and the Avites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim. 32 So they feared the LORD, but made priests of the high places for themselves from the lowest of them, who sacrificed for them in the shrines of the high places. 33 They feared the LORD, yet served their own gods, in accordance with the custom of the nations whom they took away from there.

34 To this day they practice the former customs. They do not fear the LORD, nor do they follow their statutes or their ordinances, or the law and commandments which the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, whom he named Israel, 35 with whom the LORD made a covenant, and charged them, saying, "You shall not fear other gods, nor bow down to them nor serve them nor sacrifice to them. 36 But you shall fear the LORD who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great power and a stretched out arm, and him you shall worship, and to him you shall sacrifice. 37 And you shall be careful to do the statutes and the ordinances and the law and the commandment which he wrote for you, forever. And you shall not fear other gods. 38 And you shall not forget the covenant that I have made with you, nor shall you fear other gods. 39 But you shall fear the LORD your God. Then he will deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies."

40 However they did not listen, but did according to their former custom. 41 So these nations feared the LORD, and served their carved images, together with their children and their children's children. As their fathers did, so they have done to this day.

18 Now it came about in the third year of Hoshea son of Elah, king of Israel, that Hezekiah, the son of Ahaz, king of Judah, began to reign. 2 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Abi. She was the daughter of Zachariah. 3 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, in everything just as his father David had done. 4 He removed the high places and smashed the images and cut down the groves, and broke in pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made; for until those days the children of Israel had burned incense to it, and there. When they did not even so much as acknowledge Jehovah, they paid the penalty for it.

17:28 "Bethel" - 1 Kings 12:29,32. Bethel had been a center of the apostate religion founded by Jeroboam.

17:29 "High places" - 1 Kings 12:31; 13:33.

17:32,33 Verse 41. It seems they believed that all gods and all religions were good. They did not want to ignore Jehovah - they had found that to be dangerous (v 25). But they did not want to worship Him exclusively, and in their blindness did not see the necessity of doing so. Compare 1 Kings 18:21; Matt 6:24. The true God does not accept the worship of those who try to worship other gods with Him (v 35-39). See Ex 20:1-6; Jer 7:1-11; 2 Cor 6:14-18. But men are very slow to understand this truth. The very dangerous lie of syncretism is widely accepted by men in every era, including ours. 17:35-38 Ex 20:2-6,23; Deut 4:23; 5:32,33; 6:12,13; 10:20; 22:20.

17:39 Ex 23:22; Deut 20:1-4; 23:14.

18:1-3 2 Chron 29:1,2.

18:1 Ahaz, Hezekiah's father, was one of the worst of Judah's kings (16:1-4), yet Hezekiah was one of the very best. Not one of us needs to remain captive to ancestry and background. God's grace can triumph over everything.

18:2 "Twenty-nine years" - part of this time he shared the throne with Ahaz. Some events in his reign are recorded in 2 Chronicles chapters 29-32 and Isaiah chapters 36-39.

"Abi" - or "Abijah." Abijah means "Jehovah is father" or "Jehovah is my father." Perhaps Hezekiah's godliness and good character resulted from his mother's example and training. Many men of God owe a great deal to their godly mothers.

18:3 No king in Israel and only a few in Judah are compared favorably in the Bible with David - only Asa, Hezekiah, Josiah, and, to some extent, Jehoshaphat.

18:4 "High places" - 1 Kings 3:2.

"The groves" - or "Asherah poles" - 1 Kings 16:23.

"Bronze serpent" - see Num 21:8,9. That which once had been a means of blessing had become an idol. This is a tendency in human nature and we must learn to resist it. No means which God uses for our blessing is to be worshiped, but only God who gives the blessing. We must never idolize any form, pattern, thing, or man.

"Nehushtan" - this sounds like the Hebrew for bronze and snake and unclean thing.

he called it Nehushtan.

5 He trusted in the LORD God of Israel, so that after him there was no one like him among all the kings of Judah, nor were there any before him. 6 For he clung to the LORD, and did not turn away from following him, but kept his commandments, which the LORD commanded Moses. 7 And the LORD was with him, and he was successful wherever he went. And he rebelled against the king of Assyria, and did not serve him. 8 He defeated the Philistines, as far as Gaza and its territories, from the watchman's tower to the fortified city.

9 And it came about in the fourth year of king Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Elah, king of Israel, that Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, came up against Samaria and besieged it. 10 And at the end of three years they took it. Samaria was taken in the sixth year of Hezekiah, that is, the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel. 11 And the king of Assyria took Israel away to Assyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes. 12 This occurred because they did not obey the voice of the LORD their God, but transgressed his covenant and all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded, and would not hear or do them.

13 Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, Sennacherib, king of Assyria, came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them. 14 And Hezekiah, king of Judah, sent word to the king of Assyria to Lachish, saying, "I have done wrong. Withdraw from me. I will pay whatever you impose on me." And the king of Assyria demanded from Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold. 15 And Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD, and in the treasuries of the king's house.

16 At that time Hezekiah cut off the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD, and from the pillars which Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid, and gave it to the king of Assyria.

17 And the king of Assyria sent Tartan and Rabsharis and Rabshakeh from Lachish with a great army to king Hezekiah at Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem. And when they had come up, they came and stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, which is on the road to the Fuller's Field. 18 And when they had called out for the king, Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, came out to them.

19 And Rabshakeh said to them, "Say now to Hezekiah, Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: What is this hope you are trusting in? 20 You say (but they are only vain words), 'I have counsel and strength for the war.' Now in whom do you trust, that you rebel against me? 21 Now, see, you are trusting in the staff of that bruised reed, in Egypt, on which if a man leans, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him. 22 But if you say to me, 'We trust in the LORD our God,' is not he the one whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and has said to Judah and Jerusalem, 'You shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem?'

23 "Now therefore, please give pledges to my lord the king of Assyria, and I will deliver two thousand horses to you, if you on your part are able to set riders on them. 24 How then will you turn away the face of one of the least of the captains of my master's servants, and put your trust in Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? 25 Have I

18:5 A similar thing is said about Hezekiah's great-grandson Josiah. See 23:25. Faith is the quality in which Hezekiah excelled. Compare 19:14-19.

18:6 "Clung" - Deut 6:18; 10:20; 11:22; 13:4.

18:7 "Successful" - Gen 39:2,3; Josh 1:7; 1 Sam 18:14.

"Rebelled" - Judah had fallen under the power of Assyria during the reign of Hezekiah's father (16:7-10).

18:8 Compare 2 Chron 28:18. When God works with His people, sad and evil conditions can be reversed.

18:9-11 17:3-6.

18:13 2 Chron 32:1; Isa 36:1.

18:14 "Wrong" - Hezekiah refers to his rebellion against Assyria (v 7). But he may have been wrong in calling it wrong, since it was a result of God's working with him. Hezekiah had a temporary failure of faith. Do not we all have to confess sometimes as the man in Mark 9:24 did?

"Talent" - one talent is about 34 kilograms.

18:15,16 12:18; 16:8; 1 Kings 15:18,19. Giving God's possessions to a foreign, idolatrous king could not have been right, and it did not stop the king of Assyria.

18:17 "Jerusalem" - there are two other accounts of what follows in the rest of this chapter and the following two chapters - 2 Chronicles chapter 32 and Isaiah chapters 36-39.

"Fuller's Field" - Isa 7:3.

18:19 Little did he know that Hezekiah's trust was in the Creator of the universe - one who could send one angel and crush the whole army of Assyria (v 5; 19:35).

18:20-25 The object of this speech, begun with much sarcasm, was to destroy the people's confidence so they would surrender Jerusalem without a fight. He says they should have no confidence in their army (vs 20,23,24), in any agreement they may have now come up against this place to destroy it, without the LORD? The LORD said to me, 'Go up against this land and destroy it.'"

26 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah and Shebna and Joah said to Rabshakeh, "Please speak to your servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it; and do not talk with us in the Jews' language in the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

27 But Rabshakeh said to them, "Has my master sent me only to your master and to you, to speak these words? Has he not sent me to the men who are sitting on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own urine with you?"

28 Then Rabshakeh stood and shouted with a loud voice in the Jews' language and spoke, saying, "Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria. 29 Thus says the king: Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you out of his hand. 30 And do not let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, 'The LORD will surely deliver us, and this city will not be delivered into the hands of the king of Assyria.'"

31 "Do not listen to Hezekiah. For thus says the king of Assyria: 'Make peace with me through a gift and come out to me, and then each man of you eat from his own vine and each one from his fig tree, and each one drink the water from his cistern, 32 until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive oil and of honey, so that you may live and not die. And do not listen to Hezekiah, when he persuades you, saying, "The LORD will deliver us." 33 Has any of the gods of the nations ever delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? 34 Where are the gods of Hamath and of Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? Have they delivered Samaria out of my hands? 35 Among all the gods of the countries, who are those who have delivered their country out of my hands, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?"

36 But the people kept silent and did not answer him a word, for the king's command was as follows: "Do not answer him."

37 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

19 And it came about, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he tore his clothes and covered himself with sackcloth and went into the house of the LORD. 2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz. 3 And they said to him, "Thus says Hezekiah: 'This day is a day of trouble and of rebuke and blasphemy; for the children have come to the point of birth and there is no strength to deliver them. 4 It may be the LORD your God will hear all the words of Rabshakeh, whom his master, the king of Assyria, has sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.'"

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. 6 And Isaiah said to them, "Thus shall you say to your master: Thus says the LORD, 'Do not be afraid of the words which you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. 7 Look, I will put a spirit in him, and he will hear a report and return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.'"

8 So Rabshakeh returned and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he had heard that he had departed from Lachish.

9 And when the king heard a report about made with Egypt (vs 21,24), or in God (v 22). And he tried to convince them it was God's will for them to surrender (v 25).

18:27-35 The commander continued his attempt to destroy the people's confidence in both God and Hezekiah. He knew that if they surrendered their confidence they would surrender the city. This was what is known in our day as psychological warfare. He put the choice before them - complete famine (v 27) or plenty (v 31), death or life (v 32). He tried to convince them that Jehovah was as weak and useless as the gods of other nations Assyria had trampled on. And he emphasized the might of the Assyrians (the most powerful nation in the world at that time).

18:36 The people did not forsake their confidence.

18:37 "Clothes torn" - a symbol of great agitation (Gen 37:34; 2 Sam 13:3; Job 2:12).

19:1-35 2 Chron 21:1-21; Isa 37:1-38.

19:1 6:30; Gen 37:34; 1 Kings 21:27; Est 4:1.

19:2 "Isaiah" - the first mention in the Bible of one of the greatest of all the prophets and the author of the book which bears his name.

19:3 "No strength to deliver them" - words which indicate pain, weakness, and crisis.

19:4 "Reproach" - 1 Sam 17:26,36,45.

"Living God" - Deut 5:26; Josh 3:10; 1 Sam 17:26; Ps 42:2; Jer 10:10.

"Remnant" - Isa 1:9; 10:20; 11:11.

19:6 "Afraid" - Gen 15:1; Ex 14:13,14; Josh 1:9. If men fear God they need not fear men (Matt 10:26-31).

Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, "Look, he has come out to fight against you," he again sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, 10 "Thus shall you speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Do not let your God, in whom you trust, deceive you, saying, 'Jerusalem will not be delivered into the hands of the king of Assyria.' 11 Look, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, utterly destroying them. And will you be delivered? 12 Have the gods of the nations delivered those which my fathers destroyed, Gozan, and Haran and Rezeph, and the children of Eden who were in Thelasar? 13 Where is the king of Hamath and the king of Arpad and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena and Ivah?"

14 And Hezekiah received the letter from the hands of the messengers and read it, and Hezekiah went up into the house of the LORD and spread it before the LORD. 15 And Hezekiah prayed before the LORD and said, "O LORD God of Israel, who dwells between the cherubim, you are God of all the kingdoms of the earth, you alone. You have made heaven and earth. 16 LORD, incline your ear, and hear. LORD, open your eyes and see, and hear the words Sennacherib has sent him to reproach the living God.

17 "It is true, LORD, the kings of Assyria have destroyed the nations and their lands, 18 and have thrown their gods into the fire. For they were not gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone. Therefore they have destroyed them. 19 Now therefore, O LORD our God, I beg you, save us out of his hand, so that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you are the LORD God, you only."

20 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent word to Hezekiah, saying, "Thus says the LORD God of Israel, 'I have heard what you have prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria.' 21 This is the word that the LORD has spoken concerning him:

'The virgin daughter of Zion despises you, and laughs you to scorn.

The daughter of Jerusalem shakes her head at you.

22 Whom have you reproached and blasphemed?

And against whom have you raised your voice,

and lifted up your eyes on high?

Against the Holy One of Israel.

23 Through your messengers you have reproached the Lord, and have said,

"With my many chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and I cut down its tall cedar trees and its choice fir trees, and I entered its most distant lodgings, and its finest forest.

24 I have dug and drunk foreign water, and with the soles of my feet I have dried up all the rivers of besieged places."

25 'The LORD says,

Did you not heard long ago how I have done it, and in ancient times that I have formed this plan?

Now I have carried it out, so that you would be for turning fortified cities into heaps of ruins.

26 Therefore their inhabitants had little power.

They were dismayed and disgraced.

They were like the grass of the field, and like the green plant, like the grass on the housetops, and like grain blasted before it has grown up.

27 But I know your dwelling place, and your going out and your coming in, and your rage against me.

19:10-13 18:30-35.

19:15 "Cherubim" - Ex 25:22; Ps 80:1; 99:1.

"You alone" - Isa 43:10; 44:6; 45:5,21. Jehovah God was sovereign over Assyria also, though the Assyrians did not know it.

19:16 "Reproach" - v 4.

19:19 Ex 9:16; Josh 4:24; 1 Sam 17:46; 1 Kings 8:42,43; Ps 83:18.

19:20 "I have heard" - 20:5. Hezekiah was the kind of man God listened to, and his prayers were of the kind God could answer. If we want God to hear our prayers we must live in a way that is pleasing to God.

19:21 "Virgin daughter" - Isa 47:1; Jer

14:17; 18:13; 46:11; Lam 2:13.

19:22 "Reproached" - vs 4-6.

"Holy One of Israel" - a phrase very common in Isaiah. See Isa 1:4.

19:23,24 Here is the pride and arrogance so common in worldly rulers and so hateful to God - Prov 3:34; 6:16,17; Isa 2:10-18. Concerning the pride of Assyria see Isa 10:12.

19:25 "I have carried it out" - the Assyrians thought they had accomplished their victories by their own military power and skill. Actually they were like a mere rod in God's hand to accomplish His purposes (Isa 10:5,6,13-15). Compare Isa 45:1; Jer 51:20-23.

19:26 Ps 37:2; 129:6.

19:27 Ps 139:2,3; Heb 4:13.

28 Because your rage against me and your arrogance have come up into my ears,
I will put my hook in your nose, and my bridle in your mouth, and I will turn you back on the road by which you came.'

29 "And this will be a sign to you, Hezekiah:
This year you will eat what grows by itself, and in the second year what springs from it, and in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards and eat its fruits.
30 And the remnant of the house of Judah that has escaped will once again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

31 For out of Jerusalem a remnant will go out, and those who escape will go out of Mount Zion.
The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

32 "Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria:

'He will not come into this city, or shoot an arrow there, or come before it with shield, or throw up an embankment against it.

33 He will return by the way that he came, and will not come into this city, says the LORD.

34 For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake.'"

35 And it came about that night, that the angel of the LORD went out and struck down a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of the Assyrians. And when the people arose early in the morning, there were all the dead bodies! 36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed. He set out and returned, and lived at Nineveh.

37 And it happened that as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer struck him down with the sword, and escaped into the land of Armenia. And his son Esarhaddon reigned in his place.

20 In those days Hezekiah became sick and was near death. And the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, came to him and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: 'Set your house in order, for you are going to die and not live.'"

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the LORD, saying, 3 "I beg you, O LORD, remember now how I have walked before you in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done what is good in your sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

4 And it so happened that before Isaiah had gone out into the middle court, the word of the LORD came to him, saying, 5 "Turn back and tell Hezekiah the leader of my people: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of your father David: I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears. Now I will heal you. On the third day you will go up to the house of the LORD. 6 And I will add fifteen years to your days. And I will deliver you and this city

19:28 19:33,36; Ezek 19:9; 29:4; 38:4. God can do just as He pleases with any nation or army on earth (Dan 4:34,35).

19:29 Evidently the Assyrians had taken the harvest from the fields of Judah or destroyed it. The promise to Hezekiah is that in the third year both the Assyrians and the effects of their invasion would be gone.

19:30 "Remnant" - v 4. Even in the most perilous of times, even in the most apostate of conditions, God always keeps some people for Himself.

19:31 "Zeal of the LORD" - Isa 9:7; 26:11; 42:13; 59:17; 63:15.

19:32-34 God Himself, in His zeal for His people, would defend Jerusalem. This is what preserved the city, not Hezekiah's acts of 18:13-15.

19:34 "Defend" - if God is our defense what is there to fear (Rom 8:31; Heb 13:6)?

"David's sake" - 1 Kings 11:13,36; 15:4. David was the kind of man whom God wanted to do things for, even after his death. Hezekiah was the kind of man whose prayers

God answered (v 20; 20:5). Let us strive to be like them in faith and in faithfulness.

19:35 "Angel of the LORD" - note at Gen 16:7. To punish one nation for its sins God may use the armies of another nation, but He does not need to use that means. See Isa 31:8. Compare Ex 12:29; 2 Sam 24:16; Rev 19:15,19-21.

19:36 "Departed" - vs 7,28. Once again God's Word was completely fulfilled.

"Nineveh" - the capital of Assyria.
19:37 "His sons" - this was the end of the mighty monarch who dared to insult and blaspheme the true God (vs 22,23).

20:1-21 2 Chron 32:24-33; Isa 38:1-39:8.
20:3 18:3-6. Compare Neh 5:19; 13:14,22; Ps 18:23-26.

20:4 "Word of the LORD came" - Jer 1:2; Ezek 1:3; Jonah 1:1; Hag 1:1; Zech 1:1; etc.

20:5 "I have heard" - 19:20; Ps 39:12; 56:8; 65:2.

"Heal" - Ex 15:26; 1 Sam 2:6; Ps 103:3.

20:6 "I will deliver" - these words seem to

from the hands of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake."

7 And Isaiah said, "Take a lump of figs." And they took it and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.

8 And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "What is the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I will go up to the house of the LORD on the third day?"

9 And Isaiah said, "This is the sign you have from the LORD, that the LORD will do what he has spoken: Shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go backward ten degrees?"

10 And Hezekiah answered, "It is an easy thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees. No, but let the shadow go backward ten degrees."

11 And Isaiah the prophet cried out to the LORD, and he brought the shadow ten degrees backward, from which it had gone down in the sundial of Ahaz.

12 At that time Berodach Baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that Hezekiah had been sick. 13 And Hezekiah listened to them, and showed them all his treasure house, the silver and the gold and the spices and the valuable oil, and his armoury, and all that was found in his treasuries. There was nothing in his house, or in all his dominion, that Hezekiah did not show them.

14 Then Isaiah the prophet came to king Hezekiah and said to him, "What did these men say? And where did they come from to you?"

And Hezekiah said, "They came from a far country, from Babylon."

15 And he said, "What did they see in your house?"

And Hezekiah answered, "They saw everything that is in my house. There is nothing among my treasures that I did not show them."

16 And Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD. 17 'See, the days are coming that all that is in your house, and what your fathers have stored up to this day, will be carried into Babylon. Nothing will be left, says the LORD. 18 And some of your sons, your own offspring who will be born to you, will be taken away by them, and they will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.'"

19 Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "The word of the LORD which you have spoken is good." And he said, "Is it not good, if there are peace and truth in my days?"

20 And the rest of the acts of Hezekiah and all his might, and how he made a pool and a channel and brought water into the city, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 21 And Hezekiah slept with his ancestors, and his son Manasseh reigned in his stead.

21 Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hephzibah. 2 And he did what was evil in the sight

indicate that Hezekiah's illness and recovery preceded the events of the previous chapter. It appears that if Hezekiah's life had not been lengthened, he would not have been alive when Sennacherib's army came against Jerusalem. Also Manasseh, Judah's worst king, would never have been born (20:1). When God acts in answer to man's prayers it can have a profound effect on later events. 20:7 "Lump of figs" – God said He would heal Hezekiah. But God's prophet did not think that this excluded the use of human means of healing. God may use human remedies and medicines in His work of healing, though He is in no way dependent on them, and He may heal directly and altogether miraculously when He wishes.

20:8 "Sign" – note on signs at Isa 7:10,11. God did not rebuke Hezekiah for asking for a sign, but gave him one. See also Judges 6:17,36-40.

20:10 Isa 38:8. This "sundial" was probably the stairway of Ahaz, constructed in such a way that it revealed the time of day. As the sun's position in the sky moves to the west, shadows cast by things on earth naturally lengthen toward the east. For the shadows to shorten would have been contrary to nature, and, so, miraculous. God, who made the heavens and the earth, has no difficulty influencing any part He wishes at any time. See Josh 10:12-14.

20:13 "Treasure" – see 18:15. This indicates that the visit of the messengers from Babylon took place before the army of Assyria invaded Judah in 18:13. When the Babylonians came there was still great wealth in Jerusalem, and pride had entered the heart of Hezekiah (2 Chron 32:25-27). 20:17,18 24:12-15; 25:7,13-15; 2 Chron 33:11.

"Eunuchs" – this word was sometimes used to mean those who served in a king's palace whether they were literal eunuchs or not.

20:19 1 Sam 3:18.

20:20 "Annals" – note at 1 Kings 14:19.

21:1-9 2 Chron 33:1-9. Manasseh reigned longer than any other king of Judah, and during the first part of his reign he was the worst of all Judah's kings. At that time evil came to its dreadful climax in that kingdom. He finally repented (2 Chron 33:10-16), but his repentance could not undo all the evil he had done.

21:1 "Twelve" – if God had not added 15 years to Hezekiah's life (20:6), Manasseh would not have been born.

21:2 Instead of following his father, he

of the LORD, following the abominations of the nations whom the LORD cast out before the children of Israel. 3 For he rebuilt the high places which his father Hezekiah had destroyed, and he raised up altars for Baal, and made a grove, like Ahab king of Israel did, and he worshipped all the starry host of heaven and served them. 4 And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD said, "In Jerusalem I will put my name." 5 And he built altars for all the starry host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD. 6 And he made his son pass through the fire, and practiced witchcraft, and used divination, and had dealings with spiritists and mediums. He did much wickedness in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

7 And a carved image of Asherah that he had made, he set up in the temple of which the LORD said to David and to his son Solomon, "I will put my name forever in this house and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all tribes of Israel. 8 Nor will I make the feet of Israel move any more out of the land which I gave their fathers, if only they will be careful to do all that I have commanded them, and in accordance with all the law that my servant Moses commanded them." 9 But they did not listen, and Manasseh led them astray to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the LORD spoke by his servants the prophets, saying, 11 "Because Manasseh king of Judah has done these abominations, and has acted more wickedly than all the Amorites who were before him, and has also caused Judah to sin with his idols, 12 thus says the LORD God of Israel: See, I am going to bring such a disaster on Jerusalem and Judah that both ears of whoever hears of it will tingle. 13 And I will stretch over Jerusalem the measuring line of Samaria, and the plumb line of the house of Ahab, and I will wipe Jerusalem like a man wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down. 14 And I will forsake the remnant of my inheritance, and deliver them into the hands of their enemies; and they will become a prey and plunder to all their enemies, 15 because they have done what is evil in my sight and have provoked me to anger, since the day their fathers came out of Egypt to this day."

16 Moreover, Manasseh shed very much innocent blood until he filled Jerusalem from one end to the other, besides his sin with which he caused Judah to sin, doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

17 Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh and all that he did, and his sin that he committed, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 18 And Manasseh slept with his ancestors, and was buried in the garden of his own house, in the garden of Uzza; and his son Amon reigned in his stead.

19 Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Meshullemeth; she was the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah. 20 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had done. 21 And he walked in all the way in which his father walked, and served the idols that his father served and worshipped them, 22 and he forsook the LORD God of his fathers, and did not walk in the way of the LORD.

23 And the servants of Amon conspired against him, and killed the king in his own house. 24 And the people of the land killed all those who had conspired against king Amon, and the people of the land made his son Josiah king in his place.

25 Now the rest of the acts of Amon which he followed his grandfather (16:3).

21:3 "High places" - 18:4; note at 1 Kings 3:2.

"Baal" - note at Jud 2:11. "A grove" - or "Asherah pole" - Jud 3:7.

"Ahab" - 1 Kings 16:30-33.

"Host" - Deut 17:2-5; 1 Kings 17:16.

21:4 "Name" - 2 Sam 7:13; 1 Kings 8:29; 9:3.

21:5 23:4,5,12. Compare Ezek 8:5-18.

21:6 He seemed determined to do everything that God hated and commanded not to be done - Lev 18:21; 19:26,31; 20:2; Deut 18:10-14.

"Through the fire" - note at 16:3.

"Anger" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; etc.

21:7 Deut 16:21.

21:8 2 Sam 7:10.

21:9 "Nations. . . destroyed" - Deut 12:29-31; 31:3; Josh 21:43-45; 24:15.

21:11 "Amorites" - Gen 15:16; 1 Kings 21:26. 21:12 Jer 15:4; 19:3; Hab 1:5.

21:13 22:16-19; Isa 34:11; Amos 7:7-9,17.

"Measuring line" - here this means preparing them for destruction.

21:14 "I will forsake" - that is, He would not defend them from punishment (Jer 6:9). He did not, and will never, forsake the remnant of His people permanently (Isa 54:6-8).

21:15 "Egypt" - see Deut 9:24; Jud 2:10-23; 2 Kings 17:7-17.

21:16 24:3,4. After all that, was it possible for Manasseh to repent, turn to the Lord and be saved? See 2 Chron 33:11-16.

21:17 "Annals" - 1 Kings 14:19.

21:18 "Slept" - 1 Kings 2:10.

21:19-24 2 Chron 23:21-25.

21:22 He followed his father's evil ways, but not his good ways which Manasseh displayed after his repentance.

did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 26 And he was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzza, and his son Josiah reigned in his stead.

22 Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jedidah. She was the daughter of Adaiah of Boscath. 2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in all the way of his father David, and did not turn aside to the right or to the left.

3 And it came about in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, that the king sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, the son of Meshullam, the scribe, to the house of the LORD, saying, 4 "Go up to Hilkiyah the high priest, that he may count the money which has been brought into the house of the LORD, which the doorkeepers have collected from the people; 5 and let them deliver it into the hands of the workers who have the oversight of the house of the LORD, and let them give it to those who are doing the work which is going on in the house of the LORD, repairing the damaged places in the house, 6 to the carpenters and builders and masons, and to buy timber and cut stone to repair the house. 7 However, no accounting needs to be made with them about the money that was delivered into their hands, because they have dealt faithfully."

8 And Hilkiyah the high priest said to Shaphan the scribe, "I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD." And Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it. 9 And Shaphan the scribe came to the king, bringing word back to the king, and said, "Your servants have collected the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hands of the workers who have the oversight of the house of the LORD." 10 And Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, "Hilkiyah the priest has delivered a book to me." And Shaphan read it in the king's presence.

11 And it came about that when the king heard the words of the book of the law, he tore his clothes. 12 And the king gave an order to Hilkiyah the priest and Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Achbor, the son of Michaiah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asahiah, a servant of the king, saying, 13 "Go, inquire of the LORD for me and for the people and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that has been found; for great is the wrath of the LORD that burns against us, because our fathers did not listen to the words of this book, to do according to all that which is written concerning us."

14 So Hilkiyah the priest and Ahikam and Achbor and Shaphan and Asahiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum, the son of Tikvah, the son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the second district), and they spoke with her.

15 And she said to them, "Thus says the LORD God of Israel: 'Tell the man who sent you to me, 16 thus says the LORD: See, I will bring disaster on this place and on its inhabitants, according to all the words of the book which the king of Judah has read, 17 because they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, provoking me to anger with all the works of their hands. Therefore my wrath will burn against this place, and will not be quenched.' 18 But you shall say this to the king

22:1-20 2 Chron 34:1-28.

22:1 "Josiah" - 1 Kings 13:2. Josiah was one of the best of all Judah's kings, his father, Amon, one of the worst. Compare 18:1,2. Perhaps Josiah's mother made all the difference. Her name means "beloved."

22:2 "David" - 18:3.

"Or to the left" - Deut 5:32; Josh 1:7.

22:4 12:4,9,10. The repairs in the reign of Joash had been undertaken about 190 years before.

22:7 12:15. Having honest and faithful men is a great blessing in any work of God, but often it seems that such men are very hard to find.

22:8 "Book of the law" - this phrase usually meant either the entire Pentateuch (the first five books of the Bible), or the book of Deuteronomy (Deut 31:24-26; 2 Chron 34:14).

22:11-13 The contents of the book of the law seem to have been new to Josiah. This is an indication of the degraded state into which the nation had sunk and how God's law was disregarded during the long reign of Manasseh. Josiah, reading the book, is appalled at the extent of their disobedience. One reason many in Christian circles are not disturbed at their own condition and the condition of the people is ignorance of the Word of God, a lack of spiritual understanding of it. Compare Rom 7:7; etc. When we are enlightened to understand God's Word, and when we take it seriously, we will see at once how far short of its standards we come.

22:11 "Tore" - 19:1; Gen 37:34; 2 Sam 13:31.

22:12 "Ahikam" - 25:22.

22:13 Lev 26:27,28; Deut 28:20,45-57. Notes on God's anger at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; etc.

22:14 Other women in the Bible who had the gift of prophecy were Miriam the sister of Moses (Ex 15:20), Deborah (Jud 4:4), Anna (Luke 2:36), and Philip's daughters (Acts 21:9). Both the prophets Jeremiah and Zephaniah lived during the reign of Josiah. But for some undisclosed reason Hilkiyah and the others did not go to either of them.

of Judah who sent you to inquire of the LORD: 'Thus says the LORD God of Israel concerning the words which you have heard, 19 because your heart was tender, and you have humbled yourself before the LORD when you heard what I spoke against this place and against its inhabitants, that they would become a desolation and a curse, and you have torn your clothes and wept before me, I have also heard you, says the LORD. 20 Therefore, I will gather you to your ancestors, and you will be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes will not see all the disaster which I will bring on this place.'" And they brought back word to the king.

23 And the king sent word, and they gathered to him all the elders of Judah and of Jerusalem. 2 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and with him went all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests and the prophets and all the people, both small and great. And in their hearing he read all the words of the book of the covenant which had been found in the house of the LORD. 3 And the king stood by a pillar and made a covenant before the LORD, to follow the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people took their stand for the covenant.

4 And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order and the doorkeepers, to bring out of the temple of the LORD all the articles that were made for Baal and for Asherah and for all the starry host of heaven. And he burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron and took their ashes to Bethel. 5 And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense on the high places in the cities of Judah and in the places around Jerusalem, also those who burned incense to Baal, to the sun and to the moon and to the planets, and to all the starry host of heaven. 6 And he brought the Asherah pole from the house of the LORD outside Jerusalem to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron, and ground it to powder and threw its ashes on the graves of the children of the people. 7 And he tore down the houses of the male shrine prostitutes that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for Asherah.

8 And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Geba to Beersheba, and broke down the high places at the gates that were at the entrance of the Gate of Joshua, the governor of the city, which were on a person's left at the city gate. 9 Nevertheless the priests of the high places did not come up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they ate of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom, so that no man might make his son or his daughter pass through the fire to Molech. 11 And he took away the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun, at the entrance of the house of the LORD, by the room of Nathan-Melech, an official, which was in the court, and he burned the chariots of the sun with fire.

12 And the king broke down the altars that were on the roof of the upper room of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD. And he smashed them there and threw their dust into the brook Kidron. 13 And the king defiled the high places that were before

22:19 A very important spiritual concept is here - 1 Kings 21:29; 2 Chron 7:14; 33:12,13; Ps 51:17; Isa 57:15; 66:2; Matt 18:2,3; Jam 4:6. If we want God to hear us we must humble ourselves and be responsive to His Word - John 15:7.

23:3 "Stood by a pillar" - 11:14.

"Covenant" - the covenant God made with Israel through Moses - Ex 19:5; 24:3,7; Deut 4:1-6; 5:1-22.

"Took their stand" - they had done so at other times in their history (Ex 19:8; 24:3,7; Deut 5:27; Josh 24:16-18,21,24; 2 Chron 15:12; 23:16,17. Compare Jer 42:5,6).

23:4 These must have been put there by Josiah's father Amon (21:21,22). Notes on Baal and Ashtoreth at Jud 2:11; 1 Kings 11:5; 16:31.

23:5 "Idolatrous priests" - compare 1 Kings 12:31; 13:33,34; Hos 10:5; Zeph 1:4.

"High places" - 1 Kings 3:22.

"Hosts" - 17:16; 21:3,5; Deut 17:2-5; Ezek 8:15,16.

23:6 "Asherah" - note at Jud 3:7.

23:7 Note at 1 Kings 14:24.

23:8 "High places" - 18:4; 21:3.

23:10 Lev 18:21; Deut 18:10; 1 Kings 11:5,7; Isa 30:33; Jer 7:31,32; 19:5,6; Ezek 23:37-39.

"Fire" - note at 16:3.

23:11 Sun worship was absolutely forbidden - Deut 4:19. It is called detestable (Deut 17:2-5), which means that the true God hates and despises it. See Rom 1:25. We must worship the Creator, not the things the Creator has made.

23:12 21:5. Though Manasseh repented toward the end of his reign and destroyed some of the places where idolatry had been, it would seem from this that he did not destroy them all. Or else his son Amon restored them.

23:13 See 1 Kings 11:5,7. These had

Jerusalem, which were on the right of the Mount of Corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth, the abomination of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh, the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom, the abomination of the children of Ammon. 14 And he broke the images in pieces and cut down the groves and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Moreover the altar that was at Bethel, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he broke down, and burned the high place and crushed it to powder, and burned the grove. 16 And as Josiah turned around, he saw the tombs that were there in the mountain, and sent men and removed the bones from the tombs, and burned them on the altar and polluted it, according to the word of the LORD which the man of God proclaimed, who proclaimed these words.

17 Then he said, "What is that tombstone that I see?" And the men of the city told him, "It is the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and proclaimed these things that you have done against the altar of Bethel."

18 And he said, "Let him alone. Do not let anyone move his bones." So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet who came out of Samaria.

19 And also all the shrines of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made, provoking the LORD to anger, Josiah took away and did to them just as he had done everything in Bethel. 20 And he killed all the priests of the high places who were there on the altars, and burned men's bones on them, and returned to Jerusalem.

21 And the king commanded all the people, saying, "Keep the Passover to the LORD your God, as it is written in the book of this covenant." 22 Surely no such Passover was kept from the days of the judges who judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, nor of the kings of Judah. 23 But in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, this Passover was held before the LORD in Jerusalem.

24 Moreover Josiah put away the spiritists and the mediums and the images and the idols, and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might carry out the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest had found in the house of the LORD. 25 And there was no king like him before him, who turned to the LORD with all his heart and with all his soul and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; nor did any like him arise after him.

26 Nevertheless the LORD did not turn from the fierceness of his great wrath, his anger which burned against Judah because of all the provocations with which Manasseh had provoked him. 27 And the LORD said, "I will remove Judah also out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, 'My name will be there.'"

28 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah?

29 In his days Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt went remained there for three hundred years, through the reigns of even the best of Judah's kings.

"Milcom" – Molech.

23:14 "Bones" – these would defile those sites.

23:15,16 1 Kings 12:28-33. Josiah thus fulfilled a prophecy uttered nearly three hundred years before – 1 Kings 13:2.

23:17,18 1 Kings 13:1,30-32.

23:20 17:27,28,33,34. These were priests of the apostate religious system that came into existence after the northern kingdom Israel had gone into captivity.

23:21 "Passover" – Ex 12:3; Lev 23:5; Deut 16:2-8; 2 Chron 35:1-19.

23:24 "Spiritists" – Ex 22:18; Lev 19:31; 20:6; Deut 18:10-12; 2 Kings 21:6; Isa 8:19.

"Images and idols" – notice that these also are called "abominations."

23:25 Hezekiah and Josiah are the only two kings of Judah who receive unqualified commendation in the Bible. Hezekiah was highly praised particularly for his faith (18:5), Josiah for his turning to God and for his zeal for the law of Moses. Of course, this does not mean that either of these men was sinless and perfect.

23:26 "Anger" – notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

"Manasseh" – 21:11-13,15; Jer 15:4. Manasseh repented and was forgiven, but there were consequences of his sins and the sins of the people which they had to bear. Compare 2 Sam 12:10-14. For all the thoroughness of Josiah's reformation, Judah did not escape the judgment of God. The people outwardly submitted to Josiah's work of reformation, but they did not take to heart his principles. This is clear from the book of Jeremiah which was written in the days of Josiah and his sons (see Jer 3:6-10). Jehoahaz and Eliakim, Josiah's sons, both "did evil in the eyes of the Lord" (vs 32,37). 23:27 "Israel" – 17:18-23; 18:11.

"Cast off" – but only for a time, not forever (Jer 30:18; 31:38-40).

"My Name" – 1 Kings 8:29; 2 Kings 21:4,7.

23:28 "Annals" – 1 Kings 14:19.

23:29 2 Chron 35:20-27. Assyria was being attacked by Babylon. Egypt went to help Assyria because it feared the rising power up to the river Euphrates against the king of Assyria, and king Josiah went against him. And when Neco saw him he killed him at Megiddo. 30 And his servants took his dead body in a chariot from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem and buried him in his own tomb. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz, the son of Josiah, and anointed him and made him king in his father's place.

31 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal; she was the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 32 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, in everything just as his ancestors had done. 33 And Pharaoh Neco put him in chains at Riblah in the land of Hamath, so that he might not reign in Jerusalem, and he imposed on the land a fine of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold. 34 And Pharaoh Neco made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in place of his father Josiah, and changed his name to Jehoiakim, and took Jehoahaz away and went to Egypt, where he died. 35 And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he taxed the land to give the money in accordance with the command of Pharaoh. He exacted the silver and the gold from the people of the land, from each one according to his assessment, to give it to Pharaoh Neco.

36 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zebudah; she was the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah. 37 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, in everything just as his ancestors had done.

24 In his days Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came up, and Jehoiakim became of Babylon. Josiah wanted Babylon to prevail. Babylon did, but this eventually resulted in disaster to Judah.

23:30-34 2 Chron 36:1-4.

23:32 "Ancestors" – not Josiah, but Amon and Manasseh (21:2-7,20-22).

23:33 "Riblah", "Hamath" – north of Israel in present-day Syria.

"A hundred talents" – one talent was about 34 kilograms.

23:34 Jehoahaz was also called Shallum – Jer 22:11,12; Ezek 19:3,4.

23:36 24:6; 2 Chron 36:5-8.

24:1-20 2 Chron 36:6-16.

24:1 "Nebuchadnezzar" – he was one of the most powerful and famous kings in ancient times. He made Babylon the strongest kingdom in the world of his day, and ruled it for 43 years (605 - 562 B.C.).

24:2 "The LORD sent" – Jer 25:9; 51:20. Compare 2:14; 6:1; 13:1; 1 Kings 11:9,14; 2 Chron 12:1,2; Isa 10:5,6; Hab 1:5,6. Throughout Israel's history his servant for three years. Then he turned and rebelled against him. 2 And the LORD sent against him raiding bands of the Chaldeans and bands of the Syrians and bands of the Moabites and bands of the children of Ammon; and he sent them against Judah to destroy it, in accordance with the word of the LORD which he spoke through his servants the prophets. 3 Surely this came on Judah at the command of the LORD, to remove them out of his sight, because of the sins of Manasseh, for all that he did, 4 and also for the innocent blood that he shed. For he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, which the LORD would not pardon.

5 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of The Annals of the Kings of Judah? 6 So Jehoiakim slept with his ancestors, and his son Jehoiachin reigned in his place.

7 And the king of Egypt no longer came again out of his land, for the king of Babylon had taken all that had been in the possession of the king of Egypt from the river of Egypt to the river Euphrates.

8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. And his mother's name was Nehushta. She was the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem. 9 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, in everything just as his father had done.

10 At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against Jerusalem, and the city was besieged. 11 And Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came against the city, and his servants besieged it. 12 And Jehoiachin, the king of Judah, went out to the king of Babylon, he and his mother and his servants and his officials and his officers; and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign. 13 And he carried out

God often raised up enemies to punish Israel for its sin.

"Chaldeans" – they were Babylonians (see 25:4).

"Prophets" – Isa 39:5-7; Jer 12:7-9; Ezek 23:23-27.

24:3 "Manasseh" – 21:1-16; 23:26,27; Jer 15:3,4.

24:4 21:16. The blood of those godly people cried from the ground for vengeance (compare Gen 4:10), and God could not ignore it. God is merciful and ready, yes, eager, to forgive when men repent and seek Him (Ex 34:6,7; Isa 55:7,8). But the people of Judah did not repent.

24:5 "Annals" – 1 Kings 14:19.

24:6 "Slept" – note at 1 Kings 2:10.

"Jehoiachin" – Jer 22:18,19.

24:7 The territory mentioned here was not in Egypt itself but was controlled by Egypt.

from there all the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the articles of gold which Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had said. 14 And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the officials and all the valiant warriors, ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and smiths. No one remained except the poorest people of the land.

15 And he carried Jehoiachin away to Babylon, and he took into captivity the king's mother and the king's wives and his officers and the mighty men of the land, from Jerusalem to Babylon. 16 And the king of Babylon took captive to Babylon all the mighty men, seven thousand in number, and a thousand craftsmen and smiths, all who were strong and fit for war. 17 And the king of Babylon made Jehoiachin's uncle Mattaniah king in his place, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal. She was the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. 19 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, in everything just as Jehoiakim had done. 20 For through the anger of the LORD it came about that until he had cast them out of his presence, in Jerusalem and Judah Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

25 And it came about in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and encamped against it. And they built a siege wall against it all around. 2 And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. 3 And on the ninth day of the fourth month the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land. 4 And the city was broken through, and all the men of war fled at night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden, though the Chaldeans were all around the city. And the king went on the way toward the plain. 5 And the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king and caught up with him in the plains of Jericho; and all his army scattered from him. 6 So they took the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah, and they pronounced judgment on him. 7 And they killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with bronze fetters and carried him away to Babylon.

8 And in the fifth month, on the seventh of the month, which was in the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, commander of the guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem. 9 And he burned the house of the LORD and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem. He burned with fire every great man's house. 10 And the whole army of the Chaldeans, that was with the commander of the guard, broke down the walls of Jerusalem all around. 11 Now Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, took away the rest of the people who were left in the city, and the fugitives who had defected to the king of Babylon, with the rest of the population. 12 But the commander of the guard left some of the poor of the land to be vineyard workers and farmers.

13 And the Chaldeans broke in pieces the bronze pillars that were in the house of the LORD, and the stands and the bronze sea that was at the house of the LORD, and carried their bronze away to Babylon. 14 And they took away the pots and the shovels and the snuffers and the spoons and all the bronze articles with which the priests ministered. 15 And the commander of the guard took away the firepans and the bowls, and the gold and silver of those things which had gold or silver.

16 As for the two pillars, one sea, and the stands which Solomon had made for the house of the LORD, the weight of the bronze of all these articles was beyond measure. 17 The height of one pillar was

25:3 "Famine" - Jer 38:2-9; Lam 1:11; 2:20; 4:9,10; 5:10. This is one of the curses God said would come on them if they broke His covenant - Lev 26:26; Deut 28:53-57.

25:4 "Chaldeans" - they were Babylonians.

Chaldea was one of the main areas of the kingdom of Babylon and sometimes the whole kingdom was called by that name.

"The plain" - here means the Jordan valley, called the Arabah in Hebrew.

25:6 23:33; Jer 39:5; 52:9.

25:7 Jer 32:4,5; 34:2,3; 38:18; Ezek 12:13; 17:16.

25:8,9 Jer 17:27; 52:12,13. This was God's temple, the place He had chosen for His name and presence. But because the people misused it and defiled it He Himself sent the Babylonians to destroy it.

25:10 Neh 1:3.

25:13 "Pillars" - 1 Kings 7:15-22. These pillars had stood for 350 years.

eighteen cubits, and the capital on it was of bronze; and the height of the capital was three cubits; and the woven work and pomegranates all around on the capital were all of bronze. And the second pillar was the same, with woven work.

18 And the commander of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.

19 And he took from the city an officer who had been appointed over the men of war, and five men of those who had been in the king's presence, who were found in the city, and the principal scribe of the army, who conscripted the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land who were found in the city; 20 and Nebuzaradan, the commander of the guard, took these and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah. 21 And the king of Babylon struck them down and killed them at Riblah in the land of Hamath.

So Judah was carried away out of their land.

22 And as for the people that remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, he made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, ruler over them. 23 And when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor, Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah and Johanan, the son of Careah, and Seraiah, the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah, the son of a Maachathite, they and their men, came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. 24 And Gedaliah took an oath before them and before their men, and said to them, "Do not be afraid to be the servants of the Chaldeans. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it will be well with you."

25 But it came about in the seventh month, that Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal line, and ten men with him, came and struck down Gedaliah, killing him and the Jews and the Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah. 26 And all the people, both small and great, and the captains of the armies, arose and went to Egypt, for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

27 And it came about in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, that Evil Merodach, king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, released Jehoiachin king of Judah from prison 28 and spoke kindly to him and gave him a seat more prominent than the seats of the kings who were with him in Babylon, 29 and changed his prison garments. And Jehoiachin ate food regularly in his presence all the days of his life. 30 And as for his allowance, a regular allowance was given him by the king, a portion for each day, all the days of his life.

"Sea" – 1 Kings 7:23-26.

25:18 "Seraiah" – Ezra 7:1.

"Zephaniah" – Jer 21:1; 29:25; 37:3. He was not the prophet of the same name. 25:21 23:27; Lev 26:33; Deut 28:36; Jer 25:8-11. God's people had been in the land for about 800 years, from the time of Joshua. God removed them from the land because they repeatedly broke His covenant and would not listen to His messengers (2 Chron 36:15-17; Jer 11:1-13). Their history showed that they were a sinful and rebellious people (as, indeed, all men are by nature. See notes at 17:13,19). But this was not the end of their story. Ezekiel, Daniel, and Esther record some of the events which took place during their exile from the land. Ezra, Nehemiah, Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi (and, of course, the four Gospels and part of Acts) record some of their history when the exile was over.

25:22 Jer 39:14; 40:7.

25:25 Jer 40:13 – 41:15.

25:26 "Egypt" – this happened in spite of Jeremiah's severe warnings and attempts to prevent it (Jer 41:16 – 43:7).

25:27 "Thirty-seventh year" – about 561 B.C.

25:30 Though God's people went into exile, they were not completely destroyed, and David's royal house survived, as God had promised it would (2 Sam 7:14-16). For a reason why Jehoiachin (and other exiles from Judah) found some kindness in Babylon see 1 Kings 8:50; Ps 106:46.

1 CHRONICLES

Title:

In the Hebrew Bible 1 Chronicles and 2 Chronicles were a single book. Jewish scholars divided them into two when they translated the Old Testament into Greek.

Author and date:

According to ancient Jewish tradition Ezra wrote both books of Chronicles, as well as Ezra and Nehemiah. These books were written probably between 450 and 430 BC.

Themes:

Genealogies tracing the origins of the people of Israel back to Abraham, Noah, and Adam. Most of this book gives events in the life of king David. In this way it can be compared with 2 Samuel. But this book emphasizes the greatness of David and has little to say about his sins and the punishment that came to him because of them. The story of his sin with Bathsheba is omitted; also the account of Absalom's rebellion. This book teaches that the true glory of the Jewish nation could be found only in its relationship with Jehovah God. Obeying the one true God is the key to success and blessing.

1 Adam, Seth, Enosh, 2 Kenan, Mahalaleel, Jered, 3 Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, 4 Noah, Shem, Ham and Japheth.

5 The sons of Japheth: Gomer and Magog and Madai and Javan and Tubal and Meshech and Tiras. 6 And the sons of Gomer: Ashkenaz and Riphath and Togarmah. 7 And the sons of Javan: Elishah and Tarshish, Kittim and Dodanim.

8 The sons of Ham: Cush and Mizraim, Put and Canaan. 9 And the sons of Cush: Seba and Havilah and Sabta and Raamah and Sabtecha. And the sons of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan. 10 And Cush begot Nimrod. He began to be mighty on the earth. 11 And Mizraim begot Ludim and Anamim and Lehabim and Naphtuhim 12 and Pathrusim and Casluhim (of whom came the Philistines) and Caphthorim. 13 And Canaan begot Sidon, his firstborn, and Heth, 14 and the Jebusite and the Amorite and the Girgashite, 15 and the Hivite and the Arkite and the Sinite 16 and the Arvadite and the Zemarite and the Hamathite.

7 The sons of Shem: Elam and Asshur and Arphaxad and Lud and Aram and Uz and Hul and Gether and Meshech. 18 And Arphaxad begot Shelah, and Shelah begot Eber. 19 And to Eber were born two sons; the name of one was Peleg, because in his days the earth was divided; and his brother's name was Joktan. 20 And Joktan begot Almodad and Sheleph and Hazarmaveth and Jerah 21 and Hadoram and Uzal and Diklah 22 and Ebal and Abimael and Sheba 23 and Ophir and Havilah and Jobab. All these were the sons of Joktan.

24 Shem, Arphaxad, Shelah, 25 Eber, Peleg, Reu, 26 Serug, Nahor, Terah, 27 Abram (he is Abraham).

28 The sons of Abraham: Isaac and Ishmael. 29 These are their generations: The firstborn of Ishmael, Nebaioth; then Kedar and Adbeel and Mibsam, 30 Mishma and Dumah, Massa, Hadad and Tema, 31 Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah. These are the sons of Ishmael. 32 Now the sons of Keturah, Abraham's concubine: she bore Zimran and Jokshan and Medan and Midian and Ishbak and Shuah. And the sons of Jokshan: Sheba and Dedan. 33 And the sons of Midian: Ephah and Epher and Hanoch and Abida and Eldaah. All these are the sons of Keturah.

34 And Abraham begot Isaac. The sons of Isaac: Esau and Israel. 35 The sons of Esau: Eliphaz, Reuel and Jeush and Jaalam and Korah. 36 The sons of Eliphaz: Teman and Omar, Zephi and Gatam, Kenaz and Timna and Amalek. 37 The sons of Reuel: Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah.

38 And the sons of Seir: Lotan and Shobal and Zibeon and Anah and Dishon and Ezar and Dishan. 39 And the sons of Lotan: Hori and Homam; and Timna was Lotan's sister. 40 The sons of Shobal: Alian and Manahath and Ebal, Shephi and Onan. And the sons of Zibeon: Aiah and Anah. 41 The sons of Anah: Dishon. And the sons of Dishon: Amram and Eshban and Ithran and Cheran. 42 The sons of Ezer: Bilhan and Zavan and Jakan. The sons of Dishan: Uz and Aran.

43 Now these are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom before any king reigned over the children of Israel: Bela, the son of Beor (and the name of his city was Dinhabah); 44 and when Bela died, Jobab the son of Zerah of Bozrah reigned in his place. 45 And when Jobab died, Husham of the land of the Temanites reigned in his place. 46 And when Husham died, Hadad, the son of Bedad, who defeated Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his place; and the name of his city was Avith. 47 And when Hadad died, Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his place. 48 And when Samlah died, Shaul of Rehoboth by the River reigned in his place. 49 And when Shaul died, Baal-Hanan, the son of Achbor, reigned in his place. 50 And when Baal-Hanan died, Hadad reigned in his place; and the name of his city was Pai; and his wife's name was Mehetabel. She

1:1 Chapters 1-9 contain the most extensive genealogical records in the Bible. They show that the individuals of the Bible were rooted in history, were not characters of myths and legends, or born only in the brains of poets. They gave the people of God, returned from captivity in Babylon (9:1,2), a link with their past. They could see, almost at a glance, an outline of history from the first man on earth to the captivity, and God's continuing purpose with them, His chosen people.

1:1-53 These genealogies are based on those in the book of Genesis – Gen 5:1-32; 10:1-32; 11:10-32; 25:1-26; 36:1-43.

1:1 Cain and Abel are not mentioned. The author traces the descendants of Seth only, because the nation Israel came from that line.

1:5 "Sons" – in Hebrew usage sons may mean literal sons, or grandsons, or descendants, or successors, or even peoples.

1:8 "Mizraim" – Egypt.

1:10 "Begot" – in Hebrew usage this may not always mean "became the father of", but can mean "became the grandfather of" or "became the ancestor of", etc.

1:19 "Peleg" – the name means "division."

1:27 Gen 11:26. From here on only the genealogies of the descendants of Abraham are given.

1:32 Gen 25:1.

1:34 "Israel" – Gen 25:24-26; 32:27,28.

1:43 "Edom" – Gen 25:30; Edom became the name of the land settled by Esau's descendants. Often in their history they showed their hostility to the nation of Israel.

1:48 "The River" – the Euphrates.

was the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Mezahab. 51 Hadad also died.

And the dukes of Edom were duke Timnah, duke Aliah, duke Jetheth, 52 duke Aholibamah, duke Elah, duke Pinon, 53 duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar, 54 duke Magdiel, duke Iram. These are the dukes of Edom.

2 These are the sons of Israel: Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun, 2 Dan, Joseph, and Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.

3 The sons of Judah: Er and Onan and Shelah. These three were born to him of the daughter of Shua the Canaanitess. And Er, the firstborn of Judah, was evil in the sight of the LORD; and he put him to death. 4 And Tamar, his daughter-in-law bore him Pharez and Zerah. All the sons of Judah were five.

5 The sons of Pharez: Hezron and Hamul. 6 And the sons of Zerah: Zimri and Ethan and Heman and Calcol and Dara; five of them in all. 7 And the sons of Carmi: Achar, the troubler of Israel, who transgressed in the accursed thing. 8 And the son of Ethan: Azariah.

9 And the sons of Hezron, who were born to him: Jerahmeel and Ram and Chelubai. 10 And Ram begot Amminadab; and Amminadab begot Nahshon, leader of the children of Judah; 11 and Nahshon begot Salma, and Salma begot Boaz, 12 and Boaz begot Obed, and Obed begot Jesse. 13 And Jesse begot his firstborn Eliab, and Abinadab the second, and Shimma the third, 14 Nethaneel the fourth, Raddai the fifth, 15 Ozem the sixth, David the seventh; 16 their sisters were Zeruah and Abigail. And the sons of Zeruah: Abishai and Joab and Asahel, three. 17 And Abigail bore Amasa; and the father of Amasa was Jether the Ishmaelite.

18 And Caleb the son of Hezron begot children of Azubah his wife, and of Jerioth; her sons are these: Jeshar and Shobab and Ardon. 19 And when Azubah died, Caleb took Ephrath for himself, who bore him Hur. 20 And Hur begot Uri, and Uri begot Bezaleel.

21 And afterwards Hezron went in to the daughter of Machir, the father of Gilead, whom he married when he was sixty years old; and she bore him Segub. 22 And Segub begot Jair, who had twenty-three cities in the land of Gilead. 23 And he took Geshur and Aram, with the towns of Jair, from them, with Kenath, and its towns, sixty cities. All these belonged to the sons of Machir, the father of Gilead. 24 And after Hezron died in Caleb-Ephratah, Abiah, Hezron's wife, bore him Ashur, the father of Tekoa.

25 And the sons of Jerahmeel, the firstborn of Hezron, were Ram the firstborn, and Bunah and Oren and Ozem and Ahijah. 26 Jerahmeel also had another wife, whose name was Atarah; she was the mother of Onam. 27 And the sons of Ram, the firstborn of Jerahmeel, were Maaz and Jamin and Eker. 28 And the sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada. And the sons of Shammai: Nadab and Abishur. 29 And the name of the wife of Abishur was Abihail, and she bore him Ahban and Molid. 30 And the sons of Nadab: Seled and Appaim. But Seled died without children. 31 And the son of Appaim: Ishi. And the sons of Ishi: Sheshan, and the child of Sheshan, Ahlai. 32 And the sons of Jada, the brother of Shammai: Jether and Jonathan; and Jether died without children. 33 And the sons of Jonathan: Peleth and Zaza. These were the sons of Jerahmeel. 34 Now Sheshan had no sons, but daughters. And Sheshan had a servant, an Egyptian, whose name was Jarha. 35 And Sheshan gave his daughter to Jarha his servant as his wife, and she bore him Attai. 36 And Attai begot Nathan, and Nathan begot Zabad, 37 and Zabad begot Ephlal, and Ephlal begot Obed, 38 and Obed begot Jehu, and Jehu begot Azariah, 39 and Azariah begot Helez, and Helez begot Eleasah, 40 and Eleasah begot Sisamai, and Sisamai begot Shallum, 41 and Shallum begot Jekamiah, and Jekamiah begot Elishama.

42 Now the sons of Caleb, the brother of Jerahmeel, were Mesha his firstborn, who was the father of Ziph, and the sons of Mareshah, the father of Hebron. 43 And the sons of Hebron: Korah and Tappuah and Rekem and Shema. 44 And Shema begot Raham, the father of Jorkoam; and Rekem begot Shammai. 45 And the son of Shammai was Maon; and Maon was the father of Beth-zur. 46 And Ephah, Caleb's concubine, bore Haran and

2:1-2 Gen 35:23-26. In the following genealogies Zebulun and Dan are omitted. Judah is put first though he was the fourth son of Israel.

2:3-4 Gen 38:3-7; 29:30; Num 26:19-20.

2:5 Gen 46:12; Num 26:21.

2:6-8 Josh 7:1; 1 Kings 4:31.

"Achar" (v 7) - the word means "disaster." Achar is called Achan in Joshua 7:1, etc. 2:9 "Chelubai" - the same person as Caleb. 2:10 "Ram" - of course this name has no connection with any in India. It is from a Hebrew word meaning "high" or "exalted." 2:11,12 Ruth 4:19-22.

"Salma" - a variant of Salmon.

2:16 2 Sam 2:18.

2:17 2 Sam 17:25.

2:20 "Bezalel" - Ex 31:2-11.

2:23 Num 32:41; Deut 3:14. "The towns of Jair" - in Hebrew "Havvoth-Jair."

2:24 "Father" - here may mean political, civic, or military leader (also in vs 42,45, 49-52 and possibly elsewhere).

2:33 "Jerahmeel" - 1 Sam 27:10; 30:27-29.

Moza and Gazez; and Haran begot Gazez. 47 And the sons of Jahdai: Regem and Jotham and Gesham and Pelet and Ephah and Shaaph. 48 Maachah, Caleb's concubine, bore Sheber and Tirhanah. 49 She also bore Shaaph, the father of Madmannah, Sheva, the father of Machbenah, and the father of Gibeaz; and the daughter of Caleb was Achsa.

50 These were the sons of Caleb, the son of Hur, the firstborn of Ephratah: Shobal, the father of Kirjath Jearim, 51 Salma, the father of Bethlehem, Hareph, the father of Beth-Gader. 52 And Shobal, the father of Kirjath Jearim, had sons: Haroeh, and half of the Manahethites. 53 And the families of Kirjath Jearim: the Ithrites and the Puhites and the Shumathites and the Mishraitites. From them came the Zareathites and the Eshtaulites. 54 The sons of Salma: Bethlehem, and the Netophathites, Ataroth, the house of Joab, and half of the Manahethites, the Zorites. 55 And the families of the scribes who lived at Jabez: the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, and Suchathites. These are the Kenites who came from Hemath, the father of the house of Rechab.

3 Now these were the sons of David, who were born to him in Hebron: the firstborn Amnon, of Ahinoam the Jezreelitess; the second Daniel, of Abigail the Carmelitess; 2 the third, Absalom, the son of Maachah, the daughter of Talmai king of Geshur; the fourth, Adonijah, the son of Haggith; 3 the fifth, Shephatiah by Abital; the sixth, Ithream by his wife Eglah. 4 These six were born to him in Hebron; and there he reigned seven years and six months. And he reigned in Jerusalem thirty-three years. 5 And these were born to him in Jerusalem: Shimea and Shobab and Nathan and Solomon, four, by Bathshua the daughter of Ammiel; 6 and Ithar and Elishama and Eliphelet 7 and Nogah and Nepheg and Japhia 8 and Elishama and Eliada and Eliphelet, nine. 9 These were all the sons of David, besides the sons of the concubines; and Tamar was their sister.

10 And Solomon's son was Rehoboam, Abia his son, Asa his son, Jehoshaphat his son, 11 Joram his son, Ahaziah his son, Joash his son, 12 Amaziah his son, Azariah his son, Jotham his son, 13 Ahaz his son, Hezekiah his son, Manasseh his son, 14 Amon his son, Josiah his son.

15 And the sons of Josiah were the firstborn Johanan, the second Jehoiakim, the third Zedekiah, the fourth Shallum.

16 And the sons of Jehoiakim: Jeconiah his son, Zedekiah his son. 17 And the sons of Jeconiah: Assir, Salathiel his son, 18 and Malchiram and Pedaiiah and Shenazar, Jecamiah, Hoshama, and Nedabiah. 19 And the sons of Pedaiiah were Zerubbabel and Shimei; and the sons of Zerubbabel: Meshullam, and Hananiah, and Shelomith their sister; 20 And Hashubah and Ohel and Berechiah and Hasadiah, Jushab-Hesed, five. 21 And the sons of Hananiah: Pelatiah and Jesaiiah; the sons of Rephaiah, the sons of Arnan, the sons of Obadiah, the sons of Shechaniah. 22 And the sons of Shechaniah: Shemaiah; and the sons of Shemaiah: Hattush and Igeal and Bariah and Neariah and Shaphat, six. 23 And the sons of Neariah: Elioenai and Hezekiah and Azrikam, three. 24 And the sons of Elioenai were Hodaiah and Eliashib and Pelaiah and Akkub and Johanan and Dalaiah and Anani, seven.

4 The sons of Judah: Pharez, Hezron, and Carmi, and Hur, and Shobal. 2 And Reaiah, the son of Shobal, begot Jahath; and Jahath begot Ahumai and Lahad. These are the families of the Zorathites. 3 And these were of the father of Etam: Jezreel and Ishma and Idbash; and the name of their sister was Hazeleponi; 4 and Penuel, the father of Gedor,

2:55 "Of the scribes" – or "of the Sopherites" (the Hebrew word which means scribes here could be a proper name).

"Kenites" – Num 10:29-32; Jud 1:16; 4:11.

"Father of the house of Rechab" – or "father of Beth Rechab" ("beth" means "house" in Hebrew).

3:1-9 2 Sam 3:2-5; 5:13-16; 1 Chron 14:3-7.

3:1 "Daniel" – called Kileab in 2 Sam 3:3. Evidently this second son of David had two names. Daniel means "God is my judge." It is likely that he died young. There is no mention of him apart from his birth, and later on Absalom, the third son, apparently thought he was next in line for the throne of David.

"Abigail" – 1 Sam 25:42.

3:2 "Absalom" – 2 Samuel chapters 13-18. "Adonijah" – 1 Kings 1:5-10; 2:13-25.

3:4 2 Sam 2:11; 4:4-5.

3:5 "Shimea" – a variant of Shammua.

"Bathshua" = "Bathsheba" – 2 Sam 11:1-5,26,27; 12:24,25.

3:9 "Tamar" – 2 Sam 13:1.

3:11 "Jehoram" – or "Joram."

3:15 Three sons of Josiah occupied the throne of Judah – Jehoiakim, Zedekiah, and Shallum. Shallum was also called Jehoahaz (2 Kings 23:30-35; Jer 22:11).

3:16 "Jeconiah" – a variant of Jehoiachin (also v 17).

"Zedekiah" – evidently a different Zedekiah from the one in v 15.

3:17 Of Jehoiachin's seven sons none became king of Judah. Compare Jer 22:30.

3:19 Ezra 3:2; Neh 12:1; Hag 1:12 say that Zerubbabel's father was Shealtiel. Possibly Shealtiel died young and Pedaiiah married his widow. See Deut 25:5,6. Or possibly Shealtiel had two names.

4:4 "Father" – here may mean either civic, and Ezer, the father of Hushah. These are the sons of Hur, the firstborn of Ephratah, the father of Bethlehem. 5 And Ashur the father of Tekoa had two wives, Helah and Naarah. 6 And Naarah bore him Ahuzam and Hephher and Temeni and Haahashtari. These were the sons of Naarah. 7 And the sons of Helah were Zereth and Jezoar and Ethnan. 8 And Coz begot Anub and Zobebah and the families of Aharhel the son of Harum.

9 And Jabez was more honourable than his brothers; and his mother called his name Jabez, saying, "Because I bore him in pain." 10 And Jabez called on the God of Israel, saying, "Oh, that you would bless me indeed, and enlarge my territory, and that your hand might be with me, and that you would keep me from evil so that it does not grieve me!" And God granted him what he requested.

11 And Chelub, the brother of Shuah, begot Mehir, who was the father of Eshton. 12 And Eshton begot Beth-Rapha and Paseah and Tehinnah, the father of Imnahash. These are the men of Rechah.

13 And the sons of Kenaz: Othniel and Seraiah; and the sons of Othniel: Hathath. 14 and Meonothai who begot Ophrah; and Seraiah begot Joab, the father of those in the valley of Harashim; and they were craftsmen. 15 And the sons of Caleb, the son of Jephunneh: Iru, Elah, and Naam. And the son of Elah: Kenaz. 16 And the sons of Jehaleleel: Ziph and Ziphah, Tiria and Asareel. 17 And the sons of Ezra were Jether and Mered and Ephraim and Jalon; and she bore Miriam and Shammai and Ishbah, the father of Eshtemoa. 18 And his wife Jehudijah bore Jered, the father of Gedor, and Heber, the father of Socho, and Jekuthiel, the father of Zanoah. And these are the sons of Bithiah, the daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered took. 19 And the sons of his wife Hodiah the sister of Naham, were the father of Keilah the Garmite and Eshtemoa the Maachathite. 20 And the sons of Shimon were Amnon and Rinnah, Benhanan and Tilon. And the sons of Ishi were Zoheth and Benzoheth. 21 The sons of Shelah the son of Judah were Er, the father of Lecah, and Laadah, the father of Mareshah, and the families of the house of those who made fine linen, of the house of Ashbea, 22 and Jokim, and the men of Hozeba, and Joash, and Saraph, who had the dominion in Moab, and Jashubi-lehem. And these are ancient records. 23 These were the potters, and those who lived among plants and hedges; they stayed there near the king for his work.

24 The sons of Simeon were Nemuel and Jamin, Jarib, Zerah and Shaul; 25 Shallum his son, Mibsam his son, Mishma his son. 26 And the sons of Mishma: Hamuel his son, Zacchur his son, Shimei his son. 27 And Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters; but his brothers did not have many children, nor did all their family increase in number like the children of Judah. 28 And they lived at Beersheba and Moladah and Hazarshual, 29 and at Bilhah and at Ezem and at Tolad, 30 and at Bethuel and at Hormah and at Ziklag, 31 and at Beth-Marcaboth and Hazar-Susim and at Beth-Birei and at Shaaraim. These were their cities until the reign of David.

32 And their villages were Etam and Ain, Rimmon and Tochen and Ashan, five towns, 33 and all their villages that were around the same towns as far as Baal. These were their habitations, and their genealogy. 34 And Meshobab and Jamlech and Joshah, the son of Amaziah, 35 and Joel and Jehu, the son of Josibiah, the son of Seraiah, the son of Asiel, 36 and Elioenai and Jaakobah and Jeshohaiah and Asaiah and Adiel and Jesimiel and Benaiah, 37 and Ziza, the son of Shiphi, the son of Allon, the son of Jedaiah, the son of Shimri, the son of Shemaiah.

38 These mentioned by their names were leaders in their families; and the house of their fathers increased greatly. 39 And they went to the entrance of Gedor, to the east side of the valley, to look for pasture for their flocks. 40 And they found rich and good pasture, and the land was spacious and quiet and peaceable; for descendants of Ham had lived there in olden times.

41 And these written by name came in the days of Hezekiah, king of Judah, and attacked their tents and the habitations that were found there, and utterly destroyed them, as it is to this day, and lived in their places, because there was pasture there for their flocks. 42 And some of them, some of the sons of Simeon, five hundred men, went to Mount Seir, having for their captains Pelatiah and political, or military leader (also in vs 12,14, 17,18, and possibly elsewhere).

4:9 "Jabez" - the name means "he makes sorrowful" or "he gives pain."

4:10 At birth he gave pain to his mother, but in life he gave joy to God. He asked for four things and received them all. The things he asked evidently pleased God and they testify to the fact that he was more honorable than his brothers. We would do well to ask for the four things he asked for:

1. That God would bless us indeed

2. That God would enlarge our territories of influence, our ministries and opportunities

3. That God's hand would be with us

4. That God would keep us from evil so that it causes no pain

4:12 "Ir-Nahash" - or "the city of Nahash" (the Hebrew word "ir" can mean town or city, but here may be a proper name).

4:13 "Othniel" - Josh 15:17; Jud 1:13; 3:9-11.

4:15 "Caleb" - Num 13:30; 14:30; Josh 14:6-15.

Neariah and Rephaiah and Uzziel, the sons of Ishi. 43 And they struck down the rest of the Amalekites who had escaped, and they live there to this day.

5 Now the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel (for he was the firstborn, but, since he defiled his father's bed, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph, the son of Israel; and the genealogy is not to be counted according to the birthright. 2 For Judah prevailed over his brothers, and from him came the chief ruler; but the birthright was Joseph's), 3 the sons, I say, of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel, were Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi. 4 The sons of Joel: Shemaiah his son, Gog his son, Shimei his son, 5 Micah his son, Reaia his son, Baal his son, 6 Beerah his son, whom Tilgath-Pilneser, king of Assyria, took away captively; he was the leader of the Reubenites. 7 And his brethren by their families, when the genealogy of their generations was listed, were Jeiel the chief, and Zechariah, 8 and Bela, the son of Azaz, the son of Shema, the son of Joel, who lived in Aroer, as far as Nebo and Baal-Meon: 9 and on the east he lived up to the entrance of the wilderness from the river Euphrates; because their cattle had increased in the land of Gilead. 10 And in the days of Saul they made war with the Hagarites, who fell by their hand; and they lived in their tents throughout all the eastern region of Gilead.

11 And the children of Gad lived opposite them, in the land of Bashan up to Salcah. 12 Joel was their chief, and Shapham the next, and Jaanai, and Shaphat in Bashan. 13 And their brethren of the house of their fathers were Michael and Meshullam and Sheba and Jorai and Jachan and Zia and Heber, seven. 14 These are the children of Abihail, the son of Huri, the son of Jaroah, the son of Gilead, the son of Michael, the son of Jeshishai, the son of Jahdo, the son of Buz; 15 Ahi, the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni, was chief of the house of their fathers. 16 And they lived in Gilead in Bashan and in her towns and in all the areas of Sharon, on their borders. 17 All these were listed by genealogies in the days of Jotham king of Judah and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

18 The sons of Reuben and the Gadites and half the tribe of Manasseh, of valiant men, men able to carry shield and sword and to shoot with the bow and skillful in war, were forty-four thousand seven hundred and sixty who went out to the war. 19 And they made war with the Hagarites, with Jetur and Nephish and Nodab. 20 And they were helped against them, and the Hagarites were delivered into their hands, and all who were with them; for they cried out to God in the battle, and he answered them, because they put their trust in him. 21 And they took away their livestock, fifty thousand of their camels, and two hundred and fifty thousand of their sheep, and two thousand donkeys, and a hundred thousand men. 22 For many fell slain, because the war was from God. And they lived in their places until the captivity.

23 And the children of the half tribe of Manasseh lived in the region. They became numerous from Bashan to Baal-Hermon and Senir and to Mount Hermon. 24 And these were the heads of the house of their fathers: Ephraim and Ishi and Eliel and Azriel and Jeremiah and Hodaviah and Jahdiel, mighty men of valour, famous men and heads of the house of their fathers.

25 And they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and prostituted themselves to the gods of the people of the land, whom God destroyed before them. 26 And the God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Pul, king of Assyria, and the spirit of Tilgath-Pilneser, king of Assyria, and he took the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half tribe of Manasseh away, and brought them to Halah and Habor and Hara and to the river Gozan, as it is to this day.

6 The sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath and Merari. 2 And the sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar and Hebron and Uzziel. 3 And the children of Amram:

Aaron and Moses and Miriam. The sons also of Aaron: Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar. 4 Eleazar begot Phinehas; Phinehas begot Abishua, 5 and Abishua begot Bukki, and Bukki begot Uzzi, 6 and Uzzi begot Zerariah, and Zerariah begot Meraioth, 7 Meraioth begot Amariah, and Amariah begot Ahitub, 8 and Ahitub begot Zadok, and Zadok begot Ahimaaz, 9 and Ahimaaz begot Azariah, and Azariah begot Johanan, 10 and Johanan begot Azariah (he it is who served as priest in the temple that Solomon built in Jerusalem), 11 and Azariah begot Amariah, and Amariah begot Ahitub, 12 and Ahitub begot Zadok, and Zadok begot Shallum, 13 and Shallum begot Hilkiyah, and Hilkiyah begot Azariah, 14 and Azariah begot Seraiah, and Seraiah begot Jehozadak; 15 and Jehozadak went into captivity, when the LORD carried away Judah and Jerusalem by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar.

16 The sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath and Merari. 17 And these are the names of the sons of Gershon: Libni and Shimei. 18 And the sons of Kohath were Amram and Izhar and Hebron and Uzziel. 19 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. And these are the families of the Levites according to their fathers. 20 Of Gershon: Libni his son, Jahath his son, Zimmah his son, 21 Joah his son, Iddo his son, Zerah his son, Jeaterai his son. 22 The sons of Kohath: Amminadab his son, Korah his son, Assir his son, 23 Elkanah his son, and Ebiasaph his son, and Assir his son, 24 Tahath his son, Uriel his son, Uzziyah his son, and Shaul his son. 25 and the sons of Elkanah: Amasai and Ahimoth. 26 As for Elkanah, the sons of Elkanah were Zophai his son and Nahath his son, 27 Eliab his son, Jeroham his son, Elkanah his son. 28 And the sons of Samuel: the firstborn Vashni, and Abiah. 29 The sons of Merari: Mahli, Libni his son, Shimei his son, Uzza his son, 30 Shimea his son, Haggiah his son, Asaiah his son.

31 And these are the ones whom David appointed over the service of song in the house of the LORD, after the ark had rest. 32 And they served before the dwelling place of the tabernacle of the congregation with singing, until Solomon built the house of the LORD in Jerusalem; and then they served in their office according to their order. 33 And these are the ones who served with their children: of the sons of the Kohathites, Heman a singer, the son of Joel, the son of Shemuel, 34 the son of Elkanah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Eliel, the son of Toah, 35 the son of Zuph, the son of Elkanah, the son of Mahath, the son of Amasai, 36 the son of Elkanah, the son of Joel, the son of Azariah, the son of Zephaniah, 37 the son of Tahath, the son of Assir, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, 38 the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, the son of Israel; 39 and his brother Asaph, who stood at his right hand, Asaph the son of Berachiah, the son of Shimea, 40 the son of Michael, the son of Baaseiah, the son of Malchiah, 41 the son of Ethni, the son of Zerah, the son of Adaiah, 42 the son of Ethan, the son of Zimmah, the son of Shimei, 43 the son of Jahath, the son of Gershon, the son of Levi. 44 And their brethren, the sons of Merari, stood at the left hand: Ethan the son of Kishi, the son of Abdi, the son of Malluch, 45 the son of Hashabiah, the son of Amaziah, the son of Hilkiyah, 46 the son of Amzi, the son of Bani, the son of Shamer, 47 the son of Mahli, the son of Mushi, the son of Merari, the son of Levi. 48 Their brethren also, the Levites, were appointed to all kinds of service of the tabernacle of the house of God.

49 But Aaron and his sons made offerings on the altar of burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, and were appointed for all the work of the Most Holy Place, and to make an atonement for Israel, in accordance with all that Moses the servant of God had commanded. 50 And these are the sons of Aaron: Eleazar his son, Phinehas his son, Abishua his son, 51 Bukki his son, Uzzi his son, Zerariah his son, 52 Meraioth his son, Amariah his son, Ahitub his son, 53 Zadok his son, Ahimaaz his son.

54 Now these are their dwelling places, throughout their camps, within their territories, of the sons of Aaron, of the families of the Kohathites, according to their allotment. 55 And they gave them Hebron in the land of Judah, and its pasture lands around it. 56 But the fields of the city and its villages, they gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh. 57 And to the sons of Aaron they gave these cities of Judah: Hebron, the city of refuge, and Libnah with its pasture lands, and Jattir and Eshtemoa, with their pasture lands, 58 and Hilen with its pasture lands, Debir with its pasture lands, 59 and Ashan with its pasture lands, and Beth Shemesh with its pasture lands; 60 and from the tribe of Benjamin they gave Geba with its pasture lands, and Alemeth with its pasture lands, and Anathoth with its pasture lands. All their cities throughout their families were thirteen cities.

61 And to the sons of Kohath, who were left of the family of that tribe, cities were given from the half tribe, from the half tribe of Manasseh, by lot, ten cities. 62 And to the sons of Gershom throughout their families from the tribe of Issachar and from the tribe of Asher and from the tribe of Naphtali and from the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteen cities. 63 To the sons of Merari were given by lot, throughout their families, from the tribe of Reuben and from the tribe of Gad and from the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities. 64 And the children of Israel gave to the Levites these cities with their pasture lands. 65 And they gave by lot from the tribe of the children of Judah and from the tribe of the children of Simeon and from the tribe of the children of Benjamin, these cities, which are called by their names.

66 And the rest of the families of the sons of Kohath had cities for their of their territory from the tribe of Ephraim. 67 And they gave to them, as cities of refuge, Shechem, in the hill country of Ephraim, with its pasture lands; they also gave Gezer with its pasture lands, 68 and Jokmeam with its pasture lands and Beth-Horon with its pasture lands, 69 and Aijalon with its pasture lands, and Gath Rimmon with its pasture lands. 70 And from the half tribe of Manasseh they gave Aner with its pasture lands, and Bileam with its pasture lands, for the family of the rest of the sons of Kohath.

71 To the sons of Gershom these were given from the family of the half tribe of Manasseh: Golan in Bashan with its pasture lands and Ashtaroth with its pasture lands; 72 and from the tribe of Issachar, Kedesh with its pasture lands, Daberath with its pasture lands, 73 and Ramoth with its pasture lands and Anem with its pasture lands; 74 and from the tribe of Asher, Mashal with its pasture lands and Abdon with its pasture lands, 75 and Hukok with its pasture lands and Rehob with its pasture lands; 76 and from the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee with its pasture lands and Hammon with its pasture lands and Kirjathaim with its pasture lands.

77 To the rest of the children of Merari were given from the tribe of Zebulun, Rimmon with its pasture lands, Tabor with its pasture lands; 78 and on the other side of the Jordan near Jericho, on the east side of the Jordan, were given to them from the tribe of Reuben, Bezer in the wilderness with its pasture lands and Jahzah with its pasture lands, 79 Kedemoth also with its pasture lands and Mephaath with its pasture lands; 80 and from the tribe of Gad, Ramoth in Gilead with its pasture lands and Mahanaim with its pasture lands, 81 and Heshbon with its pasture lands and Jazer with its pasture lands.

7 Now the sons of Issachar were Tola and Puah, Jashub and Shimrom, four. 2 And the sons of Tola: Uzzi and Rephaiah and Jeriel and Jahmai and Jibsam and Shemuel, heads of their father's house, that is, of Tola. They were strong valiant men in their generations. Their number in the days of David was twenty-two thousand six hundred. 3 And the sons of Uzzi: Izrahiah, and the sons of Izrahiah: Michael and Obadiah and Joel, Ishiah, five; all of them chief men. 4 And with them, by their generations, according to the house of their fathers, were bands of soldiers for war, thirty-six thousand men; for they had many wives and sons. 5 And their brethren among all the families of Issachar were strong valiant men, listed by their genealogies, in all eighty-seven thousand.

6 The sons of Benjamin: Bela and Becher and Jediael, three. 7 And the sons of Bela: Ezbon and Uzzi and Uzziel and Jerimoth and Iri, five. They were heads of the house of their fathers, mighty men of valour; and were listed by their genealogies twenty-two thousand and thirty-four. 8 And the sons of Becher: Zemira and Joash and Eliezer and Elioenai and Omri and Jerimoth and Abiah and Anathoth and Alameth. All these are the sons of Becher. 9 and their number according to their genealogy by their generations, heads of the house of their fathers, mighty men of valour, was twenty thousand two hundred. 10 And the sons of Jediael: Bilhan and the sons of Bilhan: Jeush and Benjamin and Ehud and Chenaanah and Zethan and Tarshish and Ahishahar. 11 All these, the sons of Jediael, by the heads of their fathers, mighty men of valour, were seventeen thousand two hundred soldiers,

7:6 1 Chron 8:1-40. Some think that Benjamin here is a copying mistake for Zebulun, because otherwise the genealogy of Zebulun is missing, and because it is difficult to reconcile the genealogy here with that of chapter 8. This could be the genealogy of Zebulun if he also had a son named

Bela, which is not at all impossible, even though Bela is listed elsewhere as the son of Benjamin, but never of Zebulun. See Num 26:26,27,38-41. If the genealogy of Zebulun is missing, it would be the same case as that of Dan which is missing. However that may be, the emphasis in the two books of the Chronicles is not on the northern tribes but on those which comprised the prepared to go out for war and battle. 12 Shuppim also and Huppmim, the children of Ir, and Hushim, the sons of Aher.

13 The sons of Naphtali: Jahziel and Guni and Jezer and Shallum, the sons of Bilhah.

14 The sons of Manasseh: Ashriel, whom she bore (but his concubine, the Aramitess, bore Machir the father of Gilead. 15 And Machir took as wife the sister of Huppmim and Shuppim, whose sister's name was Maachah), and the name of the second was Zelophehad. And Zelophehad had daughters. 16 And Maachah, the wife of Machir, bore a son and she called his name Peresh; and the name of his brother was Sheresh; and his sons were Ulam and Rakem. 17 And the son of Ulam: Bedan. These were the sons of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh. 18 And his sister Hammoleketh bore Ishod and Abiezer and Mahalah. 19 And the sons of Shemidah were Ahian and Shechem and Likhi and Aniam.

20 And the sons of Ephraim: Shuthelah, and Bered his son, and Tahath his son, and Eladah his son, and Tahath his son, 21 and Zabad his son, and Shuthelah his son, and Ezer, and Elead, whom the men of Gath who were born in that land killed, because they came down to take away their livestock. 22 And their father Ephraim mourned many days, and his brethren came to comfort him. 23 And when he went in to his wife, she conceived, and bore a son, and he called his name Beriah, because things were going bad with his household. 24 And his daughter was Sherah, who built Lower and Upper Beth Horon, and Uzzen Sherah. 25 And Rephah was his son, also Resheph, and Telah his son, and Tahan his son, 26 Laadan his son, Ammihud his son, Elishama his son, 27 Non his son, Jehoshuah his son.

28 And their possessions and habitations were Bethel and its towns, and Naaran on the east, and Gezer on the west, with its towns; Shechem also and its towns, as far as Gaza and its towns; 29 and by the borders of the children of Manasseh, Bethshean and its towns, Taanach and its towns, Megiddo and its towns, Dor and its towns. In these the children of Joseph, the son of Israel, lived.

30 The sons of Asher: Imnah and Isuah and Ishuai and Beriah and Serah, their sister. 31 And the sons of Beriah: Heber and Malchiel, who is the father of Birzavith. 32 And Heber begot Japhlet and Shomer and Hotham and Shua, their sister. 33 And the sons of Japhlet: Pasach and Bimhal and Ashvath. These are the children of Japhlet. 34 And the sons of Shamer: Ahi and Rohgah, Jehubbah and Aram. 35 And the sons of his brother Helem: Zophah and Imna and Shelesh and Amal. 36 The sons of Zophah: Suah and Harnepher and Shual and Beri and Imrah, 37 Bezer and Hod and Shamma and Shilshah and Ithran and Beera. 38 And the sons of Jether: Jephunneh and Pispah and Ara. 39 And the sons of Ulla: Arah and Haniel and Rezia. 40 All these were the children of Asher, heads of their father's house, choice and mighty men of valour, chief of the leaders. And the number throughout the genealogy of those who were prepared for war and for battle was twenty-six thousand men.

8 Now Benjamin begot Bela his firstborn, Ashbel the second, and Aharah the third, 2 Nohah the fourth and Rapha the fifth. 3 And the sons of Bela were Addar and Gera and Abihud 4 and Abishua and Naaman and Ahoah 5 and Gera and Shephuphan and Huram.

6 And these are the sons of Ehud: these are the heads of the fathers of the inhabitants of Geba, and they were exiled to Manahath: 7 and Naaman and Ahiah and Gera; he exiled them, and begot Uzza, and Ahihud.

8 And Shaharaim begot children in the country of Moab, after he had sent away Hushim and Baara, his wives. 9 And he begot of Hodesh his wife, Jobab and Zibia and Mesha and Malcham 10 and Jeuz and Shachia and Mirra. These were his sons, heads of the fathers' households. 11 And by Hushim he begot Abitub and Elpaal.

12 The sons of Elpaal: Eber and Misham and Shamed, who built Ono and Lod, with its towns; 13 Beriah also and Shema, who were heads of the fathers of the inhabitants of Aijalon, who drove away the inhabitants of Gath; 14 and Ahio, Shashak and Jeremoth 15 and Zebadiah and Arad and Ader 16 and Michael and Ispah and Joha, the sons of Beriah; 17 and Zebadiah and Meshullam and Hezeki and Heber, 18 Ishmerai also, and Jezliah and Jobab, the sons of Elpaal, 19 and Jakim and Zichri and Zabdi, 20 and Elienai and Zilthai and Eliel, southern kingdom of Judah - 8:1.

7:20 Num 26:35-36.

7:23 "Beriah" - this name sounds like the Hebrew word for "misfortune."

7:24 Josh 16:3,5.

7:30 Gen 46:17; Num 26:44-46.

8:1 7:6-12; Gen 46:21. More space is given to the genealogy of Benjamin, Judah and Levi than all the other tribes put together. The author's purpose, guided by the Holy Spirit, was to focus attention on the southern kingdom of Judah. Levi was important because the priesthood and temple service in Jerusalem were in the hands of this tribe. Benjamin was important because Saul, the first king of Israel, was a Benjamite, and part of the territory of Benjamin was later taken into the southern kingdom of Judah.

8:6 "Ehud" - Jud 3:12-30.

21 and Adaiah and Beraiah and Shimrath, the sons of Shimhi, 22 and Ishpan and Heber and Eliel 23 and Abdon and Zichri and Hanan 24 and Hananiah and Elam and Antothijah 25 and Iphedeah and Penuel, the sons of Shashak 26 and Shamsheraï and Shehariah and Athaliah 27 and Jaresiah and Eliah and Zichri, the sons of Jeroham.

28 These were heads of the fathers' households, by their generations, chief men. These lived in Jerusalem.

29 And the father of Gibeon lived at Gibeon. His wife's name was Maachah; 30 and his firstborn son Abdon, and Zur and Kish and Baal and Nadab 31 and Gedor and Ahio and Zacher. 32 And Mikloth begot Shimeah. And these also lived with their brethren in Jerusalem, opposite them. 33 And Ner begot Kish, and Kish begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan and Malchishua and Abinadab and Eshbaal. 34 And the son of Jonathan was Meribbaal; and Meribbaal begot Micah. 35 And the sons of Micah were Pithon and Melech and Tarea and Ahaz. 36 And Ahaz begot Jehoadah; and Jehoadah begot Alemeth and Azmaveth and Zimri; and Zimri begot Moza, 37 and Moza begot Binea. Rapha was his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son. 38 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these: Azrikam, Bocheru and Ishmael and Sheariah and Obadiah and Hanan. All these were the sons of Azel. 39 And the sons of Eshek his brother were Ulam his firstborn, Jehush the second, and Eliphelet the third. 40 And the sons of Ulam were mighty men of valour, archers, and had many sons and grandsons, a hundred and fifty. All these are descendants of Benjamin.

9 So all Israel was listed by genealogies, and these were written down in the book of The Kings of Israel and Judah (who was taken away to Babylon because of their transgression).

2 Now the first who lived in their possessions in their cities were some Israelites, the priests, Levites, and the Nethinim. 3 And in Jerusalem lived some of the children of Judah and the children of Benjamin and the children of Ephraim and Manasseh: 4 Uthai the son of Ammihud, the son of Omri, the son of Imri, the son of Bani, of the children of Pharez the son of Judah; 5 and of the Shilonites, Asaiah the firstborn, and his sons; 6 and of the sons of Zerach, Jeuel, and their brethren, six hundred and ninety; 7 and of the sons of Benjamin, Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Hodaviah, the son of Hasenuah, 8 and Ibneiah the son of Jeroham, and Elah the son of Uzzi, the son of Michri, and Meshullam the son of Shephathiah, the son of Reuel, the son of Ibnijah, 9 and their brethren, according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty-six. All these men were chief of the fathers in the house of their ancestors.

10 And of the priests, Jedaiah and Jehoiarib and Jachin 11 and Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the ruler of the house of God, 12 and Adaiah, the son of Jeroham, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchijah, and Maasai, the son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer, 13 and their brethren, heads of the house of their fathers, a thousand seven hundred and sixty, very able men for the work of the service of the house of God.

14 And of the Levites, Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, of the sons of Merari, 15 and Bakbakkar, Heresh and Galal and Mattaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zichri, the son of Asaph, 16 and Obadiah, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun, and Berechiah, the son of Asa, the son of Elkanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 And the gatekeepers were Shallum and Akkub and Talmon and Ahiman and their brethren, Shallum being the chief. 18 Before this they served at the eastern gate of the king. They were gatekeepers in the companies of the children of Levi. 19 And Shallum the son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his brethren, of the house of his father, the Korahites, were over the work of the service, gatekeepers of the tabernacle, as their fathers had been over the camp of the LORD, guarding the entrance. 20 And Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, had the supervision over them in time past, and the LORD was with him. 21 And Zechariah, the son of Meshelemiah, was the door-keeper of the tabernacle of the congregation.

"Father" - here the word may mean political or civic or military leader.

8:33 "Saul" - 9:39-44; 1 Sam 9:1,2; 10:1; 14:49; 31:2.

"Eshbaal" - also known as Ish-Bosheth.

8:34 "Jonathan" - 1 Sam 14:1-15; 18:1.

"Meribbaal" - another name for Mephibosheth (2 Sam 4:4).

9:1 "Babylon" - 36:15-20; Jer 52:1-27.

9:2 "First who lived in" - after the return from exile in Babylon - 2:70; Neh 7:73; 11:3,4.

9:3 "Manasseh" - among those who returned from exile were members of the northern tribes as well as some from Judah, Benjamin and Levi. God preserved all Israel.

9:19 "Tabernacle" - here simply means God's dwelling place (the temple) with His people, and not the literal tabernacle, which was no longer standing. Also in vs 21,23.

9:20 "Phinehas" - Num 25:6-13.

22 All these who were chosen to be gatekeepers were two hundred and twelve. These were listed by their genealogy in their villages. David and Samuel the seer ordained them in their set office. 23 So they and their children had the oversight of the gates of the house of the LORD, the house of the tabernacle, as guards. 24 The gatekeepers were in four quarters, toward the east, west, north, and south. 25 And their brethren, who were in their villages, were to come in after seven days from time to time to be with them. 26 For these Levites, the four chief gatekeepers, were in their set office and were over the rooms and treasuries of the house of God. 27 And they stayed at night around the house of God, because the watch was committed to them, and opening up the house of God every morning was in their care.

28 And some of them had charge of the articles for the service to bring them in and out by count. 29 Some of them also were appointed to oversee the articles and all the furniture of the sanctuary, and the fine flour and the wine and the oil and the frankincense and the spices. 30 And some of the sons of the priests made the ointment from the spices. 31 And Mattithiah, one of the Levites, who was the firstborn of Shallum the Korahite, had the oversight of the things that were made in pans. 32 And others of their brethren, of the sons of the Kohathites, were over the Showbread, to prepare it every Sabbath.

33 And these were the singers, chief of the fathers of the Levites, who stayed in the rooms and were free from other service; for they were employed in that work day and night. 34 These chief fathers of the Levites were chief throughout their generations. They lived at Jerusalem.

35 And in Gibeon the father of Gibeon, Jehiel, lived. His wife's name was Maachah, 36 and his firstborn son was Abdon, then Zur and Kish and Baal and Ner and Nadab, 37 and Gedor and Ahio and Zechariah and Mikloth. 38 And Mikloth begot Shimeam. And they also lived with their brethren at Jerusalem, opposite their brethren. 39 And Ner begot Kish; and Kish begot Saul; and Saul begot Jonathan and Malchishua and Abinadab and Eshbaal. 40 And the son of Jonathan was Merib-baal. And Merib-baal begot Micah. 41 And the sons of Micah were Pithon and Melech and Tahrea and Ahaz. 42 And Ahaz begot Jarah; and Jarah begot Alemeth and Azmaveth and Zimri; and Zimri begot Moza; 43 and Moza begot Binea; and Rephaiah his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son. 44 And Azel had six sons, whose names are these: Azrikam, Bocheru, and Ishmael and Sheariah and Obadiah and Hanan. These were the sons of Azel.

10 Now the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and fell down slain in mount Gilboa. 2 And the Philistines followed closely after Saul and after his sons, and the Philistines killed Jonathan and Abinadab and Malchishua, the sons of Saul. 3 And the battle grew heavy against Saul, and the archers hit him, and he was wounded by the archers. 4 Then Saul said to his armour bearer, "Draw your sword and pierce me with it; or else these uncircumcised will come and abuse me." But his armour bearer would not, for he was very afraid. So Saul took a sword and fell on it. 5 And when his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on a sword and died. 6 So Saul died and his three sons; and all his household died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel who were in the valley saw that the army was fleeing, and that Saul and his sons were dead, they forsook their cities and fled; and the Philistines came and lived in them. 8 And it came to pass on the next day, when the Philistines came to strip those who had been killed, that they found Saul and his sons fallen on Mount Gilboa. 9 And when they had stripped him, they took his head and his armour and sent them into the surrounding countryside of the Philistines, to take the news to their idols and to the people. 10 And they put his armour in the house of their gods, and fastened his head in the temple of Dagon. 11 And when all Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul, 12 all the valiant men arose, and took away the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons and brought them to Jabesh, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

13 So Saul died for his transgression which he

10:13,14 1 Sam 13:13-14; 15:23; 28:7-19. Here the sin of consulting a medium is emphasized. Consulting such persons is condemned in the law of God (Deut 18:9-14), and Saul himself knew it was wrong when he did it (1 Sam 28:3).

committed against the LORD, against the word of the LORD, which he did not keep, and also for consulting someone who was a medium, to inquire of her; 14 and did not inquire of the LORD; therefore he killed him, and turned the kingdom over to David the son of Jesse.

11 Then all Israel gathered together to David at Hebron, saying, "See, we are your bone and your flesh. 2 Also in time past, even when Saul was king, you were the one who led Israel out and brought them in; and the LORD your God said to you, "You will shepherd my people Israel, and you will be ruler over my people Israel." 3 So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron; and David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the LORD; and they anointed David king over Israel, in accordance with the word of the LORD by Samuel.

4 And David and all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Jebus, where the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, were. 5 And the inhabitants of Jebus said to David, "You will not get in here!" Nevertheless David took the fortress of Zion, which is the city of David. 6 And David said, "Whoever strikes the Jebusites first will be chief and commander." So Joab, the son of Zeruiah, went up first up, and became chief. 7 And David lived in the fortress; therefore they called it the city of David. 8 And he built up the city around it, from Millo all around; and Joab repaired the rest of the city. 9 So David became greater and greater, for the LORD of hosts was with him.

10 And these are the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who used their strength with him for his kingdom and with all Israel, to make him king, in accordance with the word of the LORD concerning Israel. 11 And this is the list of David's mighty men: Jashobeam, a Hachmonite, the chief of the thirty; he raised his spear against three hundred who were killed by him at one time. 12 And after him was Eleazar, the son of Dodo, the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighty ones. 13 He was with David at Pasdammim; and there the Philistines were gathered together to battle, where there was a plot of ground full of barley; and the people fled from before the Philistines. 14 And they took their stand in the middle of that plot and defended it and struck down the Philistines; and the Lord saved them with a great deliverance.

15 Now three of the thirty chiefs went down to the rock to David, into the cave of Adullam; and the army of the Philistines was camping in the valley of Rephaim. 16 And David was then in the stronghold, and a garrison of the Philistines was then at Bethlehem. 17 And David felt a longing and said, "Oh, that someone would give me a drink of water from the well of Bethlehem, that is by the gate!" 18 And the three broke through the army of the Philistines, and drew water from the well of Bethlehem, that was by the gate, and took it and brought it to David. But David would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD, 19 and said, "My God forbid this to me, that I should do this thing! Should I drink the blood of these men who have put their lives in jeopardy? For in peril of their lives they brought this." Therefore he would not drink it. The three mighty men did these things.

20 And Abishai, the brother of Joab, was chief of the three; for raising his spear against three hundred, he killed them, and had a name among the three. 21 He was more honoured than two of the three; for he was their captain. However, he did not attain to the first three.

22 Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, the son of a valiant man from Kabzeel, who had done many deeds, killed two lion-like men of Moab. Also he went down and killed a lion in a pit on a snowy day. 23 And he killed an Egyptian, a man of great stature, five cubits tall; and there was a spear like a weaver's beam in the Egyptian's hand; and he went down to him with a staff, and tore the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and killed him with his own spear. 24 Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, did these things, and had a name among the three mighty men. 25 See, he was honoured among the thirty, but did not attain to the first three. And David set him over his guard.

26 Also the mighty men in the armies were Asahel, the brother of Joab, Elhanan, the son of Dodo of Bethlehem, 27 Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite, 28 Ira the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Antothite, 29 Sibbecai the Hushathite, Ilai the Ahohite, 30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled, the son of Baanah the Netophathite, 31 Ithai, the son of Ribai of Gibeah, who belonged to the children of Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite, 32 Hurai from the brooks of Gaash, Abiel the Arathite, 33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliahba the Shaalbonite, 34 the sons of Hashem the Gizonite, Jonathan, the son of Shage the Hararite, 35 Ahiam, the son of Sacar the Hararite,

11:11 "Jashobeam" - a shortened form of the name Josheb-Basshebeth in 2 Sam 23:8. "Tahkemonite" is the word there,

"Hacmonite" here. There it speaks of eight hundred men being killed, here of only three hundred. It is in the realm of possibility that these two references record two different occasions, and two different persons among David's mighty men.

Eliphai, the son of Ur, 36 Hopher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite, 37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai, the son of Ezbai, 38 Joel the brother of Nathan, Mibhar the son of Haggeri, 39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite, the armour bearer of Joab, the son of Zeruiah, 40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite, 41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabab the son of Ahlai, 42 Adina, the son of Shiza the Reubenite, a captain of the Reubenites, and thirty with him, 43 Hanan, the son of Maachah, Joshaphat the Mithnite, 44 Uzzia the Ashterathite, Shama and Jehiel, the sons of Hothan the Aroerite, 45 Jediel, the son of Shimri, and his brother Joha, the Tizite, 46 Eliel and Mahavite, and Jeribai and Joshaviah, the sons of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel and Obed, and Jasiel the Mesobaiter.

12 Now these are the ones who came to David at Ziklag, while he was still kept away from Saul the son of Kish; and they were among the mighty men, helpers in the war. 2 They were armed with bows, and could use both the right hand and the left in slinging stones and shooting arrows from a bow. They were Saul's relatives from Benjamin. 3 The chief was Ahiezer, then Joash, the sons of Shemaah the Gibeathite; and Jeziel and Pelet, the sons of Azmaveth, and Berachah and Jehu the Antothite 4 and Ismaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; and Jeremiah and Jahaziel and Johanan and Josabab the Gederathite 5 Eluzai and Jerimoth and Bealial and Shemariah and Shephatiah the Haruphite 6 Elkanah and Jesiah and Azareel and Joezer and Jashobeam, the Korhites 7 and Joelah and Zebadiah, the sons of Jeroham of Gedor.

8 And from the Gadites some came away to David at the stronghold in the wilderness, mighty men and warriors prepared for the battle, who could handle shield and spear, whose faces were like the faces of lions, and who were as swift as the gazelles on the mountains; 9 Ezer the first, Obadiah the second, Eliab the third, 10 Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth, 11 Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh, 12 Johanan the eighth, Elzabab the ninth, 13 Jeremiah the tenth, Machbanai the eleventh. 14 These descendants of Gad were captains in the army; one of the least was over a hundred, and the greatest over a thousand. 15 These are the ones who crossed the Jordan in the first month, when it had flooded all of its banks, and put to flight all those living in valleys, both toward the east and toward the west.

16 And some of the children of Benjamin and Judah came to the stronghold to David. 17 And David went out to meet them, and responded and said to them, "If you have come peaceably to me to help me, my heart will be knit to you. But if you have come to betray me to my enemies, since my hands have done no wrong, the God of our fathers look on this, and rebuke it." 18 Then the Spirit came on Amasai, who was chief of the captains, and he said, "We are yours, David, and on your side, son of Jesse. Peace, peace be to you, and peace be to those who help you; for your God is helping you." Then David received them, and made them captains in his raiding band.

19 And some from the tribe of Manasseh defected to David, when he was coming with the Philistines to fight against Saul; but they did not help the Philistines, because the lords of the Philistines, after conferring, sent him away, saying, "He will defect to his master Saul to the jeopardy of our heads." 20 When he went to Ziklag, from Manasseh these defected to him: Adnah and Jozabad and Jediel and Michael and Jozabad and Elihu and Zilthai, captains of the thousands who were from Manasseh. 21 And they helped David against the band of raiders; for they were all mighty men of valour, and were captains in the army. 22 For at that time, day by day, others came to David to help him, until it became a great army, like the army of God.

23 And these are the numbers of the bands that were equipped for war, who came to David at Hebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul over to him, in accordance with the word of the LORD: 24 the children of Judah who bore shield and spear were six thousand eight hundred, equipped for war; 25 of the children of Simeon, mighty men of valour for the war, seven thousand one hundred; 26 of the children of Levi four thousand six hundred; 27 and Jehoiada was the leader of the Aaronites, 11:41-47 Uriah is last on the list in 2 Samuel chapter 23. Here several additional names are given. As days passed, the number grew.

12:1 1 Samuel chapter 27.

12:2 This chapter shows the general support for David not merely in Judah, his own tribe, but in the other tribes of Israel. Even some of Saul's kinsmen deserted to David before Saul's death.

12:8 "Gadites" – from the tribe of Gad which had settled east of the Jordan river (Num 32:1-5,33).

12:15 "First month" – Nisan, which included parts of which we call March and April. Rain and melting snow from northern mountains then caused the Jordan to flood. See Josh 3:15.

12:16 "Stronghold" – 1 Sam 22:4; 23:29; 24:22.

12:18 "Spirit" – the allegiance of these men to David was the work of God.

12:19 1 Sam 29:2-9.

12:20 1 Samuel chapter 27.

12:23 "Hebron" – 2 Sam 5:1-3.

"Word of the LORD" – 1 Sam 16:1,11-13.

and with him were three thousand seven hundred; 28 and Zadok, a valiant young warrior, and twenty-two captains from his father's house; 29 and three thousand of the children of Benjamin, the kinsmen of Saul; for until then the greatest part of them had kept their allegiance to the house of Saul; 30 and twenty thousand eight hundred of the children of Ephraim, valiant fighters, famous throughout the house of their fathers; 31 and eighteen thousand of the half tribe of Manasseh, who were designated by name to come and make David king; 32 and some of the children of Issachar, men who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do; their chiefs were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their command; 33 fifty thousand of Zebulun, who went forth to battle, expert in war, with all the weapons of war, who could keep rank; they were not of double heart; 34 and a thousand captains of Naphtali, and thirty-seven thousand with them with shield and spear; 35 and twenty-eight thousand six hundred of the Danites, expert in war; 36 and forty thousand of Asher, who went forth to battle, expert in war; 37 and on the other side of the Jordan, a hundred and twenty thousand of the Reubenites and the Gadites and of the half tribe of Manasseh, with all kinds of weapons for the battle.

38 All these warriors who could keep rank, came with a perfect heart to Hebron to make David king over all Israel; and also all the rest of Israel were of one heart to make David king. 39 And there they were with David three days, eating and drinking; for their brethren had prepared for them. 40 Moreover, their neighbors, even as far as Issachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, brought bread on donkeys and on camels and on mules and on oxen, and meat, flour, cakes of figs and bunches of raisins and wine and oil and oxen and sheep in abundance; for there was joy in Israel.

13 And David consulted with the captains of thousands and hundreds, and with each leader. 2 And David said to all the congregation of Israel, "If it seems good to you, and if it is from the LORD our God, let us send word out to our brethren everywhere, those remaining in the whole land of Israel, and along with them to the priests and Levites who are in their cities and pasture lands, so that they may gather here with us. 3 And let us bring back the ark of our God to us; for we did not consult God by it in the days of Saul."

4 And all the congregation said that they would do so, for in the eyes of all the people it was the right thing to do. 5 So David gathered all Israel together, from Shihor of Egypt to the entrance of Hemath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath Jearim. 6 And David went up, and all Israel, to Baalah, that is, to Kirjath Jearim, which belonged to Judah, to bring up from there the ark of God the LORD, who dwells between the cherubim, which is called by his name. 7 And they carried the ark of God in a new cart from the house of Abinadab; and Uzza and Ahio were driving the cart. 8 And David and all Israel were celebrating before God with all their might, and with singing and with harps and with lyres and with tambourines and with cymbals and with trumpets.

9 And when they came to the threshing floor of Kidon, Uzza put out his hand to take hold of the ark, for the oxen stumbled. 10 And the anger of the LORD burned against Uzza and he struck him down, because he put his hand on the ark; and there he died before God. 11 And David was displeased, because the LORD's anger had broken out against Uzza. Therefore that place is called Perez-Uzza to this day. 12 And David was afraid of God that day, saying, "How shall I bring the ark of God to me?" 13 So David did not bring the ark to himself to the city of David, but carried it aside into the house of Obed Edom the Gittite. 14 And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed Edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

14 Now Hiram, king of Tyre, sent messengers to David, and cedar timber, with masons and carpenters, to build him a house. 2 And David perceived that the LORD had confirmed him as king over Israel, for his kingdom was greatly exalted, because of his people Israel.

12:32 "Understanding of the times" – the ability to understand the times and to know what a people should do is a great gift from God, and one much needed in every generation.

12:38 Verse 2.

12:40 These tribes were in Galilee in the north of the land.

"Joy" – the troubles Saul brought on the country were over, the people were united behind a strong and godly leader, God was with them, the future was bright.

13:3 The ark had been captured by the Philistines (1 Sam 4:10,11). The story of what they did with it is found in 1 Samuel chapter 6. The ark was the place where God met with Moses and gave him commands for Israel (Ex 25:22). Perhaps previous to this, at some periods in their history Israel's leaders sought God's will in the presence of the ark, but there is no record of this.

13:5-14 2 Sam 6:1-11. See notes there.

13:5 "Shihor of Egypt to the entrance of Hamath" – an expression meaning from one end of the country to the other. Hamath was in the far north of the land.

3 And David took more wives at Jerusalem, and David begot more sons and daughters. 4 Now these are the names of the children whom he had in Jerusalem: Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan and Solomon, 5 and Ithar and Elishua and Elpalet 6 and Nogah and Nepheg and Japhia 7 and Elishama and Beeliada and Eliphalet.

8 And when the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel, all the Philistines went up to look for David. And David heard of it, and went out against them. 9 And the Philistines came and spread out in the valley of Rephaim. 10 And David inquired of God, saying, "Shall I go up against the Philistines? And will you deliver them into my hand?" And the LORD said to him, "Go up; for I will deliver them into your hands." 11 So they came up to Baal-Perazim, and David struck them there. Then David said, "God has broken through my enemies by my hand like the breaking out of waters." So they called the name of that place Baal Perazim. 12 And the Philistines left their gods behind there, and David gave an order, and they were burned with fire.

13 And once more the Philistines spread out in the valley. 14 Therefore David again inquired of God; and God said to him, "Do not go up after them. Turn away from them and attack them opposite the mulberry trees. 15 And it is to be like this: when you hear a sound of marching in the tops of the mulberry trees, then you must go out to battle; for God has gone out before you to strike down the army of the Philistines."

16 Therefore David did as God commanded him; and they struck down the army of the Philistines from Gibeon as far as Gazer. 17 And the fame of David went out to all lands, and the LORD brought the fear of him on all nations.

15 And David made houses for himself in the city of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God and pitched a tent for it. 2 Then David said, "No one but the Levites should carry the ark of God, for the LORD has chosen them to carry the ark of God, and to minister to him forever."

3 And David gathered all Israel together at Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the LORD to its place, which he had prepared for it. 4 And David assembled the children of Aaron and the Levites; 5 of the sons of Kohath: Uriel the chief, and a hundred and twenty of his brethren; 6 of the sons of Merari: Asaiah the chief, and two hundred and twenty of his brethren; 7 of the sons of Gershon: Joel the chief, and a hundred and thirty of his brethren; 8 of the sons of Elizaphan: Shemaiah the chief, and two hundred of his brethren; 9 of the sons of Hebron: Eliel the chief, and eighty of his brethren; 10 of the sons of Uzziel: Amminadab the chief, and a hundred and twelve of his brethren.

11 And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the priests, and for the Levites, for Uriel, Asaiah and Joel, Shemaiah and Eliel and Amminadab. 12 And he said to them, "You are the chief of the fathers' households of the Levites. Sanctify yourselves, both you and your brethren, so that you can bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel to the place that I have prepared for it. 13 For because you did not do it in the beginning, the LORD our God broke out against us, for we did not seek him in the proper way."

14 So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel. 15 And the children of the Levites carried the ark of God on their shoulders with the poles on it, as Moses commanded in accordance with the word of the LORD.

16 And David spoke to the chief of the Levites to appoint their brethren as singers with musical instruments, lyres and harps and sounding cymbals, to raise the sound of joy. 17 So the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel, and of his brethren, Asaph the son of Berechiah; and of the sons of Merari their brethren, Ethan the son of Kushaiah; 18 and with them their brethren of the second rank, Zechariah, Ben and Jaaziel and Shemiramoth and Jehiel and Unni, Eliab and Benaiah and Maaseiah and Mattithiah and Eliphele and Mikneiah and Obed Edom and Jeiel, the doorkeepers. 19 So the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were appointed to sound with bronze cymbals; 20 and Zechariah and Aziel and Shemiramoth and Jehiel and Unni and Eliab and Maaseiah and Benaiah, with lyres according to Alamoth; 21 and Mattithiah and

15:1 "City of David" – 2 Sam 5:6,7.

"Tent" – 16:1; 2 Sam 6:17. This tent was not the tabernacle but a special tent David had made. The tabernacle was in Gibeon (16:39).

15:16 13:8; 25:1.

Eliphelah and Mikneiah and Obed Edom and Jeiel and Azaziah, with harps tuned to the higher notes of Sheminith. 22 And Kenaniah, chief of the Levites, was in charge of singing; because of his skill he gave instruction in singing. 23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were doorkeepers for the ark. 24 And Shebaniah and Jehoshaphat and Nethaneel and Amasai and Zechariah and Benaiah and Eliezer, the priests, blew with the trumpets before the ark of God; and Obed Edom and Jehiah were doorkeepers for the ark.

25 So David and the elders of Israel, and the captains over thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the house of Obed Edom with joy. 26 And it came about, when God helped the Levites who were carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD, that they offered seven bulls and seven rams. 27 And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, and so were all the Levites who were carrying the ark, and the singers and Kenaniah the leader of the singing with the singers. David was also wearing a linen ephod. 28 So all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting, and with the sound of the cornet and with trumpets and with cymbals, sounding out with lyres and harps.

29 And it so happened that as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the city of David, Michal, the daughter of Saul, looked out of a window and saw king David dancing and celebrating; and she despised him in her heart.

16 So they brought the ark of God, and set it in the middle of the tent that David had pitched for it; and they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings before God. 2 And when David had finished offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD. 3 And he distributed to each one of Israel, both man and woman, to each one a loaf of bread, and a good piece of meat, and a raisin cake.

4 And he appointed some of the Levites to minister before the ark of the LORD, and to call to remembrance, and to thank and praise the LORD God of Israel: 5 Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel and Shemiramoth and Jehiel and Mattithiah and Eliab and Benaiah and Obed Edom;

and Jeiel played on lyres and on harps, and Asaph sounded the cymbals, 6 and the priests Benaiah and Jahaziel blew the trumpet regularly before the ark of the covenant of God.

7 Then on that day David first committed this psalm into the hands of Asaph and his brethren, for thanking the LORD:

8 "Give thanks to the LORD.

Call on his name.

Make known his deeds among the people.

9 Sing to him; sing psalms to him.

Talk of all his wondrous works.

10 Glory in his holy name.

Let the heart of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

11 Seek the LORD and his strength.

Seek his face continually.

12 Remember his marvellous works that he has done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,

13 O you seed of Israel his servant, you children of Jacob, his chosen ones.

14 He is the LORD our God.

His judgments are in all the earth.

15 Always remember his covenant,

the word which he commanded to a thousand generations,

16 the covenant which he made with Abraham, his oath to Isaac.

17 For he confirmed it to Jacob as a law, to Israel as an everlasting covenant,

18 Saying, 'To you I will give the land of Canaan,

the allotment of your inheritance,'

19 When you were but few, very few, and strangers in it;

20 when they went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people.

21 He allowed no man to do them wrong; yes, he reproved kings for their sakes,

22 Saying, 'Do not touch my anointed, and do my prophets no harm.'

23 Sing to the LORD, all the earth.

Show forth his salvation from day to day.

15:25-29 2 Sam 6:12-16. See notes there.

16:1-3 2 Sam 6:17-19.

16:1 "Offerings" - notes on first three chapters of Leviticus.

16:4 These duties and privileges of the Levites are now the duties and privileges of all believers (1 Tim 2:1; Heb 13:15; etc).

"To thank" - notes at Lev 7:12,13;

Ps 7:17; 50:14,15; etc.

16:5 "Asaph" - Psalms 50,73-83.

16:7 Many of the psalms were intended for worship services and were sung accompanied by music. This whole psalm appears in the book of Psalms, with slight variations, but divided into three parts - Ps 105:1-15; 96:1-13; 106:1,47,48. See notes on those psalms.

16:8-22 Ps 105:1-15.

16:23-33 Ps 96:1-13.

- 24 Declare his glory among the peoples,
his marvellous works among all nations.
- 25 For great is the LORD,
and greatly to be praised.
Also he is to be feared above all gods.
- 26 For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
but the LORD made the heavens.
- 27 Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place.
- 28 Ascribe to the LORD, you families of
the nations,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
- 29 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Bring an offering and come before him.
Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.
- 30 Tremble before him, all the earth;
for the world will be stable,
so that it is not moved.
- 31 Let the heavens be glad,
and let the earth rejoice,
and let people say among the nations,
'The LORD reigns.'
- 32 Let the sea roar, and its fulness.
Let the fields rejoice, and all that is in them.
- 33 Then shall the trees of the forest
sing out at the presence of the LORD, because he comes to judge the earth.
- 34 O give thanks to the LORD;
for he is good;
for his mercy continues on forever.
- 35 And say, 'Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather us together, and deliver us from the nations, so that we may give thanks to your holy name,
and glory in your praise.'
- 36 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel forever and ever."
- And all the people said, "Amen," and praised the LORD.
- 37 So he left Asaph and his brethren there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to minister before the ark regularly, as every day's work required. 38 And Obed Edom with their brethren, sixty-eight; also Obed Edom, the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah to be gatekeepers; 39 and Zadok the priest, and his brethren the priests, before the tabernacle of the LORD in the high place that was at Gibeon, 40 to offer burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of burnt offering continually morning and evening, and to do all that is written in the law of the LORD, which he commanded Israel; 41 and with them Heman and Jeduthun, and the rest who were chosen, who were designated by name, to give thanks to the LORD, because his mercy continues on forever; 42 and with them Heman and Jeduthun with trumpets and cymbals for those who should sound them, and with musical instruments of God. And the sons of Jeduthun were gatekeepers. 43 And each one of all the people departed to his house; and David returned to bless his house.

17 Now it came about, as David was sitting in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, "Look, I live in a cedar house, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD remains under curtains."

2 Then Nathan said to David, "Do all that is in your heart, for God is with you."

3 And the same night it came about that the word of God came to Nathan, saying, 4 "Go and tell my servant David, 'Thus says the LORD: You shall not build a house for me to dwell in, 5 because I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought Israel up from Egypt to this day but have gone from tent to tent, from one dwelling place to another. 6 Wherever I travelled with all Israel, did I speak a word to any of the judges of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd my people, saying, Why have you not built a cedar house for me?'

7 "Now therefore this is what you shall say to my servant David: 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, to be ruler over my people Israel; 8 and I was with you wherever you travelled, and have cut off all your enemies from before you, and have

16:34-36 Ps 106:1,47,48.

16:37 Verse 4; 2 Chron 8:14. Worship was not confined to a special day. It was part of every day life.

16:39 It seems that there were two sanctuaries at this time, one in Jerusalem with the ark (v 1), and the other at Gibeon with the tabernacle (21:29). The tabernacle remained at Gibeon until Solomon built the temple in Jerusalem.

16:40 Ex 29:38-42; Num 28:3-4.

16:41 "His mercy. . . forever" - a favorite theme of the poets and musicians in Israel - v 34; 2 Chron 5:13; 7:3,6; 20:21; Ezra 3:11; Ps 106:1; 107:1; 118:29; 136:1-26; 138:8.

16:42 Verse 7; 25:7; 2 Chron 7:6; 29:27.

17:1-27 2 Sam 7:1-29.

17:6 "Judges" - or "leaders" (the Hebrew

made a name for you like the name of the great men who are in the earth. 9 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel and will plant them, and they will live in their place and will not be moved any more; nor will the children of wickedness destroy them any more, as at the beginning, 10 and since the time that I commanded judges to be over my people Israel. And I will subdue all your enemies. Moreover I tell you that the LORD will build a house for you.

11 "And it shall come about, when your days are ended and you must go to be with your ancestors, that I will raise up your offspring after you, who will be of your sons, and I will establish his kingdom. 12 He will build a house for me, and I will establish his throne forever. 13 I will be his father and he will be my son, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it away from the one who was before you, 14 but I will set him in my house and in my kingdom forever, and his throne will be established for ever."

15 So Nathan spoke to David in accordance with all these words, and in accordance with this whole vision.

16 And David the king came and sat before the LORD, and said, "Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my house, that you have brought me to this point? 17 And yet this was a small thing in your eyes, O God, for you have also spoken of your servant's house for a great while to come, and have regarded me according to the standard of a man of high degree, O LORD God. 18 What more can David say to you for honouring your servant? For you know your servant. 19 O LORD, you have done all this great thing for your servant's sake, and in accordance with your own heart, in making known all these great things. 20 O LORD, there is no one like you, nor is there any God besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears. 21 And what one nation in the earth is like your people Israel, whom God went to redeem to be his own people, to make for yourself a great and awesome name, by driving out nations from before your people, whom you have redeemed out of Egypt? 22 For you have made your people Israel your own people forever, and you, LORD, have become their God.

23 "Therefore now, LORD, let what you have spoken concerning your servant and concerning his house be established forever, and do as you have said. 24 Let it be established, so that your name may be magnified forever, saying, 'The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, is the God for Israel.' And let the house of your servant David be established in your presence. 25 For you, O my God, have told your servant that you will build a house for him. Therefore your servant has found in his heart to pray in your presence. 26 And now, LORD, you are God, and have promised this goodness to your servant. 27 Now therefore let it please you to bless the house of your servant, so that it may be before you forever. For you have blessed, O LORD, and it will be blessed forever."

18 Now after this it came about that David defeated the Philistines, and subdued them, and took Gath and its towns out of the hands of the Philistines. 2 And he defeated Moab; and the Moabites became David's subjects, and brought tribute. 3 And David defeated Hadarezer, king of Zobah at Hamath, as he went to establish his dominion by the river Euphrates 4 And David took a thousand chariots from him, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand foot soldiers. David also hamstrung all the chariot horses, but reserved of them enough for a hundred chariots.

5 And when the Syrians of Damascus came to help Hadarezer, king of Zobah, David killed twenty-two thousand of the Syrians. 6 Then David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus; and the Syrians became David's subjects, and brought tribute. Thus the LORD preserved David wherever he went. 7 And David took the shields of gold that were carried by the servants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem. 8 Likewise David brought a great amount of bronze from Tibhath and from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, with which Solomon made the bronze sea and the pillars and the bronze articles.

9 Now when Tou, king of Hamath, heard how David had defeated all the army of Hadarezer king of Zobah, 10 he sent his son Hadoram to king David, to ask about his welfare, and to congratulate him, because he had fought against Hadarezer and defeated him (for Hadarezer had made war against Tou), and sent with him all kinds of articles of gold and silver and bronze.

11 And king David dedicated them to the LORD, with the silver and the gold that he brought from all these nations: from Edom and from Moab and from the children of Ammon and from the Philistines and from Amalek.

12 Moreover Abishai, the son of Zeruiah, killed eighteen thousand of the Edomites in the Valley of Salt. 13 And he put garrisons in Edom; and all the Edomites became David's subjects. Thus the LORD preserved David wherever he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgment and justice among all his people. 15 And Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was over the army; and Jehoshaphat, the son of Ahilud, was the recorder; 16 and Zadok, the son of Ahitub, and Abimelech, the son of Abiathar, were the priests; and Shavsha was the scribe; 17 and Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, was over the Kerethites and the Pelethites; and the sons of David were chiefs at the king's side.

19 Now it happened after this that Nahash, the king of the children of Ammon, died, and his son reigned in his place. 2 And David said, "I will show kindness to Hanun, the son of Nahash, because his father showed kindness to me." And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. So the servants of David came to the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun, to comfort him.

3 But the leaders of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, "Do you think that David is honouring your father, by sending comforters to you? Have not his servants come to you to explore and to overthrow and to spy out the land?" 4 Therefore Hanun took David's servants and shaved them, and cut off their garments in the middle at the hips, and sent them away.

5 Then someone went and told David how the men had been treated. And he sent men to meet them, for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, "Stay at Jericho until your beards are grown, and then return."

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they had made themselves odious to David, Hanun and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire chariots and horsemen for themselves from Mesopotamia and from Syria Maachah and from Zobah. 7 So they hired thirty-two thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people. They came and camped before Medeba. And the children of Ammon gathered together from their cities and came to battle.

8 And when David heard of it, he sent Joab and the whole army of the mighty men. 9 And the children of Ammon came out and drew up battle lines before the gate of the city, and the kings who had come were by themselves in the field.

10 Now when Joab saw that the battle was set against him in front and in the rear, he selected men from all the choice soldiers of Israel, and set them in array against the Syrians. 11 And the rest of the people he entrusted into the hands of his brother Abishai, and they set themselves in array against the children of Ammon. 12 And he said, "If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you help me; but if the children of Ammon are too strong for you, then I will help you. 13 Be courageous, and let us conduct ourselves valiantly for our people, and for the cities of our God. And let the LORD do what is good in his sight."

14 So Joab and the people who were with him drew near in front of the Syrians to the battle; and they fled before him. 15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians had fled, they likewise fled before his brother Abishai, and entered the city. Then Joab came to Jerusalem.

16 And when the Syrians saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they sent messengers and brought out the Syrians who were beyond the River; and Shophach, the commander of the army of Hadarezer, marched before them.

17 And it was told David; and he gathered all Israel and crossed the Jordan, and came on them and drew up the battle lines against them. So when David drew up the battle lines against the Syrians, they fought with him. 18 But the Syrians fled before Israel, and David killed seven thousand of the Syrians who fought in chariots, and forty thousand foot soldiers, and killed Shophach, the commander of the army.

19 And when the servants of Hadarezer saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they made peace with David and became his subjects; nor would the Syrians help the children of Ammon any more.

20 And it came about at the end of the year, at the time when kings go out to battle, that Joab led out the strength of the army, and laid waste the country of the children of Ammon and came and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed at Jerusalem. And Joab attacked Rabbah and destroyed it. 2 And David took the crown of their king from his head, and found it weighed a talent of gold, and there were precious stones in it; and it was set on David's head. And Joab also brought out a very large amount of plunder from the city. 3 And he brought out the people who were in it, and made them cut with saws and labour with iron implements and with axes. David did this with all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

4 And after this it came about that war began at Gezer with the Philistines. At that time Sibbechai the Hushathite killed Sippai, who was of the children of a giant; and they were subdued. 5 And again there was war with the Philistines; and Elhanan, the son of Jair, killed Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose spear shaft was like a weaver's beam.

6 And once more there was war at Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had twenty-four fingers and toes, six on each hand, and six on each foot; and he also was the son of a giant. 7 But when he defied Israel, Jonathan, the son of David's brother Shimea, killed him.

8 These were born to a giant in Gath, and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

21 And Satan stood up against Israel, and stirred David up to number Israel. 2 And

20:4-8 2 Sam 21:15-22.

21:1-27 2 Sam 24:1-25. See notes there. 21:1 "Satan" - compare this verse with 2 Sam 24:1. God was angry with Israel and permitted Satan to tempt David. The name Satan comes from the Hebrew and means "opponent", "adversary", or, as some think, "accuser." He is the great enemy of both God and man. His origin is obscure, but it is clear that he was at first a holy and powerful angel who later sinned and became devilish. God never made anything evil, or any being wicked. Some commentators teach that Satan's fall is described in Isa 14:12-15 and Ezek 28:12-17, and it is very likely so. See notes there.

The Bible calls Satan by other names as well - the devil (Matt 4:1), Beelzebub, the prince or ruler of demons (Matt 12:24), the evil one (John 17:15), the ruler of this world (John 12:31), the god of this age or world (2 Cor 4:4), the ruler of the power of the air (Eph 2:2), the dragon and the old serpent (Rev 12:9).

He is out to destroy anyone he can and afflicts and torments men (Job 1:12-19; 2:6,7; Luke 13:16; 1 Pet 5:8). He wants others to worship him (Matt 4:9). He tempts men to sin (1 Thess 3:5). He is full of plots to hinder the work of God (2 Cor 2:11). He is exceedingly deceptive (2 Cor 11:14; Rev 12:9). He can do nothing among men unless they obey him, or unless God, for some wise purpose, permits him to act - he (this is true also of all evil spirits or demons) is under the sovereign control of God.

God has given believers in Christ the David said to Joab and to the leaders of the people, "Go, number Israel from Beersheba to Dan, and bring their number to me, so that I may know it!"

3 And Joab answered, "May the LORD make his people a hundred times more numerous than they are! But, my lord the king, are they not all my lord's servants? Why then does my lord require this thing? Why will he be a cause of guilt to Israel?"

4 However, the king's word prevailed against Joab. Therefore Joab departed, and went throughout all Israel, and came to Jerusalem. 5 And Joab gave the sum of the number of the people to David. And all of Israel who could draw sword were one million one hundred thousand men; and of Judah all who could draw sword were four hundred and seventy thousand.

6 But he did not count Levi and Benjamin among them; for the king's command had been abhorrent to Joab. 7 And God was displeased with this matter; therefore he struck Israel.

8 And David said to God, "I have sinned greatly by doing this thing. But now, I beg you, put away the iniquity of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly."

9 And the LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer, saying, 10 "Go and tell David, saying, 'Thus says means to defeat Satan at every step (Eph 6:10-18; Jam 4:7). His end is clear (Rev 20:10).

Since he is God's and man's enemy why doesn't God immediately destroy him? God has not told us the full answer to this question but His Word the Bible is not without clues to the answer. God uses him for the testing and proving of His people, and in judgment on those who chose the path of sin and unbelief. But it is enough for us now to know that we can defeat the devil through our Lord Jesus Christ, and that God's permitting Satan now to work in the world is in accordance with His perfect wisdom, justice and righteousness. And we should not fret because God does not tell us everything - He tells us all we need to know (Deut 29:29).

21:4 Joab's work on the census took nearly 10 months (2 Sam 24:8).

21:5 These figures differ from 2 Sam 24:9. The census was incomplete (27:23,24), and Joab may have given two different estimates on two separate occasions to David. Of course, we can't be sure of this.

21:6 Verse 3; 2 Sam 24:3.

21:7 "Struck" - God had already been angry with Israel because of other sin (2 Sam 24:1). This taking of a census gave God further cause for anger against them. The sequence of events was this: anger, permitting a temptation, David's fall and sin, more anger, punishment. Notes on God's anger at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; Rom 1:18.

21:9 "Seer" - 1 Sam 9:9.

the LORD, I offer you three things. Choose one of them for me to do to you.”

11 So Gad came to David, and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Take your choice: 12 Either three years of famine, or three months to be destroyed before your foes while the sword of your enemies reaches you, or else three days of the sword of the LORD, that is, the plague, in the land, with the angel of the LORD destroying throughout the whole territory of Israel.’ Now therefore consider what answer I should take back to him who sent me.”

13 And David said to Gad, “I am in great distress; let me now fall into the hands of the LORD; for his mercies are very great. But do not let me fall into the hands of men.”

14 So the LORD sent a plague on Israel; and seventy thousand men of Israel fell dead. 15 And God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it, but as he was destroying, the LORD looked and was grieved about the disaster, and said to the destroying angel, “It is enough. Hold back your hand.” And the angel of the LORD was standing by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 And David raised his eyes and saw the angel of the LORD standing between earth and heaven, with a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem. Then David and the elders of Israel, clothed in sackcloth, prostrated themselves.

17 And David said to God, “Is it not I who commanded the people to be numbered? Indeed I am the one who sinned and did evil; but as for these sheep, what have they done? Let your hand, I beg you, O LORD my God, be on me and on my father’s house, but not on your people, that they should be plagued.”

18 Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to tell David that David should go up and erect an altar to the LORD in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite. 19 And David went up in accordance with the word of Gad, which he spoke in the name of the LORD.

20 And Ornan turned back and saw the angel;

and his four sons with him hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat. 21 And as David was coming to Ornan, Ornan looked up and saw David, and went out of the threshing floor, and bowed down to David with his face to the ground.

22 Then David said to Ornan, “Let me have the place of this threshing floor, so I may build an altar in it for the LORD. You are to let me have it at the full price, so that the plague may be held back from the people.”

23 And Ornan said to David, “Take it for your self, and may my lord the king do what is good in his eyes. See, I will also give you the oxen for burnt offerings, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the grain offering. I give it all.”

24 And king David said to Ornan, “No, but I will certainly buy it at the full price; for I will not take what is yours for the LORD, or offer burnt offerings without cost.”

25 So David gave six hundred shekels of gold by weight to Ornan for the place. 26 And David built there an altar to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called on the LORD; and he answered him from heaven by fire on the altar of burnt offering.

27 And the LORD commanded the angel; and he put up his sword back into its scabbard. 28 At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there. 29 For the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of the burnt offering, at that time were in the high place at Gibeon. 30 But David could not go before it to inquire of God, for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

22 Then David said, “This is the house of the LORD God, and this is the altar of burnt offering for Israel.”

2 And David gave a command to assemble the 21:15 “Ornan” – a variant of Araunah.

21:16 “The angel of the LORD” – this verse gives a very vivid picture not found in 2 Samuel chapter 24. Note on the angel of LORD at Gen 16:7.

21:18 “Commanded” – observe that the angel did not speak directly to the guilty David but used Gad the prophet as his spokesman.

21:20 “Saw the angel!” – angels can make, and sometimes have made, themselves visible to men.

21:25 “Six hundred shekels” – about seven kilograms.

21:26 “Offerings” – Leviticus chapters 1 and 3. “Fire” – Lev 9:24; Jud 6:21; 1 Kings 18:38,39. The fire revealed to David that God had accepted his repentance, altar, and offerings.

21:27 David’s repentance and offerings turned away God’s wrath from the people. Compare Num 16:42-48.

22:1-19 David had already conceived the idea of building a temple to God in Jerusalem. He was told that he was not the man for that work but that one of his sons would do it (2 Sam 7:1-17). But David did all he could to make preparations for the building of the temple (v 5). This chapter records these preparations. A site was chosen (v 1), workmen were appointed (vs 2,15,16), materials were provided (vs 3,4,14), encouragement was given (vs 11-13), and helpers were foreigners who were in the land of Israel, and he appointed stone cutters to cut stones to build the house of God. 3 And David prepared iron in abundance for the nails for the doors of the gates, and for the fittings, and more bronze than could be weighed, 4 also cedar trees in abundance. For the Sidonians and Tyrians brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, "My son Solomon is young and inexperienced, and the house that is to be built for the LORD must be exceedingly magnificent, of fame and glory throughout all countries. Therefore I will now make preparations for it." So David prepared abundantly before his death.

6 Then he called for Solomon his son, and charged him to build a house for the LORD God of Israel. 7 And David said to Solomon, "My son, as for me, it was in my mind to build a house to the name of the LORD my God, 8 but the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 'You have shed much blood and have waged great wars. You shall not build a house for my name, because you have shed much blood on the earth in my sight. 9 Look, a son will be born to you, who will be a quiet man; and I will give him rest from all his enemies on all sides; for his name will be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days. 10 He will build a house for my name; and he will be my son, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever.'

11 "Now, my son, the LORD be with you, and may you have success and build the house of the LORD your God, as he has said about you. 12 Only may the LORD give you wisdom and understanding, and give you charge concerning Israel, so that you may keep the law of the LORD your God. 13 Then you will prosper, if you are careful to fulfil the statutes and judgments which the LORD commanded Moses concerning Israel. Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed.

14 "Now, look, taking much trouble for the house of the LORD, I have prepared a hundred thousand talents of gold, and a million talents of silver, and bronze and iron beyond weighing, because of its abundance. I have also made ready timber and stone; and you may add to it.

15 "Moreover, there are many workmen with you, cutters and workers in stone and timber, and all kinds of skillful men for every kind of work, 16 in gold, silver and brass and iron, without number. Arise therefore, and work, and may the LORD be with you."

17 David also commanded all the leaders of Israel to help his son Solomon, saying, 18 "Is not the LORD your God with you? And has he not given you rest on every side? For he has given the inhabitants of the land into my hands, and the land is subdued before the LORD, and before his people. 19 Now set your heart and your soul to seek the LORD your God. Arise therefore, and build the sanctuary of the LORD God, so that you can bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and God's holy articles, into the house that is to be built for the name of the LORD."

23 So when David was old and full of days, he made his son Solomon king over Israel.

2 And he assembled all the leaders of Israel, with the priests and the Levites. 3 Now the Levites were counted from the age of thirty years and appointed and encouraged (vs 17-19). David was not the sort of man to refuse to have anything to do with the building project because he had been rejected as the builder. He did not let any temptation to pride or resentment keep him from helping in any way he could. In this he is a much needed example to us all.

22:5 "Young" - 1 Kings 3:7.

"Glory" - 2 Chron 2:5. Compare Eph 2:20-22; 1 Pet 2:4-9.

22:7 2 Sam 7:2-3.

22:8 28:2,3; 1 Kings 5:3.

22:9 2 Sam 12:24-25; 1 Kings 4:20-25.

22:12 1 Kings 3:9-12; 2 Chron 1:10. Perhaps a desire for wisdom was produced in Solomon's heart by these words of his father.

22:13 "Dismayed" - compare Josh 1:6-9. Attempting a great work of God is no easy matter and there may well be fear and discouragement in even the greatest of men.

22:14 "Taking much trouble" - David considered that this was a great work for God (v 5), and he gave it his best efforts, even when he was busy ruling the kingdom, etc. He did not let other matters distract him from this work. May all God's workmen learn from his example. Compare 1 Cor 3:10-15.

"A hundred thousand talents"- one talent equals 34 kilograms. The amounts of gold and silver here mentioned seem so large that some scholars assume there must be a copying mistake, but there is no evidence of any kind for this. And 2 Chron 1:12-15 speaks of Solomon's immense wealth.

22:19 "Seek"- David well knew that the work would not proceed as it should and could unless God was at the center of their desires and efforts. On seeking God see 2 Chron 15:2; Ps 27:8; 34:10; 69:32; Jer 29:13.

23:1 28:5; 1 Kings 1:33-40.

23:2 28:1.

23:3 Compare Num 4:1-4. David was concerned for more than mere materials and builders for the temple. He wanted prepared men for the work of the temple after it was built. He was a man of much foresight and careful planning.

over; and their number in the census, man by man, was thirty-eight thousand. 4 Of these twenty-four thousand were to supervise the work of the house of the LORD, and six thousand were officials and judges, 5 and four thousand were doorkeepers, and four thousand praised the LORD with "the instruments which I made," said David, "to praise with."

6 And David divided them into sections according to the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

7 Of the Gershonites were Laadan and Shimei. 8 The sons of Laadan: the chief was Jehiel, and Zetham and Joel, three. 9 The sons of Shimei: Shelomith and Haziel and Haran, three. These were the chiefs of the fathers' households of Laadan. 10 And the sons of Shimei were Jahath, Zina and Jeush and Beriah. These four were the sons of Shimei. 11 And Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the second: but Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons; therefore they were reckoned as one household of their fathers.

12 The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four. 13 The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. And Aaron was permanently set apart, he and his sons, to consecrate the most holy things, to burn incense before the LORD, to minister to him, and to bless in his name forever. 14 Now as for Moses, the man of God, his sons were named among the tribe of Levi.

15 The sons of Moses were Gershom and Eliezer.

16 Of the sons of Gershom, Shebuel was the chief. 17 And the sons of Eliezer were Rehabiah the chief. And Eliezer had no other sons, but there were very many sons of Rehabiah. 18 Of the sons of Izhar, Shelomith was the chief. 19 Of the sons of Hebron, Jeriah was the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth. 20 Of the sons of Uzziel was Micah the first, and Jesiah the second.

21 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. The sons of Mahli: Eleazar and Kish. 22 And Eleazar died, and had no sons, only daughters; and their kinsmen, the sons of Kish, took them. 23 The sons of Mushi: Mahli and Eder and Jeremoth, three.

24 These were the sons of Levi in accordance with the house of their fathers, the chief of the fathers' households, as they were counted by the number of names in their census, who did the work of the service for the house of the LORD, from the age of twenty years and above. 25 For David said, "The LORD God of Israel has given rest to his people, so that they may dwell in Jerusalem forever, 26 and also to the Levites. They will no longer carry the tabernacle, or any of its articles for its service."

27 For according to the last words of David the Levites were numbered from twenty years old and over; 28 because their responsibility was to wait on the sons of Aaron for the service of the house of the LORD, in the courtyards and in the rooms, and in purifying all the holy things, and the work of the service of the house of God; 29 for the Showbread, and for the fine flour for the grain offering, and for the cakes made without yeast, and for what is baked in a pan, and for what is fried, and for all measurements of quantity and size; 30 and to stand every morning to thank and praise the LORD, and also at evening; 31 and to offer all the burnt sacrifices to the LORD on the Sabbaths, in the new moons and on the appointed festivals, in the proper number, in accordance with the ordinance commanded them, regularly, before the LORD; 32 and to keep charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, and to have charge of the Holy Place, and to have charge of the sons of Aaron their brethren, in the service of the house of the LORD.

24 Now these are the divisions of the sons of Aaron. The sons of Aaron: Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar. 2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children; therefore Eleazar and Ithamar served as the priests. 3 And David, with Zadok, of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech, of the sons of Ithamar, divided them according to their duties in their service. 4 And there were more chief men found among the sons of Eleazar than among the sons of Ithamar; and thus they were divided. Among the sons of Eleazar were sixteen chief men of the households of their fathers, and eight among the sons of Ithamar according to the households of their fathers.

23:24 At first only those 30 years and over were counted (v 30). This was changed to 20 years and over (v 27), possibly because there were not enough men 30 and above for all the various works of the temple, or because David thought it a good thing to introduce young men to the work.

23:28-32 9:28-34. The Levites were assistants to the priests and under their authority.

23:30 "Morning", "evening" - Ex 29:38-41; Num 28:3-8. Praises were to be offered at the times of the daily sacrifices.

"To thank" - note at Lev 7:12,13.

23:31 "Appointed festivals" - see Leviticus chapter 23.

23:32 Num 1:53; 3:6-9,38.

24:2 "Died" - Lev 10:1-2; Num 3:4.

24:3 "Zadok" - Zadok was high priest, along with Ahimelech (2 Sam 8:17). Ahimelech was Abiathar's son (v 6).

5 Thus they were divided by lot, both of these families; for the officials of the sanctuary, and officials of the house of God, were from the sons of Eleazar and from the sons of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah, the son of Nethaneel, the scribe, one of the Levites, wrote their names before the king and the leaders and Zadok the priest and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and before the heads of the families of the fathers of the priests and Levites, one principal household being taken for Eleazar, and one taken for Ithamar.

7 Now the first lot came out for Jehoiarib, the second for Jedaiah, 8 the third for Harim, the fourth for Seorim, 9 the fifth for Malchijah, the sixth for Mijamin, 10 the seventh for Hakkoz, the eighth for Abijah, 11 the ninth for Jeshuah, the tenth for Shecaniah, 12 the eleventh for Eliashib, the twelfth for Jakim, 13 the thirteenth for Huppah, the fourteenth for Jeshebeab, 14 the fifteenth for Bilgah, the sixteenth for Immer, 15 the seventeenth for Hezir, the eighteenth for Aphses, 16 the nineteenth for Pethahiah, the twentieth for Jehezkel, 17 the twenty-first for Jachim, the twenty-second for Gamul, 18 the twenty-third for Delaiah, the twenty-fourth for Maaziah.

19 This was the appointed order for them in their service to come into the house of the LORD, in accordance with their rule handed on by Aaron their father, as the LORD God of Israel had commanded him.

20 And these were the rest of the sons of Levi: of the sons of Amram, Shubael; of the sons of Shubael, Jehdeiah. 21 Concerning Rehabiah: of the sons of Rehabiah, the first was Isshiah. 22 Of the Izharites, Shelomoth; of the sons of Shelomoth, Jahath. 23 And the sons of Hebron: Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, Jekameam the fourth. 24 Of the sons of Uzziel, Michah; of the sons of Michah, Shamir. 25 The brother of Michah was Isshiah; of the sons of Isshiah, Zechariah. 26 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi; the son of Jaaziah, Beno. 27 The sons of Merari by Jaaziah, Beno and Shoham and Zaccur and Ibrì. 28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, who had no sons.

29 Concerning Kish: the son of Kish was Jerahmeel. 30 And the sons of Mushi, Mahli and Eder and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites in accordance with the households of their fathers. 31 These also cast lots just as their brethren, the sons of Aaron, did, in the presence of David the king and Zadok and Ahimelech and the heads of the families of the fathers of the priests and Levites, the heads of the fathers' households just as their younger brothers.

25 Moreover, David and the commanders of the army set apart some of the sons of Asaph and of Heman and of Jeduthun for the service, to prophesy with harps, with lyres, and with cymbals. And the number of those who performed this service was this:

2 Of the sons of Asaph, Zaccur and Joseph and Nethaniah and Asarelah; the sons of Asaph were under the direction of Asaph, who prophesied under the direction of the king; 3 of Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun, Gedaliah and Zeri and Jeshaiiah Hashabiah and Mattithiah, six; they were under the direction of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with a harp, to give thanks and to praise the LORD; 4 of Heman, the sons of Heman, Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamtiezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

5 All these were the sons of Heman, the king's seer in the words of God, to lift up the horn. And God gave to Heman fourteen sons and three daughters. 6 All these were under the direction of their father for singing in the house of the LORD with cymbals, lyres and harps, for the service of the house of God, according to the king's order to Asaph, Jeduthun and Heman. 7 So their number, with their brethren who were instructed in the songs of the LORD, all who were skillful, was two hundred and eighty-eight. 8 And they cast lots for their duties, all alike, the small as well as the great, the teacher as well as the scholar.

9 Now the first lot came out for Asaph to 24:5 "By lot" - v 31; 25:8; 26:13; Josh 13:6; 14:2. Evidently they trusted God to reveal His will by this method. See Prov 16:33.

24:19 These 24 divisions served one after the other, probably for two weeks at a time. Zechariah the father of John the Baptist was in the eighth division (Luke 1:5,8,9), being descended from Abijah.

24:23 "Jeriah the first" - or "the sons of Jeriah."

24:31 "Lot" - v 5.

"Younger" - note that responsibilities were not allotted on the basis of seniority, but in accord with God's choice, regardless of age.

25:1 All three of these men had the gift of prophecy. They are called seers which meant prophets (v 5; 2 Chron 29:30; 35:15; 1 Sam 9:9).

"To prophesy with" - compare 2 Kings 3:15.

25:3 "To praise" - 16:41-42.

25:7 "Songs of the LORD" - music and singing were regarded as important elements in God's worship. They can be at any time if they are for the Lord, and not for self-promotion and self-glorification.

25:8 "Learners" - 26:13. Those who had the greatest talent and the most learning and experience were not allowed to

Joseph; the second to Gedaliah, who with his brothers and sons were twelve; 10 the third to Zaccur; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 11 the fourth to Izri; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 12 the fifth to Nethaniah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 13 the sixth to Bukkiah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 14 the seventh to Jesharelah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 15 the eighth to Jeshaiiah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 16 the ninth to Mattaniah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 17 the tenth to Shimei; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 18 the eleventh to Azareel; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 19 the twelfth to Hashabiah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 20 the thirteenth to Shubael; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 21 the fourteenth to Mattithiah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 22 the fifteenth to Jeremoth; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 23 the sixteenth to Hananiah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 24 the seventeenth to Joshbekashah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 25 the eighteenth to Hanani; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 26 the nineteenth to Mallothi; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 27 the twentieth to Eliathah; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 28 the twenty-first to Hothir; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 29 the twenty-second to Giddalti; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 30 the twenty-third to Mahazioth; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve; 31 the twenty-fourth to Romamtiezer; he, his sons and his brothers, were twelve.

26 Concerning the divisions of the gatekeepers: of the Korhites was Meshelemiah the son of Korah, of the sons of Asaph.

2 And the sons of Meshelemiah were Zechariah the firstborn, Jediel the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth, 3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Elieonai the seventh. 4 And the sons of Obed Edom were Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, and Sacar the fourth, and Nethaneel the fifth, 5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peulthai the eighth; for God had blessed him.

6 Also sons were born to his son Shemaiah, who ruled throughout the house of their father, for they were mighty men of valour. 7 The sons of Shemaiah: Othni and Rephael and Obed, Elzabad, whose brothers were strong men, Elihu and Semachiah. 8 All these of the sons of Obed Edom. They and their sons and their brothers, able men with strength for the service, were sixty-two of Obed Edom.

9 And Meshelemiah had eighteen sons and brothers, strong men.

10 Also Hosah, of the children of Merari, had sons: Simri the chief (for though he was not the firstborn, his father made him chief), 11 Hilkiyah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth. All the sons and brothers of Hosah were thirteen.

12 Among these were the divisions of the gatekeepers, among the chief men, having duties like their relatives to minister in the house of the LORD. 13 And they cast lots, the small as well as the great, according to the house of their fathers, for each gate.

14 And the lot for the east gate fell to Shelemiah. Then they cast lots for his son Zechariah, a wise counsellor; and his lot came out for the north gate; 15 to Obed Edom for the south gate; and to his sons the lot fell for the storehouse. 16 To Shuppim and Hosah the lot came out for the west gate, with the Shallecheth gate, on the highway which ascends there, watch corresponded to watch.

17 Six Levites were on the east, four a day on the north, four a day on the south, and two by two at the storehouse. 18 At Parbar on the west, four were at the highway, and two at Parbar.

19 These are the divisions of the gatekeepers among the sons of Korah, and among the sons of Merari.

20 And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God, and over the treasures of the dedicated things.

21 As concerning the sons of Laadan, the sons of Laadan the Gershonite, chief fathers of Laadan the Gershonite, were Jehieli, 22 and the sons of Jehieli: Zetham and his brother Joel, who were over the treasures of the house of the LORD.

23 As for the Amramites and the Izharites the Hebronites and the Uzzielites:

24 Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was in charge of the treasures. 25 And his brethren by Eliezer were Rehabiah his son, and Jeshaiiah his son, and Joram his son, and Zichri his son, and Shelomith his son. 26 This Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicated things, which David the king, and the chief fathers, the captains over thousands and hundreds, and the captains of the army, had monopolize this service.

26:4 "Obed-Edom" – 13:13; 2 Sam 6:10.

dedicated. 27 They dedicated these things from the plunder won in battles, to maintain the house of the LORD. 28 And all that Samuel the seer, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah, had dedicated (and whoever had dedicated anything), it was under the hand of Shelomith and of his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites, Kenaniah and his sons were for outside responsibilities over Israel, as officials and judges.

30 And of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, a thousand seven hundred strong men, were officials among the Israelites on this, the west, side of the Jordan in all the LORD's appointed duties, and in the service of the king. 31 Among the Hebronites Jerijah was the chief, according to the genealogies of his fathers households among the Hebronites. In the fortieth year of the reign of David these records were sought out, and there were found among them mighty men of valour at Jazer in Gilead. 32 And his brethren were two thousand seven hundred strong men, chief fathers, whom king David made rulers over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, for every duty relating to God and the affairs of the king.

27 Now the number of the children of Israel who were the chief fathers and captains of thousands and hundreds, and their officials, and those who served the king in any duty of the military divisions which came in and went out month by month throughout all the months of the year: Each division had twenty-four thousand.

2 Over the first division for the first month was Jashobeam, the son of Zabdiel; and in his division were twenty-four thousand. 3 He was of the children of Perez and was the chief of all the captains of the army for the first month.

4 And over the division for the second month was Dodai an Ahohite, and Mikloth was the chief of his division; in his division also there were twenty-four thousand.

5 The third captain of the army for the third month was Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, a chief priest; and in his division were twenty-four thousand. 6 This is the Benaiah who was mighty among the thirty, and over the thirty; and in his division was his son Ammizabad.

7 The fourth captain for the fourth month was

Asahel, the brother of Joab, and after him his son Zebadiah; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

8 The fifth captain for the fifth month was Shamhuth the Izrahite; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

9 The sixth captain for the sixth month was Ira, the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

10 The seventh captain for the seventh month was Helez the Pelonite, of the children of Ephraim; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

11 The eighth captain for the eighth month was Sibbecai the Hushathite, of the Zarahites; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

12 The ninth captain for the ninth month was Abiezer the Anetothite, of the Benjamites; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

13 The tenth captain for the tenth month was Maharai the Netophathite, of the Zarahites; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

14 The eleventh captain for the eleventh month was Benaiah the Pirathonite, of the children of Ephraim; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

15 The twelfth captain for the twelfth month was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel; and in his division were twenty-four thousand.

16 Furthermore, these were over the tribes of Israel: the chief officer of the Reubenites was Eliezer the son of Zichri; of the Simeonites, Shephatiah the son of Maachah; 17 of the Levites, Hashabiah the son of Kemuel; of the Aaronites, Zadok; 18 of Judah, Elihu, one of David's brothers; of Issachar, Omri the son of Michael; 19 of Zebulun, Ishmaiah the son of Obadiah; of Naphtali, Jerimoth the son of Azriel; 20 of the children of Ephraim, Hoshea the son of Azaziah; of the half tribe of Manasseh, Joel the son of Pedaiiah; 21 of the half tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo the son of Zechariah; of Benjamin, Jaasiel the son of Abner; 22 of Dan, Azareel the son of Jeroham. These were the officers over the tribes of Israel.

23 But David did not take the number of those twenty years old and under, because the LORD had said he would make Israel as numerous as the stars of the heavens. 24 Joab, the son of Zeruiah, began to count them, but he did not finish, because God's wrath fell on Israel for it; nor was the number put in the account of the chronicles of king David.

25 And over the king's treasures was Azmaveth, the son of Adiel; and Jehonathan, the son of Uzziath was over the storehouses in the fields, in the cities, and in the villages, and in the castles; 26 and Ezri, the son of Kelub, was over those who were the farm workers tilling the ground; 27 and over the vineyards was Shimei the Ramathite; over the increase of the vineyards for the wine cellars was Zabdi the Shiphmite; 28 and over the olive trees and the sycamore trees that were in the low-lying plains was Baal Hanan the Gederite; and Joash was over the stores of oil; 29 and Shitrai the Sharonite was over the herds that pastured in Sharon; and Shaphat, the son of Adlai, was over the herds that were in the valleys; 30 And over the camels was Obil the Ishmaelite; and over the donkeys was Jehdeiah the Meronothite; 31 and over the flocks was Jaziz the Hagerite. All these were the officers over king David's property.

32 Also Jonathan, David's uncle, was a counsellor, a wise man, and a scribe; and Jehiel, the son of Hachmoni, was with the king's sons; 33 And Ahithophel was the king's counsellor; and Hushai the Archite was the king's companion; 34 and after Ahithophel was Jehoiada the son of Benaiah, and Abiathar; and Joab was the general of the king's army.

28 And David assembled at Jerusalem all the officials of Israel, the officials of the tribes, and the captains of the companies that ministered to the king by division, and the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and the stewards over all the property and possession of the king, and of his sons, with the officers and with the mighty men and with all the valiant men.

2 Then David the king rose to his feet, and said, "Hear me, my brethren, and my people. As for me, I had in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footstool of our God, and had made things ready for the building. 3 But God said to me, 'You shall not build a house for my name, because you have been a man of war, and have shed blood.'

4 "However the LORD God of Israel chose me above all the house of my father to be king over Israel forever; for he chose Judah to be the leader, and of the house of Judah, the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he was pleased to make me king over all Israel. 5 And of all my sons (for the LORD has given me many sons) he has chosen my son Solomon to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel. 6 And he said to me, 'Your son Solomon is the one who will build my house and my courts, for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father. 7 Moreover, I will establish his kingdom forever, if he is steadfast in doing my commandments and my judgments, as at this day.'

8 "Now therefore in the sight of all Israel, the congregation of the LORD, and in the hearing of our God, keep and seek out all the commandments of the LORD your God, so that you may possess this good land, and leave it as an inheritance for your children after you forever.

9 "And you, Solomon, my son, know the God of your father, and serve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind; for the LORD searches all hearts, and understands all the imaginations of the thoughts. If you seek him, he will be found by you. But if you forsake him, he will cast you off forever. 10 Be careful now, for the LORD has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary. Be strong, and do it."

11 Then David gave his son Solomon the plan of the portico of the temple, and of its buildings and of its treasuries and of its upper rooms and of its inner rooms and of the place of the mercy seat, 12 and the plan of all that he had through the Spirit, of the courts of the house of the LORD, and of all the rooms around it, of the treasuries of the

27:33 2 Sam 15:12,32,37.

27:34 "Joab" - 11:6.

28:1 22:17. This chapter makes it clear that before the attempt of Adonijah to seize power (1 Kings 1:5-11), all the leaders of Israel knew that David had chosen Solomon to be king in his place.

28:2 "In my heart" - 17:1,2; 2 Sam 7:2. "Footstool" - Ps 99:5; 132:7; Isa 60:13.

28:3 22:8; 2 Sam 7:5,13.

28:4 17:23,27; 2 Sam 7:11-13.

"Judah" - 5:2; Gen 49:10.

28:5 "Solomon" - 22:9-10.

28:6,7 2 Sam 7:12-14.

28:8 Compare Josh 1:6-9. The land could be kept in possession only in the same way it was originally taken - by following God's commands and obeying His word.

28:9 "Heart" - 29:17; 1 Sam 16:7; Heb 4:13.

"Seek him" - note at 22:19.

"Forsake. . . forever" - this goes beyond what God Himself had said in 2 Sam 7:14,15.

28:10 "Sanctuary" - note at Ex 25:8.

28:12 "Spirit" - v 19. God gave the plans for the temple just as He had for the tabernacle (Ex 25:9,40). It is not surprising then, that the same elements seen in the tabernacle appear again in the temple - most holy place, holy place, ark, altar of incense, table for bread, lampstands, brazen altar, etc.

house of God and of the treasuries for the dedicated things; 13 also for the divisions of the priests and the Levites, and for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the articles of service in the house of the LORD. 14 He designated the gold by weight for the things to be made of gold, for all the articles for all kinds of service; and the silver by weight for all the articles of silver; for all articles for every kind of service; 15 the weight for the gold candlesticks and for their gold lamps, by weight for each candlestick and for their lamps; and for the silver candlesticks, by weight, both for the candlesticks and also for its lamps, according to the use of every candlestick. 16 And he designated the gold by weight for the tables of Showbread, for each table; and likewise the silver for the silver tables; 17 also pure gold for the forks and the bowls and the cups; and for the golden basins he designated gold by weight for each basin; and likewise silver by weight for each silver basin; 18 and for the altar of incense refined gold by weight; and gold for the plan of the chariot of the cherubim, that spread out their wings, and overshadowed the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

19 "All this," David said, "the LORD caused me to understand in writing by his hand on me, all the details of this plan."

20 And David said to his son Solomon, "Be strong and courageous, and do it. Do not be afraid or dismayed; for the LORD God, my God, will be with you. He will not fail you or forsake you, until you have finished all the work for the service of the house of the LORD. 21 And, see, the divisions of the priests and the Levites; they are there for all the service of the house of God. With you also, for all kinds of workmanship, will be every skillful man who is willing, for any kind of service. Also the officials and all the people will be wholly at your command."

29 Furthermore, David the king said to all the congregation, "My son Solomon, whom alone God has chosen, is still young and inexperienced, and the work is great, for the palace is not for man, but for the LORD God. 2 Now for the house of my God, with all my strength, I have made ready the gold for things to be made of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and the bronze for things of bronze, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood; onyx stones, and stones to be set, inlaid stones, and stones of various colours, and all kinds of precious stones, and marble in abundance. 3 Moreover, because of my delight in the house of my God, I give the treasure I have of gold and silver for the house of my God, over and above all that I have made ready for the holy house, 4 namely, three thousand talents of gold, the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of its buildings; 5 the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for all kinds of work to be done by the hands of artisans. And who now is willing to consecrate his service today to the LORD?"

6 Then the chief of the fathers and leaders of the tribes of Israel, and the captains of thousands and of hundreds, with the officials over the king's work, offered willingly, 7 and gave for the service of the house of God five thousand talents and ten thousand darics of gold, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of bronze, and one hundred thousand talents of iron. 8 And those with whom precious stones were found gave them into the treasure of the house of the LORD, by the hand of Jehiel the Gershonite. 9 Then the people rejoiced, because of their willing offering,

28:19 David, inspired by God's Spirit (v 12) wrote down exactly what God wanted the plans and specifications of the temple to be. Solomon followed them completely (1 Kings 6:38). If Solomon had always followed all the instructions David gave him (v 9), it would have been well. But 1 Kings 11:4 reveals that he did not.

28:20 22:13. Compare Josh 1:5-7.

28:21 "Skillful" - compare Ex 35:25-35; 36:1,2. Whenever there is a special work of God to be done, God will raise up men and give them the various skills needed to do it. Compare Rom 12:5-8; 1 Cor 12:4-6; Eph 4:7-13.

29:1 "Young" - 22:5; 1 Kings 3:7. Solomon was probably about 21 years of age.

"God" - 22:5; 2 Chron 2:5.

29:2 22:3-5,14.

29:3 "The treasure I have" - David was not content to provide plunder captured in battles and other possessions belonging to the nation's treasuries; he wanted to give from his personal possessions. See also 21:24,25; 2 Sam 24:24. Alas, that so many now in Christian circles not only are reluctant to give to God's work, they enrich themselves by filling their pockets from what others have given. Note and references on giving at 2 Cor 9:15.

29:4-7 "Talents" - one talent was about 34 kilograms.

29:5 "Consecrate his service" - David knew that if they first gave themselves to God they would also give to the work of God. Compare 2 Cor 8:1-5.

29:7 "Ten thousand darics" - about 84 kilograms.

29:9 "Willingly" - they followed David's example. The result was joy to them and an abundance for God's work. Compare for they offered willingly to the LORD with a whole heart. And David the king also rejoiced with great joy.

10 Therefore David praised the LORD before all the congregation, and David said,

"Blessed are you, LORD God of Israel,
our Father, for ever and ever.

11 Yours, O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory,
and the victory, and the majesty;
for all that is in heaven and on earth is yours;
yours is the kingdom, O LORD, and you are exalted as head over all.

12 Both riches and honour come from you,
and you reign over all,
and power and might are in your hands,
and it is in your hands to make great and to give strength to all.

13 Now therefore, our God, we thank you and praise your glorious name.

14 "But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer so willingly in this way? For all things come from you, and we have give to you some of your own. 15 For we are foreigners and settlers before you, as were all our fathers. Our days on earth are like a shadow, and no one abides. 16 O LORD our God, all this abundance that we have made ready to build you a house for your holy name comes from your hand, and is all your own. 17 I also know, my God, that you test the heart, and take pleasure in integrity. As for me, in the integrity of my heart I have willingly offered all these things. And now I have seen with joy your people who are present here making willing offerings to you. 18 O LORD God of our fathers Abraham, Isaac and Israel, keep this forever in the intentions and thoughts of the hearts of your people, and prepare their hearts for yourself. 19 And give my son Solomon a perfect heart to keep your commandments, your testimonies and your statutes, and to do all these things, and to build your palace for which I have made provision."

20 And David said to all the congregation, "Now praise the LORD your God." And all the congregation praised the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed their heads, and prostrated themselves in the presence of the LORD and the king.

21 And on the following day they offered sacrifices to the LORD, and made burnt offerings to the LORD, a thousand bulls, a thousand rams, and a thousand lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel. 22 And on that day they ate and drank in the LORD's presence with great gladness. And for the second time they made David's son Solomon king and anointed him for the LORD to be the chief ruler, and Zadok to be priest. 23 Then Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king in the place of his father David, and prospered, and all Israel obeyed him. 24 And all the leaders and the mighty men, and also all the sons of king David, submitted themselves to Solomon the king.

25 And the LORD exalted Solomon exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and bestowed on him more royal majesty than had been on any king in Israel before him.

26 Thus David the son of Jesse reigned over all Israel. 27 And the time that he reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron, and he reigned thirty-three years he in Jerusalem. 28 And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches and honour, and his son Solomon reigned in his place.

29 Now the acts of David the king, first and last, see, they are written in the book of Samuel the seer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the seer, 30 his whole reign and his might, and the circumstances that came on him and on Israel, and on all the kingdoms of the other countries.

Ex 35:4-9,20-29; 36:4-7. See 2 Cor 9:7-11.

29:11 Ps 62:11; 89:11; 1 Tim 1:17; Rev 5:12,13.

29:12 2 Chron 1:12; 20:6; Isa 40:26-31.

29:14 All we have comes from God. We can give to Him only what He has given to us, and we are but stewards even of that which remains with us (Luke 12:42,43; Rom 12:6-8; 1 Cor 4:1,2; 1 Pet 4:10). David did not grumble that he had to give something to God - he counted it a great privilege.

29:15 "Foreigners" - Lev 25:23; Ps 39:12; Heb 11:13; 1 Pet 2:11.

"Shadow" - Ps 102:11; 144:4; Eccl 6:12.

29:17 "Integrity" - Ps 15:1,2; 51:6; Prov 11:20.

"Willingly" - vs 6,9.

29:18 Faithfulness to God is a very great virtue, and all of us may well pray as David did. See Matt 24:45; 25:23,28-30; Luke 19:17; 1 Cor 4:2.

29:19 22:14; 28:9; 29:1,2; Ps 72:1.

29:22 Compare 12:38-40; 1 Kings 1:33-40.

"Second time" - both Saul and David also had been anointed on two separate occasions - privately, then publicly.

29:25 1 Kings 3:13; 2 Chron 1:1,12.

29:27 2 Sam 5:4,5; 1 Kings 2:11.

29:29 "Nathan", "Gad" - no man knows what happened to these two books which, it seems, the writer of Chronicles consulted. About half of the two books of Chronicles is based on the books of Samuel and Kings.

29:30 "Other countries" - such as Syria, Moab and Edom.

2 CHRONICLES

Author and date:

See the introduction to 1 Chronicles.

Theme:

Events in the histories of the kings of Judah from Solomon to the fall of Jerusalem. This book covers the same time period as the two books of Kings together – 384 years. This book may be compared with those. However, 2 Chronicles contains the history of the kingdom of Judah and ignores the northern kingdom of Israel, except as it relates to Judah. It seems the writer's purpose (and the Holy Spirit's purpose) was to show God's faithfulness to the covenant He made with David concerning David's dynasty (1 Chron 17:11-14). About half of the contents of 2 Chronicles is not found in the two books of Kings.

1 And Solomon, the son of David, was strengthened in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him and exalted him exceedingly.

2 Then Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the captains of thousands and of hundreds and to the judges and to every leader in all Israel, the chief of the fathers. 3 So Solomon, and all the congregation with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon, for the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness, was there. 4 But David had brought the ark of God from Kirjath-Jearim to the place which David had prepared for it; for he had pitched a tent for it at Jerusalem. 5 Moreover, the bronze altar that Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, had made, he put before the tabernacle of the LORD. And Solomon and the congregation sought it out. 6 And Solomon went up there to the bronze altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thousand burnt offerings on it.

7 In that night God appeared to Solomon, and said to him, "Ask. What shall I give you?"

8 And Solomon said to God, "You have shown great mercy to David my father, and have caused me to reign in his place. 9 Now, O LORD God, let your promise to my father David be established, for you have made me king over a people as numerous as the dust of the earth. 10 Give me now wisdom and knowledge, so that I may go out and come in before this people; for who can judge this great people of yours?"

11 And God said to Solomon, "Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked for riches, wealth, or honour, or for the life of your enemies, or even asked for a long life, but have asked for wisdom and knowledge for yourself, so that you can judge my people, over whom I have made you king, 12 wisdom and knowledge are granted to you; and I will give you riches and wealth and honour, such as none of the kings before you had, and such as those who come after you will not have."

13 Then Solomon returned from the high place that was at Gibeon, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, to Jerusalem, and reigned over Israel.

14 And Solomon amassed chariots and horsemen, and he had a thousand four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, which he placed in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem. 15 And the king made silver and gold at Jerusalem as plentiful as stones, and made cedar trees as abundant as the sycamore trees that are in the lowlands. 16 And Solomon had horses imported from Egypt, and linen yarn. The king's merchants received the linen yarn at a price. 17 And they imported each chariot for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty. And by the same means they imported horses for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria.

2 And Solomon determined to build a house for the name of the LORD, and a house for his kingdom. 2 And Solomon assigned seventy thousand men to carry loads, and eighty thousand to cut stones in the mountains, and three thousand six hundred to oversee them.

3 And Solomon sent word to Hiram, the king of Tyre, saying, "Deal with me as you dealt with my father David, when you sent him cedars to build a house for himself to live in. 4 See, I will build a house for the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to him, and to burn fragrant incense before him and for the continual Showbread and for the burnt offerings, morning and evening, on the Sabbaths and on the new moons and at the solemn festivals of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance forever for Israel.

5 "And the house which I will build will be great, for our God is greater than all gods. 6 But who is able to build a house for him, seeing the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain him? Who am I then, that I should build a house for him, except only to burn sacrifice before him?

7 "Therefore now send me a man skillful in working with gold and with silver and with bronze and with iron and with purple and crimson and blue, and who is skillful in engraving to work with the skillful men who are with me in Judah and in Jerusalem, whom my father David provided.

8 "Send me also cedar trees, fir trees, and algum trees, from Lebanon; for I know that your servants know how to cut timber in Lebanon. And, see, my servants will be with your servants, 9 to prepare timber for me in abundance. For the house which I am about to build will be great and wonderful. 10 And, see, I will give to your servants, to those who cut timber, twenty thousand measures of crushed wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oil."

11 Then Hiram, the king of Tyre, answered in writing, and sent it to Solomon, "Because the LORD loves his people, he has made you king over them."

12 Hiram also said, "Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given to king David a wise son, endued with prudence and understanding, so that he might build a house for the LORD and a house for his kingdom.

13 "And now I have sent a skillful man, endued with understanding, of my father Hiram. 14 He is the son of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, skillful in working with gold and with silver, with bronze, with iron, with stone and with timber, with purple, with blue and with fine linen and with crimson and with any kind of engraving, and to execute any design that may be suggested to him. He can work with your skillful men, and with the skillful men of my lord David, your father.

15 "Now therefore let my lord send to his servants the wheat and the barley, the oil and the wine, which he has spoken of, 16 and we will cut as much wood as you need from Lebanon, and we will bring it to you on rafts by sea to Joppa. And you can transport it up to Jerusalem."

17 And Solomon took a count of all the foreigners who were in the land of Israel, following the census his father David had taken, and they were found to be a hundred and fifty-three thousand six hundred. 18 And he appointed seventy thousand of them to be carriers of loads, and eighty thousand to be stone cutters in the mountain, and three thousand six hundred overseers to make the people work.

3 Then Solomon began to build the house of the LORD at Jerusalem in Mount Moriah, where the LORD appeared to his father David, in the place that David had prepared in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite. 2 And he began to build on the second day of the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

3 Now these are the foundations which Solomon laid for the building of the house of God. The length by cubits, in accordance with the old standard, was sixty cubits and the width twenty cubits. 4 And the length of the portico that was at the front of the house, was according to the width of the house, twenty cubits, and its height was a hundred and twenty. And inside he overlaid it with pure gold. 5 And the great hall he paneled with fir wood, which he overlaid with fine gold, and set palm trees and chain designs in it. 6 And he adorned the house with precious stones; and the gold was gold from Parvaim. 7 He also overlaid the house, its beams, posts and walls and its doors, with gold, and engraved cherubim on the walls.

8 And he made the Most Holy Place of the house. Its length was according to the width of the house, twenty cubits, and its width twenty cubits. And he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to six hundred talents. 9 And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper rooms with gold.

10 And in the Most Holy Place of the house he

2:7 Compare Ex 31:3-5; 1 Chron 22:15.

2:9 "Wonderful" - v 5; 1 Chron 22:5; 29:19.

2:10 "Twenty thousand measures" - in Hebrew "kors" - probably about 125,000 bushels.

"Twenty thousand baths" - probably about 440 kiloliters.

2:11 Compare 1 Kings 10:9.

2:12 Hiram had learned that Jehovah the God of Israel was no mere national God, but the creator of heaven and earth.

2:13-14 1 Kings 7:13-14.

2:17 "David had taken" - 1 Chron 21:1.

is the place where Abraham took Isaac to offer him to God (Gen 22:2,14). On one end of it the Lord Jesus, God's temple (John 2:18-21), was brought down and made whole again.

"Ornan" - a variant of Araunah.

3:3 "Cubits" - the temple was about 27 meters long and 9 wide.

3:7 "Cherubim" - Gen 3:24; Ezek 1:5. Cherubim is the Hebrew plural of cherub.

3:8 "Most Holy Place" - Ex 26:33; Lev 16:1,2. The place was a cube about 9 meters each dimension.

"Talents" - one talent equaled about 34 kilograms.

3:9 "Fifty shekels" - about 0.6 kilogram.

made two sculptured cherubim, and overlaid them with gold. 11 And the wings of the cherubim were twenty cubits long. One wing of one cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing was also five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub. 12 And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was also five cubits, touching the wing of the other cherub. 13 The wings of these cherubim extended twenty cubits; and they stood on their feet, and their faces were inward.

14 And he made the veil of blue and purple and crimson and fine linen, and worked cherubim on it.

15 Also at the front of the house he made two pillars thirty-five cubits high, and the capital that was on the top of each of them was five cubits. 16 And he made chain work, as in the sanctuary, and put them on the tops of the pillars; and he made a hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chain work. 17 And he set up the pillars at the front of the temple, one on the right, and the other on the left, and called the name of the one on the right Jachin, and the name of the one on the left Boaz.

4 Moreover, he made a bronze altar, twenty cubits in length and twenty cubits in width and ten cubits in height. 2 Also he made a cast metal sea ten cubits from brim to brim, circular in form; and its height was five cubits, and it took a cord of thirty cubits to go around it. 3 And below the rim were figures of oxen, which completely encircled the sea, ten in a cubit. When the sea was cast two rows of oxen were also cast.

4 It stood on twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; and the sea was set on top of them, and all their back parts were toward the inside. 5 And the thickness of the sea was a hand breadth, and its brim like the work of the rim of a cup, like a lily flower; and it received and held three thousand baths.

6 He also made ten lavers, and put five on the right and five on the left, to wash in them. They washed in them the things they offered for the burnt offering, but the sea was for the priests to wash in.

7 And he made ten lampstands of gold according to their specification, and set them in the temple, five on the right side and five on the left.

8 He made also ten tables, and placed them in the temple, five on the right side and five on the left. And he made a hundred basins of gold.

9 And he made the courtyard of the priests, and the great courtyard, and doors for the courtyard, and overlaid their doors with bronze. 10 And he set the sea at the right side of the east end, opposite the south.

11 And Hiram made the pots and the shovels and the basins.

And Hiram finished the work that he was to make for king Solomon for the house of God: 12 the two pillars, and the bowl-shaped tops, and the capitals which were on the top of the two pillars, and the two woven networks to cover the two bowl-shaped tops of the capitals which were on top of the pillars, 13 and four hundred pomegranates on the two woven networks, two rows of pomegranates on each network, to cover the two bowl-shaped tops of the capitals which were on the pillars. 14 He also made the stands and made the lavers on the stands, 15 one sea, and twelve oxen under it. 16 Also Hiram Abi used burnished bronze to make the pots and the shovels and the forks, and all their articles, for king Solomon for the house of the LORD. 17 The king cast them in the plain of the Jordan, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Solomon made all these articles in great abundance, so that the weight of the bronze could not be found out.

19 And Solomon made all the articles that were for the house of God, including the golden altar, and the tables on which the Showbread was placed, 20 and the lampstands with their lamps with pure gold, and burned before the sanctuary as specified; 21 and made the flowers and the lamps and the tongs, with gold, solid gold; 22 and the snuffers

3:14 Ex 26:31-35; Heb 9:3. The veil symbolized the separation of man from the immediate presence of God. At the crucifixion of the Lord Jesus the veil of the temple was torn in two, demonstrating that through His sacrifice every believer now has free access to God (Matt 27:51; Mark 15:38; Luke 23:45; Heb 10:19-22).

3:15-17 1 Kings 7:15-21. 1 Kings 7:15 and 2 Kings 25:17 say the height of each pillar was 18 cubits. The author's meaning may be that the combined height of the two pillars was roughly 35 cubits.

"Jachin" - probably means "He and the basins and the spoons and the censers, with pure gold. And the entrance of the house, its inner doors for the Most Holy Place, and the doors of the house of the temple, were of gold.

5 Thus all the work that Solomon made for the house of the LORD was finished, and Solomon brought in all the things that his father David had dedicated, and he put the silver and the gold and all the articles among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Israel, to Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion. 3 Therefore all the men of Israel assembled around the king in the feast which was in the seventh month.

4 And all the elders of Israel came; and the Levites took up the ark. 5 And they brought up the ark and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy articles that were in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites brought these up. 6 And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel that were assembled with him before the ark, sacrificed sheep and oxen, so numerous that they could not be counted or told.

7 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, to the sanctuary of the house, into the Most Holy Place, under the wings of the cherubim: 8 for the cherubim spread out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim were a covering over the ark and its poles. 9 And they drew out the poles of the ark, so that the ends of the poles of the ark were seen before the sanctuary; but they were not seen outside. And there it is to this day. 10 There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets which Moses put in it at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

11 And this happened after the priests had come out of the Holy Place (for all the priests who were present were sanctified, and did not regard their divisions; 12 also all the Levites who were singers, Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, with their sons and their brethren, arrayed in white linen, having cymbals and lyres and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests sounding with trumpets), 13 as the trumpeters and singers in unison were making themselves heard with one voice praising and thanking the LORD, and as they raised their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and musical instruments, and praised the LORD, saying, "For he is good; for his mercy continues on forever," that the house, the house of the LORD, was filled with a cloud, 14 so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of God.

6 Then Solomon said, "The LORD has said that he would dwell in thick darkness. 2 But I have built a lofty house for you, a place for your dwelling forever."

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed the whole congregation of Israel; and all the congregation of Israel stood.

4 And he said, "Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who has fulfilled with his hands what he spoke with his mouth to my father David, saying, 5 'Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt I chose no city among all the tribes of Israel in which to build a house, that my name might be there; nor did I chose any man to be a ruler over my people Israel. 6 But I have chosen Jerusalem, so that my name might be there, and have chosen David to be over my people Israel.'

7 "Now it was in the heart of my father David to build a house for the name of the LORD God of Israel. 8 But the LORD said to my father David, 'Because it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well to have it in your heart. 9 However you shall not build the house, but your son who will be born to you shall build the house for my name.'

10 "So the LORD has fulfilled his word that he spoke, for I have risen up in the place of my father David, and sit on the throne of Israel, just as the LORD promised, and have built the house for the name of the LORD God of Israel. 11 And I have put the ark in it, in which is the covenant of the LORD, that he made with the children of Israel."

12 And he stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands. 13 For Solomon had made a bronze platform five cubits long and five cubits wide and three cubits high, and had placed it in the middle of the courtyard; and he stood on it, and knelt on his knees before all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven, 14 and said,

“O LORD God of Israel, there is no God like you in the heavens, or on the earth, who keeps covenant and shows mercy to your servants who walk before you with all their hearts. 15 You have kept what you promised to your servant David, my father, and have fulfilled with your hand what you spoke with your mouth, as it is today.

16 “Now therefore, O LORD God of Israel, keep what you have promised to your servant David, my father, saying, ‘You will not lack a man in my sight to sit on the throne of Israel, if only your children are careful about their way to walk in my law, as you have walked before me.’ 17 Now then, O LORD God of Israel, let your word, which you spoke to your servant David, come true.

18 “But will God indeed dwell with men on the earth? See, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain you; how much less this house which I have built! 19 So have regard for the prayer of your servant, and for his supplication, O LORD my God, to hear the cry and the prayer which your servant is praying before you, 20 that your eyes may be open on this house day and night, on the place of which you have said that you would put your name there, to listen to the prayer which your servant prays toward this place. 21 So hear the supplications of your servant, and of your people Israel, which they will make toward this place. Hear from your dwelling place, from heaven; and when you hear, forgive.

22 “If a man sins against his neighbour, and is made to take an oath, and the oath comes before your altar in this house, 23 then hear from heaven, and act and judge your servants, punishing the wicked by bringing his way on his own head, and justifying the righteous by giving him according to his righteousness.

24 “And if your people Israel are defeated by the enemy, because they have sinned against you, and return and confess your name and pray and make supplication before you in this house, 25 then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them again to the land which you gave to them and to their fathers.

26 “When the heavens are shut up, and there is no rain, because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place, and confess your name and turn from their sin, when you afflict them, 27 then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of your servants and of your people Israel, when you have taught them the good way in which they should walk, and send rain on your land, which you have given to your people as an inheritance.

28 “If there is famine in the land, if there is pestilence, if there is blight, or mildew, locusts, or caterpillars, if their enemies besiege them in the cities of their land, whatever plague or whatever sickness there may be, 29 then whatever prayer or supplication made by anyone, or by all your people Israel, when each one knows his own plague and his own grief, and spreads out his hands in this house, 30 then hear from heaven, your dwelling place, and forgive, and render to each man according to all his ways. You know their heart, for you alone know the hearts of the children of men. 31 Do this that they may fear you, and walk in your ways as long as they live in the land which you gave to our fathers.

32 “Moreover, concerning the foreigner, who is not of your people Israel, but has come from a far country because of your great name and your mighty hand and your stretched out arm; if they come and pray in this house, 33 then hear from heaven, from your dwelling place, and act in accordance with all that the foreigner calls to you for, so that all people of the earth may know your name, and fear you, as your people Israel do, and may know that this house which I have built is called by your name.

34 “If your people go out to war against their enemies by the way that you send them, and they pray to you toward this city which you have chosen, and the house which I have built for your name, 35 then from heaven hear their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

36 “If they sin against you (for there is no one who does not sin) and you are angry with them, and deliver them up to their enemies, and they carry them away captives to a land far off or near, 37 if they take thought in the land where they are carried captive, and turn and pray to you in the land of their captivity, saying, ‘We have sinned, we have done wrong and have acted wickedly’; 38 if they turn back to you with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their captivity, where they have carried them captives, and pray toward their land which you gave to their fathers, and toward the city which you have chosen, and toward the house which I have built for your name, 39 then hear from heaven, from your dwelling place, their prayer and their supplications, and maintain their cause and forgive your people who have sinned against you.

40 “Now, my God, I beseech you, let your eyes be open, and let your ears be attentive to the prayer that is made in this place.

41 “Now therefore arise, O LORD God, into your resting place,

 you, and the ark of your strength.
 Let your priests, O LORD God,
 be clothed with salvation,
 and let your saints rejoice in goodness.
 42 O LORD God, do not turn away the face of your anointed.
 Remember your mercies to your servant David."

7 Now when Solomon had finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the LORD filled the house. 2 And the priests could not enter into the house of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD had filled the LORD's house. 3 And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the LORD on the house, they bowed down with their faces to the ground on the pavement and worshipped and praised the LORD, saying, "For he is good; for his mercy continues on forever."

4 Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the LORD. 5 And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty-two thousand oxen, and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God. 6 And the priests were standing in their places; the Levites also with the LORD's musical instruments, which David the king had made to praise the LORD, because his mercy continues on forever, which were used when David praised. And the priests sounded trumpets before them, and all Israel stood.

7 Then Solomon consecrated the middle of the courtyard that was before the house of the LORD, for there he offered burnt offerings and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar which Solomon had made was not able to hold the burnt offerings and the grain offerings and the fat.

8 Also at the same time Solomon kept the feast for seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entrance of Hamath to the river of Egypt. 9 And in the eighth day they held a solemn assembly, for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days and the feast seven days. 10 And on the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodness that the LORD had showed to David and to Solomon and to his people Israel.

11 Thus Solomon finished the house of the LORD and the king's house; and Solomon successfully completed all that came into his heart to make in the house of the LORD, and in his own house. 12 And the LORD appeared to Solomon at night and said to him,

"I have heard your prayer, and have chosen this place for myself as a house of sacrifice.

13 "If I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send plague among my people, 14 if my people, who are called by my name, humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land. 15 Now my eyes will be open and my ears attentive to the prayer that is made in this place. 16 For now I have chosen and sanctified this house, so that my name may be there forever, and my eyes and my heart will be there continually.

17 "And as for you, if you will walk before me as David your father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded you, and observe my statutes and my judgments, 18 then I will establish the throne of your kingdom, just as I covenanted with your father David, saying, "You will not lack a man to be ruler in Israel."

19 "But if you turn away and forsake my statutes and my commandments, which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods and worship them, 20 then I will pluck them up by the roots out of my land which I have given them; and this house, which I have sanctified for my name, I will hurl from my sight, and cause it to be a proverb and a byword among all nations. 21 And as for this house, which is exalted, everyone who passes by it will be astonished and say, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land, and to this house?' 22 And the answer will be, 'Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, who brought them up out of the land of Egypt, and adopted other gods and worshipped them and served them. Therefore he has brought all this disaster on them.'"

7:14 6:37-39. This is a promise made to Israel as a nation concerning their land. However, there are spiritual principles here which apply to anyone anywhere, to us as individuals or as groups of believers. To experience answered prayer, forgiveness of sins, and revival of spiritual life three things are required – humbling ourselves (Ps 51:17; Isa 66:2; Jam 4:6), seeking God's face (15:2; 1 Chron 22:19; Ps 27:8; 34:10; 69:32; Jer 29:13), and true repentance (Lev 26:40-42; Isa 55:6,7; Ezek 18:30-32; 1 John 1:9). For healing of a whole land, national humility and repentance and seeking God were required.

8 And at the end of twenty years, in which Solomon had built the house of the LORD and his own house, it came about 2 that Solomon built the cities which Hiram had restored to Solomon and caused the children of Israel to live there. 3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zobah and seized it. 4 And he built Tadmor in the wilderness, and all the store cities, which he built in Hamath. 5 Also he built Upper Beth Horon and Lower Beth Horon, fortified cities, with walls, gates and bars, 6 and Baalath and all the store cities that Solomon had, and all the chariot cities and the cities for the horsemen, and all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem and in Lebanon and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 As for all the people who were left of the Hittites and the Amorites and the Perizzites and the Hivites and the Jebusites, who were not of Israel 8 but the descendants of those people who remained after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not destroyed, Solomon made them forced labourers until this day. 9 But among the children of Israel Solomon did not make any servants for his work; but they were warriors and chiefs of his captains and captains of his chariots and horsemen. 10 And these were king Solomon's chief officials, two hundred and fifty, who ruled over the people.

11 And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh from the city of David to the house that he had built for her, for he said, "My wife shall not live in the house of David king of Israel, because the places to which the ark of the LORD has come are holy."

12 Then Solomon offered burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of the LORD, which he had built in front of the portico, 13 according to the daily rule, offering according to the commandment of Moses, on the Sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts, three times in the year, namely, at the Feast of Unleavened Bread and at the Feast of Weeks and at the Feast of Tabernacles. 14 And in accordance with the order of his father David, he appointed the divisions of the priests for their service, and the Levites for their duties, to praise and minister before the priests, according to the daily rule; also the gatekeepers by their divisions at every gate, for so had David the man of God commanded. 15 And they did not depart from the command of the king to the priests and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures.

16 Now all the work of Solomon was carried out from the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD until it was finished. So the house of the LORD was completed.

17 Then Solomon went to Ezion-Geber and to Eloth, at the sea shore in the land of Edom. 18 And Hiram sent to him ships by the hands of his servants, and servants who knew the sea; and they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir and brought from there four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and delivered them to king Solomon.

9 And when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to Jerusalem to test Solomon with hard questions, with a very great company and camels that carried spices and gold in abundance and precious stones. And when she had come to Solomon, she talked with him of all that was in her heart. 2 And Solomon answered all her questions; and nothing was hidden from Solomon which he did not tell her. 3 And when the queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built, 4 and the food of his table, and the seating of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers and their apparel, and his cupbearers and their apparel, and his stairway by which he went up to the house of the LORD, no more spirit was left in her.

5 And she said to the king, "It was a true report

9:1-28 Notes at 1 Kings 10:1-29. God had promised Solomon great wisdom, wealth, which I heard in my own land about your deeds and your wisdom. 6 However I did not believe their words, until I came and saw it with my eyes. And, see, the half of the greatness of your wisdom was not told me; for you surpass the fame that I heard. 7 Happy are your men, and happy are these your servants, who stand continually before you and hear your wisdom. 8 Blessed be the LORD your God, who delighted in you to set you on his throne, to be king for the LORD your God. Because your God loved Israel he made you king over them to establish them forever, to administer judgment and justice."

9 And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold and spices in great abundance and precious stones; nor had there ever been any such spices as the queen of Sheba gave king Solomon.

10 And also Hiram's servants and Solomon's servants, who brought gold from Ophir, brought algum trees and precious stones. 11 And from the algum trees the king made steps for the house of the LORD and for the king's palace, and harps and lyres for the singers; and such had never been seen before in the land of Judah.

12 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all she desired, whatever she asked, besides gifts in return for what she had brought to the king. So she turned and went away to her own land, she and her servants.

13 Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, 14 besides that which traders and merchants brought. And all the kings of Arabia and leaders of the country brought gold and silver to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred shields of hammered gold; six hundred shekels of hammered gold went for each shield. 16 And he made three hundred small shields of hammered gold; three hundred shekels of gold went for each shield. And the king put them in the house of The Forest of Lebanon.

17 Moreover the king made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold. 18 And there were six steps to the throne with a footstool of gold, which were fastened to the throne, and arms on each side of the seat, and two lions standing by the arms. 19 And twelve lions stood there on this side and that side of the six steps. Nothing like it had been made in any kingdom. 20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of The Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; none were of silver. Silver was not something taken into account in the days of Solomon. 21 For the king's ships went to Tarshish with Hiram's servants; once every three years the ships of Tarshish came bringing gold and silver, ivory and apes and peacocks.

22 And king Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom. 23 And all the kings of the earth sought out the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom that God had put in his heart. 24 And each man brought his present, articles of silver and articles of gold and garments, weapons and spices, horses and mules, so much year by year.

25 And Solomon had four thousand stalls for horses and chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king at Jerusalem. 26 And he reigned over all the kings from the Euphrates river to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt. 27 And the king made silver in Jerusalem as common as stones, and made cedar trees as plentiful as the sycamore trees that are in the lowlands. 28 And they brought to Solomon horses out of Egypt and out of all lands.

29 Now the rest of the acts of Solomon, first and last, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iddo the seer against Jeroboam the son of Nebat? 30 And Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel forty years. 31 And Solomon slept with his ancestors, and he was buried in the city of his father David. And his son Rehoboam reigned in his place.

10 And Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king. 2 And it came about when Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who was in Egypt where he had fled from the presence of king Solomon, heard it, that Jeroboam returned from Egypt. 3 And they sent word and called him. So Jeroboam and all Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying, 4 "Your riches, and honor (1:11,12). This chapter shows in some measure the fulfillment of that promise.

9:8 2:11. "Throne" - observe that she called the throne of Israel the throne of God and speaks of Solomon as being God's representative.

father made our yoke hard. Now therefore lighten the hard labour from your father, and his hard yoke that he put on us, and we will serve you."

5 And he said to them, "Come back to me after three days." And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam took counsel with the old men who had stood before his father Solomon while he still lived, saying, "What counsel do you give me to give back an answer to this people?"

7 And they spoke to him, saying, "If you are kind to this people and please them and speak good words to them, they will be your servants forever."

8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and took counsel with the young men who were brought up with him, who stood in his presence. 9 And he said to them, "What advice do you give so that we can give back an answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, 'Lighten the yoke that your father put on us?'"

10 And the young men who were brought up with him spoke to him, saying, "This is how you should answer the people who spoke to you, saying, 'Your father made our yoke heavy, but you make it lighter for us': say to them, 'My little finger will be thicker than my father's waist. 11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will put more on your yoke. My father punished you with whips, but I will punish you with scorpions.'"

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king had directed, saying, "Come back to me on the third day." 13 And the king answered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forsook the counsel of the old men, 14 and answered them in accordance with the advice of the young men, saying, "My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it. My father punished you with whips, but I will punish you with scorpions."

15 So the king did not listen to the people; for the turn of events was from God, that the LORD might fulfil his word which he spoke through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

16 And when all Israel saw that the king would not listen to them, the people answered the king, saying, "What part do we have in David? And we have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. Every man to your tents, O Israel! And now, David, see to your own house." So all Israel went to their tents.

17 But as for the children of Israel who lived in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Hadoram who was over the forced labour; and the children of Israel pelted him with stones, so that he died. But king Rehoboam hurriedly got up into his chariot to flee to Jerusalem. 19 And Israel rebelled against the house of David, as it is to this day.

11 And when Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he gathered a hundred and eighty thousand chosen warriors who were from the house of Judah and Benjamin to fight against Israel, so that he might bring the kingdom back to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, the man of God, saying, 3 "Speak to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Israel in Judah and Benjamin, saying, 4 'Thus says the LORD, You must not go up, or fight against your brethren. Each man must return to his house, for this thing is done by me.'" And they obeyed the words of the LORD, and turned back from going against Jeroboam.

5 And Rehoboam lived in Jerusalem, and built cities for defense in Judah. 6 He built up Bethlehem and Etam and Tekoa 7 and Beth-Zur and Shoco and Adullam 8 and Gath and Mareshah and Ziph 9 and Adoraim and Lachish and Azekah 10 and Zorah and Aijalon and Hebron, which are in Judah and in Benjamin, fortified cities. 11 And he fortified the strongholds, and put captains in them, and stores of food, oil and wine. 12 And he put shields and spears in every city, and greatly strengthened them, having Judah and Benjamin on his side.

13 And the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel from all their territories stood with him. 14 For the Levites left their pasture lands and their possessions, and came to Judah and Jerusalem;

10:18 "Hadoram" - a variant of Adoniram.

11:1-4 1 Kings 12:21-24. Rehoboam's folly was responsible for the division of the kingdom. Israel, the northern kingdom, was governed by a succession of evil monarchs. The nation did not have one good king. There is considerable material about them in 1 and 2 Kings, but very little in the books of Chronicles. The author of these books concentrated on a history of the kings of Judah. After about two hundred years Israel was destroyed by Assyria and the people taken into captivity. Judah, the southern kingdom, lasted for another 130 years when destruction and captivity came at the hand of Babylon. Of Judah's kings, several were godly men.

11:2 "Shemiah" - 12:15.

11:4 10:15.

11:5-23 Most of this material is not found anywhere else in the Bible.

11:13-14 Probably there were priests who put their material welfare first and stayed as ministers of Jeroboam's idolatrous system of worship (1 Kings 12:28-33). Most of them, however, left their possessions and came to Judah rather than be unfaithful to the Lord. They considered God a greater inheritance than land and property (Num 18:20; Deut 10:9). Compare Luke 14:33; Heb 10:34; 1 Pet 1:4,5.

11:14 "Their possessions" - Lev 15:32-34; for Jeroboam and his sons had removed them from acting as priests for the LORD, 15 and he had ordained priests for himself for the high places, and for the demons, and for the calves which he had made. 16 And those out of all the tribes of Israel who had set their hearts to seek the LORD God of Israel came to Jerusalem, following the Levites, to sacrifice to the LORD God of their fathers. 17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam the son of Solomon strong three years; for three years they walked in the way of David and Solomon.

18 And Rehoboam took for himself Mahalath, the daughter of Jerimoth, the son of David, as his wife, and Abihail, the daughter of Eliab, the son of Jesse. 19 These bore him children: Jeush and Shamariah and Zaham. 20 And after her he took Maachah, the daughter of Absalom, who bore him Abijah and Attai and Ziza and Shelomith. 21 And Rehoboam loved Maachah, the daughter of Absalom, above all his wives and his concubines (for he took eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and begot twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters).

22 And Rehoboam made Abijah the son of Maachah the chief and leader among his brethren, to make him king. 23 And he acted wisely, and dispersed all his children throughout all the regions of Judah and Benjamin, to every fortified city; and he gave them food in abundance. And he sought many wives for them.

12 And it so happened, when Rehoboam had established the kingdom, and had strengthened himself, he forsook the law of the LORD, and all Israel with him. 2 And it came about in the fifth year of king Rehoboam, because they had sinned against the LORD, that Shishak, king of Egypt, came up against Jerusalem, 3 with twelve hundred chariots, and sixty thousand horsemen; and the people who came with him from Egypt were innumerable: the Lubim, the Sukkiim, and the Ethiopians. 4 And he took the fortified cities which belonged to Judah, and came to Jerusalem.

5 Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the leaders of Judah, who were gathered together at Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, "Thus says the LORD, 'You have forsaken me, and therefore I have also left you in the hands of Shishak.'"

6 So the leaders of Israel and the king humbled themselves, and said, "The LORD is righteous."

7 And when the LORD saw that they had humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, "They have humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but will grant them some deliverance. And my wrath will not be poured out on Jerusalem through Shishak. 8 Nevertheless they shall become his servants, so that they may know my service, and the service of the kingdoms of other lands."

9 So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house. He took everything, and also carried away the gold shields which Solomon had made. 10 In their place king Rehoboam made bronze shields, and entrusted them into the hands of the chief of the guard, who guarded the entrance of the king's house. 11 And whenever the king entered the house of the LORD, the guard came and carried "Demons" - see Deut 32:17; 1 Cor 10:20.

11:16 God had a remnant of people in the northern kingdom who rejected Jeroboam's apostate religious system, and came to God's appointed place of worship.

11:17 After 3 years they could see that spiritual conditions in the southern kingdom were deteriorating as they had in the northern kingdom (12:1,2; 1 Kings 14:22-24).

11:23 He sent them away and gave them opportunities to enjoy themselves. He thus avoided a struggle for succession to the throne.

12:1-16 1 Kings 14:25-31.

12:1 "Forsook" - 1 Kings 14:22-24 describes their sin. After becoming strong did Rehoboam think he no longer needed God? Prosperity and security may be welcomed as the gifts of God, but it is at such times that many people forsake Him.

"All Israel" - here and often throughout

2 Chronicles (but not always - 10:16) this means the southern kingdom of Judah.

12:2 1 Kings does not give the reason for this attack by Shishak. More than once God sent enemy armies against His people to punish them for their sins (Lev 26:25; Deut 28:49; Jud 2:11-15; 1 Kings 11:14; 2 Kings 17:5-7; Isa 10:5,6; Jer 1:14-16). See also 14:6.

12:4 "Cities" - Rehoboam's preparations for defense (11:5-12) came to nothing when God decided to punish Judah. Compare Ps 127:1.

12:5 "Shemaiah" - 11:2.

"Therefore" - 15:2; Deut 28:15; Ps 18:25,26.

12:6,7 God loves to see proud man humbling himself and the arrogance of sinful man vanishing away - 1 Kings 21:29; Isa 2:11-18; 66:2; Jam 4:6.

12:8 "Know" - God wants His people to learn important truth through any disasters that may come on them. Observe that God indicates that He, and not Rehoboam, is the real king of Judah.

them, and then brought them back to the guardroom.

12 And when he humbled himself, the wrath of the LORD turned from him, so that he did not completely destroy him; and also in Judah things went well.

13 So king Rehoboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naamah; she was an Ammonite. 14 And he did evil, because he did not prepare his heart to seek the LORD.

15 Now the acts of Rehoboam, first and last, are they not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet, and the book of Iddo the seer concerning genealogies? And there were continual wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam. 16 And Rehoboam slept with his ancestors, and was buried in the city of David; and his son Abijah reigned in his place.

13 Now in the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, Abijah began to reign over Judah. 2 He reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Michaiiah; she was the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. And there was battles between Abijah and Jeroboam. 3 And Abijah drew up the battle lines with an army of valiant warriors, four hundred thousand chosen men. Jeroboam also drew up the battle lines against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, strong and brave men.

4 And Abijah stood up on Mount Zemaraim, which is in the hill country of Ephraim, and said, "Hear me, Jeroboam, and all Israel! 5 Should you not know that the LORD God of Israel gave the kingdom over Israel to David forever, to him and to his sons by a covenant of salt? 6 Yet Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, rose up and rebelled against his lord. 7 And vain men gathered around him, wicked men, and strengthened themselves against Rehoboam the son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and inexperienced and could not withstand them.

8 "And now you think to oppose the kingdom of the LORD in the hand of the sons of David; and you are a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves, which Jeroboam made as gods for you. 9 Have you not expelled the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and made priests for yourselves according to the custom of the nations of other lands? So that whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams, he can become a priest for those which are not gods.

10 "But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him; and the priests, who serve the LORD, are the sons of Aaron, and the Levites attend to their work; 11 and each morning and each evening they burn sacrifices and fragrant incense to the LORD. Also they arrange the Showbread on the pure table, and the gold lampstands with their lamps, to burn every evening. For we keep the charge of the LORD our God; but you have forsaken him. 12 And, see, God himself is with us as our commander, and his priests with signal trumpets to sound the alarm against you. O children of Israel, do not fight against the LORD God of your fathers; for you will not succeed."

13 But Jeroboam had placed an ambush to come from their rear, so that they were in front of Judah

"Well" - 19:3. In the midst of great evil God does not overlook the good, small as it may be. And He does not bring final and complete judgment and punishment until a people's iniquity is full. Compare Gen 6:5-8; 15:16; Ps 10:1.

13:4-12 Abijah was far from practicing what he preached (1 Kings 15:3,4). Like many, it seems he thought the form of religion was all that God required. His victory was more a sign of God's disapproval of Jeroboam, than of His approval of Abijah.

13:4 "All Israel" - here means the northern kingdom. See 12:1.

13:6 1 Kings 11:26.

13:7 "Young" - actually Rehoboam was 41 years old when Jeroboam rebelled against him (12:13).

13:8 "LORD" - he is saying that the northern kingdom was not the kingdom of Jehovah, only Judah was.

"Golden calves" - 1 Kings 12:28.

"Not gods" - Ps 115:2-8; Is 37:19; Jer 2:11; 16:20; Gal 4:8.

13:10 This was not altogether true - see 1 Kings 15:3.

and the ambush was behind them. 14 And when Judah looked back, they saw the battle was in front and in the rear; and they cried out to the LORD, and the priests sounded with the trumpets. 15 Then the men of Judah gave a shout, and when the men of Judah shouted, it came about that God struck down Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah. 16 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hands. 17 And Abijah and his people killed them in a great slaughter, so five hundred thousand chosen men of Israel fell dead. 18 Thus the children of Israel were subdued at that time, and the children of Judah prevailed, because they relied on the LORD God of their fathers.

19 And Abijah pursued Jeroboam, and took cities from him: Bethel with its towns, and Jeshanah with its towns, and Ephraim with its towns. 20 And Jeroboam did not recover strength again in the days of Abijah, and the LORD struck him, and he died.

21 But Abijah became powerful. And he married fourteen wives, and had twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters. 22 And the rest of the acts of Abijah, and his ways and his words, are recorded in the writings of the prophet Iddo.

14 So Abijah slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the city of David; and his son Asa reigned in his place. In his days the land was quiet for ten years.

2 And Asa did what was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God; 3 for he took away the altars of the foreign gods, and the high places, and broke down the images and cut down the idolatrous groves, 4 and commanded Judah to seek the LORD God of their fathers, and to obey the law and the commandments. 5 Also he took away the high places and the images out of all the cities of Judah; and the kingdom was peaceful under him. 6 And he built fortified cities in Judah; for the land had rest, and he had no war in those 14:4 "Seek" - Asa was concerned with far more than the outward symbols of religion.

14:5 "High places" - note at 1 Kings 3:2.

14:6 "Rest" - throughout the historical books, after the land was conquered, we see that peace was a gift of God for righteous behavior, war was a punishment for national sin. See note at 12:2.

14:9 "Army of a million" - in Hebrew "an years, because the LORD had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said to Judah, "Let us build these cities, and make walls around them, and towers, gates, and bars, while the land is still before us; because we have sought the LORD our God. We have sought him, and he has given us rest on every side." So they built and prospered.

8 And Asa had an army of men who carried shields and spears, three hundred thousand from Judah, two hundred and eighty thousand from Benjamin who carried shields and drew bows. All these were strong and brave men.

9 Then Zerah the Ethiopian came out against them with an army of a million, and three hundred chariots, and he came to Mareshah. 10 Then Asa went out against him, and they drew up the battle lines in the valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

11 And Asa cried out to the LORD his God and said, "LORD, it is nothing for you to help, whether with many or with the powerless. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rest on you, and in your name we go against this multitude. O LORD, you are our God. Let not man prevail against you."

12 So the LORD struck down the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled. 13 And Asa and the people who were with him pursued them to Gerar. And the Ethiopians were overthrown, so that they could not recover; for they were destroyed before the LORD and before his army. And Judah carried away a very large amount of plunder. 14 And they struck all the cities around Gerar, for the fear of the LORD came on them. And they plundered all the cities, for there was a very large amount of plunder in them. 15 They also struck the livestock camps, and carried away large quantities of sheep and camels, and returned to Jerusalem.

15 And the Spirit of God came on Azariah, the son of Oded, 2 and he went out to meet Asa, and said to him, "Hear me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin. The LORD is with you when you are army of a thousand thousands", or "an army of thousands upon thousands."

"Mareshah" - this happened after the 10 years of peace (v 1). Mareshah was a town on the plains to the southwest of Jerusalem.

14:11 13:14,15,18; 1 Sam 14:6; 17:45; Ps 44:5-8; 60:11,12; 108:12,13; 1 Cor 15:57.

14:14 "Fear" - 17:10; Gen 35:35; Deut 2:25; 11:25; 1 Chron 14:17.

15:1 "Spirit of God" - 20:14; 24:20; Num 11:25,26; Jud 15:14; 24:2; 1 Sam 10:10; 16:13; 1 Chron 12:18.

15:2 "With you when" - in other words God would not aid them in battle or give them peace and prosperity if they broke His covenant, despised His word, and turned with him; and if you seek him, he will be found by you; but if you forsake him, he will forsake you. 3 Now for a long time Israel was without the true God, and without a teaching priest, and without the law. 4 But when they in their trouble turned to the LORD God of Israel and sought him, he was found by them. 5 And in those times there was no peace to anyone who went out, or to anyone who came in, but there were great troubles to all the inhabitants of the countries. 6 And nation was destroyed by nation, and city by city; for God troubled them with every kind of distress. 7 Be strong therefore, and do not let your hands be weak; for your work will be rewarded."

8 And when Asa heard these words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from the hill country of Ephraim, and repaired the altar of the LORD that was before the portico of the LORD.

9 And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and those from Ephraim and Manasseh and from Simeon who had settled among them; for many defected to him out of Israel when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.

10 So they gathered together at Jerusalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa. 11 And at that time they offered to the LORD seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep from the plunder which they had brought. 12 And they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul, 13 that whoever would not seek the LORD God of Israel should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman. 14 And they swore to the LORD with a loud voice, their backs on Him.

"Found by you" – a wonderful promise valid in all times to all people – 7:14; Ps 9:10; Isa 45:19; 55:6,7; Jer 29:13; Matt 7:7,8; Jam 4:8.

15:3 The priests had failed in their duties to teach the Word of God (Lev 10:10,11). For a considerable portion of Judah's history there was a dearth of the word of God, written or spoken. Compare 1 Sam 3:1; Amos 8:11,12.

15:4 Deut 4:29.

15:5 Jud 5:6.

15:6 "Distress" – conditions that will prevail again before this age ends – Matt 24:7.

15:8 2 Chron 4:1; 8:12.

"Idols" – apparently, the work begun in 14:3-5 had not been finished.

"Altar" – 4:1; 8:12. While altars to other gods (14:3) were being used, the altar of the true God was allowed to fall into and with shouting and with trumpets and with cornets. 15 And all Judah rejoiced at the oath, for they had sworn with all their heart, and sought him with their whole desire; and he was found by them, and the LORD gave them rest all around.

16 And he also removed Maachah, the mother of Asa the king, from being queen, because she had made an idol in a grove. And Asa cut down her idol, and crushed it and burned it at the brook Kidron. 17 But the high places were not taken away out of Israel. Nevertheless the heart of Asa was blameless all his days. 18 And he brought the things that his father had dedicated, and that he himself had dedicated, silver, and gold, and vessels into the house of God.

19 And there was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

16 In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah, and built Ramah, to prevent anyone going out or coming in to Asa king of Judah.

2 Then Asa brought silver and gold out of the treasuries of the house of the LORD and the king's house, and sent it to Ben-Hadad king of Syria, who lived at Damascus, saying, 3 "There is a treaty between me and you, as there was between my father and your father. See, I have sent you silver and gold. Go, break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel, so that he will depart from me."

4 And Ben-Hadad listened to king Asa, and sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Israel, and they attacked Ijon, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali. 5 And it came about, when Baasha heard it, that he stopped the building of Ramah, and let his work cease. 6 Then Asa the king took along all Judah, disrepair. Compare 1 Kings 18:30.

15:12 "Covenant" – Ex 19:5; Josh 8:30-35; 24:25; 1 Sam 11:14; 2 Chron 23:16; 29:10; 34:31. The nation Israel was a people in covenant relationship with God and their whole history depended on whether they obeyed the covenant.

15:13 "Put to death" – if the people would not seek Jehovah the true God, this would show their intention to follow other gods. According to the laws of God's covenant with them the penalty for going after other gods was death – Ex 22:20; Deut 13:5-9.

"Abel-maim" (v 4) – also known as "Abel-Beth-Maacah."

and they carried away the stones of Ramah and its timber which Baasha was using in building, and with them he built Geba and Mizpah.

7 And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah, and said to him, "Because you have relied on the king of Syria, and not relied on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Syria has escaped from your hands. 8 Were not the Ethiopians and the Lubim a huge army, with very many chariots and horsemen? Yet, because you relied on the LORD, he delivered them into your hands. 9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong on behalf of those whose heart is perfect toward him. You have acted foolishly in this; therefore from now on you will have wars."

10 Then Asa was angry with the seer, and put him in a prison; for he was enraged at him because of this thing. And at that same time Asa oppressed some of the people.

11 And, see, the acts of Asa, first and last, lo, they are written in the book of The Kings of Judah and Israel. 12 And in the thirty-ninth year of his reign Asa became diseased in his feet. Though his disease was very severe, yet in his disease he did not seek the LORD, but the physicians. 13 And Asa slept with his ancestors, dying in the forty-first year of his reign. 14 And they buried him in his own tomb, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him on the couch which was filled with perfumes and various kinds of spices prepared by the perfumer's art; and they made a very great fire for him.

17 And his son Jehoshaphat reigned in his place, and strengthened himself against Israel. 2 And he placed forces in all the fortified

16:7-8 Asa had every reason to trust in the Lord (v 8), but he now put more confidence in human means than in God. The result was his spiritual downfall. In his death he was honored for his faithfulness (v 14), but he had to pay for his unfaithfulness. It comes naturally to all men to trust in what they can see rather than in the unseen God. Let us rather follow the example of Paul in 2 Cor 4:18.

16:9 A great promise for us all. Compare Ps 33:13-19; Prov 15:3; Zech 4:10.

16:10 "Angry" - it is a terrible thing to be angry with those who tell us the truth. And it is not at all uncommon. See 1 Kings 18:16,17; 22:8; John 8:40; Acts 7:57,58; Gal 4:16. Let us rather be angry with those faults in us that makes the truth hard to bear.

16:11-14 1 Kings 15:23-24.

16:12 "Physicians" - Asa was not condemned for seeking help from physicians but for ignoring the Lord. It is sad that many Christians follow his bad example and, when cities of Judah, and set garrisons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim which Asa father had taken.

3 And the LORD was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the earlier ways of his father David, and did not seek out the Baals, 4 but sought the LORD God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not according to the deeds of Israel. 5 Therefore the LORD established the kingdom in his hands. And all Judah brought tribute to Jehoshaphat, and he had riches and honour in abundance. 6 And his heart felt exalted in the ways of the LORD, and he removed the high places and idolatrous groves from Judah.

7 Also in the third year of his reign he sent his officials Ben-Hail and Obadiah and Zechariah and Nethaneel and Michaiah to teach in the cities of Judah. 8 And with them he sent the Levites Shemaiah and Nethaniah and Zebadiah and Asahel and Shemiramoth and Jehonathan and Adonijah and Tobijah and Tobadonijah, Levites; and with them the priests Elishama and Jehoram. 9 And they taught in Judah, and had the book of the law of the LORD with them, and they travelled about among all the cities of Judah, and taught the people.

10 And the fear of the LORD fell on all the kingdoms of the lands that were around Judah, so that they did not make war against Jehoshaphat. 11 Also some of the Philistines brought presents and silver as tribute to Jehoshaphat, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand seven hundred rams and seven thousand seven hundred male goats.

12 And Jehoshaphat became very great, and he built forts and store cities in Judah. 13 And he had large supplies in the cities of Judah; and the warriors, strong and brave men, were in

17:4 1 Kings 12:28-33.

17:6 "Idolatrous groves" - or "Asherah poles." His father Asa had done the same thing - 14:3; 15:17. This suggests that after the good kings of Judah destroyed such things the people began to make them again. It required a constant effort to keep people from idolatry.

17:7-9 19:4-10; Lev 10:11. The teaching of the law was basic to the reform of Jehoshaphat, as it was under Josiah (34:14-32), and Ezra (Neh 8:1-9). There can be no true spiritual awakening and progress without the teaching of God's Word. 17:10 14:14; 1 Chron 14:17.

Jerusalem. 14 These are their numbers according to the houses of their fathers: from Judah, the commanders of thousands were Adnah the chief, and with him three hundred thousand strong and brave men; 15 and next to him was commander Jehohanan, and with him two hundred and eighty thousand; 16 and next to him was Amasiah the son of Zichri, who willingly offered himself to the LORD, and with him two hundred thousand strong and brave men; 17 and from Benjamin, Eliada a strong, brave man, and with him two hundred thousand men armed with bow and shield; 18 and next to him was Jehozabad, and with him a hundred and eighty thousand equipped for war.

19 These waited on the king, besides those whom the king put in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

18 Now Jehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, and he allied himself by marriage to Ahab. 2 And after some years he went down to Ahab at Samaria. And Ahab slaughtered a great many sheep and oxen for him, and for the people who were with him, and persuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth-Gilead.

3 And Ahab, king of Israel, said to Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, "Will you go with me to Ramoth-Gilead?"

And he answered him, "I am as you are, and my people as your people, and we will be with you in the war."

4 And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Please inquire for the word of the LORD today."

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered together four hundred of the prophets and said to them, "Shall we go to Ramoth-Gilead to battle, or shall I refrain?"

And they said, "Go up, for God will deliver it into the king's hands."

6 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not here also a prophet of the LORD so that we might consult him?"

7 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is still one man through whom we may consult the LORD, but I hate him, because he has never prophesied good about me, but always disaster. He is Micaiah, the son of Imla."

And Jehoshaphat said, "May the king not say so."

8 And the king of Israel called for one of his officers, and said, "Bring quickly Micaiah the son of Imla."

9 And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah, each of them, sat on his throne, clothed in his royal robes, and they sat in an open place near the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them. 10 And Zedekiah, the son of Kenaanah, had made iron horns for himself, and he said, "Thus says the LORD, 'With these you will push Syria until they are destroyed.'"

12 And the messenger who went to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, "Look, with one accord the words of the prophets are favorable for the king, so please let your word be like one of theirs, and speak favorably."

13 And Micaiah said, "As the LORD lives, I will speak just what my God says."

14 And when he was come to the king, the king said to him, "Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth-Gilead to battle, or shall I refrain?"

And he said, "Go up, and prosper; for they will be delivered into your hands."

15 And the king said to him, "How many times shall I adjure you in the name of the LORD to tell me nothing but the truth?"

16 Then he said, "I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, 'These have no master; so let each one of them return to his house in peace.'"

17 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Did I not tell you that he would not prophesy good about me, but disaster?"

18 Again Micaiah said, "Therefore hear the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing at his right hand and at his left. 19 And the LORD said, 'Who will entice Ahab king of Israel to go up and fall at Ramoth-Gilead?' And one spoke saying this, and another saying that. 20 Then a spirit came and stood before the LORD, and said, 'I will entice him.' And the LORD said to him, 'How?' 21 And he said, 'I will go and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.' And the LORD said, 'You will entice him, and also prevail. Go and do so.'

22 "Now therefore, see, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these prophets of yours, 18:1-34 Notes at 1 Kings 22:1-35.

18:1 "Marriage" - throughout their history there had been frequent battles between Judah and Israel (13:2; 16:1; 1 Kings 15:6,16). Perhaps Jehoshaphat hoped to end this trouble by a marriage alliance with the king of Israel. But because Ahab was an evil man this was an error which later had very sad results in Judah. See note at 1 Kings 22:2. God's people should never do a wrong thing hoping that good may result from it.

18:4 1 Sam 23:2,4,9; 2 Sam 2:1.

and the LORD has spoken disaster against you."

23 Then Zedekiah, the son of Kenaanah, came near, and struck Micaiah on the cheek and said, "Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?"

24 And Micaiah said, "Look, you will see on that day when you go into an inner room to hide yourself."

25 Then the king of Israel said, "Take Micaiah, and return him to Amon, the governor of the city, and to Joash, the king's son, 26 and say, 'Thus says the king, Put this fellow in prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.'"

27 And Micaiah said, "If you at all return in peace, then the LORD has not spoken through me." And he said, "Listen, all you people."

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-Gilead. 29 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will disguise myself, and go into the battle; but you put on your robes." So the king of Israel disguised himself, and they went into the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots who were with him, saying, "Do not fight with small or great, but only with the king of Israel."

31 And it happened, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, "It is the king of Israel." Therefore they turned about to fight against him. But Jehoshaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him, and God drew them away from him. 32 For it happened, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned back from pursuing him. 33 And some man drew a bow at random, and hit the king of Israel in a joint of the armour; therefore he said to his charioteer, "Turn around, and take me away from the army lines; for I am wounded."

34 And the battle increased that day. However the king of Israel propped himself up in his chariot opposite the Syrians until evening; and at sunset he died.

19:2 "Jehu" - 1 Kings 16:1. Jehu's father had suffered at the hands of Jehoshaphat's father because he rebuked him and told him the truth (16:7-10). This knowledge did not prevent Jehu from doing his duty. In every generation God needs men who will stand against wrong regardless of the consequences.

"Hate" - Ps 139:21. Compare 2 Cor 6:14-18.

"Wrath" - Ps 90:7-11.

19:3 "Good" - 12:12; 1 Kings 14:13. God is a just judge who rebukes what should be rebuked, and commends what is good. His servants should follow Him in this.

"Idolatrous groves" - or "Asherah poles"

19 And Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, returned to his house at Jerusalem in peace. 2 And Jehu, the son of Hanani, the seer, went out to meet him and said to king Jehoshaphat, "Should you help the ungodly, and love those who hate the LORD, and so bring wrath on you from the LORD's presence? 3 Nevertheless, there are good things found in you, for you took away the idolatrous groves from the land, and prepared your heart to seek God."

4 And Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem, and he went out again among the people from Beersheba to the hill country of Ephraim, and brought them back to the LORD God of their fathers. 5 And he appointed judges in the land throughout all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city, 6 and said to the judges, "Watch what you do, for you judge not for man but for the LORD, who is with you in the judgment. 7 Therefore now let the fear of the LORD be on you. Be careful what you do, for the LORD our God will have no part in evil or favoritism or taking bribes."

8 Moreover, in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed some of the Levites and of the priests and of the chiefs of the fathers' households of Israel, to pronounce the judgments of the LORD, and for controversies. They lived in Jerusalem. 9 And he charged them, saying, "You shall do so in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with a perfect heart. 10 And whatever case comes to you from your brethren who live in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and judgments, you must warn them not to trespass against the LORD, and so bring wrath on you and on your brethren. Do this, and you will not trespass.

11 "And, see, Amariah, the chief priest, is over you in all the LORD's matters; and Zebadiah, the son of Ishmael, the ruler of the house of Judah, in all the king's matters. Also the Levites will be your officials. Act courageously, and the LORD will be with the good."

2 Then someone came and told Jehoshaphat, saying, "A huge horde is coming against you from beyond the sea, from Syria; and, see, they are in Hazazon Tamar, that is, Engedi." 3 And Jehoshaphat was afraid, and set himself to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah. 4 And Judah gathered together to ask the LORD for help. They came out of all the cities of Judah to seek the LORD.

5 And Jehoshaphat stood in the congregation of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the LORD, before the new courtyard, 6 and said,

"O LORD God of our fathers, are you not God in heaven? And do you not rule over all the kingdoms of the nations? And are not power and might in your hands, so that no one is able to withstand you? 7 Are you not our God, who drove out the inhabitants of this land before your people Israel, and gave it to the descendants of your friend Abraham forever? 8 And they have lived in it, and have built you a sanctuary in it for your name, saying, 9 'When disaster comes on us, like the sword, judgment, or plague, or famine, if we stand before this house, and in your presence (for your name is in this house) and cry out to you in our trouble, then you will hear and help.'

10 "And now, see, the children of Ammon and Moab and Mount Seir, whom you would not let Israel invade when they came out of the land of Egypt (but they turned from them and did not destroy them), 11 see, they reward us by coming to drive us out of your possession, which you have given us to inherit. 12 O our God, will you not judge them? For we have no power against this huge horde that is coming against us; nor do we know what to do. But our eyes are on you."

13 And all Judah stood before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives and their children.

14 Then the Spirit of the LORD came on Jahaziel, the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiah, the son of Jeiel, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, in the middle of the congregation, 15 and he said,

"Listen, all Judah, and you inhabitants of Jerusalem, and you king Jehoshaphat. Thus says the LORD to you, 'Do not be afraid or dismayed because of this large horde; for the battle is not yours, but God's. 16 Tomorrow go down against them. Look, they will come up by the cliff of Ziz, and you will find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderness of Jeruel. 17 You will not need to fight in this battle. Take up your position, stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Judah and Jerusalem. Do not be afraid or dismayed. Tomorrow go out against them, for the LORD will be with you.'"

18 And Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem prostrated themselves before the LORD, worshipping the LORD. 19 And the Levites of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a very loud voice.

20 And they got up early in the morning, and went out into the wilderness of Tekoa; and as they were going out, Jehoshaphat stood and said,

"Hear me, O Judah, and you inhabitants of Jerusalem. Believe in the LORD your God, and you will be established. Believe his prophets, and you will succeed."

"Prophets" – it is not possible to have faith in the one true God without believing the revelation He has given through His true prophets. We have this full revelation in the Bible.

20:21 "Praise" – he could praise, and cause others to praise, because he really believed the word God had spoken through the prophet in vs 15-17.

"Beauty of holiness" – Ps 29:2. Note on holiness at Lev 20:7.

22 And when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set an ambush against the children of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah, and they were struck down. 23 For the children of Ammon and Moab stood up against the inhabitants of Mount Seir, to kill and destroy them completely. And when they had finished with the inhabitants of Seir, each one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Judah came toward the watch tower in the wilderness, they looked toward the horde, and saw that they were dead bodies fallen to the earth; and no one escaped. 25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away their plunder, they found among them a great quantity of riches and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away; and it was so much they spent three days gathering the plunder. 26 And on the fourth day they assembled in the valley of Berachah, for there they praised the LORD. Therefore the name of that place has been called the Valley of Berachah to this day.

27 Then they returned, each man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat in front of them, to enter Jerusalem again with joy, for the LORD had caused them to rejoice over their enemies. 28 And they came into Jerusalem with lyres and harps and trumpets to the house of the LORD.

29 And the fear of God was on all the kingdoms of those countries, when they heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel. 30 So the kingdom of Jehoshaphat was at peace, for his God gave him rest all around.

31 And Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Azubah. She was the daughter of Shilhi. 32 And he walked in the way of his father Asa, and did not depart from it, doing what was right in the sight of the LORD. 33 However the high places were not taken away, for the people still had not prepared their hearts for the God of their fathers.

34 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, see, they are written in the book of Jehu, the son of Hanani, who is mentioned in the book of the kings of Israel.

35 And after this Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, allied himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who acted very wickedly. 36 And he allied himself with him to have ships go to Tarshish. And they made the ships in Ezion Geber. 37 Then Eliezer, the son of Dodavah of Mareshah, prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, "Because you have allied yourself with Ahaziah, the LORD has destroyed your work." And the ships were destroyed, so that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

21 Now Jehoshaphat slept with his ancestors, and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. And Jehoram his son reigned in his place. 2 And he had brothers, Jehoshaphat's sons Azaryahu and Jehiel and Zechariah and Azariah and Michael and Shephatiah. All these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel. 3 And their father gave them great gifts of silver and of gold and of precious things, with fortified cities in Judah, but he gave the kingdom to Jehoram, because he was the firstborn.

4 Now when Jehoram took over the kingdom of his father, he strengthened himself and killed all his brothers with the sword, and also some of the leaders of Israel. 5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. 6 And he walked in the way of 20:22-25 Here we see something of the results of faith expressed in songs of praise.

20:23 God caused this confusion in the ranks of Judah's enemies. Compare Jud 7:22; 1 Sam 14:20.

20:26 "Berachah" - this is a Hebrew word meaning "praise." They did not praise themselves or their skill in battle. They praised the only One who is ever fully worthy of it.

20:29 14:14; 17:10.

20:33 "High places" - 17:6. He removed them early in his reign but when the people rebuilt them he let them remain.

20:35-37 1 Kings 22:48-49. Jehoshaphat had married his son Jehoram to Athaliah, daughter of Ahab (21:4-6; 2 Kings 8:17-18, 25-26). Although he had already been warned against an association with the house of Ahab and had accepted the warning (19:2-4), he now establishes a business association with Ahab's wicked son Ahaziah. A tendency to bad alliances was a weakness in Jehoshaphat's character, as it has been in many people since. We should be on our guard against it (2 Cor 6:14-18). It can result in spiritual disaster. If we want God's blessing on our projects they should be undertaken and carried forward in God's way.

21:1 "Slept" - note at 1 Kings 2:10.

21:2 "Israel" - as often in 2 Chronicles this means the kingdom of Judah.

21:3 Here is another mistake of Jehoshaphat - Jehoram was the worst of his sons (v 13), but he chose Jehoram as his successor simply because he was his firstborn. In this he did not follow his great ancestor David, and because he did not he brought great trouble on Judah.

21:4-6 Here we see part of the sad fruit of Jehoshaphat's blunder in arranging for his son to marry the daughter of Ahab. The son rejected all his father stood for and followed all his father hated.

21:6 "Ahab" - 1 Kings 16:30-33; 2 Kings 8:18.

the kings of Israel, like the house of Ahab did, for he had Ahab's daughter as his wife, and he did what was evil in the eyes of the LORD. 7 However the LORD would not destroy the house of David, because of the covenant that he had made with David, and since he promised to give a light to him and to his sons forever.

8 In his days the Edomites revolted against the rule of Judah, and made a king for themselves. 9 Then Jehoram went out with his princes, and all his chariots with him, and he got up at night and attacked the Edomites who had surrounded him and the captains of the chariots. 10 So the Edomites have revolted against the rule of Judah to this day. At the same time Libnah also revolted against his rule, because he had forsaken the LORD God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to prostitute themselves, and led Judah astray. 12 And a letter came to him from Elijah the prophet, saying,

"Thus says the LORD God of your father David: 'Because you have not walked in the ways of your father Jehoshaphat, or in the ways of Asa king of Judah, 13 but have walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and have made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem prostitute themselves, just as the house of Ahab prostituted itself, and also have killed your brothers, of your own father's house, who were better than yourself, 14 look, the LORD will strike your people and your children and your wives and all your possessions with a great plague. 15 And you will have a severe illness through a disease of your bowels, day by day, until your bowels fall out because of the illness.'"

16 Moreover, the LORD stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines and of the Arabians, who were near the Ethiopians, 17 and they came up to Judah and invaded it, and carried away all the possessions that were found in the king's house, and his sons and his wives also, so that there was no son left to him, except Jehohaz, the youngest of his sons.

18 And after all this the LORD struck him in his bowels with an incurable disease. 19 And it came about in process of time, at the end of two years, that his bowels fell out because of his sickness; so he died of severe diseases. And his people lit no fire for him, like the fire for his fathers.

20 He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem eight years, and passed away to no one's regret. However they buried him in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

22 And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made his youngest son Ahaziah king in his place, for the band of men who came with the Arabians to the camp had killed all the older ones. So Ahaziah, the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, reigned.

2 Ahaziah was forty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Athaliah. She was the daughter of Omri.

3 He also walked in the ways of the house of Ahab, for his mother was his advisor to behave wickedly. 4 Therefore he did evil in the sight of the LORD like the house of Ahab, for after the death of his father they became his counsellors to his destruction. 5 And he walked according to their counsel, and went with Jehoram, the son of Ahab, king of Israel, to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-Gilead. And the Syrians struck Joram, 6 and he returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds which were given him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael, king of Syria. And Azariah, the son of Jehoram, king of Judah went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab at Jezreel, because he was sick.

7 And by coming to Joram, the destruction of Ahaziah was from God. For when he had come, he went out with Jehoram against Jehu, the son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab. 8 And it came about when Jehu was executing judgment on the house of Ahab, and found the leaders of Judah, and the sons of the brothers of Ahaziah, who ministered to Ahaziah, that he killed them. 9 And he looked for Ahaziah, and they caught him (for he was hidden in Samaria), and brought him to Jehu. And when they had killed him, they buried him, saying "Because he is the son of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart." So there was no one of the house of Ahaziah who had power to retain the kingdom.

10 But when Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal offspring of the house of Judah. 11 But Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash, the son of Ahaziah, and stole him away from among the king's sons who were killed, and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. So Jehoshabeath, the daughter of king Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah), hid him from Athaliah, so that she did not kill him. 12 And he was with them, hidden in the house of God, for six years, and Athaliah reigned over the land.

23 And in the seventh year Jehoiada strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri, into covenant with himself. 2 And they went about in Judah and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chief of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem. 3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God.

And he said to them, "See, the king's son will reign, as the LORD has said about the sons of David. 4 This is what you are to do: a third of you, of the priests and of the Levites who come in on the Sabbath, will be the doorkeepers, 5 and a third part will be at the king's house, and a third part at the Foundation Gate, and all the people will be in the courtyards of the house of the LORD, 6 and let no one come into the house of the LORD except the priests and those of the Levites who minister. They shall go in, for they are holy, but all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD. 7 And the Levites are to surround the king, each man with his weapons in his hand, and anyone else coming into the house shall be put to death. And you are to be with the king when he comes in and when he goes out."

8 So the Levites and all Judah acted in accordance with everything that Jehoiada the priest commanded, and each one took his men who were to come in on the Sabbath, with those who were to go out on the Sabbath; for Jehoiada the priest did not dismiss the divisions. 9 Moreover, Jehoiada the priest handed over to the captains of hundreds the spears and large shields and small shields that had belonged to king David which were in the house of God. 10 And he placed all the people, each man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, around the king.

11 Then they brought out the king's son, and put the crown on him, and gave him the Testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, "God save the king!"

12 Now when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came into the house of the LORD to the people, 13 and she looked, and, lo and behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entrance, and the leaders and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land were rejoicing and sounding on trumpets, and the singers with musical instruments were leading the praise. Then Athaliah tore her clothes, and said, "Treason! Treason!"

14 Then Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains of hundreds who were appointed over the army, and said to them, "Bring her out through the ranks, and put to death with the sword whoever follows her." For the priest said, "Do not kill her in the house of the LORD." 15 So they seized her, and when she had come to the entrance of the Horse Gate at the king's house, they killed her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a covenant between himself and all the people and the king, that they would be the LORD's people. 17 Then all the people went to the house of Baal and broke it down, and broke his altars and his idols in pieces, and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, before the altars.

18 Also Jehoiada placed the supervision of the house of the LORD under the authority of the priests, the Levites, whom David had assigned over the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, as it was ordained by David. 19 And he placed the gatekeepers at the gates of the house of the LORD, so that no one who was unclean in any way could enter.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds and the leaders and the rulers of the people and all the people of the land, and brought down the king from the house of the LORD, and they came through the upper gate into the king's house, and placed the king on the throne of the kingdom. 21 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet, after they had killed Athaliah with the sword.

24 Joash was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zibiah. She was from Beersheba. 2 And Joash did what was right in the sight of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest. 3 And Jehoiada took two wives for him, and he became the father of sons and daughters.

4 And after this it came about that Joash decided to repair the house of the LORD. 5 And he gathered together the priests and the Levites, and said to them, "Go out to the cities of Judah, and gather money from all Israel to make annual repairs of the house of your God. And you are to do this matter quickly." However the Levites did not do it quickly.

6 And the king called for Jehoiada the chief priest, and said to him, "Why have you not required the Levites to bring in the collection out of Judah and out of Jerusalem, in accordance with the command of Moses the servant of the LORD and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?"

7 For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken into the house of God, and also they had used the dedicated things of the house of the LORD for the Baals.

8 And at the king's command they made a chest and set it outside at the gate of the house of the LORD. 9 And they made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem, to bring in to the LORD the collection that Moses the servant of God had levied on Israel in the wilderness. 10 And all the leaders and all the people rejoiced, and brought the money in and deposited it in the chest, until they had finished. 11 Now it came about when the chest was brought to the king's office by the hands of the Levites, and when they saw that there was much money, the king's scribe and the high priest's official came and emptied the chest, and took it and carried it back to its place. They did this day by day, and gathered a large quantity of money. 12 And the king and Jehoiada gave it to those who were doing the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also to those who worked in iron and bronze to repair the house of the LORD.

13 So the workmen worked and the work was finished by them, and they restored the house of God to its original state, and strengthened it. 14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money into the presence of the king and Jehoiada, and with it articles were made for the house of the LORD, articles to use in the service, and to offer with, and spoons, and articles of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings at the house of the LORD continually all the days of Jehoiada.

15 But Jehoiada became old, and was full of days when he died. He was a hundred and thirty years old when he died. 16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, both toward God, and toward his house.

17 Now after the death of Jehoiada the leaders of Judah came and bowed down to the king, and the king listened to them. 18 And they abandoned the house of the LORD God of their fathers, and served idolatrous groves and idols, and wrath came on Judah and Jerusalem because of this trespass of theirs. 19 Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them back to the LORD, and they testified against them. But they would not listen.

20 And the Spirit of God came on Zechariah, the son of Jehoiada the priest, who stood above the people and said to them, "Thus says God: 'Why are you breaking the commandments of the LORD, and so not prospering? Because you have forsaken the LORD, he has also forsaken you.”

21 And they conspired against him, and pelted him with stones at the command of the king in the courtyard of the house of the LORD. 22 So Joash the king did not remember the kindness which Zechariah's father Jehoiada had done him, but killed his son. And as he was dying, he said, “May the LORD see and take vengeance.”

23 And it happened at the end of the year, that the army of Syria came up against him, and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the leaders of the people among the people, and sent all their plunder to the king of Damascus. 24 For the army of the Syrians came with a small company of men, and the LORD delivered a very great army into their hands, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Joash. 25 And when they had left him (for they left him very sick), his own servants conspired against him because of the blood of the sons of Jehoiada the priest, and killed him on his bed, and he died. And they buried him in the city of David, but they did not bury him in the tombs of the kings.

26 And these are the ones who conspired against him: Zabad, the son of Shimeath an Ammonitess, and Jehozabad, the son of Shimrith a Moabite. 27 Now concerning his sons, and the many prophecies against him, and the repairing of the house of God, see, they are written in the annals of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

25 Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jehoaddan. She was from Jerusalem.

25:2 “Not with a perfect heart” – this

2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart. 3 Now it came about, when the kingdom was firmly in his power, that he killed his servants who had killed his father the king. 4 But he did not kill their children, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, “The fathers shall not die for the children, nor shall the children die for the fathers, but each man shall die for his own sin.”

5 Moreover Amaziah gathered Judah together, and made for them captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Judah and Benjamin, and he counted them from twenty years old and over, and found them to be three hundred thousand choice men, able to go out to war, who could handle spear and shield. 6 He also hired a hundred thousand strong and brave men out of Israel for a hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, “O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel, that is, with all the children of Ephraim. 8 But if you do that and go, be strong for the battle, for God will make you fall before the enemy. For God has power to help or to throw down.”

9 And Amaziah said to the man of God, “But what shall we do about the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel?”

And the man of God answered, “The LORD is able to give you much more than this.”

10 Then Amaziah separated them, that is, the army that had come to him out of Ephraim, to go back home. Therefore their anger burned hotly against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.

11 And Amaziah strengthened himself and led out his people, and went to the Valley of Salt, and struck down ten thousand of the children of Seir. 12 And the children of Judah carried away captive the ten thousand who were left alive, and brought them to the top of a rock, and threw them down from the top of the rock, so that they were all broken in pieces.

13 But the soldiers of the army which Amaziah sent back, so that they would not go with him to battle, attacked the cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth Horon, and struck down three thousand people in them, and took away much plunder.

14 Now it so happened, when Amaziah had come from the slaughter of the Edomites, that he brought the gods of the children of Seir and set them up to be his gods, and prostrated himself before them, and burned incense to them. 15 Therefore the anger of the LORD burned against Amaziah, and he sent a prophet to him, who said to him, "Why have you sought after the gods of the nation which could not deliver their own people out of your hands?"

16 And it came about, as he talked with him, that the king said to him, "Have we appointed you a counsellor for the king? Stop! Why should you be struck down?"

Then the prophet stopped and said, "I know that God has decided to destroy you, because you have done this, and have not listened to my counsel."

17 Then Amaziah, king of Judah, took advice and sent word to Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us look one another in the face."

18 And Joash, king of Israel, sent word to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, "The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar that was in Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son in marriage,' and a wild beast that was in Lebanon passed by and trampled down the thistle. 19 You say, 'Look,' for you have defeated the Edomites, and your heart lifts you up to boast. Now stay at home. Why should you stir up trouble to your harm, that you should fall, you, and Judah with you?"

20 But Amaziah would not listen, for it came about from God, so that he might deliver them into the hands of their enemies, because they sought after the gods of Edom. 21 So Joash, the king of Israel, went up, and they looked one another in the face, he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth Shemesh, which belongs to Judah. 22 And Judah was defeated before Israel, and each man of them fled to his tent. 23 And Joash, the king of Israel, took Amaziah, king of Judah, the son of Joash, the son of Jehoahaz, at Beth Shemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits. 24 And he took all the gold and the silver and all the articles that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and the treasures of the king's house, hostages also, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziah, the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Joash, son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel. 26 Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, first and last, look, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel? 27 Now after the time that Amaziah turned away from following the LORD they conspired against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish; but they sent men to Lachish after him, and they killed him there. 28 And they brought him on horses and buried him with his ancestors in the city of Judah.

26 Then all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah. 2 He built Eloth, and restored it to Judah, after the king had slept with his ancestors.

3 Uzziah was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jecoliah. She was from Jerusalem. 4 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, in accordance with all that his father Amaziah did. 5 And he sought God in the days of Zechariah, who had understanding in the visions of God; and as long as he sought the LORD, God caused him to prosper.

6 And he went out and fought against the Philistines, and broke down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities around Ashdod, and among the Philistines. 7 And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians who lived in Gurbaal, and the Mehunim. 8 And the Ammonites gave tribute to Uzziah. And his fame extended to the border of Egypt, for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

9 Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate and at the Valley Gate, and at the place where the wall turns, and fortified them. 10 Also he built towers in the desert, and dug many wells, for he had much livestock, both in the lowlands and in the plains, and also farmers, and vine dressers in the mountains and in Carmel, for he loved farming.

11 Moreover, Uzziah had an army of fighting men who went out to war in bands, according to the number of their enrollment at the hand of Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king's captains. 12 The complete number of the heads of the fathers' households, of the brave fighters was two thousand six hundred. 13 And under their authority there was an army of three hundred and seven thousand five hundred, who waged war with great power, to help the king against the enemy. 14 And Uzziah prepared shields and spears and helmets and armour and bows and slings for hurling stones for them, throughout the whole army. 15 And in Jerusalem he made engines, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and on the bulwarks, with which to shoot arrows and large stones. And his fame spread far around, for he was marvellously helped, until he became strong.

16 But when he became strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction, for he transgressed against the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense. 17 And Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him eighty of the LORD's priests, who were valiant men, 18 and they opposed Uzziah the king and said to him, "It does not belong to you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but to the priests, the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to burn incense. Go out of the sanctuary, for you have trespassed; and you will not have honour from the LORD God."

19 Then Uzziah was angry. And he had a censer in his hand to burn incense, and while he was angry with the priests, leprosy broke out on his forehead before the priests in the house of the LORD, beside the incense altar. 20 And Azariah, the chief priest, and all the priests, looked at him, and, see, he had leprosy on his forehead, and they hurried him out of there. Indeed, he himself hurried to get out, because the LORD had struck him.

21 And Uzziah the king was a leper to the day of his death, and lived in a separate house, being a leper, for he was cut off from the house of the LORD. And his son Jotham was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

22 Now the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, wrote down.

23 So Uzziah slept with his ancestors, and they buried him with his ancestors in the burial ground which belonged to the kings, for they said, "He is a leper"; and Jotham his son reigned in his place.

27 Jotham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jerushah. She was the daughter of Zadok. 2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah did. However he did not enter the temple of the LORD. But the people still acted corruptly. 3 He built the upper gate of the house of the LORD, and he built extensively on the wall of Ophel. 4 Moreover, he

"Altar of incense" – this was in the Holy Place in the temple and only the priests were permitted to enter there (Num 3:38; 18:1-7). Pride is often the reason why men are unfaithful to God and are determined to do things they have no business doing (Ps 10:4; etc). A frequent temptation of those in places of authority now is to think mistakenly that their position gives them special rights and privileges with God.

"Incense" – only the priests were appointed to burn incense – Ex 30:7,8; Num 16:40.

26:19 "Angry" – 16:10; 24:20,21; 25:16.

To be angry when justly rebuked is a mark of pride.

"Leprosy" – note at Lev 13:1. God sometimes sent this disease in punishment to show His great displeasure. See Num 12:1-10; 2 Kings 5:25-27.

26:20-23 2 Kings 15:5-7.

26:21 "Separate house" – Lev 13:46; Num 5:2. This could mean in a house where he was relieved of responsibilities.

26:22 "Isaiah" – these events were not recorded in the book of Isaiah, but in some other writing of the same prophet. No man knows what has become of this writing.

26:23 "Slept" – note at 2 Kings 2:10.

27:1-9 2 Kings 15:32-38.

27:2 "Temple" – 26:16.

"But the people" – several of the kings of Judah fought against false worship and removed idols from the land. But they could built cities in the mountains of Judah, and he built forts and towers in the forests.

5 He also fought with the king of the Ammonites, and prevailed against them. And that same year the children of Ammon gave him a hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. The children of Ammon paid him the same amount both the second and third years.

6 So Jotham became mighty, because he prepared his ways in the presence of the LORD his God.

7 Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars and his ways, see, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. 8 He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. 9 And Jotham slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the city of David, and his son Ahaz reigned in his place.

28 Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem, but he did not do what was right in the sight of the LORD, as his father David had done. 2 For he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel and also made cast metal idols for the Baals. 3 Moreover, he burned incense in the valley of the son of Hinnom, and burned his children in the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen whom the LORD had driven out before the children of Israel. 4 He also sacrificed and burned incense on the high places and on the hills and under every green tree.

5 Therefore the LORD his God delivered him into the hands of the king of Syria, and they defeated him, and carried away a large number of them captive and brought them to Damascus. And he was also delivered into the hands of the king of Israel, who defeated him in a great slaughter. 6 For Pekah, the son of Remaliah, killed a hundred and twenty thousand in Judah in one day, who were all valiant men, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers. 7 And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, killed Maaseiah, the king's son, and Azrikam, the governor of the house, and not remove idolatry from the hearts of the people. They worked for reformation, but could not change sinful natures.

27:5 "A hundred talents" – one talent was about 34 kilograms.

"Measures" – in Hebrew "kors" – one cor was about 6 bushels.

27:6 26:5.

27:9 "Slept" – 2 Kings 2:10.

28:1-27 2 Kings chapter 16 also gives an account of Ahaz's reign. See notes there.

28:3 Note at 2 Kings 16:3.

"Hinnom" – a valley just outside the southern wall of Jerusalem.

Elkanah, who was next to the king. 8 And the children of Israel carried away captive two hundred thousand of their brethren, women, sons, and daughters, and also took away much plunder from them, and brought the plunder to Samaria.

9 But a prophet of the LORD was there whose name was Oded, and he went out before the army that came to Samaria and said to them, "Look, because the LORD God of your fathers was angry with Judah, he delivered them into your hands, and you have slaughtered them in a rage that reaches up to heaven. 10 And now you intend to keep the children of Judah and Jerusalem for male slaves and female slaves for yourselves. But are you not also guilty of sins against the LORD your God? 11 Therefore now listen to me, and send back the captives whom you have taken captive of your brethren. For the fierce wrath of the LORD is on you."

12 Then some of the heads of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against those who came from the war, 13 and said to them, "You shall not bring the captives in here, for we have already offended against the LORD, and you intend to add to our sins and to our guilt; for our guilt is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel."

14 So the armed men left the captives and the plunder before the leaders and all the congregation. 15 And the men who were named rose up and took the captives, and clothed all those who were naked among them with the plunder, and gave them clothes and footwear, and gave them things to eat and to drink, and anointed them, and carried all the feeble among them on donkeys, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm trees, to their brethren. Then they returned to Samaria.

16 At that time king Ahaz send word to the kings of Assyria to help him, 17 for the Edomites had come again and defeated Judah, and carried away captives. 18 The Philistines also had invaded the cities of the lowlands and of the south of Judah, and had taken Beth-Shemesh, and Aijalon, and 28:5 "Defeated" – one of the ways in which God often punished His people when they were unfaithful to Him.

28:6 "Pekah" – 2 Kings 15:27-31. Evidently this happened before Pekah and the king of Aram unsuccessfully besieged Jerusalem – see 2 Kings 16:5; Isa 7:1-9.

28:10 "Slaves" – Lev 25:42-43.

"Sins" – 2 Kings 15:27,28; 1 Kings 12:28-33.

Gederoth, and Shocho with its villages, and Timnah with its villages, also Gimzo and its villages; and they lived there. 19 For the LORD brought Judah low because of Ahaz, king of Israel, for he promoted loose living in Judah, and trespassed greatly against the LORD. 20 And Tiglath-Pilneser, king of Assyria, came to him and troubled him, but did not strengthen him. 21 For Ahaz took away a part of the treasures from the house of the LORD and from the king's house and from the leaders, and gave it to the king of Assyria. But he did not help him.

22 And in the time of his trouble this same king Ahaz trespassed even more against the LORD. 23 For he sacrificed to the gods of Damascus, which had defeated him, and he said, "Because the gods of the kings of Syria help them, I will sacrifice to them, so that they will help me." But they were the ruin of him and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered together the articles of the house of God, and cut the articles of the house of God into pieces, and shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and made altars for himself in every corner of Jerusalem. 25 And in every city of Judah he made high places to burn incense to other gods, and provoked the LORD God of his fathers to anger.

26 Now the rest of his acts and all his ways, first and last, look, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel. 27 And Ahaz slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the city, in Jerusalem, but they did not bring him into the tombs of the kings of Israel. And his son Hezekiah reigned in his place.

29 Hezekiah began to reign when he was twenty-five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Abijah. She was the daughter of Zechariah. 2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3 In the first year of his reign, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the LORD and repaired them. 4 And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and gathered them together in the square on the east, 5 and said to them, "Hear me, you Levites. Now consecrate yourselves, and consecrate the house of the LORD God of your fathers, and carry the filthiness out of the Holy Place. 6 For our fathers have trespassed and done what was evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forsaken him and have turned away their faces from the dwelling place of the LORD and turned their backs. 7 Also they have shut up the doors of the portico, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incense or offered burnt offerings at the holy place to the God of Israel. 8 Therefore the wrath of the LORD has been on Judah and Jerusalem, and he has handed them over to trouble, to astonishment, and to hissing, as you see with your eyes. 9 For, see, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this. 10 Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Israel, so that his fierce wrath may turn away from us. 11 My sons, do not be negligent now, for the LORD has chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and to minister to

28:19 "King of Israel" – Ahaz was the king of Judah but the author of Chronicles by calling him the king of Israel is probably indicating his view that the people living in the kingdom of Judah (which included some people from the ten northern tribes) should be called Israel, not the northern kingdom. And we should not forget that the author was writing by inspiration of God's Spirit.

28:20 "Tiglath-Pilneser" – 2 Kings 15:29; 1 Chron 5:26. The help the king of Assyria gave (2 Kings 16:9) was only temporary, and through this attempted alliance Judah became subject to Assyria.

28:21 2 Kings 16:8-9.

28:22 "Trouble" – trouble makes some people worse (Jer 5:3), but causes others to seek God (Ps 18:4-6; 116:3,4). What men do in times of trouble is an indication of their spiritual condition and character.

28:23 "He said" – it seems he forgot the whole history of the nation. Wickedness blinds men to the truth and causes them to put hope in the very things that will bring them to destruction. Compare Isa 28:15-19; 2 Thess 2:10-12.

28:25 See also 2 Kings 16:10-18.

"Anger" – Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; etc. Not one good thing is said about Ahaz anywhere in the Bible, yet he could sound very pious – Isa 7:12.

28:27 "Slept" – note at 1 Kings 2:10.

29:1-2 2 Kings 18:1-3. Except for these opening verses none of the material in this chapter and the next is found in Kings.

29:5 "Consecrate" – 29:15,34; 36:6; Ex 19:14,15; 1 Chron 29:5. This meant separating themselves from all uncleanness and preparing themselves for God's presence. Only such would be fit for the work of God.

29:6,7 28:24,25; 24:18,19; Isa 1:4.

29:8 "Wrath" – notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; Deut 28:25; etc.

"Hissing" – Isa 1:5-9.

29:9 28:5,17.

29:10 15:12; 23:16. God's anger could be turned away only by repentance and renewal of the covenant to be His faithful people. Without this they could rightly expect only the curses of the broken covenant to come on them (Deut 28:15-18).

him, and burn incense.”

12 Then the Levites rose up, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites; and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehalelel; and of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah; 13 and of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Jeiel; and of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah; 14 and of the sons of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei; and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah, and Uzziel.

15 And in accordance with the command of the king, by the words of the LORD, they gathered their brethren, and consecrated themselves, and came to cleanse the house of the LORD. 16 And the priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the courtyard of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it and carried it out to the brook Kidron. 17 Now they began the consecration on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the portico of the LORD's temple. So in eight days they consecrated the house of the LORD, and on the sixteenth day of the first month they finished.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, “We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt offering, with all its articles, and the table of Showbread, with all its articles. 19 Moreover, we have made ready and consecrated all the articles which king Ahaz threw away during his reign, in his transgression, and, see, they are before the altar of the LORD.”

20 Then Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the rulers of the city, and went up to the house of the LORD. 21 And they brought seven bulls and seven rams and seven lambs and seven male goats as a sin offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Judah. And he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD. 22 So they killed the bull, and the priests took the blood and sprinkled it on the altar. In the same way, when they had killed the rams, they sprinkled the blood on the altar. They also killed the lambs and sprinkled the blood on the altar. 23 And they brought out the male goats for the sin offering before the king and the congregation, and they laid their hands on them, 24 and the priests killed them, and they made a sin-offering with their blood on the altar, to make atonement for all Israel. For the king commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be made for all Israel.

25 And he placed the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with lyres and with harps, according to the command of David and of Gad, the king's seer, and of Nathan the prophet; for such was the command of the LORD through his prophets. 26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded that the burnt offering be offered on the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the song of the LORD also began with the trumpets, and with the instruments ordained by David, king of Israel. 28 And all the congregation worshipped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded, and all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had finished offering, the king and all who were present with him bowed down and worshipped. 30 Moreover, Hezekiah the king and the leaders commanded the Levites to sing praise to the LORD with the words of David and of Asaph the seer. And they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshipped.

31 Then Hezekiah responded and said, “Now you have consecrated yourselves to the LORD. Come near and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the house of the LORD.” And the congregation brought in sacrifices and thank offerings, and whoever had a willing heart brought burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings which the congregation brought was seventy bulls, a hundred rams, and two hundred lambs. All these were for a burnt offering to the LORD. 33 And the consecrated things were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep. 34 But the priests were too few, so that they could not skin all the burnt offerings. Therefore their brethren, the Levites, helped them until the work was finished, and until the other priests had consecrated themselves; for the Levites had been more conscientious in

29:15 Verse 5.

29:17 Careless, sinful leaders had allowed such filth to collect in the temple that it took 16 days to get rid of it. Sometimes Christians are as careless and sinful about the New Testament temples of God – their bodies and hearts (1 Cor 3:16,17; 6:18-20).

29:21 “Sin offering” – notes at Lev 1:2.

consecrating themselves than the priests. 35 And also there was an abundance of burnt offerings, with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drink offerings for every burnt offering.

So the service of the house of the LORD was set in order. 36 And Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people; for the thing was done suddenly.

30 And Hezekiah sent word to all Israel and Judah, and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem, to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel. 2 For the king and his officials, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, had agreed to keep the Passover in the second month. 3 For they had not been able to keep it at that time, because the priests had not consecrated themselves in sufficient numbers, nor had the people gathered together to Jerusalem. 4 And the arrangement pleased the king and all the congregation. 5 So they resolved to make a proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel at Jerusalem, for they had not done so for a long time in the way in which it was written.

6 So the couriers went with the letters from the king and his officials throughout all Israel and Judah, in accordance with the command of the king, saying,

"You children of Israel, turn back to the LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and he will return to those of you who remain, who have escaped out of the hands of the kings of Assyria. 7 And do not be like your fathers and like your brethren who trespassed against the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore made them an object of horror, as you see. 8 Now do not be stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD and come to his sanctuary, which he has sanctified forever, and serve the LORD your God, so that the fierceness of his wrath may turn away from you. 9 For if you turn back to the LORD, your brethren and your children will find compassion before those who have taken them away captive, so that they may return to this land. For the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if you turn back to him."

10 So the couriers travelled from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Manasseh to Zebulun, but the people laughed them to scorn and mocked them. 11 Nevertheless, some from Asher and Manasseh and from Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem. 12 The hand of God was also on Judah to give them one heart to do what the king and the officials commanded, by the word of the LORD.

13 And many people, a very great congregation, assembled at Jerusalem to keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month. 14 And they rose up and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and they took away all the altars of incense, and threw them into the brook Kidron.

15 Then they killed the Passover on the fourteenth day of the second month, and the priests and the Levites became ashamed of themselves and consecrated themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the LORD. 16 And they stood in their place according to their custom, according to the law of Moses the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood, which they received from the hands of the Levites. 17 For there were many in the congregation who were not consecrated, therefore the Levites were in charge of killing the Passovers for every one who was not clean, to sanctify them to the LORD. 18 For a large number of the people, many from Ephraim and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselves, yet they ate the Passover, contrary to what was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, "The good LORD pardon every one 19 who prepares his heart to seek God, the LORD God of his fathers, even though he is not cleansed in accordance with the purification of the sanctuary."

20 And the LORD listened to Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel who were present at Jerusalem kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great gladness, and the Levites and the priests praised the LORD day by day, singing with loud instruments to the LORD.

22 And Hezekiah spoke words of encouragement to all the Levites who taught the good knowledge of the LORD, and they ate throughout the feast for seven days, offering peace offerings, and making confession to the LORD God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly agreed to keep the feast for seven more days, and they kept it for seven more days with gladness. 24 For Hezekiah king of Judah gave a thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep to the congregation, and the officials gave a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep to the congregation, and a great number of priests consecrated themselves. 25 And all the congregation of Judah, with the priests and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the foreigners who came out of the land of Israel and who lived in Judah, rejoiced. 26 So there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the time of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel, there had been nothing like this in Jerusalem. 27 Then the priests, the Levites, rose up and blessed the people, and their voice was heard and their prayer came up to his holy dwelling place, to heaven.

31 Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the cities of Judah and broke the idols in pieces and cut down the idolatrous groves and threw down the high places and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, also in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they had utterly destroyed them all. Then all the children of Israel returned, each man to his possession, to their own cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and the Levites according to their divisions, each man according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the camp of the LORD. 3 Also he appointed the king's portion of his possessions for the burnt offerings, for the morning and evening burnt offerings, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths and for the new moons and for the appointed feasts, as it is written in the law of the LORD. 4 Moreover, he commanded the people who lived in Jerusalem to give the portion of the priests and the Levites, so that they might be encouraged in the law of the LORD. 5 And as soon as the command went out, the children of Israel brought in an abundance of the firstfruits of grain, wine and oil and honey and of all the produce of the field, and they brought in the tithes of all things in abundance. 6 And as for the children of Israel and Judah who lived in the cities of Judah, they also brought in the tithes of oxen and sheep, and the tithes of holy things which were consecrated to the LORD their God, and placed them in heaps. 7 In the third month they began making the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month. 8 And when Hezekiah and the officials came and saw the heaps, they praised the LORD and his people Israel.

9 Then Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps. 10 And Azariah, the chief priest, of the house of Zadok, answered him and said, "Since the people began to bring the offerings to the house of the LORD we have had enough to eat, and have plenty left over, for the

They were not "clean" (for possible cause of uncleanness see Lev 5:2,3; 11:24; etc), but Hezekiah did not want to refuse them the privilege of taking part in the Passover. He reasoned rightly that seeking God and trying to have their hearts right with God was more important than perfectly following the prescribed ritual. Compare Isa 1:11-17; Matt 23:25-28.

11 Then Hezekiah commanded that rooms be prepared in the house of the LORD, and they prepared them, 12 and brought in the offerings and the tithes and the dedicated things faithfully. Cononiah the Levite was in charge of this, and Shimei his brother was next. 13 And Jehiel and Azariah and Nahath and Asahel and Jerimoth and Jozabad and Eliel and Ismachiah and Mahath and Benaiah were overseers under the hand of Cononiah and Shimei his brother, at the command of Hezekiah the king; and Azariah was in charge of the house of God.

14 And Korah, the son of Imnah the Levite, the gatekeeper at the east gate, was over the freewill offerings of God, to distribute the offerings of the LORD, and the most holy things. 15 And next to him were Eden and Miniamin and Jeshua and Shemaiah, Amariah and Shecaniah, in the cities of the priests, in their appointed office, to give to their brethren by divisions, to the great as well as to the small.

16 They distributed without regard to their genealogy, to males three years old and above, to every one who entered the house of the LORD, his daily portion for their service in their duties according to their divisions, 17 as well as to priests who were in the genealogy, by the house of their fathers, and the Levites twenty years old and above, in their duties by their divisions. 18 And in the genealogy were all their little ones, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, throughout the whole congregation; for in their appointed office they consecrated themselves in holiness.

19 And as for the sons of Aaron, the priests, who were in the fields of the pasture lands of their cities, in each city, the men who were named, portions were given to all the males among the priests, and to all who were reckoned by genealogies among the Levites.

20 And Hezekiah did this throughout all Judah, and did what was good and right and true before the LORD his God.

21 And whatever work he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

32 After these things and this faithful conduct, Sennacherib, king of Assyria, came and invaded Judah, and camped against the fortified cities, and planned to take them over for himself. 2 And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come, and that he intended to fight against Jerusalem, 3 he took counsel with his officials and his mighty men to stop the waters of the springs which were outside the city, and they helped him. 4 So many people gathered together, who stopped up all the springs, and the brook that ran through the middle of the land, saying, “Why should the kings of Assyria come and find abundant water?” 5 Also he strengthened himself, and built up all the wall that had been broken down and raised it up to the towers and built another wall outside, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made a great many weapons and shields.

6 And he appointed military officers over the people, and gathered them together to him in the square at the city gate, and spoke words of encouragement to them, saying, 7 “Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed because of the king of Assyria, or because of all the horde that is with him. For there is a greater power with us than with him. 8 With him is an arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God to help us and to fight our battles.” And the people relied on the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9 After this Sennacherib king of Assyria sent his servants to Jerusalem (but he himself besieged Lachish, and all his forces with him) to Hezekiah king of Judah, and to all Judah who were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 “Thus says Sennacherib, king of Assyria, ‘What are you trusting in, that you stay in the siege in Jerusalem? 11 Is not Hezekiah persuading you to give yourselves up to die by famine and by thirst, saying, “The LORD our God will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?” 12 Has not this same Hezekiah taken away his high places and

31:12 “Faithfully” – vs 15,18,20. How good it is in any time to have people who will be honest when put in charge of such things – men who will consider that to take for oneself what has been given to God is to steal from God, hinder the work of God, and to bring on oneself the anger of God.

31:21 “Prospered” – Deut 29:9. True devotion to God always seeks to obey Him, and to work for His glory. And such devotion will have its reward – Heb 6:10-12; Jam 2:14.

32:1 “Sennacherib” – this invasion took place in the 14th year of Hezekiah’s reign – 701 B.C. (2 Kings 18:13; Isa 36:1). God permitted this invasion, not to punish Hezekiah (for he had not turned away from God), but to show Himself mighty on his behalf (v 22). The marvelous account of the deliverance of Jerusalem is told in more detail in 2 Kings 18:13 – 19:36, and Isa 36:1 – 37:37.

his altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, "You shall worship before one altar, and burn incense on it?"

13 "Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the people of other lands? Were the gods of the peoples of those lands in any way able to deliver their lands out of my hands? 14 Who was there among all the gods of those nations that my fathers utterly destroyed, that could deliver his people out of my hands, that your God should be able to deliver you out of my hands? 15 Now therefore do not let Hezekiah deceive you, or persuade you in this manner. And do not believe him. For no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of my hands and out of the hands of my fathers. How much less will your God deliver you out of my hand!"

16 And his servants spoke still more against the LORD God, and against his servant Hezekiah. 17 He also wrote letters to rail against the LORD God of Israel, and to speak against him, saying, "Just as the gods of the nations of other lands have not delivered their people out of my hands, so the God of Hezekiah will not deliver his people out of my hands." 18 Then they called out with a loud voice in the Jews' language to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to frighten them and to trouble them, so that they could take the city. 19 And they spoke against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the world, which were the work of the hands of man.

20 And for this reason Hezekiah the king, and the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, prayed and cried out to heaven. 21 And the LORD sent an angel, who destroyed all the mighty men of valour and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned in shame to his own land. And when he went into the house of his god, those who came from his own body killed him there with the sword.

22 Thus the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hands of Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, and from the hands of all others, and took care of them on every side. 23 And many brought gifts to the LORD at Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah, king of Judah, so that from then on he was exalted in the sight of all nations.

24 In those days Hezekiah became sick to the point of death, and prayed to the LORD, and the LORD spoke to him and gave him a sign. 25 But Hezekiah did not give a return for the benefit done to him, for his heart became proud. Therefore God's wrath was on him, and on Judah and Jerusalem. 26 However, Hezekiah humbled the pride of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that the wrath of the LORD did not come on them in the days of Hezekiah.

27 And Hezekiah had riches and honour in great abundance, and he made for himself treasuries for silver and for gold and for precious stones and for spices and for shields and for all kinds of desirable articles, 28 and storehouses for the produce of grain and wine and oil, and stalls for all kinds of animals, and sheepfolds for flocks. 29 Moreover, he made towns for himself, and had flocks and herds in abundance, for God had given him very many possessions.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped up the upper watercourse of the Gihon, and brought it straight down to the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works. 31 However, in the matter of the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, those sent to him to inquire about the wonder that had been done in the land, God left him to test him, so that he might know all that was in his heart.

32 Now the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodness, look, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, and in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel. 33 And Hezekiah slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in the uppermost of the tombs of the sons of David, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem honoured him at his death. And his son Manasseh reigned in his place.

32:19 Ps 115:2-8. Those who think that the God of Jerusalem, the God of Israel is the same as other gods are making a terrible mistake. See 1 Kings 18:21. If the God of Israel is the true God (and he has proved this again and again), then all other gods are false and worthless (Isa 44:6-9).

32:20 "Prayed" - 2 Kings 19:15-19.

32:21 The mistake Sennacherib made in v 19 cost him his army, his reputation, and his life. The total number killed by this one angel was 1,85,000 (Isa 37:36).

32:24 "A sign" - notes at 2 Kings 20:1-11.

32:25-30 These verses are not in the account in Kings and Isaiah.

32:25 "Became proud" - there were four temptations to pride for Hezekiah - God showing such power on his behalf (v 22), the high regard other nations showed him (v 23), the miraculous sign God gave him (vs 24,31), and his great riches (vs 27-29). Even one of these is enough to make some men proud. Before them all even the good and faithful Hezekiah fell.

"God's wrath" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11. Pride is one of the sins which anger God most - Prov 6:6-19; Isa 2:10-19.

32:26 "Humbled the pride" - Jer 26:18-19. Compare 34:27,28; Joel 2:13.

32:31 "To test him" - Gen 22:1; Ex 20:20; Deut 8:2,16; Ps 66:10-12; Jam 1:13,14.

32:33 "Slept" - note at 1 Kings 2:10.

33 Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. 2 But he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, like the detestable deeds of the peoples whom the LORD had driven out before the children of Israel. 3 For he rebuilt the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down, and he erected altars for the Baals, and made idolatrous groves, and worshipped all the starry host of the heavens and served them. 4 He also built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, "In Jerusalem my name will be forever." 5 And he built altars for all the starry host of the heavens in the two courtyards of the house of the LORD. 6 And he caused his children to pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hinnom. Also he practiced sorcery and divination and used witchcraft, and dealt with mediums and spiritists. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

7 And he placed a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the house of God, of which God had said to David and to his son Solomon, "In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen above all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name forever. 8 And I will not again remove the foot of Israel out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers, so that they will be careful to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moses." 9 So Manasseh led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem astray to do worse than the peoples whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the LORD spoke to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not listen. 11 Therefore the LORD brought on them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria. They took Manasseh with hooks and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon. 12 And when he was in distress, he sought the face of the LORD his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 and prayed to him, and the LORD heard his entreaty and listened to his supplication, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall outside the city of David, on the west side of Gihon, in the valley, as far as the entrance of the Fish Gate, and encircled Ophel and greatly increased its height, and put military officers in all the fortified cities of Judah.

15 And he took away the foreign gods and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built on the mountain of the house of the LORD and in Jerusalem, and threw them out of the city. 16 And he repaired the altar of the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings and thank offerings on it, and commanded Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel. 17 Nevertheless, the people still sacrificed on the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

18 Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel, look, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel. 19 His prayer also, and how God listened to his entreaty, and all his sins, and his trespass, and the places where he built high places, and set up idolatrous groves and cast metal idols, before he was humbled, see, they are written in the words of the seers. 20 So Manasseh slept with his ancestors, and they buried him in his own house. And Amon his son reigned in his place.

21 Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. 22 But he did what was evil in the sight

33:6 "Through the fire" – note at 2 Kings 16:3.

33:11 "Hooks" – he treated him as God saw he should be treated for his wickedness. Compare 2 Kings 19:28; Ezek 29:4; 38:4; Amos 4:2.

33:12-17 Here is one of the most wonderful records of repentance in the whole Bible. Manasseh was the worst of all of Judah's kings, perhaps among the very worst persons who ever lived. His repentance teaches that there is hope for any individual, no matter how far he or she may have gone into sin. See Isa 55:7; Ezek 18:21,22; Matt 21:31; 1 Tim 1:15,16. No one conscious of his (or her) sinful past and the evil and depravity of his nature should despair, but turn to God for grace and forgiveness. Manasseh's repentance, though it was of great benefit to him personally, was too late to bring lasting benefit to the nation. It took place at the end of his reign. He was able to make only a start at reformation before he died, and Amon his son, brought up during his father's godless years, restored all the idol worship his father had abandoned.

33:12 "Humbled himself greatly" – God loves to see humility in men as much as He hates to see pride (32:26; 7:14; 12:6,7,12; Ps 51:17; Isa 66:2).

33:13 Ps 86:15; 103:8; Isa 55:7,8; Micah 7:18,19; 1 Tim 1:15,16.

33:15,16 He proved by his deeds that his repentance was genuine. Prayer and tears are not enough to show that repentance is real. There must be an attempt to undo any evil done before repentance. See Matt 3:8; Luke 19:8; Acts 26:20; Jer 18:11.

of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had done. For Amon sacrificed to all the carved images which Manasseh his father had made, and served them, 23 and did not humble himself before the LORD, as his father Manasseh had humbled himself, but Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his servants conspired against him and killed him in his own house. 25 But the people of the land killed all those who had conspired against king Amon, and the people of the land made his son Josiah king in his place.

34 Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem thirty-one years. 2 And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of his father David, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek the God of his father David, and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places and the groves and the carved images and the cast metal images. 4 And they broke down the altars of the Baals in his presence, and he cut down the images that were high over them, and he destroyed the groves and the carved images and the cast metal images, and made dust of them and scattered it on the graves of those who had sacrificed to them. 5 And he burned the bones of the priests on their altars, and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem. 6 And he did this in the cities of Manasseh and Ephraim and Simeon, as far as Naphtali, and in the ruins around them. 7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groves, and had crushed the carved images into powder, and demolished all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem. 8 Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, after he had purged the land and the house, he sent Shaphan, the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah, the governor of the city, and Joah, the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiyah the high priest, they delivered the money that had been brought into the house of God, which the Levites who were the gatekeepers had gathered from the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and from all the remnant of Israel, and from all Judah and Benjamin, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 10 And they put it in the hands of the workers who had the oversight of the house of the LORD, and they gave it to the workers who were working in the house of the LORD, to repair and restore the house. 11 They gave it to the artisans and builders to buy cut stone and timber for joists, and for beams for the buildings which the kings of Judah had let fall into ruin.

12 And the men did the work faithfully. And their overseers were Jahath and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to supervise the work; and of the Levites, all who were skillful with musical instruments. 13 They were also over the carriers of loads, and oversaw all the workers in any kind of work; and among the Levites there were scribes and officials, and gatekeepers.

14 And when they were bringing out the money that had been brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiyah the priest found a book of the law of the LORD given through Moses. 15 And Hilkiyah responded and said to Shaphan the scribe, "I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD." And Hilkiyah handed the book over to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carried the book to the king, bringing word back to the king, saying, "Your servants are doing all that was committed to them. 17 And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and have delivered it into the hands of the overseers and into the hands of the workers." 18 Then Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, "Hilkiyah the priest has given me a book." And Shaphan read it in the king's presence.

19 And it came about, when the king heard the words of the law, that he tore his clothes. 20 And the king commanded Hilkiyah and Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Abdon, the son of Micah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah, a servant of the king, saying, 21 "Go, inquire of the LORD for me, and for those who are left in Israel and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that has been found, for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out on us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do all that is written in this book."

34:20 "Abdon son of Micah" - also called Abcor son of Micaiah.

34:21 "Wrath" - Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

22 And Hilkiah, and those who had been appointed by the king, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvath, the son of Hasrah, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the second quarter), and they spoke to her about this.

23 And she answered them, "Thus says the LORD God of Israel, Tell the man who sent you to me, 24 thus says the LORD, 'See, I will bring disaster on this place, and on its inhabitants, all the curses that are written in the book which they have read in the presence of the king of Judah, 25 because they have forsaken me and have burned incense to other gods, provoking me to anger with all the works of their hands. Therefore my wrath will be poured out on this place, and will not be quenched. 26 And as for the king of Judah who sent you to inquire of the LORD, say this to him: Thus says the LORD God of Israel concerning the words which you have heard, 27 because your heart was tender, and you humbled yourself before God when you heard his words against this place and against its inhabitants, and humbled yourself before me and tore your clothes and wept before me, I have certainly heard you, says the LORD. 28 See, I will gather you to your fathers and you will be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes will not see all the disaster that I will bring on this place and on its inhabitants.'" So they brought word back to the king.

29 Then the king sent men and gathered all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem together. 30 And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests and the Levites and all the people, great and small, and he read in their hearing all the words of the book of the covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD. 31 And the king stood in his place, and made a covenant before the LORD, to follow the LORD, and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all his heart and with all his soul, to act in accordance with the words of the covenant which are written in this book.

32 And he caused all who were present in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand with him. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

33 And Josiah took away all the abominations from the countries, that belonged to the children of Israel, and made all those who were present in Israel to serve the LORD their God. And all his days they did not turn away from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

35 Moreover, Josiah kept a Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem, and they killed the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. 2 And he appointed the priests to their duties and encouraged them in the service of the house of the LORD, 3 and said to the Levites who taught all Israel, who were holy to the LORD, "Put the holy ark in the house which Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel, built. It is not to be carried on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel, 4 and prepare yourselves according to the houses of your fathers, according to your divisions, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the writing of his son Solomon.

5 "And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the families of the fathers of your brethren, the people, and according to the divisions of the families of the Levites. 6 So kill the Passover, and consecrate yourselves, and prepare your brethren, so that they may do according to the word of the LORD through Moses."

7 And Josiah gave lambs and young goats from the flock to the people, all for the Passover offerings, for all who were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand bulls. These were from the king's possessions.

8 And his officials willingly gave to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. Hilkiah and Zechariah and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave to the priests two thousand six hundred lambs and young goats, and three hundred oxen for the Passover offerings. 9 And Conaniah and Shemaiah and Nethaneel, his brethren, and Hashabiah and Jeiel and Jozabad, heads of the Levites, gave to the Levites five thousand lambs and young goats, and five hundred oxen for the Passover offerings.

10 So the service was made ready, and the priests stood in their place and the Levites in their "Fathers" – the reformation under Josiah was wide-spread and dealt well with the outward forms of false worship. But the books of Jeremiah (Jer 1:2), and Zephaniah divisions, according to the king's command. 11 And they killed the Passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood handed to them, and the Levites skinned the animals. 12 And they put the burnt offerings aside, so that they might give them in accordance with the divisions of the families of the people, to offer to the LORD, as it is written in the book of Moses. They did this also with the oxen. 13 And they roasted the Passover with fire in accordance with the ordinance, but the other holy offerings they boiled in pots and in cauldrons and in pans, and quickly divided them among all the people. 14 And afterwards they prepared for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the sons of Aaron, were busy offering the burnt offerings and the fat until night. Therefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

15 And the singers, the sons of Asaph, were in their place, in accordance with the instruction of David and Asaph and Heman and Jeduthun the king's seer. And the gatekeepers remained at each gate, not needing to leave their work, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16 So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the Passover, and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, in accordance with the command of king Josiah. 17 And the children of Israel who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days. 18 And no Passover like that had been kept in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet; nor did any of the kings of Israel keep such a Passover as that kept by Josiah and the priests and the Levites and all Judah and Israel who were present and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 19 This Passover was kept in the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah.

20 After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho, king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish at the Euphrates, and Josiah went out against him. 21 But he sent ambassadors to him, saying, "What have I to do with you, king of Judah? I have not come against you today, but against the house with which I am at war, for God commanded me to hurry. Stop yourself from opposing God, who is with me, so that he does not destroy you."

22 Nevertheless, Josiah would not turn away from him, but disguised himself, so that he might fight with him, and did not listen to the words of Necho from the mouth of God, and came to fight on the plain of Megiddo.

23 And the archers shot at king Josiah, and the king said to his servants, "Take me away, for I am severely wounded." 24 So his servants took him out of that chariot and put him in the second chariot that he had, and brought him to Jerusalem. And he died, and was buried in one of the tombs of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremiah lamented for Josiah. And all the singing men and the singing women speak of Josiah in their lamentations to this day. And they made them as an ordinance in Israel, and, see, they are written in the lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josiah and his goodness, according to what is written in the law of the LORD, 27 and his deeds, first and last, see, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

36 Then the people of the land took Jehoahaz, the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem.

2 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. 3 And the king of Egypt deposed him at Jerusalem, and levied a fine on the land of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

35:13 Ex 12:8-9.

35:14 "Fat" - Ex 29:13; Lev 3:3-5,16.

35:15 1 Chron 25:1; 26:12-19.

35:17 Ex 12:15; Lev 23:6-8.

35:18 30:5. The Passover celebration in Josiah's reign exceeded even that which took place under Hezekiah's leadership.

35:20 "Carchemish" - one of the most decisive battles of ancient times took place there in 605 B.C., four years after Josiah's death (Jer 46:2). Necho was on his way to help the Assyrians against the Babylonians.

35:21 "The house with which I am at war" - Babylon.

"God" - we are not told how Necho came to know God's will in this matter.

35:22 Josiah did not believe the heathen king spoke a message from the true God, and may have had no good reason to believe it. He may have reasoned that if God had anything to say to him God would use a prophet in Judah.

35:23,24 2 Kings 23:29,30.

35:25 Jeremiah's high regard for Josiah is seen in Jer 22:15,16. No man knows what became of the laments he composed for him. The book of Lamentations is about the fall of Jerusalem several years later, and not about the death of Josiah.

36:1-21 Notes at 2 Kings 23:30 - 25:30; Jeremiah chapter 52.

36:1 Jer 22:11. Jehoahaz was also called Shallum. Three sons of Josiah - Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, and Zedekiah - succeeded Josiah. They were all evil men. Compare 1 Sam 8:1-3; 2 Sam 13:21.

36:3 "Egypt" - was the most powerful country in the area until the king of Egypt was defeated by the Babylonians four years later at

4 And the king of Egypt made his brother Eliakim king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took his brother Jehoahaz and carried him away to Egypt.

5 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem, and he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. 6 Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came up against him and bound him in chains to take him to Babylon. 7 Nebuchadnezzar also took away articles from the house of the LORD to Babylon, and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8 Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and what was found in him, see, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. And his son Jehoiachin reigned in his place.

9 Jehoiachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. 10 And at the turn of the year, king Nebuchadnezzar sent men and brought him to Babylon, with the valuable articles of the house of the LORD, and made his brother Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. 12 And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God, and did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet speaking words from the mouth of the LORD. 13 And he also rebelled against king Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear allegiance by God, but he stiffened his neck and hardened his heart against turning to the LORD God of Israel. 14 Moreover, all the chief of the priests and the people committed many transgressions, following all the abominations of the nations, and polluted the house of the LORD which he had sanctified in Jerusalem.

Carchemish.

"Talents" - one talent was about 34 kilograms.

36:4 Jer 22:10-12.

36:5-8 For more about Jehoiachin see Jeremiah chapters 25,26,36.

36:6 "Nebuchadnezzar" - this happened after the battle of Carchemish (35:20; Jer 46:1,2). From that time, 605 B.C., Judah was subject to Babylon.

36:7 Dan 1:1,2.

36:10 Jer 37:1. "Brother" - actually his uncle. In Hebrew the words for "father", "son", "brother", etc, were used for a variety of relationships.

36:11-16 2 Kings 24:18-20; Jer 52:1-3.

36:12 "Did not humble himself" - compare 33:12.

"Jeremiah" - Jer 21:3-7.

36:13 "Swear" - Ezek 17:13.

"Stiffened his neck" - Ex 32:9; Neh 9:29;

15 And the LORD God of their fathers sent word to them by his messengers, rising early and sending, because he had compassion on his people and on his dwelling place. 16 But they mocked the messengers of God and despised his words and abused his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD rose up against his people, until there was no remedy. 17 Therefore he brought on them the king of the Chaldeans, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary, and had no compassion on young man or maiden, old man, or anyone stooped with age. He gave them all into his hands, 18 and all the articles of the house of God, large and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king and of his officials. He brought all these to Babylon. 19 And they burned the house of God, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burned all of its palaces with fire, and destroyed all their valuable articles.

20 And he carried away to Babylon those who had escaped from the sword, where they became servants to him and to his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Persia. 21 This was to fulfil the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. For as long as it lay desolate it kept the Sabbath, to fulfil seventy years.

22 Now in the first year of Cyrus, king of Persia, so that the word of the LORD spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and also put it in writing, saying,

23 "Thus says Cyrus king of Persia: The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has ordered me to build a house for him in Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever there is among you of all his people, may the LORD his God be with him, and let him go up."

Jer 7:26.

36:15 "Rising early and sending" - 24:19; Jer 7:13; 25:3-4; 35:15; 44:4.

"Compassion" - Ex 34:6,7; Jud 2:18; Ps 103:8.

36:16 "Mocked" - note at 13:10.

"Wrath" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

"Until there was no remedy" - compare Prov 1:20-27; 29:1.

36:17 "He brought on them" - Jer 1:15; 5:15; 51:20; Hab 1:6. The movement of armies on the earth are not accidents of history, or events completely under the control of men.

EZRA

Author:

According to ancient Jewish tradition Ezra wrote this book, Nehemiah, and both books of Chronicles. Ezra was a descendant of Phineas who was a grandson of Aaron (Ezra 7:1-5).

Date:

About 440 BC.

Theme:

The return of the Jews to Jerusalem and Judah; the rebuilding of the temple; the opposition faced by the Jews, their victory; the leadership of Zerubbabel and Ezra.

1 Now in the first year of Cyrus, king of Persia, so that the word of the LORD spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus, king of Persia, to make a proclamation throughout his whole kingdom, and also to put it in writing, saying:

2 "Thus says Cyrus, king of Persia: The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has ordered me to build a house for him at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. 3 Whoever there is among you of all his people, may his God be with him, and may he go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel (he is God), which is in Jerusalem. 4 And the men of any place where any survivor is living are to help him with silver and with gold and with goods and with livestock, besides the freewill offering for the house of God in Jerusalem."

5 Then the heads of the fathers' households of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, all those whose spirit God had moved, rose up to go up to build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem. 6 And all those who were about them assisted them with articles of silver, with gold, with goods, and with livestock, and with valuable things, besides all that was given as a freewill offering. 7 Also king Cyrus brought out the articles of the house of the LORD which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from Jerusalem and had put in the house of his gods, 8 and Cyrus, king of Persia, brought them out by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them out to Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

9 And this was the number of them: thirty gold dishes, a thousand silver dishes, twenty-nine knives, 10 thirty gold basins, four hundred and ten silver basins of a second kind, and a thousand other articles.

11 All the articles of gold and silver were five thousand four hundred. Sheshbazzar brought all of these up with the exiles who were brought up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

2 Now these are the people of the province who went up from the captivity of the exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away to Babylon, and who came back to Jerusalem and Judah, each one to his city. 2 These came with Zerubbabel: Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mizpar, Bigvai, Rehum, Baanah. The number of the men of the people of Israel:

3 The children of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two; 4 the children of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two; 5 the children of Arah, seven hundred and seventy-five; 6 the children of Pahath-Moab, of the children of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve; 7 the children of Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four; 8 the children of Zattu, nine hundred and forty-five; 9 the children of Zaccai, seven hundred and sixty; 10 the children of Bani, six hundred and forty-two; 11 the children of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-three; 12 the children of Azgad, a thousand two hundred and twenty-two; 13 the children of Adonikam, six hundred and sixty-six; 14 the children of Bigvai, two thousand and fifty-six; 15 the children of Adin, four hundred and fifty-four; 16 the children of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety-eight; 17 the children of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-three; 18 the

1:1 "First year" - 5:13,14; 6:3; 2 Chron 26:22,23; Jer 33:7-13. Cyrus was king of Persia (Iran) from 559 B.C., but in this verse the first year means the year beginning with his conquest of Babylon in 538 B.C.

"Jeremiah" - Jer 25:11,12; 29:10.

"Spirit of Cyrus" - God will always fulfill His word, and to do so will use the kings of the earth or any other instrument He pleases (v 5; Prov 21:1; Gen 50:20; etc). In the case of Cyrus, at least 150 years previously the Lord had foretold that He would use him to deliver His people (Isa 44:28 - 45:4).

1:2 "God of heaven" - note at Dan 2:18.

"Given me" - this was true (Isa 45:1. Compare Dan 4:31,32).

1:4 "Survivor" - Jews scattered throughout the empire of Cyrus, principally in Babylonia.

1:5 "Levites" - Judah, Benjamin, and Levi composed the chief part of those carried away into exile by the Babylonians. Note on Levites at Num 1:47-51; 8:19.

"God had moved" - v 1; Ex 35:20-22; Haggai 1:14. Many of the Jews had settled down into the alien society of Babylon. They were not eager to face the difficulties of a four month journey (7:9; 8:21-23) of more than one thousand kilometers to Jerusalem, or the prospect of starting life again in a ruined city, or the insecurity of the unknown. It required a special work of God in their hearts to make them willing to go.

1:6 Many other Jews helped those willing to return to Jerusalem, even though they did not wish to go themselves.

1:7 5:14; 6:5; 2 Kings 24:13; 2 Chron 36:7,10; Jer 52:17-19.

1:8 "Sheshbazzar" - v 11; 5:14,16. Scholars dispute whether he was the same as Zerubbabel (2:2; 3:2,8; 4:2,3; 5:2). Zerubbabel was the civil leader of the people.

1:11 "Five thousand four hundred" - not all the gold and silver articles are listed in vs 9,10.

2:1-70 Neh 7:6-73.

2:1 2 Kings 24:14-16; 25:11; 2 Chron 36:20.

2:2 "Jeshua" - the same person as the Joshua of Hag 1:1 and Zech 3:1.

"Nehemiah" - not the Nehemiah of Neh 1:1 who came to Jerusalem later.

"Mordecai" - not the same person who children of Jorah, a hundred and twelve; 19 the children of Hashum, two hundred and twenty-three; 20 the children of Gibbar, ninety-five; 21 the children of Bethlehem, an hundred and twenty-three; 22 the men of Netophah, fifty-six; 23 the men of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight; 24 the children of Azmaveth, forty-two; 25 the children of Kirjath-Arim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and forty-three; 26 the children of Ramah and Gaba, six hundred and twenty-one; 27 the men of Michmas, a hundred and twenty-two; 28 the men of Bethel and Ai, two hundred and twenty-three; 29 the children of Nebo, fifty-two; 30 the children of Magbish, a hundred and fifty-six; 31 the children of the other Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four; 32 the children of Harim, three hundred and twenty; 33 the children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-five; 34 the children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five; 35 the children of Senaah, three thousand six hundred and thirty.

36 The priests: the children of Jedaiah, of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred and seventy-three; 37 the children of Immer, a thousand and fifty-two; 38 the children of Pashur, a thousand two hundred and forty-seven; 39 the children of Harim, a thousand and seventeen.

40 The Levites: the children of Jeshua and Kadmiel, of the children of Hodaviah, seventy-four.

41 The singers: the children of Asaph, a hundred and twenty-eight.

appears in the book of Esther.

2:40 Many priests but few Levites returned. The Levites had to do the more menial work of the temple. Note on priests at Ex 28:1.

2:41 "Asaph" – 1 Chron 25:1; 2 Chron 5:12; 35:15; Psalms 50, 73-83.

2:42 "Gatekeepers" – 1 Chron 9:26; 2 Chron 23:4; 35:15; Neh 12:25.

2:43 "Nethinims" – temple servants.

2:61 "Gileadite" – 2 Sam 17:27-29; 19:31-39.

2:62 "Unclean" – that is, not fit for the priesthood because their descent from Aaron was

58 All the Nethinims, and the children of Solomon's servants, were three hundred and ninety-two.

59 And these were those who went up from Telmelah, Telharsa, Cherub, Addan, and Immer, but they could not show evidence of their father's house, and their descendants, whether they were of Israel: 60 The children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, six hundred and fifty-two; 61 and of the children of the priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai (who took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name).

62 These searched in the registers of their ancestors for their names, but they were not found, so they were removed from the priesthood as if unclean. 63 And the governor told them that they should not eat any of the most holy things until a priest stood up with Urim and Thummim.

64 The whole congregation together was forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty, 65 besides their male and female servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven. And among them were two hundred men and women singers.

66 Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six; their mules, two hundred and forty-five; 67 their camels, four hundred and thirty-five; their donkeys, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

68 And some of the heads of the fathers' not proved. See Num 3:10; 16:40. Now, in this New Testament era, priesthood has nothing to do with ancestors and genealogies, but only with a living relationship with the Lord Jesus by faith (Heb 10:19-22; 1 Pet 2:9; Rev 1:6).

2:63 "Thummin" – Ex 28:30.

2:64 A higher figure than the total of all the figures listed in vs 3-60. The difference of 12,542 may be the number of wives who came, or perhaps men of tribes other than Judah, Benjamin and Levi (1:5).

2:68 "Offered freely" – compare Ex 25:1,2;

households, when they came to the house of the LORD in Jerusalem, offered freely for the house of God to set it up in its place. 69 According to their ability, for the work they gave into the treasury sixty-one thousand gold drachmas, and five thousand minas of silver, and one hundred priestly garments.

70 So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the gatekeepers, and the Nethinims, lived in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

3 And when the seventh month had come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered together as one man to Jerusalem. 2 Then Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and his brethren, arose and built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God. 3 And they set up the altar on its foundation, despite the fear that came on them because of the people of those countries; and they offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, both morning and evening burnt offerings. 4 They also kept the Feast of Tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings in the required number for each day, according to the ordinance. 5 And afterwards they offered the continual burnt offering, also offerings at the new moons and all the appointed feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and those of everyone who willingly offered a freewill offering to the LORD. 6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD had not yet been laid.

7 They also gave money to the masons and to the carpenters, and food and drink and oil to the men of Sidon and Tyre, to bring cedar trees from Lebanon on the sea to Joppa, in accordance with the permission they had from Cyrus king of Persia.

8 Now in the second month of the second year after their arrival at the house of God in Jerusalem, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak and the rest of their brethren, the priests and the Levites and all those who had come from the captivity to Jerusalem, began the work, and appointed the Levites, twenty years old and over, to oversee the work of the house of the LORD. 9 Then Jeshua, with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, arose together to supervise the workers in the house of God: the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, the priests in their apparel stood with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph stood with cymbals, to praise the LORD, in accordance with the ordinance of David king of Israel. 11 And they sang together by turns, praising and giving thanks to the LORD, because he is good, for his mercy continues on forever toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout as they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD had been laid. 12 But many of the priests and Levites and heads of the fathers' households were old men who had seen the first house. When the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, they wept with a loud voice. But many shouted aloud for joy,

35:5,20; 1 Chron 29:3-6,9.

2:69 "Drachmas" - the total comes to about 500 kilograms.

"Minas" - the total of this was about 2.9 metric tons.

3:2 "Shealtiel" - see 1 Chron 3:19.

"Altar" - they began with the altar as being the first essential for offering the sacrifices prescribed under the law - Ex 20:24; Deut 12:5,6. Notes on burnt offerings at Leviticus chapter 1.

3:3 "Fear" - 4:4. They did not let the fear of man prevent them from doing what they knew was right. Compare 1 Sam 15:24; Ps 56:3,11; Prov 29:25; Isa 51:12; John 12:42,43; Acts 4:18-20; 5:29.

"Offerings" - Ex 29:39; Num 28:1-8.

3:4 "Feast of Tabernacles" - Ex 23:16; Lev 23:33-43.

3:5 "New moons" - Num 10:10; 28:11; 1 Sam 20:5,24.

3:6 The re-establishing of the offerings and the worship of God, came before the building of the temple. They had their priorities right. In Bible history the altar and offerings appear long before tabernacle or temple - Gen 8:20. The devotion of His people is far more important to God than any building.

3:7 "Trees" - 1 Kings 5:6,10; 2 Chron 2:3,8,16.

3:8 "Second year" - probably 536 B.C.

"House of God" - the place where the house of God, the temple, had stood. The new temple was built in the same place.

"Twenty years" - 1 Chron 23:24; 2 Chron 31:17.

3:10 1 Chron 6:31,32; 16:4-6,42.

3:11 1 Chron 16:34; 2 Chron 5:13; 7:3; Ps 47:1; 95:1; 136:1-26.

3:12 "First house" - the temple built by Solomon was very magnificent; the temple built after the Babylonian captivity was plain and ordinary - Haggai 2:3. The Jews wept to think of the former splendor gone and God's judgment which had fallen on His people; they rejoiced that God had brought them back to the land and given them a chance to make a new beginning. In any time it is better to be among the rejoicers, and to look forward rather than backward - Phil 3:1,13; 4:4.

13 so that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people, for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard far off.

4 Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the returned exiles were building the temple to the LORD God of Israel, 2 they came to Zerubbabel and to the heads of the fathers' households, and said to them, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God, just as you do, and we have been sacrificing to him since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us up here."

3 But Zerubbabel and Jeshua, and the rest of the heads of the fathers' households of Israel, said to them, "You can have nothing to do with us in building a house to our God, but we alone will build to the LORD God of Israel, as King Cyrus the king of Persia has commanded us."

4 Then the people of the land attempted to discourage the people of Judah, and troubled them in building, 5 and hired counsellors against them to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reign of Ahasuerus, at the beginning of his reign, they wrote to him an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the days of Artaxerxes Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions, wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia, and the text of the letter was written in the Syrian script, and translated into the Syrian language.

8 Rehum the chancellor and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, of the following kind. 9 Then Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions, the Dinaites, the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Susanchites, the Dehavites, and the Elamites, 10 and the rest of the nations whom the great and honourable Osnapper brought over and placed in the cities of Samaria, and the rest who are at this time on this side of the river, wrote.

11 This is a copy of the letter that they sent to him, to Artaxerxes the king:

"We are your servants, men who are at this time on this side of the River. 12 Be it known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have come to Jerusalem, and are building that rebellious and evil city, and are restoring its walls and repairing the foundations.

13 "Be it known now to the king that if this city is built and the walls restored, then they will not pay tax, tribute, and duty, and so the kings' revenue will be damaged. 14 Now because we are receiving support from the king's palace, and it is not right for us to see the king's dishonour, we have sent and informed the king, 15 that search may be made in the record books of your fathers so you can discover in the record books and know that this city is a rebellious city, and harmful to kings and provinces, and that within it in former times they have incited rebellion. For this reason this city was destroyed. 16 We inform the king that if this city is rebuilt, and its walls restored, through this you will have no portion on this side of the River."

17 Then the king sent an answer to Rehum the chancellor and to Shimshai the scribe and to the 4:1,2 "Adversaries" – these people were originally foreigners, not Israelites. Their offer to help did not come out of good motives, as was soon evident (vs 4,5). Sometimes the method Satan uses to hinder or ruin a work of God is to bring false "helpers" into it. Compare Matt 13:24-30, 37-39; 2 Cor 11:13-15; 2 Pet 2:1,2. Believers do not need any such helpers and should be on their guard against them.

They professed to seek the God of Israel but they had many gods of their own. See 2 Kings 17:25-34.

4:3 The leaders of the Jews wanted no help from those who worshiped other gods and did not follow the instructions God gave in the law of Moses. Believers now should have the same concern to be a holy, separate people – 2 Cor 6:14-18.

4:4,5 If the enemies of a work of God do not succeed in hindering it in one way they will try another. Cyrus reigned 559-530 B.C. Darius began his reign in 522.

4:6-23 This section deals with opposition to the Jews' plan for rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem. Chronologically it belongs between chapters 6 and 7 and is like a parenthesis in the narrative here. Verse 24 takes up the story from v 5.

4:6 "Ahasuerus" – Esther 1:1 – better known as Xerxes. He reigned 486-465 B.C.

4:7 "Artaxerxes" – 7:1,7,21. He ruled Persia 465-424 B.C.

"Syrian language" – Aramaic, the language spoken by Syrians and others (including the Jews after the Babylonian captivity). In the Hebrew Old Testament Ezra 4:8 – 6:18 is in Aramaic.

4:8 "Chancellor" – here means an official appointed by the Persian king to represent him.

4:10 "Osnapper" – also known as Ashurbanipal. He was the last powerful Assyrian king, ruling 669-627 B.C. From this verse together with v 2 and 2 Kings 17:24 we learn that outsiders were sent by three different Assyrian kings at three different times to live in the region of Samaria.

4:13-16 These enemies of the Jews tried to get the king to support them by using this economic argument. What ruler wants to suffer financial loss?

rest of their companions who live in Samaria, and to the rest living beyond the River,

"Peace at this time.

18 "The letter which you sent to us has been clearly read in my presence. 19 And I gave a command, and a search has been made, and it has been found that in former times this city made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and revolt were made in it. 20 There have also been mighty kings over Jerusalem who have ruled over all the countries beyond the River, and tax, tribute, and duty were paid to them. 21 Now give an order to stop these men, that this city not be built, until another command is given by me. 22 Now take heed that you do not fail to do this. Why should the damage increase to the harm of the kings?"

23 Now when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read in the presence of Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they quickly went up to Jerusalem to the Jews, and made them stop work by force of arms.

24 Then the work of the house of God at Jerusalem stopped. So it stopped until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

5 Then the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, who was over them. 2 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, rose up and began to build the house of God in Jerusalem, and the prophets of God were with them helping them.

3 At the same time Tatnai, governor on this side of the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and their companions, came to them and said this to them: "Who has commanded you to build this house and to restore this wall?" 4 Accordingly we then told them what the names of the men who were constructing this building were. 5 But the eye of their God was on the elders of the Jews, so that they could not make them stop the work until the matter came before Darius, and then a written reply was returned concerning this matter.

6 This is a copy of the letter that Tatnai, governor on this side of the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and his companions the Apharsachites, who were on this side the River, sent to Darius the king. 7 They sent a letter to him, in which this was written:

"To Darius the king, all peace.

8 "Be it known to the king that we went into the province of Judea, to the house of the great God, which is being built with large stones, with timber being placed in the walls; and this work is going ahead quickly, and prospering in their hands.

9 "Then we questioned those elders, and said this to them: 'Who commanded you to build this house, and to restore these walls?' 10 We also asked their names, to inform you, that we might write the names of their chief men.

11 "And they replied to us, saying, 'We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and rebuild the house that was built many years ago, which a great king of Israel built and finished.

12 But after our fathers had provoked the God of heaven to wrath, he gave them into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babylon. 13 But in the first year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, King Cyrus issued a decree to build this house of God. 14 And also the articles of gold and silver belonging to the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took from the temple that was in Jerusalem and brought into the temple of Babylon, these Cyrus the king took from the temple of Babylon, and they were handed over to a man whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor. 15 And he said to him, "Take

4:20 1 Kings 4:21; 1 Chron 18:3-6.

4:22 The economic argument (vs 13-16) was successful, as it usually is in the world's affairs. The world always cares more for money than for truth and justice. See 1 John 2:16.

4:23 "Made them stop" - that is, stop trying to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

4:24 The author returns to events of vs 4,5 which took place prior to the reign of Artaxerxes.

5:1 "Haggai" - Hag 1:1.

"Zechariah" - Zech 1:1. In the year 520 these two prophets began their ministry to the Jews in Judah.

5:2 "Zerubbabel" - this man was the grandson of king Jehoiachin (1 Chron 3:17), and an ancestor of the Lord Jesus (Matt 1:12,13).

"Jeshua" - 2:2.

"Began to build" - the ministry of Haggai and Zechariah had this success (Hag 1:13,14).

5:3 4:4,5. Tatnai was the Persian governor.

5:5 "Eye" - 2 Chron 16:9. God would not encourage them through His prophets and stir them to do the work only to let their enemies stop them.

5:8 "Great God" - it is interesting that they should say this and then try to stop His work.

5:11 "God of heaven" - 1:2; 6:9; Neh 1:5; 2:4; Dan 2:19; Rev 11:13.

"King of Israel" - Solomon.

5:12 "Provoked. . .to wrath" - 2 Chron 34:25; 36:16-20. Notes on God's anger at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

5:13 "Cyrus" - 1:1. Notice that Cyrus, king of Persia, is here called "king of Babylon." This is because he conquered Babylon and ruled over it.

these articles and go. Carry them to the temple in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in its place." 16 Then this Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundation of the house of God in Jerusalem, and from that time until now it is being built, but it is still not finished.'

17 "Now, therefore, if it seems good to the king, let there be a search made in the king's treasure house there in Babylon, and see whether it is true that a decree was made by king Cyrus to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send his wish to us concerning this matter."

6 Then Darius the king issued an order, and a search was made in the archives, where the treasures were stored in Babylon. 2 And a scroll was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of the Medes, and in it a record was written as follows:

3 "In the first year of King Cyrus, King Cyrus issued a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem, 'Let the house be built, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let its foundations be firmly laid. Its height is to be sixty cubits, and its width sixty cubits, 4 with three rows of large stones, and a row of new timber. And let the expenses be paid from the king's house. 5 And also let the gold and silver articles of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took from the temple at Jerusalem and brought to Babylon, be restored and brought back to the temple at Jerusalem, each one to its place, and put them in the house of God.'

6 "Now therefore, Tatnai, governor beyond the River, Shethar-Boznai, and your companions the Apharsachites, who are beyond the River, stay at a distance from there. 7 Let the work of 5:16 3:8-10.

6:2 "Achmetha" – also called Ecbatana. The Persian empire had four capital cities. This was one.

"Medes" – Isa 13:17; Jer 25:25; Dan 5:28,31; Acts 2:9.

6:3 "Sixty cubits" – this dimension is far greater than that of Solomon's temple which was only 9 meters wide. The Persians authorized a temple of this size, but the one the Jews built was surely much smaller (Hag 2:3).

6:5 1:7-11.

6:6-12 This portion gives the letter King Darius wrote to the governor.

6:7 Once again God moved on the heart of a foreign ruler to accomplish His purposes (1:1; Prov 21:1).

6:8,9 God so worked that the plot of enemies to stop the work was turned to a means of actually helping the work go forward. Such is God's great and wise sovereignty over the affairs of men. Compare Gen 50:20.

6:10 The Persian rulers usually had a tolerant attitude toward religion. They encouraged the building or restoration of temples in other lands as well as Judah. They were not devoted to the God of Israel, but merely thought that all nations should have the religion and the gods they chose and be able to worship without hindrance. Their object was the well being of themselves and the empire.

8 "Moreover, I issue this decree concerning what you must do for the elders of these Jews for the building of this house of God: expenses from the king's goods, from the taxes beyond the River, are immediately to be given to these men, so that they are not hindered. 9 And let what they need, both young bulls and rams and lambs, for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, in accordance with the appointment of the priests who are at Jerusalem, be given them day by day without fail, 10 so that they can offer fragrant sacrifices to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and of his sons.

11 "Also I have issued a decree, that whoever alters this word, let timber be pulled down from his house and set up, and let him be hanged on it, and let his house be made a refuse heap for this. 12 And the God who has caused his name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people who take in hand to change and destroy this house of God at Jerusalem.

13 Then Tatnai, governor on this side the River, Shethar-Boznai, and their companions, quickly acted in accordance with the message Darius the king had sent. 14 And the elders of the Jews built, and they prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they built, and finished it, in accordance with the commandment of the God of Israel, and in accordance with the command of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia. 15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, attitude toward religion. They encouraged the building or restoration of temples in other lands as well as Judah. They were not devoted to the God of Israel, but merely thought that all nations should have the religion and the gods they chose and be able to worship without hindrance. Their object was the well being of themselves and the empire.

6:11 7:26; Dan 2:5; 3:4-6,29; 6:7,8. Emperors in ancient times usually did not take a tolerant view of disobedience to their commands.

6:13 "Tatnai" – 5:3; 6:6.

6:14 "Zechariah" – 5:1,2. The Persian rulers and the Jewish elders supported the rebuilding of the temple, but the mainstay of the work was the ministry of God's Word.

"Artaxerxes" – this man became king half a century after the rebuilding of the temple. He is mentioned here probably because he later contributed to the maintenance of the temple (7:21-26).

6:15 "Darius" – the temple was completed in 516 or 515 B.C.

which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, observed the dedication of this house of God with joy, 17 and offered at the dedication of this house of God a hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and, as a sin offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, in accordance with the number of the tribes of Israel. 18 And they appointed the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God at Jerusalem, as it is written in the book of Moses.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month. 20 For the priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them were clean, and they killed the Passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. 21 And the children of Israel who had come back from captivity, and all those who had separated themselves from the filth of the nations of the land, to seek the LORD God of Israel, ate it with them, 22 and joyfully kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days. For the Lord had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Assyria toward them, to encourage them in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

7 Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, 2 the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, 3 the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth, 4 the son of Zerariah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, 5 the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest, 6 this Ezra came up from Babylon. And he was a scribe skilled in the law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given. And the king granted him everything he asked, for the hand of the LORD his God was on him. 7 And some of the children of Israel and of the priests and the Levites and the singers and the gatekeepers and the Nethinims came up to Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And he arrived in Jerusalem in the fifth month, in the seventh year of the king. 9 For on the first day of the first month he started his journey up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month he arrived in Jerusalem, for the good hand of his God was on him. 10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to search out the law of the LORD, and to do it; and to teach its statutes and judgments in Israel.

11 Now this is a copy of the letter that king Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest, the scribe, a scribe learned in the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his statutes given to Israel:

12 "Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, the scribe, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, and perfect peace be with you now.

6:17 "Sin offering" - notes at Leviticus chapters 4 and 5.

6:19 Notes at Ex 12:1-13; Lev 23:5.

6:20 "Clean" - note at Neh 12:30.

6:21 "Separated themselves" - 9:11,12; Ex 19:5,6; Deut 7:6; 14:2; Neh 9:2; 10:28; 2 Cor 6:14-18; 1 Pet 2:9.

6:22 "Unleavened Bread" - Ex 12:15; 13:6,7; Lev 23:6.

"Assyria" - the king of Persia is here called also the king of Assyria because Assyria had been conquered and was ruled by Persian kings. Compare 5:13.

7:1-9 "After these things" - more than fifty years elapsed between the events of chapters 6 and 7. The temple was finished by 515 B.C. Ezra came to Jerusalem probably in 458. During this interval the events of the book of Esther took place.

7:1 "Ezra" - Ezra was a priest in the family line of Aaron who was the first high priest of Israel after the building of the tabernacle (Ex 28:1).

"Son of" - in Hebrew these words, and "children of", frequently mean merely "descendant(s) of", and many generations may have lived between the times of the two persons named. Here Ezra, giving his own genealogy, omits names of his own ancestors given in 1 Chron 6:3-15. This is further evidence that in Hebrew "son of" can mean grandson or other descendant further down the line.

7:6 Ezra was born and grew to manhood in Babylon among the exiles taken there by king Nebuchadnezzar.

"Skilled" - vs 10,11. Ezra's knowledge of the law of Moses and his godly character indicate that among the Jews in Babylon at that time there was some vigorous spiritual life and study.

"On him" - the hand of the Lord on him suggests almighty power and guidance working with Ezra - vs 9,28; 8:18,22,31; Neh 2:8,18.

7:9 God's almighty and gracious hand protected Ezra through the trials and dangers of a four month journey.

7:10 "Ezra" - vs 6,11. Notice the three aspects of Ezra's life and ministry. He learned; he practiced; he taught. All three are very important, and their order is also important. We have all seen far too many who tried to teach without learning much themselves, and without practicing what they taught. Compare Rom 2:17-24; 1 Tim 1:5-7. To be and do what Ezra was and did one must devote oneself to them as he did.

7:12 The text of Ezra 7:12-26 is in Aramaic in the Hebrew Old Testament.

"King of kings" - he called himself this because he had conquered other kings and ruled over them. But there is only One who 13 "I issue a decree that all those of the people of Israel and of their priests and Levites in my realm who are willing to go up to Jerusalem, may go with you. 14 For you are sent by the king, and by his seven counsellors, to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in accordance with the law of your God which is in your hand, 15 and to carry the silver and gold which the king and his counsellors have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose dwelling place is in Jerusalem, 16 and all the silver and gold that you can find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the people and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God in Jerusalem, 17 so that you can quickly buy with this money bulls, rams, lambs, with their food offerings and their drink offerings, and offer them on the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem.

18 "And whatever seems good to you, and to your brethren, to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, do that, according to the will of your God. 19 Also the articles that are given to you for the service of the house of your God, deliver them into the presence of the God of Jerusalem. 20 And whatever more is needed for the house of your God, which you may have occasion to supply, supply it out of the king's treasure house.

21 "And I, I Artaxerxes the king, issue a decree to all the treasurers who are beyond the River, that whatever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, requires from you, let it be done speedily, 22 up to a hundred talents of silver, and a hundred measures of wheat, and a hundred baths of wine and a hundred baths of oil, and salt without prescribing how much. 23 Whatever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be done diligently for the house of the God of heaven. For why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons? 24 Also we inform you, concerning all of the priests and Levites, singers, gatekeepers, Nethinims, and ministers of this house of God, it will not be lawful to impose tax, tribute, or duty on them.

25 "And you, Ezra, in accordance with the wisdom of your God, which is in your hand, appoint magistrates and judges who can judge all the people who are beyond the River, all those who know the laws of your God. And teach those who do not know them. 26 And whoever will not do the law of your God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily on him, whether it be for death, or for banishment, or for confiscation of goods, or for imprisonment."

27 Blessed be the LORD God of our fathers who put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem, 28 and who has extended mercy to me in the presence of the king and his counsellors, and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was strengthened because the hand of the LORD my God was on me, and I gathered together out of Israel chief men to come up with me.

8 These are now the heads of their fathers' households, and this is the genealogy of those who came up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king: 2 of the sons of Phinehas, Gershom; of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel; of the sons of David, Hattush; 3 of the sons of Shechaniah, of the sons of Pharosh, Zechariah, and with him were registered a hundred and fifty males; 4 of the sons of Pahath-Moab, Elihoenai the son of Zerariah, and with him two hundred males; 5 of the sons of Shechaniah, the son of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males; 6 and of the sons of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males; 7 and of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiah the son of Athaliah, and with him seventy males; 8 and of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael, and with him fourscore males; 9 of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males; 10 and of the sons of Shelomith, the son of Josiphiah, and with him a hundred and sixty males; 11 and of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him twenty-eight males; 12 and of the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him a hundred and ten males; 13 and of the last sons is ruler of all the kings of earth (1 Tim 6:15; Rev 1:5; 17:14; 19:16).

"God of heaven" - 1:2. These kings used such language, but how much they understood the real meaning of their own words, we cannot say.

7:14 "Seven counsellors" - Esther 1:14.

7:20 "Treasure house" - 6:4. It is probably that the favor shown to the Jews by the kings of Persia can be traced partly to the influence on them by people like Daniel, Esther, Mordecai, Ezra and Nehemiah.

7:22 "A hundred talents" - one talent equals about 34 kilograms.

"Measures" - in Hebrew "kors" - one kor equals about 6 bushels or 220 dry liters.

"Bath" - one bath equals about 22 liters.

7:23 6:10; 8:22. This generosity had a motive of self-interest. This is all too often the case even in Christian circles.

7:25 The king gave considerable authority to Ezra in both religious and secular matters.

7:27 "Blessed be the LORD" - Ezra gave praise to God for the way He worked in the king's heart. Compare 1:1; 6:22; Prov 21:1.

7:28 "Mercy to me" - for the first time in this book Ezra speaks directly of himself.

"Hand of the LORD" - vs 6,9.

of Adonikam, whose names are these, Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them sixty males; 14 and of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them seventy males.

15 And I gathered them together at the river that flows toward Ahava, and for three days we stayed there in tents. And I looked among the people and the priests, and found there none of the sons of Levi. 16 Then I sent for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah and for Elnathan and for Jarib and for Elnathan and for Nathan and for Zechariah and for Meshullam, chief men, and for Joiarib and for Elnathan, men of understanding. 17 And I sent them with an order to Iddo the chief at the place Casiphia, and I told them what they should say to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims, at the place Casiphia, that they should bring to us ministers for the house of our God. 18 And by the good hand of our God on us they brought us a man of understanding, of the sons of Mahli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel, namely Sherebiah, with his sons and his brethren, eighteen men; 19 and Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah of the sons of Merari, his brethren and their sons, twenty men; 20 also of the Nethinims, whom David and the princes had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinims. All of them were designated by name.

21 Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river of Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance. 22 For I was ashamed to ask the king for a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, "The hand of our God is on all those who seek him, bringing good, but his power and his wrath are against all those who forsake him." 23 So we fasted and prayed to our God for this, and he heard our prayer.

24 Then I separated twelve of the leading priests, Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them, 25 and weighed out to them

the silver and the gold and the articles, the offering for the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors and his lords, and all Israel there present, had offered. 26 I weighed out into their hands six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver articles weighing a hundred talents, and one hundred talents of gold, 27 and twenty gold basins worth a thousand drachmas, and two articles of fine bronze, precious as gold.

28 And I said to them, "You are holy to the LORD. The articles are also holy, and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD God of your fathers. 29 Watch and keep them, until you weigh them in the presence of the chief priests and the Levites, and heads of the fathers' households of Israel, at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD." 30 So the priests and the Levites took the weighed silver and the gold and the articles to bring them to Jerusalem to the house of our God.

31 Then we set out from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was on us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and of those who lie in wait along the way. 32 And we came to Jerusalem, and stayed there three days.

33 Now on the fourth day the silver and the gold and the articles were weighed in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth, the son of Uriah the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; and with them were Jozabad the son of Jeshua and Noadiah the son of Binnui, Levites. 34 Everything was accounted for by number and by weight, and the whole weight was written down at that time.

35 Also the offspring of those who had been carried away, who had come from the captivity, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel: twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, twelve he-goats as a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD. 36 And they delivered the king's orders to the king's lieutenants, and to the governors on this side of 8:15 "Ahava" – a place in Babylonia. "River" here may mean a canal that was connected with either the Euphrates or Tigris river.

8:21 "Fast" – Jud 20:26; 1 Sam 7:6; 2 Chron 20:3; Neh 9:1; Esther 4:3; Ps 69:10; Joel 1:14; 2:15.

8:22 There are possible dangers lurking every time a child of God makes a journey. It is a wise thing to commit every journey to God and pray for His protection. Compare Ps 20:7; 33:17-19; 34:15,22; 118:6,7; Rom 8:31. Ezra's life matched the principles he preached. He was concerned that he should have a consistent testimony before others. He saw that asking the king for protectors for the journey would be an expression of doubt that God would protect them.

8:23 Ps 65:2.

8:29 "Watch and keep them" – anyone entrusted with anything belonging to God should be more careful to guard it than to guard things belonging to himself. Alas, that often in Christian circles things and money offered to God are misused, neglected, or even stolen by those who have the oversight of them.

8:31 "Hand of our God" – 7:6,9,28.

the River. And they gave assistance to the people and to the house of God.

9 Now when these things had been done, the leaders came to me, saying, "The people of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the people of the lands, behaving according to their abominations, those of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites. 2 For they have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves, and for their sons, so that the holy race has mingled with the people of those lands. Yes, the leaders and rulers have been foremost in putting their hand to this trespass."

3 And when I heard this matter, I tore my garment and my cloak, and plucked out the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down appalled. 4 Then everyone who trembled at the words of the God of Israel gathered around me, because of the transgression of those who had been exiled, and I sat appalled until the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I got up from my humiliation, with my clothes and my cloak torn, and I fell on my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God, 6 and said,

"O my God, I am ashamed and blush to raise my face to you, my God, for our evil deeds have risen over our head, and our trespass has grown up to the heavens. 7 From the days of our fathers to this day our guilt has been great, and for our evil deeds we, our kings and our priests, have been handed over to the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to be like plunder, and to confusion of face, as it is this day.

8 "And now for a little while grace has been showed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may give light to our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage. 9 For we were slaves, yet our God did not forsake us in our bondage, but has extended mercy to us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to raise up the house of our God and to repair its desolations, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

10 "And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken your commandments, 11 which you commanded by your servants the prophets, saying, 'The land which you are going to possess is an unclean land with the filthiness of the people of the lands, with their abominations. They have filled it from one end to another with their uncleanness. 12 Now, therefore, do not give your daughters to their sons, or take their daughters for your sons, or seek their peace or their wealth at any time, so that you may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it as an inheritance to your children forever.'

13 "And after all that has come on us for our evil deeds and for our great trespass, since you,

9:1 "Not separated" – Ex 19:5,6; Lev 18:24-30; 20:7,23.

9:2 "Wives" – Ex 34:15,16; Deut 7:3-6. Israel was called to be a distinct, separate people, a "holy race", whose holiness of life would be in marked contrast to the sinful life style of the world around. The same is true of believers now (2 Cor 6:14-18; 1 Pet 2:9). The tragedy is that so often those who profess to know the Lord want to be the same as everyone else, to fit into godless society instead of being a witness for God and His holy character. This compromise with the fallen world is seen not only in Ezra's time but in many places in Scripture, and is only too evident in the churches today.

9:3 Gen 37:34; Josh 7:6; Jud 11:35; 2 Sam 13:19. The depth of Ezra's love for God and His people is seen here. Those who are closest to God will be most alarmed by sin. Compare Ps 119:136. Ezra knew that a continued refusal to be a separate people and to follow God's laws would mean punishment for the people and dishonor to God's name.

9:4 "Trembled" – Ps 119:120; Isa 66:2. In all times God has His remnant through whom His purposes are worked out. See v 8; 1 Kings 19:30; Isa 1:9; etc.

9:5 "Sacrifice" – Ex 29:41.

9:6-15 Although guiltless in the matter that so appalled him, Ezra identified himself with the people in their sin. Compare Neh 9:6-38; Isa 64:5-7; Jer 3:25. He did not stand aloof and condemn them. We can learn something of true intercession from this prayer.

9:6 "Ashamed" – Jer 3:25; 31:19; Dan 9:7. Contrast Jer 3:3; 6:15; Zeph 3:5; 1 Cor 5:2. See Ps 51:17.

9:7 "Fathers" – 2 Chron 29:6; Ps 106:6-43; Jer 2:27; Ezek 23:35.

"Handed over to" – 2 Chron 36:15-20. Ezra was afraid the same thing might happen again if the people were not willing to obey God.

9:8 "Grace" – Ex 34:6,7. "Remnant" – v 4.

"Light" – Ps 4:6; 13:3; 19:8; 36:9.

9:9 "Slaves" – Neh 9:36. They were not slaves put to hard labor, but they were under the kings of Persia and unable to have their own king or to handle their own affairs without supervision from them.

"Kings of Persia" – all of them from Cyrus to Artaxerxes showed favor to the Jews.

9:10-12 Lev 18:24-27; Deut 7:3,4; 9:4; 11:8,9.

9:13 "Deserve" – they had been punished with famine and sword, and great destruction of their land and cities and people, and with bondage in a foreign country. Yet in Ezra's eyes this was less than they deserved. This is a truth the spiritually wise among our God, have punished us less than our evil deeds deserve, and have given us such deliverance as this, 14 should we again break your commandments, and join in marriage with the people of these abominations? Would you not be angry with us till you had consumed us, so that there would be no remnant or survivor? 15 O LORD God of Israel, you are righteous, for we remain as a remnant, as it is this day. See, we are before you in our trespasses, for we cannot stand before you because of this."

10 Now when Ezra had prayed, and when he had confessed, weeping and throwing himself down before the house of God, a very great congregation out of Israel, of men and women and children, gathered around him, for the people wept bitterly. 2 And Shechaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, answered and said to Ezra, "We have trespassed against our God, and have taken foreign wives of the people of the land. Yet now, in spite of this, there is hope for Israel. 3 Now, therefore, let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and those who have been born to them, according to the counsel of my master and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the law. 4 Arise! For this matter is your responsibility. We also will be with you. Be courageous, and do it."

5 Then Ezra got up, and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel, swear that they would do according to this word. And they swore. 6 Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the room of Johanan the son of Eliashib. And when he went there, he neither ate men will understand (Ps 103:10). Those who are spiritually blind will put the blame for man's sufferings on God and think God is unjust to punish men for their sins.

9:14 "Marriage" – Neh 13:23-27. Marriage between believers and unbelievers is contrary to God's Word and is a very serious matter indeed.

"Angry" – Deut 7:4; 11:16,17; 29:26-28; Josh 23:16; Jud 2:20. Notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11; etc.

9:15 "Righteous" – a truth taught everywhere in the Bible – Gen 18:25; Deut 4:8; 1 Sam 12:7; 2 Chron 12:6; Ps 4:1; 51:4; 129:4; 145:17; Isa 24:16; Jer 12:1; Rom 3:25; Rev 15:3,4; 16:7.

"We cannot stand before you because of this" – compare Ps 51:1-6; Isa 6:5; Jer 3:25. Contrast this attitude with the one seen in Luke 18:9-12.

10:1 Ezra felt deeply the sin of the people and the danger that could come to them because of it. And he wanted them to understand the seriousness of the situation.

10:2 Ezra waited for repentance to have its food nor drank water, for he was grieving because of the transgression of the exiles.

7 And they made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity, that they should assemble at Jerusalem, 8 and that whoever would not come within three days, in accordance with the counsel of the leaders and the elders, all his property would be forfeited, and he would be separated from the congregation of the exiles.

9 Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem within three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month, and all the people were sitting in the square before the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and because of a heavy rain. 10 And Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, "You have transgressed, and have taken foreign wives, increasing the trespass of Israel. 11 Now, therefore, make confession to the LORD God of your fathers, and do what pleases him, and separate yourselves from the people of the land and from the foreign wives."

12 Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, "We must do as you have said. 13 But the people are many, and it is the rainy season, and we are not able to stand outside. And this is not the work of a day or two, for there are many of us who have transgressed in this matter. 14 Let now our rulers, of the whole congregation, stand, and let all those in our cities who have married foreign wives come at appointed times, and with them the elders of each city and its judges, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter is turned away from us." 15 Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahaziah the son of Tikvah opposed work in the people's hearts and for them to say what was in their minds. He knew that nothing of spiritual value could be done unless the people were with him.

"Hope" – there is always hope for those who will repent and turn to God with their whole heart – 2 Chron 7:14; Isa 55:7.

10:5 "Swear" – 2 Chron 15:12-15; Neh 5:12; 13:25.

10:6 "Water" – Deut 9:18; Ps 42:3; Jonah 3:7.

10:7,8 Because of the influence of Ezra's teaching, example, and prayers, the leaders of the Jews acted as they should have to put away that evil from the people. Ezra's method accomplished more than a show of authority on his part would have done.

10:9 "Rain" – perhaps it was also cold, since the Jewish ninth month (includes parts of November and December) is the beginning of the cold season in Israel.

10:10,11 Ezra came to the point immediately. Compare Isa 58:1. Such teachers and preachers are needed in every generation.

10:12-14 When leaders take an open stand this, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite supported them.

16 And the exiles did as agreed. And Ezra the priest, with some heads of the fathers' households, for each of their fathers' households, and all of them by their names, were separated and sat down on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter. 17 And they finished dealing with all the men who had taken foreign wives by the first day of the first month.

18 And among the sons of the priests there were found those who had married foreign wives; namely, of the sons of Jeshua, the son of Jozabad and his brothers Maaseiah, and Eliezer and Jarib and Gedaliah.

19 And they gave their hands in pledge that they would put away their wives, and since they were guilty, they offered a ram from the flock for their trespass.

20 And of the sons of Immer, Hanani and Zebadiah; 21 and of the sons of Harim, Maaseiah and Elijah and Shemaiah and Jehiel and Uziah; 22 and of the sons of Pashur, Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad and Elasah; 23 also of the Levites: Jozabad and Shimei and Kelaiah (he is the same as Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer;

24 Of the singers also: Eliashib. And of the gatekeepers: Shallum and Telem and Uri.

25 And others of Israel: of the sons of Parosh, Ramiah and Jeziah and Malchiah and Miamin and Eleazar and Malchijah and Benaiah; 26 and of the sons of Elam, Mattaniah, Zechariah and Jehiel and Abdi and Jeremoth and Eliah; 27 and of the sons of Zattu, Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah and Jeremoth and Zabad and Aziza; 28 of the sons also of Bebai, Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai and Athlai; 29 and of the sons of Bani, Meshullam, Malluch and Adaiah, Jashub and Sheal and Ramoth; 30 and of the sons of Pahath-Moab, Adna and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezaleel and Binnui and Manasseh; 31 and of the sons of Harim, Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32 Benjamin, Malluch and Shemariah; 33 of the sons of Hashum, Mattenai, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh and Shimei; 34 of the sons of Bani, Maadai, Amram and Uel, 35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Chelluh, 36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib, 37 Mattaniah, Mattenai and Jaasau, 38 and Bani and Binnui, Shimei, 39 and Shelemiah and Nathan and Adaiah, 40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai, 41 Azareel and Shelemiah, Shemariah, 42 Shallum, Amariah and Joseph; 43 of the sons of Nebo, Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jadau and Joel, Benaiah.

44 All of these had married foreign wives, and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

against evil the results are often good.

NEHEMIAH

Author:

According to ancient Jewish tradition Ezra wrote this book, but the first verse has “the words of Nehemiah”. If Ezra wrote down this book in its present form, it is clear that he used information that came from Nehemiah.

Date:

About 430 BC.

Themes:

The rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem; the opposition faced by the Jews and how they overcome it; the leadership of Nehemiah and Ezra and their efforts to teach the people and train them in true godliness.

1 The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. And it came about in the month Kislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace, 2 that Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and some men of Judah; and I asked them concerning the Jews who had escaped, who survived the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

3 And they said to me, "The survivors who are left from the captivity there in the province are in great distress and reproach. Also the wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates are burned with fire."

4 And it happened when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned for some days, and fasted and prayed before the God of heaven, 5 and said,

"I beg you, O LORD God of heaven, the great and awesome God, who keeps covenant and mercy for those who love him and observe his commandments, 6 let your ear now be attentive, and your eyes open, that you may hear the prayer of your servant, which I pray before you now, day and night, for your servants the children of Israel, and confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have committed against you. Both I and my father's household have sinned. 7 We have dealt very corruptly against you, and have not kept the commandments or the statutes or the judgments which you commanded your servant Moses.

8 "Remember, I beg you, the word that you commanded your servant Moses, saying, 'If you transgress, I will scatter you among the nations, 9 but if you turn to me, and keep my commandments, and do them, even though some of you were driven to the uttermost part of the heavens, yet I would gather them from there and bring them to the place that I have chosen to cause my name to dwell.'

10 "Now these are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power and by your strong hand. 11 O Lord, I beg you, now let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants who desire to fear your name, and make, I pray you, your servant successful this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man."

For I was the king's cupbearer.

2 And it happened in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that wine was before him, and I took up the wine and gave it to the king. Now before this I had not been sad in his presence.

2 Therefore the king said to me, "Why is your face sad, since you are not sick? This is nothing but sorrow of heart."

Then I was very much afraid, 3 and said to the king, "May the king live forever. Why should my face not be sad, when the city, the place of the tombs of my fathers, lies waste and its gates have been consumed by fire?"

4 Then the king said to me, "What do

1:1 "Nehemiah" - this name means "Jehovah comforts."

"Twentieth year" - the twentieth year of Artaxerxes king of Persia - 445 B.C. Kislev in the Jewish calendar included parts of November and December.

"Shushan" - the principal city of the province of Elam in southwest Persia (Iran).

"The palace" - or it could be translated "the capital."

1:3 2 Kings 25:8-10; Ezra 4:12-23. This meant the people in Jerusalem were exposed to attack from their enemies on all sides.

1:4 Ezra 9:3; 10:1,6; Jer 9:1; 13:17; 14:17; Luke 19:41; Acts 20:19. Often they will weep most who care most for the Word of God.

1:5 "Awesome" - 4:14; Deut 7:21; 10:17; Ps 47:2. The KJV has "terrible" here - a word that conveys the wrong meaning to many readers today.

"Love" - Ex 34:6,7; Deut 7:9; Dan 9:4.

1:6 "Day and night" - as v 4, this verse shows the intensity of his concern. Compare Ps 42:3; 88:1; Luke 2:37; 1 Thess 3:10; 1 Tim 5:5; 2 Tim 1:3.

"Confess" - Ezra 9:6,7; Jer 3:25; Dan 9:4-6.

1:7 "Corruptly" - Ps 106:6.

"You commanded" - Ex 20:1; etc.

1:8 Lev 26:33; Deut 28:63-67.

1:9 "Uttermost part of the heavens" - this is a proper translation of the Hebrew. Compare Matt 24:31. The phrase does not mean "somewhere up in the sky", but has to do with the far places of the earth.

"Gather" - Deut 30:1-5; Jer 23:3; Ezek 20:34,41.

"My name" - 1 Kings 8:48.

1:10 Ex 32:11; Deut 9:29; 32:9. Even though God's people fail, they are still His people.

1:11 "Fear your name" - notes at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; Prov 1:7.

"This man" - he means the emperor whom he served. God can and does work in the minds and hearts of others in answer to prayer.

"Cupbearer" - the monarchs of the ancient world were often in danger of being poisoned. The cupbearer had to be a man who was completely trustworthy. Perhaps one of Nehemiah's duties was to taste any drink before it was handed to the king to see whether it was safe to drink.

2:2 "Afraid" - handing wine to the king with a sad face could have been misunderstood (1:11).

2:3 "City" - 1:2,3.

2:4 "Prayed" - Nehemiah was a man of prayer (1:4; 4:4,9; 5:19; 6:9,14; 13:14,22,29,31). Even in conversation with you request?"

So I prayed to the God of heaven. 5 And I said to the king, "If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favour in your sight, that you would send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers' tombs, that I may build it."

6 And the king said to me (the queen also was sitting by him), "How long will your journey be? And when will you return?" So it pleased the king to send me. And I set him a time.

7 Moreover, I said to the king, "If it pleases the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the River, that they may allow me to pass through until I come to Judah, 8 and a letter to Asaph, the keeper of the king's forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the citadel which is by the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I will occupy." And the king granted me my requests, in accordance with the good hand of my God on me. 9 Then I went to the governors beyond the River and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me.

10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite, a servant of the king, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that a man had come to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days. 12 And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me. I did not tell anyone what my God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem; nor was there any animal with me, except the animal that I rode on.

13 And I went out at night by the Gate of the Valley, toward the Dragon Well and to the Refuse Gate, and inspected the walls of Jerusalem which were broken down, and its gates which were consumed by fire. 14 Then I went on to the Gate of the Fountain and to the King's Pool, but there was no room for the animal under me to get through. 15 Then I went up at night by the brook, and viewed the wall, and turned back and entered by the Gate of the Valley, and so returned. 16 And the rulers did not know where I went, or what I did; nor had I as yet told it to the Jews or to the priests or to the nobles or to the rulers or to the rest who did the work.

17 Then I said to them, "You see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lies waste, and its gates burned by fire. Come, and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, so that we are no longer an object of reproach." 18 Then I told them of the hand of my God who had been gracious to me, and also the king's words that he had spoken to me.

And they said, "Let us rise up and build." So they put their hands to this good work.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite, a servant of the king, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed at us and scorned us and despised us, and said, "What is this thing that you are doing? Are you rebelling against the king?"

20 Then I answered them and said to them, "The God of heaven will give us success. Therefore others he spoke in his heart to God – an example we all would be wise to follow.

2:5 "Build" – the temple had been completed seventy years before (Ezra 6:15). But the walls and the city of Jerusalem remained in a ruined condition.

2:7,8 Nehemiah was a man of foresight, and careful planning. He had obviously considered beforehand what was involved in the project and he was ready to see it through to the end. Compare Luke 14:28,29.

2:7 "Beyond the River" – in the area between the Euphrates river and the Mediterranean Sea.

2:8 "The house" – the temple.

"King" – Prov 21:1. At this time the king appointed Nehemiah governor of the Jews in Jerusalem and Judah – 5:14.

"Good hand of my God" – v 18; Ezra 7:6; 8:22.

2:9 Compare Ezra 8:22. This does not mean Nehemiah had no faith in God's protection. Nehemiah had not spoken as Ezra had, and he was traveling as an official of the king.

2:10 "Sanballat" – there is evidence apart from the Bible that Sanballat was the governor of Samaria at that time. Tobiah was "a servant of the king", that is, an official, probably the governor of an area east of the Jordan river. They did not want the Jews in Judah to become strong and weaken their own influence and authority.

2:12-16 Nehemiah wanted to see what needed to be done before attempting to speak or start the work – compare vs 7,8.

"Dragon" (v 13) – the Hebrew word here seems to have several meanings, and could be translated "Jackal" or "Serpent" or "Fig" or "Sea monster."

2:17 "Lies waste" – most of Jerusalem had remained in ruins since its destruction in 586 B.C., 140 years previously. The Jews after their return from Babylon had been there for more than ninety years, but had been unable to rebuild the walls and the city. Perhaps they despaired of ever being able to do so until Nehemiah came with authority from the Persian king and encouraged them.

2:18 Verse 8.

2:19 "Geshem" – probably an official of the strong Arab power east and south of Jerusalem.

"Laughed", "scorned" – a weapon the ungodly often use against God's servants (2 Kings 2:23; 2 Chron 30:10; 36:16; Ps 22:7; 44:13; Matt 27:29; Luke 23:36; 2 Pet 3:3; Jude 18).

2:20 "Success" – Rom 8:31.

"You have no portion" – the land of Canaan, with all its cities, was given to the

we his servants will arise and build, but you have no portion or right or memorial in Jerusalem.”

3 Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they built the Sheep Gate. They dedicated it and set up its doors. They built and dedicated the wall to the Tower of Meah, to the Tower of Hananeel. 2 And next to him the men of Jericho built. And next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.

3 But the sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate. They also laid its beams and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars. 4 And next to them Meremoth the son of Urijah, the son of Koz, made repairs. And next to them Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabeel made repairs. And next to them Zadok the son of Baana made repairs. 5 And next to them the Tekoites made repairs, but their nobles did not put their necks to the work of their Lord.

6 Moreover, Jehoiada the son of Paseah, and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate. They laid its beams, and set up its doors and its locks and its bars. 7 And next to them Melatiah the Gibeonite and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon and of Mizpah, made repairs to the place of the throne of the governor on this side of the River. 8 Next to him Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths, made repairs. And next to him Hananiah, the son of one of the perfumers, made repairs, and they fortified Jerusalem to the Broad Wall. 9 And next to them Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of half of the district of Jerusalem, made repairs. 10 And next to them Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, made repairs opposite his house. And next to him Hattush the son of Hashabniah made repairs. 11 Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hashub the son of Pahath-Moab, repaired another section and the Tower of the Furnaces. 12 And next to him Shallum the son of Haloehesh, the ruler of half of the district of Jerusalem, made repairs, he and his daughters.

13 Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate. They built it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars, and repaired a thousand cubits on the wall as far as the Refuse Gate.

Jews by God as a permanent possession (Gen 17:8; Josh 1:2-6). Because of sin they had lost possession temporarily, but it was still theirs.

3:1 All classes of people had a part in the work – priests (v 1), goldsmiths and perfume-makers (v 8), rulers and women (v 12), Levites (v 17), merchants (v 32). So among believers now there is a place for each one in the work of God – 1 Cor 12:7-11.

3:2 “Jericho” – much of the work was done by those from towns other than Jerusalem – vs 5,7,13,17,18.

14 But Malchiah the son of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-Hakkerem, repaired the Refuse Gate. He built it and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

15 But Shallun the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of a district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate. He built it and covered it and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars. And he repaired the wall of the Pool of Siloah by the king’s garden, and the steps that go down from the City of David. 16 Beyond him Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of half of the district of Beth-Zur, made repairs to the place opposite the Tombs of David, and to the artificial pool, and to the House of the Mighty.

17 Beyond him the Levite Rehum the son of Bani made repairs. Next to him Hashabiah, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district. 18 Beyond him their brethren, Bavai the son of Henadad, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, made repairs. 19 And next to him Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, repaired another section opposite the ascent to the armoury where the wall turns. 20 Beyond him Baruch the son of Zabbai carefully repaired the other section, from where the wall turns to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest. 21 Beyond him Meremoth the son of Urijah the son of Koz repaired another section, from the door of the house of Eliashib to the far side of the house of Eliashib.

22 And beyond him the priests, the men of the plain, made repairs. 23 Beyond him Benjamin and Hashub made repairs opposite their house. Beyond him Azariah the son of Maaseiah the son of Ananiah made repairs by his house. 24 Beyond him Binnui the son of Henadad repaired another section, from the house of Azariah to the place where the wall turns, as far as the corner. 25 Palal the son of Uzai made repairs opposite the place where the wall turns, and on to the tower which projects out from the king’s upper house that was by the court of the prison. Beyond him Pedaiah the son of Parosh made repairs. 26 Moreover, the Nethinims who lived in Ophel made repairs to the place opposite the water gate toward the east, and on to the tower that projects out. 27 Beyond them the Tekoites repaired another section, opposite the great tower

3:5 “Nobles” – evidently they thought that manual labor was beneath their dignity. Their pride cost them the privilege of taking part in a humble but important work of God. If we are too proud to perform the lowliest task for God we are too proud to be of much use in any work of God (though we may think otherwise and see what we call success). See the example of the Lord Jesus in John 13:3-5. See also Acts 18:3; 20:34,35.

3:15 “Siloah” – Siloam.

3:27 The men of Tekoa repaired two sections of the wall while their “nobles” that projects out, on to the Wall of Ophel.

28 The priests made repairs from above the Horse Gate, each opposite his house. 29 Beyond them Zadok the son of Immer made repairs opposite his house. And beyond him Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the guard at the east gate, made repairs. 30 Beyond him Hananiah the son of Shelemiah and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph repaired another section. Beyond him Meshullam the son of Berechiah made repairs opposite his chamber. 31 Beyond him Malchiah, the goldsmith's son, made repairs to the Place of the Nethinims, and of the merchants, opposite the Miphkad Gate, and as far as the upper room at the corner. 32 And between the upper room at the corner and the Sheep Gate the goldsmiths and the merchants made repairs.

4 But it happened that when Sanballat heard we were building the wall, he was angry and enraged, and mocked the Jews. 2 And he spoke in the presence of his brothers and the army of Samaria, and said, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Are they going to fortify themselves? Will they offer sacrifices? Will they finish in a day? Will they restore the stones from the burned heaps of rubble?"

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was with him, and he said, "Even if a fox goes up on what they are building, it would break down their stone wall."

4 Hear, O our God, for we are despised; and turn their reproach back on their own head, and give them as prey in the land of captivity, 5 and do not cover their wickedness and do not let their sin be blotted out from your presence. For they have provoked you to anger in the presence of the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and the whole wall was joined together up to half its height, for the people had a mind to work.

7 But it happened that when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians and the Ammonites and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were being restored and that the gaps were beginning to be closed, they were very angry, 8 and all of them together made a plot to come and fight against Jerusalem and to disturb it. 9 Nevertheless, we made our prayer to our God, and because of them, set a guard against them day and night.

10 And Judah said, "The strength of the labourers is failing, and there is much rubble, so that we are not able to build the wall."

11 And our adversaries said, "They will not know or see till we come into the midst of them and kill them and stop the work."

12 And it happened when the Jews who lived near them came, that they told us ten times, "They will attack you every place where you may turn."

13 Therefore I placed men in the low places behind the wall and on the high places. I placed the people according to their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows. 14 And I looked around and got up and said to the nobles and to the rulers and to the rest of the people, "Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awe-inspiring, and fight for your brethren, your sons and your daughters, your wives and your houses."

15 And it came about, when our enemies heard that it was known to us, and that God had brought their counsel to nothing, that all of us returned to the wall, each one to his work.

16 And from that time on, it happened that half of my servants worked on the job, and the other half of them held the spears, the shields, the bows, and armour. And the rulers stood behind the whole refused to do anything (v 5).

3:32 "Sheep Gate" - this completed the wall (v 1). Altogether there were ten gates.

4:1 "Sanballat" - 2:10. "Mocked" - 2:19.

4:4,5 For note and references on similar prayers against enemies see Ps 35:8. Opposing a work of God is a very serious matter. But observe that Nehemiah himself did not act against his enemies, but left the matter in God's hands.

4:5 Jer 18:23.

4:7 Ashdod was one of the old cities of the Philistines which had come under the rule of the Persians. Opposition to the Jews increased on all sides.

4:8 Ps 2:1,2; 83:1-8.

4:9 They did not pray without posting a guard, or post a guard without praying. They did their part and looked to God to do His part - an example to us all.

4:10-12 Growing opposition from without, growing weakness and discouragement within. Compare 2 Cor 7:5.

4:14 "Do not be afraid" - Ex 14:13; Num 14:9; Josh 1:9; John 14:1; Heb 13:6.

"Remember the Lord" - Deut 7:18; Ps 105:5-7; 2 Tim 2:8. Remembering God and His grace and power is a great aid to faith and hope.

4:15 "Brought. . .to nothing" - the faith and action of Nehemiah is what God used to frustrate the plans of the enemy. Very often the faith of one leader is enough to turn the tide of discouragement and lead on to victory.

4:16-18 The picture here suggests two aspects of the Christian's life on earth - work and spiritual warfare (1 Cor 3:10; 15:58; Eph 6:10-12; 1 Tim 6:12; 2 Tim 4:7). These go on simultaneously. We would gladly work without the warfare, but our enemies will not let us alone, just as the Jews' enemies would not let them alone. Compare Ps 120:7.

house of Judah. 17 Those who were building on the wall and those who carried burdens, each took the load with one of his hands and did the work, and with the other hand held a weapon. 18 For each one of the builders wore his sword at his side as he built. And the trumpeter was with me.

19 And I said to the nobles and to the rulers and to the rest of the people, "The work is great and spread out, and we are separated on the wall, one far from another. 20 Therefore wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally to us there. Our God will fight for us."

21 So we laboured in the work. And half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared. 22 At the same time I also said to the people, "Let everyone with his servant stay inside Jerusalem, so that they can be a guard to us by night, and work by day." 23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the guards who were with me, none of us, removed our clothes, except that everyone removed them for washing.

5 And there was a great outcry of the people and of their wives against their Jewish brethren. 2 For there were those who said, "We, our sons and our daughters, are many; therefore let us get grain for them, so that we can eat and live."

3 Some also there were who said, "Because of the famine, we have mortgaged our lands, vineyards and houses that we might buy grain."

4 There were also those who said, "We have borrowed money for the king's tax on our lands and vineyards. 5 Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children, and, look, we are bringing our sons and our daughters into bondage to become servants; and some of our daughters are brought into bondage already. Nor is it in our power to redeem them, for other men have our lands and vineyards."

6 And I was very angry when I heard their outcry and these words. 7 Then I controlled my inner feelings, and I rebuked the nobles and rulers and said to them, "Every one of you is exacting usury from his brother." And I held a great assembly against them. 8 And I said to them, "According to our ability we have redeemed our Jewish brethren who were sold to the nations, and will you even sell your brethren so that they have to be sold back to us?" Then they kept silent, and found no answer.

9 I also said, "What you are doing is not good. Because of the reproach of our enemy nations should you not walk in the fear of our God? 10 I too, and my brethren and my servants, are lending them money and grain. Please, let us stop this usury! 11 This very day please restore to them their lands, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money and of the grain, the wine and the oil, that you exacted from them."

12 Then they said, "We will restore them, and

4:20 "Our God will fight for us" – Deut 20:4; Josh 10:14,42; 1 Sam 14:6; 2 Sam 5:24. God fighting for His people does not mean that they will not have to fight, except on those rare occasions when their fighting is unnecessary (Ex 14:14).

4:23 God's work always demands earnestness and willingness to suffer and travail. Compare 2 Cor 6:4-10; etc.

5:1-5 The rebuilding program going on in Jerusalem prevented people from earning their normal income. Also there were other problems of long standing. The result was the complaints of vs 1-5. The disunity revealed here was a further threat to God's work, as indeed it always is.

5:2 "Grain" – it was the duty of those in Israel who had a surplus to help their poor countrymen – Lev 25:35; Deut 15:7,8. For the duty of believers now see Acts 24:17; Rom 12:8,13; 2 Cor 8:13,14; 9:12,13; Matt 25:31-46.

5:3 "Famine" – those who had grain, instead of freely sharing as they should have, were making a profit from the poor – an injustice and hardness of heart which God will always judge and punish.

5:4 "Kings's tax" – the Jews were ruled by Persian kings who levied taxes on them. This increased the economic burden of the poor.

5:5 Lev 25:39-43; Deut 15:12-18.

"Nor is it in our power" – the true complaint of the poor in all generations.

5:6 "Angry" – those in tune with God will be angry when injustice and hardness of heart prevail, and when the poor and helpless are ground under foot. Compare Ex 22:22-24; Ps 12:5; Isa 1:17; 3:14,15; Amos 2:6,7; 4:1; etc.

5:7 "I controlled my inner feelings" – the Hebrew word translated "controlled" means to reign as king. The word translated "feelings" is literally "heart."

"Usury" – Ex 22:25; Lev 25:36-38.

5:8 Lev 25:39-42,48.

"The nations" – Ex 21:8.

"Silent" – they were guilty and knew it. Compare Rom 3:19.

5:9 "Reproach" – 2 Sam 12:14; Rom 2:23,24.

"Fear of our God" – notes at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; Prov 1:7.

5:11 It was not enough for them to admit their guilt. They had to act in a way that proved the genuineness of their repentance. God always requires men to give back what they have unjustly taken. See Matt 3:8; Luke 19:8; Ex 22:1; Lev 6:4,5; 24:18,21; 1 Sam 12:3; 2 Sam 12:6.

5:12 "Oath" – 2 Chron 28:15; Ezra 10:5.

will require nothing from them. We will do just as you say.”

Then I called the priests, and took an oath from them, that they would do according to this promise. 13 Also I shook out the front of my robe and said, “So may God shake out every man from his house and from his work, who does not act according to this promise. Just like this may he be shaken out and emptied.”

And all the congregation said, “Amen!” and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.

14 Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the food of the governor. 15 But the former governors who had been before me laid burdens on the people, and took food and wine from them, besides forty shekels of silver. Yes, even their servants ruled the people. But I did not, because of the fear of God. 16 Yes, I also continued in the work of this wall, and we did not buy any land. And all my servants gathered there for the work.

17 Moreover, there were at my table a hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, besides those visiting us from among the nations that are around us. 18 Now what was prepared for me daily was one ox and six choice sheep. Also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days an abundant supply of all sorts of wine. Yet in spite of all this I did not demand the governor’s food allowance, because the servitude was heavy on this people.

19 Think of me, my God, for good, in accordance with all that I have done for this people.

5:13 The threat was that if they would not help the poor, God would make them poor. Compare Ps 18:25,26.

5:14-18 See Nehemiah’s spirit of service. He set an example to all, not claiming what was his rights as governor. He was there to serve, not to be a burden to others, or to use his position to enrich himself. See also Paul’s way – 1 Cor 9:1-23; 2 Thess 3:8,9. Let us be eager to follow their example.

“Forty shekels” (v 15) – about 0.5 kilogram.

5:16 “Land” – Nehemiah’s eyes were on spiritual benefits, not material (v 19).

5:18 As governor he had to show hospitality, but even in that he refused the provisions he was entitled to. He was concerned for the people, not for how he could stuff his own pockets.

5:19 “Think” – 13:14,22,31; 2 Kings 20:3; Heb 6:10.

“Good” – good to Nehemiah did not mean material rewards, but grace and strength to finish his work and to honor God and enjoy the light of His face.

6:1 2:10,19; 4:1,7.

6 Now it so happened that when Sanballat and Tobiah and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had built the wall, and that there was no gap left in it (though at that time I had not set up the doors of the gates), 2 Sanballat and Geshem sent word to me, saying, “Come, let us meet together in one of the villages on the plain of Ono.” But they were planning to harm me.

3 And I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and come down to you?” 4 Yet they sent me this same message four times; and I answered them in the same way.

5 Then, in the same way, Sanballat sent his servant to me the fifth time with an open letter in his hand, 6 in which was written,

“It is reported among the nations, and Gashmu says it, that you and the Jews are planning to rebel. For this reason, according to these words, you are building the wall, that you may be their king. 7 And also you have appointed prophets to make proclamations about you at Jerusalem, saying, ‘There is a king in Judah!’ And now it will be reported to the king according to these words. So come now, and let us take counsel together.”

8 Then I sent word to him, saying, “No such things as you say are being done, but you are making them up in your own heart.”

9 For they were all trying to frighten us, saying, “Their hands will be weakened in the work, so that it will not be done.” Now therefore, O God, strengthen my hands.

10 Afterwards I came to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabeel, who was shut in, and he said, “Let us meet together in the 6:2 “Ono” – this area was near the Mediterranean coast, far from Jerusalem. Nehemiah understood that Sanballat and friends were not planning any good.

6:3 Nehemiah could not be diverted from the work God had given him to do. To him God’s work was noble and sacred, and demanded all his strength, time, and best efforts.

6:4 Enemies of God’s work do not usually give up easily; neither should God’s servants.

6:5 “Open” – it is probable that Sanballat deliberately left the letter unsealed so the messenger or anyone else who saw it could read it and spread the lie.

6:6 “Gashmu” – a variant of Geshem.

6:9 “Trying to frighten” – if the lie of Sanballat had reached the ears of the king of Persia and he had believed it, he would doubtless have taken strong measures against Nehemiah and the Jews.

6:10 “Temple” – Nehemiah was not a priest, and entering the inner court of the temple was not permitted anyone except priests. Perhaps Shemaiah meant the outer court of the temple. (Num 18:7.

house of God, in the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you. Yes, at night they are coming to kill you."

11 And I said, "Should such a man as I flee? And who is there such as I who would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in." 12 And then I perceived that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecy against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. 13 The reason he was hired is that I might be afraid, and do so and sin, so that they might have material for an evil report, that they might reproach me.

14 My God, remember Tobiah and Sanballat according to these works of theirs, and the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets who tried to frighten me.

15 So the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty-two days. 16 And it came about when all our enemies heard of this, and all the nations that were around us saw these things, that they were much deflated in their own eyes, for they perceived that this work was done by our God.

17 Moreover, in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and letters from Tobiah were coming to them. 18 For many in Judah were under an oath to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shechaniah, the son of Arah, and his son Johanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah. 19 Also they reported his good deeds in my presence, and reported my words to him. And Tobiah sent letters to frighten me.

7 Now it came about, when the wall was built and I had set up the doors, and the gatekeepers and the singers and the Levites had been appointed, 2 that I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the commander of the citadel, charge over Jerusalem, for he was a faithful man, and feared God more than many do. 3 And I said to them, "Do not let the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot. And while the gatekeepers are standing by, let them shut the doors and bar them. And appoint guards from the inhabitants of Jerusalem, each at his post, and each in front of his house."

4 Now the city was large and spacious, but the people in it were few, and the houses were not built. 5 And my God put into my heart to assemble the nobles and the rulers and the people, so that they might be registered by genealogy. And I found a register of the genealogy of those who first came up, and found this written in it:

6 These are the children of the province who came up out of the captivity, among the exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had taken away, and who returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, each one to his city, 7 coming with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The number of men of the people of Israel was this:

8 The children of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

9 The children of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two.

10 The children of Arah, six hundred and fifty-two.

11 The children of Pahath-Moab, of the children of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and eighteen.

12 The children of Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

13 The children of Zattu, eight hundred and forty-five.

14 The children of Zaccai, seven hundred and sixty.

15 The children of Binnui, six hundred and forty-eight.

16 The children of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-eight.

17 The children of Azgad, two thousand three Compare 2 Chron 26:16-21).

"Kill you" – still another attempt to frighten and discredit Nehemiah – v 13.

6:11 "Flee" – compare Acts 20:24; 21:13.

6:12 Evidently Shemiah was a false prophet who was after money. Compare 2 Pet 2:16.

6:14 False prophets were a problem in other days too. See Jer 5:31; 14:13-15; 23:9-17; Ezek 13:1-7. There will be false prophets in the future also – Matt 24:11,24; 2 Pet 2:1.

6:15 "Fifty-two days" – a remarkable feat. The walls had lain in ruins for nearly 150 years, and only piles of rubble had remained.

6:16 "God" – it was obvious to all that God had given exceptional strength, courage, and determination to the Jews.

6:17-19 Tobiah, a great enemy of God's work, had supporters among God's people. Do such things ever go on in the churches today? Alas, yes.

7:1 1 Chron 9:27; 26:12-19; chapters 23-25.

7:2 Nehemiah's choice of his brother was not nepotism – not the choice of a relative regardless of whether he had the proper qualifications. That sort of thing Nehemiah would rightly have rejected with disgust. Hananiah had two essential qualities for anyone in a responsible position in God's work – integrity and the fear of God, and for this reason he was chosen.

7:5 "Put into my heart" – Nehemiah was always ready to give God the credit for the wisdom he had. He did not take the credit to himself.

7:6-73 Ezra 2:1-70.

hundred and twenty-two.

18 The children of Adonikam, six hundred and sixty-seven.

19 The children of Bigvai, two thousand and sixty-seven.

20 The children of Adin, six hundred and fifty-five.

21 The children of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety-eight.

22 The children of Hashum, three hundred and twenty-eight.

23 The children of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-four.

24 The children of Hariph, a hundred and twelve.

25 The children of Gibeon, ninety-five.

26 The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, a hundred eighty-eight.

27 The men of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight.

28 The men of Beth-Azmaveth, forty-two.

29 The men of Kirjath-Jearim, Kephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and forty-three.

30 The men of Ramah and Gaba, six hundred and twenty-one.

31 The men of Michmas, a hundred and twenty-two.

32 The men of Bethel and Ai, a hundred and twenty-three.

33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty-two.

34 The children of the other Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

35 The children of Harim, three hundred and twenty.

36 The children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five.

37 The children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-one.

38 The children of Senaah, three thousand nine hundred and thirty.

39 The priests: the children of Jedaiah, of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred and seventy-three.

40 The children of Immer, a thousand and fifty-two.

41 The children of Pashur, a thousand two hundred and forty-seven.

42 The children of Harim, a thousand and seventeen.

43 The Levites: the children of Jeshua, of Kadmiel, and of the children of Hodevah, seventy-four.

44 The singers: the children of Asaph, a hundred and forty-eight.

45 The gatekeepers: the children of Shallum, the children of Ater, the children of Talmon, the children of Akkub, the children of Hatita, the

60 All the Nethinims, including the children of Solomon's servants, were three hundred and ninety-two.

61 And these were those who also came up from Tel-Melah, Tel-Haresha, Kerub, Addon, and Immer, but they could not show their father's household, or their descendants, whether they were of Israel: 62 the children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children of Nekoda, six hundred and forty-two.

63 And of the priests: the children of Habaiah, the children of Koz, the children of Barzillai, who married one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name.

64 These sought their records among those who were registered by genealogy, but they were not found. Therefore they were expelled from the priesthood, as unclean. 65 And the governor told them not to eat of the most holy things, until a priest stood up with Urim and Thummim.

66 The whole congregation together was forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty, 67 besides their male and female servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven. And they had two hundred and forty-five men and women singers.

68 Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six. Their mules were two hundred and forty-five. 69 Their camels were four hundred and thirty-five. They had six thousand seven hundred and twenty donkeys.

70 And some of the heads of the fathers' households gave for the work. The governor gave into the treasury a thousand gold drachmas, fifty basins, and five hundred and thirty priestly garments. 71 And some of the heads of the fathers' households gave into the treasury for the work twenty thousand gold drachmas, and two thousand two hundred silver minas. 72 And what the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand gold drachmas and two thousand silver minas, and sixty-seven priestly garments.

73 So the priests and the Levites and the gatekeepers and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinims, and all Israel, lived in their cities. And when the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

8 And all the people gathered together as one man in the square that was in front of the Water Gate, and they spoke to Ezra the scribe about bringing the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

2 And on the first day of the seventh month Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation of both men and women, and all who could hear with understanding. 3 And from morning to midday he read from it facing the square that was in front of the Water Gate in the presence of the men and the women and those who could understand, and the ears of all the people listened attentively to the book of the law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform which they had made for the purpose,

7:70 "A thousand gold drachmas" – about 8.5 kilograms.

7:71 "Minas" – one mina equals about 600 grams.

7:73 "Nethinims" – servants who performed menial tasks around the temple.

8:1 "Ezra" – Ezra 7:6.

"The book of the law of Moses" – here means at least part, and probably all, of the Pentateuch (the first five books of the Bible). The leaders knew it was essential that the faith and behavior of the Jews be solidly based on the Word of God.

8:3 "He read" – Ex 24:7. The people would not have had copies of their own. Ezra chose the best way to bring God's Word to bear on their minds and consciences.

"Midday" – six hours, and the people were attentive. This showed the work of God in their hearts.

8:4 "Scribe" – the work of the scribes was to preserve the law, teach it, and interpret it, applying it to every day life. No doubt the order of the scribes began under the guidance of God, but over the years it degenerated until, in the time of the Lord Jesus, the scribes for the most part were hard and beside him, on his right, stood Mattithiah and Shema and Anaiah and Urijah and Hilkiah and Maaseiah, and on his left, Pedaiah and Mishael and Malchiah and Hashum and Hashbadana, Zechariah and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people (for he was standing above all the people), and when he opened it all the people stood up. 6 And Ezra praised the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, "Amen, Amen," lifting up their hands, and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Jeshua and Bani and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, explained the law to the people, and the people stood in their places. 8 So they read distinctly from the book of the law of God and gave the sense, so that they understood what was read.

9 And Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who were teaching the people, said to all the people, "This day is holy to the LORD your God. Do not mourn or weep." For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law.

10 Then he said to them, "Go your way, eat rich food and drink the sweet, and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared, for this day is holy to our Lord. Do not be sad, for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

11 So the Levites calmed all the people, saying, "Be still, for the day is holy. Do not be grieved."

12 And all the people went their way to eat and legalists and hypocrites (Matthew chapter 23).

8:6 "Praised" – note at Ps 33:1-3.

8:8 "Gave the sense, so that they understood" – this is the most important work of a teacher – to make sure that people really understand the Word of God. Ezra, and those helping him, evidently gave a running commentary as they read the Scriptures.

8:9 "Weep" – when we hear God's law there is reason to weep as we think of how we have broken it. But that day was designed to be a day of rejoicing – the wall of Jerusalem was finished, the people were responsive to God and were worshiping Him, and it was a feast day, a day for rejoicing (Deut 12:7,12; 16:14,15). Mourning was to come later – 9:1,2.

8:10 "For whom nothing is prepared" – it is always the duty of God's people to help the needy – note at 5:2.

"Joy" – God wants His people to have joy – John 17:13; Rom 14:17. The person who has God's joy will be much stronger for God than the person without it. On joy see Ps 16:11; 21:1; 32:11; 43:4; 51:8.

8:12 "They understood" – notice the connection between understanding and joy.

drink, and to send portions to others, and to rejoice greatly, because they understood the words that had been proclaimed to them.

13 And on the second day the heads of the fathers' households of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, gathered together around Ezra the scribe to understand the words of the law. 14 And they found written in the law which the LORD commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should live in booths during the feast of the seventh month, 15 and that they should announce it and proclaim it in all their cities and in Jerusalem, saying, "Go out to the mountain, and bring olive branches and pine branches and myrtle branches and palm branches and branches of leafy trees, to make booths, as it is written."

16 So the people went out and brought them, and they made booths for themselves, each one on the roof of his house, or in their compounds, or in the courtyards of the house of God, and in the square at the Water Gate and in the square at the Gate of Ephraim. 17 And the whole congregation of those who had come back from the captivity made booths, and sat under the booths. For since the days of Joshua the son of Nun until that day the children of Israel had not done so. And the rejoicing was very great.

18 Also day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read from the book of the law of God. And they kept the feast for seven days, and on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the regulation.

9 Now on the twenty-fourth day of this month the children of Israel assembled with fasting and in sackcloth, with dust on their heads. 2 And the descendants of Israel separated themselves from all foreigners, and stood and confessed their sins, and the evil deeds of their fathers. 3 And they stood in their places, and read from the book of the law of the LORD their God for a fourth of the day, and during another fourth they made their confession, and worshipped the LORD their God. 4 Then standing on the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Kenani cried out to the LORD their God with a loud voice. 5 Then the Levites Jeshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah said, "Stand up and praise the LORD, your God forever and ever." And they said,

"Blessed be your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise. 6 You, you alone, are the LORD. You made the heavens, the heaven of heavens, with all their starry host, the earth, and everything in it, the seas, and everything in them. And you preserve them all, and the host of heaven worships you.

7 "You are the LORD God, who chose Abram, and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gave him the name of Abraham. 8 And you found his heart faithful toward you, and made a covenant with him to give him the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it to his offspring, and you acted in accordance with your words, for you are righteous.

9 "And you saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the Red Sea, 10 and showed signs and wonders against Pharaoh and against all his servants and against all the people of his land, for you knew that they treated them with arrogance. So you got a name for yourself, as it is this day. 11 And you divided the sea in front of them, so that they went through the middle of the sea on dry ground, and you hurled their pursuers

8:14,15 Lev 23:34-43 - the Feast of Tabernacles.

8:16 "Courtyards" - the outer courtyards of the temple where the people were permitted to go.

8:17 "Had not done so" - at times there had been some observance of the Feast of Tabernacles since Joshua's day (1 Kings 8:2; 2 Chron 8:13; Ezra 3:4), but not with such understanding of its real significance, and not with such joy. How easy it is for a mode of gathering which once meant blessing to descend into a merely formal rite. Compare Isa 1:10-16; Mal 1:6-9; 1 Cor 11:17-34.

8:18 Lev 23:36; Num 29:35; Deut 31:11. These days resulted in a time of revival in many hearts (9:1-3; 10:28-39) - a revival not based on man's techniques, or personalities, but on the hearing of the Word of God.

9:5 "The LORD" - Jehovah - see note at Ex 3:14,15. The people were urged to praise the one true and eternal God, the Creator of the universe; no other is worthy of praise. The great prayer which follows is similar to psalms 78, 105, and 106.

into the deep, like a stone into the mighty waters. 12 Moreover you led them in the day by a pillar of cloud, and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light on the road they were to travel.

13 "And you came down upon Mount Sinai, and spoke with them from heaven and gave them right judgments and true laws, good statutes and commandments, 14 and made known to them your holy Sabbath, and commanded them precepts, statutes and laws, through your servant Moses. 15 And you gave them bread from heaven for their hunger, and brought water out of the rock for them for their thirst, and promised them that they would go in to possess the land which you had sworn to give them.

16 "But they and our fathers acted arrogantly and hardened their necks, and did not listen to your commandments, 17 and refused to obey. They did not keep in mind your wonders which you did among them, but they hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a leader to return to the place of their bondage. But you are a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to get angry, and have great kindness, so you did not forsake them. 18 Even when they made a calf of cast metal and said, 'This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,' and committed acts showing great contempt, 19 because of your abundant mercy you still did not forsake them in the wilderness. The pillar of cloud, leading them in the way, did not leave them in the daylight, nor did the pillar of fire, showing them light on the way in which they should go, leave them at night.

20 "You also gave your good Spirit to instruct them, and did not withhold your manna from their mouth, and you gave them water for their thirst. 21 Yes, for forty years you sustained them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing. Their clothes did not wear out, and their feet did not swell.

22 "Moreover you gave them kingdoms and nations, and allotted to them even remote areas. So they possessed the land of Sihon, that is, the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan. 23 You also increased the number of their children like the stars of heaven, and brought them into the land which you had promised to their fathers, so that they could go in to possess it. 24 So the children went in and possessed the land, and in front of them you subdued the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, so that they might do with them as they wished. 25 And they took strong cities and a rich land, and took possession of houses full of all kinds of good things, wells already dug, vineyards and olive gardens and fruit trees in abundance. So they ate and were filled and became fat, and delighted in your great goodness.

26 "Nevertheless, they were disobedient and rebelled against you, and threw your law behind their backs and killed your prophets, who admonished them to turn them to you, and they committed acts showing great contempt. 27 Therefore you delivered them into the hands of their enemies, who oppressed them. And in the time of their trouble, when they cried out to you, you heard them from heaven, and in accordance with your great mercies you gave them saviours, who saved them out of the hands of their enemies.

28 "But when they were at rest, they again did evil in your presence. Therefore you left them in the hands of their enemies, so that they ruled over them. Yet when they returned to you and cried out, you heard them from heaven, and many times you delivered them according to your mercies, 29 and admonished them, so that you might bring them back to your law. Yet they behaved

9:29 "Admonished" - v 30; Jer 7:25; 11:7,8.

"Arrogantly" - knowingly breaking God's commands often has its roots in arrogance. It is men putting their will above God's will, a mute declaration of independence from arrogantly, and did not listen to your commandments, but sinned against your judgments (by which a man will live if he does them), and stubbornly turned their shoulder and hardened their neck and would not listen. 30 Yet for many years you showed them forbearance, and admonished them by your Spirit in your prophets. Yet they would not give ear, so you gave them into the hands of the people of the lands. 31 Nevertheless, for the sake of your great mercies you did not make an end of them or forsake them, for you are a gracious and merciful God.

32 "Now therefore, our God, the great, mighty, and awesome God, who maintains covenant and mercy, do not let all this trouble seem a small thing in your presence, this trouble that has come on us, on our kings, on our princes, on our priests, on our prophets, on our fathers, and on all your people, from the time of the kings of Assyria until this day. 33 However you are just in all that has happened to us, for you dealt faithfully. But we have acted wickedly. 34 Nor have our kings, our princes, our priests, or our fathers, kept your law or listened to your commandments and your testimonies which you gave them. 35 For they did not serve you in their kingdom, or in the many good things that you gave them, or in the large and rich land which you set before them; nor did they turn away from their wicked deeds.

36 "See, we are servants today. In the land that you gave to our fathers to eat its fruit and its good things, see, we are servants. 37 And its great produce it yields for the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins; and they have the rule over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleasure. And we are in great distress.

38 "And because of all this, we make a sure covenant and write it down, and our leaders, Levites and priests put their seals on it."

9:32 "Our God" - Deut 7:9,21; 1 Kings 8:23; Ps 24:8; 89:8; 93:4; Dan 9:4.

"Trouble" - after the reign of Solomon both Israel and Judah struggled constantly either against each other or against one or another of the surrounding nations, suffered the sad consequences of warfare, and at last were conquered by Assyria and Babylon.

"Assyria" - six kings of Assyria are named in the Old Testament (2 Kings 18:9,13; 1 Chron 5:26; Ezra 4:2,10; Isa 20:1).

10 Now those who sealed it were Nehemiah the governor, the son of Hachaliah, and Zedekiah, 2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah, 3 Pashur, Amariah, Malchijah, 4 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch, 5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, 6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch, 7 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, 8 Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah. These were the priests.

9 And the Levites: Jeshua the son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel, 10 And their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodijah, Kelita, Pellaiah, Hanan, 11 Micha, Rehob, Hashabiah, 12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah, 13 Hodijah, Bani, Beninu.

14 The chief of the people: Parosh, Pahath-Moab, Elam, Zatthu, Bani, 15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai, 16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin, 17 Ater, Hizkijah, Azzur, 18 Hodijah, Hashum, Bezai, 19 Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai, 20 Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir, 21 Meshezabeel, Zadok, Jaddua, 22 Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah, 23 Hoshea, Hananiah, Hashub, 24 Hallohesh, Pileha, Shobek, 25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah, 26 and Ahijah, Hanan, Anan, 27 Malluch, Harim, Baanah.

28 And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants, and all those who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, everyone who had knowledge and understanding, 29 joined their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse and an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given through Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his judgments and his statutes, 30 and stated:

"We will not give our daughters to the people of the land, or take their daughters for our sons.

31 "And if the people of the land bring goods or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, we will not buy it from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day.

9:34 2 Kings 23:11; Jer 2:8,26,27; 32:32.

9:35 "From their wicked deeds" - Judges 2:10-19; 2 Chron 36:15-17.

9:36 "Servants" - Ezra 9:9.

9:37 "Kings whom you have set over us" - kings of Persia who controlled the land of Israel, did so only because God permitted them to do so.

9:38 "Covenant" - 10:29-39.

10:2 "Jeremiah" - not the prophet of the same name, long dead.

10:28 "Separated themselves" - 9:2.

10:29 Into a curse and oath means they promised in God's name to obey God's law and pronounced a curse on those who broke their oath. See Deut 27:14-26; 28:15; 2 Chron 15:12-15.

10:30 Ex 34:15,16; Deut 7:3.

10:31 "Sabbath" - Ex 20:8-11; Deut 5:12-15; Jer 17:19-27.

And in the seventh year we will refrain from farming and from demanding payment for any debt.

32 "Also we will undertake the duty of contributing yearly a third of a shekel for the service of the house of our God, 33 for the Showbread and for the regular grain offering, and for the regular burnt offering of the Sabbaths, the new moons and the appointed feasts and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.

34 "And we will cast lots among the priests, the Levites, and the people, for bringing an offering of wood to the house of our God, according to our fathers' households, at appointed times year after year, to burn on the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the law.

35 "And we will all bring the firstfruits of our ground and the firstfruits of all the fruit of all the trees, year after year, to the house of the LORD, 36 and bring the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks, to the house of our God, to the priests who serve in the house of our God.

37 "And we will bring the first of our dough and our offerings, and the fruit of all kinds of trees, of wine and of oil, to the priests, to the rooms of the house of our God. And we will bring the tithes from our land to the Levites, so that the Levites might have the tithes in all our farming communities. 38 And the priest, the son of Aaron, will be with the Levites, when the Levites receive the tithes, and the Levites will bring a tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the rooms of the storehouse. 39 For the children of Israel and the children of Levi will bring the offering of grain, of new wine, and of oil, to the rooms where the articles for the sanctuary are, and where the priests who serve, and the gatekeepers, and the singers stay. And we will not forsake the house of our God."

11 And the rulers of the people lived at Jerusalem, and the rest of the people cast lots, to bring one in ten to live in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine were to live in other cities. 2 And the people pronounced a blessing on all the men who volunteered to live at Jerusalem.

3 Now the following are the heads of the province who lived in Jerusalem. (But some Israelites, Levites, temple servants, the descendants of Solomon's servants, lived in their cities, each one on his own property, 4 while some of the children of Judah and the children of Benjamin lived at Jerusalem.)

Of the children of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalaleel, of the children of Perez, 5 and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Colhozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, the son of Shiloni. 6 All the sons of Perez who lived at Jerusalem numbered four hundred and sixty-eight valiant men.

7 And these are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jesaiah. 8 And after him Gabbai, Sallai, altogether nine hundred and twenty-eight. 9 And Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer, and Judah the son of Senuah was second in command over the city.

10 Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin. 11 Seraiah the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, was in charge of the house of

"Seventh year" - Ex 23:10,11; Lev 25:4; Deut 15:1,2.

10:32 "Shekel" - one shekel equals about 11.5 grams. The law spoke of giving a half shekel (Ex 30:13,14). Nehemiah made it one third, probably because of the great poverty of the people - 5:1-5. But he did not cancel this offering because the people were poor. For the work of the temple to go on it was essential that the people give. It was also necessary for their own spiritual benefit. For giving in time of poverty see also 2 Cor 8:1-4.

10:33 "Showbread" - Lev 24:8.

"Offerings" - Leviticus chapters 1-4.

"New moons" - Num 10:10.

10:34 "Cast lots" - 11:1; Josh 18:6,8; 1 Sam 14:42; 1 Chron 24:31.

10:36 Ex 13:1,2,11-16; Lev 27:26,27; Num 18:15,16.

10:37 "Tithes" - Gen 14:20; Lev 27:30; Mal 3:8-10. The workers in the temple were supported by tithes and offerings. For the work of God to go on the people had to accept that it was their responsibility and privilege to give.

10:38 Num 18:26. The Levites who received tithes for their support also had to give tithes.

"Son" - here obviously means descendant, as often in the Bible. Aaron had been dead for hundreds of years before the priest referred to here performed his service. This is an example showing that the Hebrew word for son cannot always be taken literally. It indicates a wide range of relationships.

11:1 "Cast lots" - 10:34.

"Holy city" - Isa 48:2; 52:1; Dan 9:24; Matt 4:5; Rev 11:2.

11:2 The people naturally preferred to stay in their own home towns. But Jerusalem was underpopulated. Hence the arrangement of casting lots. Others volunteered to move to Jerusalem even though the lot had not fallen on them.

11:3-22 1 Chron 9:2-34.

God. 12 And their brethren who did the work of the house numbered eight hundred and twenty-two; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashur, the son of Malchiah, 13 and his brethren, heads of the fathers' households, numbered two hundred and forty-two; and Amashai the son of Azareel, the son of Ahasai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer, 14 and their brethren, mighty men of valour, numbered a hundred and twenty-eight; and their overseer was Zabdiel, the son of one of the great men.

15 And of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hashub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni, 16 and Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the heads of the Levites, supervised the outside work of the house of God. 17 And Mattaniah the son of Micha, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, was the leader who began the thanksgiving in prayer; and Bakbukiah, second among his brethren, and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun. 18 All the Levites in the holy city numbered two hundred and eighty-four.

19 Moreover, the gatekeepers Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren who guarded the gates, numbered a hundred and seventy-two.

20 And the rest of Israel, of the priests and the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, each one in his inheritance.

21 But the temple servants lived in Ophel, and Ziha and Gispah were over the temple servants.

22 And the overseer of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micha. Of the sons of Asaph, the singers were over the work of the house of God. 23 For the king's command concerning them was that a certain portion should be for the singers, day by day.

24 And Pethahiah the son of Meshezabeel, of the children of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people.

25 And as for the villages, with their fields, some of the children of Judah lived at Kirjath-Arba and in its villages, and at Dibon and in its villages, and at Jakabzeel and in its villages, 26 and at Jeshua and at Moladah and at Beth-Phelet 27 and at Hazarshual and at Beersheba and in its villages, 28 and at Ziklag and at Mekonah and in its villages, 29 and at Enrimmon and at Zareah and at Jarmuth, 30 Zanoah, Adullam, and in their villages, at Lachish and its fields, at Azekah and in its villages. And they lived from Beersheba to the valley of Hinnom.

31 And the children of Benjamin from Geba lived at Michmash and Aija and Bethel, and in their villages, 32 and at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, 33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim, 34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat, 35 Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen.

36 And of the Levites some divisions belonging to Judah lived in Benjamin.

12 Now these are the priests and the Levites who came up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra, 2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush, 3 Shechaniah, Rehum, Meremoth, 4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abijah, 5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah, 6 Shemaiah and Joiarib, Jedaiah, 7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiyah, Jedaiah. These were the chief of the priests and of their brethren in the days of Jeshua.

8 And the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, who was in charge of the songs of thanksgiving, he and his brethren. 9 Also Bakbukiah and Unni, their brethren, stood opposite them in the services.

10 And Jeshua begot Joiakim, Joiakim also begot Eliashib, and Eliashib begot Joiada, 11 and Joiada begot Jonathan, and Jonathan begot Jaddua.

12 And in the days of Joiakim the priests, the heads of the fathers' households were these: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah; 13 of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan; 14 of Melicu, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joseph; 15 of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai; 16 of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam; 17 of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai; 18 of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan; 19 of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi; 20 of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber; 21 of Hilkiyah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 The Levites who were the heads of the fathers' households in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, and the priests, were recorded in the reign of Darius the Persian. 23 The sons of Levi, the heads of the fathers' households, were written in the book of the Chronicles, until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. 24 And the heads of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brethren who stood opposite them, to praise and to give thanks, in accordance with the command of David the man of God, one group responding to the group opposite.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers keeping guard at the storerooms of the gates. 26 These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest, the scribe.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought out the Levites in all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with joy, with thanksgiving and with singing, with cymbals, lyres and harps. 28 And the sons of the singers gathered together from the countryside around Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophathi, 29 and from Beth-Gilgal, and from the fields of Geba and Azmaveth; for the singers had built villages for themselves around Jerusalem. 30 And the priests and the Levites purified themselves and purified the people, and the gates and the wall.

31 Then I brought the leaders of Judah up onto the wall, and appointed two large thanksgiving choirs, one of which went to the right on the wall toward the Refuse Gate, 32 and after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the leaders of Judah, 33 and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, 34 Judah and Benjamin and Shemaiah and Jeremiah, 35 and some of the priests' sons with trumpets, namely, Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph, 36 and his brethren, Shemaiah and Azarael, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God, and Ezra the scribe leading them. 37 And at the Fountain Gate, in front of them, they went up the steps of the city of David, at the ascent of the wall, beyond the house of David, to the Water Gate on the east.

38 And the other thanksgiving choir went the opposite way, and I and half of the people on the wall followed them, past the Tower of the Ovens to the broad wall, 39 and over the Gate of Ephraim and over the Old Gate and over the Fish Gate and passed the Tower of Hananeel and the Tower of Meah to the Sheep Gate; and they stopped by the Gate of the Guardhouse.

40 So the two thanksgiving choirs stood in the house of God, and I, and half of the rulers with me, 41 and the priests Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah and Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 and Maaseiah and Shemaiah and Eleazar and Uzzi and Jehohanan and Malchijah and Elam and Ezer. And the singers sang loudly, with Jezrahiah their director. 43 Also that day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced, for God caused them to rejoice with great joy. The wives and the children also rejoiced, so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard far away.

44 And at that time some were appointed over the storehouse rooms for the offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them from the fields of the cities the portions commanded by the law for the priests and Levites. For Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites who served. 45 And both the singers and the gatekeepers performed the service of their God, and the rite of purification, in accordance with the command of David and his son Solomon. 46 For in olden times, in the days of David and Asaph, there were leaders of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving to God. 47 And in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, all Israel gave the portions for the singers and the gatekeepers, a portion for each day. They also set apart portions for the Levites, and the Levites set apart portions for the children of Aaron.

13 On that day they read from the book of Moses in the hearing of the people, and it was found written that the Ammonite and the Moabite should never come into the congregation of God, 2 because they did not meet the children of Israel with food and water, but hired Balaam against them to curse them. However our God

12:27 "Dedication" – compare 2 Chron 7:1-6; Ezra 6:16,17.

12:30 13:22. Uncleanness could result from various causes. See Lev 5:2; 7:21; 10:10; 12:2; 13:3. Note at Lev 11:1. Purification was made by various sacrifices or washing.

12:31 "Thanksgiving" – Lev 7:12,13 (note); 2 Sam 22:50; 1 Chron 16:8,34; Ezra 3:11; Ps 18:49; 30:12; 75:1.

12:35 "Trumpets" – Num 10:2,8; Ezra 3:10.

12:36 1 Chron 23:5; 2 Chron 29:26,27.

12:43 2 Chron 7:10; 29:36. True joy is a gift of God, not something men find by their own efforts. It is related to a realization of God's goodness, a recognition of His gracious acts, and obedience to God's revealed will, and His Spirit in our hearts.

13:1 "Moabite" – Deut 23:3-6.

13:2 "Water" – observe that Moab and Ammon were penalized because of something they did not do as well as for something they did do. Compare Num 32:23; Jud 5:23; 1 Sam 12:23; Matt 25:24-27,41-46.

"Blessing" – Num 23:11,12; 24:10. Note at Gen 50:20.

turned the curse into a blessing. 3 Now it came about when they heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.

4 And before this, Eliashib the priest, who was in charge of the storerooms of the house of our God, was closely associated with Tobiah. 5 And he had provided for him a large room, where previously they had put the grain offerings, the frankincense and the vessels and the tithes of grain, the new wine and the oil, which was commanded to be given to the Levites and the singers and the gatekeepers, and the offerings of the priests.

6 But during this whole time I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I went to the king. But after some days I obtained leave from the king, 7 and came to Jerusalem, and came to know of the evil thing Eliashib was doing for Tobiah, in providing a room for him in the courts of the house of God. 8 And I was very grieved, so I threw all the household stuff of Tobiah out of the room. 9 Then I commanded that the rooms be purified, and they purified the rooms. And I brought back there the vessels of the house of God, with the grain offering and the frankincense.

10 And I learned that the portions for the Levites had not been given to them, for each one of the Levites and the singers, who had been doing the work, had gone off to his field. 11 So I reprimanded the leaders, and said, "Why is the house of God forsaken?" And I gathered them together, and set them in their places.

12 Then all Judah brought the tithe of grain and new wine and oil to the storerooms. 13 And I appointed Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah among the Levites, to be in charge of the storerooms, and next to them Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah; for they were considered faithful, and their duty was to distribute portions to their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and do not wipe out my good deeds which I have done for the house of my God, and for its services.

15 In those days I saw in Judah some treading the wine presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and loading donkeys, also wine, grapes, and figs, and all kinds of loads, which they were bringing into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. And I warned them about selling provisions on that day. 16 Also living there were people from Tyre who brought fish and all kinds of goods and sold them on the Sabbath to the children of Judah in Jerusalem.

17 Then I reprimanded the nobles of Judah, and said to them, "What is this evil thing you are doing, profaning the Sabbath day? 18 Did not your fathers act so, and did not our God bring all this disaster on us and on this city? Yet you are bringing more wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath."

19 And it came about just before the Sabbath, when it grew dark at the gates of Jerusalem, I gave a command that the gates be shut, and ordered that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. And I placed some of my servants at the gates, so that no load would be brought in on 13:3 Verse 23; 9:2; Ex 19:5,6; 2 Cor 6:14-18.

13:4,5 Here was a man in a very responsible position who acted as a traitor to his people and to God. Tobiah was a fierce enemy of the Jews and fought God's work tooth and nail - 2:10; 4:3; 6:1,17,18. We are not told what was behind Eliashib's action. Perhaps there was a marriage alliance with Tobiah's family. Perhaps money was involved. Whatever the reason it is a warning of how low the most respected and trusted people can sometimes sink. He gave a place on God's temple compound to one of the greatest enemies of the Jews! And in a room formerly used for the things of God! This is what betrayal of Bible truth and principles will bring. Compare 2 Thess 2:3,4. An essential principle for every believer is found in Eph 4:27.

13:6 5:14-16. "Babylon" - see Ezra 5:13. Artaxerxes was the king of Persia and of all other lands Persia had conquered.

13:8 Nehemiah was a man of action - v 25. He could not see God's enemies having a place in the courtyard of God's temple and do nothing about it. He believed in fighting sin and evil instead of passively accepting it. Every generation needs a host of such men. Compare Matt 21:12,13; Acts 5:1-11; 1 Cor 5:1-5.

13:9 The presence of the Ammonite Tobiah defiled the rooms he had been in. All parts of the temple and its compound were to be used only for holy purposes. This is true also of God's spiritual temple - 1 Cor 3:16,17; 6:13,19,20; 2 Cor 7:1.

13:10,11 They were breaking their oath - 10:37-39. It is much easier to make vows than to keep them.

13:12 People often respond when leaders take a firm stand.

13:13 "Faithful" - 2 Kings 12:15; 22:7.

13:14 5:19.

13:15,16 "Sabbath" - Ex 20:8-10; 34:21. They were breaking another vow - 10:31.

13:17 "Reprimanded" - if sin goes unrebuked it will spread and destroy any spiritual work. Rebuking those who sin is part of the ministry of God-appointed leaders - Isa 58:1; 2 Tim 3:16; 4:2; 1 Tim 5:20.

13:18 "Wrath" - notes at Num 25:3; Ps 90:7-11.

13:19 "When it grew dark" - the Israelites reckoned a day as being from sunset to sunset (Lev 23:32).

the Sabbath day. 20 So once or twice the merchants and sellers of all kinds of goods spent the night outside Jerusalem.

21 Then I reprimanded them and said to them, "Why are you spending the night around the wall? If you do so again, I will seize you." From that time on they no longer came on the Sabbath. 22 And I commanded the Levites to purify themselves, and to go and guard the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of your mercy.

23 In those days I also saw Jews who had married women from Ashdod, from Ammon, and from Moab. 24 And half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod, or the language of one or the other people, and could not speak the Jews' language. 25 And I reprimanded them and pronounced a curse against them, and struck some of them and pulled out their hair, and made them take an oath in God's name, saying, "You shall not give your daughters to their sons, or take their

"I gave a command" - Nehemiah was not content merely to rebuke sin. He took steps to avoid it.

13:22 "Purify" - note at 12:30.

"Remember" - 5:19.

13:23 Ex 34:16; Deut 7:3,4; Ezra 9:1,2.

13:24 Now when believers marry unbelievers (a thing forbidden to Christians - 2 Cor 6:14-18; etc), the children will not know whether to speak the language of faith or the language of unbelief. This is one of the tragedies of mixed marriages.

13:25 Deut 10:29,30; 25:2. Sometimes strong measures must be taken to root out evil. But the measures Christians now take must not be violent ones, but spiritual and practical ones. 13:26 2 Sam 12:24; 1 Kings 3:13; 11:1-8; 2 Chron 1:12.

13:27 What some people think of as hardly a sin at all was in the eyes of this man of God "great evil." This is one difference between those who live close to God and those who do not.

13:28 Here is another example of evil compromise. A grandson of the high priest married to a daughter of Sanballat (2:10; 4:1,7,8)! Compare 2 Chron 18:1; etc.

13:29 God commanded that His priests marry women from the people of Israel only (Lev 21:14). By breaking God's law they defiled their office. Compare Mal 2:1-9.

13:30 Ezra and Nehemiah in enforcing the principles of God's law in the face of the sinful compromise of men such as Eliashib were instruments in God's hands to preserve the faith in the land of Israel.

13:31 Neh 10:34; 13:14,22.

"O my God" - from this book of Nehemiah we can learn some of the things which come against God's work in general and how to combat them. The source of these things may be either the fallen heart of men, or Satan and his angels (2 Cor 2:11). Nehemiah and daughters for your sons, or for yourselves. 26 Did not Solomon king of Israel sin in these things? Yet among the many nations there was no king like him, who was loved by his God, and whom God made king over all Israel. Nevertheless foreign women caused even him to sin. 27 Shall we then hear about you that you are doing all this great evil, being unfaithful to our God by marrying strange wives?"

28 And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was the son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite. Therefore I drove him away from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood and of the Levites.

30 Thus I cleansed them from all foreigners, and appointed the duties of the priests and the Levites, each one in his service, 31 and for bringing the wood offering and the firstfruits at the appointed times.

Remember me, O my God, for good.

his helpers had to face the following:

Ridicule (2:19; 4:1-3)

Violence (4:7,8)

Threats (4:11; 6:9)

Discouragement because of injustice (5:1-5)

Deceitful plots (6:1-4; Ezra 4:1,2)

The spreading of lies (6:5-7)

Temptations to act in fear, ignoring God's Word (6:10-13)

Sin among the people (5:6-9; 13:15-18,23-27)

False prophets (6:14)

A traitor within (13:4,5,28)

Attempts to ruin the reputation of God's servant (6:6,7,13).

The book of Ezra adds two more -

The attempt to ruin God's work by the deceitful offer to help do it,

And the use of the power of the state to stop the work (Ezra 4:1-24).

Also we can see in Nehemiah the qualities needed to overcome the devices of Satan and men, and to do a work of God well and to complete it. These are:

A burden for the work (1:4; 2:3)

Full commitment to it (2:4,5)

A life of prayer and acknowledgement of God in everything (1:4; 2:4; 4:4,9; 6:9; 13:14,22,29)

Faith (2:20; 4:14)

Practical planning (2:11-18; 4:13-23)

Encouraging others in the work (4:14; 8:10)

Determination to stand for God (4:14-23)

Consistency in godly living (5:14-19)

Willingness to deal with sin (5:6-13; 13:8-11,25-30)

Discernment (6:1-13)

Emphasis on God's Word (8:1-18).

ESTHER

Title:

The name "Esther" comes from a Persian word meaning "star".

Author:

Unknown to men. See the introduction to Judges concerning the authorship of the books of the Bible.

Date:

Probably sometime between 465 and 400 BC.

Themes:

The danger that came to the Jewish exiles in Persia; the deliverance God gave through Mordecai and Esther; the destruction of those who plotted to destroy the Jews. A remarkable fact about this book is that there is no mention of God anywhere in it. However, it is clear that the author recognized God behind events working out His purposes. For example, see 4:12-17. The rise and fall of Haman is a striking illustration of how God sometimes deals on earth with the wicked enemies of His people. See Deut 32:35; Ps 7:15-17; 9:16; 18:25-27; 37:34-36.

1 Now it happened in the days of Ahasuerus (this is the Ahasuerus who reigned from India to Ethiopia, over a hundred and twenty-seven provinces), 2 in those days when king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace, 3 in the third year of his reign, that he made a feast for all his princes and those who served him. The military officers of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces were in his presence.

4 At that time he displayed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honour of his excellent majesty for many days, a total of a hundred and eighty days. 5 And when these days were over, the king made a feast for seven days for all the people who were present in Shushan the palace, for both great and small, in the garden courtyard of the king's palace, 6 where there were white, green and blue hangings, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and marble pillars. The couches were of gold and silver, on a pavement of red and blue and white and black marble. 7 And they gave them drinks in golden cups (the cups were each different from one another), and royal wine in abundance, in accordance with the king's bounty. 8 And the drinking was according to their law. There was no compulsion, for the king had ordered all the officials of his house that they should do according to each one's wish.

9 Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to king Ahasuerus.

10 On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha and Abagtha, Zethar and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king, 11 to bring Vashti the queen into the king's presence, with her royal crown, to display her beauty to the people and the princes, for she was beautiful in appearance. 12 But queen Vashti refused to come at the king's command through his officials. Therefore the king was enraged, and his anger burned in him.

1:1 "Ahasuerus" – better known as Xerxes. He was king of Persia (Iran) 486-465 B.C. "Ethiopia" – note at Isa 18:1,2.

1:2 "Shushan" – Neh 1:1; Dan 8:2. This city was the winter capital of the Persian kings, and the Hebrew word translated "palace" can mean capital.

1:3 "Media" – Ezra 6:2; Isa 13:17.

1:10 "Eunuchs" – in Hebrew this word sometimes indicated officials appointed by a king, whether literal eunuchs or not.

1:12 No reason is given for Vashti's refusal to obey the king. It was done at a public function and was a great and deliberate insult to the king. Certainly the king considered it an arrogant blow at the

13 Then the king said to the wise men, who understood the times (for this was the king's custom toward all who knew law and justice; 14 those next to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media who saw the king's face and who were highest in the kingdom),

15 "What shall we do to queen Vashti, according to law, because she has not obeyed the command of King Ahasuerus through the officials?"

16 And Memucan answered in the presence of the king and the princes, "Vashti the queen has done wrong not only to the king, but also to all the princes, and to all the people who are in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus. 17 For this action of the queen will become known to all women, so that their husbands will be despised in their eyes, when it is reported that king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she did not come. 18 This very day the ladies of Persia and Media will say to all the king's princes that they have heard of the action of the queen. So there will be much contempt and anger.

19 "If it pleases the king, let a royal command proceed from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, so that it will not be altered, that Vashti can no longer come into the presence of king Ahasuerus, and let the king give her royal position to another who is better than she. 20 And when this decree of the king which he makes is published throughout his whole empire (for it is great), all the wives will honour their husbands, both great and small."

21 And this word pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan, 22 for he sent letters to all the king's provinces, to each province in accordance with its script, and to each people in their language, that every man should rule his own house, and he published it in the language of each people.

2 After these things, when the anger of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered traditional order of things existing between husband and wife in his empire.

1:13 Vashti's disobedience involved matters of law and justice in the Persian empire (v 15).

1:18 Their fear was that Vashti's example would be followed by many women in the empire, resulting in social upheaval.

1:20 "Decree" – this shows how serious the problem was in their eyes. It was far easier to make this decree than to enforce it.

2:1 "After these things" – the events of this chapter up to v 19 took place about five years after those of chapter 1. Vashti was removed from her position as queen in 484 or 483 B.C. Esther became queen in 479 or 478. In between these two events Xerxes

Vashti and what she had done and what had been decreed against her. 2 Then the king's servants who ministered to him said, "Let there be beautiful young virgins sought for the king. 3 And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the beautiful young virgins to Shushan the palace, to the women's quarters, into the custody of Hege, the king's official, custodian of the women. And let cosmetics be given them. 4 And let the young lady who pleases the king be queen in the place of Vashti." And this word pleased the king, and he did so.

5 Now in Shushan the palace there was a Jew whose name was Mordecai. He was the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjaminite. 6 He had been taken away from Jerusalem in the captivity which had been taken away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had taken away. 7 And Mordecai had brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter, for she had neither father nor mother, and the girl was lovely and beautiful. When her father and mother died, Mordecai took her as his own daughter.

8 So it came about when the king's command and his decree were heard, and when many young ladies were gathered together to Shushan the palace, into the custody of Hegai, that Esther also was brought to the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, custodian of the women. 9 And the young lady pleased him, and she won his favour, and he quickly provided her cosmetics, with such things as pertained to her, and provided her with seven choice maids from the king's house. And he moved her and her maids to the best place in the women's quarters.

10 Esther had not revealed her people or her kindred, for Mordecai had ordered her not to reveal it. 11 And every day Mordecai walked in front of the courtyard of the women's quarters, to was occupied with a war with Greece (which he lost).

2:2-4 In those times kings had both harems and dictatorial powers.

2:6 "Judah" - 2 Kings 24:8-17; 2 Chron 36:9,10.

"Babylon" - some of those Jews who either voluntarily moved or had been taken to Susa and other places in Media and Persia.

2:7 "Esther" - a name probably derived from the Persian word for star. Her Jewish name - Hadassah - means "myrtle", a kind of flowering shrub.

2:8 Neither Mordecai nor Esther would have had any say in this matter. The king was a dictator who did as he pleased.

2:9 "Favour" - Gen 39:21; Dan 1:9. God was going to use Esther to save the Jews in find out how Esther was doing and what would become of her.

12 Now when each girl's turn came to go in to king Ahasuerus, after she had finished twelve months' preparation, according to the custom for the women (for the days of their beautification were completed as follows: six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with perfumes and other cosmetics for women), 13 then each girl would go to the king like this: whatever she wanted was given her to go with her from the women's quarters to the king's house. 14 She would go in the evening, and return in the morning to the second house of the women, into the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's official, who was the custodian of the concubines. She would not again go in to the king, unless the king delighted in her, and unless she was called by name.

15 Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her as his daughter, came to go in to the king, she requested nothing except what Hegai the king's official, the custodian of the women, advised. And Esther found favour in the eyes of all who saw her. 16 So Esther was taken to king Ahasuerus into his royal house in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

17 And the king loved Esther more than all the women, and she found grace and favour in his eyes more than all the virgins, so that he set the royal crown on her head, and made her queen in the place of Vashti. 18 Then the king made a great feast for all his princes and his servants, Esther's feast. And he made a holiday for the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the king's bounty.

19 And when the virgins were assembled a second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate. 20 Esther had not yet revealed her kindred or her people, as Mordecai had ordered her, for Esther obeyed the command of Mordecai, just like when she was brought up by him.

the Persian empire from extermination. It was God who made her beautiful so that she would be chosen as queen.

2:11 Mordecai would not, of course, have been allowed inside the harem. But he showed his concern for Esther by daily coming as near as possible in hope of getting news of her.

2:19 Verse 2. Though a new queen was chosen the search for other girls for the king's harem went on.

"King's gate" - the main gate of the citadel in the city where business was transacted and courts of justice were held. Mordecai sitting there suggests he may have been an official in the kingdom.

2:20 Verse 10. She did not get proud and arrogant because of her high position, as many do.

21 In those days, while Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, two of the king's officials, Bigthan and Teresh, of those who guarded the door, became angry and sought to seize king Ahasuerus. 22 And the matter became known to Mordecai, who told it to Esther the queen, and Esther informed the king of it, in Mordecai's name. 23 And when the matter was investigated, it was found to be so. Therefore both of them were hanged on a tree, and it was written in the book of the chronicles in the king's presence.

3 After these things king Ahasuerus promoted Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him and gave him a higher seat than all the princes who were with him. 2 And all the king's servants, who were at the king's gate, bowed and paid honour to Haman, for so the king had commanded concerning him. But Mordecai did not bow or show him honour.

3 Then the king's servants, who were at the king's gate, said to Mordecai, "Why are you breaking the king's command?" 4 Now it so happened after they spoke to him daily and he would not listen to them that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's reason would stand; for he had told them that he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai did not

2:22 Here again we can see the unseen hand of God.

2:23 "It was written" – this became very important later on – 6:1,2.

3:1 "After these things" – more than four years had passed since Esther became queen. Compare v 7 with 2:16.

"Agagite" – this very likely means that Haman was a descendant of king Agag the Amalekite (1 Sam 15:8). This view is in accordance with Jewish tradition and seems to throw light on what follows. The Amalekites were enemies of Israel from the time Israel came out of Egypt (Ex 17:8-16; 1 Sam 15:2,3; Ps 83:2-6). It would be no surprising thing if Amalekites as well as Jews should be found in one of the capital cities of the Persian empire, and there continued to express their ancient enmity.

3:2 Abraham and his descendants at other times showed respect to others in this way (Gen 23:7; 33:3; 44:14; 1 Sam 24:8; 2 Sam 14:4; 1 Kings 1:16), why not to Haman? If Mordecai knew Haman was an Amalekite, this would account for it. He would refuse to honor anyone of a people who were enemies of the Jews and with whom God Himself had continual warfare (Ex 17:16).

3:4 "Reason" – one of the many possible meanings of the Hebrew word.

"Jew" – apparently this was the only reason Mordecai gave them – as if to say it was unthinkable that a Jew would show honor to an Amalekite. Observe that he did not conceal his national origins as he ordered bow or pay him honour, Haman was filled with rage. 6 And he scorned seizing Mordecai alone, for they had told him who the people of Mordecai were; therefore Haman sought to destroy all the people of Mordecai, the Jews throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus.

7 In the first month, that is, the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.

8 And Haman said to king Ahasuerus, "There is a certain people scattered and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of your kingdom, and their laws are different from those of all other people and they do not keep the king's laws. Therefore it is not for the king's benefit to tolerate them. 9 If it pleases the king, let it be written that they be destroyed. And I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who will have charge of the business, to bring it into the king's treasuries."

10 And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy. 11 And the king said to Haman, "The money and the people are given to you to do with them as it seems good to you."

12 Then the king's scribes were called on the Esther to do.

3:5 5:9. This was wounded pride, the kind of foolish anger some people in power will have against those who refuse to give them the respect they think they deserve.

3:6 "Who the people of Mordecai were" – this also is evidence that Haman was an Amalekite – his hatred of the whole Jewish nation is revealed.

"The Jews" – compare Ps 83:2-6.

"The whole kingdom" – this would have been the vast majority of all the Jews then living. Xerxes ruled from India to Cush (see 8:9).

3:7 "Pur" – 9:24-26. They cast lots to fix a date to destroy the Jews. The fact that the day turned out to be eleven months from the time of casting lots gave Mordecai time to avert the calamity. Was not God in this also? See Prov 16:33.

3:8 Apparently Haman does not tell Xerxes the name of the people he wanted to destroy.

3:9 "Talents" – one talent equals about 34 kilograms. Haman was willing to spend a huge sum to fulfill his evil plan.

3:10 The signet ring was an official seal, equivalent to a signature. Once Haman had the king's signet ring he could authorize any course of action he pleased.

3:11 "As it seems good to you" – apparently the king agreed with Haman's proposal without further inquiry. This shows the complete trust he had in Haman, but also how little he cared what happened to minorities in his kingdom.

thirteenth day of the first month, and a decree was written according to all that Haman had commanded the king's officers and the governors who were over every province and the rulers of every people of every province, according to its script, and to every people in their language. It was written in the name of king Ahasuerus and sealed with the king's ring. 13 And the letters were sent by couriers to all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill and to annihilate all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to plunder their possessions. 14 A copy of the writing as a command to be given in every province was published to all people, that they should be ready on that day.

15 The couriers set out quickly because of the king's command, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace. And the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city Shushan was perplexed.

4 When Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai tore his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the middle of the city, crying out with a loud and bitter cry, 2 and came only up to the king's gate, for no one wearing sackcloth might enter the king's gate. 3 And in every province, wherever the king's command and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting and weeping and wailing, and many lay down in sackcloth and ashes.

4 So Esther's maids and her officials came and told it to her. Then the queen was exceedingly grieved, and she sent garments to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him. But he did not accept them. 5 Then Esther called for Hatach, one of the king's officials, whom he had appointed to attend on her, and commanded him concerning Mordecai, to find out what the matter was, and why.

6 So Hatach went out to Mordecai into the street of the city, which was in front of the king's gate. 7 And Mordecai told him about everything that had happened to him, and about the sum of money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them. 8 He also gave him a copy of the writing of the decree that was given at Shushan to destroy them, that he might show it to Esther and explain it to her, and to charge her to go to the king, to make supplication to him and to make request before him for her people.

9 And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai. 10 Again Esther spoke to Hatach, and ordered him to tell Mordecai: 11 "All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, know that any man or woman who goes to the king into the inner court, who has not been called, there is only one law of his: to put the person to death, except the one to whom the king holds out the golden sceptre, that he may live. And I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days."

12 And they told Esther's words to Mordecai. 13 Then Mordecai commanded them to answer Esther: "Do not imagine that being in the king's house you will escape any more than all the Jews. 14 For if you keep altogether silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's house will be destroyed. And who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

15 Then Esther ordered them to take this answer back to Mordecai: 16 "Go, gather together all the Jews who are present in Shushan, and fast for me, not eating or drinking for three days, night or day. I also and my maids will also fast, and so I will go in to the king, which is against the law. And if I perish, I perish."

3:13 Haman may have been thinking of the event set in motion by the words of 1 Sam 15:2,3. He would show his defiance of the God of Israel.

4:1 "Ashes" – Gen 37:34; Num 14:6; 2 Sam 13:19; 2 Kings 19:1; Neh 9:1; Job 2:12; Ezek 27:30,31; Dan 9:3; Jonah 3:5,6. 4:5 Esther was isolated in the king's palace and was not free to come and go.

4:11 This reveals the power and cruelty of those ancient despots, and how highly they regarded their royal presence. Compare the behavior of the King of the universe – Matt 11:28; Heb 4:16.

4:14 "From another place" – Mordecai was sure that God would preserve the Jewish people in some way or other. He was doubtless familiar with God's promises to do so (such as Lev 26:44,45; Deut 4:30,31; Jer 31:35,36; 33:25,26). But he also realized his and Esther's responsibility to do what they could to save the Jews. He did not passively leave everything to God's sovereignty. We should all understand that God will work out His sovereign purposes on earth, but also that He will hold each person responsible for what he or she does or does not do.

"Such a time as this" – note at 2:9. When he said this Mordecai did not know how things would turn out. He did know that those in a high position should use that position for good.

4:16 "Fast" – prayer is not mentioned but is surely implied. God's people naturally fasted unto God (Jud 20:26; 1 Sam 7:6; 2 Sam 12:16; Ezra 8:21,22; Neh 9:1-3; Isa 58:3; Jer 14:12).

"If I perish I perish" – Esther realized (as we all should) that there are more important things than personal survival on this earth. Compare Dan 3:16-18;

17 So Mordecai went and acted in accordance with all that Esther had commanded him.

5 Now on the third day it came about that Esther put on her royal robes, and stood in the inner court of the king's palace, opposite the king's hall, and the king was sitting on his royal throne in the royal hall, opposite the door of the hall. 2 And it happened that when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, she obtained favour in his sight, and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand. So Esther drew near and touched the tip of the sceptre.

3 Then the king said to her, "What do you want, queen Esther? And what is your request? It will be granted to you, even up to half of the kingdom."

4 And Esther answered, "If it seems good to the king, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet that I have prepared for him."

5 Then the king said, "Have Haman hurry, that he may do as Esther has said." So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the king said to Esther at the banquet of wine, "What is your petition? It will be granted you. And what is your request? Even up to half of the kingdom, it will be done.

7 Then Esther answered and said, "My petition and my request is this: 8 If I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it pleases the king to grant my petition, and to act on my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I will prepare for them, and tomorrow I will do as the king has said."

9 Then Haman went out that day happy and with a glad heart, but at the king's gate when Haman saw that Mordecai did not stand up, or move for him, he was filled with indignation against Mordecai. 10 Nevertheless Haman restrained himself. And when he came home, he sent and called for his friends and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and of his many children, and all the things in which the king had promoted him, and how he had placed him above the princes and servants of the king. 12 Moreover, Haman said, "Yes, Esther the queen did not let anyone but myself come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared. And tomorrow also I am invited to her with the king. 13 Yet all does not satisfy me, as long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate."

14 Then Zeresh his wife and all his friends said to him, "Have a gallows made, fifty cubits high, and tomorrow ask the king that Mordecai may be hanged on it. Then go happily with the king to the banquet." And the thing pleased Haman, and he had the gallows made.

6 On that night the king could not sleep, and he gave orders to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read in the king's presence. 2 And it was found written that Mordecai made a report about Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's officials, the doorkeepers who sought a way to seize king Ahasuerus.

3 And the king said, "What honour and dignity was bestowed on Mordecai for this?"

Then the king's servants that ministered to him said, "Nothing was done for him."

4 And the king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had come into the outward court of the king's house, to ask the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

5 And the king's servants said to him, "Look, Haman is standing in the court." And the king said, "Have him come in."

6 So Haman came in. And the king said to him, "What is to be done to the man whom the king delights to honour?" Now Haman thought in his heart, "Whom would the king delight to honour more than myself?"

7 And Haman answered the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honour, 8 let a royal robe which the king has worn be brought, and the horse that the king rides on, and the royal crown which is placed on his head, 9 and let this robe and horse be put in the hands of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may clothe the man whom the king delights to honour with it, and bring him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, "Thus it is done to the man whom the king delights to honour."

10 Then the king said to Haman, "Hurry and take the robe and the horse, as you have said, and do this to Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king's gate. Let nothing fail of all that you have spoken."

11 Then Haman took the robe and the horse, and clothed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, "Thus it is done to the man whom the king delights to honour."

12 And Mordecai came back to the king's gate. But Haman hurried to his house grieving, with his head covered. 13 And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his wise men and his wife Zeresh said to him, "If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of Jewish descent, you will not overcome him, but will surely fall before him." 14 And while they were still talking with him, the king's officials came, in a hurry to bring Haman to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 So the king and Haman came to the banquet with Esther the queen. 2 And again the king said to Esther, on the second day at the banquet of wine, "What is your petition, queen Esther? It will be granted you. And what is your request? Even up to half of the kingdom, it will be done."

3 Then Esther the queen answered and said, "If I have found favour in your sight, O king, and if it pleases the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request. 4 For I and my people are sold to be destroyed, to be killed and to be annihilated. And if we had been sold as male and female slaves, I would have held my tongue, although the compensation the enemy offers could not make up for the king's loss."

5 Then king Ahasuerus answered and said to Esther the queen, "Who is he, and where is he, who dares to presume in his heart to do so?"

6 And Esther said, "The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman." Then Haman was terrified before the king and the queen. 7 And the king, getting up from the banquet of wine, in his rage went into the palace garden, and Haman stood up to ask Esther the queen for his life, for he saw that the king was determined to harm him.

8 Then the king returned from the palace garden to the place of the wine banquet, and Haman had fallen on the couch where Esther was. Then the king said, "Will he even force the queen in my presence, in the house?" As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

9 And Harbonah, one of the officials, said to the king, "Look, the fifty cubits high gallows, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who spoke good on the king's behalf, is standing at Haman's house."

Then the king said, "Hang him on it."

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king's rage subsided.

8 On that day king Ahasuerus gave the house of Haman the Jews' enemy to Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king, for Esther had told how he was related to her. 2 And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. And Esther appointed Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spoke again to the king, and fell down at his feet and begged him with tears to put an end to the evil conspiracy of Haman the Agagite, and his scheme which he had devised against the Jews. 4 Then the king held out the golden sceptre toward Esther. So Esther arose and stood before

"If it pleases the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seems right to the king, and I am pleasing in his eyes, let a command be written to overrule the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces. 6 For how can I bear to see the evil that will come to my people? Or how can I bear to see the destruction of my kindred?"

7 Then king Ahasuerus said to Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, "Look, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows, because he stretched out his hand against the Jews. 8 Write also a decree for the Jews, as it pleases you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring. For no one can overrule a letter which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring."

9 Then the king's scribes were called at that time, in the third month, that is, the month Sivan, on the twenty-third day of that month, and they wrote down all the commands that Mordecai gave to the Jews, and to the officials, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India to Ethiopia, a hundred and twenty-seven provinces, to each province in its script, and to each people in their language, and to the Jews in their script and in their language. 10 And he wrote in the name of king Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by couriers on horseback, and riders on mules, camels, and swift horses.

11 In them the king gave permission to the Jews who were in every city to gather together, and to stand up for their life, to destroy, to kill and to annihilate all the forces of any people and province who assaulted them, both little ones and women, and to plunder their possessions, 12 on one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar. 13 A copy of the writing as a command to be given in every province was published to all people, so that the Jews could be ready on that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the couriers, riding on royal horses, went out, going swiftly, impelled by the king's command. And the decree was given at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal robes of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple. And the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad. 16 The Jews had light and gladness and joy and honour. 17 And in every province, and in every city where the king's command and decree came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a holiday. And many of the people of the land became Jews, for the fear of the Jews fell on them.

9 Now in the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day, when the king's command and decree were about to be carried out, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, the reverse happened; the Jews gained the ascendancy over those who hated them. 2 The Jews gathered together in their cities throughout all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, to seize those who sought to harm them. And no man could withstand them, for the fear of them fell on all people. 3 And all the rulers of the provinces and the officials and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai fell on them. 4 For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame spread throughout all the provinces, for this man Mordecai became greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jews struck down all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, with slaughter and destruction, and did what they wished to those who hated them. 6 And in Shushan the palace the 8:8 "Overrule" - 1:19; Dan 6:8,12,15. The king could not cancel a former decree, but he could issue another which would counteract the former one.

8:9 3:6,12. "India" - Xerxes did not rule India but his kingdom extended to its borders.

8:10 3:12,13.

8:11,12 3:7,13. A just decree which saved the Jews. Prov 21:1.

8:15 "Rejoiced and was glad" - compare the bewilderment of 3:15. Injustice produces dismay, justice is cause for joy.

8:17 "Fear of the Jews" - compare Gen 35:5; Ex 15:16; 23:27; Deut 2:25; 11:25; Josh 2:11. Their motive in adopting the religion of the Jews was mere fear of the rising power of the Jews in the kingdom.

This was, of course, an unworthy motive. In these days no one should convert to Christianity because of fear or self-interest or possible material gain. True Christianity does not need, does not want such converts. Conversion from such motives will bring no spiritual benefits, and spiritual benefits are by far the most important benefits (Matt 16:26).

9:1 "Adar" - 8:12.

"The ascendancy" - God is the sovereign ruler of the universe, and can turn upside down any condition or circumstance among men. See 1 Sam 2:4-10.

9:2 Compare Ps 71:13,24.

9:4 "Greater" - compare Gen 41:41-44; Dan 2:48; 6:1,2. See Ps 75:6,7. Among God's people there are never many who are wise and Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men. 7 And they killed Parshandatha and Dalphon and Aspatha 8 and Poratha and Adalia and Aridatha 9 and Parmashta and Arisai and Aridai and Vajezatha, 10 the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, but did not lay their hands on the plunder.

11 On that day the number of those who were killed in Shushan the citadel was brought before the king. 12 And the king said to Esther the queen, "The Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men in the citadel of Shushan, and the ten sons of Haman. What have they done in the rest of the king's provinces? Now what is your petition? It will be granted you. Or what further request do you have? It will be done."

13 Then said Esther, "If it pleases the king, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shushan to act tomorrow also in accordance with today's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged on the gallows."

14 And the king commanded this to be done, and the decree was given at Shushan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons. 15 For the Jews who were in Shushan gathered together also on the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and killed three hundred men at Shushan, but they did not lay their hands on the plunder.

16 But the other Jews who were in the king's provinces gathered together, and stood up for their lives and to get relief from their enemies, and killed seventy-five thousand of their enemies, but they did not lay their hands on the plunder. 17 This occurred on the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the month they rested and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

18 But the Jews who were at Shushan had assembled on the thirteenth and on the fourteenth day of the month, and on the fifteenth day of the month they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

19 Therefore the Jews in the villages, who lived in the unwallied towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting and a holiday, and of sending portions to one another.

20 And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, both near and far, 21 to establish among them that annually they should keep the fourteenth day and the fifteenth day of the month Adar, 22 as the days in which the Jews got relief from their enemies, and the month when sorrow was turned to joy for them, and mourning to a holiday, that they should make them days of feasting and joy, and of sending portions to one another and gifts to the poor.

23 And the Jews continued to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written to them, 24 because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised a scheme against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, that is, the lot, to consume them and to destroy them; 25 but when Esther came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked scheme, which he devised against the Jews, should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. 26 So they called these days Purim from the name of Pur. Therefore, because of all the words of this letter, and what they had seen concerning this matter and what had happened to them, 27 the Jews established and imposed it on themselves and on their descendants, and on all those who joined them, that without fail they would keep these two days according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year, 28 and that these days should be remembered and kept in every generation, every family, every province, and every city, and that these days of Purim should not cease among the Jews, nor the memory of them perish from their descendants.

29 Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority to confirm this second letter of Purim. 30 And he sent the letters to all the Jews, to the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and influential (1 Cor 1:26-29). But to fulfill His purposes God raises some to high positions.

9:7-10 This was the final blow at all Haman had boasted in (5:11).

9:10 "Plunder" - compare Gen 14:23; 1 Sam 15:3,18,19.

9:12 5:3,6; 7:2.

9:13 "Hanged" - this was to display their dead bodies (vs 7-10). In other words, a public display of justice at work, and a warning to all who would attack the Jews.

9:18,19 Verses 26-28.

9:22 "Gifts to the poor" - Deut 15:7-11; etc. In all our feasts and celebrations let us, as they, remember the poor and needy.

9:24 3:6,7. Haman had cast lots to determine an auspicious day for his attack on the Jews, but to no avail. Actually there is no such thing as "auspicious" days. The whole idea is a superstition which should have no place in the lives of God's people. Every day we trust and obey the true God is good, every day we fail to do so is bad.

9:25 7:4-10.

9:26-28 In these modern times the Jews around the world still observe this festival of Purim. Those in Jerusalem celebrate it on the 15th of the month, but everyone else on the 14th (vs 18,19). The festival is in remembrance of this great deliverance from truth, 31 to confirm these days of Purim in their appointed times, just as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had established for them, and as they had decreed for themselves and for their descendants, concerning their fasting and lamentation. 32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim, and it was written in the book.

10 And king Ahasuerus imposed a tax on the land and on the islands of the sea.

Haman which was one of the greatest deliverances of the Jews in history.

9:31 "Fasting" – see 4:3,16. In modern times the Jews observe the day before Purim as a day of fasting – a remembrance of the great danger they faced from Haman.

10:1,2 Xerxes was a very powerful and wealthy king whose exploits are recorded in secular history.

10:3 "Great" – note at 9:4.

"Good of his people" – as far as we can

2 And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the account of the greatness of Mordecai, to which the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? 3 For Mordecai the Jew was second to king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews and accepted by the multitude of his brethren, and sought the good of his people and spoke up for the peace of all his race.

see, Mordecai's actions all through this story were for the same reason. It does not appear that he was selfishly seeking power for either himself or for Esther. And when by God's grace he came into power, he did not use it for his own ends or for material gain. See notes also at Neh 5:14-18; 2 Sam 8:15; etc. In the whole of Israel's long history was there any person who was able to do any more than Mordecai and Esther for the preservation of that people?

JOB

Author:

Unknown. See the note in the introduction to Judges concerning the authorship of the books of the Bible.

Date:

This book may have been written any time between the time of Moses and the time of Ezra, but many scholars think a date sometime close to the reign of king Solomon (970-930 BC) is most likely. The time when Job lived also cannot be stated with certainty. But most of the evidence available to us indicates a time shortly after the lifetime of Abraham. In any case, knowing who the author was and the dates could not help us to understand the spiritual lessons of this book, and this should be our main purpose in the study of it.

Themes:

Job deals with the very difficult problem of why God permits His own children who live righteous lives to suffer. What is the purpose of the troubles, pains, and disasters which come to them? Why do evil men often seem to escape these things? Is God's justice not at work among the people of the world? These are the thoughts that form the basis of the discussion that took place between Job and his friends. See the notes at 3:1,20; 4:7-9; 8:3; 18:5-21; 21:4-34; 34:10-12. We also see another significant element in this book: how Satan challenges God and attacks Job, and how God successfully repulses such a challenge and attack.

1 There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God and shunned evil. 2 And there were born to him seven sons and three daughters. 3 And his possessions were seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred female donkeys, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the east.

4 And his sons used to go and have a feast in the house of each one on his day, and they would send and call for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them. 5 And it came about when their days of feasting had completed its cycle, that Job would send and sanctify them, and rise up early in the morning and offer burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, "It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts." Thus Job did continually.

6 Now a day came when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came among them.

7 And the LORD said to Satan, "From where have you come?"

Then Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it."

8 And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job, that there is no one like him on the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil?"

9 Then Satan answered the LORD and said,

1:1 "Uz" – this land was situated somewhere east of the land of Canaan (v 3). In Jeremiah's day it was distinguished from Edom (Jer 25:20,21), but Edomites lived there or possibly controlled it (Lam 4:21). So Uz was probably close to the borders of Edom. Teman, the region where Job's friend Eliphaz lived, was a part of Edom.

"Blameless" – the Hebrew word is translated "perfect" in the KJV, but no man is perfect in the sense in which we use this word today. The word also means "complete", "not lacking in any virtue", "having integrity", "ethically pure" (see note at Gen 17:1). This does not mean that Job was sinless. He had a sinful nature as all men have. But it does mean that he was a man who, by God's grace and power, was full of virtues, completely equipped in every way for a righteous and holy life. God had given him victory over the sin in his nature. On our sinful nature see notes at Gen 8:21; Ps 51:5; 58:3; Rom 3:9-19; 7:5,18; 8:3,4; Gal 5:16,17; Eph 2:1-3; 1 John 1:8.

On "blameless" (or "perfect") see Gen 6:9; 17:1; Matt 5:48; 2 Cor 7:1; Eph 4:13; Phil 3:12; Col 1:28; 4:12; James 1:4.

"Upright" – this means that he was straight in all his dealings, sincere, honest, without crookedness or guile (compare Ps 7:10; 11:2,7; 25:8; 112:2,4; 140:13; Prov 15:8; 16:17).

"Feared God" – notes at 28:28; Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; 130:3,4; Prov 1:7.

"Shunned evil" – turning from evil is one sure mark of anyone who truly has the fear of God (28:28; Prov 3:7; 8:13; 16:6; 2 Cor 7:1). The character of Job seen here is an example to us all of what a man can and should be. His character was of far more value than all of his material possessions.

1:3 East here means the area lying east of Canaan, extending, perhaps, to the Euphrates river.

1:5 These words reveal the love Job had for God and for his own children, his knowledge of the sinfulness of the human heart, and his activity as priest as head of the family. Note on priest at Ex 28:1; on burnt offering at Lev 1:2,3.

1:6 "A day came" – here we are given a glimpse into the unseen spiritual realm. What happened later to Job had its source there.

"Sons of God" – 2:1; 38:7. Compare Gen 6:2. Here the words indicate angels. Evidently they came to stand in God's presence to give an account of their activities and to receive further orders.

"Satan" – see note at 1 Chron 21:1. He too must come to stand before God. In some sense his activities are restricted by God's supreme will. He is not free to do as he would like or all that he would wish to do. When God sees it is wise and just, He allows Satan (or other evil spirits or demons) to bring troubles on men and to test and try God's people.

1:7 God knew where Satan had been. This verse suggests that Satan also is required to give an account of his activities. Satan had been roaming the earth looking for opportunities to do evil (1 Pet 5:8). He is not, like God, able to be everywhere at once.

1:8 "Job" – God is not calling attention to a person Satan has not considered. The next two verses seem to make it clear that Satan had been watching Job.

"No one like him" – according to God Himself Job was the best man on earth in his generation. We should keep this fact in mind all through our study of this book. Otherwise we will not understand it as well as we should.

1:9 This is Satan's evaluation of the piety of the best man on earth, and so of all religious people. He is saying that men will serve and worship God only for what they can get out of it, that among the whole of mankind there is no such thing as genuine love for God or reverence for Him, that the basis of all religion is selfishness.

Unfortunately, Satan's evaluation is correct to a large extent. Sinful men indeed think only of themselves and what they can

"Does Job fear God for nothing? 10 Have you not made a hedge around him and around his house and around all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land. 11 But now stretch out your hand and touch all that he has, and he will curse you to your face."

12 And the LORD said to Satan, "See, all that he has is in your power; only do not stretch out your hand to the man himself." So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

13 And there was a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house; 14 and a messenger came to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys were feeding beside them, 15 and the Sabeans attacked and took them away. Yes, they killed the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

get from God rather than how they can love, please, and serve God. But God can and does work in the hearts of individuals to change them, give them a new nature, and pour his love into their inner being. Such people serve God truly and are willing to suffer the loss of all things for His sake (Mark 10:28; Luke 5:11,27,28; 14:33; Rom 5:5; Phil 3:8; Heb 10:32-34; 11:36-38).

Judging from the information we have in the Bible we can say that Satan does not want to admit this and goes on accusing and opposing God's people (Rev 12:10), and that his aim is to get people to turn against God, reject Him, and even curse Him. They who do so are siding with Satan, though they may not even be aware of Satan's existence. Satan hates God and wants all men to hate Him. He also hates men and wants God to hate them and judge, punish, and destroy them.

1:10,11 Satan makes his view of Job (and so of all pious people) quite clear. Job, he is saying, served and worshiped God only because of God's material blessings and protection; take away these and Job's piety will go with them. In the case of Job we can see that this was not true. But is it true of us? Will we lose our devotion to God if He allows disaster to come on our possessions and on our children?

"Hedge" - nothing can touch God's people without God's permission. He is a shield to them, a hedge around them - 2:6; Gen 15:1; Ps 18:2; 28:7; etc.

1:12 God accepted Satan's challenge concerning Job. He Himself would not raise His hand against Job, but would allow Satan to put his theory to the test. God often tries His people and allows them to be tested by circumstances (notes at Gen 22:1; Ps 66:10-12; etc). The result of such trials is glory to God and great honor and spiritual good to those who come through them. In other words, God uses all the accusations, opposition, and activities of Satan against Him and His people to bring

16 While he was still speaking, another also came and said, "The fire of God has fallen from heaven and burned up the sheep and the servants and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

17 While he was still speaking, another also came and said, "The Chaldeans formed three bands and attacked the camels and carried them away; yes, and they killed the servants with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you."

18 While he was still speaking, another also came and said, "Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother's house; 19 and, see, a great wind came from the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young men, and they are dead, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

20 Then Job arose and tore his cloak and shaved his head, and prostrated himself on the ground good (notes at Gen 50:20; Num 24:25; Rom 8:28). Job was God's masterpiece of spiritual workmanship in that generation (compare Eph 2:10). God would not shield him from testing.

1:13-19 Satan now reveals what happens to possessions and persons when he is given the opportunity to injure them. He is a destroyer and a murderer (John 8:44). We have reason to believe that he would, if permitted by God, do similar things to every one of God's people. If he does not, it is only because God still keeps His protective "fence" about them (Ps 3:3; 5:12; 32:7; Deut 33:27; John 17:15; 1 Pet 1:5). Satan, of course, may actually increase the wealth and position of those on his side, or of those who yield to his temptations for these things. But this too, as he well knows, will result in their eventual destruction.

1:14,15 The Sabeans were a nomadic tribe ranging here and there in northern Arabia.

1:16 Some scholars think the words "the fire of God" means lightning flashes. But it may have been fire that Satan caused to fall from the sky (compare Rev 13:13). In any case, the man who reported it to Job was mistaken if he thought God Himself had sent the fire.

1:17 "Still speaking" - no time was given Job to recover from one shock until news of another disaster was brought to him. Satan tried to overwhelm and crush him with calamities swiftly following one after the other.

"Chaldeans" - a people living to the east or northeast of the land of Uz.

1:18,19 "A great wind" - evidently Satan can cause destructive winds. Now the greatest blow of all falls on Job's loving heart and stunned mind. What is the loss of all the 500 yoke of oxen and 500 donkeys, and 7000 sheep, and 3000 camels compared with the loss of all of his ten children?

1:20 In this verse and the next we have one of the great moments in the whole Bible, in the whole of human history. It should fill us and worshipped, 21 and said, "Naked I came out of my mother's womb, and naked I shall return. The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away. Blessed be the name of the LORD."

22 In all this Job did not sin, or charge God foolishly.

2 There was another day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came among them to present himself before the LORD. 2 And the LORD said to Satan, "From where have you come?"

And Satan answered the LORD and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking up and down on it."

3 And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job, that there is no one with admiration. Job's faith rises superior to all his loss and sorrow. Satan is proved a liar. And God's work of grace in human hearts is shown to be powerful and real. Instead of uttering the curse Satan had predicted, Job praises God. Notice that Job does not blame the Sabaeans or Chaldeans or wind or fire or even Satan for his losses. He did not think these losses were the result of accidents or men's cruelty or the powers of nature. He says God gave, God took away. He recognizes God's sovereignty in everything. He knows the things which have happened could not happen unless God permitted them.

"Tore. . .shaved" – expressions of deep grief.

1:21 "Naked" – Ps 49:17; Eccl 5:15; 1 Tim 6:7.

"Taken away" – we have all sinned against God and so deserve nothing good from His hand. If we have anything it is because of God's free grace. If He takes away what He lets us have for a while, there is no injustice at all in that. And Job here accepts this, even though he can see no reason why such misfortunes should come to him.

"Blessed be the name of the LORD" – Job revealed the truth of verses 1 and 8 by being able to praise God even in circumstances like these. Ps 33:1 (note); 50:23; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

1:22 Many there are in this world who foolishly charge God with injustice toward them when they experience losses much less than Job's.

2:3 Job's calamities have not changed his character in the slightest. God says he is just as good a man as he was before (1:1,8).

2:4,5 Satan's meaning is that although Job did not curse God because of the loss of all things, this was not because he was truly devoted to God, but because he was afraid that if he cursed God, God would take his life. He is saying that every person is so selfishly concerned with his own physical well-being that he will do anything to preserve it, including making a show of like him on the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil? And he still holds fast his integrity, although you incited me against him to destroy him without cause."

4 And Satan answered the LORD and said, "Skin for skin, yes, all that a man has he will give for his life. 5 But now stretch out your hand and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse you to your face."

6 And the LORD said to Satan, "See, he is in your hands; but spare his life."

7 So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with painful boils from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head. 8 And he took a piece of broken pottery to scrape himself with, and sat down among the ashes.

9 Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold on devotion and piety. He means that when a person's health is gone, if he thinks God is responsible for it, he will turn against God and show that all his religion and piety was rooted only in selfishness and sin.

Satan's estimate of man's character in his sinful state is true. But he was wrong about Job (vs 13-15), and about other true believers. When God does His work of saving and transforming individuals He makes them willing to suffer and give up even their lives for Him (John 11:16; Acts 20:24; 21:13; Heb 11:36-38; Rev 12:11; Luke 14:26; Matt 10:38,39). It is a great glory to God to have children who will love Him in spite of personal disasters and who will endure everything for Him, even great pain and death.

2:6 Satan can do nothing to God's people without God's permission (1:12). Why should God give him permission? Because He knows it is better to give permission than to refuse it. This matter we may not fully understand on this earth (Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34). We must simply trust God and believe that He knows better than we do what should and should not be done or permitted.

2:7 When Satan is permitted he will do what he can to torment men. One boil on the body can be very painful. Imagine what severe and constant pains would result from burning, itching, festering sores over the whole body. Later in the book several verses reveal the intense suffering that Job experienced because of this (2:8; 3:24; 6:10; 7:4,5; 13:28; 16:8,17; 17:1; 19:20; 30:17,30).

2:8 A sign of deep mourning (42:6; Jer 6:26; Jonah 3:6). Job felt that his whole life was in ashes.

2:9 Satan now uses Job's wife as a tool to bring his message to Job and to increase his sorrow. She wonders what use there can be in integrity and devotion to God if they do not prevent such terrible loss and sufferings as those which came to Job. When she says "curse God and die" she is to your integrity? Curse God, and die!”

10 But he said to her, “You are speaking like one of the foolish women speaks. What? Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive trouble?” In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

11 Now when Job’s three friends heard of all this trouble that had come on him, each of them came from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. For they had made an appointment together to expressing the hope of Satan. It is not likely that she is suggesting suicide. Possibly she supposes that if Job cursed God, God would kill him and put him out of his misery.

2:10 The Hebrew word translated “foolish” means both foolish and lacking in righteous character. Job does not call his wife a foolish woman but only says she is talking like one. He knew, and we should remember, that she too had lost ten children in one day, and had been watching her husband’s intense suffering. The sudden loss of even one child sometimes makes a mother almost insane with grief.

“Trouble” – the Hebrew word used here has many meanings – trouble, evil, or something disagreeable, unpleasant, sad, miserable or hurtful.

“Sin” – Job by refusing to sin against God with his words once again proved Satan a liar and shut his mouth. Satan is defeated and appears no more in the story of Job. Job also shows that he was indeed the best human being on earth in his generation. No doubt then, as now, most people blamed God for every disaster and did not praise Him for any good they enjoyed.

2:11 As far as we can see these three men from neighboring regions came in a spirit of true friendship and with the best of motives. But they turned out to be poor comforters and only added to Job’s sorrows (16:2). We do not know how long a period of time elapsed between the onset of Job’s bodily sufferings and the visit of his friends, but in 7:3 Job speaks of months of suffering.

2:12 Could these friends have expected that the greatest man in the East (1:3) would be covered with loathsome sores and be sitting in ashes? They were stunned and overcome with grief (Josh 7:16; Neh 9:1; Lam 2:10; Ezek 27:30). Seven days was not an unusual time of mourning in ancient times (Gen 50:10; 1 Sam 31:13).

2:13 During these seven days it is likely that Job’s friends began to doubt whether he was a good and righteous man. This comes out later in their speeches. They could not understand why God would permit such disasters and suffering to come on him if he had not sinned very grievously.

3:1 From here to the end of chapter 31 we have the words of Job and his three friends concerning Job’s sufferings. They have spent seven days together, each one trying to think through the problem of why such terrible come to sympathize with him and to comfort him. 12 And when they lifted up their eyes at a distance and did not recognize him, they raised their voices and wept, and each of them tore his cloak and sprinkled dust on his head toward heaven. 13 So they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great.

3 After this Job opened his mouth and cursed the day of his birth.

troubles have come upon him. Job speaks first. For a long time he has been in constant pain, thinking about his sufferings and losses. Why has God treated me like this? What evil have I done? What hope remains for me? Is not death better than such a life? And is not being born at all not the best of all? Questions like these have troubled his mind and pressed like a great weight on his spirit. He understands nothing of what has happened and he has no answers for any of his problems.

He has, of course, no knowledge of the words spoken by Satan and by God in heaven. His friends have brought him no light, no comfort. He has lost the fellowship with God which he had long enjoyed. He prays, he cries out in his anguish of body and heart, but God is silent toward him. He is in a state of deep depression.

And remember that Job had no such promises as John 16:33; Rom 8:17,18,28; 2 Cor 4:17; 1 Pet 3:12,13; Rev 7:17; 21:3,4. These verses had not yet been written. Job did not know of the wonderful display of God’s love through the cross of Christ. That had not yet taken place. God progressively, here a little, there a little, revealed His truth in human history and Job lived toward the dawn of God’s written revelation. He had no promise of God that gave enlightenment and encouragement in his situation. He could only use his human reason to try to understand what had happened. But his reason failed to bring him any comfort. For what had happened seemed contrary to reason and all he knew about God.

Suddenly like the bursting of a dam his heart and mouth open and all his pent-up emotions, his tortured thoughts pour forth. No one should think to judge harshly what he said. The words he spoke in this chapter are the words of a man who in both body and mind is wounded almost beyond endurance. (See Job’s own comments about this in 6:2-4,11-13; 7:11.) Remember that he was the best man on earth according to God’s own word (2:3). Not one of us in his situation and in his time would have behaved or spoken better than he. Indeed would any of us have spoken as well?

Of course, a believer now with God’s full revelation of truth in the Bible, if he meets suffering and disaster, should never allow himself to use such language as Job here

- 2 And Job spoke and said,
 3 "May the day I was born perish, and the night in which it was said,
 'A male child is conceived.'
 4 May that day be darkness.
 May God not regard it from above,
 and may the light not shine on it.
 5 May darkness and the shadow of death claim it.
 May a cloud settle on it.
 May the blackness of the day terrify it.
 6 As for that night, may darkness seize it.
 May it not be joined to the days of the year.
 May it not come into the number of the months.
 7 Oh, may that night be barren.
 May no joyful voice come into it.
 8 May those who curse days curse it,
those who are ready to rouse Leviathan.
 9 May the stars of its twilight be dark.
 May it look for light, but have none,
and may it not see the dawning of the day, 10 Because it did not shut up the doors of my mother's womb,
 or hide sorrow from my eyes.
 11 "Why did I not die at birth?
Why did I not expire when I came out of the womb?
 12 Why did the knees receive me?

used. But let us keep in mind how little he had of God's revelation.

3:3 See Jeremiah's words (Jer 20:14-18).

3:8 Note on Leviathan at 41:1.

3:11 10:18,19.

3:13-19 More than anything else Job longs for rest and quietness for body and mind. So death seemed to him sweeter than life.

3:20 Job's question here has troubled men from the beginning of recorded history. The question is, what is the point in living when life is full of suffering and seems without hope and purpose? To Job life had become absurd and practically impossible. It was not given him to see any of the reasons for the sufferings of God's people, as revealed in other places in the Bible, particularly in the New Testament (Deut 8:2,16; Ps 66:10-12; Prov 17:3; Rom 5:3,4; 2 Cor 4:17; 12:7-10; Heb 2:10; 12:5-11; Jam 1:2-4; 1 Pet 1:6,7; etc).

None of us fully understands God's dealings with men, or the reasons for all the misery and suffering that come on God's people. In the book of Job itself no reason is given. God at the end merely reveals Himself as the all-wise and all-powerful ruler of the universe. But in the light of the teachings of the Bible as a whole several reasons may be given to the question that arises about the sufferings and trials of the righteous.

These come to prove the reality of a believer's faith and to strengthen and purify it.

They develop the great virtue of patience.

They awaken believers out of lethargy

Or why the breasts that I should suck?

13 For now I would have been lying still and quiet;
 I would have been sleeping.

Then I would have been at rest,

14 With kings and counsellors of the earth,
 who built up the ruins for themselves,

15 Or with princes who had gold, who filled their houses with silver.

16 Or why was I not hidden like a still-born child, like infants who never saw light?

17 There the wicked cease from troubling, and there the weary are at rest.

18 There the prisoners rest together.

They do not hear the voice of the oppressor.

19 The small and great are there,
 and the servant is freed from his master.

20 "Why is light given to him who is in misery,
 and life to the bitter in soul,

21 Who long for death, but it does not come,
 and dig for it more than for hidden treasures,

22 Who rejoice exceedingly and are glad when they can find the grave?

23 Why is light given to a man whose way is hidden,

and whom God has hedged in?

24 For my sighing comes before I eat, and my groans pour out like water.

and ease and stir them up to thought, self examination, and prayer.

They aim a blow at any remaining self-righteousness and boasting or self-indulgence in believers.

They help to break believers away from the bonds of earth and make them seek their all in God.

They help them to appreciate more fully Christ's sufferings for them.

Patiently endured they shut Satan's mouth and greatly glorify God.

They help to reveal and perfect the believer's character and to make it more Christlike.

And they work for believers an eternal weight of glory (2 Cor 4:17).

3:21,22 Job had no fear of what might lay beyond death. His conscience did not accuse him about anything. He was not afraid to stand before God and give an account of his life. Longings for death are not uncommon even among the best of God's people (see Num 11:15; 1 Kings 19:4; Jer 20:14-18; Jonah 4:8; Phil 1:23). See notes on fear of death at Ps 55:4,5 and 116:15. But suicide was a sin not even to be considered. Suicide is the same as murder.

3:23 "Hedged in" - in Hebrew the same expression used in 1:10 appears with an entirely different meaning. Job means that he can see no way out of his difficulties and sorrows. He feels utterly bewildered, shut in a narrow place and in the dark (19:8; Lam 3:5).

25 For the thing which I greatly feared has come on me,
and what I was afraid of has come to me.
26 I am not at ease; I have no rest;
I am not quiet, for turmoil has come."

4 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered
and said,

2 "If one attempts a word with you,
will you be grieved?
But who can keep himself from speaking?
3 Look, you have instructed many,
and have strengthened weak hands.
4 Your words have held up him who was falling,
and you have strengthened feeble knees.
5 But now it has come on you, and you faint.
It touches you, and you are troubled.
6 Is not your fear of God your confidence, your hope,
and the uprightness of your ways?
7 "Please remember, who ever perished, being innocent?

Or where were the righteous ever cut off ?
8 As I have seen, those who plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same.
9 By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils
they are consumed.
10 The roaring of the lion and the voice of the fierce lion,
and the teeth of the young lions are broken.
11 The old lion perishes for lack of prey,
and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.
12 "Now a word was secretly brought to me,
and my ear received a whisper of it.
13 In thoughts from the visions of the night,
when deep sleep falls on men,
14 Fear and trembling came on me,
which made all my bones shake.
15 Then a spirit passed before my face.
The hair of my body stood up.
16 It stood still, but I could not discern its shape.
An image was before my eyes.
There was silence; and I heard a voice, saying,

3:25 Job is probably not referring to the sudden loss of children, property, and health – see 29:18-20. The fear he had may have come after those calamities, and may have been the fear of completely losing God's fellowship and the light of God's countenance. To a man like Job in those circumstances this would have been a great fear indeed, and he thought this fear was being fulfilled.
3:25 "Turmoil" – the Hebrew word indicates inner trouble, mental agitation, restlessness of heart, not outward turmoil.

4:1 Apparently Eliphaz was the leading spokesman for the three friends of Job. He speaks first, and he uses "we" in 5:27, indicating that the other two shared his opinions. Also he has far more to say than the other two combined. Eliphaz came from Teman, a place later renowned for wisdom (Jer 49:7; Obadiah 8,9). According to Elihu, who appears toward the end of the book, these three friends are old and wise (32:6; 34:2). Certainly much of what they say is true and good, and some of their remarks and words of advice would no doubt have fit the case of many people. But, for the most part, their words were not appropriate for Job's case. Actually they misjudged Job altogether and could bring no answer to his problem and no comfort to his heart. It will take some wisdom on our part to discern what is true and good in the speeches of these friends, and what is mistaken.

4:2-6 Eliphaz begins very politely. He sees Job's great suffering and does not wish to add to it. But he feels some things must be said even though they may cause Job more pain. Eliphaz soon reveals that he has strong doubts about Job's character and piety. Job, he says, taught others but could not teach himself. And if Job's piety is real why has he abandoned all hope and confidence? He does not yet say that Job's piety is not real (as he does later – 15:4-6; 22:4-6). But plainly he doubts it.

4:7-9 Eliphaz reveals here what he believes is God's principle of governing the world – if God sends great calamities it is because of great guilt on the part of those who suffer them. Job's ten children were not innocent and upright, Eliphaz thinks, and that is why they were destroyed. He is willing for the time to give Job the benefit of the doubt – since Job hasn't perished yet he may not have sinned so greatly as to be worthy of destruction.

Are Eliphaz's views on the matter completely correct? They are not. It is true that God sometimes sends calamities on the wicked and destroys them (Gen 6:5-7; 19:24,25; 2 Chron 36:15,16; etc). But in natural disasters such as cyclones and earthquakes, and in times of war, the innocent and righteous sometimes die together with the guilty and wicked. And troubles, losses, and difficulties come to both good people and bad. Indeed sometimes the wicked have less trouble on this earth than the righteous and die at ease in ripe old age (see Job's remarks at 21:7-13).

4:8 Prov 22:8; Hos 10:13; Gal 6:7.

4:9 Isa 11:4; 30:33; 2 Thess 2:8.

4:10,11 God knows how to deal with those who are cruel and bloodthirsty as lions. Eliphaz does not yet apply this directly to Job and still may be doubting whether Job is like that. He becomes more clear in his charges against Job in his second and third speeches (chapters 15 and 22).

4:12-16 In this frightening and mysterious experience that came to him Eliphaz believes God sent him a message and that

- 17 'Can a mortal be more just than God?
Can a man be more pure than his Maker?
18 Consider, he puts no trust in his servants,
and he charges his angels with error.
19 How much more those who dwell in houses of clay,
whose foundation is in the dust,
who are crushed before the moth?
20 They are destroyed from morning to evening;
they perish forever without anyone regarding it.
21 Does not their abundance which is among them go away?
They die, still without wisdom.'

- 5 "Call out now; is there anyone who will answer you?
And to which of the holy ones will you turn?
2 For anger kills the foolish man,
and envy slays the simple one.
3 I have seen a fool taking root;
but suddenly I cursed his habitation.
4 His children are far from safety,
and they are crushed in the gate;
nor is there anyone to rescue them.
5 The hungry eat up their harvest, taking it even out of the thorns;
and the robber swallows up their possessions.

this message fits Job's case exactly. But it did not. Just because a man thinks he has been inspired by God does not make it so. 4:17-21 The message Eliphaz gives Job is this: all are weak and sinful, including Job, and when punishment comes because of wrongdoing no one should be surprised or try to defend himself (5:1). He implies that all that has happened to Job and his family was because of some sins or other they had committed. Eliphaz believes that Job in his opening remarks (chapter 3) should have confessed his sin and begged God for mercy, instead of raging against his fate and complaining about God's dealings with him. Eliphaz is right when he says all men are sinners and that God punishes the wicked. Many verses of the Bible teach the same thing. But he is wrong in thinking that what has happened to Job was God's punishment for his sins.

4:17 9:2; 25:4; Gen 15:6; Rom 3:21-26; 4:5-8; Eph 1:14. (Through the Lord Jesus Christ God has made a way for men to be righteous and pure before Him).

4:19 10:9; 33:6. Words like these indicate that Job and his friends were familiar with the account of man's creation in Gen 2:7.

5:1 The meaning seems to be this: Eliphaz thinks the truth he has stated is so plain that no one should think of disputing it, and that if Job rejects it and tries to find support for his position among either men or angels, not a single one would speak on his behalf.

5:2 Eliphaz means that if Job burns with

- 6 Although affliction does not come out of the dust,
or trouble spring out of the ground,
7 Yet man is born to trouble,
as the sparks fly upward.
8 "As for me I would seek God,
and I would commit my case to God, 9 Who does great and unsearchable things, marvellous things without number, 10 Who gives rain on the earth,
and sends water on the fields, 11 To set on high those who are lowly,
so that those who mourn are lifted to safety.
12 He disappoints the schemes of the crafty,
so that their hands cannot carry out their plans.
13 He takes the wise in their own craftiness, and the counsel of the cunning is swept away.
14 They meet with darkness in the daytime,
and grope in the noonday as in the night.
15 But he saves the poor from the sword,
from their mouth,
and from the hand of the mighty.
16 So the poor have hope,
and iniquity shuts its mouth.
17 "See, happy is the man whom God corrects.
Therefore do not despise the discipline of the Almighty,

anger because of his troubles and sufferings and is envious of those not afflicted, the result will be his own destruction.

5:3-5 He describes calamities which are very much like those which came on Job, and evidently thinks Job's case may be similar to the wicked fool he refers to in v 3. Why else would he use an illustration like this? He has no idea that Job is a better man than he himself (1:8). It is remarkable that Job listened to this with patience.

5:6,7 Eliphaz means that calamities are not mere acts of nature, not accidents; they are the result of a spiritual law; troubles come because of man's birth in sin and man's sinful acts. God has linked sin and suffering together and no one can escape this law.

5:8 He states what he would do if he were in Job's situation. He evidently thinks that Job has not done so.

5:9-16 He now gives a description of God's ways with men that he thinks will make Job want to turn to God for mercy. Considering the time and place in which he lived he displays a very high view of God - He is a God who does wonders (and so could wonderfully restore the prosperity of Job - v 9); He is the God who is a kind sovereign over His creation (v 10); He rules justly in the affairs of men to bring punishment to clever evildoers and to rescue their victims (vs 11-16). Part of verse 13 is quoted by Paul in 1 Cor 3:19.

5:17,18 The truth of these verses is found in Prov 3:11,12 and Heb 12:5,6. It is a beautiful truth but it was not the truth Job

- 18 For he injures, but binds up;
he wounds, but his hands bring healing.
- 19 He will rescue you in six troubles;
yes, in seven no evil will touch you.
- 20 In famine he will redeem you from death,
and in war from the power of the sword.
- 21 You will be hidden from the lash of the tongue;
nor will you be afraid of destruction
when it comes.
- 22 You will laugh at destruction and famine;
nor will you be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
- 23 For you will have a covenant with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field will be at peace with you.
- 24 And you will know that your tent is in peace,
and you will visit your dwelling place,
and will not miss anything.
- 25 And you will know that your children are many,
and your offspring like the grass of the earth.
- 26 You will reach your grave in a full age,
like a sheaf of grain comes in, in its season.
- 27 "Consider this. We have searched it out;
it is true.
Hear it, and know it is for your good."

needed in his situation. Job's sufferings were not a result of God's chastisement for sin. God's primary purpose in them was to prove Job's faith and integrity and shut Satan's mouth. In general, what use is it for preachers to have fine messages if they do not suit the condition of those who hear them?

"Almighty" (v 17) – in Hebrew "Shaddai" – Gen 17:1.

5:19-26 He is saying that if Job will submit to God and meekly accept His chastisements God will rescue him from trouble (vs 19,20), restore his prosperity (vs 22-24), will give him many children in place of those he lost (vs 26), and restore him to good health (vs 18,26).

5:27 Eliphaz speaks for Bildad and Zophar also. He is very sure that he is giving Job the truth he needs to hear and apply.

6:1-3 In this answer to Eliphaz Job explains why he spoke as he did in chapter 3. He confesses that he spoke rashly. His sufferings were so great that his words were "wild", or "impetuous", or "incoherent" (as some other versions translate the Hebrew word in v 3). His friends should have understood this and not judged him harshly (v 26).

6:4 His sorrows, calamities, and sickness seem to him like poison-tipped arrows shot into him by God Himself. These arrows were still sticking in his wounded body and spirit. He had thought he was at peace with God and enjoyed His favor. Now it seemed quite suddenly and without reason God was at war with him. There is no indication here or anywhere in the words of Job or his friends that they thought Satan could be the one who

- 6 But Job answered and said,
2 "Oh, that my grief were fully weighed,
and my calamity laid with it in the balances!
- 3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea;
therefore my words have been wild.
- 4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me,
my spirit drinks in their poison.
The terrors of God set themselves in array against me.
- 5 Does the wild donkey bray when it has grass?
Or does an ox bellow over its fodder?
- 6 Can what is unsavoury be eaten without salt?
Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?
- 7 My soul refuses to touch them;
they are like disgusting food to me.
- 8 Oh, that I might have my request, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!
- 9 Oh, that it would please God to crush me!
That he would let loose his hand and cut me off!
- 10 Then I would still have comfort;
yes, I would exult in unrelenting pain, for I have not denied the words of the Holy One.
- 11 "What is my strength, that I should hope?

brought those disasters on Job. Both Job and his friends believe God is punishing him. The difference between them is this: Job's friends believe he is being punished for some specific sins, Job believes he is being punished for no good reason at all.

Sometimes people add to their sorrows when bad things happen to them by mistakenly thinking God has turned against them. They mistake the raging of Satan for God's anger. God loved Job very much, views him with great favor, and plans to bless him abundantly. But Job does not know this.

6:5-7 In other words, Job would not cry out and lament if there were not good reasons for it. What a wild donkey or an ox wants is food; what Job wanted was an explanation of his sufferings, some comfort for his mind and heart. But he could find nowhere a single tasty morsel of truth that could meet his need and satisfy him. How Job would have delighted to have the whole Bible! Yet many troubled Christians neglect its treasures of wisdom and understanding.

"Taste in the white of an egg?" – the meaning of the Hebrew words here is uncertain.

6:8-10 Since Job cannot get any answer to his problem his great desire is for one thing – death. Even in the clutches of his pain, even in death, he would have one great consolation – he had remained true to God and to all the revelation of God's truth he had; he had openly confessed his loyalty to the Lord (1:21; 2:10).

6:11-13 Job speaks of his utter helplessness and hopelessness. Could his friends imagine he had a body that felt no pain? A mind that could hope when all grounds of hope seemed gone?

And that success has been driven from me?

6:14-21 Now he criticizes his friends for their failure to help him. He has revealed to them his despair, but it seems to him that this has only made them turn against him. They have become accusers instead of comforters. His thirsty soul longed for refreshing, restoring truth. When his friends came he hoped for wise counsel from them. Now they appear to him like dried-up streams. Sad and desperate people could not quench their thirst from their words. He is bitterly disappointed and plainly tells them so.

6:22-24 He had not asked them to come or to give him any physical or financial help (for all we know, with the loss of all his property and health he might have needed such help, but it does not seem that they offered any). He asked them for only one thing – clear counsel that would meet his needs. He is willing to admit his sins and errors if they would point them out to him.

6:25-27 He knew the power of words spoken to meet the needs of a person. He is saying they have failed to speak such words, and because they have misunderstood his words (in chapter 3), they are behaving very harshly toward him.

6:28-30 He appeals to them very earnestly to consider his righteous life and his integrity, and to stop unjustly accusing him.

7:1-6 This description of Job's condition can be summed up in two words: misery and hopelessness. According to v 3 Job has been suffering not merely a few days but for a few months.

7:7-11 The words from v 7 to the end of this chapter Job speaks to God. He tells God plainly that he has no further hope of happiness. Only death awaits him. He knows nothing of the doctrine of the resurrection (see note on 14:7-12). He feels he has nothing to lose, so he will give full expression to his grief.

7:9 "Grave" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – note at

- 10 He will return no more to his house, nor will his place know him any more.
- 11 "Therefore I will not refrain my mouth.
I will speak in the anguish of my spirit.
I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
- 12 Am I the sea, or a sea monster,
that you set a guard over me?
- 13 When I say, 'My bed will comfort me, my couch will ease my complaint,'
- 14 Then you frighten me with dreams,
and terrify me through visions,
- 15 So that my soul chooses strangling and death rather than my life.
- 16 I loathe it. I would not live always.
Let me alone, for my days are empty.
- 17 "What is man that you should make much
of him,
and that you should set your heart on him?
- 18 And that you should visit him every morning,
and test him every moment?
- 19 Will you never turn away from me,
or let me alone until I swallow down my spittle?

Gen 37:35.

7:12 Job means that he is not some turbulent ocean or wild sea monster that needs restraining.

7:13-15 Nights instead of giving rest from suffering added to it, for when he would sleep, dreams or terrifying visions troubled him so that he again longed for death.

7:16 Job 9:21; 10:1; Eccl 2:17; 4:2,3.

7:17-19 Job's question is not, why does God have such a loving concern for man (as in Ps 8:4), but, why does God continually want to inflict pain on feeble men? Why does He examine every action and take such care to send punishment and affliction? Job felt that God's attitude toward him was hostile and wanted God to leave him alone for a while. Actually in the last part of v 18 Job comes near to the reason why calamities have come upon him – testing (compare Gen 22:1; Ps 66:10-12). But he does not pursue this truth. Perhaps at that time in history and without God's revelation on the subject, and in his condition, he could not have.

7:20 Job does not know of any sins he may have committed that should have brought God's judgment on him. But he asks that even if he had sinned how could that have injured God so much that he became the target for God's anger.

7:21 Job does not deny that he has sinned at times. But he wonders that there is no forgiveness. He knows he is not hardhearted and unrepentant. He believes the end of his life is near and wants assurance of forgiveness for any sins he has committed. What Job spoke about with longing we can now know that we have – Luke 24:46,47; Eph 1:7; 1 John 1:9.

8:1,2 Bildad thinks Job is very reckless and impious in his words. In the speech which

- 20 I have sinned;
what have I done to you, O watcher of men?
Why have you set me up as your target,
so that I am a burden to myself?
- 21 And why do you not pardon my transgression,
and take away my iniquity?
For now I will sleep in the dust,
and you will look for me in the morning,
but I will not be."

8 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,
2 "How long will you speak these things?

And how long will the words of your mouth be like a strong wind?

- 3 Does God pervert judgment?
Or does the Almighty pervert justice?
- 4 If your children sinned against him and he cast them away for their transgression,
- 5 If you would seek God and make your supplication to the Almighty,
- 6 If you have been pure and upright, surely now he will awake for you,

follows he shows he is in full agreement with Eliphaz.

8:3 He believes that Job is accusing God of injustice. This verse is the basis of all Bildad has to say – God is always working out justice in this world, rewarding the good, punishing the wicked. If disasters and suffering come to a man it is because he deserves them. For God would not punish a person unjustly. Bildad seems to think calamities and sufferings such as Job experienced could only be punishment for wrong doing. He does not understand that God may justly permit afflictions to come to a person to try him, to prove his faith and good character, and that he may allow the wicked to prosper all through life and judge and punish him after death. It is very true, of course, that God does not pervert justice. But it is impossible for men on earth, especially without the full revelation of the Bible, to understand how justice is being worked out.

All three friends of Job had very narrow, rigid, and simplistic views on the outworking of God's justice. Therefore they were sometimes harsh and lacking in sympathy. In these days if we hold the view that everyone on earth is getting just what he deserves, or that if anyone suffers it is his karma being worked out, such a view might tend to make us somewhat unfeeling toward those in misery and suffering.

8:4 With Bildad's views of justice being what they were, no doubt he believed that Job's children had sinned terribly and been destroyed because of it.

8:5 Job 5:8. Bildad apparently assumes with Eliphaz that Job had not done so.

8:6,7 Since Job was not destroyed with his children it is barely possible, Bildad thinks, that Job may not be unrighteous. In such

- and restore your righteous dwelling place.

 9 For we are but of yesterday,
 and know nothing,
 because our days on earth are a shadow.
 10 Will they not teach you, and tell you,
 and utter words from their heart?
 11 Can papyrus grow up without marsh?
 Can the reed grow without water?
 12 While it is still green and not cut down,
 it withers before any other plant.
 13 So are the paths of all who forget God,
 and the hypocrite's hope will perish.
 14 His hope will be cut off, and his trust will be a spider's web.
 15 He leans against his house,
 but it does not stand.
 He holds fast to it, but it does not endure.
 16 He is green in the sunlight,
 and his branch spreads out in his garden.

 man, nor will he help evildoers.
 21 He will yet fill your mouth with laughter,
 and your lips with rejoicing.
 22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame, and the dwelling place of the wicked will come to nothing."
- 9 Then Job answered and said,
 2 "Indeed I know this is true.
 But how can a man be righteous before God?
 3 If he would dispute with him,
 he could not answer him one in a thousand.
 4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength.
 Who has hardened himself against him,
 and prospered?
 5 He removes the mountains,
 and they do not know.
 He overturns them in his anger.
 6 He shakes the earth out of its place,
 and its pillars tremble.
 7 He commands the sun, and it does not rise,
 and he seals off the stars.
 8 He alone spreads out the heavens,
 and treads on the waves of the sea.
 9 He made the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades, case God will restore him to blessing and prosperity. This actually happened in the case of Job (42:10-13). But in general it is not a principle that is valid in this world. Righteousness does not always result in prosperity and sinfulness does not always bring poverty. Prosperity is not necessarily a sign of God's blessing and poverty is not necessarily a sign of God's displeasure (see Ps 73:3,12; Luke 6:20-26; 12:33,34; 16:19-31; 18:22; 1 Tim 6:6-9,18,19; Heb 10:32-37; James 5:1-6; 1 Peter 4:12-16).

8:8-10 Eliphaz claimed some kind of mystical inspiration for his remarks (4:12-16). Bildad bases his remarks on tradition. He means that the views he and his friends express are not new and not merely their opinions; ancient wisdom taught the same thing. However, that which is called ancient wisdom is not necessarily wisdom, and sometimes is the opposite of wisdom.

8:11-19 The essence of what he says here is this: the wicked may be very prosperous for a little while but they will fall like withered plants. Bildad does not say Job is like the wicked people he describes, but he obviously suspects it. Why else would he use such illustrations? He meant them as a warning to Job.

8:13 "Hypocrite" – the Hebrew indicates a profane or godless person.

8:19 This could possibly be translated "See, all the joy it has is that from the soil other plants grow."

8:20 Verse 3.

8:21,22 He is saying that God will do this if Job is truly righteous and will plead with God (vs 5,6).

9:2 "True" – it is not clear what part of Bildad's speech Job agrees with. He may be referring to its closing words, or to the words of 8:3 which gives the essence of the speech.

"How can a man be righteous before God?" – this question is an extremely important one, one that is at the heart of man's need and of God's revelation in the Bible. But there is no answer to it in Job. It may be that Job did not expect any answer. He is simply admitting man's general sinfulness and ignorance. He probably means something like this: "All men, including myself, are sinners. I know it well. It is impossible for anyone to stand before God and argue that he is perfectly righteous, and I am certainly not able to do so." But there is a way for man to be perfectly righteous before God. See Gen 15:6; Rom 3:21-26; Phil 3:9. 9:3-20 If it comes to an argument with God, Job knows he has no hope of winning it. He knows himself to be too weak, too foolish, too reckless in speech, too unskilled in debate (vs 3,14-16,20). And he knows that God is the wise and powerful Creator of the universe, and can do what He pleases with His creation (vs 4-10). Job had learned some great truth about God. He looks at the earth, the sun, moon, and stars, and knows that creation is only the work of God's hands. He knows too that there is only one true God. God, Job says in v 11, is in the

 Who will say to him, 'What are you doing?'
 13 If God does not withdraw his anger,

 18 He will not allow me to take my breath,
 but fills me with bitterness.
 19 If I speak of strength, see, he is strong;

universe as an invisible Spirit. Job knows also that in the affairs of men God is all-powerful (vs 12,13). Here Job probably means by this that God has taken away his children and there is nothing he or anyone else could do about it.

"Bear", etc - constellations.
9:13 "The proud" - in Hebrew "Rahab" - note at 26:12.

9:21-24 The words of Job in these verses (and in 19:6) are the hardest he ever spoke about God. He reaches here the lowest point of his despair, his misunderstanding of God's dealings with him. He pictures God as a cruel despot, a tyrant who acts in an arbitrary way without compassion, a God who makes no distinction between the righteous and the wicked.

But these words do not prove that Job was a wicked man. They show what unceasing pain and sorrow and the pressure of tormenting questions can do to even the best man on earth. A desperate man, in agony of body and mind, does not speak like an unfallen angel or an untroubled saint. But notice that even now Job does not deny God, does not fall into the folly and wickedness of atheism. Satan tempts people to atheism by arguments like these: the world is full of unjust suffering and disasters coming on the innocent; if there were a God He would not permit it. Satan's way of reasoning with men is this:

(a) If God existed the innocent would not suffer.

 (b) The fact is the innocent do suffer.
 (c) Therefore God does not exist.

Satan himself does not believe this, but he persuades some people to believe it, and convinces them that this reasoning is sound. Job does not fall into that trap, but v 24 shows how puzzled he is by the problem of evil in the world. He asks why God doesn't prevent it instead of seeming to side with it. Without the full revelation of God's truth given in the Bible neither Job nor anyone else could understand much of God's ways with men. Even those of us who know the whole Bible are sometimes much perplexed at what is going on in the world (but should never be in despair). We too, like Job, must walk by faith (2 Cor 5:7). We must look at unseen things, not things which are seen (2 Cor 4:18).

9:25,26 Job 7:6; Ps 39:5; Isa 38:12.

9:27-31 He felt God condemned him without cause and accused him though he has led a clean life. He sees no way to forget his sufferings, clear himself from condemnation and be happy.

9:32-35 Job felt a need for someone to bring him and God together, to settle the dispute, to cause God to take away His punishing rod. In a far greater measure than Job could imagine the Lord Jesus Christ meets this need. He is the only Mediator between God and man (1 Tim 2:5). He is the believer's advocate in heaven (1 John 2:1). Through Him reconciliation has been made between God and man and direct access to God provided (2 Cor 5:18,19; Eph 2:17,18; Heb 10:19-22).

10:1 7:11. He has decided to hide absolutely nothing of his thoughts and feelings. He gives free expression to what many people conceal in their hearts because they are afraid to bring them out into the open. Job is not concerned with what people might think of his words. He wants only the truth.
10:2 His conscience accuses him of nothing and he wants to know what God has against him (6:24; 13:23). He does not know that God has nothing against him, but loves him and views him with favor and satisfaction.

Notice how Job in the middle of a discussion with his friends suddenly begins to speak directly to God (7:7-21; 10:2-22; 13:20-14:22; 16:7,8; 17:3,4; 30:20-23). Job's friends never do this. Obviously Job was a man of prayer. He had the habit of speaking to God (12:4). He pours out all his thoughts and desires at the feet of the great Creator of the universe. God would have all of us do this (Ps 62:8). He knows how some of our thoughts and questions are foolish and tainted with sin. But He understands our longings for Him and our desire for the truth, and He approves honesty of expression.

10:3 9:23,24. Job thinks that if God is so keen to punish why does He not punish the wicked who deserve it instead of people like himself who do not, in Job's view, deserve it (compare Ps 73:3-5,12-14).

10:4-7 Job's friends have been searching for some sin in Job that will account for the disasters which have come on him. Why, Job asks, should God seek for his sin as they did? He is aware that God knows all things. If God sees some sin in Job that merits punishment Job wants God to reveal plainly what it is.

10:12-17 Though God has given him life and showed him kindness it seems to Job now that all the time God was like a harsh judge looking for some excuse to punish him, like a lion pursuing him to destruction.

descriptions like Rev 21:10-23 (what a privilege it is to live now with the whole of God’s revelation in our hands!). In the time in which Job lived not much was known about the condition of men’s spirits after death. God had revealed very little about it. Job’s view that they went to a place of utter darkness was not an uncommon one (Ps 88:10-12). Only in the New Testament do we have God’s full revelation concerning this subject (2 Tim 1:10). There we see that true believers will forever live in a place where there is no darkness at all (Rev 22:5).

11:1-3 Zophar is in full agreement with Eliphaz and Bildad. He believes that Job has grievously sinned, and that his words are vain and irrelevant.

11:4 Job had not said this. Zophar thinks this is the meaning of some of the things Job had said, but to get such a meaning he had to twist Job’s words. Job had confessed his ignorance (9:2,3), and humbly revealed his desire for understanding (6:24; 10:2). He knew that at times in his life he had sinned (7:21).

11:5 Zophar’s wish is fulfilled in 38:1.

11:6 Zophar thinks that God has been merciful to Job and punished him less than he deserved.

11:7-10 He can teach Job nothing about this. Job himself has said similar things (9:4-12).

11:8 “Than hell” – in Hebrew “than Sheol” – note at Gen 37:35.

11:12 Zophar thinks it is practically impossible for a foolish man (as he thinks Job is) to become wise. He is quite sure that a wild donkey can never become a man. The writers of the Bible all knew that men are men and animals are animals and that the one would never become the other. There is no kind of reincarnation taught in the Bible. There is never the slightest suggestion by anyone in the book of Job (or in the rest of Bible) that Job (or anyone) was possibly being punished for sins done in a former life.

The Bible is God’s revelation to men. It contains all the truth they need now to know. The Bible completely ignores the Hindu and Buddhist teaching of reincarnation. By ignoring it the Bible shows that the idea of reincarnation does not contain any truth that men need, does not explain a single thing we should know. The Bible teaches resurrection, not reincarnation. According to the Bible a person lives but once on this earth and dies but once. At the end there will be the resurrection of the dead and God’s judgment (John 5:28,29; Acts 17:31; Heb 9:27). See also notes on John 3:3 and 9:3.

11:13 He, like his friends, assumes that Job has not done so. It was a false assumption.

11:13-19 He says if only Job would repent and turn to God for mercy he would be restored. He and his friends probably thought they were being very compassionate and sympathetic when they held out such hope to Job. Actually much of what they say about repentance and restoration is good. But it does not suit Job’s case (5:17,18).

11:20 Zophar closes with a warning he and their hope will be like giving up one's last breath."

- 12 And Job answered and said,
2 "No doubt you are the people,
and wisdom will die with you!
3 But I have understanding as well as you.
I am not inferior to you;
yes, who does not know such things as these?
4 "I am like someone mocked by his neighbours,
one who called on God, and he answered him.
The just upright man is laughed to scorn.
5 Someone at ease regards a lamp with contempt,
as made ready for one whose feet slip.
6 The tents of robbers prosper, and those who provoke God are secure in what God brings into their hands.
7 "But now ask the beasts, and they will teach you;
and the birds of the air, and they will tell you;
8 Or speak to the earth, and it will teach you,
and the fish of the sea will declare it to you.
9 Who among all these does not know that the hand of the LORD has done this?
10 In his hand is the soul of every living thing,
and the breath of all mankind.
11 Does not the ear test words,
and the mouth taste its food?
12 With the aged is wisdom,
and in length of days is understanding.
13 "With him is wisdom and strength;
he has counsel and understanding.
14 See, he breaks down, and it cannot be rebuilt.
He imprisons a man, and there can be no release.
15 See, he withholds water,

- and the streams dry up;
and he sends them out,
and they overwhelm the earth.
16 With him are strength and wisdom.
The deceived and the deceiver are his.
17 He leads counsellors away plundered, and makes fools of judges.
18 He loosens the bonds of kings, and ties up their waist with a belt.
19 He leads princes away plundered,
and overthrows the mighty.
20 He deprives the trusted ones of speech, and takes away the understanding of the aged.
21 He pours contempt on princes,
and weakens the strength of the mighty.
22 He reveals the deep things of darkness, and brings the shadow of death to the light.
23 He increases the nations, and destroys them.
He enlarges nations, and guides them.
24 He takes away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.
25 They grope in the dark without light,
and he makes them stagger like a drunkard.

- 13 "Look, my eyes have seen all this,
my ears have heard and understood it.
2 What you know, I also know.
I am not inferior to you.
3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.
4 But you are forgers of lies.
You are all physicians of no value.
5 Oh, that you would altogether keep silent!
That would be your wisdom.

mistakenly thinks Job much needs.

12:2,3 Now Job has heard each of his three friends speak and this is the way things seem to him: his friends are professing a great wisdom but what they say is very ordinary; they try to advise him from a superior position but are unable to say a single thing he doesn't already know, and they cannot get to the root of his problem. So he speaks these words in a very sarcastic manner. If we counsel others let us do it in such a way that we will not provoke a similar response.

12:4 Job means that it has been his custom to pray and that God has sent answers to his prayers (though God is silent now).

12:5 Job's friends are not suffering, have experienced no calamities. It is easy, he says, for them to look with contempt on him. No one who has not been through something of what Job suffered can possibly understand him. Compare 2 Cor 1:3-7.

12:6 This has been Job's view all along -

God does not deal with men in this world according to their character (9:22,24; 10:3). Job's friends believe just the opposite.

12:7-12 Job returns to the thoughts of vs 2,3. He thinks his friends, though they are old, have still much to learn and that nature could teach them. Compare Ps 19:1-4.

12:13-25 He now shows them that he knows as much about God's wisdom and power as they do. He believes, even as they do, that God is supremely wise, is the absolute sovereign ruler in all the affairs of men. (Compare Ps 33:10,11; 47:2; 115:3; 135:6; Dan 4:34,35.)

13:1-5 Job did not speak like this because he was proud and boastful. His meaning is this: "My friends, what you and I know very well is not enough to solve the problem of why awful disasters have come upon me. Stop pretending that your wisdom can give all the answers. You are like worthless doctors bringing false remedies. If you can't say something more sensible than you have

- 6 Listen now to my reasoning, and hear the pleas of my lips.
- 7 Will you speak wickedly for God,
and talk deceitfully for him?
- 8 Will you show partiality toward his person?
Will you argue for God?
- 9 Would it be good if he searched you out?
Or will you mock him like one man
mocks another?
- 10 He will surely rebuke you,
if you secretly show partiality.
- 11 Will his excellence not make you afraid?
And his dread fall on you?
- 12 Your old sayings are proverbs of ashes;
your defenses are defenses of clay.
- 13 "Keep silent! Leave me alone,
so that I can speak,
and let come on me what may!"
- 14 Why do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in my hand?
- 15 Though he slay me, yet I will trust in him;
but I will defend my ways before him.
- 16 And he will be my salvation;
for a hypocrite does not come before him.
- 17 Listen carefully to my speech, and hear my declaration with your ears.
- 18 See now, I have prepared my case.
I know that I will be vindicated.

- 19 Who is the one who will argue the case
with me?
For now, if I hold my tongue, I will die.
- 20 "Only do not do two things to me,
then I will not hide myself from you:
- 21 Withdraw your hand far from me, and let not the dread of you make me afraid.
- 22 Then call, and I will answer;
or let me speak, and you answer me.
- 23 How many are my iniquities and sins?
Cause me to know my transgression and my sin.
- 24 Why do you hide your face,
and count me as your enemy?
- 25 Will you terrify a leaf driven to and fro?
And will you pursue dry stubble?
- 26 For you write bitter things against me,
and make me inherit the iniquities of my youth.
- 27 You also put my feet in the stocks,
and closely watch all my paths.
You put a mark on the heels of my feet.
- 28 "And man is consumed like a rotten thing,
like a garment that is moth eaten.

few days, and full of trouble.

so far, then please keep quiet. I will try to get an answer from God alone." The lies they made up (v 4) were the accusation of wickedness they made against him.

13:6-12 The friends seem to think they were God's advocates to speak for Him. If this is true, Job asks, why is it necessary for them to bring false accusations against him? They are examining Job to find any faults he may have. What if God examined them in the same way? Have they no fear of the God they have been speaking so easily about? The fact is, Job could see they thought themselves better than he was. Their inmost conviction may have been something like this: "God has punished Job terribly for his sins; God has not punished us like that – indeed we are experiencing His blessings. Job must be a bad man, and we are good men, or at least not nearly as bad as he is."

Self-righteousness is very hard to discover in one's self, and it is very hard for others to deal with. It is one of the most difficult of sins to tear from the human heart.

13:13-19 Job is determined to speak out even if God should kill him for it. He still has hope in God that he will eventually be proved innocent. He is eager to defend himself before God and says that this very desire shows he is not a hypocrite or an evil man.

13:16 "Hypocrite" – the Hebrew indicates a profane or godless person.

13:20-22 Again Job stops speaking to his friends and addresses God (see 10:2). He wants very much to meet face to face with God. He is sure he can prove his innocence. But he is filled with pain, perplexity, grief, and fear. Because of this he feels that even if he got the chance to defend himself, he would not be able to do it well. So he makes these requests.

13:22,23 In Job's eyes he has been condemned without knowing what the charges against him are. He thinks God has become his enemy and has punished him severely (vs 26-28), and is looking for further reasons to afflict him. He wants his day in God's court to hear all the accusations against him.

13:26 Job is sure that he has done nothing as an adult to deserve the awful disasters which have come. Searching for a reason for them he thinks it must be some sins or other he had done as a young man. But, as we know from the first two chapters of this book, in this he was mistaken. His sufferings had no connection whatever with punishment for any of his sins. However, it was right for him to review his life to see if there was any reason in him for his troubles. We should do the same thing when troubles come to us. Possibly they have come because of some sin we have committed, and if so we should know it and confess it and get forgiveness for it (Ps 77:5,6; 119:59; 139:23,24; Lam 3:4; 1 Cor 11:31).

14:1-3 Job wonders why God bothers with a

- 2 He comes forth like a flower, and is cut down.
And he flees like a shadow, and does not stay.
- 3 And do you open your eyes at such a one,
and bring me into judgment with yourself?
- 4 Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? No one.
- 5 Since his days are determined,
the number of his months being with you,
you have set limits that he cannot pass.
- 6 Turn away from him, so that he may rest,
until he has finished his day, like a hired man.
- 7 "For there is hope for a tree, if it is cut down, that it will sprout again, and that its tender shoots will not cease.
- 8 Even though its root becomes old in the earth,
and its stump dies in the ground, 9 yet at the scent of water it will bud,
and bring forth branches like a plant.
- 10 But man dies, and is laid away;
yes, man breathes his last, and where is he?
- 11 As water disappears from the sea,
and a stream becomes parched and dried up,
- 12 So man lies down, and does not rise.
They will not awake, or be roused out of their sleep,
until the heavens are no more.
- 13 Oh, that you would hide me in the grave!
That you would conceal me until your wrath is past!
That you would appoint a set time
- for me, and remember me!
- 14 If a man dies, will he live again?
All the days of my appointed time
I will wait, until my change comes.
- 15 You will call, and I will answer you.
You will long for the work of your hands.
- 16 For now you will count my steps.
Will you watch over my sin?
- 17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag,
and you cover my iniquity.
- 18 But surely the falling mountain crumbles away,
and the rock is moved from its place;
- 19 Water wears away the stones,
and torrents wash away the soil of the earth;
so you destroy the hope of man.
- 20 You overpower him permanently, and he passes on;
you change his countenance,
and send him away.
- 21 His sons come to honour,
and he does not know it;
and they are brought low,
but he does not perceive it.
- 22 But his body will be in pain,
and his soul will mourn for himself."
- 15 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said:
2 "Should a wise man answer with empty knowledge,

creature so frail and insignificant as man.
14:4 Man is the subject here. A holy nature cannot come from sinful humanity. Job knows very well that because he is a human being he has a sinful nature. He does not claim to be free from all that is unholy. Compare Ps 51:5; Eph 2:1-3.

14:5,6 Since man's life is vain and empty, Job reasons, why doesn't God leave him alone to live it the best he can without afflictions and disasters coming on him?

14:7-12 Neither Job nor his friends nor anyone else in the Bible believed in the idea of reincarnation. Note at Job 11:12. Also at that time, as far as we know, God had not yet revealed the doctrine of the resurrection of man's body. Job thought that death was a sleep in a dark place from which there is no awakening. He had no word from God to enable him to believe otherwise.

14:13 "Grave" - in Hebrew "Sheol" - note at Gen 37:35.

14:13-15 As Job considers what he thinks is man's sad fate, it seems a thought begins to form in his mind, a faint hope stirs in his heart - what if man should rise again? What if there is life after death where the innocent are vindicated, all questions answered, all problems solved? How good it would be! How much more easily he could bear the pains and sorrows of this life! The question Job asks in v 14 is answered by the Lord Jesus Christ in the New Testament. Man will live again after he has died. The Lord Jesus rose from the dead and the time is coming when all men shall rise (Matt 16:21; 28:1-7; John 5:28,29; 11:25; 1 Cor 15:20-25; 1 Thess 4:13-18). But Job did not have this blessed truth to cheer him.

14:16-22 Job's thoughts of resurrection and the hope it stirred pass away for the moment. They are crushed beneath the weight of his painful circumstances and dark depression. But, it seems, the idea continues to work deep in his mind and comes out later with more force and assurance (19:25-27). Notice in vs 16,17 that Job admits there has been sin in his life. He does not deny it. He only denies that he has been guilty of such sin as to merit his awful calamities.

15:1 The first round of speeches has ended. The three friends have set forth their doctrine that disasters and sufferings come from God because of sin. They have called Job to repentance. But Job has maintained his innocence and insisted he has nothing to repent of. He has accused his friends of a lack of wisdom and compassion. In his second speech Eliphaz's language is much harsher than in his first. His accusations are much more open and bold, and there is no exhortation to repentance at the end.

15:2,3 He has abandoned the polite and are restraining prayer before God.

 5 For your iniquity teaches your mouth,
 and you choose the tongue of the crafty.
 6 Your own mouth condemns you and not I.
 Yes, your own lips testify against you.
 7 "Are you the first man ever born?
 Or were you made before the hills?
 8 Have you heard the secret counsel of God?
 And do you limit wisdom to yourself?
 9 What do you know that we do not know?
What understanding do you have that is not in us?
 10 Both the gray-haired and aged are with us, even older than your father.
 11 Are the consolations of God too small for you, words spoken gently to you?
 12 Why does your heart carry you away?
 And why do your eyes flash,
 13 that you should turn your spirit against God,
 and let such words go out of your mouth?
 14 "What is man, that he can be clean?
 And he who is born of woman that he

 15 Look, he puts no trust in his holy ones;
 indeed, the heavens are not pure in his sight.
 16 How much more abominable and filthy is man,
 who drinks up iniquity like water!
 17 "I will tell you something.
 Listen to me, and I will declare to you what I have seen, 18 what wise men have told and not concealed from their fathers, 19 to whom alone the land was given,
 when no foreigner passed among them:
 20 The wicked man writhes in pain all his days;
 the number of his years is hidden from the oppressor.
 21 Terrifying sounds ring in his ears.
 In prosperity the destroyer comes on him.
 22 He does not believe that he will return from darkness,
 as the sword waits for him.
 23 He wanders around for food, saying
 "Where is it?"
 He knows that his day of darkness is already at hand.
 24 Trouble and anguish make him afraid.
 They overwhelm him like a king ready
 for battle.
 25 For he stretches out his hand against God and strengthens himself against the Almighty, 26 running at him headlong with his thick embossed shield.
 27 "Though his fat covers his face,
 and his waist bulges with fat, 28 he will live in desolate cities,
 in houses where no man lives,
 which are about to become heaps of rubble.
 29 He will not become rich;
 nor will his wealth continue;
 nor will his possessions spread in the land.
 30 He will not depart from darkness.
 The flame will dry up his branches;
 and by the breath of God's mouth
 he will pass away.
 31 Let him not deceive himself, trusting in emptiness.

manner he used in his first speech (4:2-6). He now says plainly that Job's words are nothing but hot air.

15:4 He thought Job's questioning the goodness and justice of God had this result. 15:5,6 He believed Job was trying to cover up his sins by insincerely insisting on his innocence, and that it was obvious from his defiant words against God that he was a great sinner.

15:7-10 He accuses Job of being proud of his wisdom and unwilling to humbly listen to others. He tries to bring against him the authority of men much older than he.

15:11 He calls his and his friends' words to Job about repentance and restoration "God's consolations" (5:8-27; 8:5-7; 11:13-19). No doubt those words were beautiful and would be full of good exhortation and comfort to a man who needed to repent of his sins and turn to God. But Job did not need to do that (he had already done so – long before this), so those words were not God's consolations to him.

15:12,13 Certainly Job's friends were shocked at some of the things he dared to say to God.

15:14-16 Similar to language Eliphaz had used in his first speech (4:17-19) but stronger. These words reveal how disturbed he was by Job's claims of innocence. The last part of v 16 in Hebrew is literally "drinks up wrong."

15:17-19 He thinks he has a message for Job and begins with a solemn introduction.

15:20-35 There is nothing new in his message, no advance to higher ground in his argument. He describes very vividly the punishment that comes to a wicked man. He obviously wants Job to apply the lesson to himself. He mentions things that actually happened to Job or that Job revealed about himself. Compare v 20 with 2:13; v 21 with 1:14,17; v 22 with 10:20-22; v 24 with 7:13-15. Eliphaz believes Job is behaving as the man described in v 25. He is sure that Job is trusting in something altogether false – his supposed innocence. So he puts in the warning of v 31.

"Hypocrites" – the Hebrew indicates

- For emptiness will be his reward.
 32 This will be fulfilled before his time,
 and his branch will not become green.
 33 Like a vine he will shake off his unripe grape,
 and like an olive tree will shed his blossom.
 34 For the company of hypocrites will be barren, and fire will consume the tents
enriched by bribery.
 35 They conceive trouble and give birth to evil,
 and their inner man prepares deceit."

- 16 Then Job answered and said,
 2 "I have heard many such things.
 Miserable comforters are you all.
 3 Let windy words come to an end.
 What compels you to answer?
 4 I also could speak like you.
 If you were in my place,
 I could heap up words against you,
 and shake my head at you.
 5 But I would strengthen you with the words of my mouth, and comfort from my lips would bring relief to you.
 6 "If I speak my grief is not relieved.
 And if I refrain, how is it eased?
 7 But now he has worn me out.
 You have made all my family desolate.
 8 You have shriveled me up,
which is a witness against me.
 And my emaciation rises up and testifies against me to my face.
 9 He who hates me tears me in his wrath.
 He gnashes on me with his teeth.
 My enemy fastens his sharp gaze on me.
 10 They gape at me with their mouth.

profane or godless persons.

16:1-6 Since there is nothing new in the speech of Eliphaz Job doesn't bother to answer it. These friends came to comfort him (2:11), and it was comfort he wanted. But he got none from them. Nor, for that matter, from his own words.

16:7,8 10:2; 13:20.

16:9 10:16,17; 13:24.

16:10 Job includes his three friends in this.

16:11,12 Refers to the first two chapters of the book.

16:13,14 6:4.

16:15,16 These words all indicate intense grief and mourning (Gen 37:34; Jer 6:26; Lam 2:10; Ezek 27:30).

16:17 This he says in answer to Eliphaz's accusation in 15:4,5.

16:18 Compare Gen 4:10. Job likens himself to an innocent man who has been murdered. He does not want the injustice he feels has been done to him to be concealed forever. He wants his cry to go on resounding everywhere until action is taken to make matters right.

- They insultingly strike me on the cheek.
 They gather together against me.
 11 God has delivered me up to the ungodly, and handed me over to the wicked.
 12 I was at ease, but he shattered me.
 He seized me by my neck and shook me to pieces.
 He has set me up as his target.
 13 His archers surround me.
 He does not spare, but pierces my kidneys and pours out my gall on the ground.
 14 He shatters me with break after break, running at me like a warrior.
 15 "I have sewed sackcloth over my skin,
 and laid my horn in the dust.
 16 My face is red with weeping and the shadow of death is on my eyelids, 17 Although my hands are free of violence,
 and my prayer is pure.
 18 "O earth, do not cover my blood, so that my cry has no place!
 19 Even now, see, my witness is in heaven,
 and my record is on high.
 20 My friends scorn me, but my eye pours out tears to God.
 21 Oh, that someone might plead for a man with God,
 as a man pleads for his neighbour!
 22 For after a few years have come,
 I will go on the path of no return.

- 17 "My breath is corrupt,
 my days are extinguished,
 the grave is ready for me.

16:19 Job means God Himself is his witness and advocate. In his pain and depression he accused God of acting unjustly toward him, of being his enemy. But in the midst of these moments the faith in God which never leaves his heart shines forth again. If God will stand on his side and witness to his innocence, then, plainly, God is not his enemy. Job is not thinking clearly and logically; his thoughts are tossed this way and that by the fact of his extremely puzzling and dreadful circumstances. Unbelief and faith in God's justice struggle together in his mind. First one then the other gets the upper hand. He knows deep in his heart that the one true God must be just, but what has happened to him seems evidence against it.

16:21 The one who pleads for Job turns out to be God Himself (42:7). This may have been what Job had in mind. So now the believer's advocate is God Himself – the Lord Jesus Christ (1 John 2:1).

16:22 7:21; 10:20-22.

17:1 "My breath is corrupt" – strange as it may seem, this could also be translated "My therefore you will not exalt them.

and I have become one at whom men spit.

of sorrow,
and my limbs are like shadows.

and the innocent stirs himself up against the hypocrite.

and the one with clean hands will become stronger and stronger.

and to the worm, 'My mother!' and 'My sister!'

Who could see my hope?

spirit is broken." The Hebrew word translated "breath" also means "wind" or "spirit" and the word translated "corrupt" also has more than one meaning. See the note at Ps 14:7.

17:2 Job means his three friends.

17:3,4 "With yourself" – Job seems to be speaking to God here. God has kept his friends from understanding his true state before God. In the trial that seems to be going on to establish his guilt or innocence, Job wants justice. There is no one else to stand by him and help him to this end, so he appeals to God Himself.

17:6 30:10.

17:7 16:8,16.

17:8,9 Job knows that what has happened to him amazes the righteous, but he is confident that they will not be stumbled by it. In fact, he thinks it may well promote righteous living. This is the opposite of the opinion expressed by Eliphaz in 15:4.

18 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,
2 "How long before you put an end to such words?

Use some understanding, and afterwards
we can talk.

- 3 Why are we regarded as beasts and considered brutish in your sight?
- 4 You tear yourself in your anger.
Will the earth be abandoned for you?
Or will the rock be moved from its place?
- 5 "The light of the wicked will certainly be put out;
the flame of his fire will no longer shine.
- 6 The light in his tent will become dark,
and the lamp beside him will be put out.
- 7 His strong stride will be shortened,
and his own scheme will overthrow him.
- 8 For he is hurled into the net by his own feet,
as he walks into the snare.
- 9 The trap seizes him by the heel,
and the snare catches him.
- 10 A noose is hidden for him on the ground,
and a trap awaits him on the road.
- 11 Terrors frighten him on every side,
and drives him to his feet.
- 12 His strength becomes famished,
and destruction is ready at his side.
- 13 It devours parts of his skin;
the firstborn of death devours his limbs.
- 14 His security is uprooted from his tent,
and he is brought before the king of terrors.
- 15 In his tent nothing of his will reside;
sulfur will be scattered over his dwelling.
- 16 His roots dry up below,
and his branch above will be cut off.
- 17 The memory of him will perish from the earth,
and he will have no name outside.
- 18 He is driven from light into darkness,
chased out of the world.

17:10-16 As for himself Job questions whether there is any hope that conditions will improve for him. So it won't matter if his friends attack and accuse him again. And they are not slow to accept the invitation he gives them in v 10.

"Grave" (vs 13), "death" (v 16) – in Hebrew "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

18:3 Bildad's pride is wounded. So he tries to hit back hard at Job.

18:4 He insists that the reason for Job's continuing misery is in Job himself. Declaring Job innocent when he is guilty would be like completely turning upside down the natural order of the universe; God cannot be expected to act against His own laws just for the sake of one man.

18:5-21 Job's friends simply cannot believe he is innocent of great wrong doing. They ignore all he says about it. Their minds are made up and they don't want to be

- 19 He has no son or descendant among his people, nor anyone remaining in his dwelling.

and those in the east are frightened.
21 Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of the one who

- 19 Then Job answered and said,
2 "How long will you torment my soul and break me in pieces with words?
3 These ten times you have insulted me.
You are not ashamed to wrong me.
4 Even if I have really erred,
the error remains with me alone.
5 If indeed you exalt yourselves against me
and plead my disgrace against me, 6 Know, then, that God has wronged me,
and closed his net around me.
7 "See, I cry out about this wrong,
but I am not heard;
I cry out loudly, but obtain no justice.
8 He has fenced up my way so that I cannot pass, and has set darkness in my paths.
9 He has stripped me of my honour,
and taken the crown from my head.
10 He has destroyed me on every side,
and I am gone.
He has uprooted my hope like a tree.
11 His anger burns against me,
and he regards me as one of his enemies.

their way against me,
and encamp around my tent.

but he gives no answer.
I have to beg him with my own mouth.
17 My breath is offensive to my wife, and I am loathsome to my own brothers.
18 Yes, even young children despise me.
When I get up they speak against me.
19 All my bosom friends abhor me,
and those I love have turned against me.

and I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.
21 "Have pity on me, O my friends, have pity on me!
For the hand of God has struck me.

and are not satisfied with my flesh?

Oh, that they were recorded in a book!
24 Oh, that they were permanently engraved confused with facts. They are convinced beyond doubt that there is an unchangeable law of God at work. Their reasoning was very simple and went like this –

Great calamities are sent only on great sinners.

Great calamities have been sent on Job. Therefore Job is a great sinner.

Let us beware lest our system of theology, like theirs, ignores some of the facts and brings us to false conclusions. In his second speech Bildad follows the lead of Eliphaz. The verses which follow are a vivid description of what happens to the wicked man. Like Eliphaz, Bildad refers to events that have taken place in Job's life (vs 11-14,19). In v 21 he is saying that Job is an evil man who does not know God. 19:1-3 These words reveal how painful to Job were the false accusations of his friends.

"You are not ashamed to wrong me" – the Hebrew phrase may also be translated "You make yourselves strange to me."

19:4,5 Even if Job had sinned, it had not hurt them in any way. And it is not their business to exalt themselves as prosecutors or judges.

19:6,7 Well, he says, if they insist on judging him he will give them something to use as evidence – he will say that God has not treated him fairly, has caught him in a net like a bird; he cries for justice, for release, but his cries are in vain.

19:8-20 Job gives a list of the things he thinks God has unjustly done to him. God took away all these – light (v 8), honor (v 9), hope (v 10), God's smile (vs 11,12), the help of brothers and friends (vs 13-15), love (vs 17-19), and health (v 20).

19:17 "Brothers" – the literal Hebrew is "sons of my womb," but this cannot mean Job's own children, for they were all dead. It must mean those who were born from the same womb as he was, his brothers.

19:21,22 Job thinks the "hand of God" has struck him. But see 1:12; 2:6. He felt so forsaken, so sad, so desperate that he appeals even to these prejudiced accusers for pity. It should have been clear to him by now that he would receive none from them.

19:23-27 We come now to some of the most beautiful and significant words in the book of Job. The harsh way Job's family and relatives have treated him and the accusations of his friends now produce a good result. Job finds no help, no comfort in them, so he must look to God alone. Once again

- 25 For I know that my Redeemer lives, and that he will stand at last on the earth.
- 26 And after this skin of mine has been destroyed,
in my flesh I will see God.
- 27 I myself will see him,
and my eyes will gaze on him, and not another.
My inner being longs for this.
- 28 "If you say,
'How should we persecute him?'
seeing the root of the matter is found in me,
- 29 You yourselves should be afraid of the sword.
For God's wrath brings the punishment of the sword,
so that you may know there is judgment."

20 Then Zophar the Naamathite answered and said,

- 2 "Therefore my troubled thoughts compel me to answer,

he finds hope and faith stirring in his heart (notes at 14:13-15,16-22; 16:19). He knows he is about to say something very important and wants his words recorded permanently (vs 23,24). In this his wish was fulfilled, for his words are forever recorded here in the Bible. In verses 25-27 Job's faith rises to its highest point. It becomes full assurance. He uses the words "I know."

The essence of what he knows is this: he has a living Redeemer; this Redeemer is none other than God Himself; and this Redeemer will stand on the earth at some future time and Job will see Him. In Old Testament days a redeemer was one who rescued others from trouble or bondage, restored to them their lost property, took their side against oppressors and avenged them (Gen 48:16; Deut 13:5; Lev 25:25; Num 35:12; Ruth 2:20; Prov 23:11; Isa 49:25,26; Jer 50:33,34. Note at Ps 78:35). Job was probably thinking along these lines – none of his relatives was willing to come to his help (v 14), and his friends accuse instead of defending him (v 19); so God Himself will come to his aid, will vindicate him, will deliver him, will avenge his blood (16:18,19).

When did Job expect this to happen? Would it be while he was still living or after he was dead? It is hard to know because the Hebrew in v 26 is very difficult to understand. It could be translated like this: "After my skin is destroyed, apart from my body I will see God." The Hebrew word translated "in" in some versions can mean "from within", or sometimes it can mean "away from." If the meaning is "away from" then Job is saying he expects to see God in a spiritual state after death. If this is the meaning then it is not clear what God standing on the earth would have to do with Job's seeing Him.

If the Hebrew word is translated "from and so I make haste to speak.

- 3 I have heard the rebuke that reproaches me,
and my understanding spirit causes me
to answer.
- 4 "Do you not know from olden times,
since man was placed on earth,
5 That the triumph of the wicked is brief, and the joy of the hypocrite is only for a moment?
- 6 Though his arrogance mounts up to
the heavens,
and his head reaches to the clouds,
7 Yet he will perish forever like his own dung.
Those who had seen him will say, 'Where is he?'
- 8 He will fly away like a dream,
and will not be found.
Yes, he will be chased away like
a vision of the night,
- 9 And the eye which saw him will see him
no longer;

within" then we should look for a different meaning to Job's words. They have been interpreted in two ways. Some scholars have thought Job meant this: While he was still living God would appear on earth; his skin by his disease is breaking up and falling away, but he will still be in the body when God comes. At the end of the book God does come and vindicates Job and gives him health and prosperity again, and possibly this is the meaning of Job's words here. However, there is another interpretation – Job may be referring to the resurrection of the body after death; he will be able to see God because the Redeemer will come to earth and raise him to life again. The author of these notes believes this is the best interpretation of Job's words.

In 14:14 Job asks if man will live again after he dies. God had not yet revealed to men the answer to this question. Perhaps now God's Spirit begins to reveal it to his suffering servant and inspires him to declare the great hope of the resurrection. He may have been led by God to say more than he fully understood himself. In any case, how he longed for the day when he would see God, whether in the body or out of the body (v 27). This testifies to the fact that he had a good conscience and was ready to meet his Maker.

"At last" (v 25) – or "at a later time."

19:28,29 Job now gives a warning to his friends. He is sure God will vindicate and avenge him. If they continue to accuse him they are in danger of judgment.

20:3 Job's friends slander him and heap dishonor on him, but when he gives a comparatively mild rebuke to them (19:28,29) they are very much upset and offended.

20:4 "Man" – or "Adam" – the Hebrew means both of these.

20:4-29 Nothing Job says can overturn the false doctrine of his friends. Their minds

- nor will his place any longer set eyes on him.
- 10 His children will seek the favour of the poor,
and his hands will give back his wealth.
- 11 His bones are filled with youthful vigor,
but it will lie down with him in the dust.
- 12 "Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, though he hides it under his tongue,
- 13 Though he spares it and does not forsake it,
but still keeps it in his mouth,
- 14 Yet his food in his stomach will turn sour,
and become like the venom of cobras
inside him.
- 15 He has swallowed down riches,
but will vomit them up again.
God will expel them from his stomach.
- 16 He will suck the poison of cobras;
the viper's tongue will kill him.
- 17 He will not see the streams,
the rivers flowing with honey and cream.
- 18 What he laboured for he will give back,
and will not swallow it down.
He will get no enjoyment from the riches obtained from his trading.
- 19 Because he has oppressed and abandoned the poor,
because he has violently taken away a house which he did not build,
- 20 "Surely he will feel no quietness in his inner being.
He will not keep anything he desires.
- 21 Nothing will be left for him to eat,
so his well-being will not last.
- 22 In the fullness of his abundance,
he will experience distress.
The hand of all the miserable will

- come against him.
- 23 As he is about to fill his stomach,
God will hurl on him the fury of his wrath,
will rain it down on him while he is eating.
- 24 He will flee from the iron weapon;
a bronze bow will pierce him.
- 25 It is drawn out;
it comes out of the back;
yes, the glittering point goes through his gall bladder.
Terrors seize him.
- 26 Total darkness lies in wait for his treasures.
An unfanned fire will consume him.
It will go ill with him who is left in his tent.
- 27 The heavens will reveal his iniquity,
and the earth will rise up against him.
- 28 The increase in his house will depart, and his possessions will flow away
in the day of God's wrath.
- 29 This is the allotment of a wicked man from God,
the inheritance God appoints for him."

21 But Job answered and said,
2 "Listen carefully to my words, and let this be the consolation you give.

- 3 Bear with me so that I can speak;
and after I have spoken, mock on.
- 4 "As for me, is my complaint to man?
And if it were, why should I not be impatient?
- 5 Look at me and be astonished,
and lay your hand over your mouth.
- 6 Even as I remember I am afraid, and trembling seizes my body.
- 7 Why do the wicked live on, becoming old;
yes, becoming mighty in power?

are not ready to receive any new ideas. They are convinced they are wise men who have the answers to life's problems. But they cannot even begin to understand a man like Job. In this second speech of Zophar he strikes the same note as in his first speech (11:6,10-12). But now, as he describes the kind of man he thinks Job is, his words are much sharper than before. He says that the history of man proves his doctrine (vs 4,5). The wicked may prosper for a time (as Job did), but he will certainly be destroyed (vs 6-11); his ill-gotten gain will perish with him (vs 12-22); God Himself will rise up against him, will expose his guilt and bring him to ruin (vs 23-29).

In this venomous speech Zophar indirectly is calling Job wicked (v 5), proud (v 6), a lover of evil (vs 12,13), an oppressor of the poor (v 19), and a covetous man (v 20). Zophar has no evidence at all that Job is like this. It is his false doctrine that assures him that Job must be like this (note on 18:5-21).

21:1-3 How can Job listen to such wild accusations and then reply to them? See

Jam 5:11.

21:4-34 Here Job undertakes to show that the doctrine of his friends is false. It does not at all happen to the wicked as Zophar, Bildad, and Eliphaz say (15:20-30; 18:5-21; 20:21-29).

In vs 4-7 Job says he is terrified, not because the wicked are punished on this earth, but because they are not. And he, a man who has lived a righteous life, is, he thinks, being punished. So his complaint is not against men but against God's way of dealing with men. The wicked, he says, live on to a ripe old age, their children prosper and are happy, no rod of God comes on them.

In vs 8-12 Job thinks of the happiness of the children of the wicked (and doubtless contrasts this with the sad loss of his own children). The wicked, after a long and pleasant life, die suddenly without pain and suffering (v 13). They are so evil they do not want God and refuse to pray to Him (vs 14-16). But they rarely experience the kind of calamities that have come on Job (vs 17,18). Job's friends suggest that the

- 8 Their children are established in their sight, with them, and their offspring before their eyes.
- 9 Their houses are safe from fear, and the rod of God does not come on them.
- 10 Their bull does not fail to breed; their cow has its calves without miscarriage.
- 11 They send out their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.
- 12 They take the tambourine and harp and rejoice at the sound of the flute.
- 13 They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.
- 14 Yet they say to God, 'Leave us, for we do not desire the knowledge of your ways.
- 15 Who is the Almighty that we should serve him? And what profit do we have if we pray to him?'
- 16 See, their prosperity is not in their hand. The counsel of the wicked is far from me.
- 17 "How often is the lamp of the wicked put out? How often does their destruction come upon them, the sorrows God distributes in his anger?"
- 18 How often are they like straws before the wind, and like chaff that a storm carries away?
- 19 It is said, 'God stores up the punishment of a man's iniquity for his children.' Let him repay him, so that he will know it.
- 20 Let his eyes see his destruction, and let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
- 21 For what care does he have about his household after him, when in the number of his months he is cut off?
- 22 "Can anyone teach knowledge to God, since he judges those on high?"
- 23 One dies in his full strength,
- being completely at ease and quiet.
- 24 His chest bulges with fat, and the marrow of his bones is moist.
- 25 Another man dies in the bitterness of his soul, never having eaten with pleasure.
- 26 They lie down alike in the dust, and the worms cover them.
- 27 "Look, I know your thoughts, and the schemes by which you would wrong me.
- 28 For you say, 'Where is the house of the nobleman, and where the tents where the wicked lived?'
- 29 Have you not asked travellers on the way? Do you not understand the indications they give?"
- 30 For the wicked are reserved for the day of destruction. They will be brought out on the day of wrath.
- 31 Who declares his ways to his face? And who repays him for what he has done?"
- 32 Yet he will be brought to the grave, and will remain in the tomb.
- 33 The clods of the valley will be pleasant to him. Everyone will follow him, just as innumerable ones have gone before him.
- 34 How then can you comfort me with vain words, since your answers contain falsehood?"
- 22 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,
- 2 "Can a man be of benefit to God, as a wise man may benefit himself?"
- 3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty if you are righteous? Or would he gain something, if you made your ways perfect?"

sins of evil men may be punished in their children (5:4; 20:10). In vs 19-21 Job says this would not be just.

Job tells his friends they should not try to teach God about judgment, but should learn from the facts. And the facts are that God's judgments are very mysterious; whether a man is good or bad doesn't seem to have anything to do with whether he enjoys prosperity (vs 22-27). Job's friends try to make him out to be a terrible sinner. But they ignore the facts in order to defend their idea (vs 27,28). Job says that their experience is confined to their own little circle, that even by asking travelers from other places they could learn the truth (vs 29-33). The truth is, a wicked man is sometimes spared when disasters occur in a place, and goes peacefully to the grave. Multitudes both before and after go in the same way. If Job's friends deny this fact they are speaking nonsense and lies (v 34.

See what Solomon says in Ecclesiastes 7:15). 21:12 "Flute" – the KJV has "organ" here, but this cannot be right. What we call an organ had not yet been invented.

21:13 "Grave" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

21:24 "Chest" – the meaning of the Hebrew word here translated "chest" is uncertain.

21:30 "For the wicked are reserved for the day of destruction. They will be brought out on the day of wrath" – this could possibly be translated "That the wicked are spared from the day of calamity, that they are delivered from the day of wrath?" This translation actually fits the context better.

21:33 "As innumerable ones have gone before him" – or "go before him."

22:2,3 Eliphaz is saying that even if a man lived a righteous life it would not put God under obligation to him. God would not withhold punishment for sin for fear of losing some benefit.

- 4 "Is it because of your fear of God that he rebukes you,
that he enters into judgment with you?
5 Is not your wickedness great,
and your iniquities without limit?
6 For you have taken a pledge from your brother for nothing,
and stripped the clothing from the naked.
7 You have not given water to the weary to drink,
and you have withheld bread from the hungry.
8 But this mighty man possessed the land,
and this honourable man lived in it!
9 You have sent widows away empty-handed,
and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
10 Therefore snares surround you,
and sudden terror alarms you, 11 Or darkness so that you cannot see,
and a flood of waters covers you.
12 "Is not God in the heights of heaven?
And see how high are the highest stars!
13 And you say, 'What does God know?
Can he judge through the dark clouds?
14 Thick clouds cover him so that he cannot see,
and he walks above the circle of the heavens.'
15 Will you keep to the old way that wicked men trod,
16 Those who were cut down before their time, whose foundations were washed away
by a flood?
17 They said to God, 'Leave us!
What can the Almighty do for people'?
18 Yet it was he who filled their houses
with good things.

22:4-14 Eliphaz has already made up his mind. The truth of what Job said in chapter 21 should have been obvious to all, but it has no effect on Eliphaz. One idea has fastened itself in his mind – God does not send calamities on the innocent. He is so sure of this that though he does not know of any sins Job has done he is driven to invent some. In 13:4 this is just what Job said his friends were doing. These friends were all doing something God hates. It is described in Prov 17:15 – "He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous, both of these are abomination to the LORD." They were afraid of committing the first of these errors but they fell easily into the second. Later Job answers all of Eliphaz's accusations in 29:12-17; 31:5-40.

22:15-20 Eliphaz here probably refers to the wicked who lived in Noah's day and were cut off in the great flood (Gen 6:5-7). He brings it forward to prove that it is not the righteous but the wicked who suffer great disasters. However, one example does not overthrow the facts as Job has stated them in

- So the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
19 "The righteous see all this, and are glad.
And the innocent laugh them to scorn, saying,
20 'Surely our enemies are cut off, and fire consumes their remnant.'
21 Become acquainted with him and be at peace.
Good will come to you through that.
22 Please receive instruction from his mouth,
and store up his words in your heart.
23 If you return to the Almighty,
you will be built up;
you will remove iniquity far from your tents.
24 Then you will lay your gold in the dust, and the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brook.
25 Yes, the Almighty will be your gold,
and your choicest silver.
26 For then you will delight in the Almighty, and will lift your face up to God.
27 You will pray to him, and he will hear you;
and you will pay your vows.
28 You will decide a thing and it will be established for you.
And light will shine on your ways.
29 When men are cast down, then you will say,
'Lifting up will come.'
Then God will save that humble person.
30 He will deliver even one who is not innocent; and he will be delivered because of the purity of your hands."

- 23 Then Job answered and said,
2 "Even today my complaint is bitter.
My hand is heavy on my groaning.
3 Oh, that I knew where I might find him, chapter 21. In v 20 Eliphaz may be referring to what happened to Job's prosperity in 1:16. 22:21-30 Eliphaz may have realized that in the preceding verses he has gone too far in his accusations, and been too harsh in his condemnation of Job. Now he softens his words and gives a beautiful appeal to Job to repent and turn to God. However, just as his first appeal in chapter 5, so this one does not at all suit Job's condition. See note on 5:17,18.

"Enemies" (22:20) – the KJV translators put "substance" here. It seems that they got this from the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the Hebrew Old Testament), and not from the Hebrew.

22:22 "Instruction" – the Hebrew word also means "law."

22:25 "Gold" – the KJV has "defense" but this is not the meaning of the Hebrew word used here. "Gold" obviously fits the context better.

22:30 "Not" – the KJV has "island" of the innocent, but the Hebrew also means "not."

23:1 In this chapter also the thoughts and desires which struggle in Job's heart are self-

- that* I might come to his seat!
- 4 I would set my case before him,
and fill my mouth with arguments.
- 5 I would know the words he would give in answer,
and understand what he would say to me.
- 6 Would he oppose me with his great power?
No, but he would give his attention to me.
- 7 There the righteous could dispute with him, and I would be delivered forever from my judge.
- 8 "Look, I go forward, but he is not there;
and backward, but I do not perceive him.
- 9 When he is at work on the left,
I cannot see him; when he turns to the right I cannot see him.
- 10 But he knows the way that I take.
When he has tested me,
I will come forth as gold.
- 11 My foot has held to his steps;
I have kept to his ways and not turned aside.
- 12 Nor have I turned back from the command of his lips.
I have treasured the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.
- 13 "But he alone decides,
and who can change him?
And whatever his soul desires, that he does.
- 14 He carries out what is appointed for me.
And many such plans are with him.
- 15 Therefore I am fearful in his presence.
When I consider, I am afraid of him.
- 16 For God makes me faint-hearted, and the Almighty frightens me.
- 17 Because I am not cut off from the darkness, nor from the dense darkness that covers my face.

- 24 "Since times are not hidden from the Almighty,
why do those who know him never see his days?
- 2 Some men remove boundary stones.
They take away flocks by violence and devour them.
- 3 They drive away the donkey of the fatherless;
they take the widow's ox as a pledge.
- 4 They push the needy off the road;
the poor of the earth hide themselves from them.
- 5 Look, they go out to their work like
the wild donkeys of the desert, seeking carefully for food.
The wilderness provides food for them
and for their children.
- 6 They gather their fodder in the field,
and glean in the vineyard of the wicked.
- 7 They spend the night naked, without clothing;
they have no covering in the cold.
- 8 They are wet with mountain showers,
and hug the rocks for lack of shelter.
- 9 The fatherless are snatched from the breast;
the property of the poor is taken as a pledge.
- 10 Lacking clothing, they must go about naked;
and the sheaves are taken away from the hungry.
- 11 They press out oil inside their walls,
and tread the winepresses,
yet suffer thirst.
- 12 Men groan in the city, and the soul
of the wounded cries out.
Yet God does not charge the wicked with wrongdoing.
- 13 "They are the ones who rebel against the light;
they do not know its ways, or remain in its paths.
- 14 The murderer rises before the light contradictory. He longs to be able to come into God's presence (v 3), yet is terrified of Him (vs 15,16). He thinks if he could argue his case before God he would be proved innocent (vs 4-7); but in spite of his innocence he feels that God will go on making him suffer (vs 13-15).

Job is a mixture of faith and fear, of confidence and doubt. One idea that is prominent here is similar to that in 16:19 (see note). In answer to Eliphaz's accusing question in 22:15 Job says he has kept in God's way and not turned aside (vs 10-12). In v 10 Job seems almost to grasp the reason for his sufferings, as he did once before (7:18). However he quickly passes over the thought. But he is confident that whatever the test God may put on him he will remain a man of integrity and righteousness. He knew that no matter how hot the fire gold will not be damaged by it. If there is some mixture of impurity it will be separated by the heat and the gold will remain.

24:1 Job wonders why God does not set specific times to right the wrongs that exist on earth, times to clear the righteous and punish the wicked.

24:2-4 He begins now a description of the behavior that should be judged.

24:5-12 The destitute are crushed beneath the iron heel of the wicked. Yet God, Job thinks, does nothing about it (v 12). He has set no times to bring the wicked into court. He lets them go on in their violence and oppression. He lets the innocent poor suffer and groan. These are facts which his friends can hardly deny. But they seem to close their eyes to them because they are contrary to their idea of divine retribution. (If our ideas have to ignore the facts, is it not time to change our ideas?) Job, on the other hand, cries out "Where is justice? We search for it in vain in this world." He did not realize that justice would be handed out in the next world, after death.

24:13-17 He describes the wicked as people of darkness (compare Eph 5:8-12; John 3:19-21).

24:18-21 Job admits that eventually the wicked will perish. He does not deny that at times divine retribution is at work in the world.

"Grave" - in Hebrew "Sheol" - note at Gen 37:35.

24:22-24 But often, Job says, God actually seems to be protecting evil men from disaster. And when they die it is in the natural course of things just as with everyone else. Like plants that develop fully ripened grain they have a full span of life before being cut off.

24:25 Job says that these are the facts. His meaning in all this, of course, is that his friends are very wrong to teach that the wicked are always punished in this life and the righteous always rewarded.

25:1-6 This is the third and last speech of Bildad. He has nothing new to say. He completely ignores the facts Job has given. Bildad has two points - God is very great, and compared to God's holiness no created thing, and certainly not man, can be considered righteous and pure. All very true, but it does not speak to the point Job has raised. The last remarks of Bildad are in opposition to Job's claim of righteousness (23:10-12). These are the last recorded words of Job's three friends. They do not stop talking because they are convinced of their error, but because they see Job will not accept what they say about him.

26:1-4 In very sarcastic language Job pours scorn on Bildad. It is plain to him that Bildad is totally incapable of helping him understand anything of God's ways. If we talk long enough people will find out what we are.

26:5-13 Bildad has brought up the theme of God's greatness as though Job knew nothing about it. Job enlarges on the same subject and far surpasses Bildad (and the other two friends) in his eloquent descriptions of God's power. Bildad spoke of God's sovereignty in heaven. Job says he knows God's sovereignty extends even to the lowest regions of the universe - to the dead, to destruction, to Sheol (compare Isa 14:9-15).

26:6 "Hell" - in Hebrew "Sheol."

"Destruction" - in Hebrew "Abaddon."

26:7 Here he gives the picture of the earth hanging in space with no support. This may have been the common idea of educated men of Job's time and place. Or it could be evidence of a revelation God had once given to mankind not recorded any place else in the Bible, or it might be a truth God had revealed directly to Job.

26:9 "Of his throne" - or it could be translated "the full moon." See the note on the Hebrew language at Ps 14:7.

26:12 "The proud" - in Hebrew "Rahab." The word is used six times in the Hebrew Bible. The root meaning of the word is "proud." Sometimes, at least, the word is used as a symbolic name for Egypt (Ps 87:4), and Job may be referring to Egypt here. If not, it is not clear what he means. It is possible, as some scholars have thought, that Job is speaking of the ocean lifting itself up like a proud sea monster. The name has nothing to do with the harlot Rahab mentioned in Joshua. In Hebrew her name is spelled differently - more like Rakhab.

26:14 Job says God's works speak of Him. Compare Ps 19:1-4. But what men hear is only like a whisper. God's power is so great that His works which are known to us, wonderful as they are, can indicate only a tiny part of it. No one can begin to understand His omnipotence. Job obviously had very high views of the greatness of God. It is not because he is ignorant of it that he says God has unjustly sent calamities on him.

27:1 Job may have paused here so that Zophar could take his turn to speak. Zophar said nothing, so Job continued. The Hebrew word translated "discourse" or "parable" in some English versions, as a verb means to speak using poetic language or proverbs or parables.

27:2 The only time in the book Job speaks with an oath. He thinks God has denied him justice and has Himself caused his sufferings. However, notice that he does not deny God or give up faith in Him.

27:3 "Life" - or "breath" - Gen 2:7.

"Breath" - or "spirit" - the Hebrew word means several things.

27:4-6 Job is determined to state things as he believes they are. He will not try to deceive his friends to win the argument. He will not admit he is guilty of some terrible sin when he knows he is not. Even if falsely admitting it would win back his friends and God's favor he would not do it.

27:6 He knows he has lived a life of uprightness and integrity and he fully intends to go on the same way. He has lost property, family, health, the respect of his friends, and God's fellowship. One thing he is determined not to lose - his integrity. He will not start lying, deceiving, or acting wickedly. He is saying, "Though everything has gone, though I am shattered by God and despised by men, I will continue to be honest. Though I stand utterly alone and am reduced to poverty and loathsome disease, though the world mocks me, friends misunderstand me, and heaven frowns on me, I will go on being true and upright. My integrity at least I am resolved never to lose."

May God give us such men today - men who would rather lose their lives than lose their integrity! No wonder God spoke of Job as He did in 2:3. See also Ezek 14:14.

27:8-10 Both Bildad and Zophar had used similar language about the ungodly (8:13; 20:5). Job now says he fully agrees with them.

27:8 "Hypocrite" - the Hebrew word indicates a profane or godless person.

27:11-23 Until now Job had maintained that often evil men prosper and live to a and the inheritance oppressors will

and his offspring will not have enough bread.
15 Those who are left to him will be buried in death,
and his widow will not weep.

17 He may accumulate them,

20 Terrors overtake him like a flood;
a tempest snatches him away in the night.
21 The east wind carries him away,
and he is gone;
the storm sweeps him from his place.

ripe old age, and that God's judgment does not always come on them in this world (21:7-13,30-33; 24:2-12). Job now seems concerned that his friends have misunderstood him. Have they thought he was defending the wicked? Did they think he was teaching that wickedness pays and so it is better to be wicked than righteous? See how Eliphaz accuses him in 15:4.

In this chapter Job would set the record straight and try to correct any false impressions he may have created in his friends' minds. Maybe he realized that he had insisted too strongly on one side of the argument. This often happens when men argue and their emotions are stirred up. Now in vs 13-23 Job fully admits that the wicked are not immune to punishment in this world. Job's language in these verses is almost like that of his friends when they described the fate of the wicked. He seems now to take their side of the argument. But actually he is a long way from doing so.

Remember their doctrine is this: God always rewards the righteous and punishes the wicked on earth; He does not send calamities on the righteous, nor allow the wicked to escape. For the sake of argument Job is willing to admit the second of these ideas, but not the first. He will agree that disasters come on the wicked, but not that they do not come on the righteous. In agreeing with his friends' position on the fate of the wicked Job may have been inconsistent. And it may strike the reader of his words that he agreed with them too strongly. (Job could never, it seems, state anything in lukewarm language. For every idea that he expressed he used very strong terms.) But surely one thing at least resulted from these words – his friends could no longer accuse him of defending the wicked or of thinking it didn't matter whether a person was wicked or righteous.

28:1-28 Man makes great efforts to find precious metals and gems. He searches in barren and difficult places. But Job's subject is wisdom – something far more valuable than gold, silver, and jewels. Where can it be found? If a man actually finds it how can he identify it? Such is Job's theme in this chapter.

28:3 "End to darkness" – by the lamps the miners take into the mines.

28:4 "Dangles, swinging" – as the miner descends on ropes into the mine shaft.

28:5 In his search for valuable things man creates destruction inside the earth much as a fire would do.

28:7,8 Man searches for treasure in desolate places where even birds of prey and wild beasts do not go.

28:20-23 No living being, including man, no one in the realm of death knows where wisdom is found. Neither life nor death can teach us wisdom. Only God knows what it is, where it is, and how man can obtain it.

"Destruction" (v 22) - in Hebrew "Abaddon."

28:24-27 God is the only one who sees everything, and can do everything. So He alone really knows wisdom.

28:28 God has revealed to man the truth about wisdom which man could never discover by searching. Wisdom is not piling up information, or storing up facts. Wisdom is not education. There are many educated fools in this world. Wisdom is not knowing the truth about the nature of things. Wisdom is not even having true doctrines about God and man. True wisdom is a proper attitude toward God. It is related to morality and ethics. It is devotion to God and fear of offending Him. It is turning away from evil (Ps 111:10; Prov 1:7; 9:10; Eccl 12:13). We know from the first chapter of this book that Job had this wisdom (1:1,8). We are not told his friends had it. Of course, they thought they themselves were the wise ones and that Job did not have wisdom (11:6; 15:2-4; 18:2,3; 20:3). 29:1 Perhaps Job paused again for one of his friends to speak. If he did not, it is unclear why these words should be used here again. From their continued silence it appears that the argument is over and they have lost it. Of course, they would not have been willing to admit this. Job now begins a lament which continues over the next two chapters (30:31). In it he contrasts the life he once enjoyed (chapter 29) with his present pathetic condition (chapter 30).

29:2-6 Job is saying that when disasters came he was not living a sinful life, he was not without God's fellowship. He had God's light, God's presence, God's smile, God's blessings.

29:7-11 Job was a man others honored and respected. In other words, they knew he was not wicked.

29:12-17 He was respected because his deeds proved him worthy of respect. Compare this with Eliphaz's false accusations in 22:5-11.

29:18-20 He did not think calamities would come on him, because he could see no reason whatever why they should.

29:21-25 He knows that he was a leader, a counselor of others, and that he had not abused his position.

29:24 "Did not cause the light of my face to fail" – the meaning of the Hebrew here is uncertain.

30:1-14 Instead of the honor and respect Job once experienced he faces the scorn and opposition of base and useless men.

Their fathers had been regarded by the people of that region as unfit to live there and had been driven out (vs 5,8). Now these young men spit in Job's face and try to cause him all the trouble they can (16:10,11).

toward death (and he did not – 6:8,9; 7:15), still he will cry out for help.

30:25,26 This is his complaint all along – he has not been rewarded according to his deeds, but God has dealt with him unjustly. He thinks God has not treated him as well as he – Job – has treated others.

30:27 3:26.

30:29 This may refer to the piercing, mournful sounds these animals make, and perhaps to their solitariness.

30:31 Job compares his final lament to the mournful tones made by musical instruments, rising, falling, and dying away.

31:1-4 This chapter closes Job's defense against the accusations of his friends. Here he sets forth his righteous behavior, not in a spirit of boasting but because his friends have driven him to it. See note on vs 38-40. The situation is not unlike that of Paul's who was forced by the church at Corinth to defend himself against the accusations of false teachers (2 Cor 11:21-29; 12:1-3. See also 1 Sam 12:1-3; 24:8-15; 26:17-24; Ps 17:1-5. Compare Psalm 26).

Job knew that he shared in the fallen condition of all men (13:26; 14:4,16,17; 31:33). Perhaps he did not yet have that deep understanding of the depravity of human nature that some other Old Testament saints had. But he lived (probably) before God gave His law through Moses, and the law gives men a deeper knowledge of sin (Rom 7:7-9). However that may be, Job well knew that he had lived a sincere, godly, and righteous life. He is not self-righteous but has the testimony of a good conscience (compare Acts 23:1; 24:16; 2 Cor 1:12). So in his eyes he did not deserve the calamities that came on him, and the doctrine of his friends concerning divine retribution was hopelessly wrong.

31:1 In the list of his virtues Job puts this one first. Not only had he kept himself from adultery and fornication, he had resolutely determined not even to let wrong desires form in his mind. He was very careful in the way he looked at a girl. In this he anticipated the teaching of Christ in the sermon on the mount (Matt 5:27,28). He understood that morality and purity were not merely a matter of outward acts but of the inner thoughts and desires.

31:4 The reason for his virtuous behavior was his knowledge of God. God was always in his thoughts (vs 2,4,14,15,23,28). He feared God, wanted to please God, honored God in every sphere of his life.

31:5-8 He has led a life of complete honesty and sincerity, always holding to God's way of holiness and virtue. He was fully aware that God hates lying and deceit.

31:9-12 He has always been faithful to his wife, never once going with another woman. He regarded adultery as a very terrible sin, which indeed it is (Ex 20:14; Lev 20:10; 1 Cor 6:9; Heb 13:4).

31:12 "Destruction" – in Hebrew "Abaddon."
31:13-15 He has behaved fairly toward his servants. He recognized that in God's sight men are men, and that no one should be treated as if belonging to an inferior caste 31:16-23 He has treated the poor with kindness and compassion – a virtue God regards very highly indeed (Ex 22:22-27; Deut 24:17; Ps 68:5; 82:1-4; Prov 23:10,11).

31:21 "In the gate" – the place where the ruling body of the town met.

31:24-28 He kept himself from the idolatry of wealth, and from the worship of creation rather than the Creator. He knew that it is not possible to be true to God while worshiping anything other than God (see Ex 20:3-6; Deut 4:19; 17:2-5; Rom 1:25).

31:29,30 He has not allowed the spirit of vengeance to possess him (Prov 20:22; 24:29; 25:21; Rom 12:19-21).

31:31,32 He has practiced hospitality to strangers (compare Deut 10:17-19; Heb 13:2).

31:33,34 When he sinned he did not try to cover it up but confessed and forsook it. Observe that he does not deny he has sinned. He realized that true virtue is not merely what one does or does not do when others are watching, but what one does or does not do when only God is watching. Compare Ps 90:8; 139:23,24; Matt 6:6,18; John 3:20,21; Eph 5:8-14; Heb 4:13.

"Like Adam" – or "like a man." In Hebrew the word for man and for Adam is the same, and here could be translated either way.

31:35 "My desire" – the literal meaning of the Hebrew word is "mark", and the sentence could be translated, "See, my mark. Oh, that the Almighty would answer me." "Mark" possibly indicated signature, as if Job's case is written out and he now signs it.

31:35-37 Job longs for a hearing before God's judgment seat (13:3,15,18; 16:19; 23:3-5; 24:1). He has prepared his defense. He has declared the righteous life he has lived before God and men. He desperately wants to know what God has against him. If God would write out His complaint against him Job says he would wear it like a crown where all could see it. That is, he is quite sure that God has no serious accusations to make against him. He thinks he can give even to God a good account of his whole life, could approach God with the firm, bold step of a prince. So certain is Job of his integrity.

31:38-40 Job has an afterthought. There is one aspect of his righteousness he hasn't mentioned – the proper way he had treated his land and those who worked for him. If he has behaved unjustly let a curse come or caused its owners to lose their lives, 40 May thistles grow up instead of wheat, and weeds instead of barley!"

The words of Job are ended.

32 So these three men stopped answering Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.

2 Then the anger of Elihu the son of Barakel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was aroused against Job. His anger burned because Job justified himself rather than God.

3 Also his anger was aroused against his three friends, because they had found no answer, yet had condemned Job.

4 Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job, on his land, he says. (See also vs 8,10,22.) At last he has no more to say. In legal terms, we would say the defense rests its case.

What should we think of Job's defense? We do not like to hear an individual telling us how good and righteous he is. Some people are quite eager for men to know their good deeds, and describe them even to God (Matt 6:2; Luke 18:9-12). So when a person speaks of his righteous life we tend to suspect that he is either ignorant of himself or is covering up some sin or is proud and boastful. But in Job's case this was not so.

Job and his friends are having a deep theological discussion which involved an important doctrine, and this discussion turns on the matter of Job's guilt or innocence. If his life style did not merit the calamities which came on him, then the doctrine of his friends was in error. This is what Job is attempting to prove. For the sake of the truth he felt compelled to describe his righteous life as it was. And we know he did not paint a false picture, did not exaggerate his virtues.

God Himself said Job was the best man on earth in his generation (2:3. See also Ezek 14:14). So his life is a beautiful example to all of us. If we wish to have God's approval as he did, let us live as he did. But was Job not self-righteous? Verses like 10:15 and 7:20,21 suggest otherwise. Self-righteousness is something that cleaves very naturally to man's fallen nature, and it would not be surprising if there were some taint of it in Job. For Job had a sinful nature as all men have. But if Job was much given to self-righteousness it is hard to understand God's unqualified approval of him in 1:8; 2:3 (in 2:3 one of the things God praises Job for was that he maintained his integrity in spite of all that Satan had done against him).

Surely God hates self-righteousness more than we ever can. So we may judge that if Job was guilty of it he was probably less guilty of it than anyone else in his generation. And it certainly was not a dominating force in his life. And, it seems to the author of these notes, that even if because they were older than he.

5 When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his anger was aroused.

6 And Elihu the son of Barakel the Buzite answered and said,

"I am young, and you are very old.

Therefore I was afraid and dared not express my opinion.

7 I told myself that age should speak, and advanced years should teach wisdom.

8 But there is a spirit in man, and the inspiration of the Almighty gives him understanding.

9 Great men are not always wise; nor do the aged always understand justice.

there was a taint of self-righteousness in Job's character, it is in no way central to the teaching of the book of Job.

32:1 Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar have nothing more to say, concluding that Job was self-righteous.

32:2 Apparently Elihu had been present all the time the discussion had been going on. For all we know there may have been several (or many) others there also. Elihu was not an uncommon name and other Elihus are mentioned in the Bible (1 Sam 1:1; 1 Chron 12:20), but this is the one place that this particular Elihu appears. We know nothing of the Barakel or Ram mentioned here, but it is also said that Elihu was a Buzite. One person named Buz was a son of Nahor, Abraham's brother (Gen 22:21). If Elihu was a descendent of that Buz then he was closely related to the forefathers of the Hebrew nation.

Elihu's anger burned against Job because Job had justified himself rather than God. (See also God's question to Job in 40:8.) Job had clearly said his cause was just (10:7; 27:5,6; 31:35-37) and that God had wronged him (19:6; 27:2; 30:25,26). Job said so because in his pain and perplexity and darkness no other explanation seemed to fit the circumstances. Job had also spoken in a way that showed he believed in the justice of God (16:19; 19:23-27; 23:3-7). If Job had not been convinced of God's just character he would not have wanted to appear before him in judgment). As we have seen, very painful and conflicting thoughts possessed Job's mind. See note on 16:19.

32:3 Elihu was a lover of justice. If Job speaks unjustly about God his anger burns; when the three friends speak unjustly about Job his anger burns. Elihu sees clearly the fault of the friends - they condemned Job without being able to answer his arguments (v 12).

32:7 "Age" - literally "days."

- 15 In a dream, in a vision of the night,

33 "Therefore, Job, please hear what I have to say,

it as well as the old, Elihu says.

32:12-17 Though the friends have failed to defeat Job in argument they must not think, he says, that every man will fail. Elihu thinks he can succeed. At v 15 he stops speaking to Job's friends and speaks about them.

32:18-20 Elihu is very excited and eager. As Job's friends spoke he kept thinking of things he would like to say. He could hardly contain any longer the words that would rush from his mouth. He was not the last to feel so in time of argument and debate.

32:21,22 Elihu has some fear of God, so refuses to take either Job's side or that of Job's friends. And he resolves to speak very frankly.

33:1-4 Elihu is sure he has something very important to say. He thinks he can solve the problem that has arisen over Job's sufferings. This young man is very confident that he is wise and upright and honest (33:3; 36:3,4). But already, this early in his speech, he seems lacking in humility.

33:5-7 In 9:32-35 Job expressed a wish for someone to act as a mediator. He wanted to argue his case before God, but because of the pain and disasters that came to him he experienced much fear (13:20-22). Elihu seems to be saying here that he will act as this mediator. Job can present his case fully to him without fear.

33:6 "Just like you, I belong to God" – the KJV here seems a strange translation, hardly possible at all, but the Hebrew is difficult.

33:8-11 Elihu is certain Job has said some wrong things and now calls them to his attention. In the last part of v 10 and in v 11 he quotes Job's words (13:24,27). In v 9 he gives what he thinks is the meaning of some of Job's remarks (9:21; 10:7; 16:16; 23:10; 27:5). However, Job has never said he was holy and pure. He knew otherwise (13:26; 14:4,16,17; 31:33). Elihu, by attributing to Job's words a meaning Job never intended, shows he will not be able to answer him. But Elihu has put his finger on the point of Job's biggest failing in the argument with his friends – Job had spoken of God as becoming his enemy and unjustly acting as a persecutor and jailer.

33:12,13 Elihu is correct in this matter. God is far greater than any man and more just in His dealings than any man could ever be. God does not need to give to men an account of His behavior.

33:14-30 In these verses we have Elihu's

- when deep sleep falls on men,
 while they slumber on the bed, 16 Then he opens the ears of men,
 and seals their instruction,
 17 So that he may turn a man from his evil
 behaviour and keep a man from pride.
 18 He keeps back his soul from the pit,
 and his life from perishing by the sword.
 19 A man is also chastened by pain on his bed,
 by anguish in his many bones.
 20 So that his whole being loathes bread,
 and his soul the choicest food.
 21 His flesh wastes away from sight, and his bones, which were not seen, stick out.
 22 Yes, his soul draws near the grave,
 and his life to the destroyers.
 23 If there is a messenger for him,
 a mediator, one in a thousand,
 to show man God's uprightness, 24 Then he is gracious to him and says,
 'Deliver him from going down to the pit;
 I have found a ransom.'
 25 Then his flesh will become fresher than a child's;
 he will return to the days of his youth.
 26 He will pray to God,
 and God will show him favour.

solution to the problem that has come up about Job's sufferings. He says that although God does not give an account of His actions He does speak to men. He speaks in dreams, especially fearful dreams, and visions (vs 15,16. See note at Num 12:6). God also speaks through chastisements and pains (vs 19-22). Eliphaz also, in his first speech, had referred to both of these (4:12-16; 5:17,18). But Elihu deals with these matters much more clearly and fully than Eliphaz. Job spoke of the fearful dreams and visions which had come to him (7:13,14), of his ceaseless pain (30:16,17), his lack of hunger (3:24), and his emaciated condition (16:8; 19:20).

Elihu uses similar language about dreams and sufferings. In other words, he wants Job to apply to himself all that he says. He tells Job what he thinks is the purpose of it all. Terrifying dreams and fearful pains are God's messengers, he says, and God sends them for three very good reasons. God wants to turn men from evil, break their pride, and save them from destruction (vs 17,18, 29,30). Evidently Elihu is sure that Job is guilty of wrongdoing and pride and needs to be saved from destruction. That is, in some measure at least, he is in agreement with the three friends. In general what Elihu says here is excellent and suitable to the condition of many people. But it did not fit Job's case and did not solve the problem of Job's sufferings.

33:18 "Keeps back his soul from the pit" – this could also be translated "or preserve

 Twice, thrice he does them to a man.

him from the grave."

"From perishing by the sword" – or "from crossing the River." See note on the Hebrew language at Ps 14:7.

33:23-30 Elihu describes a way which God may use to restore the suffering, chastised man. The language of vs 23,24 in Hebrew is difficult and obscure. We cannot be sure whether the messenger is an angel or a man, whether he is a very exceptional individual – one in a thousand, or one of many – one together with a thousand others. And we do not know what the "ransom" referred to means. Some scholars think Elihu regarded himself as the messenger; others think he means an angel from heaven; others think Elihu was unknowingly uttering a prophecy about Christ who would come as God's messenger to men, the one Mediator between God and men, who gave Himself as a ransom to redeem men. In any case, Elihu is holding out hope to Job – if only Job listens to what God is saying to him he will regain his health, joy, and righteousness, and God's fellowship (vs 25,26). Elihu thinks that then Job will speak like the man in vs 27,28.

33:31-33 Elihu now gives Job an opportunity to answer if he wishes. Job remains silent – perhaps because he wants Elihu to continue, or perhaps because he sees Elihu has said nothing very new and that he has already given an answer to such ideas. Elihu's confidence in his own wisdom (v 33) causes us again to doubt his humility.

34:1-4 Elihu believes his words to be so manifestly wise that if anyone has any discernment he will be forced to concede it (see 36:4).

- 5 "For Job has said, 'I am righteous, and God has taken away justice from me.
- 6 Should I lie about my right?
My wound is incurable,
though I am without transgression.'
- 7 What man is like Job,
who drinks up scorn like water?
- 8 He goes in the company of evildoers,
and walks with wicked men.
- 9 For he has said, 'It profits a man nothing for him to delight in God.'
- 10 "Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding.
Far be it from God to act wickedly,
and from the Almighty to commit iniquity!
- 11 For he will repay a man according to his deeds, and sees that everyone finds the reward
for his ways.
- 12 Yes, certainly God will not act wickedly, nor will the Almighty pervert justice.
- 13 Who put him in charge of the earth?
Or who has appointed him over the whole world?
- 14 If he sets his heart on it,
and gathers back to himself his Spirit
and his breath,
- 15 All flesh would perish together,
and man would turn again to dust.
- 16 "Now if you have understanding hear this;
- listen to the sound of my words.
17 Should one who hates the right govern?
And will you condemn the most just one?
18 Is it proper to say to a king,
'You are wicked'?
And to princes, 'You are ungodly'?
19 How much less the One who does not show
favouritism to princes,
or regard the rich more than the poor!
For they are all the work of his hands.
20 In a moment they die in the middle of the night,
and the people are troubled and pass away,
and the mighty are taken away without a hand touching them.
- 21 "For his eyes are on the ways of man,
and he sees all his steps.
22 There is no darkness or shadow of death where evildoers can hide themselves.
23 For he does not need to lay more charges on man, that he should go before him in judgment.
24 Without investigation he breaks in pieces mighty men
and sets up others in their place.
25 For he knows their deeds, and he overturns them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
26 He strikes them down as the wicked men they are,
openly, in the sight of others,

34:5-9 He now sets forth what he thinks Job's position is. In v 5 he quotes some of Job's words (13:18; 27:2). In vs 6 and 9 he gives what he thinks is the essence of some of the things Job says. Job knew that when he claimed to live a righteous life his friends did not believe him, and that circumstances seemed to testify against him. Job never used the words of v 9, but Elihu thought he meant this from the words he did use (9:21-24; 21:7-9; 24:12).

But Job also said things that indicate he sometimes thought the opposite of this (21:14-16; 27:7-23; 28:28). Elihu is being most unfair to Job in his accusations in vs 7,8. The lover of justice (32:3) can himself be unjust. Verse 7 suggests a constant thirst for mocking. Elihu is saying Job loves to use scornful language. Zophar accused him of the same thing (11:3). Job did scorn some of his friends' remarks, but this is because he saw that they were worthy of scorn. It is clear that Elihu with all his professed wisdom did not understand Job.

34:10-12 Elihu now begins to defend God's justice against what he thinks are Job's attacks. He has a very high view of God's justice. Whatever may have happened to Job, however Job may question God's justice, whatever may happen in the world, whatever suffering and calamities may come on men, one thing is absolutely certain -

God can do no wrong. (How true this is - compare Gen 18:25; Deut 32:4; Ps 11:7; 89:14; Jer 9:24; Acts 7:31; Rev 16:7). In v 11 Elihu says that God gives to men according to their deeds. This indeed is the essence of justice and is often stated in the Bible (Ps 62:12; Prov 24:12; Jer 32:19; Ezek 33:20; Matt 16:27; Rom 2:6; 2 Cor 5:10; Rev 22:12).

However, like the three friends, Elihu assumed that this reward or punishment of deeds was taking place now in this world. He knew nothing, of course, of the judgments revealed in the New Testament (Matt 25:33-36; Acts 17:31; 2 Cor 5:10; Rev 20:11-15). So Elihu is really saying just what the three friends said - Job is guilty and receiving the just punishment for his bad deeds. So Elihu has not been able to give a better reason for Job's sufferings than they did.

34:13-15 God is the absolute sovereign of the universe and can do what He will. He does not need to give an answer to anyone.

34:14 "On it" - the word for "man" (KJV) is not in the Hebrew here.

34:17 Verse 5; 40:8.

34:18-30 God is completely impartial in His judgments. He sees all, knows all, and rules over all with justice.

34:23 The Hebrew of the first phrase is very and he heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 When he gives quietness, who then can make trouble?
And when he hides his face,
who then can see him,
whether this is done against a nation or against an individual?
30 He does this so that the hypocrite does not

If I have committed iniquity,
I will not do so again.'
33 Should he reward you according to your terms, obscure and so the meaning is doubtful.

34:31-33 Elihu wants Job to speak like the man in vs 31 and 32. If Job will not, Elihu is sure he cannot hope for God's mercy.

34:34-37 Since Job refuses to be a humble penitent, confessing his sins and begging for mercy, Elihu, like the three friends, is certain that Job is a rebellious sinner. Notice v 36. Did Elihu not realize that Job had already been tried to the utmost? What more did he desire Job to suffer? Some "mediator" Elihu is proving to be! Oh, who is like Christ the Lord! (Heb 2:17,18; 4:15,16; 1 John 2:1).

35:1-3 Elihu thinks he has suitably dealt with Job's words about God's justice. Now he takes up a second complaint he has against Job. He had already stated it in 34:9. See note there.

35:2 "My righteousness is more than God's" – of course, Job never said this, but Elihu thought this was the meaning of some things he did say.

35:3 "You" – or "me."

35:4-8 Man's deeds, whether good or bad, cannot really affect God, Elihu says. God is exalted above the heavens, He is completely self-sufficient. Nothing that man does can

35 Elihu continued speaking and said,
2 "Do you think this is just?"

You say, 'My righteousness is more than God's.'

3 For you say, 'What advantage would it be to you,
what benefit would I have,
if I refrained from sinning?'

4 "I will answer you, and your companions with you.

5 Look at the heavens and see,
and gaze at the clouds which are higher than you.

6 If you sin, what are you doing to him?
Or if your transgressions are increased,
what are you doing to him?

7 If you are righteous,
what are you giving him?
Or what does he receive from your hand?

8 Your wickedness hurts a man like yourself, and your righteousness helps only
a son of man.

9 "The people cry out because of the many acts of oppression;
they cry out because of the arm of the mighty.

10 But no one says,
'Where is God, my Maker,
who gives songs in the night,

11 Who teaches us more than the beasts
of the earth,
and makes us wiser than the birds of the sky?'

12 There they cry out, but he does not answer, because of the pride of evil men.

add anything to God or take anything away from Him. He deals with men with impartial justice. He has arranged matters in such a way that man's righteous deeds or evil deeds affect only men. For these reasons righteousness is profitable to men, and wickedness unprofitable. In this Elihu was not altogether accurate. All sins are against God (Ps 51:4); they cause Him pain and grief (Gen 6:6); eventually they were all laid on the Son of God (Isa 53:4-6), and meant sufferings and death to Him; and God gets satisfaction from the righteous deeds of His people, and their lives are significant in the unseen war going on between God and Satan (1:8-12; 2:3-6).

35:9-15 Does Job think righteousness is unprofitable because God does not hear the cries of the righteous? Evidently Elihu thinks that Job thinks so. Certainly this is an idea that Satan inserts into many people's minds. Many true believers also are sometimes tested on this point. They sometimes are tempted to think when they get no answers to their prayers that serving God is useless. Elihu says there are good reasons why God does not hear men when they cry out in their misery.

- 13 Certainly God will not listen to an empty cry;
the Almighty will not pay attention to it.
- 14 Although you say you do not see him,
yet the case for judgment is before him,
and you must wait for him.
- 15 But now, because he has not punished
in his anger,
in his great extremity Job does not understand.
- 16 Therefore Job opens his mouth for empty talk.
He multiplies words without knowledge."

- 36 Elihu continued and said,
2 "Bear with me a little while,
and I will show you that there is still more to be said on God's behalf.
- 3 I will bring my knowledge from afar.
I will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
- 4 And truly my words are not false;
one who is perfect in knowledge is with you.
- 5 "See, God is mighty,
but does not despise anyone;
he is mighty in strength and wisdom.
- 6 He does not preserve the life of the wicked,
but gives the poor their rights.
- 7 He does not withdraw his eyes from
the righteous,
but seats them with kings on the throne;
yes, he establishes them forever,
and they are exalted.

First, they do not acknowledge God as Creator and Teacher and direct their cries to Him alone (vs 10,11). They act as if they had learned no more than dumb beasts. If they humbly pray to their Maker He would give them "songs in the night" – joy in the midst of troubles.

Second, God often ignores men's cries because they are both wicked and arrogant. So their prayers are empty and insincere (vs 12,13). In vs 14-16 Elihu applies this to Job. God, he says, is even less likely to hear Job's pleas than those of wicked, arrogant men. Why? Because of the way Job speaks. According to Elihu, Job has fully denied God's justice (vs 14,15); so he must be even worse than the arrogant and wicked man.

"Teaches" (v 11) – This could also be translated "Who teaches us by the beasts of the earth and makes us wise by the birds of the air."

"Wait for him" (v 14) – the Hebrew here does not mean "trust thou in him" (KJV).

"Extremity" (v 15) – the Hebrew word here also means weakness or folly or stupidity. This whole sentence in Hebrew is obscure and difficult.

35:16 See 8:2; 11:3; 12:2; 15:2,3; 16:3; 18:2,3; 26:3; 34:35; 38:2.

36:1,2 Elihu has already spoken three times (32:6; 34:1; 35:1), as often as any of the three friends. Do his hearers show signs

- 8 But if they are bound in fetters and held by the cords of affliction,
- 9 Then he shows them their deeds, and the transgressions they have arrogantly committed.
- 10 He also opens their ear to instruction and commands them to turn back from iniquity.
- 11 If they obey and serve him,
they will spend their days in prosperity,
and their years in pleasures.
- 12 But if they do not obey,
they will perish by the sword,
and they will die without knowledge.
- 13 "But the hypocrites in heart store up wrath;
they do not cry out for his help when he binds them.
- 14 They die in youth, and their life ends
among the male shrine prostitutes.
- 15 He delivers the poor in their affliction,
and opens their ears to hear him in oppression.
- 16 "And also he would have brought you out of distress into a broad place
free of restraint;
and what is set on your table
would have been full and rich.
- 17 But now your life is full of the judgment
on the wicked;
judgment and justice have taken hold of you.
- 18 Because of his wrath,
beware that he does not take you away of restlessness? Wait, he says, I have more to say on God's behalf.

36:3,4 He thinks he will give new truth not revealed in anything the others have said. He is sure he knows the truth and that his wisdom is very great indeed. Again he gives us good reason to doubt his humility. Is he not speaking of himself when he says "one who is perfect in knowledge is with you"? It seems so, but see 37:16.

36:5-21 In these verses Elihu has two main points. First, God wisely and impartially determines what men should experience (vs 5-9); second, God's chastening has a merciful purpose – the correction and reformation of erring men (vs 10-15. See 33:14-30). He then applies these truths to Job (vs 16-21). There is good in what he says (v 15, for example), but his remarks are not what we would expect from a person "perfect in knowledge." Concerning God's rewarding the righteous and punishing the wicked in this world, he gives the same old view that both he and the three friends have presented before. He ignores, just as they did, all the facts which Job had urged against this view. And by some of his remarks he reveals again that he does not understand Job.

"Will perish by the sword" (v 12) – or the Hebrew may mean "will cross the River."

36:18-20 The language of the Hebrew is

- with a blow;
for a great ransom would not be able to deliver you.
- 19 Will he esteem your riches?
No, not gold or all the powers of strength.
- 20 Do not desire the night,
when people are cut off from their places.
- 21 Be careful, do not turn to iniquity, which you have preferred to affliction.
- 22 "See, God is exalted in his power.
Who teaches like him?"
- 23 Who can appoint his way for him,
or say, "You have done wrong?"
- 24 Remember to praise his work, which men see.
- 25 Everyone sees it; man looks on from afar.
- 26 See, God is great, and we do not know him;
nor can the number of his years be searched out.
- 27 "For he draws up the drops of water;
they distill as rain from the vapour,
- 28 Which the clouds pour out and let fall on man abundantly.
- 29 And can anyone understand how the clouds spread out,
the thundering sound from his tent?
- 30 See, he spreads his light on it,
and covers the depths of the sea.
- 31 Through these things he judges the peoples and gives food in abundance.
- 32 He conceals lightning in his hands,
and commands it to strike the mark.
- 33 Its sound announces it.
The cattle also show the rising storm.

difficult here and the meaning uncertain.
36:22 With this verse Elihu begins a long passage on the greatness of God which goes on to 37:24. It is full of beautiful truth. We might call it "Elihu's sermon on nature." The key verses are 36:26 and 37:5,14,19. Elihu is saying to Job "we cannot understand God's ways with His physical creation. How then can we understand His ways in His government of the world of men? They also will be mysterious and beyond our ability to grasp." How true this is! (5:9; 11:7; 15:8; Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34). But we should not think it was a truth Job was ignorant of. Elihu wanted Job to apply this truth to himself. But was Elihu just as eager to apply it to himself? It seems he thought he knew all about God's ways with Job.
36:23 He thinks Job is trying to do this.
36:24 "Which men see" – the Hebrew could be translated "of which men sing."
36:27 "He draws up the drops of water" – this means that God draws the water up from the earth by the process of evaporation.
"Distill as rain from the vapour" – or "distill as rain to the streams."
36:27-33 God shows His great wisdom in

- 37 "At this also my heart trembles and leaps from its place.
- 2 Listen! Listen to the thunder of his voice and the sound that comes from his mouth.
- 3 He sends it out under the whole heaven,
and his lightning to the ends of the earth.
- 4 A voice roars after it;
he thunders with his majestic voice.
He does not restrain the lightning flashes when his voice is heard.
- 5 God thunders marvellously with his voice.
He does great things which we cannot comprehend.
- 6 For he says to the snow, 'Be on the earth',
likewise to the gentle rain,
and to his great strong rain.
- 7 He seals the hand of every man,
so that everyone will know his work.
- 8 Then the beasts go into dens,
and remain in their places.
- 9 From the south comes the whirlwind,
and cold from the north.
- 10 Ice is given by the breath of God,
and the broad waters are frozen.
- 11 And he loads the thick cloud with moisture,
and scatters his lightning through the cloud.
- 12 By his guidance it swirls around,
to do whatever he commands them over the face of the whole inhabited earth.
- 13 He causes it to come, whether for correction,
or for his land, or as a mercy.
- 14 "Listen to this, Job.
Stand still and consider the wonderful works of God.

the making of rain and storm, and in using them in governing earth's people (v 31).
36:29 "His tent" – here the sky is regarded as God's tent.
36:32 "He conceals lightning in his hands" – the Hebrew could also be translated "He covers the clouds with lightning."
"To strike the mark" – this translation of the phrase brings out the meaning of the Hebrew, while the KJV here does not.
37:1-4 Evidently, while Elihu has been speaking, a storm has come up. He compares its thunders to the roar of God's voice.
37:5 Elihu goes on (up to v 14) to other phenomena in nature which show God's great wisdom.
37:10 God's breath here means the wind.
37:13 God uses climatic conditions in His wise government of the earth.
37:14-24 Elihu comes to the conclusion of all he has to say. The essence of it is this: He wants Job to recognize that God's greatness and wisdom are unsearchable (vs 14-18), to abandon his presumptuous desire to make a case before God (vs 19,20), and reverently submit to God (v 24). Verse 23

- 15 Do you know how God dispatches his clouds and causes their lightning to flash?
 16 Do you know how the clouds are balanced, those wonderful works of the One who is perfect in knowledge?
 17 Or how your clothes are hot when he stills the earth with the south wind?
 18 Have you joined with him in spreading out the sky, looking as strong as a cast metal mirror?
 19 "Teach us what we should say to him, for we cannot put our words in order because of the darkness.
 20 Should he be told that I would speak? If a man speaks, surely he will be swallowed up.

- 21 And now men cannot look at the bright light in the clouds, but the wind passes by and clears them away.
 22 From the north comes golden splendour; God comes in awesome majesty.
 23 The Almighty! We cannot find him. He is excellent in power, in judgment, and in abundant justice. He does not oppress.
 24 Therefore men fear him. He does not look to anyone wise in heart."

- 38 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
 2 "Who is this who darkens counsel by words without knowledge?
 3 Now make yourself ready like a man,

gives the sum of his views of God. Such a God is worthy of all honor and reverence from men. Elihu speaks well of God's greatness, of His just and righteous character.

But what of the man and his words as a whole? We should think of him neither too highly nor too lowly. He was a man made of the same clay as Job and his friends (33:6), and he revealed in his words that this was indeed so. He was eloquent and had considerable wisdom and knowledge of God. But he seems over-confident in his own wisdom (on this see 1 Cor 8:2). He says some fine things, but he fails to understand Job or to solve the riddle of Job's sufferings. He did not know that Job was a better man than he was himself. He seems on the whole to be superior to Job's three friends, but he was not Job's equal in character. We have God's own word for this (2:3).

Like all believers Elihu was a mixture of good and bad, wisdom and ignorance. He is a reminder to us that the highest reach of man's reason cannot comprehend the mysteries of God (1 Cor 1:25). It was good that he himself recognized this to some extent at least. His closing words beautifully lead us up to the coming of God on the scene in chapter 38. His words, possibly, have prepared the minds of Job and his friends for the words of God which follow.

37:24 "He does not look to" – or, possibly, "He does not have regard for."

38:1 Job had expressed the desire to stand before God that he might present his case (13:3,22; 23:3-7). God now suddenly comes to him and gives him the desire of his heart. It seems fitting that God should come in the storm. A mighty storm has been blowing across Job's life and thoughts. God has been in that storm too and has achieved His purpose. Now He comes in the clouds and thunder and speaks to His suffering servant.

We might think that God would now reveal to Job the reasons for his sufferings, or say something very comforting such as, "Job, I love you. You have passed the test

I sent; you have kept your faith in me. Now I will greatly bless you." However, God did not do this. It would seem that God had more to do in God's life before giving Him assurance of His love.

38:2 Whom did God mean by these words? Elihu was speaking when God came in the storm and God could have meant him. It seems a fitting rebuke to one who thought too highly of his own wisdom. If God did not speak these words about Elihu then He made no comment at all about him. And it seems strange that He would completely ignore him. He spoke to the three friends in 42:7,8, and had much to say to Job. However, God may have been speaking here about Job. Job himself thought so (42:3) – but this may have been merely a mark of Job's humility. Actually all five persons involved in the debate were there, so perhaps God meant these words as a rebuke to all of them. Maybe God put the question in an ambiguous way so that any of them who was willing to apply it to himself could do so.

God says that "counsel" has been "darkened" by foolish words. The Hebrew word translated counsel means here God's purpose, God's thought, God's plan that He was fulfilling toward Job. In their ignorance of God's ways Job, Elihu, and the other three all made this plan of God obscure. Their words, instead of bringing light on the subject, brought darkness. If we try to teach others this book, or any truth of God, we should be careful that we do not do as they did. We should never profess a knowledge we do not have, should never speak dogmatically about doubtful matters, should never think we have a monopoly on God's truth.

38:3 "Make yourself ready" – the Hebrew means "gird up your loins", but this phrase is obviously used metaphorically here. Now God speaks directly to Job. He is going to ask Job a series of questions. If Job would try to answer them he must be prepared for a very vigorous effort. Why is God asking

- for I will question you,
and you shall answer me.
- 4 "Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth?
Declare it, if you have understanding.
- 5 Who determined its measurements, if you know?
Or who stretched out the measuring line on it?
- 6 On what are its foundations fastened?
Or who laid its cornerstone,
- 7 When the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy?
- 8 "Or who shut in the sea with doors,
when it burst out,
as if coming from the womb,
- 9 When I made the clouds its garment,
and thick darkness its swaddling bands,
- 10 And fixed my boundaries for it,
and set up its bolted doors,
- 11 And said, 'You may come this far,
but no farther;
here your proud waves will stop?'
- 12 Since the beginning of your days have you given commands to the morning, and caused the dawn to know its place,
- 13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth and shake the wicked out of it?
- 14 The earth takes shape like clay under a seal,
and they stand out like a garment.
- 15 Their light is withheld from the wicked,
and the upraised arm is broken.
- 16 "Have you entered the springs of the sea?

- Or have you walked in the recesses of the deep?
- 17 Have the gates of death been revealed to you,
or have you seen the doors of the shadow of death?
- 18 Have you comprehended the wide expanse
of the earth?
Declare it, if you know all this.
- 19 "Where is the way to the dwelling place
of light?
And where does darkness have its place,
- 20 That you may take it to its boundaries,
and know the paths to its house?
- 21 Do you know because you were born then,
and the number of your days is so great?
- 22 "Have you entered the treasuries of the snow?
Or have you seen the treasuries of the hail,
- 23 Which I reserve for a time of trouble,
for a day of battle and war?
- 24 What is the way to the place where light is diffused,
or the east wind is scattered over the earth?
- 25 Who cuts a channel for the flood,
or a path for the thunderstorm,
- 26 To bring rain on the earth where no one lives,
on the wilderness where no one lives,
- 27 To satisfy the desolate wasteland,
and to cause the tender plant to bud?
- 28 Does the rain have a father?
Who begets the drops of dew?
- 29 From whose womb comes the ice?
And who gives birth to the frost

Job these questions instead of comforting him? Job has been questioning God's government of the world. He has expressed doubts about the justice of God's dealings with men. Did Job think, then, that he had more wisdom than God? In the matter of ruling the world did he think he could do a better job than God?

God asks the following questions in an ironic way. We can detect, can we not, a smile behind them. He knows very well that Job cannot answer a single one of them. His purpose is to show Job his proper place. He means to shut Job's mouth, to get him to confess he has spoken foolishly. God succeeds perfectly in this (42:3-6). Only after that does He comfort Job. Very often God must cause men to shut their mouths in order to bless them (compare Rom 3:19,21-24). Calamities did not come on Job because he was guilty of wrong doing. But after the calamities came, in his attempts to explain matters, Job at times was guilty of wrong speaking. This he had to confess and set right.

38:4 God is showing Job how little he knows. See the ironic way God repeatedly reveals Job's lack of understanding (vs 5,18,20,21,33; 39:1,26).

38:7 These morning stars may here signify angelic beings.

"Sons of God" – angels. God is speaking of a time before men had been created (see also Job 1:6). Observe that the creation of earth was a source of great rejoicing in heaven.

38:12-35 God shows Job also how little he can do (vs 16, 20, 22, 31, 32, 34). God wants Job to fully understand that he is lacking in knowledge and incapable of doing even the smallest thing God does; that his complaints have been against the all-wise, all-powerful Creator and Sovereign of the universe.

In these chapters God is showing also the folly of all men who question His wisdom, power, and ways. How many there are who know nothing, and can do nothing, who yet dare to criticize all God does! And how many others there are who look at this marvelous universe and dogmatically deny the existence of God! The arrogant ignorance of atheism! God here asks questions that should cause every human being to lay his hand on his mouth and admit his ignorance. Nature should teach us humility. Alas, many people, learning a tiny fraction of creation's mysteries, turn proud and imagine that nothing is beyond the power of their reason.

from the heavens?

and the surface of the deep is frozen.
- 31 "Can you bind the cluster of the Pleiades, or loosen the cords of Orion?
- 32 Can you bring forth the constellations
in their seasons,
or lead out the Bear with its cubs?
- 33 Do you know the ordinances of the heavens?
Or set up its dominion on earth?
- 34 "Can you raise your voice to the clouds, so that an abundance of water may

- 35 Can you send out lightning flashes, so that they go and say to you,
'Here we are!'
- 36 Who has put wisdom in the inner being,
or who has given understanding to the heart?
- 37 Who can number the clouds by his wisdom?
Or who can tilt the water jars of heaven,
- 38 When the dust becomes hard,
and the clods stick together?
- 39 "Do you hunt the prey for the lion,
or satisfy the appetite of the young lions, 40 When they crouch in their dens, or lie in wait in their lairs?
- 41 Who provides food for the raven, when its young ones cry out to God and wander around for lack of food?

- 39 "Do you know the time when the wild mountain goats give birth, or do you watch when the deer is in labour?
- 2 Can you number the months they fulfil?
Or do you know the time when they give birth?
- 3 They crouch down, they give birth to their young ones,
they rid themselves of their labour pains.
- 4 Their young ones flourish,
they grow up in the field;
then they go away and do not return to them.

- 5 "Who has let the wild donkey go free?
Who has untied the bonds of the wild donkey?

or spend the night by your manger?
- 10 Can you harness the wild ox to the furrow with ropes,
or will he harrow the valleys behind you?
- 11 Will you trust him because his or will you leave your labour to him?

- 12 Will you trust him to bring home your grain, and gather it to your threshing floor?
- 13 "Did you give the noisy wings to the peacock,
or wings and plumage to the ostrich?

and lets the sand warm them, 15 And forgets that a foot may crush them, or that a wild beast may break them.

Have you clothed its neck with thunder?
- 20 Can you frighten him like a grasshopper?
His majestic snorting produces terror.
- 21 He paws the valley and rejoices in his strength.
He goes out to meet man's weapons.
- 22 He mocks at fear and is not frightened;
nor does he turn back from the sword.
- 23 The quiver rattles against him,
the glittering spear and the shield.

38:31 "The cluster of" – or "the twinkling of", or "the chains of", or even "the beautiful." The Hebrew is obscure. Pleiades and Orion are two constellations.

38:32 "Constellations" – Hebrew "Mazzeroth." Some think the word indicates the morning star.

"The Bear" – the constellation called Ursa Major or the Big Dipper. But the meaning of the Hebrew here is unclear and several different translations have been offered.

38:36 What makes man differ from the rest of earth's creation? How is it that he has a mind that can have wisdom and understanding? God has given it to man. Wisdom does not arise and evolve out of dumb and dead matter.

38:39-41 God speaks of His wisdom and care over the whole animal creation. The implication is that if God cares about all, will He not have loving concern for men? Compare Matt 6:25-32.

39:1 This whole chapter is taken up with the theme God began in the closing verses of the preceding chapter. God is keeping a close watch on everything on earth. He treats the whole animal world with wisdom and skill. Will He do less for men, for Job? Also we can see in this chapter the mighty Creator of the universe recounting with joy some of the works of His hands. He seems to be exulting in His creation (see also Gen 1:31; Prov 8:22-31; Ps 104:31).

- 24 He eats up the ground with fierceness and rage;
nor does he stand firm at the sound of the trumpet.
- 25 At the blast of the trumpets, he says 'Aha!'
He scents the battle from afar, the thunder of the captains and the shouting.
- 26 "Does the hawk fly by your wisdom,
and stretch her wings toward the south?
- 27 At your command does the eagle soar up and make her nest on high?
- 28 She makes her dwelling on a rock and spends the nights there on the rocky crag, in her stronghold.
- 29 From there she seeks for prey;
her eyes see it from a long distance.
- 30 Her young ones also suck up blood, and where the slain are, there is she."

40 Then the LORD continued to answer Job
and said,

- 2 "Will the one who contends with the Almighty correct him?
Let the one who rebukes God answer it."
- 3 Then Job answered the LORD and said,
4 "Look, I am insignificant.

40:2 Job has been wanting to argue his case before God (13:3; 23:4). He thought he had a great many things to say in his defense. But in the two preceding chapters God has revealed something of His own great power and wisdom and has overwhelmed Job with questions he has no answers for. Now God asks him if he thinks he is wise enough to give God correction and advice. Does Job wish to continue the debate? Then let him answer God now.

40:3-5 Job does not dare to answer. (Compare Rom 3:19.) Though his own questions about God's justice have not been answered, he will not repeat them to God's face (compare Rom 9:20). God's way with him is succeeding.

40:4 "Insignificant" - this is a better translation of the Hebrew word for today than "vile" (KJV), which now conveys a wrong meaning. The Hebrew word means "small," "worthy of being despised," or "of no weight or worth," or "insignificant." Job is not confessing sin here or referring to his sinful nature or speaking of any vile acts. He is acknowledging his smallness and insignificance and so his inability to speak to the great Creator. God has still more to accomplish in Job before He gives him comfort and blessing. He will do His work in Job inwardly before He heals him outwardly. So He continues to speak to Job. Of course, the very fact that God had come to him and was speaking to him must have been an indescribable comfort in itself to this sad and suffering man. Job may well have thought "Let God say anything, only let Him be here and speak!" (compare Ps 28:1).

- What answer can I give you?
I lay my hand over my mouth.
- 5 Once I have spoken, but I will not answer.
Yes, twice, but I will proceed no further."
- 6 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind and said,
- 7 "Now make yourself ready like a man.
I will question you, and you instruct me.
- 8 Would you indeed do away with my judgment?
Would you condemn me that you may be justified?
- 9 Do you have an arm like God's, or can you thunder with a voice like his?
- 10 Then adorn yourself with majesty and splendour,
and clothe yourself in glory and beauty.
- 11 Scatter the fury of your wrath, and see everyone who is proud and humble him.
- 12 Look on everyone who is proud and bring him low,
and trample on the wicked in their place.
- 13 Hide them together in the dust;
bind their faces in the concealed place.
- 14 Then I will also admit to you that your own right hand can save you.

40:7 This is 38:3 repeated.

40:8 This has been the tendency of some of the things Job has said (7:20,21; 9:22-24; 10:3; 19:6,7; 24:12; 27:2). Those who had disputed with Job did not understand the reason for his sufferings, but they discerned his fault and rebuked him for it (8:3; 15:4,12,13; 34:5,6). Now God Himself puts the matter before him. This was Job's one big error in the things he said. Job would not admit his friends were right even in this one point. But it is one thing to argue with one's friends, quite another to stand before God. God will now bring Job to full confession and repentance for his sinful speaking.

Complaining about God's dealings with us is the same as accusing Him of injustice. It implies we are better than He. No matter what troubles come to us God has a right to demand of us complete trust in Him, complete submission to His will, complete love and devotion. He is the great King over the universe (see note at Ps 47:2). The business of God's people is not to question God but to glorify Him (see notes on psalm 73). God will bring us believers (as He did Job) into situations where we cannot understand what He is doing, where His dealings with us seem contrary to reason, and where we must simply trust Him. In some way or other, and in some measure, all believers are Jobs. Have we yet learned simply to trust God as Job did, no matter what may be happening in our lives or circumstances?

40:9-14 The purpose of these words seems to be to remind Job of this truth: Job does not have the power to bring the world to judgment, so he doesn't have the wisdom to criticize God's dealings with men.

40:15-24 From v 15 onward all God's message to Job is taken up with a description of two beasts – "behemoth" and "leviathan." At first, this might seem to us a very strange message to give to a man suffering in body and mind, a man who has been full of tormenting questions. But God knew He would very shortly bring Job's sufferings to an end. He also knew that there were more important matters than answering Job's questions. He was working to produce complete submission to Himself in Job's heart. He wanted Job to renounce his questioning of God's goodness, and justice, and simply trust Him fully and forever.

People sometimes think that above all else they want their questions answered. But when they come into God's presence and submit to Him in faith they find their questions are not as important to them as they had thought.

As for the beast described in these verses (behemoth) some scholars have thought it is an elephant, others a hippopotamus. Others think it refers to some huge animal now extinct. Certainly the beast described is more like a hippopotamus than an elephant. As for it being a now extinct creature such as some kind of dinosaur – v 19 may suggest a creature somewhat grander than the hippopotamus, but there is no proof that a now extinct animal is meant. We cannot be sure whether Job knew anything about any such animal, and God is calling his attention to an animal he was familiar with (v 15). Some scholars have suggested that possibly some types of dinosaurs were on the ark with Noah and so were in existence after the flood, and that they could have been alive on the earth until Job's day. This may have been so, but as far as the author of these notes is aware, there is as yet no fully satisfactory evidence either for or against this view.

41:1 "Leviathan" – there has been much speculation about this animal also. Most scholars think a huge crocodile is meant. The sea water crocodile is the largest of all reptiles in the world at present. It can grow to a length of 8 meters or even more. In Ps 104:25,26 "Leviathan" is said to be in the sea. Perhaps this is the "leviathan" described here in Job. It seems that the description here is in very poetic language. It may be interesting to speculate what animals are meant in these two chapters, but it does not seem important to the author of these notes to determine exactly what ones are meant. The important thing is to understand what message God is giving to Job (and to us). And that message is the same whether the animals are of the sort known to us today, or some kind of dinosaurs or other animals unknown to us now. The essence of God's message appears particularly in vs 10,11. Men who fear to stand before some of God's creatures should not think it a light matter to stand before God Himself the Creator of everything. No man can demand anything of God. God is not under obligation to anyone. All things and all men are His property. He does not owe anyone an explanation of His ways. See Rom 11:33-35.

41:34 "All the children of pride" – in the context of the debate between Job and the four others, and the appearance of what looks suspiciously like pride at times in all of them, God's mention of pride here may not be without significance.
42:2 Job fully understands that God can conceive and carry out any plan He wants.
 He has learned the lesson from God's sermon on nature and applied it to his own sufferings and trials.
42:3 The first part of v 3 was spoken by God in 38:2. Job now quotes it and applies it to himself. He confesses what all the speakers should have confessed – indeed what all men who dispute about God and His ways have reason to confess. Men so lightly and presumptuously speak of mysteries far beyond their understanding.
 If they want God's blessing they must humble themselves like Job and repent of their foolishness and sinful speaking.
42:4 Job is probably referring to God's words in 38:3 and 40:7 addressed to himself. Job now finds that he has nothing to give as an answer but the following two verses, and no question at all.

42:5 God may or may not have appeared in some form of glory in the storm clouds. In any case Job means something more than an outward view of God's glory. He speaks of an inner perception, an enlightenment of the eyes of the mind. It was not any argument, not even any presentation of truth alone which brought Job to repentance. It was a new and deeper experience of God Himself. So it is with all men who are brought to full submission to God. In God's presence truths in the mind become the deep knowledge of spiritual experience.
42:6 The first part of v 6 has no object in Hebrew – it is simply "I despise," or "I reject."
 Does he mean he despises his former opinions and complaints? Does he mean he abhors everything about himself? Or is he saying he renounces, rejects himself (as in Luke 9:23; etc.)? Probably all of that. A man humbly experiencing God's presence and God's rebuke can no longer have the same high regard for himself, his opinions, deeds, and spiritual attainments that he had before that.
 Job repents. Of what? Not of his previous righteous life – his need of repentance did not

7 And this is what happened after the LORD had spoken those words to Job: the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite,

"My wrath is burning against you and against your two friends, for you have not spoken to me what is right, as my servant Job has. 8 Therefore take for yourselves seven bulls and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up a burnt offering for yourselves; and my servant Job will pray for you, for I will accept him. Otherwise I will deal with you as your foolishness deserves; because you have not spoken to me what is right, as my servant Job has."

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went and did as the LORD commanded them; and the LORD accepted Job.

10 And the LORD restored the well-being of Job, when he prayed for his friends. Also the LORD have to do with that. And God never rebuked him for a thing in it. This was one way God vindicated Job before men.

What Job repents of is the foolish and sinful things he has said about God's justice. He repents that he ever allowed his pains and perplexities to cause a word of complaint against God to come from his lips. He repents in dust and ashes – figurative of complete abandonment to repentance. He now sits spiritually in the ash heap his body sat in (2:8). Job has learned more about himself, more of his weakness and foolishness, through this experience – a very important thing for all of us to learn. He has also learned more of God – and this is the most important kind of learning for any of us. Any event or experience which comes from His hand to bring us this kind of knowledge is worth whatever it costs us, whether it be loss of property, loss of children, loss of reputation, or loss of all things. See John 17:3; etc.

42:7 God now raises Job from the "dust and ashes" and vindicates him before his friends. By "vindicate" it is not meant that God declares Job to be sinless or faultless, but that God stands by His suffering servant and reveals him to be a man of uprightness and integrity, who feared God and shunned evil (1:8). This is the same kind of vindication David prayed for when he was unjustly slandered and accused – see Ps 26:1; 35:24; 43:1.

Here God calls Job His servant (four times in vs 7,8 – as if He loved to dwell on the idea and emphasize it). He did not call the others His servants. He says He is angry with them. He doesn't say He is angry with Job. He says Job spoke to Him (or about Him) the right thing. He says they did not.

What is the right thing or things Job spoke? The views of scholars on this depend, in some measure, on how they translate one Hebrew word (elai) in this sentence. Some scholars translate like this: "You have not spoken what is right concerning me as my servant Job has." This would mean that Job's theory of how God dealt with mankind in general was more accurate than the theory of his friends.

However, others translate "You have not spoken that which is right to me." It is possible to translate this Hebrew word either way, but the usual meaning of it and the usual way of translating it in the Old Testament is "to me." For example, in Isaiah it is translated "to me" a number of times, but never "of me" or "concerning me" (Isa 8:3,11; 21:11; 36:7; 37:21; 51:1). In the context of this chapter also it seems better to translate it "to me" (twice in this same verse, verse 7, part of that same Hebrew word is translated "to" – "to Job" and "to Eliphaz." Nowhere else in Job is elai translated "of me", or "concerning me").

If we accept the translation "to me" (as the evidence suggests we should do), we will understand that God is commending Job, not for what he said in the debate with his friends, but for what he said directly to God in 40:3-5 and 42:1-6. In those verses Job admitted his ignorance, and his inability and unworthiness to speak about God or to God, and he repents of the things he had said. His friends did not do so. Probably they did not realize until this moment how mistaken they had been in some of the things they had said, and how much they needed to confess it as Job did. God commended Job's repentance and confession. After all, why would God commend Job for saying those other things which Job himself saw were wrong? But Job's confession of wrong speaking was pleasing to God. It is just the sort of confession that many philosophers and theologians (and many ordinary people who argue about God) need to make. Until they admit their ignorance and repent of their false and dogmatic utterances about God they will not know God's blessing.

42:8 Can we imagine a better way than this to humble Job's friends and vindicate Job? Job must act as a priestly intercessor and mediator for his friends or God will not accept them. Observe that they have been guilty of "folly" (or "evil" – the Hebrew word means both), but Job is God's servant. They condemned Job, but now find that they were worthy of condemnation.

42:9 "Did" – it speaks well for the friends that they were willing to humble themselves and obey God. Job was willing to forgive their cruel and false accusations against him and pray for them (compare Matt 5:44; Luke 6:28; 23:34; Acts 7:60; Rom 12:14; 1 Pet 3:9). In the whole book of Job there is no indication that they ever prayed for him. If they had, perhaps their speeches would have been quite different.

42:10 Another way God chose to vindicate Job was to make him prosperous again. He gave Job twice as much as he had before.

11 Then all his brothers and all his sisters, and all those who had been his acquaintances before, came to him and ate food with him in his house. And they consoled him and comforted him about the whole disaster that the LORD had brought upon him. Each one gave him a piece of silver and each one a gold ring.

12 So the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than his first; for he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and one thousand female donkeys.

13 He also had seven sons and three daughters. 14 And he called the name of the first, Jemima; and the name of the second, Kezia; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch. 15 In all the land no women could be found as beautiful as the daughters of Job. And their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers.

16 After this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his grandsons to four generations. 17 So Job died, old and full of days.

revealed His love for Job by a method his friends, relatives, and neighbors, and the whole world could understand. In Old Testament days God often blessed His faithful people with material prosperity. In these New Testament days God may not at all reward faithfulness under trial by giving prosperity. Christians are taught to desire and expect their vindication and rewards in the next world, not in this one. And the privilege of suffering loss and pain for Christ is as much a mark of favor as riches could ever be (Matt 6:19-21; Luke 6:20-22; 12:33,34; 18:22; 1 Tim 6:6-9,18,19; Heb 10:32-37; 1 Pet 4:12-16). At the second coming of Christ all things will be made right.

"Restored the well-being of" – the Hebrew also means "turned the captivity of." 42:11 19:13,14.

"A piece of silver" – in Hebrew "a kesitah." Neither the weight nor value of this ancient unit of money is known to us.

42:12 Verse 10.

42:13 God did not give Job twice as many children as before. There was no need. The ten children who had died (1:2,18,19) were not permanently lost as the sheep, camels, oxen, and donkeys were. The ten dead children were still in God's keeping.

42:16,17 When calamity struck, Job had ten grown children. Afterwards he lived 140 years more. His many years of life place him possibly in the general era of Abraham. Abraham lived 175 years (Gen 25:7). After Abraham the ordinary life span of men became less.

Through the outer devastating events and inner agonizing experiences that Job endured there came to him a deeper knowledge both of himself and of God. And this, of course, was of immense spiritual value to him. The direct knowledge of God is the highest and best knowledge possible to man. Should we not think that this is one purpose God had in mind when He permitted all that came to Job? And should we not think, we who trust God as Job did, that every event in our own lives and every difficult and painful experience we go through are for the same great purpose? Surely such things are included in the promise of Romans 8:28.

PSALMS

Authors:

Many of the Psalms have a brief introduction giving the name of the author, or who the psalm was for or about, or what the theme is. According to these introductions (which were not a part of the original psalms), David wrote 73 psalms, Asaph wrote 12, Solomon wrote 2, Moses and Ethan each wrote one, and 11 were written by or for the sons of Korah (see the note on the introduction to Psalm 42). This leaves 50 psalms which are not attributed to anyone. Some of these too were very probably written by David. The translators of the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the Hebrew Bible) thought so; they put David's name in the introductions to 15 more psalms. Also they put the names of Haggai and Zechariah to a few of them.

Dates:

David reigned 1010 - 970 BC. He wrote some psalms before he became king, some after that. Moses spent 1446 - 1406 in the desert with the people of Israel and must have written his psalm (or psalms) then. Some psalms were probably written after Israel went into captivity in Babylon about 600 BC (for example, see Ps 137). So, though the majority of the psalms were written during the time of David, the writing of all covered a span of at least 800 years.

Themes:

There are many themes in the psalms, for they were written out of a wide variety of human experiences and circumstances. Because of this some psalm or other is suitable for any circumstance or condition believers may experience. For the most part the psalms are prayers or praises to the one true God. Some are meditations on His greatness, or on His dealings with His people or toward His enemies. Some are songs about the LORD (Jehovah – God's special name that He revealed to His people) or His city or His reign over the earth, and some are exhortations to others to praise Him. Of course, some psalms have more than one theme, so it is not possible to make an exact classification of all the psalms. The following classification may be helpful to the reader:

Psalms of praise or thanksgiving to God:

9, 18, 21, 65, 68, 75, 76, 84, 89, 92, 103-108, 116, 135, 145

Psalms which urge others to praise God:

29, 33, 47, 66, 68, 81, 95-100, 113, 117, 118, 134-136, 146-150

Psalms which speak of God's greatness or goodness:

2, 8, 18, 19, 23, 24, 29, 33, 34, 37, 45-48, 50, 65, 66, 68, 76, 77, 85, 86, 89-91, 93, 95-100, 102-104, 107, 111, 113, 115, 116, 118, 121, 135, 138, 139, 145-147

Psalms which describe God as King or Judge:

2, 7, 9-11, 24, 29, 44, 45, 47, 48, 50, 68, 74, 75, 80, 84, 93, 94-99, 102, 113, 132, 145, 146

Psalms which contain prayers for help in time of need:

3-7, 9, 10, 12, 13, 16, 17, 22, 25-28, 31, 35, 38-41, 43, 44, 51, 54-57, 59, 61, 64, 69-71, 74, 79, 80, 83, 85, 86, 88, 90, 94, 102, 109, 120, 123, 130, 140-144

Psalms which express strong faith and confidence in God:

1, 3-5, 11, 13, 16-18, 20, 21, 23, 27, 28, 31, 34, 37, 40, 41, 46, 54-56, 62, 84, 86, 91, 103, 115, 116, 118, 121, 124, 125, 130, 135, 139, 140, 145

Psalms which speak of the writer's sin or of forgiveness:

25, 32, 38, 39-41, 51, 65, 73, 78, 79, 86, 89, 90, 99, 103, 106, 107, 119, 130

Psalms for the depressed:

13, 23, 25, 32, 37, 42, 43, 62, 73, 77, 91, 103, 107, 121

Psalms which express longings for God's fellowship:

27, 42, 61, 63, 84, 119, 143

Psalms containing prayers that God would punish wicked enemies:

7, 17, 35, 55, 59, 69, 109, 137, 139

Psalms which look back into history:

68, 78, 81, 105, 106, 114, 135, 136

Psalms written for the purpose of teaching:

(of course, all psalms teach whether written for that purpose or not)

1, 2, 14, 15, 19, 24, 32, 33, 34, 37, 46, 49, 53, 73, 78, 91, 103-108, 110-113, 115, 119, 121, 122, 125-128, 133, 135, 136

Psalms for pilgrims:

84, 120-134

Psalms which praise God's Word:

12, 19, 119, 138

Psalms which give prophecies concerning the Lord Jesus Christ:

(as the New Testament makes clear)

2, 8, 16, 22, 40, 41, 45, 68, 69, 89, 102, 110, 118

Contents:

The book of Psalms has five divisions. These divisions are given below. We have indicated some (not all) well known or much loved psalms and given the first words of each. We have also given a list of precious promises and prayers we may wish to use when we pray. The psalms record many reasons for praising God. We have given some of these also.

BOOK 1 (psalms 1 - 41):

- Ps 1 - "Blessed is the man"
- Ps 2 - "Why do the nations rage"
- Ps 8 - "O LORD, our Lord, how excellent is your name"
- Ps 14 - "The fool has said in his heart"
- Ps 16 - "Preserve me, O God"
- Ps 18 - "I will love you, O LORD, my strength"
- Ps 19 - "The heavens declare the glory of God"
- Ps 22 - "My God, my God why have you forsaken me?"
- Ps 23 - "The LORD is my shepherd"
- Ps 32 - "Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven"
- Ps 37 - "Do not fret because of evildoers"

- 1 Blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the ungodly, or stand in the path of sinners, or sit in the seat of the scornful;
- 2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD, and in his law he meditates day and night.
- 3 And he will be like a tree planted by the rivers of water,

that brings forth its fruit in its season
and whose leaf does not wither.
And whatever he does will prosper.

- 4 The ungodly are not so,
but are like the chaff which the wind drives away.
- 5 Therefore the ungodly will not stand in the judgment,
or sinners in the congregation of the righteous.
- 6 For the LORD knows the way of the righteous,

1:1 The word "blessed" is the translation of a Hebrew word meaning happy or fortunate. For a fuller idea of the meaning of the word in the psalms see 2:12; 32:1,2; 40:4; 41:1,2; 65:4; 84:4,5; 94:12; 106:3; 119:1,2; 128:1. For other references and notes on God's blessing or on "blessed" see Gen 12:2,3; Num 6:22-27; Deut 28:3-14; Jer 17:7; Matt 5:3-12; Luke 11:28; Acts 3:26; Gal 3:9,14; Eph 1:3. God is love (1 John 4:8), and loves to bless men. But the fullness of God's blessing comes only on a certain kind of person, as described in the words which follow.

This opening verse contains a brief description of what this fallen world is like. On every hand are those who will give evil advice and instruction contrary to the Word of God, men who reject God's way and abandon themselves to sin, and those who scorn the truth of God. The blessed person will not listen to them or have fellowship with them. Notice a progression of wickedness in this verse - counsel, way, seat - walking, standing, sitting. Following bad advice brings a person into sinful ways, and eventually into scorn for the things of God. (The New Testament shows believers where they "sit" and how they are to "stand" and "walk" - Eph 2:6; 6:11,14; Col 2:6; etc.)

1:2 This verse shows the connection between true blessedness and a love of the truth God has revealed. The blessed person will not merely avoid wrong words and wrong ways. He will be occupied with something else altogether, as the two strong words "delight" and "meditate" reveal. To delight in God's law is to delight in God and in God's ways and will which are revealed in it. This will bring joy to the heart as nothing else can. Compare 37:4; etc. For an example of a man delighting in the law of the Lord see psalm 119.

The Hebrew word translated here "law" could be translated "instruction" or "teaching", and here means all the revelation God had given up to that time. To us now it would mean the whole Bible. Men can find true blessedness only through the truth of God, and they will learn far more of it in the Bible than in all the writings of wise men, religious teachers, and philosophers put together. And they will experience this blessedness in the measure that they delight in God's Word, and meditate on it, and obey it.

Notice the words "day and night." This means to be always occupied with God's revealed truth, to have it filling our hearts and minds even as we go about the ordinary activities of life. Compare John 15:7; Col 3:16; etc. If we delight in it we will not find this at all impossible.

"Meditates" - this means to think about God's Word so as to understand it and to use it in prayer and to apply it to our lives. It has nothing to do with the meditation techniques of yoga, and other such things.

1:3 Here are the results of delighting in and meditating on God's instructions - spiritual provision, unceasing fruitfulness, and success. The righteous are trees planted by God - Isa 60:21; 61:3; Jer 17:8; Matt 15:13. They are planted by "streams of water." In the Bible water is sometimes used as a symbol of God's Spirit, and God is said to be the "spring of living water" (Jer 2:13; 17:13). Just as water is essential for the life of trees, so God's Spirit is essential for the life and fruitfulness of God's people. The believer who delights in God's truth and meditates on it continually, will find that he is by the source of all blessing, that God's Spirit is around him and in him. Compare John 7:37-39.

1:4 Chaff driven by the wind indicates something worthless and unstable - 35:5; Isa 17:13; 29:5; Matt 3:12.

1:5 God's judgment on the wicked is one of the constant themes of the psalms (as it is of the whole Bible) - 2:12; 7:11; 9:7,8; 11:6; 21:8,9; 94:1,2; 96:13; 119:84. This verse will be fulfilled at the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Now evil men may indeed mix themselves in the assemblies of God's people (Matt 13:24-30; Rev 2:14-16,20-25; 3:1-4). But when God arises as judge they will remain there no longer.

1:6 "Knows" - God knows the way of the righteous for it is His own way. He regards it and all who are in that way with care and love. The way of the wicked and all who are in it will perish eternally - Isa 66:22-24; Matt 25:41-46; 2 Thess 1:8,9; 2 Pet 3:13; Rev 21:22-27. The day is coming when all false ways, all crooked ways, all evil ways will be abolished from the earth and God's way of truth and holiness estab-

but the way of the ungodly will perish.

- 1 Why do the nations rage,
and the peoples plot a vain thing?
- 2 The kings of the earth set themselves,
and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD and against his Anointed, saying,
- 3 "Let us break their chains apart and throw off their cords from us."
- 4 He who sits in the heavens will laugh.
The Lord will deride them.
- 5 Then he will speak to them in his wrath, lished everywhere forever.

2:1 This is the first of the psalms that are prophecies or contain prophecies concerning the Lord Jesus Christ. Some other very important ones are 16, 22, 40, 45, 69, 72, 89, 110. This one is quoted several times in the New Testament. Verses 1 and 2 are found in Acts 4:25,26, and v 7 is quoted in Acts 13:33 and Heb 1:5 and 5:5. Verse 9 is referred to in Rev 2:27; 12:5; 19:15.

2:2 The question of v 1 is answered here. The people are stirred up by their leaders. Together they are revealing their enmity against the LORD (Jehovah), the one true God of the universe, and against His anointed one (compare John 3:19,20; 15:18,19; Rom 1:30; 8:7). In Old Testament days kings, prophets, and priests were anointed (Ex 28:41; 1 Sam 15:1; 16:12; 1 Kings 19:16).

In the New Testament the Lord Jesus is the Anointed One. He is King, Prophet, and Priest – all three (note at Matt 1:1). In this psalm only His kingship is in view. The opposition and plots of the rulers referred to in this verse had to do specifically with the time of Christ's crucifixion (Acts 4:25,26), but in general the verse applies to all peoples who in any era set themselves against the Lord Jesus.

2:3 This is what man's sinful, rebellious heart is like. Fallen men do not want God and His Anointed One to reign over them (1 Sam 8:6-8; Luke 19:14; John 19:15,16). They want to do as they please. They regard God's precious Word and God's commands as cords which would bind them in slavery. In this way they show their great ignorance as well as their great wickedness. What they believe to be bondage is glorious freedom, and what they take for freedom is sin's dreadful bondage. Those in this verse are representatives of the whole world of fallen men who are in rebellion against the true God and do all they can to shake off His control. This is proved by their attitude toward the Lord Jesus who is God's Anointed One.

2:4,5 God laughs, not in amusement, but in contempt at the vain attempts of puny men to oppose His plans. (See 37:12,13; Prov and terrify them in his fiery displeasure:

- 6 "Yet I have set my king on my holy hill of Zion."
- 7 "I will declare the decree:
the LORD has said to me, 'You are my Son;
this day I have begotten you.
- 8 Ask of me, and I will give you the nations
as your inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth as your possession.
- 9 You will break them with a rod of iron;
you will dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."
- 10 Now therefore be wise, O you kings.
Be instructed, you judges of the earth.
- 11 Serve the LORD with fear,

1:25,26.) This laughter of God is joined with His terrible anger against the wickedness of men. His anger will come to the full on all those who fight against Him and His Anointed One – 7:11-13; John 3:36; Rom 1:18; 2:5,8; 2 Thess 1:6-10; Rev 6:16,17; 19:15. "Terrify" – the KJV has "vex" here, but this is not a strong enough word to bring out the meaning of the Hebrew.

2:6 God's appointed king is the same as His Anointed One, the Lord Jesus. Zion is Jerusalem. But there is a heavenly Jerusalem where Jesus now sits on the throne of His Father – Gal 4:26; Heb 12:22; Rev 3:21.

2:7 In vs 7-9 the Anointed King Himself speaks. God has decreed certain things that no opposition of men can ever change. Verse 7 does not refer to the birth of the Lord Jesus in Bethlehem, or to some event in eternity past before the world was made. The apostle Paul quoted these words in connection with Christ's resurrection (Acts 13:32,33). It was then that Jesus was proved to be the Son of God (Rom 1:4), and it was then that Christ was raised to the throne of God the Father (Heb 1:3; Phil 2:9-11). Jesus is the First-born from the dead (Rev 1:5), the first of a new kind of human being – resurrection man. It was a new beginning in human history – a Man begotten from the dead, to be the progenitor of many such (Eph 2:1-5).

2:8 The earth and all that is in it by right belongs to the Lord Jesus, but at the present time He has not fully entered into His inheritance. The hour will come when all peoples and all kingdoms will be put openly in His control (Rev 11:15-18). See note on Isa 2:1-4.

2:9 "Dash them in pieces" – why should Christ destroy these gifts of God the Father? He will not utterly destroy them. He will shatter ungodly political powers, break to pieces all rebellious elements in society, and bring the world into complete subjection to Himself – Rev 19:11-16.

2:10,11 Since Christ is the King of kings true wisdom can be only in submission and service to Him. Fear, reverence, and joy are all essential elements in genuine spiritual experience with God. Notes on "fear" at 34:11-14; 111:10;

and rejoice with trembling.
 12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and you perish from the way,
 when his wrath is kindled but a little.
 Blessed are all those who put their trust in him.

3

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his son Absalom

- 1 LORD, how they are increased who trouble me!
 Many are those who rise up against me.
 2 Many there are who say of my soul,
 "There is no help for him in God. Selah

128:1; Prov 1:7.

2:12 Here the Anointed One of v 2, the king of v 6, is called the Son, that is, the Son of God. A son shares the nature of his father. The Jews of Jesus' day knew that when He said He was the Son of God He was saying that He shares God's nature, that He was claiming to be God (John 10:33-38). Kissing a ruler was an ancient way of showing recognition of his authority (1 Sam 10:1). It was also an act of homage toward objects of worship (1 Kings 19:18; Job 31:27; Hos 13:2).

To kiss the Son means to give up all rebellion against Him, to receive Him as King, to worship Him as Lord. Those who will not do this are in grave danger. His anger is exceedingly great. But His grace is even greater toward all those who repent and turn to Him. The Hebrew word translated "put their trust in" also means "to take refuge in." Faith in Christ is the only way to peace and reconciliation with God, safety, and salvation (John 3:16,36; 5:24; Rom 5:1,9,10).

3:1-8 For Absalom's conspiracy see 2 Samuel chapters 15-18. It was a time of extreme humiliation and danger for David. The spiritual truth of this psalm can be applied to any believer who is in difficulties from enemies, and especially it applied to the Lord Jesus during the last days of His life on earth.

3:1 2 Sam 15:12,13; 17:1,11; Ps 69:4; Eph 6:12.

"Against me" – this is the first of many references in the Psalms to enemies. In the Psalms alone words indicating them (foes, enemies, they who rise against me, etc) appear well over 100 times. The authors of the psalms frequently suffered from those who opposed them as they tried to serve God. This is the common lot of God's faithful people throughout the history of the world, from Abel (1 John 3:12) to the prophets and saints of the Old Testament (Heb 11:32-38), to Christ and His disciples (Matt 10:16,17,21-23; 16:21; John 15:18-21;

- 3 But you, O LORD, are a shield for me;
 my glory, and the lifter up of my head.
 4 I cried to the LORD with my voice, and he heard me from his holy hill. Selah
 5 I lay down and slept;
 I awoke, for the LORD sustained me.
 6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.
 7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God!
 For you have struck all my enemies on the cheek bone;
 you have broken the teeth of the ungodly.
 8 Salvation belongs to the LORD.
 Your blessing is on your people. Selah

2 Cor 11:23-27; 1 Thess 2:14-16), to the present time ("everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted" – 2 Tim 3:12).

In the Psalms (and in the Old Testament in general) usually the references to foes concern flesh and blood enemies. Believers now are to pray for flesh and blood enemies, not against them, and they are to realize that their real foes are not of flesh and blood (Eph 6:10-12). See note on enemies at 35:8.

3:2 Ps 22:7,8; 71:11; Matt 27:39-43. The exact meaning of the Hebrew word "selah" is unknown. It may mean "pause" or "slow", and may have been a sign to the musicians singing the psalm or playing instruments.

3:3 In both danger and humiliating circumstances, God is sufficient for the believer (5:12; 28:7; 62:7; Gen 15:1). Notes on "shield" at 28:7; Gen 15:1; Job 1:10,11; 2:6; etc.

3:4 In times of trouble, prayer is the believer's resource, and no enemy can prevent the believer using it. See references to prayer at 1 Thess 5:17. God heard David's prayer and brought him safely back to Jerusalem and enabled him to reign over Israel once again (2 Samuel chapter 19).

3:5,6 A good conscience and confidence in God can enable believers to get deep and satisfying sleep even at such times of trouble and danger as David was experiencing – Ps 4:8.

3:7 See 1 Sam 17:45-49; 18:12-16; 23:4,5; 30:17,18; 2 Sam 8:1-6,13; 10:17,18.

3:8 "Salvation" – see 28:8; 35:3; Isa 43:11; Jonah 3:9; Matt 1:21; Rev 7:10; 19:1.

"Blessing" – Num 6:22-27.

4 Title: Neginoth means "stringed instruments."
4:1-8 David first speaks to God (v 1), then to men (vs 2-5), then again to God. Though he is surrounded by those who express unbelief and despair (v 6), he is confident he will be heard because he has experienced many past mercies. He uses various means to turn the ungodly to God, methods we will do well to follow – pointing out their error

To the chief musician on neoinoth,
A Psalm of David

- 1 Hear me when I call,
O God of my righteousness.
You have given me relief when I was in distress.
Have mercy on me, and hear my prayer.
- 2 O you sons of men,
how long will you turn my glory into shame?
How long will you love emptiness, and seek a lie? Selah
- 3 But know that the LORD has set apart for himself the one who is godly.
The LORD will hear when I call to him.
- 4 Tremble, and do sin not.
Commune in your heart on your bed,
and be still. Selah
- 5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD.
- 6 There are many who say,
"Who will show us any good?"

(v 2), speaking of answered prayer (v 3), exhorting (vs 4,5), testifying (vs 7,8).

4:1 "Prayer" – this is the first use of this word in Psalms. See notes on prayer at 66:18; Gen 18:32; Matt 6:5-13; Mark
11:24; Luke 11:1-13; 18:1-7; Rom
8:26,27; Eph 1:17; 6:18; Phil 4:6,7;
Col 1:9; 1 Thess 5:17; Heb 4:16;
10:19-22; 11:6; Jam 1:5-8; 5:16-18;
1 John 5:14,15.

4:2 "Will you turn my glory into shame" – or, possibly, "will you dishonor my Glorious One." Men do both of these. Compare Rom
1:21,23. Vanity and deception are what fallen sinful men pursue. A life not lived for the glory of God is an empty, hopeless existence (62:9; Eccl 1:2; 2:11).

"Lie" – in the Hebrew idiom this word sometimes meant a false god, and some versions have this. The KJV translation here – "leaving" – conveys a wrong meaning to readers today, so it was necessary to change it.

4:3 Everywhere in the earth the God of the Bible has individuals who are His special people. They are His treasure, the object of His great grace and love (Ex 19:5; Titus 2:14; 1 Pet 2:9).

"The LORD will hear" – this kind of faith is vital in the life of prayer. See 5:3. David could not have had this confidence if there had been unconfessed and unforgiven sin in his life – see 66:18,19.

4:4 "Tremble" – this is the literal meaning of the Hebrew word (not "stand in awe").
Many people sin and do not tremble, and so they keep on sinning.

4:5 He is still speaking about getting answers to prayer in times of need and distress.

LORD, lift up the light of your countenance on us.

- 7 You have put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that their grain and their wine increased.
- 8 I will both lie down in peace, and sleep;
for you alone, O LORD, cause me to dwell in safety.

5

To the chief musician on nehiloth,
a Psalm of David

- 1 Give ear to my words, O LORD.
Consider my meditation.
- 2 Listen to the sound of my cry, my King,
and my God; for to you I will pray.
- 3 You will hear my voice in the morning, O LORD;
in the morning I will direct my prayer
to you, and will look up.
- 4 For you are not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness;
nor does evil dwell with you.

"Sacrifices of righteousness" – compare 51:17; Heb 13:15,16.

"Trust" – v 3.

4:6 "Light of your countenance" – Num
6:24,25.

4:7,8 5:11. "You have put" – true and lasting joy is the result of God's work in the heart, not of wealth or prosperity, and it is a result of believing God. Who but real believers who trust in the one true God can experience joy and peace in the midst of great trouble?

5 Title: Nehiloth indicates musical instruments, probably flutes.

5:1 "Meditation" – this could be translated "sighing" or "groaning." Groans and sighs are sometimes a proper element in prayer (Rom 8:26). Indeed at times we can find no words to convey our longings and groaning is all we are able to do.

5:2 King David knew who the true, the eternal King is – 10:16; 24:7; 47:2 (note); 74:12; 149:2; Isa 6:5; Jer 10:10. And he gladly accepted God's rule in his life, as we all should do.

5:3 Morning is the best time to get alone with God, to pray before the work, and burdens of the day begin (57:8; 88:13; 108:2; 119:147).

"Will look up" – waiting in expectation for an answer, it seems. This also is necessary if we want answers to our prayers – Heb
11:6; Jam 1:6-8; 1 John 5:14,15; Mark 11:24. One reason people do not receive answers from God is that they do not expect to receive any. Let us not complain that God does not answer our prayers when we do not really think that He will do so.

5:4 See 92:15; 1 John 1:5,6; Matt 7:23;

- 5 The foolish will not stand in your sight.
You hate all evildoers.
- 6 You will destroy those who speak lies.
The LORD abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.
- 7 But as for me, I will come into your house by the abundance of your mercy, and in your fear I will worship toward your holy temple.
- 8 Lead me, O LORD, in your righteousness
because of my enemies.
Make your way straight before my face.
- 9 For there is no faithfulness in their mouth.
Their heart is utter wickedness.
Their throat is an open grave.
They flatter with their tongue.
- 10 Pronounce them guilty, O God!
Let them fall by their own counsels.
Throw them away in the multitude of their transgressions;
for they have rebelled against you.
- 11 But let all those who put their trust in you rejoice.
Let them always shout for joy,
because you defend them.
And let those who love your name be

- joyful in you.
- 12 For you, O LORD, will bless the righteous.
You will surround him with favour as with a shield.

To the chief musician,
On neginoth upon sheminith,
a Psalm of David

- 1 O LORD, do not rebuke me in your anger, or discipline me in your hot displeasure.
- 2 Have mercy on me, O LORD,
for I am weak. O LORD, heal me;
for my bones are troubled.
- 3 My soul is also greatly troubled.
But you, O LORD, how long?
- 4 Return, O LORD. Deliver my soul.
Oh, save me for your mercy's sake.
- 5 For in death there is no remembrance of you.
In the grave who will give you thanks?
- 6 I am weary with my groaning.
All night I make my bed swim,
I drench my couch with my tears.
- 7 My eye is consumed because of grief;

25:41. See note at Lev 20:7.

5:5 "Hate" – see 11:5; Lev 26:11,30; Deut 32:19; Hos 9:15; Mal 1:3. This means that those who will not repent but persist in wickedness are objects of God's hostility. If they would repent He would lovingly receive them, forgive them, and make them His own dear children. But He hates their deeds, thoughts, motives, and character. All they are and all they do is an offense to His holy nature.

5:6 God is the God of truth (Ps 31:5). He hates lies and deceit as if they were poison – which in a sense they are (Prov 6:17,19; 12:22; 19:5,9,22; John 8:44; Rev 21:8,17; 22:15). In this verse deceit is joined with murder in things which are abominable to God.

5:7 By God's grace David is resolved to be different from the wicked. But he knows that when God blesses him it is an act of God's mercy, not because of his own righteousness and goodness (51:1; 69:13).

5:8 He did not want his enemies to have an occasion to accuse him, and so bring dishonor to the God he served.

5:9 Here is a vivid picture of man's sinful nature. See Matt 15:18,19; Rom 1:28-32; 3:10-18; Gal 5:19-21.

"Open grave" – the stink of death, rotteness, and corruption comes from the inner nature of God's enemies, and is revealed in their words. This is the result of being "dead in trespasses and sins" (Eph 2:1).

5:10 Is it right for God's people to pray against the wicked in this way? See note at 35:8

5:11 "Trust" – 2:12; 7:1; 18:2; Deut 33:27.

"Joy" – 4:7; Neh 8:10.

"Defend" – 12:7.

"Name" – 69:36.

5:12 "Bless" – 29:11; Num 6:23-27; etc. "Shield" – 3:3; 28:7; Gen 15:1; Job 1:10,11; 2:6.

6 Title: Neginoth indicates stringed instruments. Sheminith was probably a musical term.

6:1 David is conscious of God's chastening. Though he does not mention any particular sin he is well aware that he is worthy of rebuke and punishment. He only pleads that God will be gentle with him (compare Ps 38:1).

6:2-6 He is suffering greatly in both body and mind. He is very ill (v 2), and fears that he may be near death (v 5). He does not ask for mercy according to his righteousness, but according to God's grace (v 4).

6:3 "Greatly troubled" – God's discipline, though it may affect the body, will work on the mind and heart of a believer, and his thoughts may become exceedingly painful (vs 6,7; 13:2; 51:3; 73:14,21,22; etc). "How long" is often the cry of the troubled and tried believer (13:1,2; 35:17; 74:10; 80:4; 89:46; 90:13; 94:3).

6:5 "Grave" – the Hebrew word ("Sheol") might be translated "the realm of the dead" (Gen 37:35). In David's time, and in the long era before that, God had revealed very little about life after death. In those days to believers the realm of the dead was a place of darkness and forgetfulness (30:9; 88:10-12; 115:17; Job 10:21,22; Eccl 9:10; Isa 38:18).

6:6,7 David's foes rejoiced at his miserable condition, made his sorrow even greater, and

- it grows old because of all my enemies.
 8 Depart from me, all you evildoers!
 For the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping.
 9 The LORD has heard my supplication;
 the LORD will receive my prayer.
 10 Let all my enemies be ashamed and exceedingly troubled;
 let them turn back and suddenly be put to shame.

7

Shiggaion of David,
 which he sang to the LORD,
 concerning the words of Cush the Benjamite

- 1 O LORD my God, in you I put my trust.
 Save me and deliver me from all those who persecute me,
 2 Or he will tear my soul like a lion, ripping it in pieces, while there is no one to bring deliverance.
 3 O LORD my God, if I have done this,
 if there is wickedness in my hands;
 4 If I have repaid evil to him who was at peace with me (yes, I have delivered him who without cause is my enemy)
 5 Let the enemy pursue me and overtake me;
 yes, let him trample down my life on the earth,
 and lay my honour in the dust. Selah
 6 Arise, O LORD, in your anger;

revealed what fallen sinful creatures they were.

6:8-10 Suddenly everything was bright. The Holy Spirit had given David the assurance that his request was heard. He knew that he had what he asked God for. He had won the victory by prayer and faith. Compare 4:3; 5:3. This way is open to all believers – Mark 11:24; 1 John 5:14,15.

7 Title: "Shiggaion" – no man now knows the meaning of this Hebrew word. It was probably a literary or musical term.

7:1,2 For believers God Himself is the refuge from all enemies, all troubles – 2:12; 9:9; 14:6; 46:1; 57:1; 59:16; 62:7,8; 91:2; 142:5; Deut 33:27; 2 Sam 22:3; Isa 25:4; Jer 16:19; Heb 6:18. He is well able to save and deliver His people – vs 8,10,17. This is an unusual feature of this psalm. Great danger cries out for a great God.

7:3-5 This is similar to Job's defense of his integrity in Job chapter 31. See also Samuel's words to the people in 1 Sam 12:1-3 and David's words to Saul in 1 Sam 24:9-15; 26:17-20.

7:4 The Hebrew of the last phrase is obscure and difficult. It may also be translated "or without cause have robbed my foe."

7:6-9 See note at 35:8. Here David wants

- rise up because of the rage of my enemies,
 and awake for me to the judgment you have decreed.
 7 So the congregation of the people will gather around you.
 For their sakes, therefore, return on high.
 8 The LORD will judge the people.
 Judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and according to my inner integrity.
 9 Oh, let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish the just;
 for the righteous God tests the hearts and minds.
 10 My defense is from God who saves the upright in heart.
 11 God is a righteous judge,
 and God is angry with the wicked every day.
 12 If he does not turn back,
 he will sharpen his sword.
 He will bend his bow, and made it ready.
 13 He has also prepared deadly weapons for himself;
 he makes his flaming arrows ready.
 14 Look, the wicked travails with wickedness,
 and conceives trouble,
 and gives birth to falsehood.
 15 He made a pit, and dug it out;
 and has fallen into the ditch which he made.
 16 His trouble will return on his own head,
 and his violent acts will come down on his own pate.

judgment to come on the wicked for these five reasons – for justice's sake (v 6), for a display of God's rightful place as ruler (v 7), that David's integrity might be revealed (v 8), that violence might be ended (v 9), that the righteous might be established in the earth (v 9).

7:8 "Judge" – this the first of many places in Psalms which speak of God as judge (9:8; 50:6; 72:2; 82:8; 94:2; 96:13; etc. See also Acts 17:31; Heb 9:27; Rev 20:11-15).
7:9 See 11:4; 1 Sam 16:7; 1 Chron 28:9; Jer 11:20; 17:10; 20:12; Rev 2:23.
7:10 "Defense" – see 3:3; 18:2,30.

7:11 "Angry" – God's anger against evil is clearly and repeatedly revealed in the Bible. An unrepentant sinner is in constant danger from God's wrath. See notes at 90:7-11; Num 25:3; John 3:36; Rom 1:18.
7:12 "Sword" – see 45:3-5; Deut 32:41; Isa 34:6; Ezek 21:5,15; 32:18; Rev 19:11-15. Who can escape if the Most High God, the Lord of Hosts, armed for battle, rises against him?

7:14-16 God has arranged things so that eventually a person will reap what he sows, and the fruit of his deeds will come back on his own head. Though this will not always be seen in this life it will be at the end of it

17 I will praise the LORD in accordance with his righteousness, and will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

To the chief musician on Gittith,
a Psalm of David

- 1 O LORD, our Lord, how excellent is your
name in all the earth!
You have set your glory above the heavens.
- 2 Out of the mouth of babes and infants you have ordained strength because of your enemies,
so that you may silence the enemy and
the avenger.
- 3 When I consider your heavens,
the work of your fingers,
the moon and the stars, which you have ordained,
- 4 What is man, that you are mindful of him?
and the son of man, that you visit him?
- 5 For you have made him a little lower than the angels, and have crowned him with glory and honour.

- 6 You caused him to have dominion over the works of your hands.
You put all things under his feet;
- 7 All sheep and oxen, yes, and the beasts
of the field,
- 8 The birds of the air, and the fish of the sea,
and whatever passes through the paths of the seas.
- 9 O LORD our Lord, how excellent is your name in all the earth!

9

To the musician on muth-labben,
a Psalm of David

- 1 I will praise you, O LORD,
with my whole heart.
I will tell of all your marvellous works.
- 2 I will be glad and rejoice in you.
I will sing praise to your name, O Most High.
- 3 When my enemies turn back, they will fall

(57:6; 94:23; Esther 7:10; Job 4:8; Prov 22:8; Gal 6:7; Rev 22:12).

7:17 "Righteousness" – the theme of this whole psalm.

"I will praise" – or "I will give thanks" – one of the great themes of the book of Psalms and of the whole Bible. Notes at 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

"Righteousness" – the theme of this whole psalm.

"Praise" – the first place in Psalms this word is used. In the 150 psalms the various Hebrew words for praise are used more than 150 times. See note on praise at 33:1-3.

"Most High" – Gen 14:18.

8 Title: Gittith was probably a musical term.

8:1 "LORD" – in Hebrew Jehovah. His name means his character and nature (note at Ex 3:14,15). Everywhere His name is glorious (29:2; 48:10; 72:19; 86:11; 145:21; Prov 18:10; Deut 28:58; Ex 34:5-7).

8:2 This was quoted by the Lord Jesus in Matt 21:16. The religious leaders of Israel became His enemies and opposed Him, but God gave enlightenment and a voice of praise to the children. See also Matt 11:25.

8:3 We should all let nature teach us – 19:1-3; Isa 40:26; Rom 1:20.

8:4 How tiny and insignificant is man when compared to the immensity of the universe (Isa 40:15-17, 22-24)! Yet how important he is in the plan of God, as the following verses make clear.

8:5 "Lower" – this could also be translated "a little lower than God", but it would not make good sense to do so. Man is not a little lower, but vastly, infinitely lower than

God. God is the almighty Creator (Gen 1:1); man is a weak creature made by God. Others translate this "a little lower than a god" or "a little lower than the gods", but this makes no proper sense.

"Crowned" – these words are quoted in Heb 2:6-9. This and the remaining verses of this psalm were partially fulfilled in the first Adam (Gen 1:26-28), but will be more completely fulfilled in the last Adam, Jesus Christ. He is the head of a new race of men who will rule with Him over the world and who, with Him, are raised above the angels (1 Cor 15:45; Eph 1:20-23; 2:6; 2 Tim 2:12; Rev 3:21; 5:10; 20:4).

8:6 According to Heb 2:8 this has not yet taken place. Only in regard to the Lord Jesus is it fully true (1 Cor 15:27; Eph 1:22).

8:7,8 On the whole, man has been a very poor ruler over the animal kingdom. He has been guilty of cruelty, greed, and ignorance. And he has often bowed down to worship those creatures which he was appointed by God to rule. There will be great and wonderful changes when the Lord Jesus comes the second time.

8:9 Happy are they who can say with David that the LORD, Jehovah, the one and only Lord of the universe, is their Lord. This is the only safety in the present, the only hope in the future.

9 Title: Muth-labben probably indicated the tune to be used, The Death of a Son.

9:1,2 This psalm of triumph and joy was written probably after one of David's many victories in battle. He knows it was God who gave the victory and not his own skill or might (vs 3-6). Therefore he gives all the glory to

- and perish at your presence.
- 4 For you have maintained my right and my cause.
You sat on the throne judging righteously.
- 5 You have rebuked the heathen.
You have destroyed the wicked;
You have blotted out their name forever and ever.
- 6 O enemy, endless destructions have come!
And you have destroyed cities;
their remembrance has perished with them.
- 7 But the LORD remains forever.
He has prepared his throne for judgment.
- 8 And he will judge the world in righteousness.
He will administer judgment to the people in uprightness.
- 9 The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed,
a refuge in times of trouble.
- 10 And those who know your name will put their trust in you;
for you, LORD, have not forsaken those who seek you.
- 11 Sing praises to the LORD, who dwells in Zion.
Proclaim his deeds among the peoples.
- 12 When he takes vengeance for blood,
he remembers them.
He does not forget the cry of the humble.
- 13 Have mercy on me, O LORD.
Consider my trouble which I suffer from

- those who hate me, you who lift me up from the gates of death,
- 14 So that I may tell all your praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion.
I will rejoice in your salvation.
- 15 The nations have sunk down in the pit that they made.
Their own foot has been taken in the net which they hid.
- 16 The LORD is known by the judgment which he executes.
The wicked are ensnared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah
- 17 The wicked will be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.
- 18 For the needy will not always be forgotten.
The expectation of the poor will not perish forever.
- 19 Arise, O LORD! Do not let man prevail.
Let the nations be judged in your sight.
- 20 Put them in fear, O LORD, so that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah

10

- 1 Why do you stand far off, O LORD?
Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?

God. In these opening verses he uses four words to express his delight in God – praise, tell, rejoice, and sing. This psalm is also a declaration that Jehovah, the one true God, reigns over the world and executes judgment. When He destroys the wicked and rescues the righteous he is displaying perfect justice.

9:4 “Throne judging” – 7:11; 47:2. This is something God is continually doing. Though His final judgment of men is still in the future, already, in some measure, His judgments are in all the earth.

9:5,6 Compare Gen 6:7; etc.

9:7,8 David goes from the particular victory he has experienced to a general truth. What God did in helping David and destroying his enemies He will do to the whole world. He is the eternal King who will punish the wicked and reward the righteous (47:2; 96:13; 98:9; John 5:22; Acts 10:42; 17:31; Rev 20:11-15).

9:9,10 In the meantime, before God arises to judge the whole world, He is the refuge for His people (see 7:1,2). He will never forsake the person who sincerely seeks Him, never. Let us encourage ourselves with this truth when our seeking does not seem to bring any results, when our experience tempts us to give in to discouragement and depression, and when our enemy Satan suggests that God, at least for the time, refuses to hear us, or has even forsaken us.

9:11,12 Such truth causes David to break forth again in praise. The LORD (Jehovah) was enthroned in Zion (Jerusalem). That is where the ark of God was kept and God Himself was enthroned above the cherubim on the ark (Num 7:89; 2 Sam 6:2; Ps 76:2; 80:1).

9:13,14 In the midst of David’s song of joy a dark note creeps in. He is not fully triumphant and knows his enemies will attack again.

“Daughter” – Isa 1:8.

9:15,16 See 7:14-16. The meaning of the Hebrew word “higgaion” is not now known.

9:17,18 Though it was not very clear to believers in Old Testament times how God would reward the righteous and punish the wicked, there was the confidence that He would surely do so.

“Hell” – in Hebrew “Sheol” – note at Gen 37:35.

9:19 Sinful men are at war with justice and they must not be allowed to triumph (Num 10:35).

9:20 Note at 35:8. Men may like to think they are like God, incarnations of God, or a part of God. They very much need to know they are mere creatures, and very sinful creatures at that (14:2,3; Rom 3:9,19,23).

10:1 Apparently this psalm was written

- 2 The wicked in his pride persecutes the poor.
Let them be taken in the schemes they have devised.
- 3 For the wicked boasts of his heart's desire,
and praises the covetous,
whom the LORD abhors.
- 4 The wicked, in the pride of his countenance, will not seek God.
God is not in any of his thoughts.
- 5 His ways are always prosperous.
Your judgments are far above,
out of his sight.
As for all his enemies, he snorts at them.
- 6 He has said in his heart,
"I will not be moved; for I will never be in distress."
- 7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and oppression.
Under his tongue are trouble and evil.
- 8 He sits in ambush in the villages;
in secret places he murders the innocent.
In secret his eyes are fixed on the poor.
- 9 He lies in wait secretly like a lion in his den.
He lies in wait to catch the poor.
He catches the poor, when he draws him into his net.
- 10 He crouches, and lies low, that the poor
may fall by his strength.
- 11 He has said in his heart,
"God has forgotten. He hides his face.
He will never see it."
- 12 Arise, O LORD! O God, lift up your hand!
Do not forget the humble.
- 13 Why does the wicked spurn God?
He has said in his heart,
"You will not require an account."
- 14 You have seen it; for you look at trouble and sorrow to repay it with your hand.
The poor commits himself to you.
You are the helper of the fatherless.
- 15 Break the arm of the wicked and the evil man!
Search out his wickedness until you find none.
- 16 The LORD is King for ever and ever.
The nations have perished from his land.
- 17 LORD, you have heard the desire of the humble.
You will prepare their heart;
you will cause your ear to hear,
- 18 To execute justice for the fatherless and the oppressed, so that the man of the earth may no longer oppress.

when wickedness in the land had the upper hand. Yet God seemed to stand afar off doing nothing about it. This has often perplexed God's people – why does God not immediately put down wickedness and reward righteousness (73:3-12; Job 9:24; 21:4-34; Hab 1:2-4)? Part of the answer is found in verses like Ps 103:8 and 2 Pet 3:9. If God immediately destroyed all the wicked Saul of Tarsus would never have become Paul the apostle. And what would have happened to us when we were still in our sins? Also we should understand that God in His wisdom often allows men's wickedness to be revealed to the full before bringing a halt to it (Gen 15:16).

10:2-11 The writer recounts to God the character of wicked people that so much merits God's judgment. Certain sins are emphasized – pride (vs 2,4,5) and preying on the weak (vs 2,8-10), and words full of boasting and contempt for God and His laws (vs 3-7), and cruelty and murder (vs 8-10).

10:3 See what the fallen heart of man can come to. A bad man can reach the place where he actually takes pride in what he should be deeply ashamed of. Compare Phil 3:19. And do we not see this on every hand?

10:4 "Pride" – see what keeps men from seeking God – they think they are too wise or too strong or too self-sufficient to bother with Him.

"Not in any of his thoughts" – this is the real cause of the behavior of the individual described here. And this outlook on life can bring anyone to the same base manner of life. Speaking generally, the whole human race has no time, no place for the one true God of the universe. Compare 14:1; Ex 5:2; John 1:10,11; etc.

10:5,6 Compare 73:4-12.

10:7-10 5:9; Rom 3:13-18; etc.

10:11 73:11. Such people have enough knowledge of right and wrong that they do not want God to see and know what they are doing – so they persuade themselves that He does not. Their ideas of God are not based on reason or revelation, but on what they want to think. This too is very common among people everywhere.

10:12 "Arise" – God's people may sometimes be impatient with God's seeming lack of action (13:1; Hab 1:2,3; etc). God will arise in His own good time – 12:5.

10:13 "You will not require an account" – nothing could be further from the truth than this thought of wicked men. See Rom 14:12; Acts 17:31; Rev 20:11-15.

10:14 He is confident that eventually God will come to the aid of the helpless who commit themselves to Him (vs 16-18).

10:15 See note at 35:8.

10:16 "King" – note at 47:2.

10:18 "Fatherless" – 68:5; 82:1-4; Ex 22:22-24; Deut 10:18; Isa 1:17. Observe here that the wicked are "of the earth." Their desires, aims, motives, and actions are all concerned with what they can get and enjoy in this world. All their portion is here (17:14). Hereafter they will go into eternal punishment (Matt 25:46). Believers in Christ are "of heaven", and should live

11

To the chief musician,
a Psalm of David

- 1 In the LORD I put my trust.
How can you say to my soul,
"Flee like a bird to your mountain?"
- 2 For, look, the wicked bend their bow.
They make ready their arrow on the string, so that they can secretly shoot at the upright in heart."
- 3 If the foundations are destroyed,
what can the righteous do?
- 4 The LORD is in his holy temple.
The LORD's throne is in heaven.
His eyes see, his eyelids test the children of men.
- 5 The LORD tests the righteous;
but his soul hates the wicked and the one who loves violence.
- 6 On the wicked he will rain snares,
fire and brimstone,
and a fiery tempest.
This will be the portion of their cup.
- 7 For the righteous LORD loves righteousness.
His countenance sees the upright.

as if this were so (John 17:14,16; Eph 2:6,7; Phil 3:20; Col 3:1-4).

11:1,2 Once again David speaks of a time of personal danger. At some such times it might be wise to flee. But at other times it is better to take one's stand and confidently trust in God - 7:1. This is what David now does, in spite of the counsel of others. In times of difficulty the most important question is not, what is safe? but, what is right? what is God's will?

11:3 When wicked men destroy the just foundations of society what can good men do? They can take their stand for righteousness, knowing full well that God is on their side - vs 4,7.

11:4 Here is David's confidence in times of difficulty and danger - God knows what is going on, and is ruling all from His holy throne (note at 47:2). There is peace in this for troubled hearts.

11:5 Notes on "tests" at 66:10-12; Gen 22:1. On "hates" see 5:5.

11:6 Gen 19:24,25; 2 Thess 1:7,8; Rev 21:8.

11:7 People of integrity who love justice as God does are the ones who will see His face - 16:11; 17:15; Matt 5:8; Rev 22:4. Do we not have in these words of David a suggestion of the blessed life after death for the righteous?

12 Title: Sheminith was probably a musical term.

12:1,2 Sometimes the servant of God must stand all alone - Gen 7:1; Ex 32:9,10;

12

To the chief musician on sheminith,
a Psalm of David

- 1 Help, LORD, for the godly man ceases, for the faithful fail from among the children of men.
- 2 Everyone speaks vanity with his neighbour.
They speak with flattering lips and with a double heart.
- 3 The LORD will cut off all flattering lips,
and the tongue that speaks proud things, 4 that have said, "With our tongue we will prevail.
Our lips are our own.
Who is lord over us?"
- 5 "Because of the oppression of the poor,
because of the sighing of the needy,
I will now arise," says the LORD,
"I will set him in safety from the one who snorts at him."
- 6 The words of the LORD are pure words, like silver refined in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.
- 7 You will keep them, O LORD,
you will preserve them from this

1 Kings 18:22; 19:10; Jer 1:17-19; Micah 7:2; 2 Tim 4:16,17. This is very difficult but those who do so will find that in a special way God is their help.

12:3 "Cut off" - see notes at 35:8 and introduction to psalm 109.

12:4 "Who is lord over us?" - this rejection of God's lordship over them was the source of their ungodly behavior. Those who will not be ruled by God will be ruled by sin and Satan - Luke 19:14; John 8:34; Eph 2:2; 2 Pet 2:10,19. They ignored the Creator and said their lips were their own. In truth nothing is our own. On the basis of creation, we are all God's possession, creatures He has made for Himself.

12:5 David the poet here speaks as David the prophet. He has been speaking of men to God. Now he speaks to men of God's promises. God hears the groans of the helpless and He knows the right time to arise for their help - Ex 3:7-10; Luke 18:7.

12:6 What God says, He will do. His word has been tested in the furnace of men's experience and proved all through the history of mankind - compare 18:30; 19:8,10; 119:140; John 17:17; 2 Tim 3:16. There is no mixture of error in God's Word. This is in contrast with the words of the people referred to in vs 2-4.

12:7,8 Though the situation appears desperate, meditating on the purity of God's Word will give confident hope for the future.

generation forever.

- 8 The wicked walk about on every side,
when the vilest men are exalted.

13

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 How long will you forget me, O LORD?
Forever? How long will you hide your face from me?
- 2 How long will I take counsel in my soul,
having sorrow in my heart daily?
How long will my enemy be exalted over me?
- 3 Consider and hear me, O LORD my God.
Give light to my eyes, so that I do not sleep the sleep of death,
- 4 So that my enemy does not say,
"I have prevailed against him,"
and those who trouble me rejoice

13:1 Evidently David wrote this psalm when he was in danger and difficulties and was tempted to discouragement and depression. Compare psalm 42.

"How long" – 6:3; etc. Of course God does not ever forget His people – Isa 49:14-16; Heb 6:10. But it seems sometimes to them that He does so – 42:9; 77:9; Lam 5:20. To "hide" the face to them meant rejection, displeasure. Shining of the face meant favor and acceptance – 27:9; 30:7; 69:17; 102:2; Num 6:22-27; Deut 31:17,18; 32:20; Isa 1:15.

13:2 God's people very often have intense inner struggles. Their thoughts bring them pain and sorrow. They cannot understand why things are happening as they are (see Job 3:1). First they think one thing, and then another. One explanation of events brings relief for a while, and then another explanation intrudes. We might say that often the real battle of believers is with thoughts, and not with outward circumstances or human enemies, and when they win the battle in their own mind and rest in God by faith, they can win everywhere. Compare 2 Cor 10:5.

13:3,4 The thought that the wicked should triumph was unendurable to David. The thought that our greatest foe, Satan, should triumph over us should be unendurable to us.

13:5,6 See what we should do when we are in difficulties, when we wrestle with our thoughts, when we seem to be defeated and are cast down in our minds, when God seems to have forgotten us. David shows the way. He rejoices even when he has sorrow in his heart, he trusts God's love even when God seems to be at a distance and frowning on him. He remembers God's goodness to him in the past and will sing to Him because of that. For the time being, at least, David has won the battle in his mind and his thoughts when I am shaken.

- 5 But I have trusted in your mercy.
My heart will rejoice in your salvation.
- 6 I will sing to the LORD, because he has dealt bountifully with me.

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 The fool has said in his heart,
There is no God."
They are corrupt, they have done abominable deeds.
There is no one who does good.
- 2 The LORD looked down from heaven on the children of men to see if there were any who understand and seek God.
- 3 They have all turned aside, they have all together become corrupt.

were again full of confidence. Trust in God's grace is a great tonic for troubled hearts. Faith is the victory that overcomes the world (and everything else that is in opposition to God) – 1 John 5:4,5; John 14:1. For victory we must look away from ourselves and our troubles. An attitude of faith can conquer all discouraging, depressing thoughts.

14:1 Evidently this is a very important psalm because it is repeated with only a few changes in psalm 53, and Paul quotes from it in Romans chapter 3. The Hebrew word translated "fool" does not mean an uneducated person or one lacking in mental ability. It means one who is perverse in his thinking, one who because he is morally corrupt will not permit the truth to enter his head. The atheist is like this. He believes something (the non-existence of God) not because there is proof for it, but because there is hostility in his heart toward the God he denies (John 15:18; Rom 1:30; 8:7) – in other words, he allows his base feelings to rule his thoughts (Col 1:21). Atheism strikes a blow at ethics and morality (as someone has said, "If there is no God, I can do as I please").

The atheist reveals his "foolishness" in other ways as well. He believes in the non-existence of God even though it is impossible to prove this, and though there is tremendous evidence against this view. In order to believe his atheism he must ignore all of this evidence, suppress the voice of God speaking in nature and in his conscience, and reject God's revelation of Himself in the Bible which comes with great internal evidence of its truthfulness. Observe that the fool says inwardly that there is no God. Because of his circumstances, or the society in which he lives, he may not have the courage to deny God outwardly and may even profess to be religious.

14:2,3 See 53:2,3. David turns from

There is no one who does good, no, not one.

- 4 Are all the evildoers without knowledge?
They devour my people like they eat bread,
and do not call on the LORD.
- 5 There they are in great fear;
for God is among the generation of
the righteous.
- 6 You have shamed the counsel of the poor,
because the LORD is his refuge.
- 7 Oh, that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!
When the LORD brings back his people

from captivity,
Jacob will rejoice, and Israel will be glad.

15

A Psalm of David

- 1 LORD, who may abide in your tabernacle?
Who may dwell on your holy hill?
- 2 He who walks uprightly, and works righteousness, and speaks the truth from his heart.

thoughts of the corrupt nature of the atheist to thoughts of the corruption of human nature in general. Not all men will say there is no God, but because of their sinful nature they live to a large extent as if there were no God. If they really believed in God would they not try to seek Him? Would they not heartily try to do good? Since they do not, they show by their actions that their nature is corrupt and their belief in God for the most part is an empty thing. Paul used these verses to show the sinfulness and guilt of every human being – Rom 3:9-12.

Is this description of people too harsh and pessimistic? No. It is what God sees. Notice David's words in v 2 – "The LORD looked down from heaven." David could know this only by revelation from God Himself. People in their ignorance and darkness may think they see something very good in or among themselves. But God does not see as man does – 1 Sam 16:7; Luke 16:13. And in this psalm we have God's view, not man's.

14:4,5 Those who practice evil have no understanding of the most essential thing in the world for them. The time will come when they will be overwhelmed with dread of God's anger. Compare Rev 6:15-17. Notes on God's anger at 90:7-11; Num 25:3; Deut 4:25; John 3:36; Rom 1:18. 14:6,7 In the midst of a corrupt humanity, God, the righteous one, is doing His work, bringing salvation to His chosen ones, justifying them and restoring them to a blessed state.

"Brings back. . .from captivity" – the phrase in Hebrew also means "restores the well-being of."

Note on the Hebrew language: Is it possible that the same Hebrew words can be translated so differently? Yes, it is. See also the note on Prov 19:22. Speaking in general, some words and expressions and phrases in Hebrew can have more than one meaning. Others are obscure and ambiguous, and it is very difficult to come at the exact meaning. Some sentences are very terse and omit words we would put in when using English, and so the meaning is doubtful. In other cases there are sometimes slight variations in the spelling of words in various manuscripts.

And we should understand that the Hebrew of the Old Testament is an ancient language, and in written form originally had only consonants – no vowels, no punctuation marks, and often no space between words. Many hundreds of years later a group of Jewish scholars added what they thought were the right vowels to the basic consonants. Their work is called the Masoretic Text, and it is the text used in the translation of the Old Testament for hundreds of years. No doubt they did their work remarkably accurately, but there is no reason to think that it was absolutely perfect. And if, here and there, they made mistakes in adding vowels, this can give meanings different from the ones the original writer intended.

We are very fortunate to have so ancient a book that on the whole is so remarkably clear as to meaning. We should understand that God fully inspired the original writings of the Bible (see notes at 2 Tim 3:16; 2 Pet 1:21). Though interpretations of those ancient manuscripts are not inspired in the same way as the originals, the translation used in this Study Bible is very accurate.

15:1 This psalm is in great contrast to the previous one. The question naturally arises, if all are corrupt, if no one seeks God or does good (14:2,3), how is it possible to have the kind of character described in this psalm? The answer is that in grace and love God seeks people, forgives them, saves them, changes them, gives them a new nature, and begins the work of sanctifying them (2 Cor 5:17; Eph 2:8-10). In this way God prepares them to live in His presence and enjoy Him forever. Without the work of God in the heart not one human being could live as this psalm describes, or be prepared for His presence.

15:2-5 The character of the righteous man described here is perfectly seen in the Lord Jesus Christ. In union with Him and sharing His righteous nature we can and should live as He lived – Rom 6:3-8; Eph 4:22-24; 1 John 2:3-6.

15:2 All believers in Christ (not just a few exceptional ones) should be blameless in behavior – 1 Cor 1:8; Phil 2:14,15; 2 Pet 3:14. All of us should always speak the

- 3 He who does not slander with his tongue, and who does no evil to his neighbour, and does not take up a taunt against his neighbour.
- 4 He in whose eyes a vile person is despised,
but who honours those who fear the LORD;
who though he takes an oath to his own hurt
does not change it;
- 5 He who does not lend his money for usury,
or take a bribe against the innocent.
He who behaves like this will never be shaken.

Miktam of David

- 1 Preserve me, O God, for in you I put my trust.

truth – Eph 4:15,25; Col 3:9,10. The true God is a God of truth (31:5), and demands that we love truth and speak the truth. Those who do not are in great danger – Prov 12:22; 2 Thess 2:10,11; Rev 21:8,27; 22:15. Liars are Satan's children (John 8:44), and will be punished with Satan.

15:3 Ex 20:16; 23:1; Lev 19:16,18; Matt 7:12; Col 3:8; Jam 4:11,12.

15:4 Evil is a great offense to a holy God and so it will be to holy men as well. See 5:5. A truly righteous person will keep his word no matter what it may cost him.

15:5 "Usury" – see Ex 22:25; Lev 25:35-37. "Bribe" – Ex 23:8; Deut 10:17; 16:19; Prov 15:27; 17:23; Isa 5:22,23.

"Shaken" – or "moved" – 16:8; 55:22; 66:8,9; 112:6; 2 Pet 1:10. These two psalms, 14 and 15, stand side by side. The one reveals what human beings are in themselves, the other reveals what God by His grace can make them.

16 Title: "miktam" – no one now knows the meaning of this word for certain. Some think it comes from the Hebrew word for "sold" or "treasure." Others think it comes from the word to "hide" or "hidden." Others think it means merely something written – a poem. Others have made other suggestions.

16:1 This is a very remarkable psalm. David is speaking here once again as a prophet. In truth the Lord Jesus Christ by His Spirit speaks through the mouth of David (1 Pet 1:11; 2 Pet 1:21), and refers to His life on earth and His resurrection from the dead – all this about 1000 years before He came into the world. See Acts 2:25-32; 13:34-37. Though doubtless something of David's own experience appears here let us look at this psalm in the way it applies to the Lord Jesus. The refuge of the Lord Jesus when He was on earth was God the Father. Though He was the Son of God He laid aside His divine glory and privileges and trusted in God's power (Phil 2:5-7; Matt 3:16,17). Though He was perfectly holy He needed to be kept from Satan and evil as we all need to be

- 2 O my soul, you have said to the LORD,
"You are my Lord;
my goodness without you is nothing."
- 3 But as for the saints who are in the earth, they are the excellent ones in whom is all my delight.
- 4 The sorrows of those who run after another god will be multiplied.
Their drink offerings of blood I will not offer,
or take up their names on my lips.
- 5 The LORD is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup.
You maintain my lot.
- 6 The boundary lines have fallen to me in pleasant places.
Yes, I have a good inheritance.
- 7 I will praise the LORD, who has given me counsel.

(Matt 4:1-10; Luke 4:28-30; John 1:14; Heb 2:14,17,18; 4:15). And He needed to be rescued from death (Heb 5:7). Notes on Christ's humanity at Heb 2:14,17; John 1:14.

16:2 Jesus acknowledged the Father (Jehovah) as His Lord in everything and as the source of everything He was and had – John 4:34; 5:30; 6:38; 8:29; 12:49; 15:10; 17:7; Matt 26:39; Heb 10:5-7.

16:3 Christ loves His believers, here called "saints" or holy ones. He considers them alone the great ones of the earth. He delights in them, not in the worldly wise, the rich, the powerful. In His eyes believers, even those who are poor and uneducated, are the glorious ones of the world. They are His special treasure – Ex 19:5,6; John 17:6; 1 Cor 6:19,20; 1 Pet 2:9. For some of the things the Lord Jesus delights in see 147:11; 149:4; Prov 12:22; 15:8; Isa 66:2; Jer 9:24.

16:4 The more gods a person has the more trouble he will have. If the one true God is not enough for a person many gods will be both not enough and too much for him. The Lord Jesus served His heavenly Father, the Creator of the universe, the one true God (Matt 4:10; John 17:3,4). He abhorred all gods and all idolatry. Those who want to follow Him must do the same.

16:5,6 God the Father was Christ's portion, His inheritance. His delight was in doing God's will – John 4:34; 5:30; 6:38; etc. Though it meant much pain and sorrow and a cruel death He was perfectly content with the place and the work the Father had appointed for Him. He completely fulfilled the picture of the Old Testament priests and Levites whose portion was not in the land, but in God alone – Deut 10:9; 18:1,2. They who believe in Him now (the New Testament priests – 1 Pet 2:5,9) should follow Him in this also. The will of God must be their main concern, whether it means plenty or poverty. When they live in the center of God's will as the Lord Jesus did, they will find great delight in it as He did.

16:7 The Lord Jesus got all His directions as

- My inner being also instructs me in the night seasons.
- 8 I have set the LORD always before me. Because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.
- 9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices. My flesh also will rest in hope.
- 10 For you will not leave my soul in the realm of the dead; nor will you let your Holy One see corruption.
- 11 You will show me the path of life. In your presence is fulness of joy. At your right hand there are pleasures forevermore.

17

A prayer of David

- 1 Hear a righteous cause, O LORD. Be attentive to my cry, give ear to my to what He should speak and do from God the Father – John 5:19,20; 12:49; 14:31. By day and by night He got His instructions inwardly through the Holy Spirit of God.

16:8 Here we see the secret of Jesus' victory in every trouble and trial. His eyes were always on the Father. He knew that God was at His right hand for all the strength and help He needed. So He was never moved from the course His Father had appointed for Him. In all these matters He is the perfect example to all of us.

16:9 The Lord Jesus was a man of sorrows and knew grief – Isa 53:3. In the Gospels we read that He wept but not that He laughed. Yet deep in His heart was a great gladness, a solemn and holy joy – John 15:11; 17:13. This was joy in being the Son of the Father, of having the privilege of doing the Father's will and glorifying Him on earth.

"My flesh also will rest in hope" – this refers to the confidence He had that He would rise from the dead, as the next verse makes clear.

16:10 "The realm of the dead" – Hebrew "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35. The New Testament makes sufficient comment on this verse – Acts 2:25-32; 13:34-37.

16:11 Joy was before Jesus when He endured the cross – Heb 12:2. It was the joy of God's presence, the joy of finishing His work, the joy of bringing believing people to His Father's house. The path of life which Jesus knew, leads there. He Himself is that way – John 14:6. On earth He put God at His right hand. In heaven God put Him at His right hand, the place of honor – Eph 1:20; Heb 1:3. Those who follow the path of life to God's presence will have joys that are eternal, unlike the brief fading joys the pleasures of this world may bring. In this

- prayer, that does not come out of deceitful lips.
- 2 Let my vindication come from your presence. Let your eyes look at the things that are right.
- 3 You have tested my heart. You have visited me in the night. You have tried me, and will find nothing. I am determined that my mouth will not transgress.
- 4 Concerning the works of men, by the word of your lips I have kept myself from the paths of the destroyer.
- 5 Uphold my steps in your paths, so that my footsteps do not slip.
- 6 I have called to you, for you will hear me, O God. Bow down your ear to me; hear my words.
- 7 Show your marvellous loving kindness, O you who save by your right hand those who put their trust in you from those who rise up against them.
- 8 Keep me as the apple of your eye. Hide me under the shadow of your wings, psalm we are introduced into the holy of holies of Christ's mind and heart. We have His thoughts revealed, His inward prayers, motives, faith, and aims. In all of it He is the perfect example to all of us who believe in Him. He showed the way of faith and obedience that leads to glory and eternal joy. See Heb 12:1-3.

17:1,2 Once again David prays in a time of great danger – vs 9,11,12. It is clear too that his enemies had brought unjust charges against him – vs 1,2. So David cried to God for two things – vindication (v 2), and preservation (vs 7,9,13). The event in David's history that fits this psalm seems to be Saul's pursuit of him in the desert areas of southern Israel. See 1 Sam 23:24 to 24:22. At that time David was sure of his righteous conduct, and wanted the Lord to judge between him and Saul – 1 Sam 24:11,12,15.

17:3 David does not mean that he is sinless and has no fallen nature (note at 18:23). He means that in the charges his enemies made against him there was no truth at all. He had not sinned against his persecutors either in word or in deed – v 5. There is no spirit of self-righteousness here. David is merely conscious of his integrity (compare Job chapter 31; Acts 23:1; 1 Cor 4:4).

17:4 We can keep ourselves from the ways of the wicked only by God's Word – 119:9,105.

17:6 David's conscience was clear. This gave him great confidence in prayer. See 66:18; 1 John 3:21,22. If we live like the wicked we should not expect God to reward us as if we were righteous.

17:7 Here we have a long and precious title given to God. Let us use it when Satan attacks.

17:8,9 "Eye" – Deut 32:10; Prov 7:2; Zech 2:8.

- 9 From the wicked who oppress me,
from my deadly enemies, who surround me.
- 10 They have closed up their fat hearts.
 With their mouths they speak proudly.
- 11 They have now surrounded us in our steps.
 They have set their eyes bowing down to the earth
- 12 Like a lion that is greedy for its prey,
 and like a young lion lurking in secret places.
- 13 Arise, O LORD! Disappoint him!
 Hurl him down! By your sword deliver my soul from the wicked,
- 14 By your hand from men, O LORD, from men of the world who have their portion in this life,
 and whose belly you fill with your hidden treasure.
 They are satisfied with children, and leave the rest of their possessions to their babies.
- 15 As for me, I will see your face in righteousness;
 I will be satisfied when I awake with your likeness.

To the chief musician, a Psalms of David,
 the servant of the LORD, who spoke to the

"Wings" – 36:7; 57:1; 61:4; 63:7; 91:4; Ruth 2:12; Matt 23:37; Luke 13:34.
17:12 See 1 Pet 5:8.

17:13 Note at Ps 35:8.

17:14 "Men of the world" – see 10:18.
 However much they enjoy life here they must leave it all and go into eternity without hope, without God.

17:15 David contrasts his enemies with himself – they are wicked, he is righteous;
 they see their prosperity, he will see God's face; they are satisfied with things of this world, he will be satisfied when he rises to experience God's likeness. Compare Matt
 5:8; Rom 8:29; 1 John 3:2,3; Rev 22:4.

"When I awake" – David is referring to awakening from the sleep of death. The hope expressed here could not be realized in any way other than resurrection from the dead. We know from 16:9,10 that he had some idea of the resurrection of the body.
 Though God had revealed very little about the resurrection in Old Testament days He did reveal something (see also Job 19:23-27; Isa 26:19; Dan 12:2).

18:1 This psalm is found with a few changes in 2 Samuel chapter 22. This is the song of the victorious warrior. His battles have been as "the servant of the LORD" (Title), and he gives all the glory to the Lord alone for the victories. Now the battles of believers are spiritual battles. We must fight against sin, and the flesh in us, and Satan and his hordes without – 1 Cor 9:26; Eph 6:11,12;
 Col 3:5; 1 Tim 6:12. We are to be good

LORD the words of this song on the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: And he said,

- 1 I will love you, O LORD, my strength.
- 2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortress,
 and my deliverer; my God,
 my strength in whom I will trust,
 my shield, and the horn of my salvation,
 and my high refuge.
- 3 I will call to the LORD, who is worthy to be praised;
 so I will be saved from my enemies.
- 4 The sorrows of death surrounded me,
 and the floods of ungodliness made me
 afraid.
- 5 The sorrows of hell surrounded me;
 the snares of death confronted me.
- 6 In my distress I called to the LORD,
 and cried out to my God.
 He heard my voice from his temple,
 and my cry came before him,
 into his ears.
- 7 Then the earth shook and trembled;
 also the foundations of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was angry.

soldiers of Jesus Christ – 2 Tim 2:3. David loved the Lord (the Hebrew word means the love between parents and children, the love that moves the heart to overflowing affection). Blessed is the man who loves God.
 Everything will turn out for his good – Rom 8:28. It will prove to be the secret of his victory. God Himself was David's strength for the fight – 21:1; 46:1; 68:28; 84:5;
 Ex 15:2; Isa 12:2; 40:31; 1 Chron 16:11.
18:2 "Rock" – Deut 32:4. In vs 1,2 David uses eight different terms to express the completeness of the strength, power, and protection he found in God. The terms all are associated with battle, and attacks, and need of safety. Whatever his dangers, trials, and fears, he found that he was absolutely secure (compare John 10:28, 29; Rom 8:35-39; 1 Pet 1:5; Jude 1).

18:3 This was the continual experience of his whole life. It can and should be ours also – 1 Cor 10:13; 2 Tim 4:18; 2 Pet 2:9.
18:4-6 David remembers times of extreme danger and distress, but he knew what to do. Cannot we see Christ in these verses?
 See Acts 2:24 and Heb 5:7.

18:5 "Hell" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – note at
 Gen 37:35.

18:7 From here to v 19 we see God's answer to David's cry. How powerful is the prayer of a righteous person! – Jam 5:16; Luke 18:1-8. The prayer of a single believer is sometimes followed by marvelous results.
 It is not recorded in David's history that God ever came in an earthquake or storm to

- 8 A smoke went up out of his nostrils,
and devouring fire out of his mouth.
Coals were kindled by it.
- 9 He bowed the heavens also,
and came down, and darkness was under his feet.
- 10 And he rode on a cherub and flew;
yes, he flew on the wings of the wind.
- 11 He made darkness his secret place.
His canopy around him was dark waters
and thick clouds of the skies.
- 12 From the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed with hailstones and coals of fire.
- 13 The LORD also thundered in the heavens,
and the Most High uttered his voice,
hailstones and coals of fire.
- 14 He sent out his arrows and scattered them,
and he shot out lightning flashes and routed them.
- 15 Then the channels of waters were seen,
and the foundations of the world
were uncovered at your rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of breath from your nostrils.
- 16 He stretched down from above, he took hold of me, he drew me out of many waters.
- 17 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
and from those who hated me;
for they were too strong for me.
- 18 They confronted me in the day of my calamity;
but the LORD was my support.
- 19 He also brought me out into a broad place;
he delivered me, because he delighted in me.
- 20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
according to the cleanness of my hands
he has repaid me.
- 21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
and have not wickedly departed from my God.
- 22 For all his judgments were before me,
and I did not put away his statutes from me.
- 23 I was also upright before him,
and I kept myself from my sin.
- 24 Therefore the LORD has repaid me
according to my righteousness,
according to the cleanness of my hands
in his sight.
- 25 With the merciful you will show yourself
merciful;
with an upright man you will show yourself upright;
- 26 With the pure you will show yourself pure;
and with the twisters you will show yourself able to twist.

deliver him but it could have happened at one time or another – or possibly David is using very poetic language to describe another kind of deliverance.

18:8 A picture of great wrath. God is angry when wicked men persecute His people – 1 Thess 2:6,7.

18:9 Man's need and true prayer bring God down.

18:10 "Cherub" – Gen 3:24; Ex 25:18-20.

18:11-15 God is pictured as arriving in the storm. The dark clouds are His clothing, the thunder is His voice, lightening flashes are His arrows, the wind is His breath. The language is poetical, full of beautiful metaphors. Writers of the Bible never worshiped the forces of nature or called them gods. They saw the one true God behind them.

18:13 "Coals of fire" – or the meaning could be "bolts of lightning."

18:16,17 David was drowning, as it were, in troubles and dangers, and God drew him out of them. Observe that his enemies were too strong for him. Yes, but not too strong for the Lord.

18:18 Disaster almost overwhelmed him but he had someone to lean on (this is the meaning of the Hebrew verb).

18:19 See 31:8; 118:5. David begins to set forth the reason why God came and wonderfully rescued him. God was well pleased with both his character and actions. He was a man after God's own heart – see the note at 1 Sam 13:14; Acts 13:22. If we want to be delivered when trouble comes we should try to live lives pleasing to God. The perfect fulfillment of this verse, of course, is in the Lord Jesus (Matt 3:17; Heb 5:7).

18:20-24 This is not self-righteousness, but a simple setting forth of the facts by the inspiration of God's Spirit (see 17:3).

18:23 David was well aware of his sinful nature and his besetting temptations. Indeed, no one in the Bible speaks of his sin more than David – 25:7,11,18; 31:10; 32:5; 38:3,4,18; 39:8; 40:12; 41:4; 51:3,5; 69:5; 103:10,12. But even in that matter where he was most prone to sin he kept himself by the grace of God. He knew that he hated his sins, mourned over them, forsook them, was cleansed from them and forgiven. He knew that he loved God and righteousness and that he sought to keep from sin and to live an upright life.

18:25,26 Here is one very important principle of God's dealings with people. In some measure at least He acts toward them as they act toward Him and others – 62:12; Lev 26:3-5,23,24,27,28; Prov 3:34; Matt 5:7; 6:14,15; Rom 2:5,6. This is a principle of perfect justice. It is in accordance with the law God gave. Does God, then, change His character when he deals with different kinds of people? No, He merely reveals that side of His character which suits the person and the case. He will see that the faithful, blameless, and pure will thus learn in experience more of God's faithfulness, blamelessness, and purity. But the wicked and deceitful will learn that God

- 27 For you will save lowly people;
but will bring down haughty looks.
- 28 For you will make my lamp give light;
the LORD my God will enlighten my darkness.
- 29 For by you I have run through a troop,
and by my God I have leaped over a wall.
- 30 As for God, his way is perfect.
The word of the Lord is tested and proven.
He is a shield to all those who trust in him.
- 31 For who is God except the LORD?
Or who is a rock except our God?
- 32 It is God who arms me with strength, and makes my way perfect.
- 33 He makes my feet like deer's feet,
and sets me on my high places.
- 34 He teaches my hands to war, so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.
- 35 You have also given me the shield of your salvation,
and your right hand has held me up,
and your gentleness has made me great.
- 36 You have enlarged my path under me,
so that my feet did not slip.
- 37 I have pursued my enemies and overtaken
them.
I did not turn back until they were consumed.
- 38 I have wounded them so that they were not able to rise.
They are fallen under my feet.
- 39 For you have armed me with strength to the battle.
You have subdued under me those who
rose up against me.

- 40 You have also given me the necks of my enemies, so that I might destroy those who hate me.
- 41 They cried out, but there was no one to save them; to the LORD,
but he did not answer them.
- 42 Then I beat them as fine as the dust
before the wind.
I hurled them out like dirt in the streets.
- 43 You have delivered me from the strivings of the people;
and you have made me the head of the nations.
A people whom I have not known will serve me.
- 44 As soon as they hear of me, they obey me;
the foreigners submit themselves to me.
- 45 The foreigners fade away,
and frightened come from their strongholds.
- 46 The LORD lives! Blessed be my rock!
Let the God of my salvation be exalted!
- 47 It is God who avenges me,
and subdues the peoples under me.
- 48 He delivers me from my enemies, and you lift me up above those who rise up against me.
You have delivered me from the violent man.
- 49 Therefore I will give thanks to you,
O LORD, among the nations,
and sing praises to your name.
- 50 He gives great deliverance to his king,
and shows mercy to his anointed,
to David, and to his offspring forever.

can outwit them and make their own crookedness to work against them – 5:10; 7:16;
9:16; 1 Cor 3:19.

“Twisters” – this is probably as close to the meaning of the Hebrew word as any other. It indicates those who try to twist everything for their own ends, pervert God’s truth, and make their ways corrupt and dishonest – Deut 32:5; Prov 2:15; 10:9; 17:20; Isa 59:8; Gal 1:7; 2 Peter 3:16.
God knows how to deal justly with such and make their twisting efforts twist them up –
7:15,16; Gal 6:7.

18:27 An example of God’s just dealings
(compare Jam 4:6; 1 Pet 5:5).

18:28 “Lamp” – 132:17; 1 Kings 15:4.

“Enlighten” – 27:1; 112:4; Isa 50:10;
Micah 7:8; John 8:12.

18:30 Deut 32:4; Zeph 3:5. God knows how to deal with every individual and with the world as a whole. He never makes a mistake, never acts unjustly, never fails to do what he should do. Sinful men, not understanding this, blame Him for all sorts of things which happen on earth. See note on 47:2. On His Word see Ps 12:6; Prov 30:5.

18:31 The LORD (Jehovah), the God of Israel, the Creator of the universe is the one true God, and there is no other – Isa

44:6,8,24; 45:5,18.

“Rock” – Deut 32:4.

18:32 In Hebrew the word “perfect” here is the same word used of God above. David does not say that God had made him perfect – only his way. God perfectly equipped him for the fight he had to face, the work he had to do. He made him honest and upright in his behavior. This is what God wants for us all (Deut 18:13; Ps 101:2,6).

18:33-36 All his abilities and powers and successes he attributes to God’s grace alone.
18:35 God’s gentleness is what makes truly great, not man’s restless striving after position and power.

18:37-42 References from the history of David – 1 Sam 30:16-19; 2 Sam 5:6-10,17-25; 8:1-14; 10:17-19.

18:43-45 Other references from history –
2 Sam 8:2,6,11,12,14; 10:19; 1 Chron
18:1-13.

18:46-50 David would never think of at-tributing to himself the success and victories he gained. From first to last it was all of God. So shall it be with us if we get the victory over the world, the flesh, and the devil (Rom 8:37; 2 Cor 1:21; 2:14; 3:5).

18:50 Here David remembers the covenant
God made with him about this (89:3,4; 1 Chron

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 The heavens declare the glory of God;
and the expanse shows his handiwork.
- 2 Day by day they pour forth speech,
and night by night show forth knowledge.
- 3 There is no speech or language where their voice is not heard.
- 4 Their boundary line has gone out through
all the earth,
and their words to the end of the world.
In them he has set a tent for the sun,
- 5 Which is like a bridegroom coming out of his chamber,
and like a strong man rejoicing to run a race.
- 6 Its rising is from one end of heaven,

17:7-14). He expresses his confidence that God would keep this covenant. This verse finds its perfect fulfillment in David's descendant, Jesus Christ the Lord (Matt 1:1; Rom 1:3). In fact, thinking of spiritual warfare and victory the enlightened believer can see Christ all through this psalm. Christ is much in the psalms as He is everywhere in the Old Testament (see Luke 24:25-27,44).

19:1 This psalm speaks of two witnesses for God - creation (vs 1-6), and the teaching God has revealed (vs 7-11). It closes with the desire to be free from sin and to be pleasing to the Creator.

"Expanse" - see Gen 1:6-8.

19:2 Creation testifies to God's being and glory. Compare Rom 1:19,20. Christ Himself pointed to nature as teaching God's wisdom, glory, and care - Matt 6:26-30; 10:29. So it is in vain for any philosopher or scientist to deny it. Those who do so only show their own spiritual blindness or prejudice.

19:3,4 The heavens, the sun, moon, and stars do not speak words, but their silent testimony is universal and very powerful. It reaches every nation, tribe, and village on earth. These created objects are saying, "There is a Creator, a God of infinite power and glory." This testimony goes everywhere, including places where no human preacher has ever gone.

"Line" - translations of the Hebrew into Greek (the Septuagint), Latin, and Syriac have "voice" here (perhaps indicating that in those far-off days the Hebrew word also conveyed that meaning). Whether we keep "line" or opt for "voice" the teaching seems to be the same - namely, there is no place that the testimony of the heavens does not reach.

19:4-6 The sun is singled out as the brightest object in the sky that declares the glory of God. Men at different times and places have worshiped the sun as God. The writers of the Bible, inspired by God's Spirit, knew better. The sun is simply an object made by God (Gen 1:1,16), and points to God as the

and its circuit to the other ends of it, and there is nothing hidden from its heat.

- 7 The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul.
The testimony of the LORD is sure,
making wise the simple.
- 8 The statutes of the LORD are right, giving joy to the heart.
The commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.
- 9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever.
The judgments of the LORD are altogether true and righteous.
- 10 They are more desirable than gold, yes,
than much fine gold.
They are sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
- 11 Moreover by them your servant is warned, proper object of worship.

19:7 "Law" - the Hebrew word also means "instruction", "teaching." The teaching or the law God has given in His Word also reveals His glory. David is doubtless referring to the books of Moses, which made up nearly all the written Word of God then available. Believers now have the rest of the Bible, a much fuller revelation of God's wisdom, love, power, and glory. The revelation God has given is perfect - there is no flaw of any kind in it (12:6; 18:30; Matt 5:17,18). It has wonderful power to change the human heart (119:25,107; John 15:3; Jam 1:21; 1 Pet 1:23). We may be sure that what God has revealed is trustworthy - Ps 93:5; 111:7. A simple person who knows, believes, and loves the Word of God will be far wiser than those highly educated and intelligent persons who do not do so (111:10; 119:99; Prov 1:7). This is because the Word of God will teach him the fear of the Lord.

19:8 Two more results of the Word of God received - joy (119:111; Jer 15:16; John 17:13; 1 Thess 1:6; 1 John 1:4), and light (119:105,130; Prov 6:23; 2 Cor 4:4; 2 Pet 1:19).

19:9 Notes on "fear of the Lord" at 34:11-14; 111:10; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7; Gen 20:11. The fear of the Lord has a permanent effect for good in a person's life. One of the glories of God's teachings in the Bible is that they are altogether holy, just, and good (Rom 7:12).

19:10 If men would go after the wonderful truths of the Word of God as they pursue wealth how blessed they would be and how different the whole world would be! (119:72,127; Prov 8:10,11,19). The Word of God is very sweet to the spiritual man (119:103; Prov 24:13,14). If it is not so with us it is because we are still carnal and sin is powerful in us.

19:11 As long as we are in this world we will continue to need warnings from God and in keeping them there is great reward.

 12 Who can discern his errors?
 Cleanse me from secret faults.
 13 Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins.
 Let them not have dominion over me.
 Then I will be blameless, and I will be innocent from great transgression.
 14 May the words of my mouth,
 and the meditation of my heart,
 be acceptable in your sight, O LORD,
 my strength and my redeemer.

20

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

1 The LORD hear you in the day of trouble.

(2 Chron 19:10; Ezek 3:18-21; Acts 20:31; 1 Cor 4:14; Col 1:28; 1 Thess 5:14; Heb 11:7). On "reward" see 17:4; 25:10; 119:9; Josh 1:7,8; Isa 66:2; John 17:17; Jam 1:21; 1 Pet 2:2. Spiritual prosperity and success, safety, God's loving favor, purity of life, God's esteem, increasing sanctification, spiritual growth – these are some of the "rewards" of obedience to God's Word. Besides there will be the eternal rewards to be enjoyed in heaven (Rev 22:12).

19:12 See 90:8; 139:23,24; Lev 4:1,2 (note). No doubt we all may commit acts which in our eyes may not be errors or sins but will be such in the eyes of God (Jer 17:9,10).

19:13 See note at Num 15:30,31. Willful or presumptuous sins are extremely dangerous. Any sin will try to get the upper hand and rule over us. See Gen 4:7; John 8:34. But believers now have the promise of Rom 6:14.

"Great transgression" – sins of lesser seriousness, if they gain the mastery over us, may lead on to more serious sins. Cain did not master his anger and so later killed his brother. David did not master his lust and so became guilty of adultery and murder (2 Samuel chapter 11). Judas did not master his love of money and ended up as Christ's betrayer, and a suicide. There are many other examples both in the Bible and out of it.

19:14 "Words" – 39:1-3; Matt 12:36; Jam 3:1,2. The writers of the Bible, inspired by the Holy Spirit, knew the great importance of words.

"Heart" – they also knew the great importance of inner thoughts and ideas (Prov 4:23; etc). On "meditation" see 1:2; 104:34; 119:99,148; Josh 1:8; 1 Tim 4:15. Note on "Redeemer" at 78:35.

20:1 It seems that this psalm was written as a prayer for the king facing a battle. It was for the chief musician – that is, to be sung publicly. The first five verses express the desire of the people for the king's welfare. But they are fitting words to express the needs of every child of God.

"Name . . . defend you" – see Prov 18:10.

The name of the God of Jacob defend you;
 2 Send you help from the sanctuary,
 and strengthen you out of Zion, 3 Remember all your offerings, and accept your burnt sacrifice. Selah
 4 May he grant you according to the desire of your heart, and fulfil all your purpose.
 5 We will rejoice in your salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners.
 May the LORD fulfil all your petitions.
 6 Now I know that the LORD saves his anointed.
 He will hear him from his holy heaven with the saving strength of his right hand.
 7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses;
 but we will remember the name of the LORD our God.
 8 They are brought down and fallen,
 but we have risen and stand upright.

Name indicates character and attributes, all that God is. In a world like this of fallen men and unseen evil spirits protection is one of the principal needs of believers, and protection is to be had no place except in the God of Jacob.

"God of Jacob" – see note at 146:5.

20:2 "Sanctuary" – then God dwelt among His people in the sanctuary of the earthly temple in Jerusalem. Now He dwells in the living temple, the true church – Eph 2:21,22. In either case God is always Immanuel – the God who is near.

20:3 There are still offerings and sacrifices God's people want Him to keep in mind – Rom 12:1,2; Heb 13:15,16.

20:4 "Desire of your heart" – 21:2; 37:4. This assumes that the heart's desire is in accordance with God's will. If our desires are contrary to His will it would actually harm us if He were to give us what we desire.

"Purpose" – Prov 16:3. If our plans are the same as His plans for us (as they should and can be), they will succeed. If they are not His plans, they should not succeed (though sometimes they may actually seem to succeed).

20:5 "Banners" – compare Ex 17:15. Only Jehovah-Nissi could give the kind of victory needed then or now – Rom 8:37; 1 Cor 15:57; 2 Cor 2:14.

"Petitions" – 1 John 5:14,15.

20:6 Here is a shift from the plural to the singular pronoun. Perhaps a priest or Levite or the chief musician was to sing these words. It would be no mistake to believe that the "anointed" here refers to the Lord Jesus Christ. The king of Israel was a type, a picture of Him who was born king of the Jews (Matt 1:1; 2:2-6).

20:7-9 Again the plural pronoun is used as the people express their confidence and joy in God.

20:7 See 33:16-18; 1 Sam 17:45; Deut 20:2-4.

20:8 What a person trusts in will determine

9 Save, LORD! May the king hear us when we call.

To the chief musician, a psalm of David

- 1 The king will have joy in your strength, O LORD, and in your salvation how greatly he will rejoice!
- 2 You have given him his heart's desire,
and have not withheld the request of his lips. Selah
- 3 For you met him with the blessings of goodness.
You set a crown of pure gold on his head.
- 4 He asked life from you, and you gave it to him, length of days forever and ever.
- 5 His glory is great in your salvation.
You have placed on him honour and majesty.
- 6 For you have made him most blessed forever.
You have made him exceedingly glad with your presence.
- 7 For the king trusts in the LORD,
and through the mercy of the Most High

- he will not be shaken.
- 8 Your hand will find all your enemies;
your right hand shall find those who hate you.
- 9 You will make them like a fiery furnace in the time of your anger.
The LORD will swallow them up in his wrath,
and the fire will devour them.
- 10 You will destroy their fruit from the earth, and their seed from among
the children of men.
- 11 For they intended evil against you.
They devised a wicked plot,
which they are not able to carry out.
- 12 Therefore you will make them turn their back, when you make your arrows ready on your string, aimed at their faces.
- 13 Be exalted, O LORD, in your own strength!
We will sing and praise your power.

22

To the chief musician on Ayeleth shahar,
a Psalm of David

- 1 My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?
Why are you so far from helping me, in large measure the experiences and results for good or evil in his life (32:10; 34:8; Prov 11:28; 28:26; Isa 31:1-3; 42:17; 47:10,11; Jer 7:4,8,14,15; 13:24,25; 17:5,7; Ezek 33:13; Hos 10:13; Acts 16:31). 20:9 Here is a recognition that Jehovah is the true, the eternal king.

"Hear us" – people who pray in spirit and in truth want answers to their prayers. They are not content to pray merely for the sake of form. 21:1 Like the preceding psalm this one too was meant for singing in public worship. It is a song of joy and praise because of answered prayer. David speaks of himself in the third person because a choir or congregation would be singing these words. The psalm refers to David, but remember to look for Christ in the Psalms. Here Jesus the King surely appears, victorious, joyful, glorified, crowned, living forever.

21:3 This may refer to events in 2 Samuel (see 2 Sam 2:4; 5:3; 12:30). In a prophetic sense it refers to the Lord Jesus crowned with glory and honor (Heb 2:9).

21:4 Eternal life is not a common theme of the Old Testament as it is of the New. But the beginning of the revelation of this truth was there (16:11; 23:6; 61:6; 133:3; etc.). This verse doubtless finds its most perfect fulfillment in the Lord Jesus (Heb 5:7; Rev 1:18).

21:5 By God's grace David became a very powerful and honored king. But much greater than his victories were those of King Jesus over Satan, sin, death, and the gates of hell. And His glory and honor are far greater – John 17:1,5; Acts 2:32-36; 3:13; Eph 1:20-23; Phil 2:9-11; Heb

12:2; Rev 3:21; 5:12; 19:16.

21:6 Whatever eternal blessings we may eventually experience they have all been gained for us by the Lord Jesus. 16:11 also speaks of the joy of God's presence.

21:7 Faith is the hand that receives God's gifts and the victory that overcomes the world – Mark 10:52; Luke 7:50; Acts 3:16; 15:9; 26:18; Rom 3:22,25; 4:16; 5:1,2; Eph 2:8; 3:17; Heb 6:12; 11:6,33; Jam 1:5-7; 1 John 5:4. 21:8 Heb 10:31. It is a fearful and terrible thing to be an enemy of the Lord Jesus Christ.

21:9 See 2:12; 2 Thess 1:6-8; Rev 14:10; 19:11-16. Note at Num 25:3.

21:10 See 37:28. When Christ returns He will purge the earth of all who practice evil.

21:11 Note at 2:2,4-6.

21:12 See 7:12,13; 45:5.

21:13 So let us sing our thanks to the Lord Jesus, the incarnation of Jehovah, for the victories He has accomplished for us by His might (Eph 5:19,20; Col 3:16,17).

22 Title: Ayeleth shahar probably indicated the tune to be used when singing this song. It means "Doe of the Morning."

22:1 Like Psalm 16 this is a very wonderful and profound psalm. Here we have a prophetic picture of the Lord Jesus Christ on the cross (vs 1-21), and after His resurrection (vs 22-31). There are quotations from, or references to, this psalm in Matt 27:39,43,46, John 19:23,24 and Heb 2:12. Christ's crucifixion is described in v 16, His thirst in v 15 (John 19:28). The whole psalm may have been in the thoughts of the Lord Jesus when He hung on the cross.

- and from* the words of my groaning?
 2 O my God, I cry out in the daytime,
 but you do not hear;
 and in the night season, and am not silent.
 3 But you are holy, you who inhabit
 the praises of Israel.
 4 Our fathers trusted in you;
 they trusted, and you delivered them.
 5 They cried out to you, and were delivered.
 They trusted in you, and were not put to shame.
 6 But I am a worm, and no man;
 a reproach of men,
 and despised by the people.
 7 All those who see me laugh me to scorn.
 They shoot out the lip;
 they shake the head, saying ,
 8 "He trusted in the LORD that he would deliver him!
 Let him deliver him, since he delights in him!"
 9 But you are the one who took me out of the womb.

- You caused me to hope when I was on my mother's breasts.
 10 I was cast on you from birth.
 You are my God from my mother's womb.
 11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near;
 for there is no one to help.
 12 Many bulls have surrounded me.
 Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled me.
 13 They opened wide their mouths at me,
like a ravenous and roaring lion.
 14 I am poured out like water,
 and all my bones are out of joint.
 My heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.
 15 My strength is dried up like a broken piece of pottery, and my tongue cleaves to my jaws.
 And you have brought me to the dust of death.
 16 For dogs have surrounded me;
 the assembly of the wicked have encircled me.

David here is speaking as a prophet by the Spirit of God. There is no event in his history that corresponds to the experience described in this psalm, though some of the language would have been suitable to describe various trials he went through.

"Forsaken me" – being forsaken by God (Matt 27:46) was the most terrible of the sufferings the Lord Jesus endured for us – far worse than the crown of thorns, the nails, or the scorn and hatred of men. Being forsaken by God is like hell itself – 2 Thess 1:8,9. Of course, before He faced this experience the Lord Jesus knew it would be a terrible thing to be a substitute for sinners, to bear the sins of the whole world – Isa 53:5,6; John 1:29; 2 Cor 5:21. But He could not have known in advance this utter spiritual desolation. It had to be experienced to be known. And when it was experienced it could only call forth groans and the word "why" from a heart wounded and sorrowful beyond endurance. Remember this – it is we who deserved to be there suffering, not He (1 Pet 3:18).

22:2 Jesus once said that God the Father always heard Him, and it was surely true (John 11:41,42). On the cross Jesus cried to Him and the Father remained silent and withdrawn for the first time. For Jesus was enduring the punishment that sinners deserve. Still the suffering Saviour calls the Father "my" God. There is no break in His love and loyalty, no drawing back from the Father's will.

22:3 He did not accuse God of injustice. He held to the immovable rock of the truth about God – God can commit no wrong, either in what He does, or in what He permits. And God is enthroned, still in charge of events even in that blackest of hours.

"Praises of Israel" – this verse could be translated "Yet you are holy, enthroned on the praises of Israel", or "Yet you are enthroned as the Holy One; you are the praises of Israel." See note at 14:7.

22:4,5 The whole history of the nation Israel gives evidence of the truth of these words.

22:6 Here the Lord Jesus in complete self-abasement says He is less than those forefathers whose prayers God heard, less than any man. The great "I am" declares "I am a worm" – someone to be crushed under foot by scornful men. Hardly anything is weaker, uglier, less regarded by men than a worm. See how men regarded Him – Isa 53:3; Mark 10:33,34. Did not Jesus say He was a worm because He was a substitute for sinners and identified Himself with the least, worst, and weakest of all? because He was in the sinner's place enduring God's wrath against sin? because He was made sin for us (2 Cor 5:21)?

22:7 Matt 27:39; Mark 15:29; Luke 23:35.
22:8 Matt 27:43,44.

22:9,10 In a special way God looked after the birth of His Son into the world. From His earliest memories as a human being on earth the Lord Jesus was conscious of His trust in God as His Father.

22:11 Now in His time of supreme danger He calls on the God He has always trusted in. For He is utterly alone wrestling with all the forces of evil and darkness.

22:12-18 Here Christ's experiences on the cross, His very thoughts are given to us. His enemies surrounding Him seemed like fat, raging bulls (v 12), roaring lions (v 13), and fierce wild dogs (v 16). He is in the hands of brutal torturers who have no compassion whatever for Him.

22:14 This indicates a feeling of complete inner sickness and weakness, and outer agony. His body was suspended from the nails in His hands, the muscles and ligaments stretched more and more, the bones slipping from their sockets.

22:15 "Dried up" – John 19:28. "You" means God the Father. The Lord Jesus is conscious all the while that this is God's appointment for Him (John 18:11). On "dust" see 90:3; Gen 3:19.

22:16 He was pierced at the crucifixion, iron

- They pierced my hands and my feet.
 17 I can count all my bones;
 they look and stare at me.
 18 They divide my garments among them,
 and cast lots for my clothing.
 19 But you, O LORD, be not far from me.
 O my strength, come quickly to help me.
 20 Deliver my soul from the sword,
 my precious life from the power of the dog.
 21 Save me from the lion's mouth; for you have heard me from the horns of the wild oxen.
 22 I will declare your name to my brethren.
 In the midst of the congregation I will praise you.
 23 You who fear the LORD, praise him!
 All you offspring of Jacob, glorify him!
 And fear him, all you offspring of Israel!
 24 For he has not despised nor abhorred the afflictions of the afflicted one,

- nor has he hidden his face from him;
 but when he cried out to him, he listened.
 25 My praise will be of you in the great congregation.
 I will pay my vows before those who fear him.
 26 The meek will eat and be satisfied.
 Those who seek the LORD will praise him;
 your heart will live forever.
 27 All the ends of the earth will remember and turn to the LORD, and all the families of the nations will worship before you.
 28 For the kingdom is the LORD's,
 and he is the ruler over the nations.
 29 All those who are prosperous on earth will eat and worship;
 all those who go down to the dust will
 bow before him,
 and no one can keep his own soul alive.

spikes being driven through His hands and feet into the wood of the cross.

22:17,18 John 19:23,24. Jesus was publicly stripped and became a spectacle to the hostile crowd. Stripping indicates utter defeat and humiliation. In ancient times conquerors sometimes stripped their defeated enemies and led them away naked in chains. So it seemed at the cross that Christ's enemies had completely triumphed over Him.

22:19 God the Father was the strength of Christ - John 5:19,30.

22:20 "Sword" - Zech 13:7; Matt 26:31. On this prayer for deliverance see Heb 5:7.

22:21 "Lion" - compare 1 Pet 5:6.

"Wild oxen" - stretched on the cross it was as though He were impaled on the horns of a wild buffalo.

22:22 With this verse there is a sudden change. He knows His prayers have been answered. He has fought the good fight of faith and won. (For assurance of faith see also 6:9; 28:6; 31:22.) He immediately thinks of those for whom He is dying and calls them brothers. Believers would hardly dare to call the Lord from heaven their brother, but He calls them so. This verse is quoted in Heb 2:12. It indicates His confidence that God would raise Him from the dead. In fact the remainder of this psalm speaks of events that took place only after the Lord Jesus was raised from the dead. "Name" signifies character and attributes. On "declare" see John 17:26.

22:23 The fear of God is a very important theme in the Bible, a very necessary attitude for men (notes at 34:11-14; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7). Jesus Himself was heard because He feared God (Heb 5:7). Here He commands this reverence to others. In the individual, and in the congregation it is the most basic and essential thing if the praise of God is to be heartfelt and genuine. Jesus lived His whole life and died on the cross for the glory of God. Here He commands us to glorify God. He never tells us to do what He would not do Himself. He Himself was the perfect example of all that He taught.

22:24 A great cause for praising and glorifying God! God, far from despising the sufferings of His Son, accepted them as the punishment due to the sins of believers and then released Him from them. The hiding of God's face was only temporary. He heard Jesus when He cried out of the depths.

22:25 The Lord Jesus, though not present bodily in a congregation on earth, is present through His Spirit in the meetings of believers (Matt 18:20). His praise mingles with theirs and rise to the throne of God. In the great congregation in heaven (Heb 12:22-24) His praises will be heard. What vows did Christ make? The new covenant God made with men is full of promises of good things. Jesus is the mediator of this covenant. Also He was a servant of God to confirm the promises made to the fathers (Rom 15:8). As the Son of God and Saviour of men all such promises are His promises and He will infallibly fulfill them.

22:26 "Eat and be satisfied" - Jesus is the bread from heaven. Only the meek and humble will come to Him and find satisfaction (the proud will not find satisfaction in anything). Jesus has opened up a new and living way into God's presence - Heb 10:19,20. All that truly seek God through Christ will end by praising God and living forever.

22:27 This is the result of the work accomplished by the Lord Jesus on the cross - 2:8; 86:9; Matt 28:19; Rev 7:9,10.

22:28 See 47:2,7,8; Matt 28:18. What God has determined to do He has the power and authority to do, and He will do it.

22:29 In the Lord Jesus there is food enough for all, and even the rich and powerful may partake if they humble themselves. Eventually every knee will bow to Him - Isa

- 30 A posterity will serve him;
it will be counted to the Lord as a generation.
- 31 They will come and declare his righteousness to a people who will be born, that he has done this.

23

A Psalm of David

- 1 The LORD is my shepherd;
I will not be in want.

45:22-24; 49:7; Phil 2:10.

22:30 We who believe and serve Him now are proof of the truth of this prophecy. And His worship and praise shall never end.

22:31 The great themes of God's people throughout all generations will be God's righteousness, His way of making men righteous, and the finished work of Christ on the cross. In this psalm we see that Christ was forsaken by God that believers might never be forsaken. He was laid in the dust of death that we might be raised from the dust and never die. He was in the lion's mouth that we might be eternally delivered. But if we reject Him then a forsaken condition, death, and the lion's mouth will be our eternal portion.

23:1 Here the LORD (Jehovah) is said to be the shepherd of His people. In John 10:11 the Lord Jesus is the good shepherd. This is evidence that Jesus is the incarnation of Jehovah. See also 24:7-10; 96:10-13; Isa 6:1; Zech 12:10; Gen 16:7; Ex 3:14. Note at Luke 2:11. David views himself as a sheep. All of Christ's believers are His sheep, His purchased and personal possession. They are sheep, not by nature, but because of the work of God in their hearts (Eph 2:3-10). They hear Christ's voice, trust in Him, and follow Him (John 10:25-27).

His people should not doubt that the good shepherd will provide. He may not give us all we desire, but if we follow Him and trust Him He will give us all what we need (37:25; Matt 6:25-33; Phil 4:19). This means all we need for both physical and spiritual life. David here is expressing his confidence in his Shepherd and his contentment in what the Shepherd gives – both qualities we should all try to maintain in our hearts – Heb 13:5,6. If we really know Him can we doubt that He will take care of us, or that what He gives or withholds is given or withheld in perfect wisdom and love?

23:2 Compare Matt 11:28-30 and John 10:4. Wherever He brings His sheep there will be the green pastures of His word and fellowship, and the calm deep waters of the Holy Spirit. This knowledge too brings contentment, rest and freedom from all that can frighten and frustrate, trouble and harass us.

23:3 As long as believers are in this world they will have times of weariness and trial. They will be sometimes cast down and

- 2 He makes me lie down in green pastures.
He leads me beside the still waters.
- 3 He restores my soul.
He leads me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
- 4 Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil; for you are with me.
Your rod and your staff, they comfort me.
- 5 You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies.
You anoint my head with oil.
My cup runs over.

tempted to faint. At such times the Shepherd draws near and restores and refreshes the soul. He leads only in the paths of righteousness, never in crooked ways, never in the broad way of deception, ungodliness, and sin. If you have gone in a bad way, a way that involved you in lies, or breaking the law, or in unjust behavior, do not boast that the good Shepherd has led you there. This He will never do. His name and the glory of His Father are bound up with His sheep. He will always lead them in ways of truth and justice and honesty.

23:4 Times of darkness, gloomy trials, and finally death will come to Christ's sheep. Evil will sometimes surround them. But their Shepherd is the all-powerful Creator. He is by their side. Why should they fear? (Luke 12:4-7; John 14:1; Rom 8:15; 2 Tim 1:7; Heb 2:14,15; Heb 13:6; 1 John 4:18; Rev 2:10). Fear not, little flock! The comfort of Christ's sheep is His authority over them, His sovereign care signified by His rod and staff. The staff was a long stick or pole bent and curved at the end. The shepherd used it both to draw sheep near and to guide them. The staff could be placed along the side of the sheep and pressure exerted to indicate the direction they should go.

The rod was a shorter stick often with a carved knob at the end. It could be used for three different purposes. It was a defensive weapon which could be used against animals dangerous to the sheep. It was a tool to discipline the sheep. And it was used to examine the condition of the sheep by lifting up the wool that covered them, so that which was underneath could be inspected. All of these things Christ the good Shepherd does for believers. With His rod and staff (the Word of God and His Spirit and any other means He uses in our lives) He exercises authority over us (Matt 28:18), draws us near to Himself in fellowship (1 John 1:3), guides us (John 10:4), defends us against all enemies (Ps 5:12; 32:7; John 10:28), examines us to see if we are in a healthy spiritual condition (Ps 7:9; 1 Chron 28:9; Jer 20:12; Rev 2:23), and disciplines us that we might enter this condition (Heb 12:5-11). Can their be any greater comfort than this to poor, weak, and foolish sheep?

23:5 Sheep have many enemies – wild beasts that prey on anything as helpless as they are.

6 Surely goodness and mercy will follow me
all the days of my life,
and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.

A Psalm of David

- 1 The earth is the LORD's, and its fulness;
the world, and those who live in it.
- 2 For he has founded it on the seas,
and established it on the waters.
- 3 Who may ascend onto the hill of the LORD?
Or who may stand in his holy place?
- 4 He who has clean hands, and a pure heart, who has not lifted up his soul to

- a vain thing, or sworn deceitfully.
- 5 He will receive blessing from the LORD, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.
 - 6 This is the generation of those who seek him; who seek your face,
O God of Jacob.

Selah

- 7 Lift up your heads, O you gates,
and be lifted up, you everlasting doors,
and the King of glory will come in.
- 8 Who is this King of glory?
The LORD strong and mighty,
the LORD mighty in battle.
- 9 Lift up your heads, O you gates.
Lift them up, you everlasting doors,
and the King of glory will come in.
- 10 Who is this King of glory?

The case of believers is no different. If no one opposes us, if we have no enemies, we may well wonder if we are following the Shepherd and standing up for justice and integrity. The world that hated Christ will not love His sheep (John 15:18,19). And Satan and his hordes will hate them with a fierce hatred. But even while Satan rages and our enemies surround us the good Shepherd prepares a feast of good things for us. Like the humble, serving shepherd He is (John 13:3-5; Luke 12:37) He serves table for us and anoints our heads with the precious oil of the Holy Spirit (1 John 2:20). Thus we will have enough, and more than enough, of everything. Table here also suggests the Lord's Table where we meet with Him and with each other to remember the love He showed in giving Himself for us that we might feast on Him and live forever (John 6:35; 1 Cor 11:23-26).

23:6 With such a Shepherd, believers now, like David, can enjoy full assurance of faith (Rom 5:9,10; 8:37-39; Phil 1:6; 2 Tim 4:18; 1 Pet 1:5). Our Shepherd goes before us, goodness and mercy follow us. What companions we have for life's pilgrimage! If we belong to His flock we will be safe in His keeping forever (John 10:28).

24:1,2 The LORD Jehovah is the creator of the universe, therefore all things are His and every human being belongs to Him. Whatever we use in this world is not our property but God's. Whatever we do to another human being we do to God's possession. On the basis of creation alone we belong to the Creator. If we give ourselves to anything else – the world, sin, Satan's power – we are denying God's ownership of us.

24:3,4 Though the above is true, the fact is that man has given himself to sin and Satan, and so not everyone is going to ascend joyfully into the presence of God. He will not accept us into His holy heaven if our hands and hearts are filthy, if we practice deceit, or go after vain things. (In the Old Testament a vain thing frequently means an idol.) It is useless to boast of our religion if our lives are full of impurity, dishonesty, lying, and deceit. See also Psalm 15. There is a fountain where such things can be washed away. The blood of Christ can cleanse us from all guilt and sin, and God's Spirit can set us free (Zech 13:1; 1 John 1:7-9).

24:5 The believer cleansed from sin does not attribute this to himself. He knows God his Saviour has done it. Salvation, righteousness, and every blessing is a free gift from God above – Eph 2:8,9.

24:6 The righteous have sought God and will go on seeking and finding, and at last will ascend to His presence to be with Him forever. The meaning of this verse may be clearer if Jacob is placed earlier in the sentence – "This is Jacob, the generation of those who seek Him, who seek Your face."

24:7-10 Many think David wrote this psalm for the time described in 2 Samuel chapter 6. He calls out in joy for Jerusalem's gates to open for the unseen presence of Jehovah the King coming with the ark of His covenant. But the words surely have a prophetic meaning. They fit perfectly the time of the ascension into the heavenly Jerusalem of the Lord Jesus the King (Luke 24:50,51; Acts 1:9; Eph 4:8-10). Observe in v 8 and v 10 that the king of glory is none other than the LORD (Jehovah) Himself. In the New Testament Jesus is the King of glory, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords (Matt 21:5; Luke 19:38; 1 Tim 6:15; Rev 19:11-16). In other words, Jesus is the incarnation of Jehovah. See also 23:1; 96:10-13; Isa 6:1; Zech 12:10; Gen 16:7; Ex 3:14. Note at Luke 2:11.

It is interesting to notice the connection between psalms 21, 22, 23, 24. In 21 we have the King, in 22 the suffering Saviour, in 23 the good Shepherd, in 24 the King in triumph entering His city again – the city He left to come to earth that He might be the Saviour and Shepherd of His people.

24:10 "LORD of hosts" – note at 1 Sam 1:3.

The LORD of hosts,
he is the King of glory.

A Psalm of David

- 1 To you, O LORD, I lift up my soul.
- 2 O my God, I trust in you.
Do not let me be ashamed;
do not let my enemies triumph over me.
- 3 Yes, let no one who waits on you be ashamed.
Let them be ashamed who transgress without cause.
- 4 Show me your ways, O LORD;
teach me your paths.
- 5 Lead me in your truth, and teach me;
for you are the God of my salvation.
On you I wait all the day.
- 6 Remember, O LORD, your tender mercies and your acts of loving kindness;
for they are from ancient times.
- 7 Remember not the sins of my youth, or my transgressions.

25:1 In this psalm we see several features of David's character which made him a man after God's own heart. These are prayerfulness (vs 1,16-22), trust (v 2), desire to know God's ways (vs 4,5), hope (vs 5,15,21), confession of sin and dependence on God's mercy alone (vs 6,7,11,18), desire to give others the truth (vs 8-10,12-14).

25:2,3 See 34:5; 37:19; 119:5,6,80; Isa 41:11; 42:17; 44:9-11; 45:16,17,24; 49:23; Rom 5:5; 10:11.

25:4 A prayer every human being should make to the Creator of the universe. What a difference it would make in this confused and sinful world! Any such sincere prayer God will certainly hear. He loves to teach men His ways if they are willing to learn them - 32:8; 71:17; 94:10,12; Isa 2:3; 54:13; Matt 5:2; Mark 6:34; John 6:45; 14:26. We see in this psalm the people God teaches - believers (v 5), sinners (v 8), the humble (v 9), those who fear the Lord (v 12). If we do not want God to teach us, it will be no surprise if we remain in ignorance and darkness about spiritual truth.

25:5 Especially should believers pray for God's guidance and teaching - 27:11; 86:11; 119:12,26,33,64,66,108; Ex 33:13. What wonderful things a person will learn who has God for his teacher! Everyone who is taught of God will come to the Lord Jesus Christ and believe in Him - everyone. See John 6:45.

25:7 Verse 11. Note at 18:23. David knows that it is only because of God's mercy, love, and goodness that he has hope.

According to your mercy remember me for your goodness' sake, O LORD.

- 8 Good and upright is the LORD;
therefore he will teach sinners in the way.
- 9 The meek he will guide in judgment,
and the meek he will teach his way.
- 10 All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth to those who keep his covenant and his testimonies.
- 11 For your name's sake, O LORD, pardon my sin; for it is great.
- 12 Who is the man who fears the LORD?
Him he will teach in the way that he chooses.
- 13 His soul will dwell in prosperity,
and his offspring will inherit the earth.
- 14 The secret of the LORD is with those who fear him, and he will show them his covenant.
- 15 My eyes are ever toward the LORD,
for he will pluck my feet out of the net.
- 16 Turn to me, and have mercy on me,
for I am desolate and afflicted.
- 17 The troubles of my heart have grown large.
Oh, bring me out of my distresses.
- 18 Look at my affliction and my pain,

25:8 If God did not condescend to teach sinners not one of us would ever learn the truth. But God is kind to His enemies and wants to make them His friends.

25:9 See 32:9; Deut 8:3; Matt 11:29; Jam 1:21. Those whom God would teach He first humbles, for the proud can hardly learn spiritual truth.

25:10 See 103:17,18; Ex 34:5-7.

25:11 It is to the glory of God's name to pardon the sins of His people who repent and seek Him. Forgiveness is one of the sweetest words in the language.

25:12 Notes on fear of the Lord at Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; Prov 1:7.

25:13 These were blessings promised under the old covenant. Note at 1:1-3.

25:14 Spiritual truth can be understood only by those who have right attitudes toward God (Gen 18:17-19; Prov 3:22; Matt 11:25; Luke 14:25-35; 24:45; John 7:17; 1 Cor 2:11-14).

25:15 See 16:8; 123:2; 141:8.

25:16 Sometimes the believer is alone in his stand for God - 1 Kings 18:22; 19:10,14-18; 2 Tim 4:16,17.

"Desolate" - the Hebrew word means "alone."

25:17 Troubles of the heart are the most troublesome of all and inward struggles the most grievous of all (13:2; 73:26; Job 3:20-26; 7:11; 10:1; Prov 14:10; John 14:1).

25:18 Evidently David thought that his sins might be the source of his present difficulties. On forgiveness see 103:3; 130:4; Luke 24:46,47; Acts 13:38; 1 John 1:9.

- and forgive all my sins.
 19 Consider my enemies, for they are many,
 and they hate me with cruel hatred.
 20 Oh, keep my soul, and deliver me!
 Let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in you.
 21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me,
 for I wait on you.
 22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

26

A Psalm of David

- 1 Act as my judge, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity;
 I have also trusted in the LORD.
Therefore I shall not slip.
 2 Examine me, O LORD, and prove me.
 Test my mind and my heart.
 3 For your loving kindness is before my eyes,
 and I have walked in your truth.
 4 I have not sat with worthless persons,
 nor do I go with hypocrites.
 5 I have hated the congregation of evildoers, and will not sit with the wicked.
 6 I will wash my hands in innocence;
 so I will go around your altar, O LORD, 7 That I may proclaim with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all your wondrous works.

- 8 LORD, I have loved the habitation of your house, and the place where your honour dwells.
 9 Do not gather my soul with sinners,
 or my life with bloodthirsty men, 10 In whose hands is an evil scheme,
 and whose right hand is full of bribes.
 11 But as for me, I will walk in my integrity.
 Redeem me, and be merciful to me.
 12 My foot stands in a level place.
 In the congregations I will praise the LORD.

27

A Psalm of David

- 1 The LORD is my light and my salvation;
 whom shall I fear?
 The LORD is the strength of my life;
 of whom shall I be afraid?
 2 When the wicked, my enemies and my foes, came against me to eat up my flesh,
 they stumbled and fell.
 3 Though an army encamp against me,
 my heart will not fear.
 Though war rise against me,
 in this I will be confident.

25:19 See 3:1; 23:5.

25:21 Here are two perfect guards for our life, when our hope is in God alone.

25:22 On God as Redeemer see note at 78:35.

26:1 In this psalm David insists on his integrity and innocence. He had the testimony of a good conscience. In psalm 25 he thrice mentions his sins (vs 7,11,18). He was not self-righteous, but he knew that his heart was right with God, that he was innocent of his enemies accusations (note at 17:3). His integrity is revealed in his trust in God (v 1), in his prayer to be tested (v 2), in keeping himself from deceitful and evil men (v 4,5), in his strong desire to worship God (vs 6-8), and in his prayer for mercy (vs 9-11). The root of integrity is a true desire to please God more than one's self (v 3). Surely this is a requirement for everyone who calls himself a Christian. In this, as in everything good, Christ Himself is the believer's example (John 8:29; Rom 15:3).

26:2 See 7:9; 17:3; 139:23.

26:3 See 16:8.

26:4,5 See 1:1; 2 Cor 6:14-16; 1 Cor 13:33.

26:6 This is a metaphor taken probably from Ex 30:18-21.

26:7 See 9:1; 50:14; 69:30; 95:2; 100:4; Phil 4:6; Col 2:7.

26:8 See 27:4; Acts 2:46; 5:42; Heb 11:25.

26:10 "Bribes" - he means bribes to pervert justice. This is everywhere condemned in the Bible as a wicked thing (15:5; Ex 23:8; Deut 10:17; 16:19; Prov 15:27; 17:23; Isa 5:22,23). But see note at Amos 5:12.

26:11 David was determined to continue in the path of integrity. So must we be. And he knew that any such life can be based only on God's merciful activity.

26:12 "Level place" means the solid, even foundations of truth and righteousness.

27:1 It was a time of danger and slander (v 12). David needed light so as to know what to do, and protection from enemies. He never dreamed he could make a light for himself out of the kindling of his own imagination, or ever thought his salvation was in his own strength or goodness. He always acknowledged God as the source of everything good. On "light" see 18:28. On "fear" see 23:4.

27:2,3 Rom 8:37; Eph 6:10,11. Believers now should have the same confidence in God against spiritual foes as David had against human foes.

27:4-6 David was frequently away from God's place of worship, in battle, in hiding from enemies, in other lands. He longed for the house of God, quiet meditation and worship in a place of peace and safety, the music and gladness of the tabernacle.

- 4 One thing I have asked from the LORD;
I will seek for this: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to see the beauty of the LORD,
and to inquire in his temple.
- 5 For in the time of trouble he will hide
me in his pavilion;
he will hide me in the secret place of
his tabernacle;
he will set me high on a rock.
- 6 And now my head will be lifted up above
my enemies around me.
Therefore I will offer sacrifices of joy in his tabernacle.
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to the LORD.
- 7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry out with my voice, and have mercy on me, and answer me.
- 8 When you said, "Seek my face",
my heart said to you,
"Your face, LORD, I will seek".
- 9 Do not hide your face from me,
do not turn your servant away in anger.
You have been my help.
Do not leave me or forsake me,
O God of my salvation.
- 10 When my father and my mother forsake me,
then the Lord will receive me.
- 11 Teach me your way, O LORD, and lead me in a straight path, because of my enemies.
- 12 Do not hand me over to the will of my enemies; for false witnesses have risen up against me,
and those who breathe out violence.
- 13 I would have fainted, unless I had believed that I would see the goodness

- of the LORD in the land of the living.
- 14 Wait on the LORD. Be courageous, and he will strengthen your heart.
Wait, I say, on the LORD.

28

A Psalm of David

- 1 To you I will cry out, O LORD my rock;
do not be silent to me.
For if you are silent to me,
I will become like those who go down into the pit.
- 2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry out to you, when I lift up my hands toward your holy sanctuary.
- 3 Do not drag me away with the wicked,
and with those who do evil, who speak peacefully to their neighbours, but who have wickedness in their hearts.
- 4 Give to them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of
their actions;
give to them according to the work of
their hands.
Pay them back what they deserve.
- 5 Because they show no regard for the works
of the LORD,
or for what his hands have done,
he will destroy them, and not build them up.
- 6 Blessed be the LORD, because he has heard the voice of my supplications.

27:4 The Hebrew word translated "beauty" also means pleasantness, delightfulness. See also 90:17. There was no form of God in His place of worship, no idol, no image that men might think beautiful. David is speaking of the spiritual beauty that can be seen only with the eyes of faith.

27:5 If God keeps us, hides us in His shelter, and sets us on the rock (Himself – Deut 32:4), then we are safe indeed, and will have cause for shouts of joy and happy singing to His name.

27:8 The importance of seeking God's face is everywhere emphasized in the Bible (105:4; Isa 45:19; 55:6,7; Hos 10:12; Amos 5:6; Zeph 2:3; Matt 7:7; Heb 11:6). God tells us to seek Him because He wants to reveal Himself to those who seek, and He wants them to know that He is the source of all good.

27:9 See 13:1.

27:10 See 68:5; Isa 49:15; Hos 14:3. The LORD will take on the job of both father and mother to believers who are forsaken of their earthly ones. And He will love and care for them as no human could ever do.

27:11 See 25:5. "Straight" – the Hebrew does not mean "plain" (KJV) in the sense of "clear", but "level" or "straight."

27:12-14 What should a believer do when he is the object of lies and slander? Pray (v 12), trust God (v 13), and hope in God for the future (v 14). If we do not we will be anxious and troubled.

28:1,2 "Rock" – Deut 32:4. David wanted results from his prayers. He could not be satisfied unless he got an answer from God. He will consider himself like a dead man unless he has living contact with God. We should have the same earnestness in our praying. Dead, formal, cold prayers are useless.

28:3 Did David think this was possible? He was well aware of his sinful nature, and the power of it. Compare Ps 51:3-5,11.

28:4 See the note at 35:8.

28:5 David wants the wicked punished, not because they had injured him, but because of their attitude toward God. When he called on God to judge his enemies it was not out of a spirit of personal vengeance.

28:6 See 6:8-10.

- 7 The LORD is my strength and my shield.
My heart trusted in him, and I am helped.
Therefore my heart greatly rejoices,
and I will praise him with my song.
- 8 The LORD is their strength, and he is the saving stronghold of his anointed.
- 9 Save your people,
and bless your inheritance,
and shepherd them,
and carry them forever.

29

A Psalm of David

- 1 Ascribe to the LORD, O you mighty ones,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
- 2 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.
- 3 The voice of the LORD is over the waters;
the God of glory thunders;
the LORD is over many waters.
- 4 The voice of the LORD is powerful.
The voice of the LORD is full of majesty.

28:7 See 3:3; 5:12; 18:35; 32:7,10; 33:20; Gen 15:1; Job 1:10. Nothing can come from outside to God's chosen people that God does not permit. He shields them from all that is not His will for them. He Himself is their protection against Satan and evil men. What a joy this is to the trusting heart.

28:8 See 18:1; 21:1; 68:28; 84:5; Ex 15:2; Isa 12:2; 40:31; 1 Chron 16:11. David was anointed king over Israel, but we can see here also David's Son, the Lord Jesus, the anointed one. All that happened to Christ was in the will of God (John 18:11; Acts 2:22,23).

28:9 God's people are His inheritance – Deut 4:20; 9:26,29; Eph 1:18.

"Shepherd" – 23:1; 80:1; Deut 1:31; Isa 40:11; 63:9; John 10:11; Heb 13:20.

29:1 We have in this psalm a description of a powerful thunder storm sweeping into northern Israel from the Mediterranean Sea and on to the desert regions of Kadesh. David by divine inspiration calls on God's people to recognize God's activity in the storm. Storms display something of God's glory and strength. According to God's revelation of Himself in the Bible, He Himself is in charge of such events – 104:4,7,13,32; 133:6,7; 148:8; Job 38:22,23; Habakkuk chapter 3.

29:2 The power and glory revealed in creation belong to the LORD (Jehovah God) alone, not to any other so-called god (1 Chron 16:26). But the most splendid thing about Him is His holy character. Therefore the wicked cannot truly worship God – Prov 15:8; Isa 1:12-17; Jer 6:19,20; Amos 5:21-24; Micah 6:6-8. Believers have no innate holiness. Christ is their holy beauty and beauty of holiness – Rom 13:14; 1 Cor 1:30; Eph 4:22-24; Col 3:9-11.

- 5 The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars;
yes, the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon.
- 6 He also makes them skip like a calf,
Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild ox.
- 7 The voice of the LORD divides the flames of fire.
- 8 The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness,
the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.
- 9 The voice of the LORD causes the deer to give birth,
and strips the forests bare.
And in his temple everyone speaks of his glory.
- 10 The LORD sits enthroned over the flood;
yes, the LORD sits as King forever.
- 11 The LORD will give strength to his people.
The LORD will bless his people with peace.

A Psalm, a song for the dedication of the house of David

- 1 I will extol you, O LORD, for you have lifted me up, and have not let 29:3 Here the thunder is God's voice (18:13; Job 37:2-5).

29:4-9 The results of God's mighty thunderings and lightning.

29:6 "Sirion" – another name for Mount Hermon.

29:9 Those engaged in worship in the temple do not fear the storm; they exult at the display of God's power and glory.

"Causes the deer to give birth" – or "twists the oaks." The Hebrew words for "deer" and "oaks" are similar. The word translated "causes. . .to give birth" comes from a Hebrew word meaning to writhe or twist in pain, such as someone giving birth would do. See note on Hebrew at Ps 14:6,7.

29:10 The present storm brings to David's mind the tremendous storms of the flood (Gen 7:4,11,12). Jehovah was king then; He is the king over all storms, and over everything else, forever (note at 47:2).

29:11 Peace in the storm, peace in any kind of upheaval – this is God's will for His people. Peace is God's gift – Num 6:26; John 14:27; 16:33. It comes to those who recognize God's kingship over everything – v 10; Phil 4:6,7.

30 Title: the Hebrew word here translated "house" may also mean palace or temple. The temple was not built until after David's death. It is possible that David wrote this psalm in advance for its dedication, but it seems more likely that he wrote it for the dedication of his own palace. Whether we construct a church for God's worship, or a mansion or a cottage or a hut for ourselves, it is a good thing to dedicate it to God and cause Him feel at home there as long as we use it.

30:1-3 This is a song of gratitude for my foes rejoice over me.

- 2 O LORD my God, I cried out to you,
and you healed me.
- 3 O LORD, you brought my soul up from the grave.
You have kept me alive, so that I would not go down to the pit.
- 4 Sing to the LORD, you saints of his,
give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.
- 5 For his anger remains but a moment;
in his favour is life.
Weeping may endure for a night,
but joy comes in the morning.
- 6 And in my prosperity I said,
"I will never be shaken."
- 7 LORD, by your favour you have made my mountain to stand strong,
but when you hid your face I was troubled.
- 8 I cried out to you, O LORD,
and made supplication to the LORD.
- 9 What profit is there in my blood,
in my going down to the pit?
Will the dust praise you?
Will it declare your truth?
- 10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy on me!
LORD, be my helper!
- 11 You have turned my mourning into dancing for me.
You have removed my sackcloth,
and clothed me with gladness,
- 12 So that my glory may sing praise to you,
and not be silent.
O LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever.

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 In you, O LORD, I put my trust;
let me never be ashamed.
Deliver me in your righteousness.
- 2 Bow down your ear toward me.
Deliver me quickly.
Be my rock of refuge, a fortress of defense to save me.
- 3 For you are my rock and my fortress;
therefore, for your name's sake,
lead me and guide me.
- 4 Pull me out of the net that they have secretly laid for me;
for you are my strength.
- 5 Into your hands I commit my spirit.
You have redeemed me,
O LORD God of truth.
- 6 I have hated those who have regard for lying vanities,
and I trust in the LORD.
- 7 I will be glad and rejoice in your mercy,
for you have considered my trouble;
you have known my soul in adversities,
- 8 And have not delivered me into the hand of the enemy.
You have set my feet in a spacious place.
- 9 Have mercy on me, O LORD, for I am in trouble;
my eye is consumed with grief,

healing when David had been sick to the point of death. When we are sick we should seek healing from God as well as from medicine and doctors, and think of Him before we think of them (6:2; 103:3; Deut 32:39; 2 Chron 16:12; Matt 9:35; Jam 5:16). One of God's names is Jehovah Ropheka – the LORD who heals you (Ex 15:26).

"Grave" (v 3) – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

30:4,5 It is a great reason for singing and praising that God deals so gently with believers when they have provoked Him to anger (103:8-10; Isa 54:7).

30:6,7 Self-confidence will result in a fall (1 Cor 10:12; 2 Pet 3:17). Our health, our peace, our prosperity are all based on God's goodness, not ours. So should we be willing to behave badly? Not at all. We should be resolved to behave well, by His grace and power, out of gratitude, if for no other reason. (See also Rom 6:1,2.)

30:8-10 Note at 6:5. "Dust" – Gen 3:19.

30:11,12 What a change God can make in our lives! Those who sincerely call on Him as David did will also have experiences similar to these that he had (4:1,7; Isa 61:1-3; Jer 31:3; John 16:20,22,24).

"Thanks" – 7:17; Lev 7:12,13; etc.

31:1 "Ashamed" – 25:2,3. "Righteousness" – 7:6-9.

31:2 "Rock" – Deut 32:4.

31:3 "Name's sake" – 23:4.

31:4 Traps will be set for believers. Even if men don't, Satan will.

31:5 The first part of this verse was quoted by the Lord Jesus as He died on the cross (Luke 23:46), also by many believers since then as they faced death. We may be sure that God will carefully keep and guard what we have committed to Him (2 Tim 1:12; 1 Pet 4:19). It is the height of wisdom to put our spirit, our life, our eternity in God's hands. What God redeems is His special property. He knows how to look after it.

"God of truth" is one of God's precious names. He is absolutely true to His Word. It is impossible for Him to lie – Titus 1:3. And He hates all lying and deception – 5:6; 15:2; Prov 6:16-19.

31:6 Deut 32:21; Jer 2:5; 10:14,15; 14:22; 16:19; 18:15; 1 Cor 8:4.

31:7 Ex 2:25; Rev 2:9.

31:9-13 David is in great grief, trouble, and danger. His language is similar to some

- yes, my soul and my body.
- 10 For my life wastes away with grief,
and my years with sighing.
My strength fails because of my sin,
and my bones are consumed.
- 11 I am an object of reproach among all my enemies,
but especially among my neighbours,
and a dread to my acquaintances.
Those who see me outside run away
from me.
- 12 I am forgotten like a dead man, out of mind.
I am like a broken vessel.
- 13 For I have heard the slander of many.
Fear was on every side.
When they took counsel together against me,
they plotted to take away my life.
- 14 But I have trusted in you, O LORD.
I have said, "You are my God."
- 15 My times are in your hands.
Deliver me from the hands of my enemies,
and from those who persecute me.
- 16 Make your face shine on your servant.
Save me for your mercies' sake.
- 17 Let me not be ashamed, O LORD,
for I have called to you.
Let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave.
- 18 Let lying lips be put to silence.
They speak bold things proudly and

- contemptuously against the righteous.
- 19 Oh, how great is your goodness which you have stored up for those who fear you, which you have prepared for those who trust in you before the sons of men!
- 20 You will hide them in the secret place of your presence from the pride of man.
You will keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.
- 21 Blessed be the LORD, for he has shown me his marvellous kindness in a strong city.
- 22 For I said in my haste, "I am cut off from before your eyes."
Nevertheless you heard the voice of my supplications when I cried out to you.
- 23 Oh, love the LORD, all you who are his saints!
For the LORD preserves the faithful,
but fully pays back the proud.
- 24 Be courageous, and he will strengthen your heart,
all you who hope in the LORD.

A Psalm of David, a maskil

- 1 Blessed is the one whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.
2 Blessed is the man to whom the LORD does not impute iniquity, words of Job and Jeremiah (Job 3:24; 19:13,14; 30:15; Jer 6:25). He acknowledges that his guilt or sin was at least partly the cause of his miserable condition – v 10. Sin is the great troubler of mankind in general and a great misery to all believers. 31:14 David's faith remained firm – no trouble, no slander, no opposition could diminish it. He was not of the sort who leave off belief in God when strange and difficult and painful circumstances occur. God is no less the God of believers when they are experiencing trouble. 31:15 He is willing to leave to God the ordering of his life. He recognizes that the good times, the bad times, the prosperous times, the miserable times are all in the hands of an all-wise, loving, sovereign God. He who waits for God's time for things will not be disappointed. 31:16 Num 6:25. 31:17 See 25:2,3. "Grave" – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35. 31:18 See 7:6-9; 35:8. David had learned from God Himself to hate lying lips. 31:19-22 Once again faith and prayer have won the victory and brought comfort and joy to a sorrowing heart. 31:19 1 Cor 2:9,10; Eph 2:7. 31:23 A person who loves God wants others to love Him too. Here David sets forth the greatest command of the law (Deut 6:5). It is also the highest privilege of man.

31:24 No matter what the difficulties, God is still in control and believers can safely rest on the foundation of His sure promise. Being shaken by threats, slanders, and dangers, giving in to depression, fear, and weakness must have no place in the believer's life (Josh 1:8,9; 1 Cor 15:58).

32 Title: Maskil probably was a literary or musical term.

32:1,2 Three Hebrew words are used here to fully describe wrong doing. "Transgression" means breaking the law of God. "Sin" indicates missing the mark or going astray. "Iniquity" means the badness of a deed in itself, or the guilt that deserves punishment. In the Hebrew Bible the same three words are in Ex 34:7. Also David uses three words to describe the way God dealt with confessed sin in the Old Testament.

"Forgiven" – this comes from the Hebrew word "to lift" or "take away from." On forgiveness see 86:5; Isa 55:7; Jer 50:20; Micah 7:18,19; Matt 6:12; 9:6; 12:31; etc.

"Covered" – see notes at Ex 29:33; Lev 1:2.

"Does not impute" – God refuses to bring the guilt into the believer's record. This is wonderful news to a sinner who repents and turns to the Lord for mercy. The apostle Paul in

- and in whose spirit there is no guile.
- 3 When I kept silent, my bones grew old through my roaring all the day long.
- 4 For day and night your hand was heavy on me.
My moisture was turned into the drought of summer. Selah
- 5 I acknowledged my sin to you,
and I did not hide my guilt.
I said, "I will confess my transgressions to the LORD;
and you forgave the guilt of my sin."
Selah
- 6 For this reason everyone who is godly will pray to you in a time when you may be found.
Surely the floods of great waters will not come near him.
- 7 You are my hiding place.
You will preserve me from trouble.
You will surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah
- 8 I will instruct you and teach you in the

- way you should go.
I will guide you with my eye.
- 9 Do not be like the horse or like the mule,
which have no understanding,
whose mouth must be controlled with bit and bridle, or they will not come near you.
- 10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked, but mercy will surround the one who trusts in the LORD.
- 11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice,
you righteous;
and shout for joy, all you who are upright in heart.

33

- 1 Rejoice in the LORD, O you righteous;
for praise is fitting for the upright.
- 2 Praise the LORD with a harp.
Sing to him with the lyre,
an instrument of ten strings.
- 3 Sing to him a new song.
Play skillfully with a shout of joy.

Romans chapter 4 refers to these two verses to show that the Old Testament is in agreement with the New Testament teaching about justification (Rom 4:6-8).

"Guile" – this is a very important word here. To obtain forgiveness confession must be genuine. Blessed is the person who faces himself and his sin honestly, calls it by its right name, and sincerely confesses to God what he has done wrong. Many there are who deceive themselves and never come to a proper knowledge of who and what they are (Jer 17:9; 2 Thess 2:10; Heb 3:13; 1 John 1:8).

32:3,4 "Silent" – unconfessed sin in a believer is a source of much misery, for God will lay His chastening hand on such a person. Compare psalms 6 and 38. This psalm (32) was written probably after David's confession of his sin with Bathsheba (2 Samuel chapters 11 and 12). After that sin many months passed before he confessed it – 2 Sam 11:1-5,27.

32:5 2 Sam 12:13,14. Sincere confession of sin results in forgiveness. God loves to be merciful and gracious to the sincere and repentant person (Prov 28:13; Isa 55:7; Micah 7:18; 1 John 1:9).

32:6 Isa 55:6. God will not wait forever for the guilty to confess their sin and seek forgiveness (Gen 6:3).

"Floods" – David is thinking of a flood of judgment against sin. Believers have sought and found God and will be safe at such a time because they are forgiven and the Lord will not hold their sins against them.

32:7 Confession and forgiveness of sin bring restful confidence and deliverance. He who does not hide his sin can find a hiding place for himself in God.

32:8,9 It is unclear who the speaker is in these verses. Is God speaking to David? Or is David speaking to the readers and hearers of the psalm instructing them as he says he will do in 51:13? In either case the advice is the same. If we want to learn how to walk in God's ways we must renounce all stubbornness and be humble and obedient toward the Word of God. The mule is famous for its stubbornness. The self-confident and disobedient are compared to horses in Jer 8:6.

32:10 Everywhere in the Bible we see that eventually the wicked will have to pay for his wickedness – 1:4-6; 16:4; 34:21; 68:2; 119:155; Prov 3:33; 5:22; 10:24; 11:5; 13:21; 16:4; Isa 3:11; 13:11; 57:20,21; Jer 23:19; Mal 4:3; Matt 25:46; Rom 2:8,9; Gal 6:8; 2 Thess 1:6; Rev 14:9-11; 21:8. Observe in this verse the contrast between the prospects of the wicked and righteous. See also 5:12; 16:11; 23:6; Isa 35:10; Eph 2:7. Does God regard any of you reading this as wicked? If so, take warning.

32:11 No one on earth has more cause for rejoicing than the justified person, the true in heart (64:10; 68:3; 97:12; Phil 2:18; 3:1; 4:4). Repentance, confession, forgiveness, and victory over deceit in the heart take the gloom away and make true joy a possibility even in a dark, sorrowful, sinful world.

33:1-3 "Praise" – 7:17; 8:2; 9:1; 16:7; 18:3; 42:5; 100:4; 150:6; Gen 24:27; Ex 15:2; Lev 19:24; Deut 8:10; 32:3; 1 Chron 16:4,9,25; Isa 12:1; Matt 5:16; 11:25; Luke 1:68; Rom 15:7,11; 2 Cor 1:3; Eph 1:3,6,12,14; Rev 5:12,13; 19:5. God does not command us to praise Him because He is hungry for praise. He is not

- 4 For the word of the LORD is right, and all his works are done in truth.
- 5 He loves righteousness and justice.
The earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.
- 6 By the word of the LORD the heavens were made,
and all the host of them by the breath
of his mouth.
- 7 He gathers the waters of the sea together
as a heap.
He lays up the depth in storehouses.
- 8 Let all the earth fear the LORD.
Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.
- 9 For he spoke and it was done;
he commanded, and it stood firm.
- 10 The LORD brings the counsel of the nations to nothing.
He makes the plans of the people of no effect.
- 11 The counsel of the LORD stands forever,
the thoughts of his heart to all generations.
- 12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, and the people whom he has chosen as his own inheritance.
- 13 The LORD looks from heaven;
he sees all the sons of men.
- 14 From his dwelling place he looks on all the inhabitants of the earth.
- 15 He forms their hearts together;
he considers all their deeds.
- 16 No king is saved by the multitude of an army;
a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.
- 17 A horse is a vain thing for safety;
and it cannot deliver anyone by its great strength.
- 18 See, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his mercy,
- 19 To deliver their soul from death,
and to keep them alive in famine.
- 20 Our soul waits for the LORD.
He is our help and our shield.
- 21 For our heart will rejoice in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.
- 22 Let your mercy, O LORD, be on us,
just as we hope in you.

like men who long to have everyone speak well of them. When God commands us to praise Him He is actually telling us to find our joy and delight in Him and express it.

Praise is admiration expressed in words. Men praise what they think is good or beautiful or strong or meaningful. They express their delight in what they consider a worthy object. The highest good and beauty and strength and meaningfulness are found in God. Therefore among all things and persons and beings in the universe He is the most worthy of praise. He wants us to recognize this, not for His sake, but for ours. He wants us to be the kind of people who know and praise that which is most worthy of praise. To praise God means to see His worthiness, His excellence. It means we find our delight in the best and highest.

It is fitting and right that we should do this (v 1). Men praise all kinds of objects and persons not worthy of their praise. Is it not fitting for those who know God to praise Him who is worthy of it? The wicked, the discontented, the selfish, the unbelieving, the morally and spiritually blind cannot, will not, praise God in spirit and in truth. The humble, the righteous, the enlightened person can and will. Wicked people glory in their shame, and praise earthly things and delight in them (Phil 3:19). Righteous people glory in God and in Christ their Saviour (1 Cor 1:31; 2 Cor 10:17; Gal 6:14; 1 Tim 1:17).

Lack of thanksgiving and praise to God is blameworthy. It shows a defect in character and outlook, and God wants His people to be free of it. Giving thanks, singing, and praising God are fitting for them and should come naturally to them. These things are ways in which they can show their renewed nature. Those who know God best and who are the humblest and most enlightened will praise Him most.

33:4-7 Here are further reasons why the righteous should praise God – His word and faithfulness, His righteousness and justice, His grace, His power exercised in marvelous and beautiful works. Another reason is seen in vs 10,11 – His ability to accomplish all His purposes and plans.

33:6 There is more truth in this one verse concerning the origin of the universe than in all the speculations of scientists and philosophers combined. See 148:5; Gen 1:1; Isa 40:25,26; John 1:1,2; Heb 11:3.

33:8-11 The unsaved cannot properly praise God but they should learn to fear Him. He is the mighty Creator. He overthrew the plans of earthlings and fulfills His eternal plan (2:4-6; Prov 19:21; Isa 8:10; 14:24; 19:3; Acts 2:23; Rom 11:33-36).

33:12-19 To accomplish His plans and purposes in the earth God chose the nation Israel and watches all peoples everywhere. He knows all that is going on, and nothing will take Him by surprise. Armies march, horses rush to battle, warriors test their strength, but God alone determines the outcome. God will arrange all things for His glory and the good of the righteous (2 Chron 16:9; Rom 8:28).

33:19 Observe the sort of people God keeps in time of famine. See also 37:19.

33:20-22 This is the only proper attitude of heart, the only way to peace of mind in a raging, rebellious, ruined world. "Our soul waits", "we have trusted", "we hope" ("hope" here does not imply uncertainty but confident expectation). And this attitude brings safety and joy.

34 Title: This psalm was written concerning one of David's darkest hours. It is described

34

A Psalm of David, when he changed his behaviour in the presence of Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

- 1 I will praise the LORD at all times.
His praise will continually be in my mouth.
- 2 My soul will make its boast in the LORD.
The humble will hear of this and be glad.
- 3 O glorify the LORD with me, and let us
exalt his name together.
- 4 I sought the LORD, and he heard me and delivered me from all my fears.
- 5 They looked to him and became radiant,
and their faces were not ashamed.
- 6 This poor man cried out,
and the LORD heard him,
and saved him out of all his troubles.
- 7 The angel of the LORD encamps around those who fear him and delivers them.
- 8 Oh, taste and see that the LORD is good!

in 1 Sam 21:10-15. Abimelech seems to have been a title of successive kings of the Philistines, as Pharaoh was of the Egyptian kings (Gen 20:2; 26:1).

34:1-3 David learned to praise God even in difficulties and dangers. He found God sufficient for all times, a sure help in every circumstance. Many there are who boast in themselves. David was determined to boast in the Lord alone.

34:4 Here is the reason for David's praise. Also vs 6,17,19. God hears prayer. He listens to the cries of His people and in His time and way He delivers them.

34:5 Their shining is the reflected light of God who is light.

34:7 Note on angels at Gen 16:7. The Lord Jesus Himself does what is described here.

34:8 Experience alone can teach us certain things. We learn more of the sweetness of honey by tasting it than by reading any number of books about it. So with the goodness of God. We may read endless books of theology and devotion, and constantly meditate on the Bible, but until we actually experience God ourselves we will not really understand His goodness. So David exhorts us to taste, to try God, to experience Him. How can we do this? The answer is in this same verse – by believing Him. Faith enables us to experience God's goodness (Matt 9:29; 21:22; Mark 11:24; Heb 11:6).

34:9 Compare Ps 31:23. These two verses give us two great words of the spiritual life – love and fear (reverential awe).

34:10 The promise to supply all that is needed is made to those who fear God and who seek Him. It is not enough to have one of these without the other. But a great promise is here for those who have both.

34:11-14 See other notes on the fear of

- Blessed is the man who trusts in him.
9 Oh, fear the LORD, you saints of his;
for there is no lack to those who fear him.
10 The young lions are in want and suffer hunger;
but those who seek the LORD will not lack anything good.
11 Come, you children, listen to me.
I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
12 What man is there who desires life,
and loves to have many days,
so that he may see good?
13 Keep your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking deceit.
14 Depart from evil and do good.
Seek peace, and pursue it.
15 The eyes of the LORD are on the righteous, and his ears are open to their cry.
16 The face of the LORD is against those who do evil,
to cut off the remembrance of them
from the earth.
17 The righteous cry out, and the LORD hears the Lord at 86:11; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7. What is this fear of the Lord which is so very important? It is to have a reverential awe and respect for Him and His Word, to recognize His majesty, greatness and authority and to fear – offending Him. These verses give us several things that are involved in it.

Fearing God means to guard the tongue. Lies and deceit are of the devil, and the person who truly fears God will refrain from this most dangerous of sins, this sin which God hates with all His holy being (5:6; Prov 6:16-19). Malicious gossip, evil speaking, filthy or bad or blasphemous language – these too must never have a place in the mouths of God's people (Eph 4:29; 5:4; Col 3:8,9; Jam 3:9-12).

Fearing God means turning from evil (v 14; Prov 3:7; 8:13). But this alone is not sufficient. Some people's religion is merely negative – "I don't do this evil, I abstain from that wrong." We must also do good (Isa 1:16,17). If we do not, we are guilty of sins of omission, and these are just as blameworthy as sins of commission (1 Sam 12:23; Matt 25:41-46). If we have the fear of the Lord as we ought we will not practice either kind of sin.

Fearing God also means to seek always to be at peace with Him and with all men (v 14; Heb 12:14). Here are some other references on the fear of God – 25:14; 33:18,19; 85:9; 103:11,13,17; 115:13; 128:1; Deut 5:29; 6:2,24; Prov 9:10; 14:27; 15:33; 16:6; 19:23; Isa 33:6. Verses 12-14 of this psalm are quoted in 1 Pet 3:10-12.

34:15-17 The righteous are those who trust and fear God. God will act toward such people entirely differently than He does toward the wicked (see 18:25,26).

- and delivers them out of all their troubles.
- 18 The LORD is near those who are of a broken heart,
and saves those who are crushed in spirit.
- 19 Many are the distresses of the righteous,
but the LORD delivers him out of them all.
- 20 He protects all his bones;
not one of them is broken.
- 21 Evil will slay the wicked,
and those who hate the righteous will be condemned.
- 22 The LORD redeems the soul of his servants, and none of those who trust in him will be condemned.

35

A Psalm of David

- 1 Plead my cause, O LORD, with those who strive with me.

34:18 God delights to see this condition in men. This is not because He wants them to be unhappy, but because it opens the way for Him to make them happy forever (51:17; Isa 57:15; 61:1; 66:2).

34:19 The Bible does not hold out false hopes of an easy, trouble-free life for believers. It insists again and again that they will suffer in this world (Mark 10:30; John 16:33; Acts 14:22; 1 Thess 3:3; 1 Tim 3:12; 1 Pet 2:21; 4:1).

34:20 This is a prophecy fulfilled at Christ's death. See John 19:33-36.

34:21 The evil that unbelievers do will turn to their destruction. Perfect justice will be fulfilled.

34:22 Rom 8:1.

35:1 This psalm has three clear divisions. In each division there is a description of David's enemies and then a statement that when God answers him it will bring joy to his heart and praise to his lips. The divisions are vs 1-10, 11-18, and 19-28.

35:1-3 When God fights for the believer who can stand against him? – 56:9; 118:6; 1 Sam 17:47; 1 Chron 5:20; 2 Chron 20:15; Rom 8:31.

"Buckler" – a small shield.

35:4 See 25:2,3.

35:5 Note on angels at Gen 16:7.

35:6 See 73:18; Deut 32:35; Jer 23:12.

35:7 The persecution and hatred David endured from his enemies were not because he had done anything against them. This fact reveals their wickedness and enmity toward God.

35:8 Is it right for believers to pray for the destruction of their enemies, for God's judgment on them? It was right in the time when the Old Testament was written and when those who so prayed were in tune with God's purposes and inspired by the Holy Spirit to do so, as the writers of the Psalms were.

- Fight against those who fight against me.
- 2 Take hold of shield and buckler,
and stand up for my help.
- 3 Draw out the spear also,
and bar the way to those who persecute me.
Say to my soul, "I am your salvation."
- 4 Let those who seek after my life be disgraced and put to shame.
Let those who plot to harm me be turned back and brought to confusion.
- 5 Let them be like chaff before the wind, and let the angel of the LORD drive them away.
- 6 Let their way be dark and slippery,
and let the angel of the LORD pursue them.
- 7 For without cause they have hidden their net for me in a pit which, without cause, they dug for my soul.
- 8 Let destruction come on him unexpectedly,
and let his net, which he hid, catch him.
Let him fall into that very destruction.

There are such prayers in many psalms – 5, 7, 9, 17, 28, 31, 35, 40, 54, 55, 56, 58, 59, 69, 74, 79, 83, 109, 129, 140. The reasons for such prayers are also given here and there – 7:6; 9:19,20; 28:4; 59:13; 74:22; 83:16,18.

Personal vengeance was not the main concern of the writers of the psalms. They were concerned with justice. They often emphasized the truth that God takes holy vengeance on the wicked enemies of His servants, that God will see to it that men reap what they sow. These writers wanted God to rise in judgment to display His justice which was being forgotten, and to make His holy nature known. They wanted men to fear Him, and seek Him, and know Him. They wanted the poor and needy to be rescued from the oppression of wicked men.

Remember these writers lived under the law of Moses. The essence of law is not grace and mercy but perfect justice in action (see note at Ex 19:21-25; 21:23-25). David's attitude is the same as that revealed in Deut 27:15-26 which God Himself taught the nation Israel. This attitude is an intense desire to see God vindicated and honored in the display of His just judgments. The writers of the psalms simply prayed that God would do what He said He would do.

Now we live in the age of God's grace. Under the law God often emphasized judgment on the wicked for their sins. In this age God is emphasizing the gospel of His love for fallen men, His patience toward sinners. The Son of God did not come to destroy men's lives but to save them – Luke 19:10; 9:54-56; John 3:17. Believers now are to be in tune with God's purposes, and so are told to pray for their enemies' good – Matt 5:43,44; Luke 6:27,28; Rom 12:19,20; 1 Tim 2:1-4. For all we know enemies of the church may, like Saul of

- 9 And my soul will be joyful in the LORD;
it will rejoice in his salvation.
- 10 All my bones will say,
"LORD, who is like you who delivers the poor
from the one who is too strong for him;
yes, the poor and the needy from the one who plunders him?"
- 11 False witnesses rise up.
They question me about things that I do not know.
- 12 They repay me evil for good to bring loss to my soul.
- 13 But as for me, when they were sick,
my clothing became sackcloth.
I humbled my soul with fasting;
and my prayer returned into my own bosom.
- 14 I went about as though he was my friend or brother.
I bowed down sorrowfully, like one who mourns for his mother.
- 15 But in my adversity they rejoiced,
and gathered together.
Yes, attackers gathered together against me, and I did not know it.
They tore me, and did not stop;
- 16 With ungodly mockers at feasts,
they gnashed their teeth at me.
- 17 Lord, how long will you look on?
Rescue my soul from their attempts to destroy, my precious life from the lions.
- 18 I will give you thanks in the great congregation.
I will praise you among many people.
- 19 Do not let those who are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me, or let those who hate me without cause
wink with the eye.
- 20 For they do not speak peace, but devise deceitful matters against those who are quiet in the land.
- 21 Yes, they opened their mouth wide against
- me, and said,
"Aha! Aha! Our eyes have seen you."
22 You have seen this, O LORD.
Do not keep silent.
O Lord, do not be far from me.
- 23 Stir yourself up, and awake for my vindication, for my cause, my God and my Lord.
- 24 Vindicate me, O LORD my God,
in accordance with your righteousness,
and do not let them rejoice over me.
- 25 Do not let them say in their hearts,
"Ah, so we would have it!"
Do not let them say, "We have swallowed him up!"
- 26 Let those who rejoice at my distress be ashamed and altogether be brought to confusion.
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonour who exalt themselves against me.
- 27 Let those who favour my righteous cause
shout for joy and be glad.
Yes, let them say continually,
"May the LORD, who has pleasure in the prosperity of his servant, be exalted."
- 28 And my tongue will speak of your righteousness and of your praise
all the day long.

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David,
the servant of the LORD

- 1 The transgression of the wicked says within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.
- 2 For he flatters himself in his own eyes,
until his wickedness is found to be hateful.

Tarsus, be converted to Christ and turned into friends. In any case, believers are to love their enemies and desire their salvation. At the end of this age God will rise in judgment on the wicked. At that time all angels and all of God's people will be in harmony with God's decision - Rev 6:9-11; 16:5-7; 19:1-4. See note at 109:1 also.

35:9,10 This is a believer's heart rejoicing in the justice of the Lord which helps the helpless against strong and evil men.

35:13-16 The character of David's enemies is clearly seen here as being worthy of God's judgment. Apparently at first David had prayed for their good. But when their behavior continued to be evil God's Spirit in him inspired him to pray for their punishment. See in v 13 one good purpose in fasting. On fasting see also Isa 56:6,7; Joel 1:14; 2:12; Matt 6:16-18.

35:18 "Thanks" - 7:17; Lev 7:12,13; etc.

35:19-26 It is unbearable that wrong should triumph over right, that wicked men should crush the righteous and escape.

35:27,28 And it is a joyful thing in this fallen evil world when the right gets the upper hand and the righteous are rescued and rewarded.

36:1 In this psalm we have a very striking contrast between the wickedness of men (vs 1-4), and the grace of God (vs 5-10). Some people blame God for the darkness, the corruption, and the disasters which are prevalent in the world. We see here where the blame really rests. Wicked men are responsible for it all. Notes on the fear of God at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7.

36:2 This verse in Hebrew is obscure and translation is difficult. In any case, the meaning has to do with the deceitfulness of sin and human nature (Jer 17:9; Heb 3:13).

- 3 The words of his mouth are wicked and deceitful.
He has ceased to be wise, and to do good.
- 4 He devises wickedness on his bed.
He sets himself in a way that is not good.
He does not abhor evil.
- 5 Your mercy, O LORD, is in the heavens,
and your faithfulness reaches to the clouds.
- 6 Your righteousness is like the great mountains.
Your judgments are a great deep.
O LORD, you preserve man and beast.
- 7 How excellent is your loving kindness, O God!
Therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of your wings.
- 8 They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fulness of your house;
and you will cause them to drink from the river of your pleasures.
- 9 For with you is the fountain of life.
In your light we will see light.
- 10 Oh, continue your loving kindness to those who know you,
and your righteousness to the upright in heart.
- 11 Let not the foot of pride come against me,
and let not the hand of the wicked drive

- me away.
- 12 There the evildoers have fallen.
They are thrown down, and will not be able to rise.

37

A Psalm of David

- 1 Do not fret because of evildoers, or be envious of those who do wicked things.
- 2 For they will soon be cut down like the grass, and wither like the green plant.
- 3 Trust in the LORD, and do good;
so dwell in the land, and faithfully you will be fed.
- 4 Delight yourself in the LORD,
and he will give you the desires of your heart.
- 5 Commit your way to the LORD and trust in him,
and he will accomplish this.
- 6 He will bring forth your righteousness like the light, and your just cause like the noonday.

36:5 The wicked plot evil, God plans good. It is immense folly to blame God for the evil of the wicked. His grace is as measureless as the heavens.

"Faithfulness" – 57:10; 85:10; 89:1,8, 14; Isa 11:5; Lam 3:23; Rom 3:3.

36:6 All that God does is in perfect justice.

36:7 Who can put a price on God's grace and love? Compare Eph 1:6-8.

"Trust" – 2:12; 7:1.

36:8 All good things men enjoy are gifts of God (Jam 1:17).

36:9 Here is one of the many great verses of the Old Testament. Much of John's Gospel and letters is a filling out of this verse (John 1:4,5; 3:16; 4:13,14; 5:21,26; 7:37,38; 8:12; 1 John 1:1-6; 5:11,20). Without spiritual life from God we are dead people in a dead world. Without His light all we do is darkness, and we do not know who or what we are or where we are going. See John 3:3-8,19; 12:35,36.

36:10,11 A prayer to be kept continuously in God's favor and protected from the wicked described in vs 1-4.

36:12 David sees before the eyes of his understanding the complete overthrow of the wicked. He is as certain of God's judgment on them as if it had already happened.

37:1 This psalm is another gem. David wrote it in old age (v 25). It is full of wonderful spiritual counsel to those who are troubled by the prosperity and success of the wicked. But like all such counsel it is only of use if followed. The psalm has eight exhortations or instructions when considering the prosperity of the wicked (vs 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 27, 34), and at least a dozen great promises to go with them (vs 4, 5, 6, 9, 11, 19, 22, 24, 27, 28, 29, 33, 34, 37, 40).

The main object of this psalm is to encourage believers to have a calm, restful, peaceful, trusting heart no matter how difficult the circumstances. It is summed up in such sayings of the Lord Jesus as John 14:1 and 16:33. Many are troubled when the wicked prosper. Others envy them. We must learn to resist both attitudes (73:2,3; Prov 3:31; 23:17; 24:1,19; Phil 4:6). Either of them can bring poison into our hearts.

37:2 Why should we fret about or envy those who are ripening for destruction? (vs 10, 20, 35, 36; 73:17-20; 90:5,6; 92:7; Jam 1:11).

37:3 The remedy for both fretting and envying is trust in God and being occupied in good works for Him. The "land" means Israel. God's people were to remain there and not leave it because of difficulties.

37:4 See 21:2; 145:19. Those who delight in the LORD (Jehovah) receive the desires of their hearts because the desires of their hearts will be in accordance with His will. They will want what He wants them to have. Many there are who delight in the things of the world and the flesh and then murmur against God because He does not answer their selfish or carnal prayers.

37:5 See 55:22; 16:3; 1 Pet 5:7. Our way and our life are too uncertain and our burdens too difficult for us. For those who trust Him God will do what they cannot do for themselves.

37:6 There is rest of heart in this verse for believers who are the victims of slander and lies. God will look after their reputation and they need not worry about it.

- 7 Rest in the LORD and wait patiently for him.
Do not fret because of the one who prospers in his way,
because of the man who carries out wicked schemes.
- 8 Cease from anger and forsake wrath.
Do not at all fret and so do wrong.
- 9 For evildoers will be cut off,
but those who wait for the LORD will inherit the earth.
- 10 For yet a little while, and the wicked will be no more.
Yes, you will look diligently for his place, and it will not be.
- 11 But the meek will inherit the earth and delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
- 12 The wicked plots against the just and gnashes at him with his teeth.
- 13 The Lord will laugh at him,
for he sees that his day is coming.
- 14 The wicked have drawn the sword and bent their bow to bring down the poor and needy, and to kill those who are of upright conduct.
- 15 Their sword will enter their own heart,
and their bows will be broken.
- 16 A little that a righteous man has is better than the many riches of the wicked.
- 17 For the arms of the wicked will be broken,
but the LORD upholds the righteous.
- 18 The LORD knows the days of the upright, and their inheritance will be forever.
- 19 They will not be put to shame in the evil time,
and in the days of famine
they will have plenty.
- 20 But the wicked will perish, and the enemies of the LORD will be like the splendour of the meadows.
They will vanish, vanish away into smoke.
- 21 The wicked borrows and does not repay;
but the righteous shows mercy, and gives.
- 22 For those who are blessed by the LORD
will inherit the earth,
and those who are cursed by him will be cut off.
- 23 The steps of a good man are established by the LORD who delights in his way.
- 24 Though he falls, he will not be completely thrown down;
for the LORD upholds him with his hand.
- 25 I have been young, and am now old,
yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken,
or his offspring begging bread.
- 26 He is always merciful and lends,
and his offspring are blessed.
- 27 Depart from evil, and do good,

37:7,8 God will act on the believer's behalf at just the right time, in just the right way. The believer should not let the prosperity and success of the wicked trouble him. Getting agitated will lead believers to commit sin and accomplish no good whatever.

"Fret" – the root meaning of the Hebrew word in these verses (and in verse 1) is "to burn" or "ignite," and then "to get angry" or "burn with anger" or "get hotly agitated."

37:9 The Hebrew word for both land and the earth are the same. David probably meant that the righteous in Israel would inherit that land (vs 11,22,29). But Jesus promised that the meek would inherit the whole world (Matt 5:5).

37:12 Verses 14,32. The wicked hate the righteous simply because they are righteous. They need no other reason (John 15:19; 1 John 3:12).

37:13 See 2:4.

37:14 If God and the laws of society did not restrain them, no doubt wicked people would try to kill all those who stood up for righteousness and truth.

37:15 7:14-16; 1 Sam 31:4; Esther 7:10.

37:16 Far, far better to have only a little and be honest than to have great abundance and be crooked. Better to starve and be a person of integrity than to feast and be wicked. Let us write this verse on the tablets of our hearts. See also Prov 15:16; 16:8; 1 Tim 6:6-8.

37:17 See 71:6; 145:14; Matt 6:33.

37:18 Believers have an eternal inheritance, wonderful riches that will never pass away – 1 Cor 3:21-23; 2 Cor 4:17; Heb 9:15; 1 Pet

1:3,4. Should they, then, envy those who enjoy their riches for only a few passing years?

37:19 See 33:18,19; 1 Kings 17:4-6,9-16; 18:2-4; Matt 6:33; 7:7,11.

37:20 "Splendour of the meadows" – the KJV has "fat of lambs," but the Hebrew word they translated "fat" means splendour or beauty, not fat. The word they translated "lambs" does mean that, but it also came to mean the meadows or pastures where the lambs fed.

37:21 Deut 15:6; 28:12,44.

37:22 Deut 27:11-26; 28:1-20 (see notes there).

37:23 See 16:11; 35:27; 40:2; 66:9; 119:5; 1 Sam 2:9; Isa 62:5; 65:19; Zeph 3:17; Eph 2:10.

37:24 Prov 24:16. Those who are truly God's people may stumble and fail. We cannot deny it. The Bible gives a great many examples of it – Gen 12:10-13; 13:10,11; 16:1,2; 26:6-10; 27:22-24; Ex 32:1-5; Num 20:8-12; Jud 16:1,4; 2 Sam 11:1-27; 1 Kings 11:1-6; 2 Chron 16:10; 20:35; 26:4,5,16; Matt 26:69-75; Gal 2:11-13; Jam 3:2. But because God will not let go of their hand, they will not utterly fall away and be lost – v 28; John 10:28,29.

37:25,26 Sometimes some of the righteous seem to be forsaken (e.g. Job, David, Jeremiah). But they really are not. And they and their children as a general rule do not need to beg for their food. Often they will have enough to lend to others.

37:27 In true religion there is both a negative and a positive aspect. Forsaking evil is and dwell forever.

28 For the LORD loves justice and does not forsake his saints.

They are preserved forever.

But the offspring of the wicked will be cut off.

29 The righteous will inherit the land, and live in it forever.

30 The mouth of the righteous speaks wisdom and his tongue talks of justice.

31 The law of his God is in his heart. None of his steps will slip.

32 The wicked watches the righteous, and seeks to kill him.

33 The LORD will not leave the righteous in his hands, or condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait for the LORD and keep his way, and he will exalt you to inherit the land. When the wicked are cut off, you will see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a native green tree.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo and behold, he was no more; yes, I looked for him, but he could not be found.

37 Consider the blameless man, and see the upright; for the future of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressors will be destroyed together;

the future of the wicked will be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the righteous is from the LORD.

He is their strength in the time of trouble.

40 And the LORD will help them, and deliver them. He will deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in him.

A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance

- 1 O LORD, do not rebuke me in your wrath or discipline me in your hot displeasure.
- 2 For your arrows pierce me, and your hand presses me down.
- 3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of your anger; nor is there any rest in my bones because of my sin.
- 4 For my sins have gone over my head; like a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
- 5 My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness.
- 6 I am troubled; I am bowed down greatly; I go about mourning all day long.
- 7 For my loins are filled with a burning pain, and there is no soundness in my flesh.
- 8 I am feeble and utterly crushed. I groan because of the roaring of my heart.
- 9 Lord, all my desire is before you, and my sighing is not hidden from you.
- 10 My heart pants, my strength fails me. As for the light of my eyes, it also has gone from me.
- 11 My loved ones and my friends stand aloof from my disease, and my kinsmen stand at a distance.
- 12 Also those who seek my life lay snares for me, and those who seek my harm speak of my destruction and devise deceitful things all day long.
- 13 But I, like a deaf man, do not listen, like a mute who does not open his mouth.

not enough. Doing good is equally as important – 34:14; Isa 1:16,17.

37:28 John 6:37,39; 17:11; Heb 13:5; 1 Pet 1:5. A very blessed truth.

37:30-33 What a contrast!

37:34 The wheels of justice often seem to turn slowly, but they will certainly turn. We should make no mistake about it.

37:35,36 Times without number history has proved the truth of this. Read the books of Kings and Chronicles and see.

37:37,38 Rom 2:6-10.

37:39 "Salvation" – 3:8; 62:1; Jonah 2:9; Rom 1:16; Eph 2:8,9.

"Strength" – 18:1,2; 27:1; 73:26.

37:40 See 7:1,2.

38:1-11 This is one of the "penitential" psalms – that is, psalms of mourning over personal sins. Others are 6, 31, 32, 51. Here David writes of the sickness of his body, the distress of his mind, and the neglect of his friends. He traces the cause of all this to his own sin, and instead of vain murmuring and complaining about his lot, he make confession and opens his heart to God. Surely a good example to all of us. This portion is similar to Ps 6; 31:9-12; 102:3-11.

38:1 See 6:1.

38:2 Deut 32:23; Job 6:4.

38:3 "No soundness" – sin and God's chastisement may result in serious illness, as the following verses vividly show. Compare 1 Cor 11:30.

38:4 This is true of every single person, but not every one is aware of it as David was.

38:6,8 The conviction of sin is a very painful experience (vs 17,18; 32:3,4).

38:11 The unkindness of friends adds to his grief (31:11; Job 19:13-19).

38:12 When the righteous fall their enemies try to get in a kick at them, and rejoice at their misery (v 16).

38:13,14 Unlike Job (before God came to him at the end) David cannot say a word in

- 14 So I am like a man who does not hear,
and in whose mouth are no replies.
- 15 For in you, O LORD, I hope.
You will hear, O Lord my God.
- 16 For I said, "Hear me,
or they will rejoice against me,
when my foot slips;
they will exalt themselves over me."
- 17 For I am about to fall, and my sorrow is continually before me.
- 18 For I will declare my guilt;
I will be sorry for my sin.
- 19 But my enemies are lively, and they are strong,
and those who hate me wrongfully have increased in number.
- 20 And those who repay evil for good are my adversaries,
because I follow what is good.
- 21 Do not forsake me, O LORD.
O my God, do not be far from me.
- 22 Come quickly to help me, O Lord,
my salvation.

39

To the chief musician, to Jeduthun,
a Psalm of David

- 1 I said, "I will watch my ways, so that I do not sin with my tongue.
I will keep a muzzle on my mouth,

his own defense – he is conscious that he has sinned and that he deserves everything that has come on him.

38:15 He is submissive to God and waits for God's time and God's way to bring him out of his trouble and anguish. He knows full well that all that has happened to him is his own fault. And he has confessed his sin. Now he is confident that God will give him victory again.

38:20 Though he has spoken of his enormous sin in v 4, here he speaks of seeking to do good. He means that he refuses to remain in his sin. He resolves to forsake it completely. Without this desire and intention confession is vain. He means too that the whole trend of his life is doing good, that his sin was a deviation, an aberration. Sheep do not remain in the mire and wallow like pigs.

38:21,22 Such prayers from a penitent heart are like music in God's ears.

39 Title: "For Jeduthun" – see 1 Chron 16:41,42; 25:1-6. Two other psalms are for him – 62 and 72. Parts of this psalm are similar to 38:13,14; 32:3-5; and to some words of Job.

39:1 A fine resolution. James says if a man does not sin with his tongue he is a perfect man (Jam 3:2). David was careful lest he while the wicked are before me."

- 2 I was bound to silence.
I kept quiet, even from good;
and my sorrow was stirred.
- 3 My heart was hot within me;
while I was musing, the fire burned.
Then I spoke with my tongue.
- 4 LORD, make me know my life's end, and what the number of my days is,
so that I may know how frail I am.
- 5 See, you have made my days like a hand breadth,
and my age is as nothing before you.
Truly every man in his best state is altogether vanity.

Selah

- 6 Surely every man walks about like a shadow.
Surely they are agitated in vain.
He heaps up riches and does not know who will gather them.
- 7 And now, Lord, what do I wait for?
My hope is in you.
- 8 Deliver me from all my transgressions.
Do not make me the scorn of the foolish.
- 9 I was mute; I did not open my mouth;
because you did it.
- 10 Remove your plague from me;
I am destroyed by the blow of your hand.
- 11 When you use rebukes to correct a man for sin,
you make his beauty consume like a moth.
Surely every man is vanity. Selah
- 12 Hear my prayer, O LORD,

dishonor God by something he said, or lest the wicked pervert his good words for a bad use (73:15; Eccl 3:7; Matt 7:6).

39:2,3 How common is this experience to us! How hard it is to control the tongue (Jam 3:7,8).

"Tongue" – perhaps there should be a colon here and quotation marks at the beginning of v 4 (the Hebrew has no punctuation marks anywhere).

39:4-6 One aid to controlling the tongue is to really understand the brevity of life. See 62:9; 90:12; 1 Cor 7:31; Jam 1:10,11; 1 Pet 1:14. Knowing this we will not want to spend our time telling of the prosperity and success of the wicked, or their opposition to us. We will have much better things to talk about.

39:7-11 Another help in controlling the tongue is to submit in hope to God's chastening hand.

39:7 See 38:15.

39:8 He wants more than mere forgiveness. He wants to be delivered from the power and effect of his sins (see also 51:14; Matt 1:21).

39:9 To endure quietly God's chastening hand is a very healthy thing (Lam 3:22-33).

39:10 Job 9:34; 13:21.

39:11 On discipline see Heb 12:5-11.

"Moth" – Matt 6:19,20.

39:12 On tears see 56:8; Isa 38:5.

- and give ear to my cry.
Do not be silent at my tears;
for I am a foreigner with you,
and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.
- 13 Oh, look away from me,
that I may recover strength,
before I leave here and am no more.

40

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 I waited patiently for the LORD, and he bent down to me and heard my cry.
- 2 He also brought me up out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay,
and set my feet on a rock,

- and* established my steps.
- 3 And he put a new song in my mouth,
praise to our God.
Many will see it and fear,
and will trust in the LORD.
 - 4 Blessed is that man who makes the LORD
his trust, and does not respect the proud, or turn aside to lies.
 - 5 Many, O LORD my God, are your wonderful works which you have done,
and your thoughts toward us.
They cannot be recounted to you in order.
If I would declare and speak of them,
they are more than can be numbered.
 - 6 Sacrifice and offering you did not desire;
my ears you have opened.
Burnt offering and sin offering you did not require.

"Foreigner" – or "stranger." The Hebrew was used to indicate a temporary resident, and David is referring to his brief time in this world. 119:19; Lev 25:23; 1 Chron 29:15; Heb 11:13; 1 Pet 2:11.

39:13 Job 7:19; 10:20,21; 14:6. Job and David could not endure what they regarded as God's frowning and angry face.

40:1 Another great psalm in which we have a prophecy about the Lord Jesus Christ (in vs 6-8). Some scholars think every word in the psalm refers to Him. If this interpretation is true then the iniquities mentioned in v 12 would have to mean our sins which He took as His own to bear to the cross in our place (Rom 4:25; 2 Cor 5:21; 1 Pet 2:24). Much of the language of the psalms describes experiences that all God's people go through, and can apply equally well to Christ the second (and last) Adam, the head of a new race of men (1 Cor 15:45-49).

"Waited patiently" – 27:14; 37:7. He recognizes that help cannot come from any source but the Lord Himself. And he has learned that God has His times of action and will not be hurried. Even when we are in desperate need of something from God, patient waiting on Him is His appointed way. Impatience, fretting and inner turmoil will accomplish nothing.

40:2 "Horrible pit", etc – speaks of something very unpleasant indeed, something too treacherous or too slippery to extricate oneself from. Deliverance had to come from God. Note the words "He brought me up," "He established", and "He put" (v 3). All that David did was to cry to God and wait patiently, God did all the rest. David speaks of an experience that happens to many of God's children. It is an experience of immense difficulty, danger, or misery. The foundations of life seem to collapse. Heart, mind, and spirit seem to be sinking ever further down without a solid place of support (69:2,14). Job, David, Jonah, Jeremiah, and many others went through such experiences. We may think too of the Lord Jesus sinking beneath the burden of man's sins in the garden of Gethsemane and on the cross.

The "Rock" here is God Himself. Note at Deut 32:4. In His own good time and way God brought deliverance.

"On a rock" – in a world of many pitfalls and much mud and mire what we greatly need is a firm place to stand. Standing on the Rock we are safe and secure.

40:3 Deliverance brings a song, and every new deliverance a new song, and others seeing the deliverance of believers and their joy are inspired to trust in God. Supremely true this is in the case of the Lord Jesus. We see Him raised from the dead and rescued from every enemy, and so we trust Him to deliver us too.

40:4 See 34:8; 84:12. Many follow the proud leaders, the peddlers of falsehood in this world. But the true way of blessing is seen here.

"Lies" – in Hebrew this word sometimes signified false gods.

40:5 "Wonderful works" – 72:18; 136:4; Deut 6:22; Job 5:9; 9:10. The powerful, the wealthy, the famous may never have a thought about God's people, may never have a purpose except to exploit and oppress them. But God the Almighty thinks of them constantly, has exceedingly high and wonderful purposes and plans for those who believe in Him.

40:6 Verses 6-8 are quoted in Heb 10:5-7 and applied to Christ. God Himself appointed sacrifices for Israel (Ex 20:24; Leviticus chapters 1 to 6. See notes there). Now He says that He did not desire them. Is this a contradiction? Absolutely not. There are no contradictions in the Bible. God knew that those offerings and sacrifices were valueless to Him. He did not desire them for Himself. They were mere pictures of Christ who was to come as a sacrifice for sin. And even in those days when the people offered animal sacrifices at God's command, God always put far more value on faith and obedience and holy living than on the bring-

- 7 Then I said, "Look, I come.
In the book's scroll it is written of me.
- 8 I delight to do your will, O my God.
Yes, your law is within my heart.
- 9 I have proclaimed righteousness in the great congregation.
See, I have not restrained my lips;
O LORD, you know.
- 10 I have not hidden your righteousness in my heart.
I have declared your faithfulness and your salvation.
I have not concealed your loving kindness and your truth from the great congregation.
- 11 Do not withhold your tender mercies from me, O LORD.
Let your loving kindness and your truth continually preserve me.
- 12 For innumerable evils have surrounded me.
My sins have overtaken me,
so that I am not able to look up.
They are more than the hairs of my head;
therefore my heart fails me.
- 13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me!
O LORD, come quickly to help me!
- 14 Let those who seek my soul to destroy it be put to disgrace and confusion together.
Let those who wish evil for me be

- driven backward and put to shame.
- 15 Let those who say to me "Aha, aha!"
be appalled at their disgrace.
- 16 Let all those who seek you rejoice and be glad in you.
Let those who love your salvation say continually,
"The LORD be exalted."
- 17 But I am poor and needy.
Yet the Lord thinks of me.
You are my help and my deliverer.
Do not delay, O my God.

41

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 Blessed is he who considers the poor.
The LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.
- 2 The LORD will preserve him and keep him alive;
and he will be blessed on the earth.
And you will not hand him over to the will of his enemies.
- 3 The LORD will strengthen him on the bed of illness.
You will transform all his bed in his sickness.
- 4 I said, "LORD, be merciful to me.

ing of sacrifices (51:16; 1 Sam 15:22; Isa 1:11-17; Hos 6:6; Micah 6:6-8; Matt 12:7; Mark 12:33).

40:7 This is the Lord Jesus speaking through David. It can hardly refer to David himself. Often the prophets wrote things which they understood did not refer to themselves but to the Messiah (1 Pet 1:10-12). Christ speaks here of coming from heaven to earth. He comes in accordance with all that is written in the "scroll." This means the Old Testament. It was written on scrolls. The whole Old Testament is full of prophecies and types of Christ (notes at Matt 5:17; Luke 24:25-27,44-47; etc).

40:8 This should be true of all God's people. It was very often true of David. It was supremely and eternally true of the Lord Jesus (John 4:34; 50:30; 6:38; 8:29). Because of this complete obedience of the Lord Jesus salvation is made available to all who will receive it.

40:9,10 These words can refer to both David and Christ. Christ, of course, completely fulfilled them (22:22,25; Matt 9:35; Mark 1:38; 2:13; John 18:20; 1 Tim 6:13; Heb 2:11,12).

40:12 The true saints are often more conscious of their sins than anyone else is. What David says here is true of us all. Our sins of omission and commission are innumerable. This verse can refer to the Lord Jesus only as bearing our sins. He Himself never sinned (2 Cor 5:21; Heb

4:15; 7:26; 1 Pet 2:22-24). But do our hearts not fail when we think of our sins? How earnestly we should cry to God for protection against them and against all evils that surround us in this world (vs 13,17).

40:14,15 Note at 35:8.

40:16 This will be the eternal result of the salvation the Lord Jesus gained for men by His sufferings. It is experienced by those who seek Him and all the glory will be God's.

41:1 We have in this psalm also a word fulfilled in the experience of the Lord Jesus (v 9). However it is very plain that the whole psalm does not refer to Him because v 4 is a confession of personal sin (see note 40:12). The weak or poor have a special place in God's heart and should have in ours also (82:3,4; Ex 22:25; 23:11; Lev 19:10; Prov 14:21; Luke 6:20; Gal 2:10; Jam 2:5). Blessed are those who help them. It is very instructive to trace through the psalms those whom God declares are blessed (see note at 1:1,2).

41:3 Sickness may come to even the most trusting and faithful believers (1 Kings 15:23; Job 2:7; Isa 38:1; Gal 4:13; Phil 2:26,27; 1 Tim 5:23; 2 Tim 4:20). But see here who will be both doctor and nurse to them. Compare 103:3; Ex 15:26.

41:4 "Heal my soul" - this was sometimes the way the Hebrews expressed themselves when they meant simply "heal me," but there could be a deeper meaning here. The

- Heal my soul, for I have sinned against you.”
- 5 My enemies speak evil of me,
“When will he die, and his name perish?”
- 6 And if one of them comes to see me,
he speaks falsehood.
His heart gathers evil to itself.
When he goes out, he tells it.
- 7 All who hate me whisper together against me.
They plot harm against me.
- 8 “An evil disease,” they say, “clings to him, and now that he is lying down he will never get up again.”
- 9 Even my own familiar friend, whom I trusted, who ate my bread,
has lifted up his heel against me.
- 10 But you, O LORD, be merciful to me,
and raise me up, that I may repay them.
- 11 By this I will know that you are pleased with me:

sickness of sin, with its effects on the soul, is far more dangerous and difficult to deal with that bodily illness. David turns to the only one who can truly heal him in body, soul, and spirit.

41:5 See 38:12.

41:6 See 12:2; 62:4; Prov 26:24-26.

41:7 See 56:5.

41:8 See 71:10,11; Isa 53:4. His enemies accused Christ of blasphemies and declared Him worthy of destruction (Matt 26:55,56).

41:9 In David's case this probably refers to Ahitophel (2 Sam 15:12,31; 16:15,20-23). It was fulfilled in the life of the Lord Jesus by the betrayal of Judas (Matt 26:23; John 13:18). Observe that the Lord Jesus quoted only a part of this verse. He did not use the words “friend in whom I trusted”, because He never trusted Judas. He knew from the beginning what Judas was like and what he would do (John 6:64,70,71).

41:10 He prays for something his enemies said was impossible (v 8). However this may have been fulfilled in David's case it was gloriously fulfilled in Christ at His resurrection. On “repay” see 2:12; Isa 65:6; note at Num 31:2. The enemies of God will be rewarded according to their deeds.

41:11 See 37:23; 147:11. If God is pleased with us it little matters what men think of us. So Paul in Gal 1:10; 1 Thess 2:4.

41:12 See 17:3; 18:20-24.

41:13 See 72:18,19; 89:52; 106:48; 150:6; Rom 9:5.

42 Title: The sons of Korah (see Num 16:32) were a band of singers in the worship of God (1 Chron 6:1,7,16; 9:19; 26:1). The Hebrew word translated “for” here can also mean “of.” Usually in the titles to the psalms it seems to mean “of” or “by”, but here it could mean “for” the sons of Korah – in other words, written for them to sing, or compose music to. It is unlikely that a group of people would write a psalm as personal as this, and use the singular pronoun. However, since it

- because my enemy does not triumph over me.
- 12 And as for me, you uphold me in my integrity, and set me before your face forever.
- 13 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting.
Amen and Amen.

BOOK 2 (Psalms 42 - 72)

42

To the chief musician,
a maskil for the sons of Korah

- 1 As the deer pants for the water brooks, so pants my soul for you, O God.
- 2 My soul thirsts for God,
for the living God.

is possible that an individual among them did so, “of” may indicate “one of” the sons of Korah. The matter is doubtful. The language of this psalm sounds very much like David's language in other places. Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

42:1 Perhaps a good name for this psalm is “Spiritual depression, its causes and cure.” See also psalms 13 and 77, which have a similar theme. Here the writer speaks of five causes of his depression.

He sought God but did not seem to be able to enter into a fresh experience of His presence (vs 1,2).

His enemies taunted him because it seemed he was deserted by God (v 3).

He compared his present condition with happier, better times and grieved at the comparison (v 4).

He thinks he is submerged in troubles and sorrows sent by God (v 7).

And He feels that God has forgotten him for the time (v 9).

These are reasons enough for continual depression if one neglects the cure. He gives the cure in vs 5, 6, and 11. In the word “why” (vs 5,9,11) he shows that he sees his depression is not proper, and not in accordance with a spiritual mind. In spite of very difficult circumstances he realizes that since God is his Saviour and his God, he should not be depressed. He decides to meditate on God (v 6). And he encourages himself to put his hope and trust in God. This is still the cure for troubled minds and depressed hearts. Giving in to gloomy feelings, unbelief, and despair is the opposite of what we should be doing, and we must fight against it and use God's way to overcome all such things (Eph 6:10-18 is not without relevance here. One of the weapons Satan and his hordes use to try to defeat us in our spiritual life is discouragement or depression).

42:1,2 In times of depression (indeed at all times) he shows us what we should seek –

- When will I come and appear before God?
- 3 My tears have been my food day and night,
while they continually say to me,
"Where is your God?"
- 4 When I remember these things,
I pour out my soul in me.
For I used to go with the multitude;
I went with them to the house of God,
with the sound of joy and praise,
with a multitude keeping a pilgrim festival.
- 5 Why are you cast down, O my soul?
And why are you restless in me?
Hope in God, for I will yet praise him
for the help of his presence.
- 6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me.
Therefore I will remember you from the land of Jordan and from the heights

- of Hermon, from the hill Mizar.
- 7 Deep calls to deep at the noise of your waterspouts.
All your waves and your billows have gone over me.
- 8 Will the LORD will command his loving kindness in the daytime, and in the night his song will be with me,
and my prayer to the God of my life.
- 9 I will say to God my rock,
"Why have you forgotten me?
Why do I go about mourning because of
the oppression of the enemy?"
- 10 As with a sword in my bones,
my enemies taunt me,
while daily they say to me,
"Where is your God?"
- 11 Why are you cast down, O my soul?

not merely rescue from unhappy circumstances, or what God can do for us or give us, but God Himself. Personal experience with the great Creator of the universe is of greater value than the whole world and anything else that can be gained. Knowing Him is eternal life (John 17:3), and knowing Him better and experiencing His fellowship more deeply must be the chief concern of those who have eternal life (Eph 1:17; 3:18,19; Phil 3:8,10). And it is surely the way to overcome discouragement and temptations to despair. From David's experience recorded here (if indeed David wrote this) we can see that at times God seems at a distance and must be sought (Jer 29:13; etc).

42:3 The taunts of others may increase depression vs 9,10; 44:15,16; Job 19:1-3; etc.

42:4 Remembrance of things past can add to depression, but may also be a step toward relief from it (see note on remembering at Deut 8:1). Remembrance of God's nearness and goodness in the past can give hope that He will draw near and show His goodness again.

"Used to go" – the writer refers to worship in Jerusalem's tabernacle or temple. From the place where he is now he can no longer join with those who go there.

42:5 Hope for the future rises in his heart because of his faith in God, and his confidence that God has not forsaken him completely. Seeking God and renewing our trust in Him can conquer depression when nothing else can.

"I will yet praise Him" – the meaning seems to be that God will work in his behalf and give further reason to praise Him, that God will bring him out of his depressing experiences. A person who knows that the true and living God is his or her Saviour and God has a ground of hope that is rock solid. God does not change with our changing circumstances and He will cause all things to work together for good to those who love Him (Rom 8:28).

42:6 "Heights of Hermon" – when the author wrote of his deep depression he was away from his home in Jerusalem. If David wrote this (and there is no certainty that he did) this may have occurred at the time of Absalom's rebellion when David fled across the Jordan river (2 Samuel chapters 16 and 17). That time when his own son turned violently against him was one of the worst experiences of his life (and he had many unhappy experiences). But even then he refused to abandon hope in God. Psalm 3, which David wrote sometime during that experience, records his quiet confidence that God would act in his defense. Our experiences and the causes of our depression may be different from his, but if our hope is in the same God we will find that He works things out for our good also. And if He does not bring us out of depressing circumstances He will give victory and peace in those circumstances.

42:7 It sometimes seems to believers that they are drowning in a great sea of troubles (18:16; 69:1,2; 88:7). Notice that the writer says that it is God's waves and breakers which have swept over him. Compare Job 1:21; 2:10; Gen 45:8; 50:20; etc. What God causes to sweep over us He can cause to pass on beyond us, and give us peace even when we are hit by the waves. No matter what conditions are like now, there is still a good future ahead for those who hope in God.

42:8 Even in the deepest trouble and depression he did not give up his confidence in God. Compare 13:5,6. God is with His people in all circumstances (Isa 43:2; 50:10). And we should be confident that He can make them victorious in everything – compare Rom 8:37; 2 Tim 4:18.

"In the night his song" – Job 35:10.
"God of my life" – Acts 3:15; 17:25.

42:9 "Rock" – Deut 32:4.

42:10 Verse 3.

42:11 We too may speak, and should speak, to ourselves and encourage ourselves to hope

And why are you restless within me?
 Hope in God, for I will yet praise him,
who is the health of my countenance,
 and my God.

44

To the chief musician,
 for the sons of Korah, a maskil

43

- 1 Vindicate me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation.
 Oh, deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man;
- 2 For you are the God of my strength.
 Why do you cast me off?
 Why do I go about mourning because of
 the oppression of the enemy?
- 3 Oh, send out your light and your truth!
 Let them lead me, let them bring me to your holy hill and to your tabernacle.
- 4 Then I will go to the altar of God,
 to God, my exceeding joy.
 Yes, I will praise you on the harp,
 O God, my God.
- 5 Why are you cast down, O my soul?
 And why are you restless within me?
 Hope in God, for I will yet praise him,
who is the health of my countenance,
 and my God.

- 1 We have heard with our ears, O God,
 our fathers have told us,
what deeds you did in their days,
 in olden times;
- 2 how you drove out the nations with your hand, and planted them;
how you shattered the peoples and drove them out.
- 3 For they did not get the land in their possession by their own sword, nor did their own arm save them,
 but your right hand, and your arm,
 and the light of your countenance,
 because you were pleased with them.
- 4 You are my King, O God.
 Command victories for Jacob.
- 5 Through you we will push down our
 enemies;
 through your name we will trample on those who rise up against us.
- 6 For I will not trust in my bow,
 nor will my sword save me.
- 7 But you have saved us from our enemies and believe that God will give us victory and peace in depressing circumstances.

43:1 The last verse of this psalm and the last verse of 42 are identical. It seems probable that both psalms were written by the same person at about the same time.
 Some Hebrew manuscripts combine these two psalms into one.

"Vindicate me" – see 26:1; 35:1,24.
 He knows he has done nothing against the nation to merit their opposition.

"Against an ungodly nation" – this indicates that the writer was a very prominent leader opposed by the nation as a whole. David at the time of Absalom's rebellion fits the picture well.

43:2 "God of my strength" – the God who gives me strength, or the God who is my strength – 18:1; 28:7; 31:4.

"Cast me off" – if David wrote this when he fled at the time of Absalom's rebellion he may have feared that God was rejecting him as king of Israel. He is not speaking of personal salvation.

"Mourning" – 42:9.

43:3 A beautiful prayer every human being on earth should make. We need a guide to show us the way to God's holy heaven. His light and truth must be that guide. If we follow anything else we will infallibly go astray.

"Light" – 19:8; 119:105; John 8:12;
 2 Cor 4:6.

"Truth" – 25:5; John 1:14; 8:32;
 14:6; 2 Thess 2:10-12.

43:4 Let us permit the author to teach us where true joy is found. It is not in the world, in things, or in self, but in God alone.

 If we do not find it in Him it is certain that we will not find it anywhere. In v 2 he speaks of mourning; here he speaks of joy and delight. See 2 Cor 6:10. Compare Isa 53:3 with John 17:13. Joy and sorrow can co-exist in the same heart at the same time.

43:5 42:11.

44 Title: Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

44:1 We do not know who wrote this psalm nor when it was written. The divisions of the psalm are clear. The writer remembers the past (vs 1-3); then he expresses his desire and confidence that God will work on their behalf in the same way He did in days gone by (vs 4-8); he describes the present sad state of things (vs 9-16);
 yet the people have remained faithful to God and have suffered and died for His name's sake (vs 17-22); he closes with a prayer for deliverance (vs 23-26).

44:2 This refers to Israel conquering Canaan
 as described in Joshua.

44:3 See 78:54,55; Josh 24:11-13; Neh
 9:24.

44:4 See 5:2; 74:12. God is the great king of the universe. He has the right to accomplish His will by merely giving commands (33:9; 47:2).

44:5 Believers now should think of spiritual foes and have confidence in God for victory
 – Eph 6:10-12.

- and have put to shame those who hated us.
- 8 In God we boast all the day long,
and praise your name forever. Selah
- 9 But you have cast us off and put us to shame, and do not go forth with our armies.
- 10 You make us turn back from the enemy,
and those who hate us take plunder for themselves.
- 11 You have given us up like sheep taken for food, and have scattered us among
the nations.
- 12 You sell your people for nothing, and do not increase your wealth by their price.
- 13 You make us an object of reproach to our neighbours,
and scorn and derision to those who are around us.
- 14 You make us a byword among the nations,
a shaking of the head among the peoples.
- 15 My dishonour is continually before me,
and the shame of my face has covered me,
- 16 Because of the voice of him who reproaches and reviles,
because of the enemy and avenger.
- 17 All this has come on us,
but we have not forgotten you,
nor have we dealt falsely with your covenant.
- 18 Our heart has not turned back,
nor have our steps departed from your way,
- 19 Though you have crushed us in the place

- of jackals and covered us with the shadow of death.
- 20 If we have forgotten the name of our God,
or stretched out our hands to a foreign god,
- 21 Will God not search this out?
For he knows the secrets of the heart.
- 22 Yes, for your sake we are killed all the day long.
We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.
- 23 Awake! Why are you sleeping, O Lord?
Arise! Do not reject us forever.
- 24 Why do you hide your face, and forget our misery and our oppression?
- 25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust.
Our body clings to the earth.
- 26 Arise for our help, and redeem us,
for your mercy's sake.

45

To the chief musician on Shoshannim,
for the sons of Korah, a maskil,
a song of love

- 1 My heart overflows with a good theme.
I speak of the things which I have produced about the king.
My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.
- 2 You are fairer than the sons of men.
Grace is poured into your lips;
therefore God has blessed you forever.
- 3 Gird your sword upon your thigh,

44:8 Victory over spiritual enemies too is gained only in the strength of God and all the glory should be His.

44:9 See 43:2; 60:1,10; 74:1; 89:38; 108:11.
44:13,14 See 69:11; 79:4; 109:25; Deut 28:37; Jer 24:9.

44:17,18 Here the few faithful ones who remained in Israel speak. There were not many times in Israel's history when this was true of the nation as a whole.

44:20 In the Bible both of these were regarded as very serious evils – 9:11; 50:22; 81:9; Deut 6:12,14; 8:11,14,19; Ex 20:3,4.
44:21 See 139:12; Jer 12:3; John 2:24,25; Heb 4:13.

44:22 Paul quotes this verse in Rom 8:36 and applies it to Christian believers. But Paul's attitude, unlike this psalm's author, was one of triumphant submission to God.

44:23 See 7:6; 78:65. These are very bold words to use to God. This is the confidence of children who know their Father well.

44:24 See 13:1.

44:25 Sometimes believers are laid as low as can be. The only way left to go is up.

44:26 There's no better way to pray than to plead God's grace and mercy.

45 Title: Shoshannim probably indicated the tune to be used with this psalm. It means "lilies." Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

Here is a glorious psalm concerning the Lord Jesus as King and heavenly Bridegroom to His church. That it refers to no earthly monarch is clear from verses like 2,6,7,11. Verses 6,7 are quoted in the New Testament as referring to Christ (Heb 1:8,9). The divisions of the psalm are clear. After announcing his theme in v 1, the author speaks to the King in vs 2-9; the church is pictured as the bride of Christ in vs 10-15; then there are closing remarks addressed once more to the King in vs 16,17.

45:1 Thoughts of the beauty, the splendor, the grace, the power, the holy character of the heavenly King fill the writer's heart to overflowing. A "good matter" indeed has completely captured his attention. No other matter that will ever engage our thoughts can be better.

"Overflows" – from a Hebrew word which means to boil or bubble up, and possibly indicates the sound boiling water makes.

45:2 The beauty of the Lord Jesus on earth was not physical (Isa 53:2,3) but spiritual – grace was poured on His lips (Luke 4:22), and He loved righteousness and hated wickedness (v 7). So God the Father gave Him eternal blessings.

45:3-5 Jesus is not only the meek and suffering Saviour so movingly depicted in Ps 22; He is the mighty King of kings who will

- O most Mighty One,
with your glory and your majesty.
- 4 And in your majesty ride victoriously in the cause of truth and meekness and righteousness;
and your right hand will teach you awesome things.
- 5 Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies.
The peoples fall under you.
- 6 Your throne, O God, is forever and ever.
The sceptre of your kingdom is a sceptre of righteousness.
- 7 You love righteousness and hate wickedness.
Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness more than your companions.
- 8 All your garments smell of myrrh, and aloe, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces,
by which they have made you glad.

- 9 Kings' daughters are among your honourable women.
At your right hand stands the queen in gold of Ophir.
- 10 Listen, O daughter, and consider, and incline your ear.
Also forget your own people, and your father's house;
- 11 And the king will greatly desire your beauty.
Because he is your Lord, worship him.
- 12 And the daughter of Tyre will be there with a gift.
The rich among the people will seek your favour.
- 13 The king's daughter is all glorious within the palace.
Her clothing is woven with gold.
- 14 She will be brought to the king in embroidered garments.
Her virgin companions who follow her will be brought to you.

fight the battle for truth, humility, and righteousness, and will win. His is the sword of God's Spirit (Eph 6:17; Heb 4:12; Rev 1:16). He is clothed in splendor and majesty (Rev 1:12-16). Does it seem sometimes that justice and truth and meekness will never prevail on earth? Do not doubt. Christ will ride on until victory is His. The final fulfillment of this is seen in Rev 19:11-16. Opposing Him is the utmost folly (2:12; 7:11-13). Sharp indeed are His arrows (120:4; 92:9).

45:6 Here Jesus is called God (Heb 1:8). In the next verse it speaks of the King's God. That is the God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ. Two members of the Trinity are in view here (notes on the Trinity at Matt 3:16,17; etc). Some people who deny that Jesus is truly God have twisted the most natural meaning of the Hebrew here (and the Greek in Heb 1:8). They have tried to translate it like this - "God is your throne forever." But even such an absurd translation does not eliminate the truth of the deity of Christ in this verse. Actually it makes Jesus greater than the Father, for greater is the one who occupies a throne than the throne itself.

The character of Christ's kingdom is revealed here: absolute justice, integrity, honesty, uprightness. This is the reason this fallen world hates Him (compare John 3:19,20; 7:7). It is also the reason why His kingdom will be a reign of indescribable blessedness to all those who, like Him, love righteousness and hate wickedness.

45:7 Did Jesus, "the man of sorrows," have joy? Yes, a deep and abiding joy in spite of His sorrows (John 15:11; 17:13). Now His sorrows are ended and His joy is made full forever. Only those who love righteousness will enter into His eternal joy. God has put a link between joy and righteousness which no one can break.

45:8,9 Here Christ appears as the heavenly

Bridegroom. The details of the language signify a festive occasion. Is it anything other than the marriage supper of the Lamb (Rev 19:7-9)? In v 9 the queen appears dressed in gold. And what does this signify but the church of our Lord Jesus, composed of all His true believers (2 Cor 11:2; Eph 5:25-27)?

45:10,11 Now the writer of this psalm through the Holy Spirit gives instructions to the bride, that is, to believers. To have a satisfactory relationship with heaven's King certain things are very necessary. The first is turning away from the past life to cleave to the King alone (Gen 12:1; Matt 10:37,38; Luke 14:25,26,33; Heb 11:8-10,15,16). No earthly king would be satisfied with a bride whose heart was somewhere else. The heavenly King too demands our heart, our love (compare Prov 23:26). The King finds great beauty in the person who leaves all for Him (v 11; Song of Songs 4:7; Luke 14:33). The believer is also to recognize King Jesus as Lord and worship Him (John 13:13; Rom 10:9; Matt 2:2; Luke 24:52; John 9:38; Heb 1:6; Rev 5:7,13,14).

45:12 Here the city of Tyre probably represents all the Gentile nations around Israel. When the Church is at last united with Christ in glory the nations of earth will bring their gifts (Rev 21:24-26). And the church will reign with Christ (Matt 19:28; 2 Tim 2:12; Rev 3:21; 5:10; 20:4).

45:13-15 The garments of the bride of any earthly king will be chosen with great care. Is it less so for the bride of the heavenly King? See Isa 61:3; Ezek 16:9-14; Eph 5:25-27. The virgins who are the bride's companions are kings' daughters (v 9). They may signify the nations which will share in the joy of the King and His bride (Rev 21:24-27; 22:2). But it is not wise to be dogmatic about this.

- 15 They will be brought in with gladness and rejoicing.
They will enter the king's palace.
- 16 Instead of your fathers there will be your sons, whom you will make princes in all the earth.
- 17 I will cause your name to be remembered in all generations;
therefore the people will praise you forever and ever.

46

To the chief musician,
for the sons of Korah, a song on alamoth

- 1 God is our refuge and strength,
a very present help in trouble.
- 2 Therefore we will not fear, though the earth be removed,
and though the mountains be carried into the middle of the sea,
- 3 Though its waters roar and are in turmoil, though the mountains shake with its surging. Selah
- 4 There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacle of the Most High.

- 5 God is within her. She will not be shaken.
God will help her at early morning.
- 6 The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved.
He uttered his voice, the earth melted.
- 7 The LORD of hosts is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah

- 8 Come, see the works of the LORD,
the desolations he has made in the earth.
- 9 He makes wars cease to the end of the earth.
He breaks the bow and cuts the spear in two.
He burns the chariot in the fire.
- 10 "Be still, and know that I am God.
I will be exalted among the nations.
I will be exalted in the earth."
- 11 The LORD of hosts is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah

47

To the chief musician,
a Psalm for the sons of Korah

- 1 Oh, clap your hands, all you people!
Shout to God with the voice of triumph!

"Within" – the Hebrew word indicates the inner wall of a house or room or court or palace, which is opposite the door and appears to those who come to the doorway.

45:16,17 These words are addressed, it seems, to the King. His "fathers" would be those saints in the Old Testament. Christ was the Son of David, the Son of Abraham. He had real human nature, was made flesh. We see both His deity and humanity in this psalm. His "sons" would be those since His first coming who trust Him and are born again by His Spirit (John 1:12,13). There will never be a time when God does not have His children on earth. Some people in each generation will know the King and declare His praises throughout the earth.

46 Title: Alamothe was probably a musical term.

46:1 "Refuge" – 7:1.

"Strength" – 18:1; 28:7; 73:26. Not armies, not fortifications, not human strength or tactics, but God Himself is the refuge, strength and help of His people.

46:2,3 If we are in God, the mighty and eternal refuge, who or what can harm us (23:4)? And why should we fear as if we were not in Him? Believers need not fear even in natural disasters such as are described here, or in the upheaval of nations and societies. These are sometimes symbolized in the Bible by mountains and bodies of water or floods – Isa 17:12; 59:19; Jer 46:7,8; 47:1,2;

51:24,25; Dan 2:35; Rev 17:1,15.

46:4 See 36:8; 65:9; Ezek 47:1-12; Rev 22:1.

46:5 See 48:1; 87:1-3; Rev 3:12; 21:22; 22:3. God was in the earthly Jerusalem the capital city of His people Israel. He is also in the heavenly Jerusalem and He is in His church which is compared to a city in Rev 21:9,10.

46:6 See 2:1. Nations are frequently in an uproar, but God is in absolute control of events.

46:7 The sovereign God is Immanuel, He is with His people. Note at Ex 25:8. Here are two of His names.

"The LORD of hosts" – the one who controls both the forces of heaven and the armies of earth. Note at 1 Sam 1:3.

"God of Jacob" – note at 146:5.

46:8 Think of the ruins of ancient civilizations – Nineveh, Babylon, Egypt, Edom, Greece, Troy, Harappa, etc. It is the Lord God of Israel, the one true God, who has brought about these desolations.

46:9 76:2,3; Isa 2:4; 9:7; 11:6-9; 32:17,18; Micah 4:3.

46:10 God Himself now speaks to the writer and through the writer to us. If men would stop their struggles and spend some time in the contemplation of who and what God is, what a difference it would make! The day is coming when Jehovah God alone will be exalted and praised – 47:2; Isa 2:11,17; Zech 14:9.

47:1 In the activities of the true God there

- 2 For the LORD Most High is awe-inspiring.
He is a great King over all the earth.
 3 He will subdue the peoples under us,
 and the nations under our feet.
 4 He will choose our inheritance for us,
 the excellence of Jacob whom he loved.

Selah

- 5 God has gone up with a shout,
 the LORD with the sound of a trumpet.
 6 Sing praises to God, sing praises!

- Sing praises to our King, sing praises!
 7 For God is the King of all the earth.
 Sing praises with understanding.
 8 God reigns over the nations.
 God sits on the throne of his holiness.
 9 The leaders of the people have gathered together,
 the people of the God of Abraham.
 For the shields of the earth belong to God.
 He is greatly exalted.

is great cause for joy for all the peoples of earth. One reason for this joy is in the next verse.

47:2 The God of Israel (Jehovah) is not a mere tribal god or national god. He is the only God there is, the Creator of the universe (Isa 45:21,22). Above all nations and governments He sits enthroned. That is, He who is perfect in holiness, justice, grace, and love reigns over mankind. Is this not cause for joy? (vs 6-9).

"Great king" - see 5:2; 24:8; 95:3; Isa 6:5; 33:22; 43:15; Jer 10:6,7,10; Dan 4:34-37; Mal 1:14; 1 Tim 1:17; 6:15; Rev 15:3; 17:14; 19:16. Some people question the manner of God's rule over the earth and ask: "If God is the great king why are conditions on earth so terrible? Why does evil prevail? Why do the innocent suffer? Why are the poor and weak crushed under the feet of the rich and strong? Why do disasters strike - drought and starvation, cyclones, earthquakes and floods? Why do devastating wars, persecutions of whole people, or genocides take place?" Asking such questions some people dare to deny that God exists. They insist that if there were a God things could not be as they are. This is poor reasoning and poor philosophy. In facing such questions none of us should leave out of our reasoning some very important Bible facts.

According to the Bible the world is in its present condition not because God fails in His rule, but because mankind in general does not accept His rule. People are sinners and rebels against the great King of the universe. It is they who ruin the world, not God. Compare Gen 6:5-7,11,12; 8:21; Ps 14:2,3; Isa 24:5; Rom 1:18-32; Rev 11:18. Mankind deserves nothing good from God, but actually receives much good - which the majority of people take and misuse without gratitude to the heavenly Giver. The only times many people mention God is to take His name in vain or to curse or in complaint against Him. The general practice of mankind is to blame God for anything they consider bad, but never to thank Him for any good He does.

God, as the righteous Ruler of the world must send punishment on the wicked. He must use methods to restrain the restless, greedy, rebellious nature in man. And He is perfectly justified in using at times very severe methods (see Rev 16:5-7; 2 Thess 1:6; Gen 6:5-8; etc). Actually God's judgments are always at work in the world and those judgments are perfectly just. He is always just in His dealing with individuals and with mankind as a whole - Ps 33:5; 89:14. See also the note at Gen 15:16.

Accepting this is, of course, a matter of faith. We can rejoice in God's reign over the earth (as we are told to do in v 1) if we believe His revelation in the Bible. Then we can understand that God cannot do, and does not do, any wrong or unjust thing to anyone, ever. We can understand that He knows what He is doing even if we do not, that He has ways and plans we do not know and which are far above us (Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33-36). God is "awe-inspiring" in His nature and activities. He is worthy of the utmost of reverent fear and trust.

47:3,4 A further cause for joy is the activities of God with His chosen people Israel. However much these verses might have been fulfilled in the past there surely will be a more complete fulfillment in the future (Isa 9:6,7; 11:1-10; Matt 19:28; Acts 1:6; Rev 20:4-6). All the earth will be brought under the sway of the Lord Jesus and with Him those who have trusted Him.

"Inheritance" - if we entrust the choice of our inheritance to God we need not worry about the size or quality of it (Acts 20:32; 26:18; Eph 1:11,14; Col 1:12; Heb 9:15; 1 Pet 1:4).

47:5 Jehovah God is here described as ascending to His throne after winning a great victory. We are reminded of the day when Jehovah, incarnated in the Lord Jesus, after winning the fight against all the forces of Satan, ascended into glory (Luke 24:50-52; Acts 1:9-11; Eph 4:7-10).

47:6,7 Note on praise at 33:1.

47:9 "God of Abraham" - the writer clearly identifies the God he is speaking of. He is the God of the Bible, the God who made a covenant with Abraham and called him to be His servant in the world.

"Shields" - he may mean the leaders of nations who act as shields against aggression from other nations. See 89:18. All such are under God's sovereign control, and He uses them to fulfill His gracious plan toward mankind. All the authority exercised by kings actually belongs to God (Rom 13:1-5).

A song, a psalm for the sons of Korah

- 1 Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
- 2 Beautiful for elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.
- 3 God is known in her palaces as a refuge.
- 4 For, see, the kings assembled, they passed by together.
- 5 They saw it and so they marvelled; they were troubled and hurried away.
- 6 Fear took hold on them there, and pain like that of a woman in childbirth.
- 7 You broke them like the ships of Tarshish, broken by an east wind.
- 8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God.
God will establish it forever. Selah
- 9 We have thought of your loving kindness, O God, within your temple.
- 10 According to your name, O God, so is your praise to the ends of the earth. Your right hand is full of righteousness.
- 11 Let mount Zion rejoice.
Let the daughters of Judah be glad,

48:1 We do not know when, or by whom, this psalm was written. From vs 4-8 we judge it was after an attack on Jerusalem by federated kings. No such event occurred in the days of David. It is likely that the time was either during the invasion described in 2 Chronicles chapter 20, or the one in Isaiah chapters 36,37.

48:1-3 God chose Jerusalem as His royal residence, the place for His temple. There He reigned as King over His people, and defended them from His enemies (9:11; 76:2; 132:13; 135:21; Matt 5:35). The greatest thing we can say of any place or people is that the true God is there and is known. Without this any other beauty is hardly beauty at all.

48:4 2 Kings 18:17; 2 Chron 20:1.

48:5-8 2 Kings 19:32-36; 2 Chron 20:20-24.

48:9 God's love and grace are the great subjects that should be the theme of our meditations. If they are, we will not find it difficult to praise God (vs 10,11).

48:12,13 The writer is thrilled by the sight of Jerusalem. What joy and satisfaction, then, should we not find in meditating on the Jerusalem which is above (Gal 4:26; Heb 12:22; Rev 21:2,10-26). Remember in the study of the psalms and, for that mat-because of your judgments.

- 12 Walk about Zion, and go around her. Count her towers.
- 13 Set your eyes well on her bulwarks. Consider her palaces, so that you may tell it to the following generation.
- 14 For this God is our God forever and ever. He will be our guide even to death.

To the chief musician,
a Psalm for the sons of Korah

- 1 Hear this, all you people.
Give ear, all you inhabitants of the world,
- 2 Both low and high, rich and poor, together.
- 3 My mouth will speak of wisdom, and the meditation of my heart will bring understanding.
- 4 I will turn my ear to a proverb; I will disclose my riddle on the harp.
- 5 Why should I fear in the days of evil, when the wickedness at my heels surrounds me?
- 6 Those who trust in their wealth, and boast of the greatness of their riches,
- 7 none of them can by any means redeem his brother, or give to God a ransom for him
- 8 (for the redemption of their souls is costly,

ter, of the whole of the Old Testament, that earthly things are often pictures and types of spiritual and heavenly truths.

48:14 The best of all is not the city, but God's presence to guide until death, and to be enjoyed forever and ever.

"Guide" - 22:3,4; 25:9; 73:24; John 16:13.

49:1-4 The inspired writer of this psalm has a message for all peoples everywhere. He was fulfilling one purpose God had for Israel, and that was to be a channel for His Word to the world. The Bible is for all, not for a small part of humanity. The message of this psalm concerns some exceedingly important matters of earthly life.

49:5 In the rest of the psalm he reveals why he does not fear the sinful rich who bring evil days to him. Their power is extremely limited - they cannot escape death (vs 6-14), and cannot prevent God from redeeming him (v 15). And they are like beasts which have no real understanding (v 20). The teachings of the Lord Jesus are in perfect harmony with this, as we might expect (Matt 10:28; Luke 12:32; 12:15-21; 16:13,19-31; 18:24,25).

49:7-9 No amount of money will keep a man permanently alive, no sum can redeem another from death. Then what is the value and is left undone by them forever) 9 that he should live on forever, and not see the grave.

 10 For he sees that wise men die;
 likewise the fool and the senseless person perish,
 and leave their wealth to others.
 11 Their inward thought is that their houses will continue forever, and their dwelling places to all generations.
 They call their lands after their own names.
 12 Nevertheless, man, even though in honour,
 does not remain.
 He is like the beasts that perish.
 13 This is the way of their folly, and their posterity approve of their sayings.

Selah

14 Like sheep they are laid in the grave.
 Death will feed on them,
 and the upright will rule over them in
 the morning;
 and their beauty will be consumed in the grave, far from their home.
 15 But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave;
 for he will receive me.

Selah

16 Do not be afraid when someone is made rich, of the wealth of these wicked men? Though it may make them more comfortable here for their brief time on earth, it cannot help them in the endless ages of eternity.

49:10 See 39:6; Eccl 2:18,21; Luke 12:20; 1 Tim 6:7.

49:11 See 10:6. They foolishly and proudly refuse to face the fact of death.

49:12 2 Pet 2:12; Jude 10; Ps 14:4.

49:13,14 "Grave" – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35. Foolish ways will bring men to a sad end (Prov 14:12). What a shepherd such men have – death!

"Death will feed on them" – "Death will be their shepherd" is a possible translation of the Hebrew here.

The righteous will at last prevail over the wicked and rule the world.

49:15 Note on "redeem" at 78:35. What no man can do (vs 7-9) God has done (Hos 13:14; Gal 4:5; Titus 2:14; 1 Pet 1:18; Rev 5:9). In this verse again there is the suggestion of eternal life with God. It was but dimly perceived by Old Testament believers and sometimes hardly perceived at all. But the teaching was there in seed form (16:11; 17:15; 23:6; etc). It was the assurance of heavenly life after death in the heart of the psalmist which took away the fear of what the sinful rich could do.

49:16 In v 5 he encouraged himself concerning the state of affairs in the world.

when the glory of his house is increased,
 17 For when he dies he will carry nothing away.
 His glory will not descend after him.
 18 Though while he lived he blessed his soul
 (and men will praise you, when you do well for yourself),
 19 He will go to the generation of his fathers.
 They will never see light.
 20 Man who has honour,
 and does not understand,
 is like the beasts that perish.

A Psalm of Asaph

1 The mighty God, the LORD, has spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun to its going down.
 2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
 God shines forth.
 3 Our God will come and will not keep silence.
 A fire will devour before him,
 and it will be very tempestuous around him.
 4 He will call to the heavens from above,
 and to the earth,
 that he may judge his people:
 5 "Gather my saints together to me,
 those who have made a covenant with

Here he encourages others (compare 37:7; Prov 23:17; 24:19,20).

49:18 Luke 12:19.

49:19,20 The rich may forget God and still greatly prosper. But the end of such people is eternal darkness – Matt 25:30; John 12:35; 2 Pet 2:17; Jude 13.

50 Title: On "Asaph" see 1 Chron 15:16,17,19; 25:2; 2 Chron 29:30. He was of the tribe of Levi, a great musician, poet, and seer. In this remarkable and powerful psalm God strikes at three great evils of religious people – formalism, spiritual ignorance (vs 7-15), and hypocrisy (vs 16-21).

50:1-6 The picture in these verses is God coming out of His city Jerusalem as judge and calling the whole world to hear His verdict on Israel's behavior.

50:2 See 48:1,2; Deut 33:2. This suggests a visible appearance.

50:3 Ex 19:16; 20:18. Fire signifies God's holiness and just judgments – Deut 9:3; 32:22; 2 Thess 1:8; Heb 12:29.

50:4 Deut 4:26; 31:28; 32:1; Isa 1:2. A very solemn way of emphasizing the importance of what follows.

50:5 Both the Old Covenant and the New Covenant were inaugurated by sacrifice. The first by animal sacrifices, the second by the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus (Ex 24:4-8; Matt 26:26-28; Heb 9:11-15).

me by sacrifice.”
 6 And the heavens will declare his
 righteousness,
 for God himself is judge. Selah 7 “Hear, O my people, and I will speak.
Listen, O Israel, and I will testify against you.
 I am God, your God.
 8 I will not rebuke you for your sacrifices or your burnt offerings, which are continually before me.
 9 I will take no ox from your house, or male goats from your folds.
 10 For every beast of the forest is mine,
 and the cattle on a thousand hills.
 11 I know all the birds of the mountains, and the wild beasts of the field are mine.
 12 If I were hungry, I would not tell you;
 for the world and its fulness is mine.
 13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
 14 Offer to God thanksgiving, and fulfil your vows to the Most High,
 15 And call to me in the day of trouble.
 I will deliver you, and you will glorify me.”

16 But to the wicked God says, “What right do you have to declare my statutes,
 or to take my covenant in your mouth, 17 seeing that you hate instruction, and cast my words behind you?
 18 When you saw a thief, you were pleased with him,
 and have taken part with adulterers.
 19 You give your mouth to evil,
 and your tongue is joined to deceit.
 20 You sit and speak against your brother.
 You slander your own mother’s son.
 21 These things you have done, and I kept silent.
 You thought that I was altogether like you.
 But I will rebuke you, and set them
 in array before your eyes.
 22 Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be no one to rescue you.
 23 Whoever offers praise glorifies me,
 and to him who directs his conduct rightly I will show the salvation of God.”

50:6 All is now ready, and God the judge speaks in the rest of the psalm.

50:7 God speaks to those who are called here His people – to those who belong at least outwardly to their community.

50:8-13 The Israelites brought the sacrifices commanded by the law. But evidently some of them ignorantly supposed that God needed them, and foolishly imagined that formal ritual satisfied Him in some way. The apostle Paul criticized the same error at Athens (Acts 17:22-25). The Lord spoke through Isaiah too about the uselessness of religious rituals when the heart is not right with God and the life is unholy (Isa 1:11-17). The Lord Jesus sharply criticized the Pharisees for the same thing (Matthew chapter 23). In this age many Christians go through the forms of worship at the communion service who have no spiritual life, no obedience to God, and no love for His Word. Such worship is all in vain.

50:14,15 God here reveals what He wants from His worshipers – heartfelt gratitude, fulfilling one’s promises to God, true prayer which honors Him. On thanksgiving see 7:17; 56:12; 107:21,22; 116:17,18; Lev 7:12,13; Micah 6:6-8; Rom 12:1; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18; Heb 13:15. On vows see 56:12; 61:8; 76:11; Num 30:2; Deut 23:21; Eccl 5:4-6.

50:15 91:15; 107:6,13. God wants us to call on Him in times of trouble. He loves to hear prayer and to help those who pray in spirit and in truth. God answers the faithful believing prayers of His people, and new answers to prayer will give fresh reasons for them to glorify Him. But is God hungry for man’s praise and honor? No. See note at 33:1.

50:16-21 The disobedient, the thief, the adulterer, the deceiver, the slanderer has no business trying to preach God’s truth to others. If he tries to do so he is a hypocrite, and God’s judgment will come on him (Matt 23:1-3,33; Rom 2:8,9,21-24; 1 Cor 6:9,10). In spite of such clear warnings many preachers who live in such sins seem to think they will escape. They may speak about God’s holiness and righteous judgment but in reality they are ignorant of them (v 21). Sin has deceived them (Heb 3:13), and they abuse God’s grace (Jude 4) and misunderstand His patience (Eccl 8:11; Rom 2:4,5). They think God is like them – that is, without a hatred of sin, without the fire of holiness, without a loathing for hypocrisy. Sinful men can hardly slander God more than by saying He is like them.

50:22 All along it seems God has been speaking of forgetting God and not merely about formalism and hypocrisy. From this we might learn that formalism and hypocrisy are really the same as forgetting God. Hypocritical formalists can practice their religion with hardly a thought of God. They will be occupied with rituals, with self, and with sins. See in this verse what God thinks of such people! See how dangerous a sin forgetting God is!

50:23 “Offers praise” – here is the alternative to a vain and empty practice of religion. What shall it be for us – to have God tear us to pieces, or to have Him show us His salvation?

51 Title: see 2 Sam 11:1 to 12:13 for the

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David,
when Nathan the prophet came to him,
after he had gone with Bathsheba

- 1 Have mercy on me, O God,
according to your loving kindness.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies blot out my transgressions.
- 2 Wash me thoroughly from my wickedness,
and cleanse me from my sin.
- 3 For I acknowledge my transgressions, and my sin is always before me.
- 4 Against you, you only, have I sinned and events mentioned here.

51:1 The only hope David had for the forgiveness of his terrible sins was the mercy and grace of God. No good work of his could earn forgiveness, no sacrifice he could make could blot out his sin – vs 16,17. Mercy was his one hope and mercy he craved (compare 41:4; Dan 9:18; Luke 18:13).

51:2 David uses three words to describe his wrongdoing – transgression, wickedness (or guilt), and sin. See 32:1,2. Transgressions are against the law of God and need to be forgiven and blotted out. Wickedness and sin are like stains and spots and filth which need to be washed away. God does all this for the repentant believing person who turns to Him – Isa 44:22; 43:25; Jer 33:8; Acts 3:19; 1 John 1:7,9.

51:3 We see David's confession was not an empty, easy, insincere thing that he made simply because his sin had been found out. His sin troubled him constantly, was an agony to him. It was a sword in his heart, a mountain of guilt that always faced him, hiding God's face. Such conviction is produced only by the Holy Spirit of God. And this psalm of confession is given also by the Holy Spirit to those who have been convicted by Him. Let us use it.

51:4 According to the Bible all sin is primarily against God, because individuals involved in other people's sin are God's creation, God's possession. Injuring the King's property is an offense against the King Himself, and breaks the King's laws (41:4; Gen 9:6; 13:13; 20:6; 39:9; Num 5:6; 32:23; 2 Sam 12:9,13; 1 Cor 8:12). One principle of the judgment of men is seen in Matt 25:40,45. What men do to Christ's people is done to Him, and what they do not do to them is not done to Him (compare Acts 9:4,5). David was so conscious of sinning against God it swallowed up every other consideration at the moment.

"Just. . .pure" – Rom 3:4. Sin is so manifest, so terrible that when God pronounces judgment on it there can be no accusation against Him that He is too harsh or unloving.

51:5 David has been speaking of his sins.

done this evil in your sight, so that you are just when you speak and pure when you judge.

- 5 Behold, I was brought forth in evil,
and in sin did my mother conceive me.
- 6 Behold, you desire truth in the inner parts, and in the hidden heart you will cause
me to know wisdom.
- 7 Purge me with hyssop, and I will be clean.
Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.
- 8 Cause me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which you have broken may rejoice.
- 9 Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all my evil deeds.

Here he goes to the root of it all. He confesses that his nature is bad from the time of his conception. This is true of every human being born into the world, except the Lord Jesus (who was conceived by God's Spirit and born of a virgin and so was not as other men are – Matt 1:18-23; Luke 1:30-35). Since the fall of Adam and Eve all parents have sinful natures and transmit them to their offspring (58:3; Gen 5:3; 8:21; Lev 12:6; Job 14:4; Eph 2:3). David is not saying that his mother conceived him while engaged in an act of sin. We have no reason to think that she was not a very moral woman, completely faithful to her husband – but still a sinner, as we all are.

51:6 Since man's inner nature is corrupt there is the necessity of inner change. God desires sincerity, honesty, integrity in the heart. This is opposed to the hypocrisy, deceitfulness, and dishonesty men have by nature. Nothing that a person can say or do can satisfy God if there is not this inner love of the truth, this change that puts truth at the core of his or her being (15:2; Prov 12:22; Eph 4:15,21-25; 6:14; 2 Thess 2:10; 1 John 3:19). And no wisdom is good wisdom except what God gives, and He gives it also in the inner man (1 Kings 3:12; Job 38:36; Prov 2:6; Eph 1:17,18; Jam 1:5).

51:7 Hyssop was a shrub used in sprinkling the blood of animal sacrifices – Ex 12:22; Lev 14:4; Heb 9:19. That blood was but a symbol of the blood of Jesus Christ which now purges sin (1 John 1:7). Only God's great grace and skill can make something white which was scarlet (Isa 1:18).

51:8 Only forgiveness, cleansing, and truth in the inner parts can bring back joy. Conviction of sin to the heart is like broken bones to the body (compare 31:10; 32:3).

51:9 Blot out means erase from the record. This is exactly what God does, and He refuses to put them back in the record again (32:2). But observe that David does not ask that God cancel all the punishment due to his sin (compare 2 Sam 12:9,10). He is willing to face God's chastening hand if only he can be cleansed and restored to God's fellowship.

- 10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.
- 11 Do not cast me away from your presence,
and do not take your Holy Spirit from me.
- 12 Restore to me the joy of your salvation,
and uphold me with your gracious Spirit.
- 13 Then I will teach transgressors your ways,
and sinners will be converted to you.
- 14 Deliver me from blood guiltiness,
O God, the God of my salvation, and my tongue will sing aloud of your
righteousness.
- 15 O Lord, open my lips, and my mouth will declare your praise.
- 16 For you do not desire sacrifice,
or I would give it.
You do not delight in burnt offering.
- 17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit.
A broken and a contrite heart,
O God, you will not despise.

51:10 See how David's concern is with his inner state and not with outer appearances. And he knows that only God can make him right and pure within.

"Clean" – 24:4; 73:1; Matt 5:8; Acts 15:9. This means a pure, sincere heart with unmixed motives, a heart with clean affections, a heart that fights against sin, a heart under the influences of the Holy Spirit of God. If men are to have such a heart God must create it in them (Eph 2:10; 4:24. Compare Jer 24:7; Ezek 11:19; 36:26). Try as they may they will not be able to create it for themselves, though believers should cooperate with God in the work (Ezek 18:31; 2 Cor 7:1; 1 Pet 1:22). A fixed and determined mind, a stable disposition against sin is needed to maintain purity of heart (119:5; 1 Cor 15:58; 1 Pet 5:9,10). This is something David once had but lost by sinning.

51:11 David was convinced of his depravity, weakness, and sin. However, he believed that God had not yet cast him away or taken His Spirit from him. But he seems to fear that God might do so. David may have been referring to his anointing as king (1 Sam 16:13,14) and the fear that he might be rejected as Saul was. In any case, in Old Testament days believers did not have the full revelation of God's truth and His purposes toward them. And they did not have the full bestowal of the Spirit as the Church now has (John 7:39; 14:16,17; 16:7). And they did not have the promises of John 6:37,40; 10:28; 14:1-3; Rom 5:9,10; 8:38,39), as believers now do. But even we who live in this age of grace should fear that sin might rob us of the Spirit's sweet and powerful influences, that we may lose fellowship with God. See Eph 4:30.

51:12 The Holy Spirit had not gone from him but joy had fled. Spiritual joy and sin cannot exist together. Joy follows pardon and purity, and only God can give it. David wanted it back, and longed for a mind that

- 18 Do good in your good pleasure to Zion.
Build up the walls of Jerusalem.
- 19 Then you will be pleased with the sacrifices of righteousness, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering.
Then they will offer bulls on your altar.

52

To the chief musician, a maskil of David, when Doeg the Edomite came and spoke to Saul, and told him that David had come to the house of Abimelech

- 1 Why do you boast in wickedness,
O mighty man,
scorning the goodness of God continually?
- 2 Your tongue devises ruin, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
- 3 You love evil more than good,

willingly, gladly, spontaneously serves God.

51:13 Who can better teach other transgressors than the person who has fallen himself and been restored to spiritual health? Thus his fall and restoration will work for good, for God will use the account of it in the lives of others.

51:14 He means his guilt in the death of Uriah (2 Sam 11:14-17). If God delivers him from this guilt he will not sing of his own righteousness (as some like to do), but of God's.

51:15 Even opening the lips in God's praise is a gift of God.

51:16 Note at 40:6.

51:17 See 34:18; 145:3; Isa 57:15; 61:1; 66:2; Joel 2:12,13; Matt 5:3. When there is true repentance and sorrow for sin God will forgive and accept the person who has sinned. Without true repentance no sacrifice will be of the slightest use to him. On repentance see note at Matt 3:2.

51:18,19 David had truly repented and forsaken his sin. His heart is now free to pray for others. Had trouble and disgrace come on Israel by the sin of David their king? Our sins affect others and when we are pardoned and restored we should pray for their welfare. In this psalm we may make a list of those things only God can do for the person fallen into sin. These are: show mercy and blot out sin (v 1), wash and cleanse (v 2), create a clean heart and give a steadfast mind (v 10), restore joy and a spirit of spontaneous obedience (v 12), open lips to praise (v 15).

52 Title: See the story of this in 1 Sam 22:6-23. Maskil was probably a musical term.

52:1 There are not wanting people in this fallen world who are ashamed of doing good but boast in doing evil – 10:4; 94:4; Phil 3:19; 2 Pet 2:18. Doeg was one of these.

"Scorning" – in Hebrew there is no verb in the last sentence of this verse.

52:2 Doeg's words resulted in the death of many servants of God.

52:3 See 36:1-4. Are there such people now and lying rather than speaking righteousness.

Selah

- 4 You love all devouring words,
you deceitful tongue.
5 God will certainly destroy you forever.
He will take you away and pluck you out of your dwelling place,
and uproot you from the land of the living.

Selah

- 6 And the righteous will see this, and fear,
and will laugh at him and say:

God his strength,
but trusted in his abundant riches and strengthened himself in his wickedness." 8 But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God.
I trust in the mercy of God forever and ever.
9 I will praise you forever, because you have done this;
and in the presence of your saints I will hope in your name, for it is good.

To the chief musician on mahalath,
a maskil of David

1 The fool has said in his heart,

who love evil and lies more than good and truth? A very great many – John 3:19,20; Rom 1:18; 2 Thess 2:10.

52:4 See 5:9; 10:7; 109:2; 120:2,3; Prov 10:31; 12:19.

52:5-7 A life of evil and deceit will have a certain harvest – God's anger and punishment. At the end of this life the righteous will rejoice at God's just judgment on wickedness (Rev 18:20; 19:1-3). This is not personal vindictiveness but a holy joy in God's justice. Note at 35:8.

52:8 See 1:3; 92:12; 128:3; Jer 11:16. God's people are to be like green and fruitful trees all the days of their lives.

52:9 In spite of evil boasters and persecutors David has full confidence in God. We should never let the wicked acts of men destroy our confidence in God's goodness.

53:1 This is Psalm 14 repeated with variations. Repetitions are given in the Bible for emphasis, and help to teach what men are slow to learn. David wrote both psalms, and introduced changes here by the guidance of the Holy Spirit to fit a different time and circumstance. For comments on the unchanged parts see psalm 14. In this first verse the Hebrew emphasizes the corruptness of men's behavior more than in 14:1. But in both psalms a fool is a fool, and because he is a fool he comes to a foolish

They are corrupt, and have done abominable wickedness.

There is no one who does good.

- 2 God looks down from heaven on the
children of men,
to see if there are any who understand,
who seek God.

- 3 Every one of them has turned away.
They have together become filthy.
There is no one who does good.
No, not one.

- 4 Have the evildoers no knowledge?
They eat up my people like they eat bread,
and do not call out to God.

- 5 There they are, in great fear, where there was no fear.

For God has scattered the bones
of him
who encamped against you.

You have put them to shame,
because God has despised them.

- 6 Oh, that the salvation of Israel would
come out of Zion!

When God brings back his people from captivity,

Jacob will rejoice and Israel will be glad.

conclusion about a subject he things foolishly about.

53:2 Here the word "God" is put instead of "LORD" (Jehovah) in 14:2. The same change occurs in vs 4,5,6. Why? One possibility – when David wrote Psalm 14 he may have been thinking particularly of foolish men in Israel, the people of Jehovah; now he thinks of men in general and uses the more general term "God." And of course the Holy Spirit was working in the minds of God's inspired prophets and writers of the Scriptures.

53:3 "Become filthy" – the Hebrew indicates something like milk or food gone bad, and so it went into the Greek translation of this as "become worthless" (Rom 3:12).

53:5 Here the two verses of 14:5,6 have been made one verse with several changes. There we have a general assurance of God's presence with the righteous; here we have a celebration of a victory already won over the wicked. In this psalm sin is seen in its ugliness – it makes fools of people; it corrupts their nature and deeds; it drives them away from God and keeps them from seeking Him; it causes them to persecute the righteous; it brings them at last to fear, shame, and destruction.

53:6 "Brings back. . . from captivity" – or "restores the well-being of" – the Hebrew means either.

To the chief musician on neginoth,
a maskil of David,
when the Ziphites came and said to Saul,
"Does not David hide himself among us?"

- 1 Save me, O God, by your name, and vindicate me by your strength.
- 2 Hear my prayer, O God.
Give ear to the words of my mouth.
- 3 For strangers have risen up against me,
and oppressors seek my life.
They have not set God before them. Selah
- 4 Look, God is my helper.
The Lord is with those who uphold my soul.
- 5 He will repay my enemies for their evil.
Cut them off in your truth!
- 6 I will freely sacrifice to you.
I will praise your name, O LORD,
for it is good.
- 7 For he has delivered me out of all trouble, and my eye has seen its desire on my enemies.

55

To the chief musician on neginoth,
a maskil of David

- 1 Give ear to my prayer, O God, and do not hide yourself from my supplication.
- 2 Be attentive to me, and hear me.
I am restless in my complaint and cry out,
- 3 because of the voice of the enemy,
because of the oppression of the wicked.
For they bring trouble on me,
and hate me in their wrath.
- 4 My heart is in anguish within me,
and the terrors of death have fallen on me.
- 5 Fear and trembling have come on me,
and horror has overwhelmed me.
- 6 And I said, "Oh, that I had wings like a dove!
For then I would fly away and be at rest.
- 7 Yes, then I would wander far away and remain in the wilderness. Selah
- 8 I would quickly make my escape from the windy storm and tempest."

54 Title: The story of David's danger at the hands of the Ziphites is in 1 Sam 23:13-29. Neginoth indicated this psalm should be sung with stringed instruments. Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

54:1 God's name means His nature, His person and attributes. He alone could save David in the midst of implacable enemies, and work justice for him.

54:3 The men of Ziph did not know David, but to gain the favor of king Saul tried to destroy him. They cared nothing for the justice of David's case, and had no regard for God.

54:4 See 30:10; 37:40; 118:7; Isa 41:10. If God keeps a man let his enemies take care!

54:5 See 7:14-16. They will get what they deserve. See note at 35:8. David wanted the truth to prevail and be recognized.

54:6 David had the excellent quality of a thankful heart.

54:7 See 6:8-10; 59:10; 92:11; 112:8; 118:7.

55 Title: neginoth indicated stringed instruments. Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

55:1 See 5:1; 17:6; 54:2; 61:1; 86:6. We do not know the time or circumstances when David wrote this. Perhaps it had to do with the rebellion of Absalom recorded in 2 Samuel chapters 15-17. The first eleven verses speak of enemies in general, the next four of betrayal by a close friend, and the concluding eight verses reveal David's confidence in God in the time of trial and danger.

55:2,3 See 64:1; 77:3; 142:2; 1 Sam 1:16; Job 9:27; Isa 38:14; 59:11; Ezek 7:16; Matt 26:28; Heb 5:7.

55:4,5 See 18:4,5; 116:3. Do believers ever fear death? Though they should not, some do, especially if their faith is not strong, or if it is upset by circumstances, or if they do not feel God's nearness at the time, or if they do not know the Word of God very well, or if Satan overwhelms them with his evil presence. But we in this New Testament age should understand that the Lord Jesus died that all those who believe in Him might be freed from the fear of death (Heb 2:14,15; 1 John 4:18; Rev 2:10). Because the Lord Jesus died in agony, the believer can die in peace and triumph (Acts 7:59,60; 1 Cor 15:55-57; 2 Cor 5:1-8; Phil 1:20-23). However, in Old Testament times believers did not have this revelation in its fullness.

55:6-8 Sometimes troubles and sorrows seem unendurable and we long to escape. But the spiritual person will recognize that trials are sent or permitted by God, not that we might run from them, but that we might endure them for His glory and our good (Luke 22:41,42; Jam 1:2-4; 1 Pet 1:6,7; 4:12,13). Trying to run away from troubles is natural but useless. It is not God's way for us, and there is no wilderness where we will find rest. There is a better place, a better way. That is to find peace in Christ's will and rest in God's compassionate arms (Matt 11:29; John 14:1; 16:33; 2 Cor 1:3-5; Phil 4:6,7).

- 9 Destroy them, O Lord, and split their tongues in two!
For I have seen violence and strife in the city.
- 10 Day and night they go around it on its walls; and evil and sorrow are within it.
- 11 Wickedness is within it; deceit and guile do not depart from its streets.
- 12 For it was not an enemy who reproached me.
Then I could have endured it.
Nor was it one who hated me who exalted himself against me.
Then I would have hidden myself from him.
- 13 But it was you, a man like me, my friend and my acquaintance.
- 14 We took sweet counsel together and walked to the house of God with the throng.
- 15 Let death seize these enemies, and let them go down alive into hell, for wickedness is among them in their homes.
- 16 As for me, I will call on God; and the LORD will save me.
- 17 Evening, and morning, and at noon, I will pray and cry out aloud; and he will hear my voice.
- 18 He has delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me; for there were many with me.
- 19 God will hear, and afflict them,

the God who abides from ancient times.

Selah

- Because they do not change, therefore they do not fear God.
- 20 He has put forth his hands against those who are at peace with him; he has broken his covenant.
- 21 The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart. His words were softer than oil, yet they were drawn swords.
- 22 Cast your burden on the LORD, and he will sustain you.
He will never allow the righteous to be shaken.
- 23 But you, O God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction.
Bloodthirsty and deceitful men will not live half their days.
But I will trust in you.

56

To the chief musician on Jonath-elem-rehokim, a miktam of David,
when the Philistines took him in Gath

- 1 Be merciful to me, O God, for man would swallow me up;
fighting all day he oppresses me.

55:9-11 In the days immediately preceding Absalom's rebellion Jerusalem may well have been like this. The city of David was greatly disturbed by the activities of wicked men.

55:12-14 If the man described here was not Ahitophel (2 Sam 15:12; 16:23) then we have no clue whatever to his identity. The prayer of David in the last part of v 9 is similar to the prayer he made concerning Ahitophel in 1 Sam 15:31. Whoever he was David addresses his remarks to him directly in vs 13,14. Some think they see here Judas, the betrayer of Jesus. It is true Christ called Judas "friend" in Matt 26:50. But He never trusted him (Ps 41:9; John 6:64,70,71).

55:15 Note on such prayers at 35:8. "Hell" - "Sheol" - note at Gen 37:35.

55:16-18 Salvation from enemies and victory in battle are repeatedly seen in David's life. The reason is found in his prayer life (compare Luke 11:9-13; 18:1-8; Eph 6:18; Jam 5:16). He labored to keep his conscience clear and his heart clean, to be faithful in prayer and to exercise faith when he prayed. This resulted in great confidence toward God (see 6:8-10).

55:19 He believed even in that dark hour that God reigns and is in control of affairs (29:10; 90:2; 93:2; Deut 33:27). "They do not fear God" - notes at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7.

55:20,21 A deceitful, hypocritical friend is worse than an avowed enemy. A person with friendliness on the face and hatred in the heart is hard and painful to deal with (12:2; 28:3; 62:4). But God knows what to do with such hypocrites (v 23).

55:22 Though David felt his troubles were unendurable (vs 6-8), he really knew what to do with them (37:5. Compare Prov 16:3; 1 Pet 5:7). People who do this will not be shaken (15:5; 112:6; 2 Pet 1:10; Jude 24).

55:23 How many victories, how much peace of mind, how much glory to God can be traced to the words in the closing sentence!

56 Title: This was written probably during David's first time in Gath as described in 1 Samuel 21:10-15. It is not said that the Philistines laid hands on him but the language of 1 Sam 21:13 suggests it, and 1 Sam 22:1 says he escaped from there. In any case, it was a time of grave danger both from Saul and his forces, and from Philistines the enemies of Israel. Jonath-elem-rechokim probably indicated the tune to be used in singing this psalm. It means "A Dove on Distant Oaks".

56:1,2 Men were acting like wild beasts toward him, thirsting for his blood (35:25; 57:3; 124:3).

To the chief musician,
al-taskith, a micktam of David,
when he fled from Saul in the cave

- 2 All day my enemies would swallow me up,
for there are many who fight against me,
O Most High.
- 3 When I am afraid, I will trust in you.
- 4 In God I will praise his word,
in God I have put my trust;
I will not fear what flesh can do to me.
- 5 All day they twist my words.
All their thoughts are against me for evil.
- 6 They gather themselves together,
they hide themselves,
they watch my steps
while they lie in wait for my life.
- 7 Shall they escape by wickedness?
In your anger cast down the people, O God!
- 8 You count up my wanderings.
Put my tears in your bottle.
Are they not in your book?
- 9 When I cry out to you,
my enemies will turn back.
I know this, for God is for me.
- 10 In God I will praise his word;
in the LORD I will praise his word.
- 11 In God I have put my trust;
I will not be afraid what man can do to me.
- 12 Vows to you are on me, O God.
I will render praises to you.
- 13 For you have delivered my soul from death.
Will you not deliver my feet from falling,
that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

- 1 Be merciful to me, O God,
be merciful to me, for my soul trusts in you.
Yes, in the shadow of your wings I will make my refuge,
until these calamities have passed.
- 2 I will cry out to God Most High,
to God who performs good things for me.
- 3 He will send from heaven and save me from the taunt of the one who would swallow me up. Selah
God will send forth his mercy and his truth.
- 4 My soul is among lions, and I lie down among those who are set on fire,
the sons of men whose teeth are spears
and arrows,
and whose tongue is a sharp sword.
- 5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens.
May your glory be above all the earth.
- 6 They have prepared a net for my steps.
My soul is bowed down.
They have dug a pit in front of me;
they themselves have fallen into the middle of it. Selah
- 7 My heart is steadfast, O God,

56:3,4 He does not say he was unafraid. The bravest of men may sometimes fear. But David knew what to do when he was afraid, and his faith in God drove his fear away and enabled him to praise even in those dangerous and difficult circumstances. The same language of faith is seen in Heb 13:5. Observe what David praised – the Word of God, pure, faithful, holy, a sure foundation for his faith.

56:5 This is a trick of the wicked. They try to twist the words of the righteous and even the words of God to use for their own purposes (Matt 26:59-62; Gal 1:7; 2 Pet 3:16). 56:7 Note at 35:8.

56:8 The tears of His people are precious to God. He knows their sorrows, He hears their weeping, He sees their tears – Ex 2:23-25; 3:7; Isa 25:8; 38:5; Rev 7:17; 21:4. No mother ever paid as much heed to the tears of her child as God does to the tears of His children.

“Put my tears in your bottle” – in other words, remember them.

“Book” – 69:28; 139:16; Ex 32:32; Mal 3:16; Rev 3:5; 20:12.

56:9-11 See 6:8-10. Faith is the victory (Eph 6:16; 1 John 5:4,5; Rom 8:31).

56:12,13 “Praises – ingratitude is a black and deadly sin (Rom 1:21), and many professing Christians are guilty of it. They seldom think of offering something to God for all His benefits to them. Not so David, the man after God’s own heart.

“Death” – 30:3; 86:13; 116:8; Eph 2:4,5.

“Falling” – John 11:9,10; Jude 24.

57 Title: Al-taskith probably indicated the tune to be used in singing this psalm. It means “Do not Destroy”. Miktam was probably a literary or musical term.

57:1 This was written when David fled to a cave. Two such times are recorded in 1 Samuel (22:1 and 24:1-3). Both were times of seeming great danger, but who can really be in danger when he is in God the almighty refuge? See 7:1,2.

“Wings” – 17:8; 38:7; 63:7; 91:4; Ruth 2:12; Matt 23:37.

57:2,3 “Most High” – Gen 14:19. Prayers to the Creator, the one true God will be heard. He has good purposes toward His children and He will fulfill them (37:5; 138:8; Phil 1:6).

57:4 See 56:1,2. A very vivid picture of the cruelty of his enemies.

57:5 No greater prayer can be offered. Here is concern for far more than personal safety. Even in deep troubles David wanted God to be honored and glorified. Compare 1 Cor 10:31.

57:6 See 7:14-16.

57:7-11 David knew that his deliverance was not by his own strength and wisdom. God’s goodness and love fill his thoughts, bring joy

- my heart is steadfast.
I will sing and give praise.
8 Awake, my glory!
Awake, lyre and harp!
I myself will awake early.
9 I will praise you, O Lord, among the peoples.
I will sing to you among the nations.
10 For your mercy is great,
reaching to the heavens,
and your truth to the clouds.
11 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens.
May your glory be above all the earth.

58

To the chief musician, al-taskith, a micktam of David

- 1 Do you indeed speak righteousness, O rulers?
Do you judge uprightly, you sons of men?
- 2 No, in heart you devise wickedness.
You weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.
- 3 The wicked are estranged from the womb;
they go astray as soon as they are born,
speaking lies.
- 4 Their poison is like the poison of a serpent.
They are like the deaf cobra that has stopped up its ear,
- 5 Which will not listen to the voice of

to his heart, and a song to his lips. Can we be silent who have been delivered by the Lord Jesus in a far greater display of grace and love than David experienced?

"Steadfast" - 51:10.

58 Title: Al-taskith probably indicated the tune to be used in singing this psalm. It means "Do not Destroy". Miktam was probably a literary or musical term.

58:1 The Hebrew word here translated "rulers" is an adjective meaning "silent" or "in silence" (it comes from a Hebrew root meaning "to bind" or "to be dumb"). Perhaps this verse could be well translated "Do you indeed speak righteousness, O silent ones?"

58:2 David's experience with such people was sad indeed. They behaved as if they represented Satan rather than God.

58:3 "From the womb" - everyone comes into the world with a sinful nature (51:5). The first steps a person takes are away from the right path. So from the earliest years a child needs proper instruction and guidance (but how many receive this?). One of the plainest evidences of man's depravity is lying, and it is one of the earliest to appear in every individual. Since men begin telling lies so early in life, it is no wonder they become such experts at it as time goes on.

58:4,5 Can men be like poisonous snakes? In many ways, yes (140:3; Deut 32:33; Matt 3:7; 12:34; 23:33; Rom 3:13). In

- charmers, charming ever so skillfully.
6 Break their teeth in their mouth, O God!
Break out the fangs of the young lions, O LORD!
7 Let them flow away like waters which run continually.
When he bends his bow to shoot his arrows,
let them be as though cut in pieces.
8 May they be like a snail which melts away
as it goes along,
like a woman's stillborn child,
so that they may not see the sun.
9 Before your pots can feel the fire from the thorns, he will sweep them away as with a whirlwind, in living wrath.
10 The righteous will rejoice when he sees this vengeance;
he will wash his feet in the blood of the wicked, 11 So that a man will say,
"There really is a reward for the righteous;
God really is one who judges in the earth."

59

To the chief musician, al-taskith, a miktam of David, when Saul sent men to watch the house to kill him

- 1 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God.
Defend me from those who rise up against me.
- 2 Deliver me from those who do evil,

some ways they can be worse than snakes. Snakes can be charmed and controlled and rendered harmless for a time. But the unruly depravity of the wicked is uncontrollable. It will always break out in some form or other (Prov 27:22; Jer 13:23; Rom 8:7). They are deaf to law, to reason, and to God.

58:6-9 Note at 35:8. God will deal with incorrigible sinners in perfect justice. If a man tries to sink his venomous fangs in others it will be no surprise if God should break his teeth out. And God, David says, will sweep them away while they are in the process of cooking up some scheme or other.

58:10 The righteous will not rejoice in a spirit of personal vengeance and should not take vengeance themselves, but they will rejoice when justice triumphs. They will not rejoice to see the wicked tormented, but they will not make the mistake of siding with God's enemies or accuse Him of injustice in punishing them. Note at Num 31:2,3.

58:11 See 9:8; 67:4; 75:7; 94:2. This is what all men should understand, and any means God uses to help them understand it is good.

59 Title: See 1 Samuel 19:11-18. Al-taskith probably indicated the tune to be used in singing this psalm. It means "Do not Destroy". Miktam was probably a literary or musical term.

59:1-3 See 3:7. In this case the enemies are Saul the king of Israel and those who

- and save me from bloodthirsty men.
- 3 For, see, they lie in wait for my life.
The mighty have gathered against me;
not because of transgression or sin of mine, O LORD.
- 4 They run and make themselves ready,
without fault of mine.
Awake to help me and see!
- 5 Therefore, O LORD God of hosts,
the God of Israel,
awake to punish all the nations.
Do not be merciful to any wicked transgressors. Selah
- 6 They return at evening.
They snarl like a dog,
and go around the city.
- 7 See, they spew out with their mouth.
Swords are in their lips,
for they say, "Who hears?"
- 8 But you, O LORD, will laugh at them.
You will scoff at all the nations.
- 9 Because of his strength I will wait for you; for God is my defense.
- 10 My merciful God will go before me.
God will let me see my desire on my enemies.
- 11 Do not kill them, so that my people will not forget.
Scatter them by your power,
and bring them down, O Lord our shield.

- 12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them be taken in their pride, and for the curses and lies which they speak.
- 13 Consume them in wrath;
consume them, so that they may be no more,
and let them know that God rules in Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah
- 14 And at evening they return, and they snarl like a dog and go around the city.
- 15 They wander up and down for food,
and howl if they are not satisfied.
- 16 But I will sing of your power.
Yes, in the morning I will sing aloud of your mercy,
for you have been my defense and refuge
in the day of my trouble.
- 17 To you, O my strength, I will sing;
for God is my defense, and my merciful God.

60

To the chief musician on shushan-eduth, a miktam of David, to teach;
when he fought against Aram-naharaim and Aram-zobah, when Joab returned and struck down twelve thousand men of Edom in the valley of salt

1 O God, you have cast us off.

came at his orders to murder David.

59:4 David was entirely innocent of any wrong doing in regard to Saul. He was loyal to him as the king. Unfortunately for him he was more successful, more popular, and more righteous than Saul and so became the object of Saul's envy and hatred. Envy is murderous (Prov 27:4; Matt 27:18; Acts 7:9; 17:5; Rom 1:29). David could justly and confidently ask God to arise to help him (7:6; 35:23).

59:5 Note at 35:8. The behavior of those wicked men in Israel made David think of the wicked nations of the world which did not know God. He calls on the LORD (Jehovah), the self-existing One (Ex 3:14), the Lord who controls all the armies in heaven and earth, the only true God, the God in covenant with His people Israel.

59:6,7 Verses 14,15. The wicked are compared to cruel dogs who run in packs seeking something to eat. David does not mean watch dogs or house pets, but the mangy, hungry, noisy dogs that belong to no one and feed on whatever they can find. With their words like swords and their hearts full of contempt for everyone, the wicked are far more dangerous than such dogs. Compare 22:16.

59:8 See 2:4,5; 37:13; Prov 1:26. It is absurd for men to fight against the one true God. Evidently His response at such times is scornful laughter. Who do men think they are? (2:4; Isa 40:15-17,22).

59:9 See 18:1,2,32,39; 19:14; 27:1; 28:7.
59:10 Once more David is sure that God will hear him. Once again faith wins the victory.
59:11-13 A sudden destruction might be forgotten. He wants God to bring them down by degrees, to make them wandering examples of God's righteous judgment on evil men, and then to destroy them. His motive for this was God's glory. See 7:6-9. The knowledge of the true God is the greatest blessing that men can have. David means that anything that brings this knowledge is to be welcomed.

59:16,17 Who but believers in the one true God can sing in the midst of peril, and praise surrounded by trouble? Compare Acts 16:22-25. "In the morning" David had already escaped and sung praises to God (1 Sam 19:11). On "refuge" see 7:1,2.

60 Title: David's campaigns against the armies of Aram (Syria) are recorded in 2 Samuel chapters 8 and 10. The battle against the Edomites is recorded in 1 Chronicles 18:12, where it is said that Abishai, Joab's brother, killed 18,000 Edomites. Joab was the commanding general and killed 12,000 in his own engagement with the enemy. Joab and Abishai sometimes divided a battlefield between them (2 Sam 10:9-11). Shushan-eduth probably indicated the tune to be used in singing this psalm. It means "Lily of the Covenant". Miktam was probably a literary or musical term.

60:1-3 The title suggests victory, but these

You have scattered us.
 You have been displeased.
 Oh, turn to us again.
 2 You have caused the earth to tremble.
 You have broken it.
 Heal its broken places, for it shakes.
 3 You have showed your people hardness.
 You have made us drink the wine of trembling.
 4 You have given a banner to those who fear
 you,
 that it may be displayed because of the truth.

Selah

5 Save with your right hand and hear me,
 that your beloved may be delivered.
 6 God has spoken in his holiness:
 "I will rejoice. I will divide Shechem, and measure out the valley of Succoth.
 7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine,
 and Ephraim is the helmet for my head.
 Judah is my lawgiver.
 8 Moab is my wash pot.
 On Edom I will cast my sandal.
 Philistia, shout in triumph because of me."
 9 Who will bring me into the strong city?

verses speak of defeat. David may be speaking of a defeat in the midst of his victories which is not recorded in the historical books. It is possible that when he and his army were away fighting the Syrians, the Edomites invaded Israel. Or he may be referring, as some think, to conditions which prevailed at the time of Saul his predecessor. From the language David uses we judge the defeat was very severe, the conditions quite desperate. Observe that David traces their trouble to its source – God. On "wine" (v 3) see 75:8; Isa 51:17,22; Jer 25:15; 49:12. It here signifies God's judgment causing confusion, weakness, and distress. 60:4,5 David's tone now becomes more hopeful and remains so throughout the rest of the psalm.

"Banner" – Ex 17:15; Isa 5:26; 11:12; 13:2.

60:6-8 Some scholars would put a full stop at the end of the first sentence in v 6, and attribute the words which follow to David speaking of himself. But it seems more likely that God Himself is speaking down to the end of v 8.

60:7 Gilead and Manasseh were places in the land Israel occupied east of the Jordan river. Ephraim was a tribe with great military strength (Gen 48:19; Deut 33:17).

"Lawgiver" – or the Hebrew word may mean "sceptre" – see Gen 49:10. Judah was appointed by God as the ruling tribe in Israel.

60:8 Moab and Edom were two nations near Israel conquered by David and reduced to servitude. They became like servants to pour water on the hands of God's servants, or clean his shoes. Philistia, on Israel's western border, would also acknowledge its

Who will lead me into Edom?

 And you, O God, who did not go out with 12 Through God we will do valiantly, for it is he who will trample down

 our enemies.

To the chief musician on neginah,
 a Psalm of David

1 Hear my cry, O God.
 Listen to my prayer.
 2 From the end of the earth I will cry out to you, when my heart is overwhelmed.
 Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
 3 For you have been a shelter for me and a strong tower from the enemy.
 4 I will abide in your tabernacle forever.

master in David and in David's God.

60:9,10 Is this a moment of doubt because of a past defeat? Past defeats can be a blow at hope and faith for the future, if we let them.

60:11,12 David overcomes the temptation to discouragement and prays on until confidence returns. He is sure that only God can give him the victory – not his general Joab, not the armies of Israel, not his own courage and skill (118:8; 146:3; Isa 2:22; Jer 17:5; 1 Cor 15:57).

"Trample" – 44:5; Isa 63:3; Luke 10:18,19; Rom 8:37; 16:20. The last 8 verses of this psalm appear almost unchanged in 108:6-13.

61 Title: Neginah indicated stringed instruments.

61:2 The words "ends of the earth" suggest that David was out of the land of Canaan when he wrote this. Some scholars think this was when he fled from there during the time of Absalom's rebellion. In any case, it was a time of severe depression when his heart was overwhelmed with grief. This also suits the time of Absalom's rebellion. David felt that he was sinking in a sea of troubles. There was a Rock of safety, but it was far above him and he was unable to climb on to it. This Rock is God Himself (Deut 32:4). He is the Saviour and security of His people in time of trouble. Standing on this Rock all the troubles, sorrows, and difficulties of earth cannot endanger us. Notice God Himself must place us on this rock (27:5; 40:2). It is all of grace.

61:3 "Tower" – 9:9; 59:9; Prov 18:10.

61:4 "Wings" – 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 63:7; 91:1,4; Matt 22:37.

I will trust in the shelter of your wings.

Selah

- 5 For you, O God, have heard my vows.
You have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.
- 6 You will increase the days of the king's life,
and his years will be for many generations.
- 7 He will abide in God's presence forever.
Oh, prepare mercy and truth, to preserve him.
- 8 So I will sing praise to your name forever, that I may daily perform my vows.

62

To the chief musician, to Jeduthun,
a Psalm of David

- 1 Truly my soul waits for God.
From him comes my salvation.
- 2 He alone is my rock and my salvation.
He is my defense.
I will not be greatly shaken.
- 3 How long will you make attacks against a man?
All of you will be killed.
You will be like a leaning wall,
and like a tottering fence.

61:5 From here on it is as though David was on the high Rock, securely and calmly surveying the future.

"Vows" – 22:25; 50:14; 56:12; 66:13; 116:14,18. The word "heritage" (or "inheritance") has to do with all the promises of blessing God made to Abraham (Gen 12:1,2). These have been secured by the Lord Jesus for believers now (16:5; 37:18; Acts 20:32; Rom 4:16; Eph 1:11; Col 1:12; Heb 1:4; 9:15; 1 Pet 1:4).

61:6,7 David himself could not expect to live on earth for many generations, indeed forever (v 7). These verses may refer to David's assurance of eternal life with God in heaven. But David does not use the word 'I' here, but refers to the king, so it is much more likely that he is speaking of his dynasty, the offspring of David to rule forever in accordance with God's promise (2 Sam 7:12-16). In other words, David speaks of the Lord Jesus Christ who is of the royal line of David and God's appointed king forever (2:6-12; Luke 1:31-33).

61:8 A God so gracious in His ways is surely worthy of our praise (30:4; 33:1,2; 71:22).

62 Title: "Jeduthun" – 1 Chronicles 16:41; 25:1.

62:1 Some trust in men. But what are men? Failing, sinful beings – vs 3,4,9. Some trust in violence or riches which are here today and gone tomorrow. Only God is worthy of our trust. True salvation can come only from Him (3:8; 37:39).

62:2 "Rock" – Deut 32:4.

"Shaken" – 15:5; 16:18; 55:2; 66:9; 121:3.

62:3 Many there are who would try to shake

- 4 They only confer to throw him down from his high position.

They delight in lies.
They bless with their mouth,
but inwardly they curse.

Selah

- 5 My soul, wait for God alone,
for my expectation is from him.
- 6 He alone is my rock and my salvation.
He is my defense; I will not be shaken.
- 7 In God is my salvation and my glory.
The rock of my strength, and my refuge,
is in God.
- 8 Trust in him at all times, you people.
Pour out your heart before him.
God is a refuge for us.
- 9 Surely men of low status are a vapour,
and men of high status are a lie.
If they are weighed in the balances,
they are altogether lighter than vapour.
- 10 Do not trust in oppression, and do not have a vain hope in robbery.
If riches increase, do not set your heart on them.
- 11 God has spoken once;
twice I have heard this:

Selah

and destroy God's people. But though in themselves they are weak, all the attempts of the wicked to defeat them will come to nothing. God is the salvation and defense of His people. What can the wicked do?

62:4 To tell lies is bad enough, to delight in falsehood is a mark of the deepest depravity. Those David describes here were the worst sort of hypocrites (12:2; 28:3; 55:21).

62:8 See 37:3,5; 52:8; Isa 26:4. Better counsel was never given any people. The one true and living God, the Creator of the universe, is worthy of our trust and will never fail the person who depends on Him. We should trust "at all times" – in health and in sickness, in rest and at work, in joy and in sadness, in success and in failure, in prosperity and in poverty, in security and in danger, in times of light and understanding and in times of darkness and perplexity.

God wants us to "pour out" before Him everything in our mind and heart, to be completely frank and open with Him about all our sorrows, difficulties, desires, failures, sins, troubles, and joys and successes (Job 10:2). Far more than human friends He will listen with sympathy, understanding, and compassion, and willingness and ability to help. He is the refuge from Satan, and all troubles, and all evil men, and all weakness, ignorance and sinfulness within us.

62:9 See 39:5; Isa 2:22; 40:17.

62:10 There is a living God to trust. Why foolishly dream of trusting anything else? On riches see 49:6; 52:7; Mark 10:24; Luke 12:15; 1 Tim 6:10.

62:11,12 God has both the ability and the power belongs to God.

 12 Also to you, O Lord, belongs mercy, for you repay every man according to his work.

63

A psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah

- 1 O God, you are my God.
 Early I will seek you.
 My soul thirsts for you, my flesh longs for you in a dry and thirsty land, where there is no water,
- 2 To see your power and your glory,
 just as I have seen you in the sanctuary.
- 3 Because your loving kindness is better than life,
 my lips will praise you.
- 4 So I will praise you while I live.
 I will lift up my hands in your name.
- 5 My soul will be satisfied as with marrow and fatness,

willingness to help His people. There is no lack of power or grace with Him. To whom, then, should we go?

"Repay" – 28:4; Jer 17:10; Matt 16:27;
 Rom 2:6; 1 Cor 3:8; Rev 2:23.

63 Title: This psalm was written when David was king (v 11), and pursued by enemies (v 9). These facts fit in with the rebellion of Absalom described in 2 Samuel chapters 15-17. Escaping through the desert of Judea toward the Jordan river, probably at night (v 6), he wrote this, or we can say it came by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit – the way all the psalms came (and, indeed, the whole Bible). In this psalm we have a leading theme of all of them, perhaps the essence of all.

63:1 Blessed is the person who can truly say "my God" to the true and only God, the all-powerful Creator of the universe. With that one word eventually all problems will have their solution, all holy longings will have their satisfaction. David did not thirst for comforts in the desert, nor for vengeance on his enemies, nor for bodily or fleshly satisfactions of any kind, nor for the gifts of God. He thirsts for God Himself. Nothing else could satisfy him but God's fellowship.
 He knew God but he wanted to know Him better, to experience Him more (compare Phil 3:10. See also Ps 42:2; 84:2; Jer
 29:13; Matt 5:6; 6:33; 7:7).

One of the most important and searching questions that can be asked is, what do you thirst for? what do you seek? At the time perhaps David's life and experience were like the dry and barren desert he was moving through. To a believer often the whole world seems like a desert without a drop of water to quench the thirst of the soul.

- and my mouth will praise you with joyful lips,
- 6 When I remember you on my bed and meditate on you in the night watches,
- 7 Because you have been my help.
 Therefore in the shadow of your wings
 I will rejoice.
- 8 My soul follows you closely.
 Your right hand upholds me.
- 9 But those who seek to destroy my soul will go into the lower parts of the earth.
- 10 They will fall by the sword.
 They will be a portion for foxes.
- 11 But the king will rejoice in God.
 Everyone who swears by him will glory.
 But the mouth of those who speak lies will be stopped.

64

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer.
 Preserve my life from the fear of the enemy.
- 2 Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked,

63:2 He had beheld God's power and glory with the eyes of his understanding. So should we – Eph 1:18,19.

63:3 He is in the desert pursued by enemies but speaks of God's grace. To experience God's grace is far better than all of life with its comforts and honors and riches without His grace.

63:3-5 Blessed are those who can praise and sing and be satisfied in deserts, in dungeons, in the shadows of death. No one can, except those who can truly speak the opening words of this psalm.

63:6 No doubt this psalm is a result of his meditations in the night.

63:7 See 27:9; 40:17.

"Wings" – 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 61:4;
 91:1,4.

63:8 Here is a picture of the mutual love between God and the believer. The believer longs for more of God, follows after Him, clings to Him. God holds the believer in His right hand, the hand of power, as the arm of a loving father holds his child. Not all the malice of men, not all the power of Satan can break God's embrace or tear His children from His arms (John 10:28,29).

63:9-11 Observe the contrast between David and his enemies. He seeks God; they seek his life. So the ends of these two classes of people will be different. How could it be otherwise? How can God give the wicked the reward of the righteous, or give the righteous the punishment due to the wicked?
 Notice in the last phrase of the psalm the danger of lying. God will stop the mouths of liars forever (Rev 21:8).

64:1 This psalm consists of two parts – a prayer for deliverance from enemies

- from the scheming of evildoers, 3 Who sharpen their tongue like a sword, and bend bows to shoot their arrows of bitter words,
 4 That they may secretly shoot at the innocent.
 They suddenly shoot at him and are not afraid.
 5 They encourage themselves in an evil matter.
 They talk about secretly laying snares.
 They say, "Who will see them?"
 6 They devise wicked deeds:
 "We have made a perfect scheme."
 Both the inward thought and the heart of each one of them are deep.
 7 But God will shoot an arrow at them.
 Suddenly they will be wounded.
 8 So they will cause their own tongue to overthrow them.
 All who see them will flee away.
 9 And all men will fear and declare the work of God,
 for they will wisely consider his deeds.
 10 The righteous will be glad in the LORD and will trust in him,
 and all the upright in heart will glory.

65

To the chief musician, a Psalm,
 a song of David

- 1 Praise waits for you, O God,
 in Zion,
 and to you the vow will be fulfilled.
 2 O you who hear prayer, to you all flesh will come.
 3 Sins prevail against me.
As for our transgressions,
 you will purge them away.
 4 Blessed is the man whom you choose and cause to approach you,
so that he may dwell in your courts.
 We will be satisfied with the goodness of your house, of your holy temple.
 5 You will answer us by awe-inspiring things in righteousness,
 O God of our salvation,
who are the confidence of all the ends
 of the earth,

(vs 1-6), and the assurance that God will answer (vs 7-10). This prayer about enemies is similar to prayers in other psalms (e.g. 57, 58, 59). Note at 35:8. Remember all conspiracies against God's people are hatched in the counsels of Satan and his brood.

64:4 They had none of that fear of God which would have restrained them (notes at 34:11-14; 111:10; Job 28:28; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7).

64:6 Jer 17:9; Prov 18:4; 20:5.

64:7,8 Here again we see God's perfect justice. The wicked shoot arrows at God's people. He will shoot arrows at them. And they will see who is the better archer. They will use their tongues like a sword to wound others, but God will use their own tongue against them to bring them wounds.

64:9,10 God's just judgment of the wicked will produce the good results recorded in these verses. See Isa 26:9. It is a big mistake to think that because God is love He will forget justice and refrain from punishing the wicked. The righteous will rejoice, not in the suffering of the wicked, but in God's justice and in Him.

65:1 This psalm is taken up completely with God. It can be divided into three parts: the worship of God (vs 1-4), the mighty acts of God (vs 5-8), and God's goodness in sending a rich harvest (vs 9-13). The Hebrew of the first part of verse 1 is difficult. It could also be translated "to you silence is praise, O God, in Zion." This is because the Hebrew word translated "waits" may also mean "silence."

"Vow" - 22:25; 50:14; 61:8; 76:11; 116:14,18; 132:2.

65:2 Here is a name of the true God, an attribute as sure as His holiness, His justice, or His love. The God of the Bible, the great Creator answers prayer - 66:19,20; 81:7; 86:5; 99:6; 118:5; Gen 35:3; Ex 19:19; Matt 7:7; Rom 10:12; Heb 11:6. He is contrasted in the Bible with gods and idols, none of which can ever answer prayer - 115:3-7; Jer 10:3-5; 1 Kings 18:24-29,36-39.

65:3 Anyone who wants to pray to the true God will have to face the problem of sin. Sin separates between God and man and keeps God from answering prayer. See 66:18; Isa 59:1-4. Our sins must be put away, be forgiven. This God Himself does because of the sacrifice of His Son Jesus (Eph 1:7; 1 John 1:7-10). But the sins God forgives we must forsake.

65:4 Note on blessed at 1:1,2. God chooses us before we ever choose Him - John 15:16; Eph 1:4,11; 2 Thess 2:13; 1 Pet 1:2. Then He brings us near to be His worshippers and live in His presence (John 14:23; Eph 2:13-18; Heb 10:19-22).

65:5 Those who pray should be prepared for the mysterious, awe-inspiring and altogether just working of God in their lives. He will fight against their sin and pride. He will discipline and test them. He will prepare them for answers in ways that sometimes will bring them to the verge of despair (66:10-12). But we should always remember that He is the God of salvation, desires our highest good, and is completely trustworthy.

66

To the chief musician, a song, a Psalm

- and of those who are far off on the sea,
- 6 Who established the mountains by his strength,
being clothed with power,
- 7 Who stills the noise of the seas,
the noise of their waves,
and the tumult of the people.
- 8 Also those who live in the uttermost parts are afraid of your signs.
You cause the dawning of the morning and evening to rejoice.
- 9 You visit the earth, and water it.
You greatly enrich it with the river of God,
which is full of water.
You prepare grain for them, for you have provided it like this.
- 10 You water its ridges abundantly.
You settle its furrows.
You make it soft with showers.
You bless what springs up.
- 11 You crown the year with your goodness, and your paths drip with abundance.
- 12 They drip on the pastures of the wilderness,
and on every side the little hills
rejoice.
- 13 The pastures are clothed with flocks.
The valleys also are covered with grain.
They shout for joy, they also sing.

- 1 Shout joyfully to God, all you lands.
2 Sing out the honour of his name,
make his praise glorious.
3 Say to God, "How awe-inspiring you are in
your works!
Through the greatness of your power
your enemies will submit themselves to you.
4 The whole earth will worship you and sing
to you;
they will sing to your name."
- Selah*
- 5 Come and see the works of God.
He is awe-inspiring in his deeds toward
the children of men.
6 He turned the sea into dry ground.
They went through the river on foot.
There we rejoiced in him.
7 He rules by his power forever.
His eyes see the nations.
Let not the rebellious exalt themselves.
- Selah*
- 8 O praise our God, you people, and make the sound of his praise
to be heard.
9 He keeps our soul among the living, and does not let our feet be moved.

65:6-8 God is able to answer prayer in any way He sees fit, for He is the mighty Creator in control of the wild sea or turbulent peoples (Matt 8:23-27).

65:9-13 A beautiful picture of the Creator sending rain on the earth and giving fruitful fields and abundant harvests. He does this even though few people acknowledge Him or give Him thanks for it. O ungrateful man, who has made the soil and the seed you plant? Who brings the rain? Who brings the crops to harvest? Lift up your eyes to the heavens and thank the gracious Maker of both earth and mankind (Acts 14:15-17; Joel 2:23,24; Ezek 34:26,27; Job 5:10; Deut 11:13-15).

66:1-4 A person who loves God wants all of mankind to honor Him. There is here a prophetic meaning, for the prophets spoke of a time when all the earth would know God and praise Him (Isa 2:2-4; 11:9).

66:3 See 18:44; 81:15. Enemies will be afraid to show any spirit of rebellion and so will pretend to be obedient.

66:5 See 65:5; 106:22.

66:6 Ex 14:21; Josh 3:16 – two examples among many of God's awesome deeds.

66:7 God ruled in the days of Moses and Joshua. He rules now (47:2). He will rule forever. He knows what is going on and how to control events to work out His purposes (Gen 50:20). All sin is rebellion against the mighty ruler of the universe. Is not sin, then, madness rather than a cause of boasting or self-exaltation? Do the rebellious vainly imagine that the Creator cannot bring them down?

66:8 Why does he call on all people to praise the God of Israel? Because He is the Creator, the only God there is, and He has a high purpose for all nations and eventually will manifest Himself as the God of all nations.

66:9 If we live it is because of Him. If we do not fall, if we still stand, still maintain our position, it is His grace. Praise Him.

66:10-12 God will test, try, and discipline every child of His. He will test and prove all that we are, all that we think, believe, and do. This world is a testing ground for His believers. It is a furnace where God's silver is tried and purged, that is, where their faith and character are refined and developed. It is a wilderness where they are captured, loaded with heavy burdens, and where men arrogantly ride over them, trampling them in the dirt – all to some good purpose of God. It is a place where God's metal is tempered, first plunged into fire and then into water. This is the way the saints are

- 10 For you, O God, have tested us.
You have refined us, as silver is refined.
- 11 You brought us into the net,
you laid affliction on our backs.
- 12 You caused men to ride over our heads.
We went through fire and through water;
but you brought us out into overflowing
abundance.
- 13 I will go into your house with burnt offerings.
I will fulfil my vows to you,
- 14 Which my lips have uttered and my mouth has spoken, when I was in trouble.
- 15 I will offer to you burnt sacrifices of fat animals, with the fragrant aroma of rams.
I will offer bulls with goats.
- Selah
- 16 Come and hear, all you who fear God, and I will declare what he has done for my soul.
- 17 I cried out to him with my mouth,
and he was extolled with my tongue.

- 18 If I regard sin in my heart,
the Lord will not hear me.
- 19 But God has certainly heard me.
He has listened to the voice of my prayer.
- 20 Blessed be God who has not turned away my prayer, or his mercy from me.

67

To the chief musician, on neginoth,
a Psalm, a song

- 1 God be merciful to us, and bless us,
and cause his face to shine on us,
- Selah*
- 2 That your way may be known on earth,
your salvation among all nations.
- 3 May the people praise you, O God;
may all the people praise you.
- 4 Oh, may the nations be glad and sing for joy,
for you will judge the people righteously, made strong.

Thus it happened in David's personal life. Thus it will happen to some extent in the lives of all God's true people - John 16:33; Heb 12:7-11; 1 Pet 1:6,7; 4:1,12. Observe in these verses that though the agents may have been men, the one behind their activities was God. See Gen 45:5; 50:20; Acts 2:23. See other notes on testing at Gen 22:1; Jud 2:22.

66:10 Great care and skill are required in refining silver. The fire must be just right, neither too much nor too little. God will exercise great care and patience in the trying of His children. Parents who do not love their children let them grow up without discipline except perhaps for an occasional thoughtless slap. God loves His own, and so He disciplines them carefully. If we refuse trials we are saying we don't wish to be refined and made pure.

66:11 "Into the net" - like a bird caught in the net of a hunter. Notice it is God Himself who causes this to happen.

66:12 See the result of these trials. When God had accomplished His purpose in them He said "enough", and brought His people into great blessing. Even while we are on this earth trials do not go on continually. God knows just how long to keep us in the heat (1 Pet 1:7; 5:10; Jam 1:3,4; Heb 12:11; 2 Cor 4:17; Rom 8:17,18; Ps 18:16-19; 71:20; 103:13,14).

66:13-15 Trials successfully endured are a cause of great thanksgiving. We should see the loving hand of God in them working for our good and bring the gifts we think will please Him. Let us give Him our hearts and our bodies a living sacrifice (Rom 12:1,2). These are the offerings He desires.

66:16-20 He has spoken to God, now he will speak to men also. It is right and fitting to declare to others what God has done for us (71:15,16; 107:2; Matt 10:32). The substance of his testimony is this: God has been gracious and loving and has heard his prayers. Note at 65:2,3.

66:18 The meaning here seems to be this: if in any way he saw evil in his heart and permitted it to remain, if there was sin consciously kept there, unconfessed and unforsaken, or if any evil motives or desires were in his prayers, then God would not hear (Prov 15:29; Isa 1:15; 59:2; John 9:31; 1 John 3:21,22). Nothing hinders prayer more than sin cherished in the heart. God does not encourage evil or hypocrisy.

67 Title: Many of the psalms were given to the director of music for him to compose melodies for. They were to be sung by the worshipers in the temple. If some poets and musicians in the various languages of India (and other countries) in these days would set many of the psalms to good music to be sung in churches they would be doing great service for God and for His people. Neginoth means stringed instruments.

67:1 Praying for God's blessing is praying according to God's desire, for He loves to bless us when He can justly do so. This is why He has given us the Bible, why He sent His Son, why His Spirit is at work in the world. The prayer here is based on the blessing God taught Israel in Num 6:22-27.

67:2 God's blessings are for the whole world. See Gen 12:1,2. He blessed Israel that this verse, which speaks of very great blessings indeed, might be fulfilled.

67:3-5 The time will come when his prayer will be fully answered, this desire completely and govern the nations on earth.

Selah

- 5 May the people praise you, O God;
may all the people praise you.
- 6 Then the earth will yield her increase,
and God, our own God, will bless us.
- 7 God will bless us; and all the ends of the earth will fear him.

To the chief musician, a Psalm,
a song of David

- 1 May God arise, may his enemies be scattered, and may those who hate him flee from his presence.
- 2 As smoke is driven away, drive them away.
As wax melts before the fire, so may the wicked perish at the presence of God.
- 3 But may the righteous be glad;
may they rejoice before God, yes,
may they rejoice exceedingly.
- 4 Sing to God, sing praises to his name.
Extol him who rides on the heavens by his name YAH, and rejoice before him.

realized (Isa 2:2-5; etc).

67:6 If God is acknowledged and gratitude is shown for His blessings, more blessings will be the result. God is not hungry for praise (see note at 33:1), but He will not encourage the sin of ingratitude.

68:1 The subject of this great psalm is the entry of God into His sanctuary in Jerusalem. The author speaks of Him coming through the desert (v 7), stopping at Mount Sinai (v 8), leading His people victoriously into Canaan (vs 12,14), choosing Mount Zion as His dwelling place (v 16), ascending there (v 18), and ruling in power and majesty (vs 18,21,31-35). In the New Testament the Holy Spirit applies v 18 to the ascension of the Lord Jesus to the heavenly Jerusalem (Eph 4:8). This indicates that there is a prophetic quality in this psalm. There is far more here than events in the history of Israel.

Many scholars believe that it was written to be sung at the occasion of the taking of the ark of God from the house of Obed-Edom to Mount Zion (2 Sam 6:1-19). The first verse supports this. It is based on the blessing of the high priest in the wilderness journeys when the ark set out (Num 10:35). The ark was the sign of God's presence. Where God went His enemies scattered, His haters fled. But are there indeed haters of the one true God? There are many (John 7:7; 15:18,24,25; Rom 1:30; 8:7).

68:1-4 The wicked are enemies of truth, of righteousness, of holiness, and of all that is truly good. They hate God Himself. When

- 5 A father for the fatherless and a defender of widows, is God in his holy habitation.
- 6 God places the solitary in families.
He brings out those who are bound with chains;
but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.

- 7 O God, when you went out before your people, when you marched through the wilderness, Selah
- 8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God;
even Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
- 9 You, O God, sent abundant rain which you provided for your inheritance when it was weary.
- 10 Your congregation has lived in it.
You, O God, have provided from your goodness for the poor.
- 11 The Lord gave the word; great was the company of those who proclaimed it.
- 12 Kings of armies hurriedly fled, and she who stayed at home divided the plunder.
- 13 Though you lie down among the pots,

they perish it is because they fully deserve it. It is a display of God's magnificent justice in ridding the earth of harmful beings. And shall He not cause the righteous to rejoice with Him?

"YAH" – a shortened form of Jehovah (Yahweh).

68:5,6 God is the King of the universe, the one who destroys wicked enemies and reigns in majesty. Is this all God is? No – He is the tender, compassionate One who loves and helps the fatherless, the widow, the lonely. No earthly monarch ever showed such love and concern for his subjects as God does (Ex 22:2,24; Deut 10:18; 14:29; 24:17-21; Ps 10:14,18; 82:3; 86:15; Isa 1:17; Jer 7:6; Matt 9:36). He deals gently with prisoners and gives them joy – 69:33; 102:19,20; 107:10,14; 146:7; Isa 61:1; Luke 4:18. Only the rebellious fail to receive God's blessing, and He wants them also to turn to Him and enjoy His goodness (Prov 1:23; Isa 55:7; Jer 3:14; Ezek 18:32).

68:7 Ex 13:18,21.

68:8 Ex 19:18.

68:9 Lev 26:4; Deut 11:11,12.

68:10 Note on "poor" at 41:1.

68:11,12 This takes us back to the opening verses of the psalm. "The Lord gave the word" here means that by His almighty command He secured victory for His people over their enemies in Canaan. The women in v 12 benefitted from that.

68:13 This verse, very difficult in Hebrew, seems to suggest peace and prosperity

- yet you will be like* the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.
- 14 When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was like snow on Zalmon.
- 15 The mountain of God is like the mountain of Bashan, a high mountain like the mountain of Bashan.
- 16 Why do you watch with envy, you high peaks?
This is the mountain where God desires to dwell.
Yes, the LORD will dwell in it forever.
- 17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, and thousands of thousands.
The Lord is among them, as on Sinai, in the Holy Place.
- 18 You have ascended on high, you have led captivity captive, you have received gifts among men, yes, among the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.
- 19 Blessed be the Lord, who daily loads us with good things, the God of our salvation. Selah
- 20 He who is our God is the God of salvation, and to God the Lord belong escapes

- from death.
- 21 But God will wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy scalp of the one who still goes on in his trespasses.
- 22 The Lord said,
"I will bring back from Bashan, I will bring my people back from the depths of the sea,
- 23 That your foot may be dipped in the blood of your enemies, and the tongue of your dogs have their share.
- 24 They have seen your procession, O God, the procession of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.
- 25 The singers went in front, the musicians followed.
Among them were the maidens playing on tambourines.
- 26 Praise God in the congregations; the Lord, from the fountain of Israel.
- 27 There is little Benjamin with their leader, the princes of Judah and their company, the princes of Zebulun and the princes of Naphtali.
- 28 Your God has commanded strength for you. Strengthen, O God, what you have done after battle.

68:14 Zalmon is a hill near Shechem in a central part of Canaan. The scattering of the kings was like snow being driven before the wind on the dark slopes of that hill.

"Almighty" - in Hebrew "Shaddai" (Gen 17:1).

68:15,16 The mountain range of Bashan rose high and imposing to the northeast of Canaan. The peaks there are much grander than the hills around Jerusalem. But God chose Mount Zion for His dwelling, not one of earth's high and lofty mountains (2:8; 9:11; 76:2; 87:1-3; 132:13,14). This was one of the peaks in the region of Moriah where God confirmed His covenant with Abraham to bring blessing to the whole world. Mount Zion on earth is only a pale picture of the heavenly Mount Zion or Jerusalem (Gal 4:26; Heb 12:22; Rev 3:12; 21:10).

68:17 Deut 33:2; 2 Kings 6:17; Dan 7:10; Hab 3:8; Matt 26:53. The KJV has added the word "angels" here, but this is not in the Hebrew.

68:18 This has two meanings. First, it refers to God ascending to Mount Zion with the ark of the covenant to dwell in the midst of His people Israel, having conquered all enemies. But according to Eph 4:8-11 this verse refers to the Lord Jesus who conquered sin, death, Satan and all his hordes, and ascended into the heavenly mount Zion. The ark is a symbol of the Lord Jesus. See note at Ex 25:10-16. There is a difference between this verse and Eph 4:8. Here it says the Lord "received gifts", there it says He "gave gifts." The Lord God needs nothing from men. He takes from them only what He has first given, and only that He might give them the more. In either taking or giving He is the eternal King, ruling in majesty and might (47:2).

"Among men" - this could also be translated "for men" or "from men." In general Hebrew prepositions have more than one meaning.

68:19 "Loads us" - the Hebrew word may also mean "carries us." This great King of heaven does not lay burdens on His subjects as earthly kings do. He takes their burdens and bears them Himself (55:22; Isa 46:4; 53:4; Matt 11:28; 1 Pet 5:7). If He "loads" His people with anything, it is only the best of things. Observe that the words "with good things" have been added.

68:20 One meaning of this is He keeps His people alive on earth until their course is finished. A deeper meaning is He delivers from spiritual death and gives eternal life with Him forever (John 5:24; 11:25; Rom 6:23; 8:2; 1 Cor 15:21,26,54; 2 Tim 1:10; Heb 2:14; 1 John 3:14; Rev 20:14; 21:4).

68:21-23 Terrible words but none the less true for that.

68:24-27 He resumes the description of the triumphal procession of the ark into the sanctuary in Jerusalem.

68:28-31 God will show Himself strong for His people, for His city and His sanctuary, for us.

- 29 Because of your temple at Jerusalem kings will bring presents to you.
- 30 Rebuke the beast of the reeds, the herd of the bulls with the calves of the people, until everyone submits himself with pieces
of silver.
- Scatter the people who delight in war.
- 31 Princes will come from Egypt.
Ethiopia will soon stretch out her hands to God.
- 32 Sing to God, you kingdoms of the earth.
Oh, sing praises to the Lord, Selah
- 33 To him who rides on the heavens of heavens, which are of old.
See, he sends out his voice, a mighty voice.
- 34 Ascribe strength to God.
His majesty is over Israel,
and his strength is in the clouds.
- 35 O God, you are awe-inspiring from your holy places.
The God of Israel is the one who gives strength and power to his people.
Blessed be God.

To the chief musician, on Shoshannim.
A Psalm of David

- 1 Save me, O God,
for the waters have come into my soul.
- 2 I sink in deep mire,
where there is no standing.
I have come into deep waters,
where the floods overflow me.
- 3 I am weary of my crying.
My throat is dried up;
my eyes fail while I wait for my God.
- 4 Those who hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head.
Those who would destroy me,
my enemies wrongfully, are mighty.
I had to restore what I did not steal.
- 5 O God, you know my foolishness, and my sins are not hidden from you.
- 6 Do not let those who wait for you,
O Lord God of hosts,
be ashamed for my sake.

and will subdue the nations some of which are here referred to as beasts (compare Isa 43:3; 45:14; 60:5; Dan 7:3-7; Rev 21:24-26).

"Beast of the reeds" – this is probably the best translation of the obscure Hebrew phrase. "Company of spearmen" is a very unlikely meaning. Some commentators think the phrase signifies Egypt.

68:32-35 The psalm closes with a fitting exhortation to all nations to praise this mighty, splendid God. These verses are prophetic. The time will come when all nations will worship the one true God.

69 Title: Shoshannim probably indicated the tune to be used when singing this psalm. It means "Lilies."

69:1 This wonderful psalm is often quoted in the New Testament. The Lord Jesus applied v 4 to Himself in John 15:25. Verse 9 is applied to Him in John 2:17 and Rom 15:3, and v 21 in Matt 27:34. David wrote of both himself and the Lord Jesus, of his own sufferings and those of Jesus too. How can we sort these sayings out? How can we tell which refer to David and which to the Lord Jesus, and which to both of them? (These same questions can be asked of some other psalms as well.) These questions are not always easy to answer, but perhaps a good rule is, see the Lord Jesus where you can, see David where you must, see both Jesus and David where possible.

We cannot see Jesus in v 5, for He was never foolish, never sinned, and so had no personal guilt. But it is easy to see David there. And the prayers against the wicked in verses 22-28 do not sound like the one who prayed for His enemies in Luke 23:34

(though actually He prayed there for those who did not know what they were doing, not for those who did know). Other expressions in this can hardly fit David's experience. The Holy Spirit of God inspired him to write words that were beyond his experience and were prophecies of the Messiah.

Verses 1-3 speak of extreme peril and helplessness. Certainly David had experienced such times (40:2; 18:16,17; 6:6). But could these words possibly fit the experience of the Lord Jesus? Was He not God incarnate? Could He ever be described as in such danger He could not help Himself? Understand that He laid aside His divine glory, power, and privileges and became a man obedient to death (Phil 2:5-8). He Himself said He could do nothing by Himself (John 5:19,30), and that included saving Himself from death. He could not because He knew it was God the Father's will for Him and He would not oppose God's will in anything. Thus we have the mention of His tears and agonizing prayers (Luke 22:41-44; Heb 5:7). So these verses beautifully fit His experience as He faced the cross. Remember that He voluntarily put Himself in this position, and that He did it all for us.

69:4 David was hated by king Saul and many others. The Lord Jesus was hated by nearly all the Jewish leaders of His day and by the world as a whole (John 15:18,24,25).

69:5 This was true of David (32:5; 51:1-4), but not true of Jesus (John 8:46; Heb 4:15; 7:26; 1 Pet 2:21,22).

69:6 This is a strong ground in prayer. If God did not bring him through these difficulties triumphantly then his friends and

- Do not let those who seek you be disgraced for my sake, O God of Israel.
- 7 Because for your sake I have borne scorn;
shame has covered my face.
- 8 I have become a stranger to my brethren, and an alien to my mother's children.
- 9 For the zeal of your house has eaten me up,
and the scorn of those who scorned you have fallen on me.
- 10 When I wept, and humbled my soul with fasting, I was scorned for that.
- 11 Also I made sackcloth my clothing,
and I became a byword to them.
- 12 Those who sit in the gate speak against me,
and I am the song of the drunkards.
- 13 But as for me, my prayer is to you,
O LORD, in the acceptable time.
O God, in the greatness of your mercy,
hear me, in the truth of your salvation.
- 14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink.
Let me be delivered from those who hate me, and out of the deep waters.
- 15 Do not let the flood water overflow me,
nor the deep swallow me up,
and do not let the pit shut its mouth on me.
- 16 Hear me, O LORD,
for your loving kindness is good.
Turn to me in accordance with the abundance of your tender mercies.
- 17 And do not hide your face from your servant,
for I am in trouble. Hear me quickly.
- 18 Draw near to my soul, and redeem it.
Rescue me because of my enemies.
- 19 You have known my reproach,
and my shame, and my dishonour.
My adversaries are all before you.
- 20 Scorn has broken my heart,
and I am full of heaviness.
And I looked for someone to take pity,
but there was no one,
and for comforters, but I found none.
- 21 They also gave me gall for my food,
and in my thirst they gave me
vinegar to drink.
- 22 Let their table before them become a snare, and let what should have been for their welfare become a trap.
- 23 Let their eyes be darkened,
so that they can not see,
and make their loins shake continually.

followers would be put to shame. We can be sure that this will never happen to the followers of Jesus (Rom 9:33; 10:11).

"LORD God of hosts" - note at 1 Sam 1:3.

69:7,8 True of David, far more true of the Lord Jesus (Matt 9:24; 27:29,41; Mark 3:21,30; 6:6; Luke 23:26; John 8:48; 7:5; 1:11).

69:9 John 2:17. This is one reason Jesus was scorned and dishonored and treated as a stranger by His own people. Some worldlings are extremely zealous for making money, for gaining power, for their own honor, or for other things of this world, but they cannot stand anyone who is zealous for the one true God. They call it fanaticism. They cannot understand anyone caring that much about God's house, God's work, God's honor. They are blind and ignorant about the importance of these things. The Lord Jesus had so much zeal for God He was consumed by it. Jesus also became the object of insults the ungodly aimed at God.

69:10,11 Isa 53:3. Nothing the Lord Jesus did could please the ungodly. Even His mourning and weeping for them was a reason to them to insult Him.

"Sackcloth" - a sign of grief.

69:12 "In the gate" - Gen 19:1; Ruth 4:1. Drunkards often make a mock of religion and think it fun to sneer at the holy Son of God! God's zealous children also will be held up to ridicule by the ungodly.

69:13-18 Compare 22:19-21. A prayer most suitable to David, to the Lord Jesus, and to many others since in great danger and distress, a prayer God the Father delighted to answer.

69:15 This was a prayer that death would not be able to hold Him. Gloriously fulfilled in Christ's resurrection (Acts 2:24).

69:19 See 22:6,12,13,16. Judas, Caiaphas, Pilate, priests, the mob of ungodly people, the soldiers of Rome - all became His enemies.

69:20 The Lord Jesus died with a broken heart, deserted, scorned, insulted. Some were shocked but who had compassion? Who shed with Him a friendly tear?

69:21 Matt 27:34,48. The most unpalatable of food and drink was given to the sufferer. This verse in this psalm was the last prophecy in the Old Testament fulfilled before Jesus died (John 19:28-30). The Lord Jesus came with a feast of good things for mankind. They gave Him their worst in return.

69:22-28 Note at 35:8. Though these verses seem at variance with Luke 23:34 (but we should understand whom Jesus referred to in Luke 23:34), the Holy Spirit inspired David, a man under the law, to write them to show the just vengeance of God that was to overtake the people who caused the death of the Son of God. Though there is reason to think that the Lord Jesus did not offer these prayers in His life and death, He knew, of course, they were in this psalm and would be answered. He taught this by parable (Matt 21:38-41; 22:6,7), and by plain words (Matt 23:33-36).

Paul applied vs 22,23 to the unbelieving Jews of his day (Rom 11:9,10). Peter applied v 25 to Judas Iscariot the betrayer of Jesus (Acts 1:20). And Jesus applied it to the Jews in general (Matt 23:38). In

- 24 Pour out your indignation on them, and let your burning anger take hold of them.
- 25 Let their habitation be desolate,
and let no one live in their tents.
- 26 For they persecute the one whom you have struck,
and talk of the grief of those whom you have wounded.
- 27 Ascribe wickedness to their wickedness, and let them not come into your
righteousness.
- 28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living,
and not be written with the righteous.
- 29 But I am poor and sorrowful.
Let your salvation, O God, set me up on high.
- 30 I will praise the name of God with a song,
and will exalt him with thanksgiving.
- 31 And this will please the LORD better than offering an ox or bull that has horns and hoofs.
- 32 The humble will see this, and be glad;
and you who seek God, your heart will live.
- 33 For the LORD hears the poor, and does not despise his prisoners.
- 34 May the heaven and earth praise him,
the seas, and everything that moves in them.

these verses we see a cry for perfect justice to prevail. And prevail it did, and will (see 18:25,26; 2 Thess 1:6). They fed Jesus gall and vinegar – their tables will become a snare. They tried to put out the light of God – their eyes will be darkened. They tried to shake the Lord Jesus and laid many stripes on His back – their loins will shake. They poured anger on the Son of God – God’s anger will be poured on them.

69:26 See Isa 53:4-6,10.

69:27,28 The people referred to here never were partakers of God’s righteousness as Abraham their father was (Gen 15:6). They had never come into the register of the righteous. That is, they had never trusted God, never been saved. The first part of verse 28 does not mean that the saved, those who are counted righteous, can fall away and be lost. This would be contrary to the teachings of the Bible in many other places (John 5:24; 6:37-40; 10:28; Rom 5:9,10; 1 Pet 1:4,5).

“Book of the living” – not “the book of life” (Rev 3:5; 20:12,15).

69:29 See 22:11-21.

69:30,31 Worthy indeed is the God of such wonders. Jesus praises Him. Shall we not? What better “offering” than praise?

“Thanksgiving” – 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

69:32 It is the poor, especially the “poor in spirit” (Matt 5:3), and not the proud, who will be able to enter into this with a true

- 35 For God will save Zion and will build the cities of Judah,
that they may live there and possess it.
- 36 And the offspring of his servants will inherit it,
and those who love his name will live in it.

To the chief musician. A Psalm of David,
to bring to remembrance

- 1 Come quickly, O God, to rescue me;
come quickly to help me, O LORD.
- 2 Let those who seek my life be ashamed and disgraced.
Let those who desire my harm be turned back and put to confusion.
- 3 Let those who say “Aha, aha!” be turned back because of their shame.
- 4 Let all those who seek you rejoice and
be glad in you,
and let those who love your salvation
say continually,
“May God be exalted.”
- 5 But I am poor and needy.
Come quickly to me, O God;
you are my help and my deliverer.
O LORD, do not delay.

heart. And all things will come to those who humbly seek God. The heart is kept alive in the process.

“Your heart will live” – a very great promise.

69:33 God hears the humble, godly poor, not the wicked poor simply because they are poor.

“Prisoners” – 68:6

69:34 See 96:11; 98:7; 148:1-13; 150:6. God has done glorious things in the Lord Jesus, things that will be the subject of praise everywhere, throughout all time, and in eternity.

69:35,36 See 147:2; 51:18; 46:5; 25:13.

70 Title: This psalm is almost identical to Ps 40:13-17. It was probably taken out of that psalm, a few changes made, and used for some special occasion about which we know nothing.

70:1 Sometimes in great danger and distress God’s help is speedily required. At such times a prayer like this is not forbidden.

70:2,3 God can turn back those who pursue His people to injure them – sometimes He does, but not always.

70:4 See 69:32. See the contrast in the words of David’s enemies – “aha, aha”, and the words of those who love God’s salvation – “May God be exalted.” Here are two streams of humanity. The one type opposes, the other praises.

71 Title: We do not know for certain when and by whom this psalm was written. It seems likely that David was the author. The

- 1 In you, O LORD, I put my trust.
Let me never be put to confusion.
- 2 Rescue me in your righteousness,
and enable me to escape.
Bend down your ear to me, and save me.
- 3 Be my strong dwelling place,
to which I can continually resort.
You have given the command to save me,
for you are my rock and my fortress.
- 4 Rescue me, O my God,
from the hands of the wicked,
from the hands of the unrighteous and cruel man.

You are my trust from my youth.

You are the one who took me from my

My praise will continually be of you.
- 7 I have become like a sign to many;
but you are my strong refuge.

do not forsake me when my strength fails.

come quickly for my help.
- 13 Let those who are the enemies of my soul
be put to shame and consumed.
Let those who seek my harm be covered with scorn and dishonour.
- 14 But I will hope continually and will praise you still more and more.
- 15 My mouth shall declare your righteousness and your salvation all day,
though I do not know its measure.
- 16 I will go in the strength of the Lord God.
I will mention your righteousness,
yours alone.
- 17 O God, you have taught me from my youth;
and to this day I have declared your wonderful works.
- 18 Even when I am old and gray-headed,
O God, do not forsake me, until I have declared your strength to this generation, and your power to everyone who is to come.

writer was facing old age (vs 9,18). Looking back over a lifetime of trials and difficulties (v 20) he praises God for His faithfulness, power, and especially for His righteousness. God's righteousness is referred to five times – verses 2, 15, 16, 19, 24. So we may consider it one of the main themes of the psalm. God is always just and acts justly toward all.

71:1-3 These verses are very similar to the opening verses of psalm 31 penned by David. The writer has trusted Jehovah, the God of the Bible, the Creator of the universe. All his victories and blessings, all his hope flows from this fact. God's power and righteousness are at work on behalf of those who trust Him. It is a just and righteous thing for God to keep His promises to His children, and therefore He will certainly do so.

71:3 Note on "Rock" at Deut 32:4. Notice the words, "to which I can always go." The door of prayer, of God's grace, of God's protection stands always open to the believer. Never an hour, day or night, when he is not welcome to enter (compare Rom 5:2; Eph 2:18; Heb 10:19-22).

71:4 See 17:13; 22:20; 35:17; 59:2; 140:1,4. Why are there so many prayers in the psalms for protection against wicked men? Because wicked men would not refrain from trying to harm godly and zealous believers.

71:5 See 39:7; 146:5; Jer 17:7,13,17;

Rom 15:13; Col 1:27; 1 Tim 1:1.

71:6 See 22:10; Isa 46:3; Jer 1:4,5; Luke 1:15.

71:7 Many knew of his trials and dangers, and how God brought him wonderfully through them all.

71:8 Now in old age he has one theme only – God.

71:9 Verse 18. There is no danger of God forsaking believers when they are old, and we should never fear that He might (92:14; Isa 46:4; Heb 13:5).

71:10,11 See 3:2; 17:2; 31:13; 56:6; 83:3.

71:12 See 10:1; 22:11; 35:22; 38:21; 40:13; 70:1,5.

71:13 Note at 35:8.

71:14 Notice the word "continually" – v 3 speaks of continual access, v 6 of continual praise, v 14 of continual hope. Notice the words "all day long" in vs 8, 15, 24. Continual access to God's presence gives continual hope which leads to continual praise. Compare Rom 5:1-5.

71:15,16 Countless mercies call for continual praise. Observe whose righteousness he praises; not his own as hypocrites and Pharisees do (Matt 6:1,2,5; Luke 18:9-12). Let us not be like those who praise themselves and boast in their own righteousness, not God's.

71:17,18 The person who has God for his teacher has a great teacher indeed! And

- 19 Your righteousness also, O God, is very lofty,
 you who have done great things.
 O God, who is like you!
- 20 You, who have showed me great and severe troubles,
 will cause me to live again,
 and will bring me up again from the depths of the earth.
- 21 You will increase my greatness,
 and comfort me on every side.
- 22 And with the lyre I will praise you,
and your truth, O my God.
 To you I will sing with the harp,
 O Holy One of Israel.
- 23 When I sing to you my lips will greatly rejoice, and my soul,
 which you have redeemed.
- 24 My tongue also will speak of your righteousness all day long;
 for those who seek my harm are disappointed,
 they are brought to shame.

A Psalm for Solomon

- 1 Give the king your judgments, O God,
 and your righteousness to the king's son.
- 2 He will judge your people with
 righteousness,
 and your poor with justice.
- 3 The mountains will bring peace to the people, and the little hills, through righteousness.
- 4 He will judge the poor of the people.
 He will save the children of the needy,
 and will break the oppressor in pieces.
- 5 They will fear you as long as the sun and moon endure,
 throughout all generations.
- 6 He will come down like rain on the mown grass,
 like showers that water the earth.
- 7 In his days the righteous will flourish, and abundance of peace as long as the

the younger he begins to learn from God the better. But will God be willing to become our teacher? Yes, He will (25:4,5; 119:102; Isa 54:13; John 6:45; 14:26; Eph 4:21). If God Himself is the teacher why should men try to teach other men? One of the ways God teaches us is through men whom He has taught – Eph 4:11-13; 1 Tim 4:13; 2 Tim 4:2. So the writer of this psalm is resolved to declare to others what He has learned of God.

71:19 35:10; Deut 3:24; Isa 40:18-26; Rom 11:33-36; Rev 15:3,4.

71:20,21 Nothing comes to a child of God that God has not sent, or in His wisdom permitted to come. This is a ground of great assurance and hope. God's purpose is not to afflict believers or cause them to experience great difficulties, but to teach us, give us new life and raise us at last to new heights and give us new comfort. Compare Gen 50:20; Rom 8:28.

71:22-24 Meditating on the greatness and goodness of God brought strong determination to the writer – he will sing to God, praise Him, and speak of His righteousness all day long.

72 Title: This could also be translated "of (or by) Solomon." Verse 20 indicates that perhaps it was a prayer of David. It may be that David in his old age, having appointed Solomon as his successor, prayed for him some of the things we have in this psalm, and that Solomon put them in the poetic form we have here. So it could contain David's prayer and be Solomon's psalm. In any case, this psalm, however much Solomon may be in it, is about one greater than Solomon. This, like psalms 2, 21, and 45, is a prophetic psalm concerning God's anointed King, the Lord Jesus Christ. His reign will be righteous and peaceful (vs 1-7), worldwide (vs 8-11), compassionate (vs 12-14), perpetual and prosperous (vs 15-17).

72:1 As for Solomon, he was a king and the son of king David. As regards Christ, He is God's anointed King and the Son of heaven's eternal King. Solomon's reign in some measure is a type or picture of Christ's. The writer describes an ideal ruler and an ideal reign. The first essential for this is to know God's just decisions, to have a God-given sense of justice. Compare Solomon's prayer for himself in 1 Kings 3:5-9.

72:2 Isa 9:7; 11:2-5; 32:1.

72:3 Isa 2:4; 9:5,6; Micah 4:3,4; Zech 9:10. Peace is a result of righteousness (Isa 32:17). One trouble with the world is that nations and individuals hope and seek for peace without righteousness. Observe the prominence given to righteousness in these opening verses. The great King's compassionate heart is more fully described in vs 12-14.

72:5 This was not true of Solomon, but is eternally true of the Lord Jesus.

72:6 Blessings as refreshing showers will accompany Christ's reign. But this verse speaks of more than blessings coming down. It speaks of the King Himself coming down. And come down He shall (1 Thess 4:16; Rev 19:11-16).

72:7 A great promise to those who are righteous! Now in this world to be righteous is often to be an object of scorn, opposition, and persecution (John 15:18-21; Heb 11:36-38). When King Jesus takes up His reign on earth there will be vast changes made. Even so, come Lord Jesus.

- moon endures.
- 8 And he will rule from sea to sea,
and from the River to the ends of the earth.
- 9 Those who dwell in the wilderness will
bow before him,
and his enemies will lick the dust.
- 10 The kings of Tarshish and of the islands will bring presents.
The kings of Sheba and Seba will offer gifts.
- 11 Yes, all kings will fall down before him,
all nations will serve him.
- 12 For he will rescue the needy when he cries out,
also the poor and the one who has no helper.
- 13 He will spare the poor and needy and save the souls of the needy.
- 14 He will redeem their soul from deceit and violence, and their blood will be precious in his sight.
- 15 And he will live on, and to him the gold of Sheba will be given;
also prayer will be made for him continually,
and daily he will be praised.
- 16 There will be an abundance of grain in the earth on the top of the mountains;
its fruit will wave like the cedars of Lebanon;

72:8-11 Solomon never reigned over all nations. The One who is far greater than Solomon will (2:8,9; Isa 2:2-4; Zech 9:9,10; 14:9; Rev 19:15).

"River" (v 8) – the Euphrates.
"Islands" – or "coastlands."

72:12-14 Here a reason is given why all will bring gifts to Him, bow before Him and serve Him. His character is surpassingly excellent, His deeds full of compassion. Though some rulers and leaders occasionally talk about helping the poor and needy, how many of them ever actually do so? The Lord Jesus will do more than talk about the poor and needy. He will stand up on their behalf and deliver them. He will truly abolish poverty from the earth, and destroy those who oppress the poor.

72:15-17 Then there will be no fear that some tyrant, some wicked ruler, will supplant the Lord Jesus. He will rule forever.

72:15 "For him" – the Hebrew here can also be translated "through him" or "for Him" or "in him." His people pray through Him as mediator, they pray for Him when they pray for His kingdom to come, when they pray for His church or His work. And they pray in Him as members of His body. In general Hebrew prepositions have more than one meaning.

72:16 No famines will afflict mankind in Christ's reign.

72:17 In Christ's reign at last the blessings God promised to Abraham will be fully manifested (Gen 12:1-3).

72:18,19 Surely the above revelation should stir the hearts of believers to joy and praise and prayer for its fulfillment.

- and those of the city will flourish like the grass of the earth.
- 17 His name will endure forever,
his name will go on as long as the sun;
and men will be blessed in him.
All nations will call him blessed.
- 18 Blessed be the LORD God,
the God of Israel,
who alone does wonderful things!
- 19 And blessed be his glorious name forever!
And let the whole earth be filled with his glory! Amen, and Amen.
- 20 The prayers of David,
the son of Jesse, are ended.

BOOK 3 (Psalms 73 - 89)

73

A Psalm of Asaph

- 1 Truly God is good to Israel, to those who are pure in heart.
- 2 But as for me, my feet had almost stumbled,

72:20 Other psalms David wrote appear later on in the book of psalms. But judging from this his last prayers before he died were concerning God's kingdom.

73 Title: Note on Asaph at 50:1. Altogether twelve psalms are ascribed to him.

73:1 Here Asaph gives the conclusion he has reached after his struggles with doubt. He almost fell into unbelief about God's goodness because of perplexing things that happen in the world. He came through the spiritual battle victoriously and is fully assured that God is good. Is God good to all? Yes, He is (145:9; Matt 5:45). He is good even to the wicked until it becomes no longer right to show them any more kindness. But God is especially good to His own dear people. God displays His goodness to the wicked to lead them to repentance (Rom 2:4). He is good to the righteous for their blessing, happiness, and sanctification.

Satan, who is the enemy of all goodness, will try to convince us God is not good at all. He will point to the world with its cruelty, suffering, and injustice. Satan will not say, of course, the truth that he and wicked men, not God, are responsible for all that. In this New Testament age when Satan tempts us to doubt God's goodness we can look at the cross of the Lord Jesus Christ (something Asaph could not do), and be assured again that God is eternal love and everlasting goodness.

73:2 Asaph said God is good to the pure in heart – those in Israel who were true believers and who because of it tried to live holy lives (note on the pure in heart at Matt

- my steps had nearly slipped.
- 3 For I was envious of the foolsh,
when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
- 4 For there are no pangs in their death;
but their strength is firm.
- 5 They are not in trouble like other men,
nor are they plagued like other men.
- 6 Therefore pride surrounds them like a necklace;
violence covers them like a garment.
- 7 Their eyes bulge with fat;
they have more than heart could wish.
- 8 They scoff, and speak wickedly concerning oppression;
they speak arrogantly.
- 9 They set their mouth against the heavens,
and their tongue walks through the earth.
- 10 Therefore his people return here,
and waters of a full cup are drained by them.
- 11 And they say, "How does God know?"
and "Is there knowledge in the Most High?"
- 12 See, these are the ungodly,
who prosper in the world;

5:8). Here he confesses his own weakness and folly. He realized he could hardly be classed with the pure in heart. Almost he had fallen away from God.

73:3 Here is the reason for Asaph's spiritual struggle and near fall - envy. He compared his condition (vs 13,14) with the wicked who were prosperous, and he thought they were better off than he. On envy see Job 5:2; Prov 14:30; 23:17; 27:4; Matt 27:18; Acts 7:9; 13:45; 17:5; Rom 13:13; 1 Cor 3:3; Jam 3:14-16.

73:4-12 These verses are a vivid description of a certain class of people in their prosperity, pride, and ignorance. To understand fully Asaph's folly in envying them we should remember an important fact. He was a Levite (God chose the Levites for service in the temple). The Levites were not supposed to desire material things. They had no inheritance in the land of Canaan. God Himself was their inheritance - Deut 10:9; 18:1,2. They were to devote themselves to the service of God and be supported by the offerings of the people of Israel - Num 18:21-26; Deut 14:27-29.

For Asaph to envy the wicked in their prosperity was to show dissatisfaction with God's calling for him. It was to forget that he had the greatest inheritance of all, and the greatest privilege and blessing of all men - God and God's service. In these days many Christian workers commit Asaph's blunder. And many do not come through this spiritual test as victoriously as he did.

73:10 "Waters of a full cup" - probably indicates an abundance of everything they want.

73:13,14 In his doubts and lack of understanding he concluded that any effort to be holy and spiritual was useless. All he got for his efforts was God's chastisement, they increase in riches.

- 13 Surely in vain I have cleansed my heart, and washed my hands in innocence.
- 14 For all day long I have been plagued,
and punished every morning.
- 15 If I had said, "I will speak thus", see, I would have betrayed the generation of your children.
- 16 When I thought to understand this,
it was too painful for me;
- 17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God.
Then I understood their coming end.
- 18 Surely you set them in slippery places.
You cast them down to destruction.
- 19 How they are brought into desolation,
as in a moment!
They are completely consumed with terrors.
- 20 As a dream when one awakes,
so, O Lord, when you awake,
you will despise their image.
- 21 Thus my heart was grieved, every morning and all day long. He had expected better rewards for faithful service than that. So he thinks he has grounds to quarrel with God. How easy it is for us also to forget the purpose of God's punishment and chastisement (Heb 12:5-11). God's taking such pains to correct Asaph shows that Asaph was chosen of God and very precious.

On the whole, God is not much concerned with making His children materially prosperous. He wants to make them holy, faithful, trusting, and true. He is not in the business of building fortunes for them - He is building their character, something far more important than money and property. See also Psalm 37.

73:15,16 In this carnal condition he still had respect for the people of God and did not want to be a cause of stumbling to them. So he very wisely kept quiet about his doubts and inner turmoil.

73:17-20 Understanding began to dawn in Asaph's mind when he got into God's presence. There alone can we come to right opinions about things. The wicked enjoy their prosperity only for a little while. Then they are cut off and sink down to terrors, misery, and destruction. How foolish to envy those whose end is so dreadful! From the New Testament point of view, with its emphasis on eternal life, Lazarus, for example, had no need to envy the rich man, but the rich man had much cause to envy Lazarus (Luke 16:19-24).

73:21,22 This is the result of questioning God's goodness and envying the wicked. Such sins make men like beasts without spiritual understanding (2 Pet 2:12; Jude 10). Asaph had been appointed to sing joyful songs to God (1 Chron 15:16,17), not to question God's justice in His dealings with men. Grief and bitterness of spirit will re-

- and I was pierced in my inmost being.
 22 I was so foolish and ignorant;
 I was like a beast in your presence.
 23 Nevertheless I am continually with you.
 You hold me by my right hand.
 24 You will guide me with your counsel, and afterwards receive me into glory.
 25 Whom have I in heaven but you?
 And there is nothing on earth that I desire besides you.
 26 My flesh and my heart fail,
but God is the strength of my heart,
 and my portion forever.
 27 For, see, those who are far from you will perish.
 You destroy all those who go from you acting like a prostitute.

- 28 But it is good for me to draw near to God.
 I have put my trust in the Lord God,
 that I may declare all your works.

74

A maskil of Asaph

- 1 O God, why have you cast us off forever?
Why does your anger smoke against the sheep of your pasture?
- 2 Remember your congregation which you purchased of old,
 the tribe of your inheritance which you redeemed,
 this mount Zion, where you have dwelt.
- 3 Lift up your feet to the perpetual ruins, sult from such quarrels with God. Here when Asaph confesses his folly he begins to be restored to a healthy spiritual state.

73:23 "Nevertheless" – this word coming here has great meaning. It is the difference between salvation and destruction, peace and despair. Asaph had failed, had doubted, had quarreled with God's ways, but God had not left him for a single moment. As a father holds the hand of a little son stumbling on a dark path so God held Asaph's hand (compare John 10:28).

73:24 Because of God's grace, complete assurance floods back into Asaph's heart. God Himself will be his guide and lead him all the way to the place of eternal glory. The prosperity of the wicked has to do only with this earth and for their little time here. The believer has his inheritance in God Himself and so it will never pass away – Rom 8:17; Eph 1:14,18; 1 Pet 1:3,4; Matt 6:19-21.

73:25 Asaph returns to his proper spiritual position as a Levite who has God for his portion. In this New Testament age believers are priests and Levites in a spiritual sense (note at Ex 28:1). Happy is the person who can truly say that he wants nothing on earth but God Himself.
 "Nothing" – or "no one."

73:26 How weak and deceiving are our own hearts – Prov 28:26; Jer 17:9. There is nothing in ourselves that we can depend on – Rom 7:18; 2 Cor 1:9; 3:5. God is the strength of our heart (or "Rock" – the literal meaning of the Hebrew word used here. Note at Deut 32:4). See 18:1,2; 27:1; 62:7; 84:5; 2 Cor 12:9.

73:27 This will be the fate of those who despise God's goodness and will not repent at His kindness. Since they spurn His grace that would save them they will taste of His justice which condemns them.

"Acting like a prostitute" – a phrase used by the writers of the Old Testament to indicate unfaithfulness to the one true God, and running after false gods.

73:28 The supreme good for man is just this – to know God and live joyfully in His presence forever. The way to obtain this good is to make Him our refuge. The result will be that we will want to declare His goodness to others.

74 Title: This psalm is ascribed to Asaph. He lived during David's reign and it is certain that at that time the events described in vs 3-8 did not take place. And v 9 was not true then, for Nathan the prophet was living, David himself was a prophet, and Asaph was a seer – another name for a prophet (2 Chron 29:30). A seer could look into the future and describe events that had not yet taken place as though they had. Asaph wrote this psalm by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit regarding future calamities. Let no one think this a strange thing (see Isa 46:9,10). In Psalm 22 David wrote of the crucifixion of Christ that took place a thousand years later.

There are many other examples of writings in the Old Testament which describe future events using verb forms in Hebrew that we would call in English past or present tenses. See, for example, Isaiah chapter 53. Here Asaph puts himself in the place of these future people of God and speaks as though he were one of them. In this way the Holy Spirit provides a prayer for those in the future who would actually experience the disaster described here.

"Maskil" – probably a literary or musical term.

74:1 See 44:9; 77:7. There is no confession of sin in this psalm, only perplexity at God's dealings with His people (vs 10,11). When strange events occur, when God's anger seems to be aroused, it is no mistake to ask God for the cause. For of one thing we may be sure – God does nothing without a very good reason.

"Sheep" – 79:13; 95:7; 100:3.

74:2 "Redeemed" – Ex 15:13,16; Deut 32:6; Ps 78:35 (note); Isa 63:9.

"Zion" – 9:11; 68:16; 76:2; 132:13.

74:3-9 This language points to a time long after the temple in Jerusalem had been

- all that the enemy has destroyed in the sanctuary.
- 4 Your enemies roared in your meeting places; they set up their banners as signs.
- 5 A man was famous for lifting up axes on the thick trees.
- 6 But now they have broken down its carved work all at once with axes and hammers.
- 7 They have set your sanctuary on fire, they have defiled the dwelling place of your name by casting it down to the ground.
- 8 They said in their hearts, "Let us destroy them altogether." They have burned up all the meeting places of God in the land.
- 9 We do not see our signs. No longer is there a prophet, nor is there anyone among us who knows how long.
- 10 O God, how long will the foe taunt you? Will the enemy blaspheme your name forever?
- 11 Why do you withdraw your hand, your right hand? Take it out of your bosom and destroy them!
- 12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
- 13 You divided the sea by your strength. You broke the heads of the monsters in the waters.
- 14 You broke in pieces the heads of leviathan and gave him as food to the people living in the desert.
- 15 You split open the fountain and the flood.

destroyed. Both this verse and v 9 indicate a time after Jeremiah's day (he described the destruction of the temple in Jeremiah chapter 52). So Asaph was looking several hundred years into the future.

74:10 See 6:3; 13:1,2; 35:17; 80:4; 89:46; 90:13; Rev 6:10.

74:11 God's ways are not our ways and are not to be understood by mere human reason (Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34).

"Destroy them" – note on such prayers at 35:8.

74:12-17 Here Asaph reminds God that He has previously acted in behalf of His people, and that He is the all-powerful Creator and Ruler of the world. Vs 13,14 probably refer to the deliverance of Israel from Egypt and the destruction of the Egyptian armies in Exodus chapter 14. Happy is the person who can say as Asaph did "God is my king." For God is the most benevolent of rulers, always seeking the highest good of His people. Of course, He demands their complete loyalty, trust, and obedience.

74:18-23 Asaph appeals to God the great

- You dried up mighty rivers.
- 16 The day is yours; the night also is yours. You prepared the light and the sun.
- 17 You set all the borders of the earth. You made summer and winter.
- 18 Remember that the enemy has taunted you, O LORD, and that the foolish people have blasphemed your name.
- 19 O do not deliver the soul of your dove to the horde of the wicked. Do not forget forever the congregation of your poor.
- 20 Have regard for the covenant. For the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.
- 21 Oh, do not let the oppressed return ashamed! Let the poor and needy praise your name.
- 22 Arise, O God, plead your own cause! Remember how the foolish man scorns you daily.
- 23 Do not forget the voice of your enemies. The uproar of those who rise up against you increases continually.

To the chief musician, al taskith,
a Psalm, a song of Asaph

- 1 To you, O God, we give thanks,
to you we give thanks,
for your wonderful deeds declare that your name is near.
- 2 "When I choose the proper time I will

Creator to act in behalf of His people as He did before. They are like a dove, their enemies like fierce beasts trying to destroy them completely. He could not understand God's inaction when people curse Him and mistreat His dear people. But God has His purposes in that too, and when they are fulfilled He will arise to judge the world.

75 Title: Al-taskith probably indicated the tune to be used when singing this psalm. It means "Do not Destroy."

75:1 "Thanks" – 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13. In the previous psalm Asaph prayed that God would judge the wicked. Here there is thanksgiving for God's answer. There Asaph cries out "How long?" Here is the assurance that God will act at the proper time. God's name means His person, His attributes. He is near to help His people – Deut 4:7; 34:18; 145:18; 148:14; Deut 4:7; Isa 55:6.

75:2-7 In v 2 God Himself begins to speak. He sees the turmoil in the world and the persecution of His people. He hears the

- judge uprightly.
- 3 The earth and all its inhabitants melt away, I hold up its pillars. Selah
- 4 I said to the boasters, 'Do not boast', and to the wicked, 'Do not lift up your horn,
- 5 Do not lift up your horn on high. Do not speak with an arrogant neck."
- 6 For exaltation does not come either from the east or from the west or from the south,
- 7 But God is the judge. He puts down one, and sets up another.
- 8 For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, and the wine is red. It is fully mixed, and he pours it out, and all the wicked of the earth drain it, drinking it to its dregs.
- 9 But I will declare this forever. I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
- 10 I will also cut off all the horns of the wicked; but the horns of the righteous will be exalted.

To the chief musician, on neginoth,
a Psalm, a song of Asaph

- 1 In Judah God is known.

boasting of wicked and arrogant people. He knows exactly how long He should let such things go on. God has set times to perform certain acts (Dan 8:19; 11:27,35; Hab 2:3; John 7:30; Acts 17:31). Until He arises to judge the world He Himself keeps the pillars of the world, the foundations of society from crumbling. And He has a message for all those who wickedly exalt themselves on earth: "Do not lift up your horn." In the Bible horn sometimes signifies strength, authority, sometimes honor (89:17,24; 92:10; 148:14; 1 Sam 2:1,10; Lam 2:3,17; Zech 1:21; Luke 1:69).

"Lift up" or exalt is one of the key themes of this psalm - vs 4,5,6,7,10. A man may lift himself to some high place but it will be only to fall - v 10. God's people should quietly wait for God to lift them up (1 Sam 2:6-8). Let not the man who exalts himself by deceitful tricks or human strength vainly imagine that it is God who lifts him up.

75:8 The ancients sometimes offered to criminals before their execution wine mixed with stupefying drugs. That seems to be the picture here. Compare Isa 51:17-23; Jer 25:15,27; 49:12; Ezek 23:32-34; Rev 14:9,10.

75:9 Note on God of Jacob at 146:5.

75:10 The wicked rise only to fall. The righteous are abased only to be exalted (Luke 14:11; 18:14).

76 Title: Neginoth means string instruments.

- His name is great in Israel.
- 2 Also his tabernacle is in Salem, and his dwelling place in Zion.
- 3 There he broke the arrows of the bow, the shield and the sword of battle. Selah
- 4 You are more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.
- 5 The brave have been plundered; they sleep their sleep; and none of the mighty men have found the use of their hands.
- 6 At your rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the charioteer and horse have been cast into a deep sleep.
- 7 You, you alone, are to be feared. And who can stand in your sight when you become angry?
- 8 You caused judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth was afraid and became quiet,
- 9 When God rose up for judgment to save all the meek of the earth. Selah

- 10 Surely the wrath of man will praise you. With the remainder of wrath you arm yourself.

76:1 The greatest possible blessing for a people or an individual is to have the knowledge of the true God. In those days this was the blessing the people in Israel had. Now this true and only God is known among Christ's believers scattered here and there throughout the whole world. See John 17:3.

76:2 "Salem" - Jerusalem. "Zion" - 74:2.

76:3 This psalm is a triumphant hymn after a battle in which God had fought for His people and conquered their enemies - vs 5-9. Some scholars believe the event referred to was the defeat of Sennacherib's army described in 2 Chronicles chapter 32 and Isaiah chapter 37. This psalm is ascribed to Asaph and Sennacherib's invasion occurred long after Asaph's death. If that invasion is meant (and we cannot be sure of this) Asaph was writing of the future as if it had already happened. See note on the title of Psalm 74.

76:4 See 1 Tim 6:16; Jam 1:17; 1 John 1:5.

76:7 Notes on fear of the Lord at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7. On "stand" see Ezra 9:15; Nahum 1:6; Mal 3:2; Rev 6:17. Notes on wrath at 90:7-11; Num 25:3; etc.

76:9 Observe why God pours out His wrath on wicked enemies. It is necessary for the sake of justice and for the salvation of the humble.

76:10 "Surely the wrath of man will praise

- 11 Make vows to the LORD your God and fulfil them.
 May all who are around him bring presents to him who ought to be feared.
- 12 He will cut off the spirit of princes.
He is awesome toward the kings of the earth.

To the chief musician, to Juduthun,
 a Psalm of Asaph

- 1 I cried out to God with my voice,
yes, to God with my voice,
 and he gave ear to me.
- 2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord.
 My hand was unceasingly stretched out in the night.
 My soul refused to be comforted.
- 3 I remembered God and was troubled.
 I complained and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah
- 4 You hold my eyes open.
 I am so troubled that I cannot speak.
- 5 I considered the days of old,
 the years of ancient times.

- 6 I remembered my song in the night.
 I meditated in my own heart,
 and my spirit made diligent search.
- 7 Will the Lord cast off forever?
 And will he be favourable no more?
- 8 Is his mercy completely gone forever?
 Does his promise fail for evermore?
- 9 Has God forgotten to be gracious?
 Has he in anger shut up his tender mercies?

Selah

- 10 And I said, "This is my infirmity, but I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.
- 11 I will remember the deeds of the LORD.
 Surely I will remember your wonders of old.
- 12 I will also meditate on all your work,
 and talk of your deeds.
- 13 Your way, O God, is in the sanctuary.
 Who is as great a God as our God?
- 14 You are the God who does wonders.
 You have declared your power among the people.
- 15 With your arm you redeemed your people,
 the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Selah

- 16 The waters saw you, O God,

you. With the remainder of wrath you arm yourself" – this seems a better translation of the somewhat obscure and difficult Hebrew than others which have been made. God can and does turn all the doings of men, including their anger against God's people, to His own glory and His people's good (Gen 50:20; Ex 9:16; Acts 2:22-24; Rom 9:17). Also God can and does use men's anger against Him as a weapon against them (compare Ex 14:5-28; Esther 7:10).

76:11 "Vows" – 50:14. "Presents" – 68:29; 2 Chron 32:22,23.

76:12 See 47:2.

77:1 Asaph in this psalm writes of a time of great depression. Compare psalm 42. He could not understand God's dealings with him, and his faith was being severely tested. We may divide the psalm into three parts: Asaph's depressed condition and prayer (vs 1-9); his decision to call to mind God's greatness (vs 10-12); and the works of God in particular which he remembered.

77:2 When one is depressed and sad this is one part of the remedy. Seeking God will bring new life, strength, and joy – 9:10; 22:26; 34:10; 40:16; 69:32; 70:4; 105:3. Asaph refused all human comfort, all comfort which did not meet his need. He wanted God's comfort alone.

77:3 Thoughts of God brought thoughts of former joys (vs 5,6), and increased his mental distress. Sighs and groans are sometimes the best prayers. A mother hears her baby's cries when it has no words.

77:4 Sometimes words seem empty and vain to express the distress of the mind, the longings of the heart. Even the Holy Spirit uses groans in the human heart to appeal to God the Father (Rom 8:26).

77:7-9 These are the words of a man experiencing great suffering of mind. He seems to have lost all fellowship with God and feels that God is angry. See also Job 6:4 and Lamentations 3:1-18. Such an experience may come to any of us. When it does we have this psalm to guide us.

77:10-12 Asaph while seeking God resolved to meditate on God's former great deeds toward His people. Such remembrance is food for faith. Faith grows stronger by it and triumphs over depression. Peace of heart does not come by looking within at self, but by looking without to God's acts of redemption. Verse 10 in Hebrew is quite obscure and there have been a number of different translations of it. Probably the KJV is best here.

77:11 Here Asaph determines to do what the Word of God commands (Deut 7:18; 8:2,18; 32:7).

77:12 1:1,2; 143:5; 145:5; 1 Tim 4:15.

77:13 The first thing Asaph remembers is that God's way is perfectly holy. Therefore God's dealings with him were just and good and without possibility of mistake (18:30). On God's holiness see Lev 20:7; on His greatness see – 71:19; 86:8; Ex 15:11; Deut 32:31; Isa 40:25.

77:14 See 72:18; 86:10; 136:4.

77:15-20 He remembers the exodus from Egypt, the way through the Red Sea, the journey through the desert. All this brings the waters saw you.

 They were afraid;
 the depths also were troubled.
 17 The clouds poured out water.
 The skies sent out a sound.
 Your arrows also went abroad.
 18 The voice of your thunder was in the heavens.
 The lightning flashes lit up the world.
 The earth trembled and shook.
 19 Your way is in the sea and your path in the great waters,
 and your footsteps are not known.
 20 You led your people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

A maskil of Asaph

- 1 Give ear, O my people, to my law.
 Bow down your ears to the words of my mouth.
- 2 I will open my mouth in a parable;

to his mind God's love and faithfulness (vs 15,20), God's power and glory (vs 16-18), and God's mysterious dealings with His people (v 19). Remembrance of these matters was just the remedy Asaph needed for his gloomy depression. For peace of mind we do not need to know all the mysteries of God's ways, we need only trust Him for His grace and follow His guidance through the barren wilderness of this world. Now, of course, believers can look to God's acts of redemption in the death and resurrection of the Lord Jesus and find comfort and help in times of depression.

77:17 "Arrows" – flashes of lightning.

78 Title: Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

78:1 In this psalm Asaph speaks as a prophet (see Matt 13:35 where v 2 of this psalm is referred to). Here we have a contrast between God's grace and mighty deeds, and Israel's rebellion and sin. It was intended as an exhortation and a warning to the people based on their history (see also psalms 105 and 106). It also gives the reason why the tribe of Ephraim was put down and Judah exalted. It teaches the true meaning of the events of history, and we can learn much needed lessons from it for today.

Men often slander God because He does not give them all they desire, or behave as they think He ought, or because He punishes sin and rebellion. In this psalm we see God's true righteous character and man's depravity very strikingly and clearly revealed. Here we can learn much of what God is and what we are. We have no grounds for thinking that by nature we are in any way better than the people of Israel described here. And we have no excuse if we indulge in their rebellion and sins, if we

- I will utter difficult sayings of old,
 3 Which we have heard and known,
 and which our fathers have told us.
 4 We will not hide them from their children, declaring to the generation to come
 the praises of the LORD, and his strength, and his wonderful deeds which he has done.
 5 For he established a testimony in Jacob,
 and appointed a law in Israel,
 which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to
 their children,
 6 That the generation to come might know them,
 the children who would be born;
who should arise and declare them to
 their children,
 7 That they might set their hope on God,
 and not forget the works of God,
 but keep his commandments,
 8 And might not be like their fathers,
 a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that did not prepare their have as much light and revelation from God as they had (and with the New Testament in our hands we have much more light than they had). There is much in this psalm on the fruits and penalties of unbelief. Unbelief causes people

To turn back (v 9),
 Be disobedient (v 10),
 Be forgetful of God's great mercies (v 11),
 Go on sinning and rebelling (v 17),
 Live a life of futility (v 33),
 Flatter and lie (v 36),
 Limit God (v 41),
 And be disloyal and unreliable (v 57).
 And unbelief brings on men the anger of God and great loss.

78:2-8 These verses, particularly vs 7,8, give the reason why Asaph wrote this psalm. He is doing what God commanded His people to do (Ex 12:26,27; 13:8,9; Deut 4:9,10; 6:7,20-25; 11:19; 32:46). It is the solemn responsibility of parents to train up their children in the discipline and teaching of the Lord (Eph 6:4), and each generation of believers must instruct the next generation.

78:2 These words are applied to the teaching method of the Lord Jesus in Matt 13:35.

78:7,8 There are two kinds of examples in the Bible – good ones which we should follow, and bad ones which we should avoid. The brief history of Israel recorded in the rest of this psalm gives many of the second kind of example. Those people went astray for the three reasons given in v 8 – they would not obey God; they would not make their hearts right with Him; they would not be faithful to Him. The second of these reasons is the cause heart rightly,

 and whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
 9 The children of Ephraim, armed and carrying bows,
 turned back in the day of battle.
 10 They did not keep the covenant of God,
 and refused to walk in his law, 11 And they forgot his deeds and his wonders that he had shown them.
 12 He did marvellous things in the sight of their fathers,
 in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
 13 He divided the sea and caused them to pass through,
 and he made the waters stand like a heap.
 14 Also in the daytime he led them with a cloud,
 and all the night with a light of the fire.
 15 He split the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.
 16 He also brought streams out of the rock,
 and caused waters to run down like rivers.
 17 And they sinned still more against him by provoking the Most High in the desert.
 18 And they tempted God in their heart by asking for their desired food.
 19 Yes, they spoke against God.
 They said, "Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
 20 Look, he struck the rock, so that the waters gushed out,
 and the streams overflowed.

Can he give bread also?
 Can he provide meat for his people?"
 21 Therefore the LORD heard this and was angry.
 So a fire was kindled against Jacob,
 and anger also came up against Israel, 22 Because they did not believe in God,
 and did not trust in his salvation, 23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above,
 and had opened the doors of heaven, 24 And had rained down manna on them to eat,
 and had given them the grain of heaven.
 25 Man ate angels' food.
 He sent them food to the full.
 26 He caused an east wind to blow in the heavens,
 and by his power he brought in the south wind.
 27 He also rained meat on them like dust, and feathered birds like the sand of the sea, 28 And let them fall in the middle of their camp, around their homes.
 29 So they ate, and were well satisfied,
 for he gave them their own desire;
 30 They were not turned away from their craving.
 But while their food was still in their mouths, 31 The wrath of God came on them,
 and killed the stoutest of them,
 and struck down the chosen men of Israel.
 32 In spite of all this they still sinned, and did not believe even though

of the other two. Preparing the heart and making sure the inner life is right with God is the most important duty of all. It is far more important than any outward service, for without it outward service will not be pleasing and acceptable to God (Prov 4:23; Luke 6:45).

78:9 During and after the conquest of Canaan Ephraim rose to a place of prominence among the tribes. Joshua and Gideon were both from this tribe. Ephraim is mentioned particularly because it failed in its leadership. We do not know to what battle Asaph refers – possibly to the times in general described in the book of Judges.

78:10,11 This was true, not merely of Ephraim, but of the whole nation. However, it was more markedly true in Ephraim than in the other tribes.

78:12 See Exodus chapters 7-13. Zoan was the city of Pharaoh, the capital of that part of Egypt near Goshen where the people of Israel lived.

78:13 Ex 14:21,22.

78:14 Ex 13:21,22; 14:24.

78:15,16 Ex 17:6; Num 20:11; Ps 105:41; 114:8.

78:17 A sad verse indeed. All God's miracles on their behalf did not work in them an effective change, did not produce a living faith or obedient heart. Actually miracles by themselves never produce true faith and obedience (vs 22,32; Matt 11:20-24; John 6:26). To produce these God's work in the heart is required and true repentance. The awful depravity of human nature is not overcome by outward things, including powerful miracles.

78:18 Ex 17:6; Deut 6:16; Ps 95:9; 106:14; 1 Cor 10:9.

78:19 Ex 16:3; Num 11:4; 20:3; 21:5. Compare Ps 23:5.

78:20 Num 11:18.

78:21 Notes on God's anger at 90:7-11; Num 25:3; etc.

78:22 Here is the reason for God's anger. Their unbelief was in the face of great evidence of God's power and goodness. It was willful, blameworthy unbelief. Doubting so great a God who had displayed such great grace was a great sin.

78:23-28 Ex 16:4,14,15.

78:26-28 Ex 16:13; Num 11:31,32.

78:29-31 See 106:14,15; Num 11:33,34.

78:32-42 Neither gracious miracles nor severe punishments changed the hearts of the people. They were incorrigible. But the rest of mankind is no better than they, and by nature we ourselves are in no way su-they saw his wonderful works.

 33 Therefore, he consumed their days in futility, and their years in trouble.
 34 When he killed them, then they sought him,
 and they turned back and soon inquired
 after God.
 35 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.
 36 Nevertheless they flattered him with their mouth and lied to him with their tongues.
 37 For their heart was not right with him,
 they were not firm in his covenant.
 38 But he, being full of compassion, forgave
their wickedness,
 and did not destroy them.
 Yes, many times he turned his anger away,

and did not stir up all his wrath.
 39 For he remembered that they were but flesh, a wind that passes away and does not come again.
 40 How often they provoked him in the wilderness,
 and grieved him in the desert!
 41 Yes, they turned back and tested God,
 and limited the Holy One of Israel.
 42 They did not remember his hand, or the day when he delivered them from
 the enemy,
 43 How he appointed his signs in Egypt,
 and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their rivers and their streams into blood,

perior (Rom 3:9). These verses are a sad commentary on man's fallen nature in which we all share. People in general are sinful and unbelieving (v 32), turning to God only in time of trouble (v 34), but even then insincere (vs 36,37), feeble in all they can do (v 39), continually grieving God (v 40), setting limits to God's power (v 41), and easily forgetful of all God's mercies (v 42). This is what human nature reveals itself to be when put to the test. Even God does not attempt to reform it. He says it is worthy of death, and gives a new nature altogether to the believer in Christ (Rom 6:3-5; 7:4-6; 2 Cor 5:14-17; Eph 2:1-10; 4:22-24; Col 3:1-4).

78:33 Israel went around in the desert for forty years without a goal. Emptiness of heart and futility of life and fear of the future and death – these are the sad fruits of sin, rebellion and unbelief. If our lives are fruitless and vain and empty and plagued by various fears, let us learn to trace these things to their true source.

78:35 The Hebrew word translated here "redeemer" (goel) is used 46 times in the Hebrew Old Testament, sometimes of God, sometimes of men. It had various meanings. A redeemer was one who delivered from trouble and bondage (Gen 48:16; Deut 13:5); a close relative who would buy a person's lost property and restore it to him (Lev 25:25); an avenger of a family member who had been killed (Num 35:12); a close relative who would marry the widow of a family member and raise up progeny for him, besides buying up her lost property (Ruth 2:20); and one who takes the side of his people against oppressors (Prov 23:11). As Redeemer God saved His people from bondage, restored them to the land, and punished their enemies (Isa 49:25,26; Jer 50:33,34).

In the New Testament the word has more spiritual meanings. There the Lord Jesus is the Redeemer. He paid the price to release us from sin's bondage. The price was His own blood. By His blood believers have forgiveness, freedom, and an eternal inheritance. Jesus stands up for believers against their spiritual enemy Satan. He will destroy this one who has brought death on the human race, and will restore to man all that he lost by falling into Satan's hands. The Lord Jesus has redeemed His people that collectively they might become His holy, spiritual "bride" to bring forth fruit for God. See Matt 20:28; 26:28; Rom 3:24; 7:1-4; 8:23; Gal 3:13,14; Eph 1:7,14; 4:30; 5:25-33; Col 1:14; Heb 9:12; 1 Pet 1:4,18,19; Rev 1:5; 5:9,10; 19:6-9.

78:36,37 Will men lie to God and try to deceive Him? Yes, of course. Men will try anything to evade the responsibility of truly repenting and living a life of obedience to God.
78:38 Ex 34:6; Num 14:18-20; Isa 48:9. If God did not restrain His just anger against men, none of them would be left alive.

78:39 See 103:14-16; Gen 6:3; Jam 4:14.

78:40 See 95:8-10; 106:43; 107:11; Heb 3:16; Isa 63:10; Eph 4:30.

78:41 "Limited" – this seems to be the author of these notes to be a better translation of the somewhat obscure Hebrew word than others which have been offered. But is not God all-powerful? Can man limit God in any way? God is all-powerful (Gen 18:14; Jer 32:27; Matt 19:26). But men can limit Him in the good He would do for them. Compare Matt 23:37-39; Mark 6:1-6. Sin keeps people from experiencing the good they might otherwise receive (Jer 5:25), and an unbelieving attitude toward God is one of the worst of sins (it is the same as calling God a liar – 1 John 5:10). God has so arranged matters that people's faith enables His power to work among them to bring blessing (Matt 9:29; 17:19,20; Mark 11:22-24), and their unbelief prevents it from working. In this area unbelief limits the omnipotent One. By not trusting God as we ought, are we limiting what God wants to do in us and through us?
78:42 Judges 3:7; 8:34. This was a deliberate refusal to remember, and this was blameworthy indeed.

78:43-51 Exodus chapters 7-13.

so that they could not drink.
 45 He sent swarms of flies among them which devoured them, and frogs which destroyed them.
 46 He also gave their crops to the caterpillar, and their labour to the locust.
 47 He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with frost.
 48 He also gave up their cattle to the hail, and their flocks to flaming thunderbolts.
 49 He cast on them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending destroying angels among them.
 50 He made a path for his anger. He did not spare their soul from death, but gave their life over to the plague, 51 And struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, the chief of their strength in the tents of Ham,
 52 But caused his own people to go out like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
 53 And he led them on safely, so that they were not afraid; but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
 54 And he brought them to his holy territory, to this mountain, which his right hand had obtained.
 55 He also drove out the nations before them, and apportioned an inheritance to them, and caused the tribes of Israel to live in their tents.
 56 Yet they tested and provoked the Most High God, and did not keep his testimonies, 57 But turned back and behaved unfaithfully like their fathers.
 They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

 58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their carved idols.
 59 When God heard this, he was enraged, and greatly abhorred Israel, 60 So that he forsook the tabernacle at Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men, 61 And delivered his strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemy's hand.
 62 He also gave his people over to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.
 63 The fire consumed their young men, and their maidens were not given in marriage.
 64 Their priests fell by the sword, and their widows made no lamentation.
 65 Then the Lord awoke like one out of sleep, and like a mighty man who shouts because of wine.
 66 And he beat back his enemies; he put them to continual shame.
 67 Moreover, he refused the tent of Joseph, and did not choose the tribe of Ephraim,
 68 But chose the tribe of Judah, Mount Zion which he loved.
 69 And he built his sanctuary like heights, like the earth which he established forever.
 70 He also chose David his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds, 71 From following the ewes great with young.
 He brought him to feed his people Jacob, and his inheritance Israel.
 72 So he shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

78:52,53 Ex 14:19,20,27,28; 15:22.

78:54,55 Josh 1:1-3; 4:23; 10:40-42; 24:11-13.

78:56-58 These verses speak of the sin of the generation following the death of Joshua (Jud 2:7-13). They soon fell into the grievous and forbidden sin of idolatry (Ex 20:3-5; etc). A change of location did not mean a change of heart. They were as sinful and rebellious and unbelieving as their ancestors, as all men.

78:59 Notes on God's anger at 90:7-11; Num 25:3.

"Abhorred" - Lev 20:23; 26:30; Deut 32:19; Ps 5:6; 10:3. Evil is always disgusting to Him and all who practice it are offensive to Him.

78:60 Their sin was so great that God left the place He had chosen for His tabernacle. Shiloh was in the territory of Ephraim (v 9).

78:61 The symbol of His strength and the place where His glory was displayed was the ark in the tabernacle. Because of the people's sin He gave the ark into the hands of enemies (1 Sam 4:1-11).

78:62-64 Jud 20:21; 1 Sam 4:10,11.

78:65-72 In these concluding verses Asaph in poetic language describes a new work of God. He rejected the leadership of Ephraim, brought another tribe to power, caused a new king (David) to be anointed, chose a new place for the ark (Jerusalem), and crushed the enemies of Israel. This is a summary of events recorded in various chapters of 1 and 2 Samuel.

78:72 David is the great Old Testament type of Christ as victorious warrior, king, and

A Psalm of Asaph

- 1 O God, the nations have come into your inheritance;
they have defiled your holy temple;
they have laid Jerusalem in heaps.
- 2 They have given the dead bodies of your servants as food to the birds of the heavens, the flesh of your saints to the beasts of the earth.
- 3 They have shed their blood like water around Jerusalem, and there was no one to bury them.
- 4 We have become objects of reproach to our neighbours,
a scorn and derision to those who are around us.
- 5 How long, LORD?
Will you be angry forever?
Will your jealousy burn like fire?
- 6 Pour out your wrath on the nations that have not known you,

- and on the kingdoms that have not called on your name.
- 7 For they have devoured Jacob,
and laid waste his dwelling place.
 - 8 Oh, do not remember former our evil deeds against us.
Let your tender mercies come speedily to us, for we are brought very low.
 - 9 Help us, O God of our salvation,
for the glory of your name;
and rescue us, and purge away our sins,
for your name's sake.
 - 10 Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Let it be known among the nations,
in our sight,
that you avenge the blood of your servants which has been shed.
 - 11 Let the groaning of the prisoner come before you.
In accordance with the greatness of your power preserve the dying.
 - 12 And repay seven times as much into the bosoms of our neighbours the scorn with which they scorned you, O Lord.

shepherd of His people.

79:1 This psalm is very similar to psalm 74. See note on Asaph there. In the first four verses of this psalm he sees a great future calamity as though it were then present. But it did not take place for several hundreds of years. In the remaining verses Asaph gives an inspired prayer that would be suitable to the people when the event occurred.

79:2 Deut 28:26; Jer 7:33.

79:3 Jer 14:16; 22:18,19.

79:4 See 44:13.

79:5 See 13:1; 74:1,9,10; 85:5; 89:46. On God's jealousy see Ex 20:4-6; Deut 29:20; Ezek 36:5; 38:19.

79:6 Note on such prayers as this at 35:8. Not knowing or acknowledging the one true God is blameworthy. Men willfully refuse the knowledge of God (Prov 1:29), and suppress what God has revealed about Himself (Rom 1:18). If any person really wishes to know and serve Him God would be willing to move heaven and earth if necessary to get instruction to that person. We know this from the revelation of God's character in the Bible. The sad truth is that people do not wish to know Him and they make no attempt to call upon His name or seek His face. Therefore they are very guilty indeed, and God's anger will certainly come on them (2 Thess 1:8).

79:8 See Ex 20:5; 34:6,7; Lam 5:7. Asaph here is speaking of national sin and guilt, and prays that God will not send punishment for it. There is such a thing as an accumulation of national sin which affects following generations. At last great punishment comes on the nation in a single generation. One example of this is the Amorites in Canaan (Gen 15:16). When their sin was full God sent Israel into Canaan to destroy them. Another example was Israel punished in the days of king Nebuchadnezzar for previous sins (2 Kings 23:26,27; 2 Chron 36:15-19). Another example is the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of Israel by the Romans in 70 A.D. as prophesied by the Lord Jesus in Matt 23:35,36.

God is patient and long-suffering. But at last when the accumulated sins of a nation become so great that justice can delay no more, God pours out His anger on that nation. In the cases given above each generation of a people became what all previous generations made it, and what they themselves decided to be, the final generation being the worst and the most guilty of all. This is the story of human history. The only way God's punishment can be averted on either an individual or a nation is repentance and sincere turning to God for mercy (2 Chron 7:14; Isa 55:7; Ezek 18:30-32; Jonah 1:1,2; 3:6-10; Luke 24:45-47; Acts 3:19).

79:9 The concern of godly people is not merely that they may receive God's grace and mercy and escape from His wrath, but that God's name may be glorified (57:5). If a person has no concern for the glory of God's name he knows nothing of the true spiritual life.

79:10 Note on vengeance at Ex 21:23-35; Num 31:20.

79:11 See 102:20; Isa 61:1.

79:12 Note at 18:25,26.

13 So we, your people and sheep of your pasture, will give you thanks forever.
We will declare your praise to all generations.

To the chief musician, on Shoshannim-eduth
A Psalm of Asaph

- 1 Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel,
you who lead Joseph like a flock.
You who dwell between the cherubim,
shine forth.
- 2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh stir up your strength, and come and save us.
- 3 Restore us, O God, and cause your face to shine; and we will be saved.
- 4 O LORD God of hosts, how long will you be angry with the prayer of your people?
- 5 You feed them with the bread of tears and give them a great many tears to drink.
- 6 You make us an object of strife to our neighbours,
and our enemies laugh among themselves.

- 7 Restore us again, O God of hosts, and cause your face to shine;
and we will be saved.
- 8 You brought a vine out of Egypt.
You drove out the nations and planted it.
- 9 You prepared room for it and caused it to take deep root,
and it filled the land.
- 10 The hills were covered with its shadow,
and the mighty cedars with its branches.
- 11 It sent out its boughs to the sea,
and its branches to the Euphrates River.
- 12 Why then have you broken down its walls,
so that all who pass by the way
pick its grapes?
- 13 The boar out of the woods ruins it,
and the wild beast of the field devours it.
- 14 Return, we beseech you, O God of hosts!
Look down from heaven, and see,
and visit this vine,
and visit this vine,
- 15 And the vineyard which your right hand
has planted,
and the branch that you made strong for yourself.
- 16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down.
They perish at the rebuke of your countenance.
- 17 Let your hand be on the man of your right hand,
on the son of man whom you made strong

79:13 "Sheep" - 74:1; 95:7.

80 Title: Shoshannim-eduth probably indicated the tune to be used when singing this psalm. It means "Lilies of the covenant." This is similar to psalms 74 and 79. Israel's enemies have triumphed, God's people are in great trouble. Note on Asaph at Ps 74.

80:1 "Shepherd" - 23:1; 78:52; Gen 50:24; Isa 40:11; Jer 31:10.

"Cherubim" - 99:1; Ex 25:22; 1 Sam 4:4; 2 Sam 6:2.

80:2 The mention of the tribe of Joseph in verse 1 and the tribes descended from Joseph's two sons, along with Benjamin indicate that the disaster described in this psalm probably had to do with the northern kingdom and took place many years after Asaph wrote. In the march of Israel through the wilderness Ephraim, Manasseh, and Benjamin were together immediately behind the ark (Num 2:18-24), and Ephraim became the leading tribe in Israel before the rise of Judah under David (78:9,67,68).

80:3 Verses 7,19. This prayer for restoration would have been fitting for many occasions in the history of Israel, and is still fitting for us today. The first phrase could also be translated "revive us." Prayers for revival are always important to God, always necessary for men. It is something He wants to do (85:6; 2 Chron 7:14; Isa 57:15; Hos 6:2; Hab 3:2). "Shine" - 4:6; 31:16; Num 6:25.

80:4 Is it possible that God would ever be angry with the prayers of His people? Yes. And He is angry with them when they indulge in evil and refuse to repent (Isa 1:15-17).

80:5 Tears for both food and drink! And notice that God Himself has done it.

80:8-16 The nation Israel here is compared to a vine. See also Isa 5:1,2,7; Jer 2:21; 12:10; Ezek 17:6; 19:10.

80:8 See 44:2; Josh 13:6; 2 Chron 20:7.

80:11 At its greatest extent under Solomon Israel controlled the area between the Euphrates river and the Mediterranean Sea ("the sea").

80:12 Walls speak of God's protection around His people (Job 1:10). God may remove it for purposes of testing or chastisement or punishment.

80:13 The surrounding nations.

80:14-16 Asaph reminded God that it is God's vine that is being destroyed and begged Him to look after His own property. A prayer, no doubt, God is not reluctant to answer.

80:17 Benjamin (v 2) means "son of the right hand." But the complete fulfillment of this prayer can be seen only in the Lord Jesus. The Son of man is a title which He very often used of Himself (note at Matt 8:20). Benjamin was the son of Jacob's right hand. Jesus is the Son of God's right hand - the one especially honored and exalted (Acts 5:30,31). When He bore our sins as our substitute God's hand was on Him to for yourself.

- 18 Then we will not turn back from you.
Revive us, and we will call on your name.
19 Restore us, O LORD God of hosts; cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.

To the chief musician, on Gittith.
A Psalm of Asaph

- 1 Sing aloud to God our strength!
Make a joyful sound to the God of Jacob!
2 Take up a psalm, and assign the tambourine, the pleasant harp with the lyre.
3 Blow the trumpet in the new moon at the set time, on our solemn feast day.
4 For this is a statute for Israel,
and a law of the God of Jacob.
5 He ordained this in Joseph for a testimony, when he went throughout the land of Egypt,
where I heard a language that I did not understand.
6 God says "I removed the burden from his shoulder.
His hands were freed from the baskets.

- 7 You called out in trouble,
and I rescued you.
I answered you in the secret place of thunder.
I tested you at the waters of Meribah.

- 8 Hear, O my people, and I will testify to you.
O Israel, if only you would listen to me!
9 You must have no foreign god among you,
nor worship any alien god.
10 I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt.
Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.
11 But my people would not listen to my voice,
and Israel would have none of me.
12 So I gave them up to their own hearts' desire;
and they walked in their own counsels.
13 Oh, that my people had listened to me,
and Israel had walked in my ways!
14 I would soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my hand against their adversaries.
15 The haters of the LORD would have submitted themselves to him,
and their time would have gone on forever.
16 He would also have fed them with the finest of the wheat, and with honey out of the rock I would have satisfied you."

punish sin. Later the same hand exalted Him to the highest place in the universe - Eph 1:19-22; Phil 2:9-11.

80:18 When God's hand is on the Son of His right hand it will have eternal results. He is the one who will keep His people from turning away from God. To enable us to call on God as we ought in spirit and in truth we need to be given new life. And when we are given this new life we will certainly call on God.

81 Title: Gittith was probably a musical term.

81:1-5 Joy is the result of putting God first in life, of obeying His will. Here the subject is the joy of God's people at the time of one of the national festivals (Leviticus chapter 23). To understand this psalm it is not necessary to identify which one is meant here.

81:5 The tribe of Joseph was the leading tribe of Israel in Egypt and here seems to signify the whole of Israel. The phrase "a language that I did not understand" is obscure in Hebrew. Does Asaph mean the words that follow which were spoken by God? Does he identify himself with Israel in Egypt and mean the language of the Egyptians? The literal translation is "I will hear a lip I did not know" - a voice not known.

81:6-16 In all these verses God is speaking through Asaph. See 2 Pet 1:21.

81:6 Ex 1:8-14.

81:7 Ex 2:23-25; 19:19; 20:18; 17:6,7;

Num 20:13.

81:8 God longs to bless His people but cannot justly do so unless they listen to Him - vs 13-16.

81:9 Ex 20:3; Deut 5:7; 32:12.

81:10 It is not men who beg God to be allowed to come to Him and be cared for by Him. It is God who has to beseech men! It is God who constantly has to urge men to pray, not men who have to try to get God to let them pray. God is far more eager to bless men than they are to seek His blessing. God wants to fill His people with good things. The mouth here of course represents the whole person. God will give us all we need, both material and spiritual things. It is our part to fully open our minds, our hearts, our lives to Him (37:4; 107:9; Matt 7:7-11).

81:11 This was the sin, the tragedy of Israel throughout most of its history.

81:12 A very terrible punishment but a perfectly just one (Prov 1:30,31; Rom 1:24,26,28; 2 Thess 2:10-12; Rev 22:11,12). The person or the people who will not listen to God is in grave danger (Heb 12:25).

81:13-16 These are only a few of the blessings God promises His people when they listen and obey. Notice the word "soon" in v 14. It indicates God's heart to bless His people when it is just and right to do so.

A song, a Psalm of Asaph

- children of the Most High'.
7 But you will die like men,
and fall like one of the rulers."
8 Arise, O God, judge the earth, for you will inherit all nations.
- 1 Do not keep silent, O God;
do not be quiet and do not be still, O God.
 - 2 For, look, your enemies make an uproar, and those who hate you have lifted up their head.
 - 3 They have craftily plotted against your people, and conspired together against your hidden ones.

82:1 "Gods" – or it could possibly be translated "mighty ones" or "rulers." Who are the people mentioned in this verse and in v 6? They were not the gods worshiped then by some people in the land of Israel or by the nations outside Israel. God had nothing to do with such "gods", and was not speaking to them in this psalm. In fact, God says they are not gods at all and that He alone is God (Ex 20:3; Isa 37:19; 44:6,7; 46:9; Jer 16:20; 1 Cor 8:4-6; Gal 4:8).

The "gods" in this psalm were the leaders, the judges in Israel. In Hebrew they are called "gods" in Ex 21:6 and 22:7,8 (translated "judges" in the KJV). God called them gods because they were appointed by God and acted as God's representatives and judged on God's behalf.

The work of determining punishment for evil doers and clearing the innocent is the work of God or of those whom God delegates to do so (Deut 1:17; 19:17; 2 Chron 19:6,7; Rom 13:1-4). Judges must understand that they themselves will be judged by God. The judges in Israel had become corrupt, and were perverting justice. So God Himself speaks to them through the mouth of Asaph. Since judges stand in God's place to administer justice, any perversion of justice, any partiality, any taking of bribes is a terrible sin not merely against men but against God.

82:2 "How long?" – God now begins to speak to the judges.

82:3,4 See 10:18; 41:1; Deut 24:17; Isa 1:17; 11:4; Jer 22:16.

82:5 "They" – God speaks of the unjust judges.

"They do not know" – Jer 4:22; Micah 3:1-3. Darkness signifies both ignorance and wickedness. Because of the perversion of justice the whole of society shakes and totters. If the foundation is rotten how can the building stand?

82:6 The Lord Jesus quoted this verse in John 10:34. He defines who the "gods" of this psalm are as those "to whom the Word of God came." The Word of God came to the leaders, rulers, and judges of Israel, all of whom at various times judged the people. They were God's representatives. Their national relationship to God was as children to a father. Individually many of them may have been wicked men who did not know, trust, or serve God, and were not God's spiritual children.

82:7 Though they had a very high position and were called "gods", they would die like everyone else, and perhaps even be destroyed suddenly as indicated by the word "fall."

82:8 These human judges had become so blind and corrupt that Asaph prays that God Himself will come and do the work of judging. This prayer God will yet answer (96:13; 98:9; John 5:22,27; Acts 17:31; Rev 20:11,12).

83 Title: In the recorded history of Israel we never read of the exact alliance against Israel of all the nations mentioned in this psalm. It is probable that Asaph is reviewing attacks on Israel made by different nations at different times. In other words, all Israel's enemies were of one mind through the centuries to destroy it from being a nation.

83:1 God's enemies were not silent – v 2. Let God speak and silence them.

83:2 God raised up the nation Israel to be the channel for bringing His Word, His truth, His salvation to the world. Those who hated Israel were haters of light, of truth, of God. Today those who hate Christ's believers are in the same sad condition. They are haters of God – John 3:20; 15:18,24; Rom 1:30; 1 John 3:13.

83:3 "Hidden ones" – or possibly "treasured ones" or the combined idea of hidden treasure. To God that is what believers are.

83:4-8 Diverse people who have no common interests are united in one thing – they all oppose God and would like to

- 4 They have said,
 "Come, and let us cut them off as a nation,
 so that the name of Israel may be remembered no more."
 5 For they have consulted together with one purpose;
 they have formed an alliance against you:
 6 The tents of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, of Moab, and the Hagarenes, 7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek,
 the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre;
 8 Assyria too has joined with them;
 they have helped the children of Lot.

Selah

- 9 Do to them as you did to the Midianites, to Sisera, to Jabin, at the Kishon river,

 they became like refuse on the ground.
 11 Make their leaders like Oreb and like Zeeb; yes, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna, 12 Who said, "Let us take possession of the pastures of God for ourselves."
 13 O my God, make them like a rolling wheel, like chaff before the wind.
 14 As the fire burns a forest, destroy the people of God. So Herod and Pilate, former enemies, became allies and friends at the crucifixion of Christ (Luke 23:12. See Ps 2:2).

83:4 Pharaoh in Egypt, the nations around Canaan, Haman in Persia, and many others since including Adolph Hitler in Germany have tried to crush the Jews and exterminate them as a people. All such attempts failed and cannot but fail. God has always had His purposes with Israel and He will certainly fulfill them. Likewise there have been attempts made by various peoples at various times to exterminate the followers of Christ. It is utterly impossible to do so (Matt 16:18). In fact such attempts have often resulted in an increase in their numbers, power, and purity.

83:6-8 The enemies mentioned here were on all sides of Israel, east, south, west, and north.

83:9-12 Asaph bases his prayer on the history of Israel. Jud 4:7,15,21-24; 7:1-25; 8:12,21.

83:12 Israel's "pastures" belong to God.

83:13-15 Note on such prayers at 35:8.

83:16-18 The inspired psalmists always had good reasons for praying for their enemies' defeat or destruction (see 7:6-9). Here Asaph gives two reasons: that men may seek the true God (v 16), and may know that Jehovah alone is the God of the universe (v 18). So Asaph's prayer does not arise from a vindictive heart or motives of human revenge, but from a desire for God's glory and the good of those who will seek God and come to know Him. On this high

To the chief musician on gittith,
 a Psalm for the sons of Korah

- 1 How lovely are your tabernacles,
 O LORD of hosts!
 2 My soul longs, yes, even faints for the courts of the LORD.
 My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
 3 Even the sparrow has found a house,
 and the swallow a nest for herself where she may put her young,

note the psalms of Asaph are at an end.

84 Title: Note on the sons of Korah at psalm 42. Here, as there, we do not know whether this psalm was written by one of the sons of Korah or for them as a group to put to music and sing. It sounds like a psalm of David but we cannot be sure that it is his. Gittith was probably a musical term.

84:1 "Lovely" – the Hebrew word could be translated "beloved" or "dearly loved." The writer is not admiring the beauty of God's dwellings, but revealing how much they mean to him, how he longs to be there.

"LORD of hosts" – note at 1 Sam 1:3.

84:2 See 42:1,2; 63:1,2. From this we judge that the writer is at a distance from Jerusalem and unable to get there. But just the thought of being there to worship God brings joy to his heart. The worship of God in the congregation of other believers was a delight to him. No one had to force him to go to such meetings. The compulsion was inward and constant. How is it with us in regard to attending places where Christ is worshiped?

84:3,4 He could even envy the birds who find some place in the tabernacle compound to live. And he thinks of the priests who dwell there and so have daily opportunities to join in worship. Observe how he addresses God with assurance and joy "my King, my God." Verse 4 gives us the first of three "blessed's" in this psalm. We might call this psalm "the blessed life."

The blessed are those who are near God (v 4), even your altars, O LORD of hosts,

my King, and my God.

4 Blessed are those who dwell in your house;
they will always be praising you. Selah

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in you, in whose heart are the ways of pilgrimage,

6 who when passing through the valley of Baca make it a spring.

The rain also fills the pools.

7 They go from strength to strength, every one of them appears in Zion
in the presence of God.

8 O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer.
Give ear, O God of Jacob.

Selah

9 See, O God our shield, and look on the face of your anointed.

10 For a day in your courts is better than who are strong in God (v 5), who are pilgrims in heart (v 5),

and who trust in God (v 12).

For other references to "blessed" see note at 1:1.

84:5 "Strength" - 18:1,2; 28:7; 31:4; 73:26. Some of the appointed religious festivals in Israel were times when God's people came from all over the land up to Jerusalem to worship. The writer here says the blessed person is not the one who physically treads the ways leading to Zion, but the one who has the ways in his heart, the one who delights to be a pilgrim, a traveler to the city of God. This speaks of the pilgrim life that believers are now to lead, moving on from this sad and sinful world to the heavenly Zion (Heb 11:13-16; 1 Pet 2:11).

84:6 Baca probably means "weeping." We do not know where this valley was or why it was called the valley of weeping. We do not need to know. It is enough to know that even through the vale of tears, the sad experiences of the pilgrim life, and the desolations of the rocky desert, faith can make it all a well of comfort, joy, and refreshing (Acts 16:22-25; 2 Cor 1:5; Phil 2:17; Col 1:24).

84:7 In the long journey, instead of finding themselves growing weaker and weaker, they find more and more strength (103:5; Isa 40:30,31; 2 Cor 4:7-10,16; 12:9,10).
Every pilgrim arrived at last in God's presence - Ex 23:17; 34:23; Deut 16:16. Every real pilgrim, every true believer, will at last appear with joy before God's presence in the heavenly Zion (John 14:3; 17:24;
2 Cor 5:1; Eph 1:4; Col 3:4; Jude 24,25).

84:8 See 4:1; 5:1; 54:2; 140:6. The writers of the psalms could not be satisfied with unanswered prayer. Note on the God of Jacob at 146:5.

84:9 See 3:3; 5:12; 28:7; 35:2. This is a prayer for the king.

84:10 Words could hardly express more a thousand elsewhere.

I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than live in the tents of wickedness.

11 For the LORD God is a sun and shield.

The LORD will give grace and glory.

No good thing will he withhold from those who walk in integrity.

12 O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man who trusts in you.

85

To the chief musician,
a Psalm for the sons of Korah

1 LORD, you have been favourable to your land.

You have brought Jacob back from captivity.

clearly the attitude we should have toward the worship and service of God. One day spent before God is more valuable than three years spent somewhere else. Doing the most menial task God gives us to do is more satisfying and important than all the activities of the sinful world. God's least is far better than the devil's best. Humble service for God is so far above all the luxuries, riches, and pleasures of wicked people that there is really no comparison.

The Korahites, by whom or for whom this psalm was written, were actual doorkeepers at the house of God (1 Chron 9:19). We will not be the kind of people God wants us to be until we have right views about the service of God. It should be our delight to do something, to do anything, for our Saviour who has done everything for us.

84:11 God is the one who gives light on the pilgrim's path and protection from their enemies. And He gives all we need for the journey now and honor hereafter (John 1:16; Rom 5:2; 1 Cor 1:4; 15:10; 2 Cor
12:9; John 12:26; 17:22; Rom 2:10; 8:17,18; 2 Cor 4:17; Col 1:27; 2 Tim
2:10; Heb 2:10; 1 Pet 1:7).

"Good" - 34:9,10; 37:25; Matt 7:11;
Rom 8:28; Phil 4:19. But we must leave the choice of what is good for us (and what is not good) to God. And we should see that our walk is blameless before Him.

84:12 See 2:12; 40:4. Faith is the hand that receives all of God's blessings.

85 Title: See note at psalm 42. This psalm divides naturally into three parts. In the first 3 verses the author remembers God's favor shown at a previous time. In vs 4-7 he pleads for God to act again in the same way. In vs 8-13 he gives the message he has received from God.

85:1 We do not know what specific time the writer had in mind. He may be referring to several different events such as are

- 2 You have forgiven the wickedness of your people.
You have covered all their sin.
- Selah*
- 3 You have removed all your wrath.
You have turned away from the fierceness of your anger.
- 4 Restore us, O God of our salvation, and cause your anger toward us to cease.
- 5 Will you be angry with us forever?
Will you prolong your anger to all generations?
- 6 Will you not revive us again,
that your people may rejoice in you?
- 7 Show us your mercy, O LORD,
and grant us your salvation.
- 8 I will hear what God the LORD will speak;
for he will speak peace to his people,
and to his saints.
But let them not turn back to folly.
- 9 Surely his salvation is near those who fear him,

- so that glory may dwell in our land.
- 10 Mercy and truth have met together;
righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- 11 Truth will spring out of the earth, and righteousness will look down
from heaven.
- 12 Yes, the LORD will give what is good,
and our land will yield its crops.
- 13 Righteousness will go before him,
and will set us in the way of his steps.

A prayer of David

- 1 Bow down your ear, O LORD, hear me;
for I am poor and needy.
- 2 Preserve my soul, for I am godly.

recorded in the book of Judges.

“Brought back. . . from captivity” – or “restored the well-being of.” The Hebrew can mean to deliver from either physical or spiritual captivity, or from afflictions of various kinds (14:7; 53:6; 68:18; Job 42:10).

85:2 Note at 32:1,2.

85:3 See 78:38; 106:23. Sin is what brings the anger of God. When sin is forgiven and covered the anger of God departs. Notes on God’s anger at 90:7-11; Num 25:3.

85:4 If God had already restored them and withdrawn His anger why this prayer that He would do so? Evidently the people had once again fallen into sin. Compare Jud 2:11-19; Ezra 9:5-10.

85:5 See 74:1; 79:5; 80:4.

85:6,7 There is no real joy without spiritual life and an experience of God’s grace and salvation. Since God wants His people to forsake their sins and be happy this is a prayer based on the solid foundation of the will of God.

85:8 It is not enough to speak to God. We must also let Him speak to us. If we listen to what He says to us He will listen to what we say to Him. And if we do not stop praying before He answers but look forward in faith, He will surely answer. Here the psalmist has received a message of peace and righteousness. Righteousness is used three times in the remaining verses and so is a key word. God’s people will quickly lose God’s peace if they turn back to foolish, sinful ways.

85:9 God’s glory dwelt in Jerusalem because there were still some in the land who feared God. It departed from the temple in Ezekiel’s time – Ezek 10:18,19; 11:23. With the coming of Christ God’s glory came again to Israel in a deeper, fuller way (John 1:14). Notes on the fear of God at 34:11-14; 111:10; Job 28:28; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7.

85:10 These four great attributes of God meet and embrace in the Lord Jesus Christ. Especially at the cross of Jesus we see these all combined. At Calvary there was the greatest display of God’s grace and mercy it is possible to conceive. There the truth of man’s nature, Christ’s nature, and God the Father’s nature brilliantly shines forth. There the righteousness of God which demands punishment for man’s sin is fulfilled and peace between a holy God and sinful man flows forth (Rom 3:21-26; 2 Cor 5:18,19; Col 1:19,20). Peace must be based on righteousness (Isa 32:17). Peace not based on righteousness is no real peace at all.

85:11 Isa 45:8. Through the work of Christ on the cross it is as though the seed of truth was planted in the earth, which will continue to spring up and produce an abundant harvest. Righteousness will look peacefully, smilingly down from heaven. The earth still waits the complete fulfillment of this verse.

85:12 See 84:11; Jam 1:17.

85:13 See 89:14. Where God goes righteousness will always go too and where righteousness goes grace and truth will follow. When we follow after God all these will be ours.

86 Title: In this third division of the psalms this is the only one ascribed to David. It is called a prayer, and in it he not only gives his personal prayer but shows us the grounds on which we may expect to get answers to our prayers. Let us observe them very carefully. They will help us in our praying.

86:1 The first reason David gives that God should answer his prayer is his deep need and the fact that he prays to the LORD (Jehovah), the true and only God, the God who had made a covenant with Israel and whose nature is compassionate and merciful (v 15; Ex 34:6,7).

86:2 Another reason why God should answer his prayer is the relationship he has

- O my God, save your servant who trusts in you.
- 3 Be merciful to me, O Lord,
for I cry out to you daily.
- 4 Cause the soul of your servant
to rejoice, for to you, O Lord,
I lift up my soul.
- 5 For you, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive,
and abundant in mercy to all those who call on you.
- 6 Give ear, O LORD, to my prayer, and be attentive to the voice of my supplications.
- 7 In the day of my trouble I will call on you,
for you will answer me.
- 8 Among the gods there is no one like you,
O Lord,
nor are there any works like yours.
- 9 All nations whom you have made will come and worship before you,
O Lord, and will glorify your name.
- 10 For you are great and do wonderful things.
You alone are God.
- 11 Teach me your way, O LORD.
I will walk in your truth.
Unite my heart to fear your name.
- 12 I will praise you, O Lord my God,
with all my heart,
and I will glorify your name forevermore.
- 13 For great is your mercy toward me,
and you have delivered my soul from
the depths of hell.
- 14 O God, the proud have risen up against me,
and a mob of violent men have sought my life,
and have not set you before them.
- 15 But you, O Lord, are a God full of compassion, and gracious, slow to get angry, and abundant in mercy and truth.
- 16 Oh, turn to me, and have mercy on me.
Give your strength to your servant,
and save the son of your maid servant.
- 17 Show me a sign for good, so that those who hate me may see it and be ashamed;
because you, LORD, have helped me,
and comforted me.

with God. God is his God, the one he trusts and loves. He is God's worshiper, God's servant. The prayer of the wicked is an abomination, and God does not hear sinners – 66:18; Prov 15:29; 28:9; Isa 1:15; John 9:31. But God hears His servants who walk righteously and try to keep His Word.

Another good reason why God should hear him is that he trusts in God. If we trust in ourselves, or in false gods or idols we have no ground for expecting God to answer us. But when our trust is in Him alone He will give us all we need (37:5; Mark 11:24; Heb 11:6,32-34).

86:3 A further reason why God should hear him – he does not faint and give up but continues in faith and expectation. Jesus taught how important persistence is in prayer – Luke 11:5-10; 18:1-8.

86:4 David gives a further reason why God should answer him. He seeks help in God alone and not from some other source.

86:5 The last ground for believing prayer is the character of God. David does not claim perfection for himself. He knows there are things in his life that will require forgiveness. But God is always ready to forgive (103:3; 130:4; 1 John 1:9). He shows great love to all who call on Him – will He not also to us? See Rom 10:12.

86:6,7 The reasons David has given that God will answer him are good and sufficient, so his faith is firm and he is sure God will hear his prayer. We too should learn to pray with the same confidence.

86:8-10 If the God to whom we pray is to answer our prayers two things are required – He must be willing to answer, and He must be able to answer. David has shown God's willingness in the preceding verses. Now he speaks of God's ability, and contrasts it with the inability of all others that are called gods. See how He speaks of God's power – He has made all nations. Therefore He can answer people when they call. David speaks as a prophet when he says all nations will come to God (compare Micah 4:1,2; Zech 14:16; Rev 7:9; 21:24-26). For the time will come when the world will realize that the God of the Bible is the great Creator, the only God there is.

86:11-17 David knew both God's willingness and ability to answer prayer. Knowing that God will answer him, he now continues his requests.

86:11 "Teach" – see note at 25:5. An undivided or united heart is the opposite of a double mind (Jam 1:6-8). It means to have a heart resting in one object – God Himself, and not struggling between different aims, motives, and desires.

"Fear" – 34:11-14; 111:10; Job 28:28; Gen 20:11; Prov 1:7; etc. See how David prays that he might have a proper fear of God. He knew it was the very foundation of the spiritual life.

86:12 The only proper response to answered prayer is this.

86:13 See 30:3. "Hell" – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

86:14 This was the cause of his sad condition described in v 1. David may be referring either to his persecution by king Saul, or the time of Absalom's rebellion.

86:15 See 86:5; 103:8; Ex 34:6,7.

86:16 See 18:1; 28:7; 31:4.

86:17 He wants manifest proof of God's blessing and help that others can see so

A Psalm, a song for the sons of Korah

- 1 His foundation is in the holy mountains.
- 2 The LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.
- 3 Glorious things are spoken of you,
O city of God.
- 4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to those who know me.
See Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia:
this one was born there.
- 5 And it will be said of Zion,
"This one and that man was born in her;
and the Most High himself will establish her."
- 6 When the LORD writes up the register of the peoples,

Selah

they will stop their persecution.

87:1 This is a very remarkable psalm and one of the most remarkable chapters in the Old Testament. In it we see the nations surrounding Israel, Israel's ancient enemies, united with Israel and become the "children" of Jerusalem by a new birth. The psalm is an expansion of 86:9. The holy mountain is Mt Zion. It was holy because it was sanctified by God's temple and God's presence.

87:2 God chose Jerusalem over all the cities of Israel, all the cities of the world to be His capital city. He did not love it because it was the largest or most beautiful of cities; it was neither. Rather, He loved it because of its spiritual associations. It contained His temple; it represented His chosen people; it was a symbol of the Jerusalem which is above; it was the city where Christ would show His eternal love for men and for God.

87:3 Some of these glorious things are recorded in the next verses.

87:4-7 Rahab here probably means Egypt which had persecuted Israel (89:10; Isa 51:9). Babylon was later to destroy Jerusalem and take captive God's people. The Philistines also engaged in frequent wars against Israel. Tyre became a great and proud city that opposed God.

"Ethopia" - in Hebrew "Cush." This was the region of the upper Nile river including a part of present-day Ethiopia, and here probably represents more distant peoples of earth. This verse gives a prophecy of a great change that will take place. These nations will come to know God, they will be born in Zion. This is repeated in v 5 and v 6.

The meaning is this - Jerusalem will become the source of spiritual life to the nations of the world, the new birth of individuals and peoples will be closely connected with events that take place there. All fountains of spiritual life, of eternal joy and gladness are there. Can this refer to anything other than the crucifixion and resurrection of

he will record that this one was born there.

Selah

- 7 Both the singers and the musicians will say, "All my springs are in you."

88

A song, a Psalm for the sons of Korah,
to the chief musician on Mahalath-leannoth,
a maskil of Heman the Ezrahite

- 1 O LORD, God of my salvation, I have cried out day and night before you.
- 2 Let my prayer come before you.
Bow down your ear to my cry,
- 3 For my soul is full of troubles,
and my life draws near to the grave.
- 4 I am counted with those who go down into the pit.

the Lord Jesus in Jerusalem two thousand years ago? Because of those events, and those alone, we may be born again and the nations of the world brought to God. The fountains of eternal life were not in Athens, city of philosophy, nor in Rome, city of imperial power, nor in Babylon, city of idolatry. They flow from Jerusalem alone, city of the great King of heaven.

88 Title: Heman is mentioned in 1 Chron 6:33,42, but we know very little about him. This is the only psalm of his we have. Of all the psalms this is the saddest one. There is not a hint of happiness in it. It reveals a heart very badly depressed, a mind filled with gloomy thoughts. In this regard it is similar to certain utterances of Job (chapters 3,6,7) and parts of Lamentations (3:1-18).

God's servants sometimes may be called to go through such experiences (see 66:11,12; Isa 50:10). At such times prayers like these are acceptable to God. He does not ask us to try to hide from Him what we feel and think. In every experience of life we can pour out our hearts before Him - 62:8.

Mahalath leannoth may have indicated the tune to be used when singing this psalm. It means "Suffering Affliction." Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

88:1 Observe carefully that in all the darkness that comes over him, and in all the troubles he is immersed in, he holds to one great truth. The LORD (Jehovah) is the God of his salvation (see also 22:1; 42:5). And he continues to cry out to God though he thinks he has not yet been heard (v 9. Compare 22:2; 86:3; Luke 18:7) - a good example to us all.

88:2 See 18:6; 31:2; 86:1.

88:3 "Grave" - "Sheol" - note at Gen 37:35.

88:3-6 He is so troubled that he feels he is already in the realm of the dead. He probably was suffering with a severe illness. His strength is gone and he thinks he will not live much longer. Illness of the body

I am like a man who has no strength,
 5 Adrift among the dead, like the slain who lie in the grave, whom you remember no more and who are cut off from the care of your hand.
 6 You have laid me in the lowest pit,
 in darkness, in the depths.
 7 Your wrath lies heavy on me, and you have afflicted me with all your waves.

Selah

8 You have put away my acquaintances far
 from me.
 You have made me an abomination to them.
I am shut up, and I cannot get out.

9 My eye wastes away because of misery.
 LORD, I have called out daily to you,
 I have stretched out my hands to you.
 10 Will you show wonders to the dead?
 Will the dead rise up and praise you?

Selah

11 Will your loving kindness be declared in the grave, or your faithfulness in the place of destruction?
 12 Will your wonders be known in the place of darkness, and your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?
 13 But to you I have cried out, O LORD, and in the morning my prayer comes before you.

 14 LORD, why do you cast away my soul?
Why do you hide your face from me?
 15 I am afflicted and about to die from my youth up.
 I suffer your terrors and I am perplexed.
 16 Your fierce wrath has come over me.
 Your terrors have cut me off.
 17 All day long they came around me like water.
 They altogether engulfed me.
 18 You have put loved one and friend far
 from me,
and my acquaintance into darkness.

89

A maskil of Ethan the Ezrahite

- 1 I will sing of the mercies of the LORD
 forever.
 With my mouth I will make known your faithfulness to all generations.
- 2 For I have said,
 "Mercy will stand firm forever;
 you will establish your faithfulness in the very heavens."
- 3 You have said "I have made a covenant with my chosen one;

may cause depression of the mind.

88:7 He mentions God's wrath and terrors again in vs 15,16. His experiences made him think that God was angry with him. And it is possible that he was conscious of some sin which brought God's anger against him. But it may be that he was not guilty, and that God was not angry but only testing His servant as He did Job (Job 6:4; 16:9-17; 31:23). Sickness or other difficult experiences that may come to us are not evidence in themselves that God is angry with us (Job chapters 1 and 2).

88:8 Verse 18; 31:11; 142:4; Job 19:13,19; 30:10.

88:9 See 6:7; 31:9.

88:10-12 In the days in which the author lived little had been revealed about the realm of the dead. Note at Job 10:21,22.

88:11 "Destruction" - in Hebrew "Abaddon."

88:13 See 5:3; 30:2; 119:147.

88:14 See 13:1; 43:2; 44:9,24; Job 13:24.

88:15-17 All day and every day he faced nothing but experiences which caused fear and pain. His were much like Job's experiences.

88:18 Can one go deeper into depression than the experience seen in this psalm? No light, no comfort, no help, no cheer, no understanding of what was happening - only darkness surrounded him. But after writing this did he not, like Job, find joy in God again? It is not impossible to believe so (Jam 5:11).

89 Title: This is another psalm of the Mesiah - one contains a prophecy about the Lord Jesus Christ. The author is Ethan, a colleague of Heman and Asaph in the days of king David (1 Chron 15:19). This is the only psalm of his we have. He may have written it in very old age at the time of the division of the kingdom of Israel into two parts during the time of Rehoboam. Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

89:1 Here he gives the theme of the psalm - the mercy and faithfulness of the LORD (Jehovah), the covenant God of Israel. God's faithfulness is mentioned by name in vs 1, 2, 5, 8, 14, 24, 33, 49. The same attribute is indicated by the words "I will not lie" in v 35, and "I have sworn" or "you swore" in vs 3,35,49. God's mercy is spoken of in vs 1, 2, 14, 24, 28, 33, 49.

"All generations" - through this psalm Ethan has been declaring the faithfulness of God for about 3000 years of generations.

89:2 God's mercy and faithfulness are permanent, fixed, and eternal (103:17; 114:89,90). There is no change of mind, no going back, no shadow of turning with God (1 Sam 15:29; Titus 1:2; Jam 1:17), and no one can separate His loved ones from His love (Rom 8:38,39).

89:3,4 Here Ethan refers to the covenant

- I have sworn to my servant David:
 4 I will establish your offspring forever, and make your throne firm to all generations.”
- Selah*
- 5 And the heavens will praise your wonders,
 O LORD,
 and also your faithfulness in the congregation of the saints.
 6 For who in the heavens can be compared to the LORD?
Who among the sons of the mighty can be likened to the LORD?
 7 God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be regarded with reverence by all those who are around him.
 8 O LORD God of hosts, who is powerful like you, O LORD?
 Your faithfulness surrounds you.
 9 You rule the raging of the sea.
 When its waves rise up, you still them.
 10 You have broken Rahab in pieces, like one who is slain.
 You have scattered your enemies with your strong arm.
 11 The heavens are yours,
 the earth also is yours.
As for the world and its fulness,
 you have founded them.
 12 You have created the north and the south.
 Tabor and Hermon will rejoice in your name.
 13 You have a mighty arm.
 Your hand is strong, and your right

- hand is exalted.
 14 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne.
 Mercy and truth go before your face.
 15 Blessed are the people who know the joyful sound.
 They will walk, O LORD, in the light of your countenance.
 16 In your name they will rejoice all day long,
 and in your righteousness they will be exalted.
 17 For you are the glory of their strength, and by your favour our horn will be exalted.
 18 For the LORD is our defense, and the Holy One of Israel is our king.
 19 Then you spoke in a vision to your holy one, and said,
 “I have granted help to one who is mighty.
 I have exalted one chosen from the people.
 20 I have found David my servant.
 I have anointed him with my holy oil.
 21 With him my hand will be established;
 my arm will also strengthen him.
 22 The enemy will not make him a debtor,
 nor will the son of wickedness oppress him.
 23 And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague those who hate him.
 24 But my faithfulness and my mercy will be
 with him,
 and in my name his horn will be exalted.
 25 I will also set his hand over the sea,
 and his right hand over the rivers.
 26 He will cry out to me,
 “You are my father, my God,

God made with David. See 2 Sam 7:8-16. From here to the end of the psalm he writes of God's love and faithfulness as they relate to this covenant.

89:5-13 Ethan is disappointed by the way in which God has dealt with the house of David (vs 38-51). It seems to him that such ruin is beginning in Israel that the fulfillment of God's promise is endangered. Why should this be? Is God not able to fulfill His word to David? In these verses (5-13) Ethan reminds himself of God's almighty power. There is no one like Him (vs 6,8). He controls the elements of nature (v 9); He subdued Egypt and other enemies (v 10); He is the Creator who possesses all things (vs 11,12). God is well able to do all He said to David (v 13).

89:10 "Rahab" - 87:4.

89:14-16 God is not only able to keep His promises, His whole character must cause Him to do so. Verse 14 is a very wonderful verse. On earth all too often dishonesty, corruption, and injustice reign supreme. But we can and should rejoice that righteousness and justice are the very foundations of God's throne. God will not turn a hair's breadth from perfect justice and holiness. This is indeed a cause of rejoicing all day long.

89:17,18 Ethan encouraged himself by these facts. God is gracious, God is mighty, and God has Israel under His protection and has chosen Israel's king. "Horn" here means strength.

89:19-37 With the mention of the king in v 18 Ethan returns to the theme of God's covenant with David. The person in v 19 to whom the vision came was Nathan the prophet (2 Sam 7:4,17). The mighty one is David.

89:20 See 1 Sam 13:14; 16:1-13.

89:21 See 18:35; 80:17.

89:23 See 18:40; 2 Sam 7:9.

89:24 Horn means power, strength, authority. This verse and those following up to v 37 refer to David, but also to the Lord Jesus the son of David. David the king was a type of the Lord Jesus the king of heaven and earth (132:17; Luke 1:69).

89:25 See 72:8.

89:26 "Father" - 2 Sam 7:14; John 17:1,5,11,21,24,25.

and the rock of my salvation.'

- 27 Also I will make him my firstborn,
the highest of the kings of the earth.
28 I will keep my mercy for him forevermore, and my covenant will stand firm with him.
29 I will also cause his offspring to remain
forever,
and his throne as long as the days of heaven.
30 If his children forsake my law,
and do not walk in my judgments,
31 If they break my statutes,
and do not keep my commandments, 32 Then I will punish their transgression with the rod,
and their wickedness with blows.
33 Nevertheless, I will not completely take my loving kindness from him,
or allow my faithfulness to fail.
34 I will not break my covenant, or alter what has gone out of my lips.
35 Once I have sworn by my holiness that I will not lie to David.
36 His offspring will remain forever, and his throne as long as the sun
before me.
37 It will be established forever like the moon, and like the faithful witness in the heavens."

- Selah
- 38 But you have cast him away and abhorred him.
You have been angry with your anointed one.
39 You have spurned the covenant with your servant.
You have defiled his crown by throwing it down on the ground.
40 You have broken down all his walls;
you have brought his strongholds to ruin.
41 All who pass by the way plunder him.
He is an object of reproach to his neighbours.
42 You have set up the right hand of his foes.
You have caused all his enemies to rejoice.
43 You have also turned away the edge of his sword,
and have not caused him to stand in battle.
44 You have made his glory cease, and cast his throne down to the ground.
45 You have shortened the days of his youth.
You have covered him with shame.

Selah
- 46 How long, LORD?
Will you hide yourself forever?

"Rock" – Deut 32:4.

89:27 Firstborn means the one who has the pre-eminence (2:7; Col 1:15,18; Rev 1:5).
"Highest" – 72:11; Rev 19:16.

"Make him" – indicates this is not based on order of birth but has to do with high position. A person born first, before any other child, cannot be "made" the firstborn – he is the firstborn.

89:28,29 Observe the word "forever." As long as the heavens endure so long will remain the throne of David, and the Lord Jesus will occupy it (Isa 9:7; Luke 1:32; Acts 2:30). The covenant God made with David went far beyond the earthly rule of a small kingdom in western Asia. It concerned the eternal rule of God's Son over the whole world.

89:30-37 These verses apply first of all to David's descendants, but they are true also of all who are children of God by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. From Bible history we know that many of David's descendants violated God's covenant and failed to follow God's law. God's children now likewise fail in many ways. They may prove, and in fact, often do prove, to be unfaithful. But God will not be unfaithful because they are (Rom 3:3,4; 2 Tim 2:13). Nothing will keep Him from fulfilling His promises to David. He will punish unfaithfulness on the part of His people. He will chastise all of His sons (Heb 12:5-13). But He will never make void the covenant He made with David. David's royal house (the meaning of throne here) will last forever.

89:38-45 Ethan now reveals what has troubled his mind. He can't understand why God has been acting toward the house of David as He has. He uses very strong language to God and even accuses Him of ignoring His covenant with David. Ethan knows this cannot be true, but it seems to be true; so he pours out his heart to God. We do not know the circumstances that called forth these words. Perhaps it was something God revealed to Ethan that would happen in the future. The destruction of Judah by the Babylonians and the captivity there of Judah's king and people would fit the language here. But Ethan lived several hundreds of years before that event – unless the author of this psalm was an Ethan other than the one who lived in David's time.

Observe here that Ethan says that the source of all the calamities that have come on David's house is God Himself – "You have cast him away and abhorred him", "You have spurned," etc. Whatever human instruments were involved, Ethan was sure that it was God who was behind it all. And because of God's action David's throne, which God said would remain forever, was cast to the ground (v 44). This was a puzzle to Ethan.

Many things in life will puzzle and dismay believers if they are too much occupied with circumstances. We must get our theology and find our rest, not in what seems to be happening in the world, but in God's unchanging and faithful Word.

BOOK 4 (Psalms 90 - 106)

A prayer of Moses the man of God

- 1 Lord, you have been our dwelling place in all generations.
- 2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or before you had formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, you are God.
- 3 You turn man to dust, and say, "Return, you children of men."
- 4 For a thousand years in your sight are like yesterday when it is past, and like a watch in the night.
- 5 You carry them away like a flood. They are like a sleep. In the morning they are like grass growing up;

restoration of God's favor to the house of David. He gives several reasons why he thinks God should answer his prayers – the brevity of life, the vanity of life without God's favor (vs 47,48), the promises of God (v 49), the suffering of God's people and the triumph of God's enemies (vs 50,51). See how fitly the last sentence in v 50 applies to the Lord Jesus.

89:48 "Grave" – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35. 89:52 Here is victory and peace for troubled hearts. No matter what seems to be happening, God is still the faithful God worthy of all praise (Phil 4:6,7).

90 Title: It is certain that a man of God will be a man of prayer. In the book of Psalms this is the only one attributed to Moses. This is one of the oldest poems in existence, being written about 3,400 years ago. In subject matter and choice of words it is weighty and solemn, much like the other writings of Moses we have.

90:1 Moses and the people of Israel were in the wilderness living in tents. They were coming from a land not their own to a land they had not possessed. They were like pilgrims and strangers on earth. But they had a fixed and permanent dwelling place – the Lord God Himself.

This is true also of believers in this New Testament era (John 17:21; Col 3:3; 1 John 4:15). When God is our home we have no business envying the rich for their mansions, or the kings for their palaces. Long after those mansions, those palaces crumble to dust the true home of believers, the living God, will still be there. Now if believers must inhabit poor huts and hovels or wander about in tents or seek refuge in caves (Heb 11:37,38), they should never forget that their present home and their eternal habitation is God.

90:2-6 Moses now contrasts God's eternity with man's brief, frail life.

90:2 God was there before creation and will be there when the present creation passes away. Creation added nothing to God, the passing of creation will take nothing away from God (93:2; 102:24,27; Deut 33:27; Jer 10:10; Rom 1:20).

90:3 But man was taken from the dust and will return to it (Gen 3:19; Ps 104:29). Oh, but how proud these frail and ignorant creatures are, even to the denying of the existence of the God who made them!

90:4 2 Peter 3:8. For us time drags by and we feel a hundred years to be a long time. With God even a thousand years is like a day – even less. A "watch" was a four hour period. Since there are six such "watches" in a twenty-four period, in God's eyes man's recorded history is only a day long, and the lifetime of an individual is only a few minutes. History to us seems like a film shown in very slow motion. To God it is otherwise. From His point of view, the point of view of eternity, it is as if Adam sinned very early in the morning and Christ came the same day and died for Adam and for all of us, and is prepared to come again the same day at midnight. It may be, as others have suggested, that God lives in the eternal "now" – where there is no passage of time, and all events are so clear to Him that it is as if there were happening together in rapid succession.

90:5 God lives on forever, but mankind, generation after generation, passes away like foam and bubbles on the top of a swiftly flowing river.

- 6 In the morning it flourishes and grows up,
in the evening it is cut down and withers.
- 7 For we are consumed by your anger and are dismayed by your wrath.
- 8 You have set our evil deeds before you, our secret sins in the light of your countenance.
- 9 For all our days are passed away in your wrath.
We spend our years as a tale that is told.
- 10 The days of our lives are seventy years,
and if because of strength they are eighty years, still their prime is labour and sorrow;
for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

90:6 Man is like grass that hardly survives a day (Isa 40:6-8; 1 Pet 1:24).

90:7-11 In these verses Moses sets forth the reasons why man's life is so brief, so full of trouble, so sorrowful. It is all the result of God's anger against man's sin. Remember that Moses was leading the people of Israel in the desert. Because of their unbelief and rebellion the whole generation that came out of Egypt who were 20 years of age and over were destroyed. We read of God's anger repeatedly coming on them (notes on His anger at Num 25:3 and Deut 4:25). Since God's anger was on His own people we can be sure it is on all the rest of mankind in its sin and unbelief (John 3:36; Rom 1:18).

But is God's anger on believers in this age of grace? God is always angry with sin wherever it is found. It is perfectly true that believers have been delivered from the wrath of God that will burn against all unbelievers in hell (Rom 5:9; 1 Thess 1:10; 5:9). But God is certainly angry with the sin that is in believers and with the sins they commit, and sometimes shows His anger in very clear ways (Eph 5:6; 1 Cor 11:27-30). Immorality, selfishness, deceit, lying, greed, envy, malicious gossip – such sins are no less hateful to God in believers than in unbelievers. God will always hate sin and fight against sin no matter where it is found.

90:7 Observe that the reason that men fade and wither away like grass and die is God's anger, and not merely some inevitable process of nature.

90:8 Here the reason for God's anger is stated. God has His holy, searching gaze on all the sins of men, their inner, secret sins as well as their outward, obvious transgressions.

90:9 Notice Moses' strong expression "all our days." But is it possible that God's people dwell in God and at the same time are surrounded by His anger? Indeed, yes. Dwelling in God means being in the bosom of God's holy nature, and this holy nature always burns like fire against all sin, all wrong. So believers are at the very heart of infinite anger against the evil that is in men. Their safety is in the love and grace which are also there.

"We spend our years as a tale that is told" – this could also be translated "we end so that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days
in which you have afflicted us, and the years in which we have seen our years like a sigh [or groan]."

90:10 A time that falls far short of the age of the ancients who lived nearly a thousand years (Genesis chapter 5). But still long enough for suffering believers. And too long for unrepentant sinners who, the longer they live, the more they store up wrath and punishment for themselves (Rom 2:4,5).

"Prime" – or "best of them", as it could be translated (the basic meaning of the Hebrew word is "pride"). Even the best years, the proudest, strongest years of our lives are soon over and are not free of trouble and sorrow.

90:11 God's anger is so great, so fierce against sin that no man can know it or understand it. It is revealed in terrible words in some parts of the Bible (see Lev 26:14-39; Deut 4:25; 28:15-68; Isa 24:1-6; 30:33; Mark 9:42-49; Luke 16:19-31; 2 Thess 1:6-10; Rev 14:9-11; 16:1-21; 20:11-15; 21:8). But the power of God's anger is never exaggerated. In fact, it is impossible to exaggerate it. No words can really describe how terrible, how awe-inspiring, how fearful is God's anger. Think of the folly of men who do not fear it, who count it a light thing, or who even deny it altogether!

90:12-17 Here is the beginning of the prayer of Moses. All else is leading up to this.

90:12 In the light of all the above our one great concern should be to have wisdom (to know God and to have the true fear of God), to understand how brief our life is, and to make sure that our eternal dwelling will be God Himself.

90:13 See 6:3; 74:10.

90:14,15 But are satisfaction, gladness, and joyful singing possible when the truth of vs 7-11 is recognized? Moses evidently thought so. He well knew that even though the dark clouds of God's wrath hang above sin, the bright beams of love, mercy, compassion and grace shine through them. He knew, as all believers now know, that there is forgiveness of sins and there is a joy that comes when the conscience is clear, when God's face shines on them (5:11; 16:11; 30:5; 32:11; 35:27; 42:4; 51:8; 132:9,16).

Though believers dwell in the midst of

- 16 Let your work appear to your servants, and your glory to their children.
17 And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us;
and establish the work of our hands for us;
yes, establish the work of our hands.

- 1 He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High will abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say of the LORD,
"He is my refuge and my fortress,
my God; in him I will trust."
3 Surely he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler, and from the deadly plague.
4 He will cover you with his feathers, and under his wings you will trust.

God's holy anger against sin, they dwell in the heart of His holy joy also.

Observe that Moses knew that when Israel was afflicted it was God who afflicted them, and when they rejoiced it was God alone who enabled them to rejoice.

90:16 "Work" - 44:1; 77:12; 92:4; Deut 32:4. It was the children of those wilderness wanderers who would inherit the promised land. Moses prays that they would behold God's glory as their fathers once had.

90:17 As a servant of God he wanted to accomplish a work that would endure, that would have the stamp of God's blessing on it. Should not we? (John 15:16; 1 Cor 3:13-15; Rev 22:12). Then let us earnestly pray as he did.

91:1-16 Many scholars have thought that Moses wrote this psalm, but we cannot be sure of it. In any case it is a psalm that fits very well after psalm 90, a prayer of Moses. Both psalms speak of God as being the dwelling place of believers (90:1; 91:1,9). But 90 emphasizes the anger of God against sin; this one emphasizes the complete protection and victory God gives. The apostle Paul gives the essence of this psalm in Rom 8:31.

"Almighty"(v-1) - in Hebrew "Shaddai" (Gen 17:1).

91:1 The great promises made in this psalm are only for those who abide under God's protection. They are not for those who live as they please and try to use God only when danger or trouble comes.

91:2 "Refuge" - 7:1,2. Notice the different names for God the writer uses in these first two verses - "Most High" is the one who can raise the believer far above all dangers; "Almighty" is the one who has infinite power to protect the believer; "LORD" (Jehovah) is the God who made covenants and promises to His people and faithfully keeps them; "my God" is the Creator who has become

His truth will be your shield and buckler.

- 5 You will not be afraid of the terror at night,
or of the arrow that flies by day,
6 Or of the plague that walks in darkness, or for the destruction that lays waste
at noon.
7 A thousand will fall at your side,
and ten thousand at your right hand,
but it will not come near you.
8 Only with your eyes you will look and see the reward of the wicked.
9 Because you have made the LORD, who is my refuge, the Most High,
your habitation,
10 No evil will befall you,
no disaster will come near your dwelling.
11 For he will give his angels orders concerning you, to protect you in all your ways.
12 They will lift you up in their hands,
so that you do not dash your foot

the believer's God. These names together show how perfect, how sure is the security God gives those who dwell in Him, who trust Him for protection.

91:3 In this and the following verses the author gives a number of dangers from which God's protection is needed. "Snare" is the first. The believer is like a bird which the hunter tries to catch. Satan will lay snares for his feet. By "plague" the author may have had in mind the fearful plagues in Egypt and the safety of Israel through them all.

91:4 "Wings" - 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 63:7; Matt 23:37.

"Shield" - 3:3; 5:12; 28:7; 35:2.

"Buckler" - a smaller shield.

91:5,6 God is just as capable of protecting His people from enemy attacks at night as He is from dangers by day. In all circumstances the believer can have peace of mind and a complete sense of security.

91:7 The believer sheltered by God is indestructible. As long as it is God's will for him to live he cannot die. Nothing can touch him except what God in His wisdom decides is for his good.

91:8 See 37:34; 58:10. He will see this, if not in this life then in the final judgment when God arises to judge the world.

91:9 The great promises surrounding this verse are only to those who experience its truth. See 90:1.

91:10 See 23:4; 41:2; 121:7; Prov 1:33; 12:21; 2 Tim 4:18.

91:11,12 Satan partly quoted these verses in the temptation of Christ (Matt 4:6). The promise of angelic help is not a mere poetic figure. The angels are real and powerful beings whom God sends to minister to His people (34:7; Dan 6:21,22; Acts 12:11; Heb 1:14). The angels can guard these dwellers in God from even small obstacles such as a stone that could cause

- 13 You will tread on the lion and cobra;
the young lion and the serpent you will

- 14 The LORD says,
"Because he has set his love on me,
I will deliver him.
I will set him on high,
because he has known my name.
- 15 He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him in trouble.
I will deliver him, and honour him.
- 16 With long life I will satisfy him,
and show him my salvation."

A Psalm, a song for the Sabbath day

- 1 It is a good thing to give thanks to the LORD, and to sing praises to your name,
O Most High,
- 2 To declare your loving kindness in the morning,
and your faithfulness every night,
- 3 On an instrument of ten strings,
on the lyre, on the harp,

with a solemn sound.

- 4 For you, LORD, have made me glad through your deeds.
I will exult in the works of your hands.
- 5 O LORD, how great are your works!
And your thoughts are very deep.
- 6 A senseless man does not know, nor does a fool understand this.
- 7 When the wicked spring up like grass,
and when all the evildoers flourish,
it is for them to be destroyed forever.
- 8 But you, LORD, are most high forevermore.
- 9 For look at your enemies, O LORD,
for, look, your enemies perish.
All the evildoers will be scattered.
- 10 But you will exalt my horn like the horn of a wild ox.
I will be anointed with fresh oil.
- 11 My eye will also see my desire fulfilled
on my enemies,
and my ears will hear my desire fulfilled
on the wicked who rise up against me.
- 12 The righteous will flourish like the palm tree;
he will grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
- 13 Those who are planted in the house of the LORD will flourish in the courts of our God.
- 14 They will still bring forth fruit in old age;
they will be fresh and flourishing,

them to stumble and fall.

91:13 Such a mention of a lion and a serpent brings to mind Satan, a roaring lion going about to devour (1 Pet 5:8), and a serpent full of deadly poison (Rev 12:9). Dwellers in God have power to trample even such a mighty foe under foot. See Luke 10:19,20; Jam 4:7.

91:14-16 Here God Himself speaks directly through the writer. Notice that the promises here are only for those who truly love God. Such people God will deliver, exalt, answer, protect, honor, and satisfy. The promise of long life is in accordance with other Old Testament promises such as Ex 20:12 and Deut 5:33; 6:2 (this is not an emphasis of the New Testament). Only love God, and the Bible has many great promises for you.

92 Title: This is the only one of the psalms specifically stated to be for the Sabbath day (note on Sabbath at Ex 20:8-11). This does not mean that other psalms were not to be read or sung then, but that this one was especially suited for that day. The reason is that it is a psalm of rest and gladness, of praise to God for His works. Verse 4 gives the essence of it. There is no gloom here, no depression, no doubt, no questioning of God's ways. There is only rest of heart, peace of mind, joy in God. This was the real meaning of the Sabbath.

92:1 On thanksgiving and praise see Lev 7:12,13 (note); Ps 50:14.

92:2,3 See 89:1,2. God's love and faithfulness are the twin themes of many scriptures.

92:4 A right view of God's works, of God's dealings with mankind, an attitude of complete trust and submission will bring joy and gladness to the believer (4:7; 9:1,2; 21:6,7; 64:9,10).

92:5 See 33:11; 40:5; 111:2; 136:4; 139:17; Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34; Rev 15:3.

92:6 The Hebrew words translated "senseless" and "fool" indicate those who have no spiritual enlightenment, those who because of a love for sin refuse to let God teach them. They have no true moral and ethical understanding.

92:7 Here is one thing the senseless and foolish do not understand. The very things the wicked pursue and delight in will finally bring them to utter ruin.

92:8 See 83:18; 93:4; 113:5. There is no need then for believers to worry about the administration of the universe.

92:9 See 37:20; 73:27; 89:10.

92:10 See 75:4,5; 89:17; 112:9; Luke 1:69.

92:11 See 54:7; 91:8.

92:12-14 In the Bible believers are frequently compared to fruitful vines and trees - 1:3; 52:8; Gen 49:22; Hos 14:5,6; John 15:1-5. Observe some truths here about the righteous.

They will continue to grow spiritually

 the LORD is clothed with strength, with which he has arrayed himself.
 The world also is established,
 so that it cannot be moved.
- 2 Your throne is established of old;
 you are from everlasting.
- 3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
 the floods have lifted up their voice;
 the floods lift up their waves.
- 4 The LORD on high is mightier than the

yes, than the mighty waves of the sea.
- 5 Your testimonies are very sure.

 O LORD, forever.

God— that is, they have their roots in holy ground and grow up in God's fellowship, surrounded by a holy atmosphere

Even in old age they are spiritually vigorous and productive

The essence of their message is not their own righteousness but God's.

92:15 "Rock" – note at Deut 32:4.

"No unrighteousness" – Rom 9:14; 1 John 1:5.

93:1 96:10; 97:1; 99:1. The theme of this psalm is given in the preceding one (92:8) – the LORD (Jehovah) God, the God of Israel, is the Creator and Ruler of the universe.

93:2 See 45:6; 90:2; Lam 5:19; Heb 1:8,9.

93:3,4 Jehovah God is able to control all forces of nature, and all the turbulent uproar of nations (sometimes compared to floods and to waters – 18:4; Isa 59:19; Jer 46:7,8; 47:2; Rev 17:15).

93:5 See 19:7. The author here moves from the subject of God's rule over creation to His revelation in the Bible. The Bible is where God reveals the facts about His kingdom and sets forth the principles of His rule. And holiness is the beauty of His house – 29:2; 96:9; 1 Cor 3:17.

94:1 The author, who is unknown to us, was suffering under the oppression of wicked people in places of authority and disturbed at the perversion of justice in the nation. The rule of the people was in the hands of evil men (v 20), who crushed God's people (v 5), and murdered the weak and helpless (v 6). So he prays that God will take vengeance on them. This is not a prayer that is

- 1 O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongs;
 O God, to whom vengeance belongs,
 shine forth!
- 2 Rise up, O judge of the earth!
 Mete out repayment to the proud!
- 3 LORD, how long will the wicked,
 how long will the wicked triumph?
- 4 How long will they speak and say hard things,
and all the evildoers boast of themselves?
- 5 They break your people in pieces,
 O LORD, and afflict your inheritance.
- 6 They kill the widow and the foreigner,
 and murder the fatherless.
- 7 Yet they say, "The LORD does not see,
 the God of Jacob does not pay attention to it."
- 8 Understand, you senseless among the
 people.
 And you fools, when will you be wise?
- 9 He who planted the ear, does he not hear?
 He who formed the eye, does he not see?

prompted by a desire for personal vengeance. It is prompted by desire for justice to prevail and for the persecuted to be rescued. Vengeance must be left to God to work out in His time and way (Ex 21:23-25; Num 31:2; Nahum 1:2,7; Rom 12:19; Heb 10:30,31). 94:2 Here is a name of God. He is one who will judge the world – 58:11; Gen 18:25; Acts 17:31.

94:3 See 6:3; 74:10; 90:13.

94:4 Notice the link between evil ways and boasting (10:3; 52:1).

94:5 Believers are God's people, God's inheritance. Will He forever let them be crushed? Absolutely not.

94:6 According to the law of God, the people of Israel were to show special compassion for widows, strangers, and orphans – Ex 22:21,22; Deut 10:18,19; 14:28,29; 24:19,20; 27:19. Instead, these wicked rulers murdered them.

94:7 See 10:11; 14:1. The wicked are atheists at heart no matter how pious and religious they may try to appear. They suppress the truth about the one true and holy God, and would like to deny Him altogether.

94:8-11 The author points out the extreme folly of godless unbelievers. They may be highly educated and look down on humble believers, but they are fools, and believers have far more reason to look down on them (though they should not do so). Can these unbelievers think of the human ear, that marvelous instrument of hearing, and imagine that it had no Maker, or that He is deaf? And that wonderful instrument of vision, the human eye – only the fool can and my God is my rock of refuge.

Let us make a joyful sound to the rock of our salvation!
- 2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving,
and make a joyful sound to him with psalms.
- 3 For the LORD is the great God,
and the great King above all gods.
- 4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth;
the heights of the hills also are his.
- 5 The sea is his, and he made it;
and his hands formed the dry land.
- 6 Oh come, let us worship and bow down!
Let us kneel before the LORD our maker!
- 7 For he is our God, think it had no Maker or that its Maker is unable to see. And can man, proud of his little scraps of knowledge, imagine that God has none at all? God punishes whole nations; can He not deal with these wicked individuals? The vanity and wickedness of man's thoughts! When a man thinks God is nothing he becomes nothing himself.

94:12-15 Now the tone of the psalm changes. The writer expresses his quiet confidence in God. God, he is sure, has a loving purpose in the troubles that have come from wicked men. God will use those troubles to chastise and teach him (v 12), and in spite of them all give rest of heart (v 13). And God will restore righteous judgment to the people (v 15).

94:12 Here is a wonderful truth (Deut 8:5; Job 5:17; Ps 119:71,171; Prov 3:11,12; Heb 12:5,6). God's chastening is painful, but we should welcome that which does us so much good.

94:13 Men dig pits to catch wild beasts. The wicked, like wild beasts, try to tear God's sheep, and so pits will be dug for them to fall into.

94:14 See 37:28; 1 Sam 12:22; Lam 3:31; Rom 11:2; Heb 13:5.

94:15 See 97:2; Isa 42:3; Micah 7:9.

94:16 Ex 32:26.

94:17 He means he would be dead if the Lord had not helped him.

94:18 See 38:16; 73:2.

94:19 Anxious thoughts will naturally come to us in times of trouble and injustice, but we do not need to be overcome by them. God wants us to have joy in trials and difficulties.

94:20,21 Sometimes rulers make laws that enable them to oppress people and work evil. God has no part in such regimes.

94:22 "Defense" - 18:2; 31:3; 71:3.

"Rock" - Deut 32:4.

94:23 7:16; 140:9,11; Deut 32:35.

95:1,2 Judging from Heb 4:7 David wrote this psalm. Of course, the true author of this psalm (and all the psalms) is God's Holy Spirit (see Heb 3:7; 2 Tim 3:16; 2 Pet 1:21). There are three interwoven themes in this psalm - a call to worship the true God, reasons why His people should worship Him, and a warning against hardening our hearts. Joy, singing, and worship are natural results of a proper spiritual relationship with God (66:1,2; 81:1; Eph 5:19,20). True worship is not in mere outward form; it flows from a heart made right with God (John 4:23,24).

95:3-7 The writer gives good reasons why God's people should worship Him. He knew that they needed encouragement and exhortation to do what they should do. The reasons he gives for worship are these:

Jehovah God is great, therefore He is greatly worthy of worship;

He is the King of the universe, higher than all else that is called God or god;

He is the Creator of the world and mankind - the rivers, hills, and mountains where other gods are sometimes worshiped were

- and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.
Today if you will hear his voice,
8 "Do not harden your heart,
as in the time of provocation, and as in the day of testing in the wilderness,
9 When your fathers tested me,
put me on trial, and saw my work.
10 Forty years long I was grieved with that generation, and said,
'It is a people who go astray in their heart,
and they have not known my ways'; 11 To whom I swore in my wrath that they would not enter my rest."

96

- 1 Oh sing to the LORD a new song!
Sing to the LORD, all the earth!
- 2 Sing to the LORD, praise his name, speak forth his salvation from day to day.
- 3 Declare his glory among the nations,

all made by Him;

He has a special relationship to His people – they can say "He is our God, we are His people, His sheep under His care."

Surely these are sufficient reasons why His people should sing to Him joyfully and praise Him with heart, soul, mind, and strength.

95:8-11 Now he gives a severe warning. But what connection does it have with the foregoing exhortation to joyfully worship God? It seems to be this: if God's people are reluctant to worship Him, if there is no longer any joy in His presence or any recognition of His greatness and goodness, it indicates a hardening of their hearts. There may be danger of them becoming like their ancestors in the desert who continually murmured and complained against God, but rarely worshiped Him with joy. For Meribah and Massah see Ex 17:2-7; Num 20:13; Deut 6:16. Meribah means quarreling, Massah means testing. In the desert Israel tested God instead of trusting Him – 78:18; Num 14:22; 1 Cor 10:9.

95:10 On God's anger against them see Num 14:26-35; Josh 5:6; Acts 13:18; Heb 3:10,17. Their habitually went astray – they were wanderers both in the desert and in heart. Wandering in heart came first. If they had not wandered away from God there they would not have had to wander in the desert. Above all things men should keep their hearts – Prov 4:23. If we go astray in our hearts we will go astray in everything.

95:11 Carefully observe the result of hardness of heart and the unbelief which accompanies it.

- his wonders among all peoples.
4 For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised.
He is to be feared above all gods.
5 For all the gods of the nations are idols, but the LORD made the heavens.
6 Honour and majesty are before him. Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
7 Ascribe to the LORD, O you families of the peoples,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
8 Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Bring an offering and come into his courts.
9 Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness!
Tremble before him, all the earth.
10 Say among the nations that the LORD reigns.
The world also is established so that it will not be moved.
He will judge the people righteously.
11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad.

96:1 Most of the words of this psalm are included in a larger one recorded in 1 Chronicles chapter 16. A new song indicates a new thing that God has done or will do. This psalm is addressed to "all the earth", so this new work of God is related to the world at large and not just to the nation Israel.

96:2 The first reason for this new song is this: God's salvation is made available to all the world. This looks forward to a time future to David's day. For this salvation surely means the salvation the Lord Jesus provided by His death on the cross and which He told His disciples to preach in all the world (Matt 28:19; Mark 16:15; Luke 24:47,48).

96:3 See 145:10-12; John 1:14; Acts 3:13; 2 Cor 3:7-11; 4:6. The glory of God is revealed in Christ and in Him God performed the wonderful deeds of reconciliation, resurrection, and the ascension. These wonders are now being declared among all nations.

96:4 See 95:3.

96:5 One immense difference between the LORD (Jehovah) God and all others called gods is just this: He is the mighty Creator, they are idols created by men and without power. See 96:5; 115:4-11.

96:6 See 27:4; 50:2; 93:1; 104:1.

96:7,8 He is saying that all peoples of earth should cast their idols to the winds and ascribe glory to the only one worthy of it.

96:9 See 29:2. Holiness is beautiful. Sin is ugly.

"Tremble" – 2:11; 33:8; 114:7; Isa 66:2.

96:10-13 Here is another reason for the new song he urges the nations to sing – the

Let the sea, and its fulness, roar.
 12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it.
 Then all the trees of the woods will rejoice
 13 Before the LORD.
 For he comes, for he comes to judge
 the earth.
 He will judge the world with righteousness,
 and the people with his truth.

97

- 1 The LORD reigns!
 May the earth rejoice!
 May the multitude of islands be glad!
- 2 Clouds and darkness are around him.
 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
- 3 A fire goes before him and burns up his enemies all around.
- 4 His lightnings lit up the world.
 The earth saw and trembled.
- 5 The hills melted like wax at the presence
 of the LORD,
 at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

judgment of God and His just rule over all the earth. This is a prophecy to be fulfilled at the second coming of Christ (Isa 2:1-4; 11:1-10). Then creation itself will be released from bondage and shout for joy (Rom 8:19-22). Observe that the coming of the LORD (Jehovah) in the Old Testament is the coming of the Lord Jesus in the New Testament. That is, Jesus is the incarnation of Jehovah. See also 23:1; 24:7-10; 96:10-13; Gen 16:7; Ex 3:14; Isa 6:1; Zech 12:10. The following three psalms are on this same theme – the coming of Jehovah to rule as King over the whole earth. 97:1 The opening words could be translated “The LORD has become King”, or “The LORD has begun to reign.” Of course, the LORD (Jehovah) is King of the universe and always has been. But this psalm refers to His manifest rule over earth after His coming described in the last verse of the preceding psalm.

97:2-9 In these verses we have the effects of the coming of Jehovah. The picture is one of perfect holiness and justice. Compare these verses with Ex 19:9; Deut 4:11; 1 Kings 8:12; Ps 18:11.

“Righteousness” – 89:14; Isa 9:7; 11:4,5; 32:1.

97:3 See 18:8; 50:3; Dan 7:10; Mal 4:1; 2 Thess 1:7,8; Heb 12:29.

97:4 See 18:7; 77:16-18; Ex 19:16; Heb 12:26-28.

97:5 See 46:6; Amos 9:5; Micah 1:4; Nahum 1:5.

97:6 See 19:1-4; 50:6; 89:5.

- 6 The heavens declare his righteousness,
 and all the people see his glory.
- 7 May all those who serve graven images, who boast of idols, be put to shame.
 Worship him, all you gods.
- 8 Zion heard and was glad,
 and the daughters of Judah rejoiced
 because of your judgments, O LORD.
- 9 For you, LORD, are high above all the earth.
 You are exalted far above all gods.
- 10 You who love the LORD, hate evil.
 He preserves the souls of his saints.
 He rescues them from the hand of the wicked.
- 11 Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.
- 12 Rejoice in the LORD, you righteous, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holy name.

98

A Psalm

- 1 Oh, sing to the LORD a new song,
 for he has done marvellous things.

“Glory” – 98:2; Isa 40:5; 66:18.
97:7 “Shame” – 16:4; Isa 42:17; 44:9,11; Jer 10:14,15; Zech 14:9. This will result when Jehovah reveals Himself as the one true God. The command to the “gods” are spoken in contempt. It does not indicate that these so-called gods are real gods. See 96:5; 115:4-11.

97:8 The above results will bring great joy to the worshipers of the one true God (48:11; Zeph 3:14).

“Daughters of Judah” – this is an ambiguous phrase. If we take it literally the meaning is the women of Judah, if we take it as an idiom or figure of speech the meaning is the towns and villages of Judah (see Isa 1:8).

97:10-12 In the light of the above what kind of lives should we live? – Titus 2:11-13; Heb 12:28; 2 Pet 3:10-14.

97:10 “Hate evil” – 34:14; Prov 8:13; Amos 5:15; Rom 12:9; Jude 23. God Himself hates evil (note at Lev 20:7), and there is no evil whatever in Him (1 John 1:5). Those who love God must be prepared for a continual fight against all sin and evil. We must choose either God or evil – we cannot have both. And the more we love God the more we will hate evil and vice versa.

97:11,12 While we wait for the glorious appearance of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ He would have us experience light and joy. And for them we should continually give thanks to Him.

98:1 This psalm is very similar to psalm 96. It begins with the same words as that

99

- His right hand and his holy arm have gotten him the victory.
- 2 The LORD has made known
his salvation.
He has openly revealed his righteousness in the sight of the nations.
- 3 He has remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel.
All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.
- 4 Make a joyful sound to the LORD,
all the earth.
Make a loud sound, and rejoice,
and sing praise.
- 5 Sing to the LORD with the harp, with the harp and the sound of a psalm;
- 6 With trumpets and the sound of a ram's horn make a joyful noise before the LORD, the King.
- 7 May the sea and its fulness roar;
the world, and those who live in it.
- 8 May the floods clap their hands,
may the hills be joyful together
- 9 Before the LORD;
for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with righteousness,
and the people with equity.

- 1 The LORD reigns!
May the peoples tremble!
He sits between the cherubim.
May the earth be moved!
- 2 The LORD is great in Zion, and he is high above all the peoples.
- 3 May they praise your great and awe-inspiring name, for it is holy.
- 4 The king's strength also loves justice.
You have established equity;
you have ordained justice and righteousness in Jacob.
- 5 Exalt the LORD our God and worship at his footstool, for he is holy.
- 6 Moses and Aaron were among his priests, and Samuel among those who called on his name; they called to the LORD, and he answered them.
- 7 He spoke to them in the cloudy pillar.
They kept his testimonies,
and the ordinance that he gave them.
- 8 You answered them, O LORD our God.
You were a God who forgave them, though you took vengeance on their misdeeds.

and has the same theme. The first three verses speak of what God has done, the next three speak of what men should do because of what God has done, and the last three speak of the proper response of the world and mankind at the coming of the LORD (Jehovah).

"Marvelous things" – 40:5; 96:3; 136:4.
"Right hand" – Ex 15:6; Ps 118:15,16;
Isa 51:9.

98:2 Isa 52:10.

98:3 "Remembered" – Luke 1:54,72.

"Ends of earth" – 22:27.

98:4-7 To God's wonderful display of victory over evil, of righteous salvation, of grace and faithfulness, these verses give the proper response (66:1; 99:3; 100:1; Isa 44:23). The author exhorts all the earth to sing for joy, because all the earth will at last participate in God's victory and salvation, and experience His righteous rule.

98:7-9 See 96:11-13.

99:1 This psalm begins with the same words as psalms 93 and 97 and deals with the same subject – God's reign on the earth. In this psalm the emphasis is somewhat different from the emphasis in those psalms. In this one the holiness of God is mentioned thrice (vs 3,5,9), and His mountain is called holy (v 9). And examples of God's holy and righteous dealings in the past, and of those who rendered to God holy worship are given – vs 6-8.

"Cherubim" – 80:1; Ex 25:22; 1 Sam 4:4.

99:2 See 48:1; 97:9; 113:4; Isa 12:6.
99:3 "Awe-inspiring name" – Deut 28:58;
Ps 76:1.

"Holy" – Lev 20:7.

99:4 11:7; 17:2; 33:5; 98:9; 103:6;
146:7; Jer 23:5.

99:5 "Exalt" – 34:3; 107:32; 118:28.
Footstool here may mean the ark of the covenant or God's temple in Jerusalem (132:7; 1 Chron 28:2; 32:7; Isa 60:13; Lam 2:1).

99:6 All three of these men acted as priests, though only Aaron was high priest in Israel (Lev 8:13-30; 1 Sam 9:13). All three worshiped and exalted God in the way the writer of this psalm exhorts men to do, and all three called on God and received answers to their prayers (Ex 18:19; 32:11-30; Num 11:2; 14:9; 21:7; Deut 5:5; 9:18,19; 1 Sam 7:9; 12:23; Ps 106:23).

99:7 "Pillar" – Ex 33:9; Num 12:5. These three were among the few who did obey God.

99:8,9 See 78:38; Num 14:20. In these verses not only the three mentioned in the preceding verses but the people of Israel are in view. Observe that though God forgave them He also punished them. In other words, chastisement is consistent with forgiveness. God fights against sin no matter where it is found (Ex 32:28; Num 20:12; 2 Sam 12:13,14; see Ps 90:7-12). He is absolutely holy (Ex 15:11; Lev 20:7; Isa 6:3), and we should praise and glorify Him because He is that way.

9 Exalt the LORD our God and worship at his holy hill, for the LORD our God is holy.

His mercy is everlasting, and his truth continues to all generations.

A Psalm of thanksgiving

A Psalm of David

- 1 Make a joyful sound to the LORD,
all you lands!
- 2 Serve the LORD with gladness.
Come before his presence with singing.
- 3 Know that the LORD is God.
It is he who has made us,
and not we ourselves.
We are his people and the sheep of his pasture.
- 4 Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,
and into his courts with praise.
Be thankful to him and praise his name.
- 5 For the LORD is good.

- 1 I will sing of mercy and justice.
I will sing to you, O LORD.
- 2 I will conduct myself wisely in a perfect way.
Oh when will you come to me?
I will walk in my house with a perfect heart.
- 3 I will set nothing wicked before my eyes.
I hate the deeds of those who turn aside. They will not cling to me.
- 4 A perverse heart will depart from me.
I will not become acquainted with wickedness.
- 5 Whoever secretly slanders his neighbour,
him I will cut off.
I will not endure one who has a haughty

100 Title: "Thanksgiving" – or "praise." The Hebrew word is usually translated "thanksgiving" in the KJV, as in v 4.

100:1 This is the last in this series of psalms concerning the reign of the LORD (Jehovah) on the earth. It looks forward to the time when all the peoples of the earth ("all you lands"), and not just Israel, become His people and His sheep. Compare Ex 19:5; Deut 4:20; 7:6; Ps 73:1,2; 79:13; 95:7. This is one of the reasons the writer gives for the joyful thanksgiving and praise which are the theme of this psalm. It is an interesting fact that this is the only psalm which has the title "of thanksgiving," though, of course, many of them contain much thanksgiving to God.

100:2 Rom 6:12,13; 12:1; 14:17; 15:13.

100:3 The writer is still addressing the whole earth. Jehovah is not a small god of a little nation. He is the one true God, the Creator of all. He wants all men to know this, for there can be no true service to God, no real joy, without this knowledge. But when all the earth does know this, when all peoples become His people and His sheep, what joy and praise will fill the whole wide earth! (98:3; Isa 11:9; 45:6; Hab 2:14).

100:4 "Thanksgiving" – 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18; Heb 13:15; Rev 11:17.

100:5 Further great reasons for joy and thanksgiving. The only true God is good, gracious, and faithful, and will remain unchangeably so forever.

101:1,2 David wrote this psalm, not as a private person, but as king. He had found in the LORD (Jehovah) perfect grace and perfect justice. God knows just when and to whom to show mercy, and just when and whom to judge and punish. Now David praises Him for that and resolves to strive ever to follow the King of heaven and be blameless in his conduct as the leader of his people and in the administration of the kingdom.

This is a great resolution and one every leader of Christian organizations and churches needs to make before God. David never achieved perfection, but he aimed at it. It is far better to aim at perfection and miss it than to aim at imperfection and achieve it. See the prayer in the midst of the resolution. He knew that if his resolution was to stand and produce fruit he needed God's presence and power with him. "Perfect" – or "blameless" or "with complete integrity."

101:3-8 David resolved that he would keep himself from all evil and would not permit evil persons to serve in the palace or in the administration of the kingdom. He would choose only those who were faithful to God, people of integrity. He refused to select anyone as workers, ministers, or administrators simply because they were relatives or friends, or of the same tribe or community. He knew how ruinous nepotism can be, how it leads to corruption and abuse of power. No matter who people were, if they were evil, slanderers, proud, deceitful, or liars they had no part in his work or kingdom. Today we need such wise, holy, and determined leaders.

101:3 No vain or wicked thing would be a model for him. He refused even to contemplate such. And he was aware that when we come into contact with evil it can stick to us (1 Cor 15:33). So he kept his distance from evil men and evil deeds.

101:4 Prov 11:20.

101:5 See 15:3; 50:20; Prov 10:18; Jer 6:28. As the leader of God's people David look and a proud heart.

6 My eyes will be on the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me.

The one who walks in a perfect way, he will serve me.

7 He who acts deceitfully will not dwell in my house.

He who tells lies will not remain in my sight.

8 Early I will destroy all the wicked of the land, so that I may cut off all evildoers from the city of the LORD.

102

A prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before the LORD

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come to you.

2 Do not hide your face from me in the day

I am in trouble, but bow down your ear to me.

In the day I call, answer me speedily.

3 For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned like a hearth.

4 My heart is beaten down and withered like grass, so that I forget to eat my bread.

5 Because of the sound of my groaning my bones cling to my skin.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness. I am like an owl of the desert.

7 I lie awake, and am like a sparrow alone on the housetop.

8 My enemies taunt me all day long, and those who act like madmen against me swear an oath against me.

9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mixed my drink with weeping,

10 Because of your indignation and your wrath. For you have lifted me up and considered that a slanderer or a proud man should have no place in God's work - see also 10:4; 18:27; Prov 6:17; 21:4; 30:13; Isa 2:11.

101:6 Faithfulness to God and blamelessness of life were the two qualifications David looked for. To him they were more important than talent, intellect, strength, courage, or any other such quality. If a person did not have integrity he had no place in David's work.

101:7 See 5:6; 52:2-5; Prov 6:16-19. If liars and deceivers were not fit for David's palace how much less fit are they for the palace of the heavenly King! If David would not have them near him can we vainly imagine that God will? See 15:1-3; 24:3,4; Rev 21:8,23-27; 22:14,15.

101:8 Court was held in the morning and judgment given. David was determined to rid the nation of evil doers. For sins that required the death penalty under the law see note at Ex 21:36. It is a very sad thing that sins which were considered worthy of death under the law of Moses are often viewed with complacency in some Christian circles and nothing is done about them. Often this is not because leaders want to show God's grace, but because they abuse His grace.

Of course, it is not the business of the church to execute the death penalty for offenses against God's law. But it the business of the church to try to keep itself pure and holy, and to maintain standards of integrity. God's heavenly city is a holy place prepared for a holy people. This was David's desire for the earthly city of Jerusalem. Dare we desire it less for the church and Christian organizations?

102 Title: The author was passing through an experience of deep grief when he wrote this, and in vs 1-11 he expresses this sorrow in very picturesque language. His sadness is tied up altogether with the ruined condition of Jerusalem (vs 13,14. Compare Lam 1:1-13; 2:1,2; 3:1-6; Luke 19:41-44). Verses 25-27 of this psalm are quoted in Heb 1:10-12, and applied to the Lord Jesus. So this can be called a Messianic psalm. One theme of it is the future restoration of Jerusalem - vs 15,21, 22. In this regard this psalm is similar to psalms 95 - 100.

All this will happen when the LORD (Jehovah) appears in glory - v 16. This refers to the coming of God's kingdom. But before that wonderful time comes there will be much sorrow and affliction for the people of God, as appears in the opening verses of this psalm. And there will be earnest prayers that the kingdom of God might come (Matt 6:10).

102:2 See 10:1; 13:1; 17:6; 18:6; 27:9; 31:2; 56:9; 66:13; 71:2.

102:3 See 6:2; 31:10; 35:10; 37:20; 42:10.

102:4 See 90:5,6; 37:2; Job 33:20; Ezra 10:6.

102:5 See 22:14,17; Job 19:20.

102:6,7 Indicates loneliness and desolation of heart.

102:8 See 31:11; 42:10.

102:9 Ashes are symbolic of mourning (2 Sam 13:19; Esther 4:1,3; Job 2:8; 42:6). This may mean that the ashes on which he sat or poured on his head became mixed with his food. Or perhaps he is using the word metaphorically.

"Weeping" - 42:3; 80:5.

102:10 He traces his sorrow and affliction to God's anger. See note at Ps 90:7-11.

- thrown me down.
- 11 My days are like a lengthening shadow,
and I am withered like grass.
- 12 But you, O LORD, will remain forever, and the remembrance of you to all generations.
- 13 You will arise and have mercy on Zion,
for the time to favour her,
yes, the set time, has come.
- 14 For your servants take pleasure in her stones,
and favour to its dust.
- 15 So the nations will fear the name of the LORD,
and all the kings of the earth your glory.
- 16 For the LORD will build Zion;
he will appear in his glory.
- 17 He will have regard for the prayer of the destitute,
and will not despise their prayer.
- 18 This will be written for the generation to come;
and the people who are yet to be created will praise the LORD.
- 19 For he looked down from the height of his sanctuary;
from heaven the LORD saw the earth, 20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner,
to free those who are dying,
21 To declare the name of the LORD in Zion,

- and his praise in Jerusalem,
- 22 When the peoples and the kingdoms are gathered together to serve the LORD.
- 23 He brought down my strength in the way;
he shortened my days.
- 24 I said, "O my God, do not take me away
in the midst of my days;
your years are throughout all generations.
- 25 Of old you laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the work of your hands.
- 26 They will perish, but you will remain;
yes, all of them will become old like
a garment;
like a cloak you will change them,
and they will be changed.
- 27 But you are the same,
and your years will have no end.
- 28 The children of your servants will continue,
and their offspring will be established
before you."

A Psalm of David

- 1 Praise the LORD, O my soul,
and all that is within me,

102:11 See 109:23; Job 14:2. An evening shadow is soon gone, swallowed up in night's darkness.

"Grass" – 90:5,6; 103:15.

102:12-28 With v 12 the tone of the psalm changes. The writer has spoken of the brevity of his own life. Now he speaks of God's eternal being. And thinking of God's greatness brings hope and assurance to his sad heart. He knows things will change, that God has a wonderful plan which He will fulfill.

102:12 See 9:7; 10:16; 135:13; Ex 3:15; Lam 5:19; Rev 11:15.

102:13 Isa 54:8,10; 60:10,11; Zech 1:16,17; 2:10,11.

102:14 Stones and dust mean the city's ruins.

102:15 See 138:4; 72:11; Isa 59:19,20.

102:16 See 147:2; Isa 60:1,2.

102:17 See 22:24; 31:22; 69:33.

102:18 Deut 31:19; Rom 15:4; 1 Cor 10:11.

102:19 See 14:2; 53:2; Deut 26:15.

102:20 See 79:11; 107:10-13; 146:7; Ex 2:23-25; Luke 4:17-20.

102:21,22 For complete fulfillment these words still look to the future.

102:23 See 39:5; 89:45.

102:24 The writer longs to live until he sees the restoration of Zion, the fulfillment of his own words.

102:25-27 According to the inspired writer to the Hebrews (Heb 1:10-12) these words were spoken to the Lord Jesus before His incarnation. In the Hebrew of v 24 there is the usual Old Testament word for God. This is further proof that the writers of the New Testament regarded Jesus as God, the incarnation of Jehovah of the Old Testament, the great Creator of the universe.

102:25 Gen 1:1; John 1:1-3; Col 1:16; Heb 1:10.

102:26 Isa 34:4; 51:6; Matt 24:35; 2 Pet 3:10; Rev 20:11. Creation is like a garment God wears. Clothing speaks of someone who made it or who wears it. Those who worship creation, the sun, moon, stars, or any other material object, are occupied, not with God, but with garments which are getting old and will perish.

102:27 See Isa 41:4; 43:10; Mal 3:6; Heb 13:8.

102:28 See 69:36; 89:4. Because God is eternal, His children, though on earth frail and soon to pass away, can safely trust Him to fulfill His word and His plans.

103:1 "Praise" – seems a better translation than "Bless." See Hebrews 7:7. This is a hymn on God's goodness. The theme, given in v 8, is based on God's revelation of Himself in Ex 34:6. David wanted the praise he offered to such a good God to be inward, sincere, overflowing from the heart. On praise his holy name.

- 2 Praise the LORD, O my soul,
and forget not all his benefits;
- 3 Who forgives all your sins;
who heals all your diseases;
- 4 Who redeems your life from destruction;
who crowns you with loving kindness and tender mercies;
- 5 Who satisfies your mouth with good things,
so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.
- 6 The LORD administers righteousness and justice for all who are oppressed.
- 7 He made known his ways to Moses,
his acts to the children of Israel.
- 8 The LORD is merciful and gracious,
slow to get angry,
and has abundant mercy.
- 9 He will not always contend,
nor will he retain his anger forever.
- 10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins,

- or repaid us according to our evil deeds.
- 11 For as the heavens are high above the
earth,
so great is his mercy toward those who fear him.
 - 12 As far as the east is from the west,
so far he has removed our transgressions from us.
 - 13 Like a father pities his children,
so the LORD pities those who fear him.
 - 14 For he knows how we are formed,
he remembers that we are dust.
 - 15 As for man, his days are like grass.
He flourishes like a flower of the field.
 - 16 For the wind passes over it,
and it is gone,
and its place remembers it no more.
 - 17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting on those who fear him,
and his righteousness to children's children,
 - 18 To those who keep his covenant, praise see note on 33:1-3.

103:2 Deut 4:9; 6:12; 8:11. Forgetfulness of God's benefits is a great fault and will rob us of much joy and consolation.

103:3-5 To inspire his praise David meditates on five ways in these three verses in which God has shown His grace toward him. God forgives, heals, redeems, crowns, and satisfies. Of course this list is not exhaustive (40:5).

103:3 "Forgives" - 86:5; 130:8; Ex 34:7; Isa 43:25; Matt 12:31; Eph 1:7; 1 John 1:9. Forgiveness is the foundation blessing. Without it all other blessings lose much of their value. What are health, wealth, vigor, or satisfaction of desires, if we do not obtain God's forgiveness? if we enjoy them only for a little while and then perish forever?

"Heals" - 30:2; Ex 15:26; Matt 9:35. This was David's personal experience. It is not a promise that God will always heal every disease of every person. But there is such a thing as God's healing which can be received by faith (Matt 9:28,29; Jam 5:14-16).

103:4 "Redeems" - note on God as Redeemer at 78:35.

"Destruction" signifies death, or possibly the unseen world of darkness and punishment, or both, and Jehovah God alone can save from them (16:10; 49:15; 56:13; Heb 2:14,15).

"Crowns" - 8:5. God gives far better crowns than any kingdom of earth can offer.

103:5 "Satisfies" - see 21:2; 37:4; 145:19; Matt 7:7,8; Isa 40:31.

103:6-18 Now David considers God's goodness to the nation Israel, indeed to all who fear Him.

103:6 See 12:5; 99:4; 146:7.

103:7 Moses prayed to learn God's ways and God answered him (Ex 33:13). The people because of unbelief and rebellion learned only God's acts and these they speedily forgot (78:11; 106:13). Like Moses we should pray that God will teach us His ways so that we will have some understanding of His acts (25:4; 27:11; 86:11) - not that we can ever on this earth learn all of God's ways (Isa 55:8,9; Rom 11:33).

103:8 Ex 34:6; Num 14:18; Neh 9:17; Ps 86:15; 145:8; Lam 3:22; Joel 2:13; Jonah 4:2; Matt 9:36; Jam 5:11.

103:9 See 30:5; Isa 57:16; Jer 3:5,12; Micah 7:18.

103:10 Ezra 9:13. If God dealt with us according to our sins we would all be in hell and not one of us would escape.

103:11 See 36:5; 57:10. David meant an immeasurable distance, as he does also in the next verse.

103:12 Isa 38:17; 43:25; 44:22; Jer 50:20; Micah 7:19; Heb 9:26.

103:13 The fatherhood of God spoken of in a small measure in the Old Testament is fully and gloriously revealed in the New Testament (68:5; 1 Chron 22:10; Isa 9:6; Matt 6:4,8,9; John 1:14,18; Rom 8:15; 1 Cor 8:6; Eph 3:14,15; 4:6). God has the nature all fathers should have but which many do not. He is loving, compassionate and understanding, and He considers the welfare of His children above all else.

103:14 See 78:39; Gen 3:19; Eccl 12:7.

103:15 See 90:5; Isa 40:6; Jam 1:10,11; 1 Pet 1:24.

103:16 Job 7:10; 8:18; 20:9; Isa 40:7.

103:17 David contrasts man's frailty and brief life with God's eternal being and perpetual favor (25:6; John 10:29; 1 Pet 1:3-5).

103:18 All the benefits mentioned in this psalm are for a certain type of people - those who fear God (vs 11,13), and those

- and to those who remember his commandments, to do them.
- 19 The LORD has prepared his throne in the heavens,
and his kingdom rules over all.
- 20 Praise the LORD, you his angels, who excel in strength,
who do what he says,
listening to the voice of his word.
- 21 Praise the LORD, all his hosts,
you ministers of his, who fulfil his pleasure.
- 22 Praise the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion.
Praise the LORD, O my soul.

104

- 1 Praise the LORD, O my soul.
O LORD my God, you are very great.
You are clothed with honour and majesty,
- 2 You who cover yourself with light as
with a garment,
who stretch out the heavens like a curtain.
- 3 He lays the beams of his chambers in the waters.
He makes the clouds his chariot.
He walks on the wings of the wind.
- 4 He makes his angels spirits,
his ministers a flaming fire.
- 5 He laid the foundations of the earth,
so that it would never be moved.
- 6 You cover it with the deep as with a garment.
The waters stood above the mountains.
- 7 At your rebuke they fled;
at the sound of your thunder they hurried away.
- 8 They went up over the mountains;
they went down by the valleys to the place which you founded for them.
- 9 You have set a boundary that they may not pass over,
so that they do not turn back to cover
the earth.
- 10 He sends water from the springs into the valleys,
which runs among the hills.
- 11 They provide drink to every beast of the field;
the wild donkeys quench their thirst.
- 12 The birds of the heavens have their nests
by them,
singing among the branches.
- 13 He waters the hills from his chambers.
The earth is filled with the fruit of
your works.
- 14 He causes the grass to grow for the cattle,
and plants for the service of man,
so that he may bring food out of the earth,
- 15 And wine that makes the heart of man glad,
and oil to make his face shine,
and bread which strengthens man's heart.

who obey Him. If we do not revere God and attempt to be obedient to Him it is useless for us to try to claim the blessings He gives. For notes on the fear of God see 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7.

103:19-22 God is so great, so good, the universal sovereign – 47:2. Therefore David exhorts the whole of creation to praise Him. 103:19 See 11:4; 47:2,8; Isa 66:1; Dan 4:17,25; Matt 5:34; Rev 4:2.

103:20 See 68:17; 91:11; 104:4; Gen 16:7 (note).

103:22 David returns to the opening word of the psalm. He will not urge others to do what he will not do himself.

104:1 This is a hymn to the Creator of the world. It is a song of pure praise and joy. The writer does not ask God for anything for himself. He only wants his meditation to be acceptable to God. In its main outline the psalm follows the story of creation given in the first chapter of Genesis. One difference between this psalm and that chapter is that the creation there is in the past, here it is still going on. After God made the world He did not withdraw somewhere and cease His work forever. True, He ceased to work on the seventh day (Gen 2:2). But He resumed His activities and still works (John 5:17). He is not an idle God. This is clearly seen in this psalm. The Creator continually sustains and renews His creation.

As we see in v 2 the splendid garment of God is the light (compare Dan 7:9; Mark 9:2,3; 1 Tim 6:16; Rev 1:14-16). God Himself is invisible to the eye of flesh, but His glory is revealed in His creation by means of light.

104:2-4 This is based on Gen 1:3-8.

- 16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap;
the cedars of Lebanon which he has planted,
17 Where the birds make their nests.
As for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats,
and the rocks for the rock badgers.
19 He appointed the moon for seasons.
The sun knows its going down.
20 You make darkness, and it is night, in which all the beasts of the forest creep forth.
21 The young lions roar after their prey,
and seek their food from God.
22 The sun rises; they gather together,
and lie down in their dens.
23 Man goes forth to his work and to his labour until the evening.
24 O LORD, how manifold are your works!
In wisdom you have made them all.
The earth is full of your riches.
25 So is this great and wide sea,
in which teem innumerable things,
both small and great creatures.
26 There go the ships.

- There is* that leviathan,
which you have made to play there.
27 These all wait on you, that you may give them their food in due season.
28 They gather what you give them.
You open your hand; they are satisfied
with good things.
29 You hide your face; they are troubled.
You take away their breath; they die,
and return to their dust.
30 You send forth your Spirit, they are created, and you renew the face of the earth.
31 The glory of the LORD will remain forever.
The LORD will rejoice in his works.
32 He looks on the earth, and it trembles.
He touches the hills, and they smoke.
33 I will sing to the LORD as long as I live.
I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.
34 My meditation of him will be sweet.
I will be glad in the LORD.
35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth,
and let the wicked be no more.
Praise the LORD, O my soul!
Praise the LORD!

104:16 They are called the trees of the Lord because He originally planted them and caused them to grow.

104:17,18 God made a place for each animal and put each animal in its place.

104:19-23 This is based on Gen 1:14-18.

104:19,20 See 19:6; 74:16; Isa 45:7.

104:21 See 145:15; Job 38:39; Joel 1:20.

104:23 Gen 3:19.

104:24-26 This is based on Gen 1:21.

104:24 136:5; Prov 3:19; Jer 10:12; 51:15; Rev 4:11.

104:26 "Leviathan" – see 74:14; Job 41:1; Isa 27:1.

104:27-30 All animals, fish, and birds are dependent on God for life and food. God ceaselessly provides, continually creates and renews.

104:27 Job 36:31; 38:41; Ps 136:25; 145:15; 147:9.

104:29 "Hide" – 30:7; Deut 31:27.

"Take away" – 146:4; Job 34:14,15.

104:30 Gen 1:2; Job 33:4; Ezek 37:9.

104:31-35 The keynote here is joy – both God and men rejoicing in creation.

104:31 Gen 1:31.

104:32 See 97:4,5; 114:7; Jud 5:5; Hab 3:10.

104:33 See 63:4; 146:2. While men praise unworthy objects and gods of wood and stone (Dan 5:4; Rev 9:20), Bible believers praise the great Creator of the universe.

104:34 "Meditation" – 19:14.

"Be glad" – this is true spiritual joy – God rejoices in His believers, they rejoice in Him.

104:35 In the whole of earth's creation, and in this whole psalm, the only thing that mars, the only sad note, is found here. Sinners pollute and ruin God's creation. They have proved themselves completely unworthy of it (Isa 24:5). Therefore the writer expresses the desire that they be removed from it. He wants creation made perfect again and holy. We know from the last chapter of the Bible that this will take place.

"Praise the LORD" – in Hebrew "Hallelu Yah." Yah is often used in Hebrew for Jehovah (Yahweh).

105:1-7 This psalm reveals God's sovereignty over both the history of Israel and the acts of sinful men. Notice carefully how God was involved in ruling over everything – vs 14, 16, 17, 24, 25, 26, etc. He was continually at work to fulfill His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob – vs 8-10. We might say this is the psalm concerning God's covenant with Abraham, just as psalm 89 is the psalm of His covenant with David. Like psalms 78 and 106 this one deals with history. Psalm 78 was given chiefly for the purpose of teaching and exhortation. Psalm 106 is a confession of Israel's many sins. But this psalm rejoices in the mighty acts of the LORD (Jehovah) God and there is no mention at all of the sin of Israel. The first 15 verses are found in 1 Chron 16:8-22. From that reference we may judge that David wrote it.

In the introduction (vs 1-7) David sets forth seven duties or privileges of God's 105

- 1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD.
Call on his name.
Make his deeds known among the people.
- 2 Sing to him, sing psalms to him.
Talk of all his wonderful works.
- 3 Glory in his holy name.
May the heart of those who seek the LORD
rejoice.
- 4 Seek the LORD, and his strength.
Seek his face always.
- 5 Remember his marvellous works that he has done,
his wonders and the judgments of his mouth,
- 6 O you offspring of his servant Abraham,
you children of Jacob his chosen one.
- 7 He is the LORD our God.
His judgments are in all the earth.
- 8 He remembers his covenant forever,
the word which he commanded,
for a thousand generations,
- 9 The covenant he made with Abraham,
and his oath to Isaac.
- 10 And he confirmed it to Jacob as a law,
to Israel as an everlasting covenant,
- 11 Saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan,
the portion of your inheritance,"
- 12 When they were only a few men in number,
yes, very few, and foreigners in it.
- 13 When they went from one nation to another,
from one kingdom to another people,
- 14 He did not allow anyone to wrong them;
yes, he rebuked kings for their sakes,
- 15 Saying, "Do not touch my anointed, and do my prophets no harm."
- 16 Moreover, he summoned a famine to the land.
He destroyed the whole supply of bread.
- 17 He sent a man before them, Joseph,
who was sold as a servant,
- 18 Whose feet they hurt with fetters.
He was put in irons,
- 19 Until the time that his word came.
The word of the LORD tested him.
- 20 The king sent and released him;
the ruler of the people sent
and let him go free.
- 21 He made him master of his house,
and ruler of all his possessions,
- 22 To bind his princes at his pleasure,
and to teach his elders wisdom.

people -

Giving thanks,
Praying,
Making known God's deeds,
Singing to God or about God,
Glorying in Him,
Seeking Him,
And remembering His wonderful works and words.

Following these instructions will result in a healthy spiritual life in any believer.

105:1 "Give thanks" - 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18; note at Lev 7:12,13.

"Call" - 50:15; 91:15; 145:18; Luke 18:1.

"Make. . . known" - 67:2; Matt 28:19,20;
Luke 24:46,47.

105:2 "Sing" - 96:1; 98:5; Eph 5:19.

"Talk" - 9:11; 66:16; 75:9; 96:3.

105:3 See 13:5; 28:7; 33:21.

105:4 Note at 27:8.

105:5,6 Deut 8:2,18; 9:7; 2 Tim 2:8.
Though the psalm was originally addressed to the nation of Israel, the physical seed of Abraham, we should not forget that now believers in Christ are the spiritual seed of Abraham (Rom 4:11; Gal 3:29).

105:7 See 10:5; 36:6; Rom 11:33.
Though the majority of the world's people are not aware of it, God's judgments are continually being worked out in the lives of individuals and nations.

105:8-11 David now begins the main theme of the psalm. For God's covenant with Abraham see Gen 12:7; 17:2,8; 22:16-18; 26:3; 28:13-15.

105:11 This is a chief part of the covenant made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. The land of Canaan was given to their offspring as their portion forever - Gen 13:15;
15:18; 17:8; 2 Chron 20:7.

105:12,13 When God made the promise to give Canaan to them the nation of Israel was at its beginning. They had no strength to conquer Canaan or any other land, and were like a wandering tribe. Only God could fulfill His promise, not they.

105:14,15 Gen 12:17; 20:3; 35:5. This refers to the three men Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. All were prophets - Gen 20:7; 27:27-29,39,40; 49:1-28.

105:16 Gen 41:54. The great famine in Joseph's time is here said to have been brought about by God. This does not mean that He causes every famine in every place.
Some result from man's doings.
But whenever there is a famine men should seek the mercy of the one true God, the Creator of men and rain and soil and seed.

105:17 Gen 45:5; 50:20,21.

105:18 Gen 39:20; 40:15.

105:19 "Came" - here probably means "was fulfilled" - Gen 40:20-22; 41:12-14.

"Tested him" - note at 66:10-12.

105:20-22 Gen 41:14,40-44.

23 Israel also came into Egypt, and Jacob stayed in the land of Ham.

24 And the LORD increased his people greatly,
and made them stronger than their enemies.

25 He turned their hearts to hate his people, to deal craftily with his servants.

26 He sent Moses his servant,
and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 They showed his signs among them,
and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkness, and made it dark;
and they did not rebel against his word.

29 He turned their waters into blood, and killed their fish.

30 Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the rooms of their kings.

31 He spoke, and various kinds of flies came,
and lice inside all their borders.

32 He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.

33 He also struck their vines and their fig trees, and broke down the trees inside their borders.

34 He spoke, and the locusts came,
and caterpillars without number,

35 And they ate up all the plants in their land,
and devoured the fruit of their ground.

36 He also struck all the firstborn in their land,
the first of all their strength.

37 He also brought the people out with silver and gold,
and not one feeble person was among their tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed, for the fear of them had fallen on them.

39 He spread a cloud as a covering,
and fire to give light in the night.

40 The people asked, and he brought quail,
and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.

41 He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out.
They ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy promise, and his servant Abraham.

43 And he brought out his people with joy,
and his chosen with gladness,

44 And gave them the lands of the nations;
and they inherited the labour of the peoples,

45 That they might observe his statutes, and keep his laws.

"Praise the LORD" - in Hebrew "Hallelu Yah." See note at 104:35.

106:1-6 This psalm, like 78 and 105, is a review of the history of Israel, but the purpose here is different. Here we have a confession of Israel's many sins and a description of how God dealt with them because of their sins. The first 6 verses are an introduction. Then there are alternating portions describing Israel's sins and God's response. In v 7 we see Israel's sins in Egypt, in vs 13-33 their sins in the wilderness, and in vs 34-43 their sins in the land of Canaan. Of all their many sins three are repeated three times - forgetting (vs 7,13,21), rebellion (vs 7,33,43), and idolatry (vs 19,28,36-39).

The recurring lesson of the psalm is this: when God's people sin they must expect God's chastisement. He is a God of love, mercy and holiness, and so cannot let His people rebel and transgress His laws without punishing and disciplining them. That would be to encourage them to sin, and to ruin their character.

106:5 See 105:3; 118:15.

106:6 Like all the saints in the Bible the author knows that he and his generation are no better than the previous generation that sinned grievously against the Lord (1 Kings 8:47; Ezra 9:7; Neh 1:7; Jer 3:25; Dan 9:5).

106:7 "Did not remember" – forgetting God's gracious deeds is a sin that is the root cause of many other sins (78:1,41; Jud 3:7).

"Provoked him" – 78:17; Num 14:1-4, 10-12; Deut 1:26; 9:24.

106:13-33 Their sins in the wilderness were many and very grievous. These verses mention events recorded in Exodus chapters 15, 16, 17, 32 and Numbers chapters 11, 14, 16, 20, 25. They give a sad picture of continual unbelief and rebellion.

 and covered the company of Abiram.
 18 And a fire blazed in their company;
 the flame burned up the wicked.
 19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the cast metal image.
 20 Thus they exchanged their glory for the likeness of an ox that eats grass.
 21 They forgot God their saviour, who had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderful deeds in the land of Ham,
 and awe-inspiring things by the Red Sea.
 23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen one stood 24 Yes, they despised the pleasant land.

 They did not believe his word,

 and did not listen to the voice of the LORD.
 26 Therefore he raised his hand against them,
 to overthrow them in the desert, 27 To overthrow their offspring also among
 the nations,
 and to scatter them in the lands.
 28 They joined themselves also to Baal-Peor, and ate sacrifices made to the dead.
 29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds;
 and the plague broke out among them.

BOOK 5 (Psalms 107 - 150)

107

- 1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good,
for his mercy continues on forever.
- 2 Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he has redeemed from the hand of ground of hope for any of us.

106:47 See 147:2; 1 Chron 16:35,36; Dan 9:17-19.

106:48 See 41:13; 72:18; 89:52. Praise be to God for all His love, compassion, mercy, goodness, faithfulness and patience.

107:1 The great theme of this psalm is clear - God is good and worthy of all praise and thanksgiving. In His great goodness He watches over men and hears and answers prayer. After an introduction (vs 1-3), the writer in vs 4-32 gives four examples of God delivering men from trouble. Since God has done it, it is only right to give God thanks for it. This exhortation to give thanks is found in vs 1, 8, 15, 21, 31. It is found also in many other places in the Bible (106:1; 118:1; 136:1; 1 Chron 16:34; Jer 33:11; 1 Thess 5:18).

In vs 33-41 he speaks of God's judgments in the world (105:7). He is a great king over all the earth. Those who are really wise will be able to see something of God's wisdom, grace, and love in His dealings with mankind.

"Thanks" - 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

107:2 "Redeemed" - Isa 35:9,10; 62:12;

- the enemy,
 3 And gathered out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.
 4 They wandered in the wilderness in a desolate path;
 they found no city to dwell in.
 5 Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.
 6 Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he delivered them out of their distresses.
 7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city for their dwelling place.
 8 Oh, that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 and for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!
 9 For he satisfies the longing soul,
 and fills the hungry soul with goodness.
 10 Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
 bound in affliction and irons,
 11 Because they rebelled against the words of God, and despised the counsel of the Most High.
 12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour.

- They fell down, and there was no one to help.
 13 Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saved them out of their distresses.
 14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke their chains apart.
 15 Oh, that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 16 For he has broken the gates of brass,
 and cut through the bars of iron.
 17 Fools, because of their transgression, and because of their wicked deeds,
 are afflicted.
 18 Their soul abhors all kinds of food,
 and they draw near to the gates of death.
 19 Then they cry out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saves them out of their distresses.
 20 He sent his word, and healed them,
 and delivered them from what brought them down.
 21 Oh, that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
 and for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!

Rom 3:24; Eph 1:7; 1 Pet 1:18,19. Note at Ps 78:35.

"Say" – God's people must speak up and tell others what God has done for them (9:11; 73:28; 118:17; Matt 10:32; Acts 1:8; Rom 1:15,16; Rev 12:11).

107:3 Some scholars think this shows that this psalm was written after the return from the captivity in Babylon in the days of Ezra and Nehemiah. It may be so.

107:4-9 Here is the first example of God's deliverance in answer to prayer. It speaks of troubles encountered by exiles on the journey home. Though physical difficulties are here described, it would be no mistake for us to apply it also to the believer's spiritual pilgrimage now and the difficulties along that way.

107:6 This is what we should do always (34:6,17; 50:15; 91:14,15). If there is a sincere turning to God He will either bring us out of trouble, or give us grace and strength to endure trouble and make it all turn out for our good.

107:8 Verses 15,21,31.

107:9 See 22:26; 34:10; 63:5; 103:5; 146:7; Isa 55:1,2; Matt 5:6; John 4:14; Rev 22:17.

107:10-16 The second example of God's deliverance in answer to prayer. Though this is a picture of physical bondage these terms can speak to us of spiritual bondage too. Though this bondage was the result of sin, God did not reject the peoples' prayer when they turned to Him.

107:10 See 102:20; 143:3; Job 36:5; Isa 42:7; Micah 7:8; Luke 1:79.

107:11 See 78:40; 106:7; Lam 3:42. Rebellion against God will inevitably bring us into some kind of bondage.

107:14 See 86:13; 116:16; Jer 2:20; 30:8; Nahum 1:13; Luke 13:16.

107:16 Isa 45:1,2. No gate, no bars are strong enough to keep God's people locked in when He arises to deliver them (Acts 12:5-11).

107:17-22 The third example of God's deliverance in answer to prayer. The case here is of disease brought on by sin and rebellion. Those afflicted were at the point of death before they cried to the LORD (Jehovah) – v 18. In v 17 they are called "fools." Their foolishness is revealed by their sin and rebellion and by the fact that they waited so long to turn to God. But observe here God's great goodness. He answers even the prayers of fools when they seek Him. And He will begin the process of making them wise.

107:17,18 Lev 26:14-16.

107:19,20 See 30:2; 103:3; 147:3; 2 Kings 20:5; Jam 5:13-15.

- 22 And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his deeds with rejoicing.
- 23 Those who go down to the sea in ships,
who do business on great waters,
- 24 These see the deeds of the LORD,
and his wonders in the deep.
- 25 For he gives a command and raises the stormy wind,
which lifts up its waves.
- 26 They mount up into the sky;
they go down again to the depths;
their soul melts because of trouble.
- 27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man,
and are at their wits' end.
- 28 Then they cry out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he brings them out of their distresses.
- 29 He calms the storm, so that its waves become still.
- 30 Then they are glad, because they are quiet.
So he brings them to their desired haven.
- 31 Oh, that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
and for his wonderful deeds to the children of men!
- 32 Let them also exalt him in the congregation of the people,
and praise him in the assembly of the elders.
- 33 He turns rivers into a desert,
and springs of water into dry ground,
- 34 and a fruitful land into barrenness,
because of the wickedness of those who live in it.
- 35 He turns the desert into pools of water,

- and dry ground into springs of water.
- 36 And he causes the hungry to dwell there,
that they may prepare a city for habitation,
- 37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards,
which yield fruitful harvests.
- 38 He blesses them also, so that they greatly increase in number;
and he does not let their cattle decrease.
- 39 When they are diminished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow,
- 40 He pours contempt on princes,
and causes them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no path.
- 41 Yet he sets the poor on high,
away from affliction, and makes families for him like a flock.
- 42 The righteous will see it and rejoice, and all wickedness will shut its mouth.
- 43 Whoever is wise, and will observe these things, they will understand the loving kindness of the LORD.

A song, a Psalm of David

- 1 O God, my heart is steadfast.
I will sing and give praise,
even with my glory.
- 2 Awake, lyre and harp.
I myself will awaken early.
- 3 I will praise you, O LORD, among the peoples,
and I will sing praises to you among the nations.

107:22 See 50:14; 116:17; note at Lev 7:12,13.

107:23-32 The fourth example of God's deliverance in answer to prayer. The dangers to sailing vessels in a storm are very great. For New Testament pictures of this see Matt 8:23-27 and Acts 27:14-44. On the believer's life's voyage to the heavenly harbor also there are many dangers and difficulties.

107:25 Compare this with v 29. There was not one god who brought the storm and another who rescued them from the storm, as was thought in much of ancient mythology and even today by some people. There is only one true God and He both brings storms and causes them to cease.

107:27,28 When we don't know what to do we should turn to Him who always knows what to do and can also do it.

107:29 See 65:7; 89:9; Matt 8:26.

107:32 See 34:3; 99:5; Isa 25:1.

107:33-41 Here are other acts of Jehovah which reveal His absolute sovereignty in the affairs of men.

107:33,34 Lev 26:19; Deut 28:23,24; 1 Kings 17:1,7; Ps 74:15; Isa 42:15; 50:2.

107:35 See 105:41; 114:8; Isa 35:6,7; 41:18; 44:3.

107:40 This is taken from Job 12:21. An example of this is in Dan 4:28-33.

107:41 See 59:1; 113:7,8; 1 Sam 2:8.

107:42 The result of God's righteous judgments (52:6; 63:11; Job 40:4; Rom 3:19).

107:43 Great things can be learned about God's character by meditating on His deeds in the Bible.

108:1 This psalm is made up of parts of two others - 57:7-11 and 60:5-12. See notes on those psalms. We cannot be sure why or when this psalm was made this way, but we should notice that this is called a song, the other two are not. Sometimes to express praise and thanks to God for new mercies a new song is needed (96:1; 98:1). But sometimes old thoughts and old verses

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 4 For your mercy is great,
higher than the heavens;
and your truth reaches to the clouds.
- 5 Be exalted, O God, above the heavens,
and your glory above all the earth,
- 6 That your loved one may be delivered.
Give salvation with your right hand,
and answer me.
- 7 God has spoken in his holiness:
"I will rejoice;
I will divide Shechem, and measure out
the valley of Succoth.
- 8 Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
and Ephraim is the helmet for my head.
Judah is my lawgiver.
- 9 Moab is my wash pot.
Over Edom I will throw my sandal.
Over Philistia I will triumph."
- 10 Who will bring me into the strong city?
Who will lead me into Edom?
- 11 Will not you, O God, who rejected us?
And will not you, O God, go forth with our armies?
- 12 Give us help from trouble,
for useless is the help of man.
- 13 Through God we will do valiantly,
for he it is who will tread down our enemies.

- 1 Do not remain silent, O God of my praise.
- 2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful have opened against me.
They have spoken against me with a lying tongue.
- 3 They also surrounded me with words of hatred,
and fought against me without a cause.
- 4 In return for my love they are my accusers;
but I give myself to prayer.
- 5 And they have repaid me evil for good,
and hatred for my love.
- 6 Set a wicked man over him,
and let Satan stand at his right hand.
- 7 When he is judged, let him be condemned,
and let his prayer become sin.
- 8 Let his days be few, and let another take his position.
- 9 Let his children be fatherless,
and his wife a widow.

109:1 This is the last of the psalms which contain curses against enemies and it has the most terrible of these curses. For a note on this subject see 35:8. We should always remember when reading such psalms that they were written by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit and are not the writers' desires for personal vengeance. They set forth perfect justice under the law. For when the law was broken it brought a curse (see Gal 3:10,13; Deut 27:14-26). These curses speak of offended righteousness that demands just punishment for evil doers who will not repent.

Believers now are under the reign of grace and are not to make such prayers against enemies, but should imitate their Saviour and His disciples (Matt 5:43-45; Luke 23:34; Acts 7:59,60).

This psalm has been called the psalm of Iscariot because the apostle Peter applied some of the words of v 8 to Judas (Acts 1:20). No doubt this psalm perfectly describes the character of that wicked betrayer of the Lord Jesus.

109:2-5 In these verses David speaks of enemies in the plural. From v 6 he singles out an extremely wicked enemy and speaks of him alone up to v 20. In these opening verses the chief sins he charges against his enemies are slander and hatred. He showed them love; they responded with deadly malice. He lived a righteous life; they eagerly poured out lies about him. How much more true all this was in the case of the Lord Jesus than in David's. Slander is one of the worst of sins. Violence may destroy a man's property or his life; slander is an attempt to destroy his name, reputation, and ministry.

109:4 "Accusers" – 35:12; 38:20. This is the exact opposite of Christ's standard of right behavior (Luke 6:27-31).

"Prayer" – there is always a place where the suffering believer can find help and strength – God's presence.

109:5 John 10:31,32; 15:18,23-25.

109:6-20 This is a cry for exact justice to fall on a man who has abandoned himself to wickedness; a prayer in accordance with principles revealed in such verses as 18:26; Ex 21:23-25; Lev 26:23,24; Prov 24:12.

109:6 Wicked men deserve wicked opponents. "Wicked man" could be translated "the wicked one."

"Satan" – compare Zech 3:1.

109:7 "Condemned" – he slandered and judged others harshly; let him be judged for his evil deeds.

"Prayer" – Prov 28:9. A wicked, unrepentant man's prayers will be selfish, hypocritical, and unbelieving, and so will work for his condemnation.

109:8 "Few" – 55:23.

"His position" – Acts 1:20. A man who does not use his office for God's glory and men's good, deserves to have it taken away from him.

109:9 Ex 22:24; Jer 18:21. This evil man

- 10 Let his children continually be vagabonds and beg;
let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.
- 11 Let a creditor seize all that he has, and let strangers plunder his labour.
- 12 Let there be no one to extend mercy to him, no one to show favour to his fatherless children.
- 13 Let his offspring be cut off, and in the following generation let their name be blotted out.
- 14 Let the wickedness of his fathers be remembered before the LORD, and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.
- 15 Let them continually be before the LORD, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth,
- 16 Because he did not remember to show mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even kill the heartbroken.
- 17 Since he loved cursing, so let it come to him; since he did not delight in blessing, so let it be far from him.
- 18 Since he clothed himself with cursing as with his garment, so let it enter into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.
- 19 Let it be to him like the garment which covers him,
and like a belt tied around him continually.
- 20 Let this be the payment to my accusers, and to those who speak evil against my soul.

- 21 But you, O God the Lord, deal well with me for your name's sake.
Rescue me, because your mercy is good.
- 22 For I am poor and needy,
and my heart is wounded within me.
- 23 I am gone like the shadow when it lengthens.
I am shaken off like a locust.
- 24 My knees are weak through fasting,
and my flesh is thin and feeble.
- 25 And I became an object of scorn to them.
When they looked at me they shook their heads.
- 26 Help me, O LORD my God!
Oh, save me according to your mercy,
- 27 That they may know that this is your hand,
that you, LORD, have done it.
- 28 Let them curse, but you bless.
When they arise, let them be ashamed,
but let your servant rejoice.
- 29 Let my accusers be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their own disgrace, as with a cloak.
- 30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my mouth;
yes, I will praise him among the great crowd.
- 31 For he stands at the right hand of the poor,
to save him from those who condemn him.

A Psalm of David

- 1 The LORD said to my Lord,
"Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool."

cared nothing for widows and orphans (compare John 12:4-6). Now he must reap the fruit of his loveless and selfish behavior.

109:10 See 59:15; Ex 20:5 (note); Job 30:5-8.

109:11 A judgment God may bring on evil men (Isa 1:7; Lam 5:2; Ezek 7:21).

109:12 He did not show mercy to others (v 16); now let him be judged in accordance with his own behavior.

109:13 See 9:5; 21:10; 37:28; Prov 10:7.

109:14 Num 14:18; Neh 4:5; Isa 65:6,7; Jer 18:23; 32:18.

109:15 See 34:16; Jer 16:17.

109:16 Justice cries out against such evil persons and justice will eventually overtake them and bring them down.

109:17-19 This evil man loved to heap curses on others; now this righteous man by God's Holy Spirit calls down curses on him. He made cursing a continual part of his life; now let curses cleave to him.

109:20 See 54:5; 94:23; Isa 3:11; 2 Tim 4:14. No punishment will overtake the wicked man which he does not fully deserve.

109:21-28 In these verses David speaks to God of his own sad condition and appeals for help.

109:21 Foremost in David's thinking is not his need, but God's glory (23:3; 25:11; 79:9; 106:8). What a contrast this is with the character of wicked men!

109:22 "Needy" - 40:17; 86:1.

"Wounded" - 143:4; Job 24:12; Prov 18:14.

109:23 "Shadow" - 102:11. "Locust" here indicates a thing of no account.

109:24 See 35:13.

109:25 See 22:6,7; Jer 18:16; Lam 2:15; Matt 27:39.

109:26,27 He wants God to be known in the help He gives.

109:28 If God blesses us, let men curse us if they will. Their curses will come to nothing.

109:29 See 35:26; 132:18; Job 8:22.

109:30 See 22:22; 35:18; 111:1.

109:31 Contrast this with v 6. Satan stands at a man's right hand to accuse; the Lord stands there to save.

110:1 It is impossible to overestimate the

- 2 The LORD will send the rod of your strength out of Zion.
Rule in the midst of your enemies.
- 3 Your people will be willing in the day of your power, in the beauties of holiness, from the womb of the morning.

- You have the dew of your youth.
- 4 The LORD has sworn, and will not repent:
"You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek."
- 5 The Lord is at your right hand.
He will strike through kings in the day of his wrath.

importance of this psalm. It is one of the most significant of all the psalms concerning the Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ, and is the one most often quoted or referred to in the New Testament (Matt 22:41-45; Mark 12:35-37; Luke 20:41-44; Acts 2:34,35; 1 Cor 15:25; Heb 1:13; 5:6; 7:17,21; 10:13. All references in the New Testament to Christ at God's right hand are based on the first verse of this psalm – Matt 26:64; Mark 14:62; 16:19; Luke 22:69; Rom 8:34; Eph 1:20; Col 3:1; Heb 1:3; 8:1; 10:12; 12:2; 1 Pet 3:22).

In this psalm we have words of the Most High God spoken to one called David's Lord. How could David know that God spoke to his Lord, or what He said? See Mark 12:36. God's Spirit revealed God's words to David. The Messiah was to be the son of David (2 Sam 7:16; Matt 1:1; 9:27; 12:23; 21:9; 22:42; John 7:42; Rom 1:3; Rev 22:16). How then could He be David's Lord? The answer is He is far greater than David, being not merely David's Lord but the Lord of all lords and of all men (Acts 10:36; Rom 14:9; Phil 2:10,11; 1 Tim 6:15; Rev 19:16), the Lord from heaven (1 Cor 15:47). He is David's son but He is also God's Son, sharing God's nature and seated now with God on His throne (Rev 3:21). There He will sit at God's right hand until the hour strikes for the putting down of all earthly power and His coming to reign openly over the whole earth. See 2:8,9.

110:2 The first sentence means that God will extend his rule. This verse seems to speak of a time before Christ's enemies become a footstool for His feet, a time when He rules in their midst, without their destruction. The rule begins from Jerusalem and is extended from there to other places. This suggests the secret rule of Christ now over His church and in the affairs of men, and the spread of His Gospel throughout the world (Matt 28:18-20; Luke 24:46,47; John 17:2; Acts 2:32,33; Rev 1:5).

At present many of Christ's enemies are still very much in places of authority on earth, but in the midst of them His power is displayed in the conversion of sinners and the protection of His Church, and no one can thwart His purposes or overturn His rule and authority (2:2-6; Matt 28:18-20; John 17:2). He overturns kingdoms and governments as He will, exalts one man to power and puts down another, even though they may not have the slightest knowledge of this. And in all of this He is working out His great plan.

110:3 "Be willing" could be translated "offer themselves" (compare Rom 12:1).

"Day of your power" – or "day of your army." This whole age of grace is Christ's "day of power" mentioned here, and His people gladly enlist under His banner and go forth to fight in His spiritual battle (Eph 6:10-18; 2 Tim 2:3). Christ wants no grudging service but only that which is hearty, voluntary, loving. Some commentators think that "beauties of holiness" may refer to the holy, beautiful garments worn by priests in Old Testament days (Ex 28:4; Lev 16:4). The mighty conquering King depicted in this psalm is a priest, as we see from the next verse, and all those who form His army are priests in the New Testament sense of the word (note at Ex 28:1). But the garments they are to wear are robes of righteousness and holy living. The last phrase perhaps could be translated "Your young men will come to you like the dew." They will be like the dew in its myriads of drops, fresh every morning, sparkling and clean, not produced by man's activities but by God (compare Micah 5:7).

110:4 The prophecy concerning Christ in this verse is introduced by very solemn words. God has made a promise, a decree, and there is no possibility of changing it. The decree is this: Christ shall be the priest for His people, not as Aaron was, but as Melchizedek was (see Gen 14:18-20). By this one word, God revealed His plan to lay aside the covenant He made through Moses at Sinai with its priesthood and animal sacrifices – Hebrews chapters 7-10. The priesthood and sacrifices under the law were mere shadows and pictures and types. Christ's sacrifice of Himself and His eternal priesthood are the reality – Ex 25:9; 28:1; Lev 1:2; Heb 8:2,5; 10:1. Through Him we can come directly into God's presence by a new and living way – Heb 10:19-22.

110:5 It is difficult to know who is speaking in this verse and to whom he is speaking. Is it the LORD (Jehovah) continuing to speak to Christ? Or is David speaking to Jehovah? Or David speaking to Christ? Perhaps the question does not need an answer. Jehovah and Christ are so completely at one in their purposes and work that anything such as this that can be said of one can also be said of the other. Christ is the incarnation of Jehovah. Certainly the two verses that follow speak of Christ. The day of His wrath is the time of judgment at the end of this age – 2 Thess 1:6-9; Rev 6:15-17; 11:18;

- 6 He will judge among the nations.
He will fill the places with dead bodies.
He will crush the head of many countries.
- 7 He will drink from the brook by the wayside;
therefore he will lift up the head.

- 1 Praise the LORD!
I will praise the LORD with my whole heart,
in the assembly of the upright,
and in the congregation.
- 2 The works of the LORD are great, sought out by all those who have pleasure in them.
- 3 His work is honourable and glorious,
and his righteousness continues on forever.
- 4 He has caused his wonderful deeds to be remembered.
The LORD is gracious and full of compassion.
- 5 He has given food to those who fear him.
He will always keep his covenant in mind.
- 6 He has shown his people the power of his works,

by giving them the inheritance of the heathen.

- 7 The works of his hands are in truth and justice.
All his commandments are sure;
8 They stand firm forever and ever,
and are done in truth and uprightness.
- 9 He sent redemption to his people.
He ordained his covenant forever.
His name is holy and awe-inspiring.
- 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom.
All those who do his commands have good understanding.
His praise continues forever.

112

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Blessed is the man who fears the LORD,
who delights greatly in his commandments.

15:1; 16:1; 19:15.

110:6 "Judge" – Isa 2:4; Joel 3:12; John 5:22,23,27; Acts 10:42; 17:31.

"Head" – in Hebrew the word is in the singular. This "head" or ruler may refer to the one in the New Testament called the antichrist, the lawless one, the "beast" (in Revelation chapter 13). He will lead his armies against Christ and will be utterly crushed – Rev 19:19-21; 2 Thess 2:3-8.

110:7 The victorious King-Priest is here seen pursuing His enemies on the field of battle. He shall not be wearied in the fight until all ungodliness and opposition are put down. Compare Ps 45:3-5.

"He will drink from the brook by the wayside" – someone has suggested the translation "The One who grants succession will set him in authority." This fits the context well, but the translation is very questionable.

111:1 "Praise the LORD" – see 104:35, and note on praise at 33:1.

"With my whole heart" – the highest and best occupation of men is praising God. To do it properly requires all of our faculties, our whole heart. Half-hearted praise is hardly praise at all – it may even imply criticism.

111:2 See 92:5; 40:5; 143:5. This is the theme of this psalm. God's works are worthy of all praise and should be the constant subject of our meditation. The more we study and understand them the more wonderful they appear.

111:3 "Forever" is one of the key thoughts of this psalm – vs 3, 5, 8, 9, 10. Whatever God is He is that forever. He is the eternally unchanging one – Heb 1:12; 13:8.

111:4 See 86:5,15; 103:8; 145:8; Ex 34:6.

111:5 "Given food" – 37:25; Ex 16:13-35; Matt 6:31-33.

"Always" – 105:8,42; Luke 1:72; Heb 6:17,18.

111:6 Num 21:1-3,21-25,33-35; Josh 6:1,2; 10:40-43; 24:2-13.

111:7,8 See 19:7,9; 93:5; 119:160; Isa 40:8; Matt 5:18; Rev 15:3.

111:9 "Redemption" – Ex 20:2; Deut 7:8; Luke 1:68; Eph 1:7. Note at Ps 78:35.

"Awe-inspiring" – 99:3; Luke 1:49; Ex 20:7; Deut 28:58-61.

111:10 Job 28:28; Prov 1:7; 9:10. Other notes on the fear of the Lord at 34:11-14; Gen 20:11; etc. Without the fear of the Lord there is not even the beginning of wisdom. A man may have a powerful intellect, vast learning, and great skills, but if he does not have the fear of God he does not have wisdom. He may know all philosophy and all religion, but without the fear of God he does not have wisdom. He may think he is wise and others may think he is wise, but if he does not have the fear of God he does not have wisdom. See here what the fear of the Lord is and what it causes a person to do. True wisdom is not merely in knowing; it is in doing. A man who will not set himself to obey the God of the universe as revealed in the Bible is far from being wise.

112:1 "Praise the LORD" – note at 104:35. This psalm and the preceding one make a pair. Psalm 111 speaks of the LORD's (Jehovah's) righteousness and works, this psalm speaks of the believer's righteousness and works. In this psalm we see the result in human hearts of the work of the God of psalm 111. Perhaps this is the greatest of all God's works. If there is any

- 2 His offspring will be powerful on earth.
The generation of the upright will be blessed.
- 3 Wealth and riches will be in his house,
and his righteousness continues on forever.
- 4 To the upright light dawns in the darkness.
He is gracious, and full of compassion,
and righteous.
- 5 A good man is gracious and lends.
He will conduct his dealings with discretion.
- 6 Surely he will never be shaken.
The righteous will be kept in everlasting remembrance.
- 7 He will not be afraid of bad news.
His heart is steadfast, trusting in the LORD.
- 8 His heart is established;
he will not be afraid, until he sees his desire fulfilled on his enemies.
- 9 He has dispersed, he has given to the poor;
his righteousness continues on for ever.
His horn will be exalted with honour.
- 10 The wicked will see it, and be grieved;
he will gnash his teeth, and waste away.

The desire of the wicked will perish.

113

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Praise, O servants of the LORD,
praise the name of the LORD!
- 2 Blessed be the name of the LORD from this time on and forevermore.
- 3 From the rising of the sun to its setting the LORD's name is to be praised.
- 4 The LORD is high above all nations,
and his glory above the heavens.
- 5 Who is like the LORD our God, who dwells on high,
- 6 Who humbles himself to look at the things in heaven, and on the earth?
- 7 He raises the poor out of the dust,
and lifts the needy from the ash heap,
- 8 That he may set him with princes,

genuine righteousness in any man Jehovah is the one to be praised for it.

"Blessed" – note at 1:1; etc.

"Fears" – fearing the Lord is always closely connected with keeping His commands – 111:10.

112:2-9 See 102:28; 127:4.

112:3 "Riches" – Prov 3:16; 8:18. In Old Testament times the giving of wealth and riches was frequently God's way of rewarding righteous behavior. In the New Testament spiritual wealth and riches are emphasized – Matt 6:19-21; 1 Tim 6:7-9.
See Ps 1:3. And Jesus proclaimed a blessing on the poor – Luke 6:20,24; 12:33.

"Forever" – the same words spoken of God in 111:3 are here spoken of those who fear Him. This is because their righteousness is from Him, is His gift – 1 Cor 1:30,31;
Phil 3:8,9.

112:4 "Dawns" – 97:11; Prov 4:18. In times of darkness, doubt, and confusion those who are upright will see the right path when no one else knows what to do. They are gracious and compassionate because of God's work in them (compare Eph 4:24).

112:5 See 37:21. This is one example of the kindness and compassion God wants to see in His people.

112:6 "Shaken" – 15:5; 55:22.

"Everlasting" – Prov 10:7. Long after the great and mighty of earth have been forgotten the humble and righteous believer will be remembered before God.

112:7,8 Prov 1:33. Those who fear the LORD need not fear any thing or anyone else (Matt 10:28; Heb 13:6). God will deal with their enemies at the proper time and make all things work for their good.

112:9 Note at Ps 41:1.

112:10 The wicked cannot endure it when the righteous are exalted – 35:16; 37:12; Prov 10:28; 11:7. Hatred of good and envy of others are two of their ruling passions.

113:1 This begins a series of six psalms of praise which Israel used at their great religious festivals (Leviticus chapter 23). At the time of the Passover especially, psalms 113 and 114 were sung before the meal, and 115 – 118 after the meal. All six psalms emphasize the greatness and goodness of God, and call on His people to praise and thank Him. We cannot reasonably expect God to give us blessings in the future if we will not thank Him for those in the past.

In this psalm God's greatness is set forth in the first six verses and His goodness in the last three verses. In the opening verse God's servants are called on to praise Him.
True service should result in praise, and the praise must not be to the servants but to God who gives them the privilege of serving
– 115:1.

"Praise the LORD" – note at 104:35.

113:2 God's name is His character. Praising His name is not a repetition of one or another of His names but a joyful recognition of His nature and qualities (33:1).

113:3 From east to west in all places and at all times the true God is worthy of praise –
Isa 24:15; 45:6; 59:19.

113:4-6 The LORD (Jehovah) is no local deity, the God of one nation only. He is the mighty Creator, so exalted that to view the heavens and earth He must stoop down
(99:2; 138:6; Isa 40:15,22).

113:7-9 Here God's goodness and compassion come into view. Though He is so great He has regard for the poor, the humble, the needy – 35:10; 68:10; 107:41; Gen
16:7-10; 21:17-19; 1 Sam 2:8; Isa
57:15.

with the princes of his people.

- 9 He causes the barren woman to keep house,
and to be a joyful mother of children.
Praise the LORD!

114

- 1 When Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of foreign language,
2 Judah was God's sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.
3 The sea saw it and fled;
the Jordan turned back.
4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.
5 What ailed you, O sea, that you fled?
O Jordan, that you turned back?
6 O mountains, that you skipped like rams?
O little hills, like lambs?
7 Tremble, you earth, at the presence of
the Lord,
at the presence of the God of Jacob,

Who turned the rock into a pool of water,
the flint into a spring of waters.

115

- 1 Not to us, O LORD, not to us,
but to your name give glory, because of your mercy and because of your truth.
2 Why should the nations say,
"Now where is their God?"
3 But our God is in heaven.
He does whatever he pleases.
4 Their idols are silver and gold,
the work of men's hands.
5 They have mouths, but they do not speak.
They have eyes, but they do not see.
6 They have ears, but they do not hear.
They have noses, but they do not smell.
7 They have hands, but they do not feel.
They have feet, but they do not walk.
Nor do they speak with their throat.
8 Those who make them are like them;

113:9 It is Jehovah God who gives children or withholds them – Gen 16:1,2; 20:17,18; 21:1,2; 25:21; 29:31; 30:22; 1 Sam 1:2,19,20.

114:1 This is a psalm about the exodus from Egypt in bold metaphor and beautiful poetic imagery (81:10; Ex 13:3; Lev 26:3).

114:2 The nation of Israel became God's home on earth, the people of His kingdom – Ex 19:5,6; 25:8; 29:46. God is so exalted He must stoop to see the heavens and earth (113:5,6), but He is so loving that He comes to dwell with a sinful, stubborn nation.

114:3 Ex 14:21,22; 15:10; Josh 3:14-17. God's power was revealed in His control of nature's elements (compare Matt 8:23-27).

114:4-6 Ex 19:18,19; Jud 5:5; 2 Sam 22:8; Ps 18:7; 29:6.

114:7 Ex 15:14; 1 Chron 16:30; Heb 12:25-29. Note on the God of Jacob at 146:5.

114:8 An example of God's loving care for His people – Ex 17:6; Num 20:11; 1 Cor 10:3,4.

115:1 This psalm gives us a contrast between the LORD (Jehovah God) and the idols worshiped as gods by the nations. He is in heaven; they are on earth. He is the possessor of all things, for He is the Creator; idols have been made by men, and have made nothing and can possess nothing themselves. He does whatever He wishes; they can do nothing at all. His worshipers will be blessed forever; their worshipers will be as useless to God as the gods they worship. On this solid foundation the psalmist exhorts God's people to trust God and praise God. The desire of all of God's true servants is that glory might come to God in everything. Those who serve to obtain fame, money, position, or glory from men are not true servants of God at all (and, alas, there are a great many such people even in Christian circles). God should have all the glory for He is a God of grace and truth who alone saves, protects and blesses His people and enables them to serve.

115:2 See 42:3. All true children of God will be sad at the reproaches of godless people. Because they cannot see our God, some people will vainly imagine that we have none.

115:3 But the true God is in heaven where He should be, ruling over the universe. None of His plans will fail, no one can defeat His purposes – 135:6; Isa 14:27; Dan 4:35.

115:4-11 Compare 135:15-20. Here we can see the folly of worshiping what man has made rather than the God who made man. It is seen also in Isa 40:18-26; 44:9-20, and other places.

115:5 The living God gives messages, but idols can give none (Jer 10:5). Perhaps one of the reasons for the popularity of idols is just this – they can't see what is going on, or say anything about it.

115:6 No prayer is ever heard by an idol. The living God can hear anyone anytime – 65:2.

115:8 Idol worshipers become like their idols. They are unable to speak God's messages, see God's truth, hear God's voice, or do anything at all for God. They have no spiritual understanding or ability, just as idols have none. And in God's eyes they become worthless, just as their idols are worthless – so is everyone who trusts in them.

- 9 O Israel, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- 10 O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- 11 You who fear the LORD, trust in the LORD!
He is their help and their shield.
- 12 The LORD has kept us in mind.
He will bless us.
He will bless the house of Israel.
He will bless the house of Aaron.
- 13 He will bless those who fear the LORD,
both small and great.
- 14 The LORD will increase you more and more,
you and your children.
- 15 You are blessed by the LORD
who made heaven and earth.
- 16 The heaven, the heavens above, are the LORD's,
but the earth he has given to the
children of men.
- 17 The dead do not praise the LORD,
no one who goes down to silence.
- 18 But we will praise the LORD from this

time on and forevermore.
Praise the LORD!

116

- 1 I love the LORD, because he has heard my voice and my supplications.
- 2 Because he has bowed down his ear to me,
I will call to him as long as I live.
- 3 The cords of death surrounded me, and the pains of the unseen world took hold of me.
I found trouble and sorrow.
- 4 Then I called on the name of the LORD:
"O Lord, I beg you, rescue my soul!"
- 5 The LORD is gracious and righteous;
yes, our God is merciful.
- 6 The LORD preserves the simple.
I was brought low, and he helped me.
- 7 Return to your rest, O my soul,
for the LORD has been good to you.
- 8 For you have delivered my soul from death,
my eyes from tears,

Jer 2:5.

115:9-11 No one then or now has ever had any need to turn to idols. The living God is there to trust. He is someone who can come to our aid in every circumstance of life and give us perfect protection.

"Help" – 20:2; 33:20; Ex 18:4; Deut 33:29.

"Shield" – 3:3; 5:12; Gen 15:1. Trusting Him will result in complete protection and blessing.

115:12-15 The result of the writer's trust was the full confidence that He would bless His people. They are always in God's memory, in God's heart – 98:3; 111:5; Isa 49:15.

115:15 Gen 1:1; 14:19. If we are blessed by the Creator of the worlds it little matters what men may do to us – Heb 13:6.

115:16 The earth also is God's. But He has put it into man's hands – 8:6-8; Gen 1:28. However, man has sinned and made a ruin of things on earth.

115:17,18 That is, the dead do not praise God on earth (which is the viewpoint of the psalmist). The saved dead do praise God in heaven – Rev 7:9-17; 14:1-3; 15:2-4.

"Praise the LORD" – note at 104:35.

116:1 There are two main themes of this psalm – God's goodness and the psalmist's response to it. God's goodness is seen in hearing prayer (vs 1-4), in His gracious character revealed in His acts (vs 5,6), and in His work of deliverance (vs 8,9). The writer, experiencing God's goodness, makes five resolutions:

he resolves to be a man of prayer as long as he lives (v 2), to walk in God's presence (v 9),

to take the cup of salvation (v 13),
to publicly fulfill the promise made to God (vs 14,18),
and to offer thanksgiving offerings (v 17).

Believers today in the light of Christ's sacrifice on the cross can see God's goodness even more clearly than the author of this psalm. And with him they should lovingly ask "How can I repay the Lord for all His goodness to me?" Love for God is the greatest of all qualities (Deut 6:4-6; Matt 22:36-38; 1 Cor 13:13). Love for God is a result of His love for us (1 John 4:10). He hears prayer, He delivers from trouble, He displays His great goodness toward us, and so we come to love Him more and more.

116:2 Answered prayer should encourage us to resolve as he did. See also Luke 18:1; Eph 6:18; 1 Thess 5:17.

116:3,4 See 18:4,5; 80:18; 118:5; 2 Sam 22:6.

"Unseen world" (v 3) – "Sheol" – note at Gen 37:35.

116:5 This is why believers love Him. He is a God who has proved Himself in every way fully worthy of love. Three of His chief attributes are recorded in this verse (103:13; 129:4; 145:17; Ex 22:27; 34:16; John 17:25).

116:6 The worldly wise and crafty may think they can look out for themselves; the childlike believer has God's protection.

116:7 The believer's rest is in God alone (62:1; 131:2; Matt 11:29; Heb 4:1). And we can encourage ourselves to experience that rest.

116:8 A great deliverance! For God's and my feet from falling.

 9 I will walk before the LORD in the land
 of the living.
 10 I believed, therefore I spoke.
 I was greatly afflicted.
 11 I said in my haste: "All men are liars."
 12 What shall I do to repay the LORD for all his benefits toward me?
 13 I will take the cup of salvation,
 and call on the name of the LORD.
 14 I will now fulfil my vows to the LORD in the presence of all his people.
 15 Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.
 16 O LORD, truly I am your servant;
 I am your servant, and the son of your maid servant.
 You have loosed my bonds.
 17 I will offer to you the sacrifice of
 thanksgiving,
 and will call on the name of the LORD.
 18 I will now fulfil my vows to the LORD
 in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courts of the LORD's house,

in your midst, O Jerusalem.
 Praise the LORD!

117

- 1 Oh, praise the LORD, all you nations!
 Praise him, all you peoples!
- 2 For his merciful kindness is great toward us,
 and the truth of the LORD remains forever.
 Praise the LORD!

118

- 1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD,
 for he is good;
 because his mercy continues on forever.
- 2 Let Israel now say,
 "His mercy continues on forever."
- 3 Let the house of Aaron now say,
 "His mercy continues on forever."
- 4 Let those who fear the LORD now say, deliverance in some other matters see 7:1; 17:13; 22:20; 34:4; 39:8;

 41:1; 43:1; 51:14; 54:7; 56:13;
 69:14; 72:12; 79:9; 86:13; 91:3;
 107:6,20; 120:2; 144:7.

116:9 Here is the writer's second resolution. Many walk for the eyes of other men, concerned only with what others may think and say. The believer should learn to walk in God's presence to please Him alone. Compare 2 Cor 5:9.

116:10 2 Cor 4:13. Believing does not mean believers will escape all troubles. Indeed, their troubles in this world may be increased because they trust in Christ - John 15:19; 16:33; Acts 14:22; Rom 8:17; 2 Cor 1:5; 4:17; Phil 1:29; 1 Pet 4:12-16.

116:11 Though God has saved many people from sin, freed them from lying and made them people of honesty and integrity, on the whole men's words cannot be depended on (Jer 17:5; Rom 3:4). But not all men are liars.

116:12 Let all we who have tasted the Lord's goodness heartily ask this, and get God's answer.

116:13 Here is the writer's third resolution. "Cup" - 16:5; 23:5; Lev 23:13; Num 15:5; Matt 26:27. What more can he give God to repay Him for His goodness? - the joy of seeing him pray (147:11; 149:4). God commands us to pray - 1 Thess 5:17. He delights in the prayers of the upright (Prov 15:8).

116:14 Here is the writer's fourth resolution (compare 65:1; 66:13; Num 30:2; 1 Sam 1:11,21; Eccl 5:4).

116:15 God lovingly watches over the death of His people. He delights to have them released at last from the trials, pains, and troubles of this life. He gathers them to His bosom. Their death is precious to Him. What is precious in God's sight should not be despised in ours. Let us imitate the apostle Paul in this - Phil 1:21-24; 2 Cor 5:1-5. How great the gospel of Christ that makes the death of believers precious to God and a gain to themselves!

116:16 See 68:6; 107:14; Isa 61:1,2; Nahum 1:13; Luke 4:17-19.

116:17 Here is the writer's fifth resolution. Notes at 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

116:18,19 He wanted all to know God's goodness to him. Anyone who is trying to be a secret believer should take such verses to heart.

"Praise the LORD" - note at 104:35.

117:1 This is the shortest chapter in the Bible, but it is long in meaning.

"Praise the LORD" - note at 104:35. The God of the Bible (Jehovah), has made all nations. Any real blessings they have He has given. All peoples, then, should praise and glorify Him. And all nations will yet praise Him - this psalm has prophetic overtones. It points to a time when all nations will come to know Him. We know that God sent Christ to die for all and that people from all nations will receive Him by faith.

117:2 These are good reasons why He should be praised by all nations - He is the God of grace and truth.

118:1-4 This is the last of the psalms of praise (starting with 113) which the Jews used to sing at their religious festivals, especially at the Passover. As some think, it may have been the hymn sung by Jesus

"His mercy continues on forever."

- 5 I called on the LORD in my distress;
the LORD answered me, and set me in a spacious place.
- 6 The LORD is on my side; I will not be afraid. What can man do to me?
- 7 The LORD is with me among those who help me,
therefore I will see my desire fulfilled on those who hate me.
- 8 It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in man.
- 9 It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in princes.
- 10 All nations surrounded me, but in the name of the LORD I destroyed them.
- 11 They surrounded me; yes, they came all around me,
but in the name of the LORD I destroyed
them.
- 12 They surrounded me like bees;

- they were quenched like fire among thorns;
for in the name of the LORD
I destroyed them.
- 13 You pushed me violently to make me fall;
but the LORD helped me.
- 14 The LORD is my strength and song,
and has become my salvation.
- 15 The sound of rejoicing and salvation is
in the tents of the righteous.
The right hand of the LORD does valiantly.
- 16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted.
The right hand of the LORD does valiantly.
- 17 I will not die, but live,
and declare the deeds of the LORD.
- 18 The LORD has chastened me severely,
but he has not given me over to death.
- 19 Open to me the gates of righteousness.
I will go through them,
and I will praise the LORD.
- 20 This is the gate of the LORD, through which the righteous enter.

and His disciples the night of their last Passover together (Matt 26:30). What psalm could have been better suited to the occasion? This is a psalm of victory over enemies, a song of the conqueror over all opposition. Though the events after the last Passover of Jesus for a little while looked like defeat, this state of affairs was only temporary. Jesus, despised and rejected by men, rose victoriously from the dead and became the great cornerstone of the New Testament Church.

In this psalm the basis for the call to praise is God's goodness and love. Though we are not of Israel's or Aaron's descendants, if we fear the Lord we are included in this invitation to praise. The God of the Bible is good. His nature is good, His plans are good, His motives are good, His acts are good. He alone is fully, perfectly, eternally good (Mark 10:18). He is a gracious God and will be eternally so (Eph 2:7). Never were His goodness and grace more clearly revealed than at the events surrounding the crucifixion of the Lord Jesus.

"Thanks" - 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

118:5 See 18:6; 31:7; 77:2; 120:1; Heb 5:7. This is the best possible thing to do in times of trouble. Jehovah is a God who answers - 18:19; 31:8; 34:4; 66:12; 86:7; 116:1; 138:3.

118:6,7 Deut 31:6; 33:29; Josh 1:5; Heb 13:5,6. If God is with us, man can do nothing to us except what God permits. Why then should we fear frail men when the Almighty is our protector?

118:8,9 Men may deceive and fail us. God never will. Princes too are but men with all man's failings. It is sad to see men neglecting the almighty refuge and unflinching help God gives and seeking the favor of men whose authority is only for a brief time on earth. Verse 8 is the central verse of the Bible; it also gives a central truth.

118:10-12 See 3:6; 37:9; 88:17. The presence, the help, and the name of the Lord give great confidence (1 Sam 17:45-47; 2 Chron 14:11,12; 32:6-8).

118:13 If the Lord helped him why was he pushed back and about to fall? God knows how to test our faith, and when to come to our rescue.

118:14 See 18:1; 28:7; 31:4; 62:2.

118:15 Eventually the righteous will gain full and perfect victory, and eternal joy shall be theirs.

118:16 He knows that victory and salvation and deliverance are God's work and not man's. And he wants God to have all the glory. Compare Eph 1:6,12,14.

118:17 See 64:9; 71:16; 73:28; Deut 32:3; Acts 1:8.

118:18 The attacks of enemies, his dangers and troubles have been God's chastening to make him more trusting, more faithful, more holy (compare Jer 31:18; 1 Cor 11:32; Heb 12:5-11).

118:19,20 The gates of righteousness are the only gates that open into the presence of the righteous God. He has made these gates to shut out all who persist in evil (compare Rev 21:25-27). To enter these gates we must first of all be clothed with Christ's righteousness and justified by His blood. Then as God's people if we want Him to hear our prayers and accept our worship we must have righteousness of life (15:1-5; 18:23,24; 66:18).

"Gates" - 100:4; Matt 7:13,14; John 10:7,8; Ps 100:4; Isa 26:2; 60:18; 62:10; Rev 22:14.

- 21 I will praise you, for you have heard me,
and have become my salvation.
- 22 The stone which the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone.
- 23 This is the LORD's doing.
It is marvellous in our eyes.
- 24 This is the day which the LORD has made.
We will rejoice and be glad in it.
- 25 Save now, I pray, O LORD.
O Lord, I pray, now send success.
- 26 Blessed is he who comes in the name of
the LORD.
We have blessed you from the house of
the LORD.
- 27 God is the LORD, and he has shown us light.

- Bind the sacrifice with cords to the horns of the altar.
- 28 You are my God, and I will praise you.
You are my God; I will exalt you.
- 29 Oh, give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good;
for his mercy continues on forever.

ALEPH

- 1 Blessed are the undefiled in the way,
who walk in the law of the Lord.

118:21 Answered prayer should produce thankful hearts.

118:22,23 The Lord Jesus applied these verses to Himself. See Matt 21:42. See also Acts 4:10,11; 1 Pet 2:7; Eph 2:20; Isa 28:16. The "builders" of the Jewish society rejected the Lord Jesus (Matt 26:63-68; John 1:13; Isa 53:3), but He has become the cornerstone of God's spiritual temple (Eph 2:19-22). God the Father took His despised and rejected Son and made Him the most important stone in His temple, the stone without which there would be no true building at all (the cornerstone is the stone with which the whole building is aligned). All this was the work of God and it should be marvelous in our eyes too.

118:24 Here "day" could mean the day when God laid this cornerstone of the New Testament Church, or it could mean this whole age of grace in which believers are to rejoice and be glad. "Day" sometimes means extended periods of time (Isa 34:8; John 9:4; 2 Cor 6:2).

118:25 In vs 23-27 the plural "we" appears. The author prays as the representative of all the people of God. We should not be content without increase, progress, success in our spiritual life and work.

118:26 Matt 21:9; Luke 13:35; 19:38; John 5:43. Those who are in the house of the Lord (God's presence) will praise Him (the Lord Jesus).

118:27 The LORD (Jehovah) is the one true God - 1 Kings 18:21,39; Isa 45:18,22. He alone gives spiritual light - 27:1; Num 6:25; Isa 58:10; 60:1,19,20; 2 Cor 4:4,6.

"Bind the sacrifice with cords to the horns of the altar" - this could also be translated "With boughs in hand, join in the festal procession up to the horns of the altar" or "Bind the festal sacrifice with ropes and take it up to the altar" (see the note on Hebrew at 14:7). Now believers in Christ are the sacrifice and the Lord Jesus the altar - Rom 12:1; Heb 13:10-14. Let us bind ourselves to Him completely, eternally with the cords of love. Let us never try to free ourselves from Him, or waver in our utter dedication to Him.

118:28 See 33:12; 146:5; Deut 33:29. If the God of the Bible is our God how blessed we are and how thankful we should be. And if He is our God we have no business exalting ourselves. He alone must be the object of our praise.

118:29 We return here to v 1 with, it is to be hoped, a fuller understanding of God's goodness and grace from the study of this psalm.

119:1 This sublime psalm is a hymn of praise for the Word of God. In nearly every verse the writer uses one word or another to indicate God's revelation - law, word, testimonies, judgments, etc. It is divided into 22 sections according to the 22 letters of the Hebrew alphabet. In Hebrew each line of a particular section begins with the same letter of the alphabet. It is the believer's alphabet of the praise, love, and use of God's Word.

God's Word applied as the writer does in this psalm is the only way to a truly spiritual life. In this connection remember that Jesus Christ is the living Word of God, the alpha and omega of all God has to say to man. We cannot separate the Lord Jesus from the written Word of God. When we apply it by God's Spirit, we are drawing power, strength, and grace from the Lord Jesus. As love for the Word of God grows in us so does our love for the Lord Jesus grow and so does every flower of grace in our lives.

Ps 1:1-3 gives us the theme of the book of Psalms. Here the way of blessedness, briefly described there, is fully revealed. Here in v 1 (and throughout this psalm) the Hebrew word translated "law" also means "instruction", "teaching." God wants people to be blessed, so He gave us His Word. Blessing comes, not from merely having His Word, or listening to it, or teaching and preaching it, but from obeying it. Happiness results from holiness and eternal joy will come when believers are completely conformed to God's Word. See other notes on blessing at Gen 12:3; Num 6:22-27; Deut 28:3-14; Matt 5:3-14; Luke 11:28; Acts 3:26; Gal 3:9,14; Eph 1:3.

- 2 Blessed are those who keep his testimonies, and who seek him with their whole heart.
- 3 They also do no evil; they walk in his ways.
- 4 You have commanded us to keep your precepts diligently.
- 5 Oh, that my ways were directed to keep your statutes!
- 6 Then I would not be ashamed, when I pay attention to all your commandments.
- 7 I will praise you with uprightness of heart, when I learn your righteous judgments.
- 8 I will keep your statutes.
Oh, do not utterly forsake me.

BETH

- 9 How can a young man make his way clean?
By keeping watch on it according to your word.
- 10 I have sought you with my whole heart.
Oh, do not let me wander from your commandments.
- 11 Your word I have hidden in my heart, that I might not sin against you.
- 12 Blessed are you, O LORD.
Teach me your statutes.
- 13 With my lips I have declared all the judgments of your mouth.
- 14 I have rejoiced in the way of your testimonies,
as much as in all riches.

119:2 "Testimonies" – means God's instruction through His law, or revealed word.

"Seek" – we cannot walk in God's ways without seeking God and His grace, power, and presence. The more we truly seek God the more we will experience Him, the more obedient we will learn to be, and the more blessing we will have. The believer's life should be a constant seeking and finding (1 Chron 16:11; Matt 7:7,8). This seeking must be with the "whole heart" – completely sincere, coming out of an understanding of its importance and a deep longing for God's presence (Deut 4:29; Jer 29:13).

119:3 Those who do not live according to verses 1 and 2 will not walk in God's ways. They will inevitably do wrong, and will fail to learn what true blessedness is.

119:4 God's commands are not given merely to instruct the mind but to change the life. Our religion is vain if we do not try to do what God tells us – Matt 7:21-23; Luke 11:27,28; John 14:15,21; 15:10; 1 John 5:3.

"Precepts" – means rules of conduct.

119:5 He implies that he is not yet fully experiencing the blessed life he has described. But though He knows his own weakness, sinfulness, and failure, he longs with all his heart to experience that blessed life. It is very important what our aims are. If we are content with poor spiritual standards and experience we will make little progress in the spiritual life.

"Statutes" – means things ordained or prescribed by law.

119:6 "Ashamed" – vs 46,80; 1 John 2:28.

119:7 The more a believer understands God's Word the more he should be filled with thanksgiving for it. The Bible is one of God's exceedingly wonderful gifts to men.

"Judgments" – here means decisions made with justice, declarations of the lawgiver.

119:8 See 27:9; 38:21; 71:9,18. He is resolved to live according to God's Word. Then why does he plead with God not to forsake him? He is aware that in spite of his good resolutions and sincere determination he has failed before and may well fail again (see v 176). He realizes that if God in His holiness and justice would treat him according to his sins, God would forsake him completely. Believers should value very highly indeed the promises of God not to forsake them (37:28; 94:14; 118:6; Deut 4:31; 31:6; Isa 41:17; Heb 13:5). If God seems to forsake them, it is only partial and temporary.

119:9 Surely this is one of the most important questions a young man can ask, and one of the highest ambitions he can have. The answer is clearly given in this and the following verses. Purity of life comes from using the Word of God (v 9), seeking God for His grace and power to do so (v 10), keeping His Word at the center of our thoughts and desires (v 11), learning from God Himself the meaning of His Word (v 12), speaking of God's Word when one has learned it (v 13), and rejoicing, meditating, and delighting in it (vs 14-16).

119:10 Verse 2. It is easy to stray from God's commandments. To do so is the natural tendency of our fallen natures. Hence the necessity of seeking God with the whole heart.

119:11 Deut 6:6-8. In the believer's fight against sin hardly anything is so important as the Word of God (John 15:3,7; Eph 6:17; Col 3:16,17). It must occupy a central place in our thoughts, hopes, ambitions, desires, and meditations. It must be at the very spring of our actions. Observe that sin is against God – see 51:4.

119:12 If we are kept from sin this should not make us congratulate ourselves, but praise God who has done it. Nine times in this psalm the writer asks God to teach him – vs 12, 26, 33, 64, 66, 68, 108, 124, 135. See also 25:4,5; 143:8,10. This indicates the value he put on it and the earnestness with which he sought it.

119:13 The author delights to speak forth God's laws because they have come from the very mouth of God (v 72; Deut 8:3; Matt 4:4).

119:14 The greatest possible joy comes

- 15 I will meditate on your precepts, and pay attention to your ways.
16 I will delight myself in your statutes.
I will not forget your word.

GIMEL

- 17 Do good to your servant that I may live and keep your word.
18 Open my eyes that I may see wonderful things from your law.
19 I am a stranger on earth.
Do not hide your commandments from me.
20 My soul breaks with the longing that it has for your judgments at all times.
21 You rebuke the proud, who are accursed, who go astray from your commandments.
22 Remove reproach and contempt from me,
for I have kept your testimonies.
23 Princes also sit and speak against me; but your servant meditates on your statutes.

- 24 Your testimonies also are my delight and
my counsellors.

DALETH

- 25 My soul clings to the dust.
Revive me in accordance with your word.
26 I declared my ways, and you answered me.
Teach me your statutes.
27 Make me understand the way of your precepts;
so I will meditate on your wonderful works.
28 My soul melts from heaviness.
Strengthen me according to your word.
29 Remove from me the way of lying,
and graciously grant me your law.
30 I have chosen the way of truth;
I have placed your judgments before me.
31 I cling to your testimonies.
O LORD, do not put me to shame.
32 I will run in the path of your commandments,
when you enlarge my heart.

from putting the Word of God into practice. Then it becomes more to us than silver and gold could ever be (v 72; 19:10; Prov 2:1-5). 119:15 Verses 97,148; 1:2.

119:16 See 112:1.

119:17 Judging from this verse and vs 22,23 the writer is in a time of trial and trouble. He knows what to do and is an example to all of us who are experiencing such things. He meditated on God's instructions (v 23), delighted in them (v 24), and resolved to put them into practice (v 17).

119:18 There are wonderful things in the Word of God which we will never see until God opens the eyes of our understanding. Well might we pray as the writer did here. See Luke 24:45; Eph 1:17,18.

119:19 "Stranger" – the Hebrew word indicates a foreigner or temporary resident. See Lev 25:23; Phil 3:20; Heb 11:13. Did he feel that perhaps God should hide truth from him if God acted toward him as he deserved?

119:20 See 42:2; 84:2. If we had the intense longing to know God's Word that he had, we would soon make great strides in the spiritual life.

119:21 See 5:5; Deut 27:26; Jer 20:7; 50:32; Dan 4:37.

119:22 See 39:8; 69:7; 79:4; Dan 9:16.

119:23 Verse 161; 31:13; 50:20; 101:5; 1 Pet 3:15,16.

119:24 The Word of God will infallibly teach us how to behave in a godless and hostile world.

119:25 See 44:25. Nine times in this psalm he asks God to revive him (vs 25, 37, 40, 88, 107, 149, 154, 156, 159) – indicating the importance of it in his eyes and the earnestness with which he sought it. A prayer for reviving means that he felt himself in a condition where his spiritual life seemed threatened. Whether this meant physical danger of death, or spiritual depression and need of revival he does not say. The Hebrew word could be used for either condition. One thing is sure – often when believers desire to rise to the heights of spiritual experience with God they feel bound to the dust, in a condition that seems to them more like spiritual death than life. When God renews them it will always be in accordance with His Word.

"Revive" – this is a translation of the same Hebrew word translated "revive" in Ps 85:6; 138:7; Isa 57:15; Hos 6:2; 14:7; Hab 3:2. It can mean "to keep alive" or "to give life", whether physical or spiritual life, "to quicken", "revive", "restore", "cause to grow."

119:26 He told God just what he had been doing. God wants us to be completely open and honest with Him and speak to Him as a child with a loving father (62:8; 142:1,2; Job 10:1,2).

"Teach" – v 12; 27:11; 86:11.

119:27 See 105:2; 145:5.

119:28 See 6:7; 116:3; Isa 51:11; Jer 45:3. This is sometimes the experience of godly men in this hostile world, and we will often need to pray as he did.

119:29 See 26:4; 101:7. He wanted nothing to do with deceit himself or with anyone who engaged in it.

119:30 See 26:3. No greater choice can be made (John 14:6). The way of truth is revealed only in God's Word. There we have the way laid out, the signposts erected, the goal clearly defined. If we do not walk in the way of truth we are still in the way of deceit, the broad way that leads to destruction. Observe that the way of truth must be chosen.

119:31 If we do not want to be put to shame we too must make a firm, unyielding choice for truth and obedience.

119:32 We need a heart made broad enough for all of God's commandments and

HE

- 33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of your statutes, and I will keep it to the end.
- 34 Give me understanding, and I will keep your law;
yes, I will observe it with my whole heart.
- 35 Cause me to go in the path of your commandments, for I delight in it.
- 36 Turn my heart to your testimonies,
and not to covetousness.
- 37 Turn away my eyes from seeing worthless things,
and revive me in your way.
- 38 Establish your word to your servant,
who is devoted to your fear.
- 39 Turn away my reproach, which I fear;
for your judgments are good.
- 40 See, I have longed for your precepts.
Revive me in your righteousness.

VAV

- 41 Also let your mercies come to me,

O LORD, your salvation, according to your word.

- 42 So I will have an answer for him who taunts me; for I trust in your word.
- 43 And do not take the word of truth completely from my mouth;
for I have put hope in your judgments.
- 44 So I will keep your law continually forever and ever.
- 45 And I will walk in liberty;
for I seek your precepts.
- 46 I will speak of your testimonies also before kings,
and will not be ashamed.
- 47 And I will delight myself in your commandments, which I love.
- 48 I will also lift my hands to your commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on your statutes.

ZAYIN

- 49 Remember the word to your servant, on which you have caused me to hope.

to take in every word God gives. And our obedience must not be a slow, hesitant, crawling thing but swift, zealous, and full. The writer does not imagine that he has it within himself to do this. He knows that God must be at work in him if he is to run and not faint in the way of truth (Isa 40:31; Phil 2:13; Col 1:29).

119:33,34 See 25:4,5; 1 Kings 3:9,10; Luke 24:45; 1 John 5:20. He realizes the great importance of understanding spiritual truth and knows that his own intellect is not sufficient for it. So he cries to God. Observe that he means to be fully, eternally obedient. Spiritual understanding is to result in a life lived in accordance with God's Word and will. Otherwise it is all in vain.

119:35 He delights in God's way and knows he should walk in it. But he knows also that by nature he is unable to do so (see Rom 7:18-25). God's power alone can cause us to live a life pleasing to God. So this prayer.

119:36 Though he delights in God's way he knows that in him there is a tendency to evil that would go after worldly things. He prays that his inner life might be right, that the motives, desires, and inclinations of his heart may all be toward God. God Himself must do this in us, but we must cooperate with Him.

119:37 Could not the author turn his own eyes away? Evidently he knew the power of the lust of the eyes and that only God could break this power (1 John 2:16,17). He is indicating his own helplessness and confesses his need of new life and strength.

119:38 Notes on this fear at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7; 1 Pet 1:17; 2:17; etc.

119:39 Verse 22; 69:9; 89:51; Isa

25:8; 51:7; 54:4.

119:40 Verse 20; 42:2; 84:2.

119:41 Verses 76, 116, 154, 170. All that God does is in accordance with His Word. The more we understand His Word the more we will understand what He plans and does.

119:42 See 42:10; Col 4:6; 1 Pet 3:15,16.

119:43 This prayer is that God will not let him get into a situation or spiritual condition that would make him unable to speak for God. This had happened to David as recorded in psalm 51 (see 51:12-15). Paul requested prayer that he might always be able to speak as he ought (Eph 6:19,20).

119:44 A resolution made not in fleshly self-confidence but in hope of the fulfillment of the prayer in v 41.

119:45 See 18:19; 31:8; Job 26:16.

119:46 Matt 10:18; Acts 26:1,2.

119:47 Verses 77,143; 112:1.

119:48 See 28:2. The movement of the hands here is an outward expression of the love he had for God's commands. Even a small child holds out his hands to that which he wants.

119:49 We could entitle this section "comfort in remembering." He was suffering because of the scorn of ungodly men. But he encourages himself in the Word of God and in remembering God's gracious attributes and ways. In all this he is an example to all God's people who are unjustly suffering. He is speaking of some specific promises God had given him. In asking God to "remember" he is not suggesting God may forget. He is a man using man's ways of speaking. God does not forget anything about His people except their sins (Isa 49:15; Heb 6:10; 8:12; 10:17).

- 50 This is my comfort in my affliction;
for your word has revived me.
51 The proud have derided me greatly;
yet I have not turned away from your law.
52 I remembered your judgments of old,
O LORD, and have comforted myself.
53 Indignation has taken hold of me because of the wicked who forsake your law.
54 Your statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I remember your name, O LORD,
in the night, and keep your law.
56 This has been my way, because I keep your precepts.

KHETH

- 57 You are my portion, O LORD;
I have said that I would keep your words.
58 I entreated your favour with my whole heart.

119:50 Some have comfort without suffering, others have suffering without comfort. Believers as a whole have both. The comfort of believers in times of suffering is this – the promises of God. They give a living hope that no trouble can destroy.

119:51 Verses 61, 83, 87. The object of the proud when they mock God's people is to turn them from the right path. In this case their attempts were in vain.

119:52 For every trial and trouble there is comfort and encouragement in God's Word if we will but seek it out (Rom 15:4).

119:53 The behavior of evil men will often make believers angry at the violation of justice and the dishonor done to God. Also they may often feel grief at the thought of the terrible fate awaiting godless men (v 136; Ex 32:19; Jer 8:18-22; Luke 19:41-44; Acts 17:16; 2 Cor 5:11).

119:54 Verse 172; 101:1; 138:5; Job 35:10; Eph 5:19.

119:55 Verse 62; 42:8; 63:6. In night when sleep does not come, far better to think of God's gracious attributes than our own troubles and temptations (compare 36:4; Prov 4:16; Micah 2:1).

119:56 To be enabled to live according to the Word of God is the greatest of all blessings on earth.

119:57 In the section which follows, he finds in himself certain marks that all believers have or should have – they have God as their portion, and they want to obey God's Word (v 57); they seek God in prayer (v 58); and they think about their actions and try to correct them (v 59). They should show eagerness to obey (v 60), should not be crushed by persecution (v 61), should be thankful (v 62), should seek fellowship with other believers (v 63), and should long for God to teach them (v 64).

"Portion" – 16:5; 73:26; Deut 32:9; Jer 51:19; Lam 3:24.

- Be merciful to me according to your word.
59 I thought on my ways, and turned my feet to your testimonies.
60 I made haste, and did not delay to keep your commandments.
61 The cords of the wicked have bound me,
but I have not forgotten your law.
62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks to you,
because of your righteous judgments.
63 I am a companion of all those who fear you,
and of those who keep your precepts.
64 The earth, O LORD, is full of your mercy.
Teach me your statutes.

TETH

- 65 You have dealt well with your servant,
O LORD, according to your word.
66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge,
for I have believed your commandments.
67 Before I was afflicted I went astray,

"Keep" – vs 17,67,101.

119:58 Verse 41; 34:4; Deut 4:29; 1 Chron 16:11.

119:59 Lam 3:40; Hag 1:5,7.

119:60 Delay to obey is the same as disobedience. Many hasten to commit sin. Let us hasten to conquer sin by obeying God's Word.

119:61 Verses 51, 83, 87. Mocking could not turn him from God's Word, nor could persecution.

119:62 Verse 55. This is one of a great many things believers have to be thankful for.

"Thanks" – notes at 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

119:63 See 15:4; 101:6,7; Acts 2:46; Heb 10:25. A person is known by the company he keeps. He chose his friends carefully.

119:64 "Full" – 33:5; Isa 6:3; Matt 5:44-48.

"Teach" – v 12.

119:65 This section could be entitled "Learning by suffering" (vs 67, 71). If our troubles do not teach us any lessons or do not make us better people, they are useless to us. But if they do, they are a means of great gain. The writer was not made bitter by sufferings, but by them learned more of God's Word and God's goodness. See notes on suffering at Job 3:20; etc. In this verse the writer speaks of God's goodness, not merely in giving him many blessings, but in sending these troubles that would teach him the things which he needed to learn.

119:66 Verse 12.

119:67 We walk about in good weather but head for home when the storm begins to roll in. Suffering taught him to return to his home in God (90:1), and to God's Word and obedience. See Heb 2:10; 5:8. Since this principle is true we should not be so eager to avoid all trouble and suffering. Indeed we should welcome all experiences which make

- but now I have kept your word.
 68 You are good, and do good.
 Teach me your statutes.
 69 The proud have forged a lie against me, but I will keep your precepts with my whole heart.
 70 Their heart is as fat as grease;
but I delight in your law.
 71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted that I might learn your statutes.
 72 To me the law of your mouth is better than thousands of pieces of gold and silver.

YOD

- 73 Your hands have made me and formed me.
 Give me understanding that I may learn
 your commandments.
 74 Those who fear you will be glad when they see me,
 because I have hoped in your word.
 75 I know, O LORD, that your judgments are right,
 and that you in faithfulness have afflicted me.

- 76 Let, I pray, your merciful kindness be my comfort,
 according to your word to your servant.
 77 Let your tender mercies come to me that I may live,
 for your law is my delight.
 78 Let the proud be ashamed, for they treated me wrongly, without a cause;
but I will meditate on your precepts.
 79 Let those who fear you turn to me,
 and those who have known your testimonies.
 80 Let my heart be blameless in your statutes,
 so that I may not be ashamed.

KAPH

- 81 My soul faints for your salvation;
but I hope in your word.
 82 My eyes fail for your word, saying,
 "When will you comfort me?"
 83 For I have become like a bottle in the smoke;

us more conformed to God's Word and will.
119:68 See 100:5; 106:1; 107:1; 135:3.
119:69 See 5:9; 10:7; 52:4; 109:2. In v 51 he speaks of proud people mocking him. In v 61 he speaks of persecution. Here he speaks of slander. But none of these things turned him from God's Word.

119:70 See 17:10; 73:7. Observe the tremendous contrast between believers and unbelievers. Unbelievers are completely unmoved by that which is the great delight of believers.

119:71 Verses 65,75; Deut 8:2-5; Heb
 12:5-11. Affliction, he says, is good. Good, but not pleasant. Anything is good that opens our eyes to the truth and beauty of God's Word and helps to make us obedient to it. His troubles came from men, but God turned it all to good (notes at Gen 50:20; Rom 8:28). God brings health out of sickness, riches out of poverty, strength out of weakness. It is the cross we have to bear that moves us closer to heaven.

119:72 Verses 14,57,111,127,162; 19:10;
 Job 28:17; Prov 2:4,5. If we wish to progress in the spiritual life we must value
 the Word of God as he did.

119:73 "Formed" - 138:8; 139:13-16;
 Gen 1:27.

"Understanding" - vs 12, 18, 26, 27, 33, 34. His reasoning here is that God has not made him for ignorance and disobedience, but to live a wise and holy life. Any fool can sin. It takes great understanding of God's Word to be as holy as God wants us to be.
 The writer pleads with God to complete the work He has begun.

119:74 See 34:2. He wanted his life to be a source of joy and blessing to others.

119:75 Verses 7,138,172; Deut 4:8. He knew that even though God has permitted him to suffer at the hands of ungodly men this has been in accordance with God's perfect righteousness and faithfulness. God will never violate His laws in dealing with His people and He afflicts them for a good purpose (Heb 12:10; Rev 3:19).

119:76 Verse 41.

119:77 His troubles were so severe he sometimes despaired of life, and felt only God's compassion could keep him alive, but he had a joy through them all. If the Word of God is not a delight to us as it was to him we have no right to think that God should preserve us alive. Should God keep us alive only that we might violate His laws and sin against Him?

119:78 Note on such prayers at 35:8.

119:79 Perhaps some believers had been alienated from him because of his troubles.
 He wants perfect fellowship restored with all godly men.

119:80 "Blameless" - v 1. It was not enough for him to have a blameless outer life. He wanted his inward life, its motives, ambitions and desires to be blameless also.

"Ashamed" - vs 6,46; 1 John 2:28. Sin and disobedience will always bring shame.

119:81 In this section the writer, suffering great persecution, longs for God to act in his behalf. He knows he is trusting God's Word and waits for God to fulfill it.

"Faints" - v 20; 84:2.

"Hope" - vs 43,74,114,147; Rom 5:2-5.

119:82 See 6:7; 69:3; Lam 2:11.

119:83 He compares himself in his persecution to a wineskin in a tent, unused, blackened by smoke, and wrinkled by heat.

"I do not forget" - vs 51, 61, 87.
 Whether in the smoke or in the fire let us

yet I do not forget your statutes.
 84 How many are the days of your servant?
 When will you execute judgment on those who persecute me?
 85 The proud have dug pits for me,
 which is not according to your law.
 86 All your commandments are trustworthy.
 They persecute me wrongfully. Help me!
 87 They almost made an end of me on earth,
 but I did not forsake your precepts.
 88 Revive me according to your loving kindness;
 so I will keep the testimony of your mouth.

LAMED

89 Forever, O LORD, your word stands firm in heaven.
 90 Your faithfulness is to all generations.
 You have established the earth, and it remains.
 91 They continue to this day in accordance with your ordinances.
 For all things are your servants.
 92 If your law had not been my delight,
 then I would have perished in my affliction.
 93 I will never forget your precepts,

for with them you have revived me.
 94 I am yours; save me,
 for I have sought your precepts.
 95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me;
but I will consider your testimonies.
 96 I have seen an end of all perfection; but your commandment is exceedingly broad.

MEM

97 O how I love your law!
 It is my meditation all the day.
 98 Through your commandments you have made me wiser than my enemies, for they are always with me.
 99 I have more understanding than all
 my teachers,
 for your testimonies are my meditation.
 100 I understand more than the ancients, because I keep your precepts.
 101 I have withheld my feet from every evil way,
 that I might keep your word.
 102 I have not departed from your judgments, for you have taught me.

hold fast to God's Word.
119:84 See 6:3; 13:1; 35:17; 89:46;
 90:16; 94:3; Rev 6:10.
119:85 See 35:7; 57:6; Jer 18:20,22; Mark 12:13; Luke 11:53,54. We need, then, to be wise as serpents, harmless as doves.
119:86 "Trustworthy" - vs 138; 19:7;
 111:7; Matt 5:17,18.
119:87 Verses 51, 61, 83. He had resolved to hold fast to God's Word regardless of what men did to him. If persecution and trouble will cause us to renounce the Word of God is our faith at all genuine?
119:88 The Word of God, though written down by men, comes from the mouth of God (Matt 4:4). Life to us should mean obedience to it.
119:89 See 111:7,8; Matt 5:18; 1 Pet
 1:25. Since God's Word is eternally firm and sure in heaven, nothing that happens on earth can overthrow it.
119:90 See 36:5; 45:17; 89:1; 90:1.
 God works out His fixed purpose and fulfills
 His Word toward the earth and in the world.
119:91 "Ordinances" - Jer 33:25. Creation is governed, not by mere laws of nature,
 but by the laws of God.
 "All things" - 104:2-4; Jer 31:35. All created objects from the tiny atom to the giant constellations and galaxies in space,
 all animals, fish, and birds obey God's laws.
 In the whole universe only men together with Satan and his hordes disobey God and refuse to be His servants.
119:92 How can people live without the joy of knowing God's Word? Without hope and without God how can they keep from dying of despair? God's Word is the remedy for despair, for meaninglessness in life.

119:93 Note at v 50.
119:94 Believers belong to the Lord (1 Cor
 6:19,20). He has created them, chosen them, redeemed them, given them new spiritual life, and claimed them as His own forever. They prove they belong to God by seeking to obey Him. The writer prays that God will deal with him according to this fact.
 So may we if we are believers.
119:95 Verses 51, 61, 85.
119:96 All that men think best on earth, all they most pride themselves in, all things that seems most perfect, have defects.
 God's teaching has a perfection that is boundless and without defect (19:7).
119:97 The subject of this section is wisdom and understanding that come from God's Word.
 "Meditation" - verses 15, 47, 99. Our minds will always fasten on those things and those persons we love.
119:98-100 Verse 130; 19:7; Deut 4:6; Prov 2:1-5; 2 Tim 3:15. The Word of God is the wisdom of believers. But it is not enough to have it in the home - it must be in the heart, at the center of an obedient life.
119:101 Evil ways and the Word of God are mutually antagonistic and will not mix.
119:102 Very wonderful indeed to have God
 as our teacher! See also Isa 54:13; Jer
 31:33,34; 1 Cor 2:13; 1 Thess 4:9; Heb
 8:10,11; 10:16; 1 John 2:27. If we want God to teach us we must be believing and 103 How sweet are your words to my taste!

Yes, sweeter than honey to my mouth!
 104 Through your precepts I get
 understanding;
 therefore I hate every false way.

NUN

105 Your word is a lamp to my feet,
 and a light to my path.
 106 I have sworn that I will keep your righteous judgments,
 and I will perform it.
 107 I am greatly afflicted.
 Revive me, O LORD, according to your word.
 108 Accept, I pray, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O LORD,
 and teach me your judgments.
 109 My soul is continually in my hand;
 yet I do not forget your law.
 110 The wicked have laid a snare for me;
 yet I have not gone astray from your precepts.
 111 I have taken your testimonies as a heritage forever,
 for they are the rejoicing of my heart.
 112 I have inclined my heart to perform your statutes continually, to the end.

SAMEKH

113 I hate divided thoughts,
 but I love your law.
 114 You are my hiding place and my shield.
 I hope in your word.
 115 Depart from me, you evildoers; for I will keep the commandments of my God.
 116 Uphold me according to your word,
 that I may live;
 and do not let me be ashamed of my hope.
 117 Hold me up, and I will be safe, and I will observe your statutes continually.
 118 You reject all those who go astray from your statutes,
 for their deceit is falsehood.
 119 You put an end to all the wicked of the earth like dross;
 therefore I love your testimonies.
 120 My flesh trembles for fear of you, and I am in awe of your judgments.

obedient.

119:103 See also 19:10; Prov 24:13,14. Honey is sweet to the mouth, but God's Word when believed and obeyed brings a sweet and holy joy to the spirit.

119:104 Verse 128; Prov 13:5. Understanding God's Word enables us to discern wrong paths and to hate them as being dishonoring to God and destructive to men.

119:105 The subject of this section is the great value of God's Word and the writer's determination to keep it at all costs.

"Lamp" - Prov 20:27; 2 Pet 1:19.

"Light" - v 130; 19:8; Prov 6:23. The Word of God is an infallible guide to conduct. It tells us exactly how to walk and what the goal is. If we neglect or spurn God's Word we are choosing darkness and we will not know what we're doing or where we're going. So we should be as the writer of this psalm was as seen in v 131.

119:106 Neh 10:29.

119:107 Verse 25; Rom 7:24.

119:108 "Teach" - v 12; 25:4,5; 143:8,10.

119:109 See 1 Cor 15:30,31; 2 Cor 6:9; 11:23.

119:110 Verses 51, 61, 83, 87.

119:111 The land of Canaan was a heritage of the people of Israel (105:11; Josh 1:6). But a far greater possession than any land, any property on earth is the Word of God. It is an eternal inheritance (Matt 24:35), a joy forever.

119:112 Verse 106. To obey the Word of God requires great determination and self-discipline.

Without these, because of the weakness of our nature, it is all too easy to forget God's Word and drift away from its teachings.

119:113 1 Kings 18:21; Jam 1:6,7; 4:8. Because he had such an intense love for God's Word, everything opposed to it was disgusting to him. If there is hesitation in obeying God's Word, if one has two minds about it, a love of sin is at the bottom of it.

119:114 "Shield" - 3:3; 18:2; 28:7; Gen 15:1.

"Hope" - vs 43, 81, 147.

119:115 6:8; 97:10; 139:19. Those who love God cannot be happy in the fellowship of those who love evil.

119:116,117 See 41:1-3; 55:22; Isa 41:10; 46:4.

119:118 Such people may think themselves very wise and great, but they cannot persuade God to have the same view of them (Gal 6:7).

119:119 Mal 4:1; Matt 25:41; Rev 21:8. He loved God's laws because they are opposed to all wickedness, and because according to them God will purify the earth of wicked men.

119:120 Thinking of the destruction of the wicked made him tremble for himself. He was well aware that he had a sinful nature and that only the grace of God could keep him from evil. Note on the fear of God at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; 1 Peter 1:17; 2:17.

119:121,122 He was not self-righteous like the Pharisee in Luke 18:9-12. Throughout this psalm he appears as one conscious of

Do not let the proud oppress me.
 123 My eyes fail for your salvation,
 and for the word of your righteousness.
 124 Deal with your servant according to your mercy,
 and teach me your statutes.
 125 I am your servant.
 Give me understanding so that I may know your testimonies.
 126 It is time for you, LORD, to work,
 for they have violated your law.
 127 Therefore I love your commandments more than gold,
 yes, more than fine gold.
 128 Therefore I regard all your precepts concerning everything to be right, and I hate every false way.

PEY

129 Your testimonies are wonderful;
 therefore my soul keeps them.
 130 The entrance of your words gives light;
 it gives understanding to the simple.
 131 I opened my mouth and panted,

for I longed for your commandments.
 132 Look at me, and be merciful to me, as you always do to those who love your name.
 133 Direct my steps in your word, and do not let any sin get the mastery over me.
 134 Deliver me from the oppression of man;
 so I will keep your precepts.
 135 Make your face shine on your servant,
 and teach me your statutes.
 136 Rivers of waters run down my eyes, because they do not keep your law.

TSADE

137 You are righteous, O LORD, and your judgments are upright.
 138 Your testimonies that you have commanded are righteous and very trustworthy.
 139 My zeal has consumed me, because my enemies have forgotten your words.
 140 Your word is very pure;

his weakness and failure. A low opinion of themselves and a high quality of life should both be found in believers. But he knew that on the whole he had, by God's grace, lived according to God's righteous ways. He knew that he was truly a servant of God.

119:123 Verse 82; 6:7; 63:3; Lam 2:11.
119:124 "Deal" - v 88; 25:7; 69:16; 109:26.

"Teach" - v 12.

119:125 If we are God's servants we will want to understand His instructions to us, and we can pray with confidence that He will give us wisdom (Jam 1:5; 1 John 5:14,15).

119:126 Man's sin will have God's judgment, and when the time is ripe God will arise to judge the world.

119:127 Verses 14,57,111,162; 19:10.

119:128 "Right" - 19:8; 33:4.

"False way" - vs 104,163; 97:10; Prov 13:5.

119:129 Verse 13. God's Word is full of wonderful truth, promises, instructions, and revelations of God. But he did not imagine that it was enough to simply praise God's Word - he wanted to obey it. It is not admiration of it that brings blessing but obedience to it.

119:130 Verse 105; 19:7,8.

119:131 Verse 20. We live in a dark world. It is filled with religions and philosophical teachings, with false speculations about God and salvation, with dark and slippery paths that lead to hell. We, like the author, should pant for understanding of God's Word, and use every available means to study it.

119:132 See 6:4; 25:6; 69:16; 86:16. It seems sometimes to believers that God has turned away from them and left them to their troubles and sufferings. At such times we must not trust our feelings in this matter but the unchanging promises of God.

119:133 It is a sad thing when our enemies rule over us. Far sadder it is, and more dangerous, when our greatest enemy - sin - rules us. Freedom from sin's dominion results only from the power of the Word of God in the life (v 11; John 8:31-36; Rom 6:16).

119:134 Verse 122. To fully carry out the commands of the Word of God freedom from man's oppression is also important (1 Tim 2:1,2).

119:135 "Shine" - 4:6; 67:1; 80:3; Num 6:25.

"Teach" - v 12; 25:4,5.

119:136 He knew something of God's punishment, the disaster, suffering and destruction which come on a disobedient and sinful people. So he wept (compare Isa 22:4; Jer 9:1; Lam 1:16; 3:48; Luke 19:41-44; Rom 9:1-3).

119:137 The subject of this section is God's righteousness and the eternal rightness of His laws (129:4; 145:17; Isa 24:16; Jer 23:6; Dan 9:7; Zeph 3:5; John 17:25).

119:138 "Trustworthy" - v 86; 19:7; 111:7; Matt 5:17,18.

119:139 See 69:9; John 2:17. He experienced an overwhelming desire that all should honor God and submit to the authority of God's Word, and was deeply pained when God was dishonored by disobedience. This kind of zeal is much needed among believers.

119:140 See 12:6. There is no dross, no impurity, nothing useless in God's Word. It therefore your servant loves it.

 141 I am small and despised;
yet I do not forget your precepts.
 142 Your righteousness is an everlasting
 righteousness,
 and your law is the truth.
 143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold of me;
yet your commandments are my delight.
 144 The righteousness of your testimonies is everlasting;
 give me understanding, and I will live.

KOPH

145 I cried out with my whole heart.
 Hear me, O LORD.
 I will keep your statutes.
 146 I cried out to you. Save me, and I will keep your testimonies.
 147 I rise before dawn in the morning, and cry out. I hope in your word.
 148 My eyes remain awake through the night watches,
 that I might meditate on your word.
 149 Hear my voice, according to your loving kindness.
 O LORD, revive me according to your judgment.
 150 Those who follow evil draw near;
 they are far from your law.
 151 You are near, O LORD, and all your commandments are truth.

152 Concerning your testimonies, I have known for a long time that you have established them forever.

RESH

153 Consider my affliction, and rescue me;
 for I do not forget your law.
 154 Plead my cause, and rescue me.
 Revive me according to your word.
 155 Salvation is far from the wicked,
 for they do not seek your statutes.
 156 Great are your tender mercies, O LORD.
 Revive me according to your judgments.
 157 Many are my persecutors and my enemies;
yet I do not turn away from your testimonies.
 158 I saw the transgressors, and was grieved because they did not keep your word.
 159 Consider how I love your precepts.
 Revive me, O LORD, according to your loving kindness.
 160 Your word is true from the beginning, and every one of your righteous judgments remains forever.

SHIN

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause,
 but my heart stands in awe of your word.
 162 I rejoice at your word, like someone who finds great plunder.
 163 I hate and abhor lying, is altogether worthy of the hearty love the author had for it, and that we should have for it.

119:141 "Small" – love for God's Word and humility must go together.

"Forget" – vs 57, 61, 83, 87.

119:142 Verses 151, 160.

119:143 Only the believer can experience acute suffering, and joy in God's Word at the same time (2 Cor 6:10; 7:4; Phil 2:17; Col 1:24).

119:144 Verses 34, 73, 125, 169. The fourth of five prayers in this one psalm for understanding. Nine other times he asks God to teach him. Have we ever asked it even once?

119:145 See verse 10.

119:146 See verse 77.

119:147 See 5:3; 57:8; 108:2; Mark 1:35. All believers should attempt to establish and maintain a time for prayer and meditation early in the morning. But their hope should be, not in their discipline, or prayers, but in God's Word.

119:148 63:6; Luke 6:12. Special times of need call for special seasons of prayer.

119:149 The writer may be requesting either preservation in a time of danger, or spiritual quickening. See v 25.

119:150 Some people are so spiritually ignorant that they not merely act wickedly, they do so with great eagerness (Eph 4:19;

1 Pet 4:4). They are near believers to try to ruin them, but are far from God.

119:151 If the Lord is near He will keep His servants, and deal with the wicked in His time and way.

119:152 Verse 89; 111:8; Luke 21:33.

119:153 In this section the writer in his great trouble asks God to look into his case and deal with him according to His wisdom and grace.

119:154 See 35:1; 1 Sam 24:15; Jer 50:34.

119:155 The wicked are far from salvation because they willfully remain in ignorance of God's Word. If they sought God and His Word they too could be saved (Isa 55:7; Jam 4:8-10).

119:156 "Tender mercies" or "compassion" – 103:8; 106:45; Lam 3:22,23.

"Revive" – vs 25,107.

119:157 Verse 113; 3:1,2; 44:15-18.

119:158 See 5:6; 139:21,22; Lev 26:30.

119:159 He calls God as witness that he truly loves God's Word, and makes this the ground of his prayer.

119:160 Verse 89; 111:8.

119:161 "Persecuted" – vs 23, 122, 157.

"Stands in awe" – or "trembles" or "fears" – v 120; Ezra 9:4; Isa 66:2.

119:162 Verse 72; 19:10.

119:163 Verses 104,128; 97:10; Prov

but I love your law.

- 164 Seven times a day I praise you
because of your righteous judgments.
165 Great peace have they who love your law,
and nothing makes them stumble.
166 LORD, I hope for your salvation, and do your commandments.
167 My soul has kept your testimonies, and I love them exceedingly.
168 I have kept your precepts and your testimonies,
for all my ways are before you.

TAV

- 169 Let my cry come before you, O LORD.
Give me understanding according to your word.
170 Let my supplication come before you.
Deliver me according to your word.
171 My lips will utter praise,

13:5. Mark this down as certain – if we do not hate lies and deceit we do not love the truth.

119:164 Have we once in our whole life praised God for His just laws and judgments? 119:165 See 37:11; Isa 26:3,12; 27:5; 32:17; 57:19,21. Only those who are right with God and walk according to His Word can love God's teaching, and only they can enjoy the peace God gives. Since the lives of such people are based on the great foundation of God's Word they will not fall.

119:166-168 Verse 81. In time of persecution he did not wait in despair or idleness. While he waits for God to deliver him, he is active in obedience to God's commands. He knew the truth expressed in Heb 4:13 before it was written.

119:169 See verse 144.

119:170 See 17:1; 28:2; 61:1; 86:6; 140:6; 143:1.

119:171 Nine times in this psalm he asks God to teach him. Here he expresses his confidence that God is doing so. And he considers this a matter for great praise, which indeed it is (94:12). We must always remember that if we are taught of God, the reason is that we might praise Him and not ourselves for what we have learned.

119:172 God's righteousness should be a frequent theme of our songs – 7:17; 9:2-4; 33:3-5; 51:14; 71:22-24; 98:1,2. 119:173 "Help" – 37:24; 73:23; Isa 41:10.

"Chosen" – he did not try to follow God's commands merely because he was born an Israelite and it was expected of him. No, he heartily chose to do so, he made an earnest decision to do so.

119:174 Verse 166.

119:175 Verses 77, 116, 159.

119:176 The writer loved God's Word. God's commands were not grievous to him but a delight. He longed to know God's Word better and live according to it more perfectly.

for you teach me your statutes.

- 172 My tongue will speak of your word,
for all your commandments are righteous.
173 Let your hand help me,
for I have chosen your precepts.
174 I have longed for your salvation,
O LORD, and your law is my delight.
175 Let my soul live, and it will praise you;
and let your judgments help me.
176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep.
Seek your servant, for I do not forget
your commandments.

A song of ascents

- 1 In my distress I cried out to the LORD,
and he heard me.
- 2 Rescue my soul, O LORD, from lying lips,

But he has to confess his failure. Sin working in him had sometimes led him astray, and he needed God to seek him and restore him (see Isa 53:6; Luke 15:4). Though he has gone astray he knows he is still God's servant and that he still keeps God's commandments in mind. Those who most earnestly try to live according to God's Word are often the most conscious of how far they fall short of fully doing so (Isa 64:5; Jer 3:25; Dan 9:4,5; Rom 7:18-21; Jam 3:2).

120 Title: The fifteen psalms beginning with this one are all called songs of "ascents" (from a Hebrew word which means "to go up"). Scholars have speculated a great deal about the significance of the word as used here and have offered many diverse suggestions. Perhaps the best suggestion is this: According to Ex 34:23,24 and Deut 16:16 and the custom of the Jews, at the times of religious festivals, three times a year, the people went up to Jerusalem as pilgrims to worship the true and living God. Jerusalem was high in the hills of Judah, so that it meant that most of the people had to ascend to get there. It is likely that they sang these "songs of ascent" on the way.

Verses 1 and 4 of psalm 122 may well be key verses of this whole group of psalms. The chief concern of believers now should be to ascend spiritually, drawing nearer and nearer to God. This will surely result if we put into practice the spiritual teachings of these songs of ascent. Most of these psalms are quite short. They show that prayers need not be long to be weighty and powerful.

120:1 See 18:6; 31:7; 77:2; 120:1; 118:5. 120:2 His distress was caused by liars and slanderers (compare 5:9; 10:7; 12:2; 28:3; 36:3; 43:1; 144:8). When lies, deceit and slanders are on every side we must appeal only to God. God can use such circumstances to cause us to ascend in our spiritual lives.

and from a deceitful tongue.

- 3 What shall be given to you?
or what shall be done to you, you false tongue?
- 4 Sharp arrows of the mighty,
with coals of fire of the broom tree!
- 5 Woe is me, that I live in Meshech, that I dwell in the tents of Kedar!
- 6 My soul has dwelt too long with him who hates peace.
- 7 I am for peace:
but when I speak, they are for war.

121

A song of ascents

- 1 I will lift up my eyes to the hills from where my help comes.
- 2 My help comes from the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.
- 3 He will not allow your foot to be moved.
He who keeps you will not slumber.
- 4 Behold, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.
- 5 The LORD is the one who keeps you.

120:3,4 God will deal with liars and deceivers at the proper time and in a perfectly fitting way. Lying tongues are like sharp arrows (57:4; 64:3; Prov 25:18; Jer 9:8), and a burning fire (Prov 16:27; Jam 3:6). Arrows and fire will be God's punishment for such. For God's way of dealing in just judgment see 18:25-27; 63:9,10; 64:7,8; etc. Eventually God will deliver all His people from liars and slanderers and make the world free of them (Rev 21:8,27).

120:5 Meshech was far to the north of Israel, Kedar to the south. The writer could not live in both places at the same time. He is speaking metaphorically. It seems to him that his neighbors were like those barbaric peoples who did not know God.

120:6,7 Rom 12:18; 14:19; Heb 12:14. But it is not always possible to live at peace with all. For the sake of peace scriptural principles cannot be abandoned or compromised.

121 Title: See psalm 120. We might call this "the psalm of protection on the believer's pilgrimage."

121:1 The pilgrim draws near to the hills of Judea, and Jerusalem, the city of God, and knows that the God who dwells there in the temple will give him help.

121:2 The LORD (Jehovah), the mighty Creator of the universe, is the helper of all believers (33:6; 89:11-13; 96:4,5; 124:8; 134:3; 136:4-9). Safety on our earthly pilgrimage comes from Him alone.

121:3,4 "Foot" - 26:12; 38:16; 91:12; 94:18. The believer will never fall to destruction.

"Sleep" - 1 Kings 18:25-27; Hab 2:19. The eternal God does not grow weary or

The LORD is your shade at your right hand.

- 6 The sun will not strike you by day,
nor the moon by night.
- 7 The LORD will preserve you from all evil;
he will preserve your soul.
- 8 The LORD will preserve your going out and your coming in from this time on and forevermore.

122

A song of ascents by David

- 1 I was glad when they said to me,
"Let us go into the house of the LORD."
- 2 Our feet stand within your gates,
O Jerusalem.
- 3 Jerusalem is built like a city that is compacted together;
- 4 There the tribes go up, the tribes of
the LORD,
to the Testimony of Israel,
to give thanks to the name of the LORD.

sleep. Life is no dream in the mind of a sleeping deity. The true God is eternally alert to watch over His own.

121:5 See 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 91:1; Isa 25:4; 32:2.

121:6 This does not mean that believers may not feel the effects of sun or moon. It does not mean that difficulties, dangers, and death will not come to them as to everyone else. It means that believers will not be truly harmed by these things, that only what God permits for their good will come to them by day or by night (Rom 8:28). The outworking of all this is not something we can always detect and understand on this earth.

121:7,8 2 Tim 4:18; 1 Pet 1:5; 2 Pet 2:9; Deut 28:6. Throughout life's pilgrimage and to all eternity the person who trusts in the God of the Bible has perfect protection.

122 Title: See psalm 120.

122:1 A person who loves God will love the true worship of God and the people of God. Our attitude toward the house of God is an indication of the state of our spiritual life (26:8; Acts 2:42,46,47; 3:1; 5:42; Heb 10:25).

122:2-4 Jerusalem was the capital city of Israel, the center of rule and worship, the city of God. God intended it to be a unifying force among the twelve tribes. That is one reason He instructed His people to go there at least thrice yearly for worship (Ex 34:22,23; Deut 12:4,5; 16:5,6,16; 31:11). He wanted them to have one center, one heart, one faith. Believers now have no earthly center. Their city is the Jerusalem which is above (Gal 4:26; Heb 12:22). Their center is Christ. Compare Eph 4:13-16.

- 5 For thrones of judgment are set there,
the thrones of the house of David.
- 6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem.
They who love you will prosper.
- 7 Peace be within your walls,
and prosperity within your palaces.
- 8 For the sake of my brethren and companions I will now say,
"Peace be within you."
- 9 I will seek your good because of the house of the LORD our God.

123

A song of ascents

- 1 To you I lift up my eyes,
O you who dwell in the heavens.
- 2 See, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maid look to the hand of her mistress,
so our eyes look to the LORD our God,
until he has mercy on us.
- 3 Have mercy on us, O LORD, have mercy on us,
for we have faced very great contempt.
- 4 Our soul endures the very great scorn of those who are at ease,

122:6-9 For Israel's national unity the peace of Jerusalem was absolutely necessary. If quarreling and divisions occurred there, it would harm the whole life of the nation. The tribes would not be attracted to go up to a center filled with strife. So he prayed for peace for the sake of the people (v 8), and for the sake of God's house (v 9). Today people are not attracted to churches and assemblies that are divided and quarreling. For the sake of the people of God and the honor of God we too must seek to maintain unity and peace in the Holy Spirit and in the truth (Rom 15:5,6; Eph 4:3; Col 3:15).

122:9 An example to every Christian. We must always think of ways to do good to Christ's church and people (Heb 10:24).

123 Title: See psalm 120.

123:1 There are ascending steps of thought in these first four songs of ascent. In 120 he saw the sad conditions around him. In 121 he lifted his eyes to the hills around Jerusalem. In 122 he stood in the city looking about, admiring and praising. Now he lifts his eyes higher still. God was with His people in Jerusalem, but His throne is in heaven where He rules over the earth and the whole universe. Let us keep our eyes there and we will ascend in our spiritual life (25:15; Col 3:1,2; Heb 12:2).

123:2 He is a willing slave of the God of heaven, as we too should be. He leaves the rule of the world and his own and the contempt of the proud.

124

A song of ascents by David

- 1 "If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,"
now may Israel say,
- 2 "If it had not been the LORD who was
on our side,
when men rose up against us,
- 3 Then they would have swallowed us up quickly,
when their anger burned against us.
- 4 Then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
the stream would have gone over our soul;
- 5 Then the raging waters would have gone over our soul.
- 6 Blessed be the LORD,
who has not given us as prey to their teeth.
- 7 Our soul has escaped like a bird out of the snare of the fowlers.
The snare has been broken,
and we have escaped.
- 8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
who made heaven and earth."

circumstances to God. In beautiful and meaningful language he expresses the utter dependence of God's people on God alone for mercy and a change in conditions. We are to look to God humbly, obediently, continually, attentively, believingly.

123:3,4 It seems that proud and arrogant men were as numerous as the lying and deceitful he spoke of in 120 (10:2-5; 12:3,4; 86:14; 140:5). Both sorts of people are an abomination to God (Prov 6:16-19).

124 Title: See psalm 120.

124:1-5 These verses refer to a great deliverance from enemies. They attacked Israel like a raging flood, like wild beasts (v 6), like fierce hunters (v 7). Israel is now urged to declare openly that deliverance was not due to their wisdom, skill, or strength, but only to this one fact: God was on their side. The church of Christ is in a hostile world. Satan combines with evil men to try to destroy it. Believers have been and still are ridiculed, threatened, discriminated against, persecuted, tortured, killed. But Christ's church will never be destroyed, for God is still on the side of His people (Matt 16:18; Rom 8:31).

124:6,7 Praise to the Lord for His deliverance from the evil hunter of men's souls (25:15; 91:3).

124:8 See 20:2; 27:9; 33:20; 40:17; 46:1; 60:11. If Almighty God, the Creator of the universe, is our help, what other help do we need?

A song of ascents

- 1 Those who trust in the LORD are like mount Zion, which cannot be shaken, but remains forever.
- 2 As the mountains are around Jerusalem,
so the LORD is around his people from this time on and forever.
- 3 For the sceptre of the wicked will not rest over the allotment of the righteous, or else the righteous might put out their hands to wickedness.
- 4 Do good, O LORD, to those who do good,
and to those who are upright in their hearts.
- 5 As for those who turn aside to their crooked ways,
the LORD will cause them to depart with those who do evil.
But peace will be on Israel.

126

A song of ascents

- 1 When the LORD brought back the captives
of Zion,
we were like those who dream.
- 2 Then our mouth was filled with laughter,
and our tongue with singing;
then they said among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."
- 3 The LORD has done great things for us;
we are glad.
- 4 Bring back our captives, O LORD,
like the streams in the South.
- 5 Those who sow in tears will reap in joy.
- 6 He who goes out weeping, bearing precious seed,
will doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

125 Title: See psalm 120. Apparently at this time the throne at Jerusalem was in the hands of evil men (v 3). But he expresses confidence that believers will be secure (vs 1,2), and that the unrighteous reign will pass away (v 3). The psalm closes with a prayer and a prophecy (vs 4,5).

125:1 Those who trust in the Lord are called the righteous in v 3, and good and upright in v 4. Righteousness, goodness, and uprightness are fruits of true faith in God.

"Forever" – generations have passed, nations have arisen and fallen, wars have engulfed the earth. Mount Zion is still there unshaken. Believers are made for eternity.

125:2 Jerusalem is in a mountainous area and hills surround it. So God Himself is around believers as a shield, a refuge, a living presence, and He will never leave them (32:10; Deut 33:27; John 10:28; 17:15; Jude 1).

125:3 See 89:22; Isa 13:11; 14:5,6. God permits unrighteous rulers to be in power for only a time. When the wicked rule, the righteous must be very careful not to fall into evil ways themselves.

125:4 This prayer is in accordance with God's revealed way of dealing with people. See 18:25-27.

125:5 "Cause. . .to depart" – Matt 7:23; 25:11,41; Luke 13:24-27; 2 Thess 1:8-10.

"Peace" – 128:6; Rom 2:10; Gal 6:16; Eph 2:17,18.

126 Title: See psalm 120. Though very brief this psalm gives us a song of joy (vs 1-3), a prayer (v 4), and a promise (vs 5,6).

126:1-3 "Brought back the captives of Zion" – this could be translated "restored the well-being of Zion" (see note at 14:7). It is not clear from the Hebrew what sort of captivity is meant. Perhaps it was physical captivity as in Jeremiah chapter 52. Or perhaps he meant a time of spiritual decline when Zion fell into evil hands as in 125:3, and experienced a spiritual captivity. The words fit either case. Release from captivity was altogether the Lord's work and it brought great joy to those delivered. Compare Isa 61:1-3; Luke 4:17-19.

One of the great benefits of the gospel of Christ is that those who believe are released from bondage to sin, Satan, and the fear of death – John 8:32,26; Rom 8:2; Gal 5:1,13; 2 Tim 2:25,26; Heb 2:14,15. Is there any greater joy than to be released from such bondage (Luke 24:52,53; Acts 2:46,47; 1 Pet 1:8,9)?

126:3 See 71:19; 106:21; Deut 10:21; 1 Sam 12:24; Joel 2:21,26. Let us meditate on the great things the Lord Jesus has done for us.

126:4 "Bring back our captives" – could also be translated "Restore our well-being" (v 1). Either deliverance was not complete, or after the deliverance the people of God once again fell into some kind of bondage. They needed a new outpouring of God's power and grace. The south of Israel was dry and desert-like. The streams dried up in summer and could flow again only when God sent rain from heaven. See Isa 35:6,7 for what God can do in both the natural and spiritual realms.

126:5,6 These verses naturally follow the prayer for restoration. Those delivered from bondage are the ones who will labor in the gospel fields and reap a harvest for the Lord. The tears and weeping indicate the great earnestness of God's servants. They weep because of the opposition of sinners, the hardness of men's hearts, the danger that faces lost men. They may be sad too because of their own

127

A song of ascents for Solomon

- 1 Unless the LORD builds the house,
those who build it labour in vain.
Unless the LORD guards the city,
the watchman stays awake in vain.
- 2 It is in vain for you to rise up early,
to sit up late,
to eat the bread of sorrows;
for he gives his beloved sleep.
- 3 See, children are a heritage from the LORD,
and the fruit of the womb is his reward.
- 4 Like arrows in the hand of a mighty man,
so are the children of one's youth.

weakness and ineffectiveness and failure. They weep for love of Christ and compassion for lost men. Such people will certainly reap a harvest. Joy will be theirs in the end – 119:136; Isa 22:4; Jer 9:1; 13:17; 14:17; Luke 19:41; Acts 20:19,31; 1 Cor 15:58.

127 Title: Psalm 120. This psalm was either for or by Solomon the builder of the temple – the Hebrew can mean either.

127:1,2 These verses do not teach laziness, idleness, or carelessness. They teach the uselessness of human effort apart from God. Of course, we must work diligently and well (Prov 24:30-34; Eccl 9:10; 1 Cor 15:58). But we must recognize that it is God alone who can prosper the work and make it truly fruitful. Though the ungodly may build huge mansions, great fortunes, and big families, it will all come to nothing, and is what Solomon called in another place “vanity of vanities” (Eccl 2:4-11).

127:2 Here he condemns, not diligent work, but anxious care. We need not drive ourselves to exhaustion. God wants us to rest in Him, to trust Him in all our work, and to enjoy relaxing and refreshing sleep. See Matt 6:25-34; 11:28-30. He gives rest to those who have a relationship of trust and love with Him.

“He gives his beloved sleep” – this could be translated “while they sleep He provides for those He loves.” This also is true, but probably not the best translation.

127:3-5 In Old Testament days the individual Israelite’s inheritance in the land was very important to him – Num 26:53; Josh 11:23; Jud 2:6. If he had no children, at his death the inheritance would go into the hands of others (Num 27:8-11). Children were linked with the land and both were God’s gift and heritage. In that time and place a big family was a blessing. This is not necessarily true of every time and place (see 1 Cor 7:1,7,8,32-34).

127:4,5 Arrows speak of warfare and defense. Those who had children had help in the defense of their property and rights.

- 5 Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them.

They will not be ashamed,
but will speak with their enemies in the gate.

128

A song of ascents

- 1 Blessed is every one who fears the LORD, who walks in his ways.
- 2 For you will eat the labour of your hands.
You will be happy, and it will be well with you.
- 3 Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house,
your children like olive plants around your table.
- 4 See that the man who fears the LORD will

In these New Testament times believers are (or should be) concerned, not with worldly inheritances and defense of property rights, but with their inheritance in heaven – Matt 6:19,20; Acts 20:32; Rom 8:17; Heb 11:39,40; 1 Pet 1:3,4.

Children are compared to arrows – but this means the finished product. At birth they are more like little twigs – 128:3. Arrows are made – they do not grow by themselves. To be good arrows they must be smoothed and polished. They must be aimed and will go where they are pointed (compare Prov 22:6). Eventually they must be released – they are not effective in the quiver. Do we want our children to be arrows in the Lord’s hand to fight His spiritual battles?

128 Title: See psalm 120.

128:1 This psalm gives a beautiful picture of an ideal home. The husband is a God-fearing man, successful in his work. His wife stays home and sees to the affairs of the house and the rearing of the children. The children are healthy and thriving. The blessing of God rests on them all. Notes on “blessed” at 1:1. Notes on “fear” at 34:11-14; 111:10; Job 28:28; Prov 1:7. The fear of the Lord causes us to walk in His ways. It is useless to think or say we fear the Lord or to hope for His blessing if we do not do what He says (1:1-3; 119:1-3; Jer 6:16; 7:23).

128:2 See 58:11; Isa 3:10. In the Old Testament prosperity was sometimes a sign of God’s blessing (1:3; Gen 24:35).

128:3 Happy the home where the wife honors her husband, and lovingly occupies herself with her children and household duties – 1 Tim 5:14; Titus 2:4,5; 1 Pet 3:5,6.

“Children” – 52:8; 144:12. Compare 127:4.

128:4 A great blessing indeed to have a home like that described here. Observe carefully that the foundation of it all is the fear of the Lord.

128:5,6 When the foundation is right one’s whole life can be full of hope, joy, and blessing.

be blessed like this.

- 5 The LORD will bless you out of Zion, and you will see the good of Jerusalem
all the days of your life.
- 6 Yes, you will see your children's children.
Peace be on Israel!

129

A song of ascents

- 1 "From my youth many times they have afflicted me", may Israel now say, 2 "From my youth many times they have
afflicted me;
yet they have not prevailed against me.
3 The plowmen plowed on my back;
they made their furrows long."
4 The LORD is righteous.
He has cut in two the cords of
the wicked.
5 Let all those who hate Zion be put to shame and turned back.

- 6 Let them be like the grass on
the housetops,
which withers before it grows up, 7 With which the reaper does not fill his hand,
or he who binds sheaves, his arms.
8 And may those who go by not say,
"The blessing of the LORD be on you.
We bless you in the name of
the LORD."

130

A song of ascents

- 1 Out of the depths I have cried out to you,
O LORD.
2 Lord, hear my voice.
Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.
3 If you, LORD, should watch for sins,
O Lord, who could stand?

128:5 "Zion" – 9:11; 20:2; 135:21.
"Jerusalem" – prosperity to the capital city here means prosperity to the whole country.
128:6 See 125:5.

129 Title: See psalm 120.

129:1 From Ps 128 some people might get the false impression that the fear of the Lord always produces a prosperous and trouble-free life. This psalm should correct such an idea. The history of Israel reveals that afflictions often follow God's people.
"From my youth" is a reference to the afflictions experienced in Egypt when they began to be a numerous people and nation (Exodus chapter 1), and to the troubles with surrounding nations all through their history.

129:2-4 A great many enemies tried to destroy Israel completely, but none succeeded.
The New Testament church has the same promise (Matt 16:18). Israel was not preserved because of their own righteousness but because of God's. Their deliverance was not their work but the Lord's.

129:3 Satan would like to pierce us, slice us, and break us up with his plow. But if God permits us to be plowed up it is because He means to have a harvest from us. He will sow His Word in the furrows, lay His healing hand on the pain, and bring fruitfulness out of our affliction.

129:4 The Lord was righteous in permitting all the affliction Israel experienced, and righteous when He came to their deliverance.

129:5 To hate Zion was to hate the people of God, and to hate God who then dwelled in His temple there. Such haters of Zion deserved nothing but shame, dishonor, and destruction.
For such prayers see note at 35:8.

129:6,7 In other words, let such people be soon destroyed and little remain of them.

129:8 Compare Ruth 2:4. How can people who hate Zion expect to have the blessing of God who loved Zion and chose it for His dwelling place? They may imagine they have God's blessing, but in the end it will prove a delusion.

130 Title: See psalm 120. This psalm takes us from the depths of depression to the heights of assurance and hope. It is indeed a psalm of ascents.

130:1 "Depths" – dark, difficult, depressing experience, the depths of a sad and struggling heart (compare 40:2; 69:2).
Judg- ing from vs 3,4 the cause of his pain was his deep conviction of sin as in psalms 32 and 51.

"O LORD" – he did not simply cry to his friends or complain about his condition. He did the one thing needful in all depths of trouble – he lifted his heart and voice to God.

130:2 See 27:7; 28:2,6; 31:22; 86:6;
2 Chron 6:40; 1 John 5:14,15.

130:3,4 See 143:2; 1 Sam 6:20; Ezra 9:15; Nahum 1:6; Rev 6:17. For one sin Adam and Eve lost paradise and all their offspring became sinners. For one sin Achan lost his life, and Saul lost his kingdom. If God took our innumerable sins into account and held them against us, far from standing, we would partake of eternal darkness and destruction.
But if we are true believers, if we are in Christ, there is no condemnation (Rom 8:1), our sins are not counted against us (32:1,2; Rom 4:8; 8:33; 2 Cor 5:19), we are freely and fully forgiven (notes on forgiveness at Matt 6:12,14,15; 9:5-7; 12:31; 18:23-35;
Eph 1:7; 1 John 1:9).

- 4 But there is forgiveness with you,
that you may be feared.
- 5 I wait for the LORD;
my soul waits, and in his word
I hope.
- 6 My soul waits for the Lord more than those who watch for the morning;
I say, more than those who watch for
the morning.
- 7 Let Israel hope in the LORD,
for with the LORD there is mercy, and with him is abundant redemption.
- 8 And he will redeem Israel from all his sins.

131

A song of ascents by David

- 1 LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor my eyes lofty;
nor do I concern myself with great matters,
or with things too exalted for me.
- 2 Surely I have calmed and quieted myself,
like a weaned child with his mother;
my soul within me is like a weaned child.
- 3 Let Israel hope in the LORD from this time on and forever.

Some think that God's grace in forgiving sins will lead to more sin. Their view is that people will not fear so merciful a God, but will do as they please thinking they can always get forgiveness when they want it. This whole view of things is a large error. Verse 4 teaches that God's forgiveness leads to the fear of God. He forgives only when there is real repentance, and the forgiven sinner rejoices in God's goodness and learns to honor, love, and reverence God (Rom 2:4,5; 6:1-4; 2 Cor 5:17). The fact is, only those who are forgiven know what the fear of God really is. Notes on this fear at 34:11-14; 111:10; etc.

130:5 "Wait" - 27:14; Isa 8:17; 26:8; 30:18; 49:23. It is the duty of believers to wait for God's time and way of answering prayer. The writer waits for God to act, to answer, to draw near, to lead him again to happy fellowship with God.

"Hope" - 119:74. In times of gloom and trouble and conviction of sin we should search out some of God's precious promises and put our faith and hope in them. God will never reject those who hope in His Word.

130:6 The watchman longs for the dawn when the loneliness and possible dangers of the night will be past and he can return to his home for rest and refreshment. Just so the writer longed to come out of the spiritual darkness that he had been experiencing.

130:7,8 Out of the depths the author cried and has now reached the heights of hope and assurance. So may we in any depths we experience if we do as he did.

130:7 "In the LORD" - we must put our hope there and nowhere else if we want to avoid disappointment. Notes on redemption at 78:35; Matt 20:28. At the cost of the life of His Son the God of the Bible has provided full, complete, eternal redemption in the Lord Jesus Christ for all who will have it (Heb 9:12).

130:8 Matt 1:21; Luke 1:68.

131 Title: See psalm 120. Here is a small psalm with big thoughts on the proper character and conduct of a believing pilgrim. It points the way to ascent in the spiritual life. Humility is the key thought.

131:1 See 101:5; Prov 6:16,17; Isa 2:12;

Rom 12:16; Jam 4:6. Not everyone who says he is humble is really so, and they who think they are not may be. Was David revealing pride in speaking of his humility? No. He wrote these words by the inspiration of God's Spirit and spoke them to God, not to men. David's conduct throughout his life proves the truth of his words here, and in this matter is an example to us all as to how to conduct ourselves.

"Great matters" - David did not strive after position and authority. He was not trying to be "big" (compare Jer 45:5). Also he recognized that the mysteries of God's being, plans, and actions were too profound for his intellect to grasp. He was willing to simply trust in the God who had revealed Himself to Israel (compare 139:6; Eccl 8:17; Isa 40:14,28; 55:8,9; Rom 11:33,34).

131:2 David, though he was a mighty warrior, a successful king, and a great poet compared himself to a child. He was taught by God's Spirit a truth the Lord Jesus later put in words - Matt 18:3,4; Mark 10:15; Luke 18:16,17. But David disciplined himself to be a weaned child. An unweaned child is all taken up with his own desires. He selfishly clamors for the satisfaction and comfort his mother gives. He wants only his own will to prevail. A weaned child is beginning to learn discipline and self-control. He is learning that the mother's will is best for him. And he starts appreciating her for herself and not merely for what she can give him. And he has left a milk diet for stronger food. We should apply all this to a believer's relationship with God (Heb 5:11-14; 1 Cor 3:1,2; 14:20).

131:3 God's people must learn not to hope in themselves, in their own intellect or strength. Jehovah must eternally be the object of our faith and hope (2 Cor 1:9; 3:4,5).

132 Title: See Psalm 120. This psalm was probably written by Solomon or by some poet or prophet in Solomon's day. It was probably written for the bringing of the ark of God into the temple Solomon built (1 Kings 6:37,38; 8:1-6,62,63).

132

A song of ascents

- 1 LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions,
- 2 And how he swore to the LORD, and made a vow to the mighty God of Jacob:
- 3 "Surely I will not go into a room of my house, or get into my bed,
- 4 And I will not give sleep to my eyes, or slumber to my eyelids,
- 5 Until I find a place for the LORD, a dwelling for the mighty God of Jacob."
- 6 Look, we heard of it at Ephratah; we found it in the fields of the woods.
- 7 We will go into his tabernacle. We will worship at his footstool.
- 8 Arise, O LORD, into your resting place, you, and the ark of your strength.
- 9 Let your priests be clothed with righteousness,

- and let your saints shout for joy.
- 10 For the sake of your servant David do not turn away the face of your anointed.
 - 11 The LORD has sworn in truth to David, and he will not turn from it: "I will set on your throne one of the fruit of your body.
 - 12 If your children keep my covenant and my testimony, which I will teach them, their children will also sit on your throne forevermore."
 - 13 For the LORD has chosen Zion; he has desired it for his dwelling.
 - 14 "This is my resting place forever; here I will dwell, for I have desired it.
 - 15 I will abundantly bless her provisions. I will satisfy her poor with bread.
 - 16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints will shout aloud for joy.
 - 17 There I will cause the horn of David to grow. I have appointed a lamp for my anointed.
 - 18 I will clothe his enemies with shame;

132:1 Wanting God to hear his prayer, he pleads David's name and afflictions. Believers now have a much higher name to plead in prayer – David's Son and David's Lord, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. We cannot approach God in our own merit, but we can pray, "O God, remember Jesus and all His afflictions."

132:2-5 2 Sam 7:1,2; 1 Chron 28:2. David, living in his palace, thought it not right that the ark, which was the symbol of God's presence with Israel, should remain in a tent. This vow is not recorded in the historical record of David. Here it is recorded to show how David loved God, and was zealous for God's dwelling place among His people. How many sleepless nights have we experienced for the sake of God's work?

132:6 "Heard of it" probably means heard concerning the ark of God.

"Fields of the woods" – in Hebrew "fields of Jaar." Jaar can also be taken as a proper name here. According to some scholars Jaar is Kiriath Jearim, the place where the ark of the covenant had been since the days of Samuel. 132:7 "Tabernacle" – or "dwelling place" – the temple in Jerusalem (5:7; 122:1,2).

"Footstool" – in Israel God was said to be enthroned over the cherubim of the ark, and the ark itself was like His footstool (80:1; 99:1; 1 Chron 28:2).

132:8 Num 10:35,36. This suggests the taking of the ark into the Most Holy Place in the temple in Solomon's time – 1 Kings 8:6.

132:9 Isa 61:3,10; Zech 3:4; Mal 3:3; Eph 6:14. This is what God desires for all His servants and believers. True righteousness brings true joy. Sin brings grief and misery.

132:10 Verse 1. The anointed one here is probably Solomon anointed to be king in David's place, but the words could also refer to all the kings who came after him.

132:11,12 David, loving God, made vows to Him. God, loving David, made promises to him. The spiritual life is mutual love between God and His children. Notes on God's covenant with David at 89:3,4,19-37; 2 Sam 7:11-16. The Lord Jesus was born on earth in David's royal line and is the heir to the throne of David – Luke 1:32,33.

132:13 It was not buildings or hills that caused the Lord God to choose Zion. It is people God is most concerned about, not places.

132:14 God's resting place forever is with His people. The whole Bible is the story of His desire to dwell with them. See note at Ex 25:8. God actually forsook the literal Jerusalem and gave it up to the enemy (Ezekiel chapter 10 describes God's glory departing, and Jeremiah chapter 52 records the fall of Jerusalem). But God has never forsaken His people. And judging from this verse, and others like it, the literal Jerusalem still figures in God's plans for the future (Ezek 48:35; Zech 14:16-21).

132:15 See 23:1; 2 Cor 9:8; Phil 4:19.

132:16 Verse 9. In this New Testament era all believers are priests. Note at Ex 28:1.

132:17 "Horn" – 75:4,5; 89:17; 92:10. Here horn symbolizes one with authority and power, a king. See Luke 1:69 where the word refers to the Lord Jesus.

"Lamp" – 1 Kings 11:36; 15:4. Lamp here indicates the continuance of the royal house of David. David is a type of the Lord Jesus, the light of the world. Compared to Him David's lamp was but a dim, flickering light in the surrounding darkness (Luke 1:78; 2:32; John 8:12; Rev 21:22,23).

132:18 "Shame" – 6:10; 35:26; 44:7;

but his crown will gleam on himself.”

133

A song of ascents by David

- 1 See how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
- 2 It is like the precious oil on the head running down on the beard, on Aaron's beard, running down to the collar of his garments.
- 3 It is like the dew of Hermon, the dew descending on the mountains
of Zion;
for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life forevermore.

134

A song of ascents

- 1 See that you praise the LORD,

53:5; 71:13. What a contrast between clothing with shame and clothing with righteousness and salvation (vs 9,16).

“Crown” – Heb 2:9; Rev 19:11,12.

133 Title: See Psalm 120.

133:1 Unity among God's people is good and pleasant because it is the result of God's love, God's will, and God's working, and because its fruit is sweet fellowship, peace, and strength. It is an exceedingly important thing for New Testament churches to have and to maintain. See Eph 4:1-6. So church leaders must be on the lookout lest serious heresy or sin in the church or proud individuals cause divisions (Acts 20:30,31; Rom 16:17,18; Heb 12:15,16).

133:2 Unity is compared to the oil used to anoint and consecrate Aaron to the priesthood (Ex 29:7-9). It was a special oil, holy, and sweet smelling, an oil that signified full dedication to God. See Ex 30:22-33. So good and precious is unity which has so sweet a smell to God, that so clearly speaks of dedication to His service, that is an indicator of holy lives in a holy church, that speaks of the Holy Spirit of God who anoints believers now.

133:3 “Dew” – Prov 19:12; Isa 18:4; 26:19; Hos 14:5. Unity is as cooling, refreshing, life-giving dew coming down quietly, constantly on the church. It is a gift of heaven to be treasured by God's people.

“Zion” – God's blessing is to be found in the midst of God's people, united in love and truth. There God appoints the flow of His grace which results in eternal life.

134 Title: See Psalm 120. This is the last of the songs of ascent which began with 120. The pilgrim set out on his journey, arrived all you servants of the LORD, who stand at night in the house

of the LORD.

- 2 Lift up your hands in the sanctuary and
praise the LORD.

- 3 The LORD who made heaven and earth bless you from Zion!

135

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Praise the name of the LORD;
praise him, you servants
of the LORD,
- 2 You who stand in the house
of the LORD,
in the courts of the house
of our God,
- 3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good.
Sing praises to his name,
for this is delightful.
- 4 For the LORD has chosen Jacob for himself,
Israel as his special treasure.

in Jerusalem, admired the city of God, offered his offerings and prayers, learned again the lessons of humility, hope, faith, and unity, and now sets out for home. Verses 1,2 give his parting word of exhortation and encouragement to the priests in the temple; probably v 3 is the response of the priests giving the blessing of Zion to the departing pilgrim.

134:1 “Praise the LORD” – note at 104:35. There were duties in the temple at night also (1 Chron 9:33). And the ministry of praise should never cease day or night. Remember that in the New Testament all believers the world over are the priests. Note at Ex 28:1.

134:2 See 28:2; Titus 2:8.

134:3 See 124:8; Gen 12:1-3; Num 6:22-27. If in our pilgrimage through life we have the blessing of the Maker of heaven and earth, what can we lack of any real importance?

135:1 “Praise the LORD” (also vs 3,21) – note at 104:35. Praising the name of the Lord is not a mere repetition of a name, but speaking or singing, with understanding, of His nature, attributes, and deeds. Note on praise at 33:1.

135:2 Who should praise God more than those who have the great privilege of being full time in His service?

135:3 “Good” – 118:1. The first of five reasons the writer gives for praising the LORD (Jehovah) God.

“Delightful” – praising God is both good and pleasant. This is not true of many activities of life.

135:4 Ex 19:5; Deut 7:6; Mal 3:17; Titus 2:14. The third reason we should

- 5 For I know that the LORD is great,
and that our Lord is above all gods.
- 6 Whatever the LORD pleased, that he did in heaven and on earth,
in the seas and all deep places.
- 7 He causes the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth.
He makes lightnings for the rain.
He brings the wind out of his treasuries.
- 8 He struck down the firstborn of Egypt,
both of man and beast.
- 9 He sent signs and wonders into your midst,
O Egypt, on Pharaoh and on all his servants.
- 10 He struck great nations,
and killed mighty kings,
- 11 Sihon king of the Amorites,
and Og king of Bashan,
and all the kingdoms of Canaan,
- 12 And gave their land as a heritage,
a heritage to Israel his people.
- 13 Your name, O LORD, continues on forever, and the remembrance of you, O LORD,
throughout all generations.
- 14 For the LORD will judge his people, and he will have compassion on his servants.
- 15 The idols of the nations are made of
silver and gold,
the work of men's hands.
- 16 They have mouths, but they do not speak.
They have eyes, but they do not see.
- 17 They have ears, but they do not hear;
nor is there any breath in their mouths.
- 18 Those who make them are like them;
so is everyone who trusts in them.
- 19 Praise the LORD, O house of Israel.
Praise the LORD, O house of Aaron.
- 20 Praise the LORD, O house of Levi.
You who fear the LORD,
praise the LORD.
- 21 Blessed be the LORD from Zion, who dwells in Jerusalem. Praise the LORD!

136

- 1 Oh, give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good;
for his mercy continues on forever.
- 2 Oh, give thanks to the God of gods,
for his mercy continues on forever.

praise God – His electing love. He did not choose Jacob and his descendants because they were good or faithful or meritorious in any way. His choice was all of grace, and it was for the benefit of the whole world. Note at Gen 12:1-3.

135:5 "Great" – the fourth reason why we should praise God – some people are good but not great, some are great but not good. Jehovah is both supremely good and supremely great. We should recognize this and praise Him.

"I know" – He was fully convinced by God's revelation of Himself in His Word and in history, and by his own experience.

"gods" – vs 15-18.

135:6 See 115:3; 96:5; 97:7; Dan 4:35. This is how great the LORD is. No one can prevent Him from doing just what He wants to do. Those called gods by men can do nothing at all.

135:7 He is in absolute control of His creation and the forces of nature. There is not one god of the rain, another of the wind, another of the sky. The one true God alone controls everything.

135:8 This was in perfect justice and avenged the Egyptian treatment of God's children – Ex 1:15-22; 4:23; 12:12.

135:9 Ex 7:9,17; 8:5,16,24; 9:2,8,9,22; 10:12,21.

135:10,11 Num 21:21-33; Josh 12:7-24; 24:12.

135:12 Deut 26:1; Josh 11:23.

135:13 Ex 3:15. God's nature and attributes are eternal and unchangeable – Mal 3:6;

Heb 13:8.

135:14 The fifth reason he gives for praising God – though God's people will experience injustice on every hand in this world, God will fulfill His good purpose toward them.

135:15-20 See 115:4-11.

135:21 See 128:5; 134:3.

136:1 "Give thanks" – 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12; Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18. This is a psalm in praise of the grace and love of God. They flow from His goodness (v 1). They come from the great eternal God and Ruler of the universe (vs 2,3). They are revealed in creation (vs 4-9), in the redemption of His people from Egypt (vs 10-15), in shepherding His people in the desert (v 16), in giving them the promised inheritance (vs 17-22), in compassion on the lowly (v 23), in deliverance from enemies (v 24), and in sustaining the life of His creatures (v 25). In New Testament terms we can say the grace and love of the almighty Creator redeems His people from sin's bondage, leads them through life's pilgrimage to their heavenly inheritance, rescues them from their great enemy Satan and all his hordes, and preserves them in their life on earth and forever.

"Good" – 100:5; 106:1; 118:1; 145:9.

"Forever" – 2 Chron 5:13; Ezra 3:11.

There has never been and never will be any break, any interruption in the flow of God's grace and love. They flow from His unchangeable nature (1 John 4:8,16).

136:2 See 135:5,15; Deut 10:17. Jehovah, the God of the Bible, is far above all

- 3 Oh, give thanks to the Lord of lords;
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 4 To him who alone does great wonders,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 5 To him who by wisdom made the heavens,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 6 To him who stretched out the earth over the waters,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 7 To him who made great lights,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 8 The sun to rule by day,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 9 The moon and stars to rule by night,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 10 To him who struck Egypt in their firstborn,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 11 And brought Israel out from among them,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 12 With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 13 To him who divided the Red Sea in two,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 14 And caused Israel to pass through the midst of it,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 15 But overthrew Pharaoh and his army in the Red Sea,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 16 To him who led his people through the

- wilderness,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 17 To him who struck down great kings,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 18 And killed famous kings,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 19 Sihon king of the Amorites,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 20 And Og the king of Bashan,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 21 And gave their land as an inheritance,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 22 An inheritance to Israel his servant,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 23 Who remembered us in our low estate,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 24 And rescued us from our enemies,
for his mercy continues on forever;
- 25 Who gives food to all that has flesh;
for his mercy continues on forever.
- 26 Oh, give thanks to the God of heaven,
for his mercy continues on forever.

- 1 By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down;
yes, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
- 2 We hung our harps on the willows in the midst of it.
- 3 For there those who carried us away that men call gods. In reality they are not gods at all – see 96:5; 115:4-11.

136:3 See 1 Tim 6:15; Rev 19:16. He is the supreme ruler, governor, and master of the universe.

136:4 See 77:14; 107:27; Job 9:10; Dan 4:3;6:27. He alone does great wonders, and He does them alone. He needs no assistance from anyone.

136:5-9 Here are wonders in creation. See Genesis chapter 1. God's grace and love were displayed in making the earth habitable for men and other creatures.

136:10-15 Here are wonders and grace displayed in the deliverance of His people from Egypt. But if God is so loving and gracious why did He slay all the firstborn of Egypt and destroy its army in the sea? Because He is a God of justice too, and He avenges cruelty and punishes the hardness of heart and pride which reject His grace (2:4,5; Rom 2:4,5; 2 Thess 1:6-9; Heb 2:1-3).

136:16 What great wonders and grace God displayed in the desert! The story begins in Exodus chapter 15 and concludes at the end of Deuteronomy.

136:17-20 Num 21:21-35.

136:21,22 See 78:55; Josh 12:1; 14:1. God has prepared for believers an eternal inheritance in heaven (1 Pet 1:4), and will destroy all those who would try to prevent them from obtaining it.

136:23 See 78:39; 103:14; 1 Sam 2:8; Luke 1:47,48. God delights to give grace to the poor, the humble, the lowly.

136:24 See 107:2; Deut 6:18,19; 33:27; Josh 21:44. Note on enemies at Ps 3:7.

136:25 Gen 1:30; Matt 6:26.

136:26 This is a common name for God in Ezra, Nehemiah, and Daniel. It indicates God's transcendence and universal rule. Let us give Him thanks (34:1; Eph 5:4,20; Col 3:17; 1 Thess 5:18; Heb 13:15). Since there is no interruption in the flow of His grace, let there be no interruption in the flow of our thanksgiving.

137:1 "Babylon" – this was written after the events described in 2 Kings chapter 25. The mighty nation of Babylonia conquered Judah, destroyed Jerusalem and God's temple, and took the people captive to their land. The rivers Tigris and Euphrates with their many canals flowed there. Zion was destroyed and in the hands of idolaters and cruel oppressors – reason enough for weeping.

137:2-4 Their joy was completely gone. Their oppressors tried to make sport of them, demanding that they sing when their hearts were broken. Compare Jud 16:23-25. This only added to their sorrow and no doubt

- captive required a song from us, and those who tormented us demand
merry making, saying,
"Sing us some of the songs of Zion."
4 How shall we sing the LORD's song in a foreign land?
5 If I forget you, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its skill.
6 If I do not remember you,
if I do not prefer Jerusalem above
my chief joy,
let my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth.
7 Remember, O LORD, the children of Edom on the day of Jerusalem's fall, who said, "Raze it, raze it to its very foundation!"
8 O daughter of Babylon,
you who are to be destroyed,
happy will he be who repays you as you have dealt with us.
9 Happy shall he be who takes your little ones and dashes them against the stones.

138

A Psalm of David

- 1 I will praise you with my whole heart;

was intended to do so.

137:5,6 Jerusalem was in their hearts because it was the city of God, the place of Jehovah's temple, the dwelling place of heaven's King.

137:7 Lam 4:21,22. The Edomites were descended from Esau, the brother of Jacob, and so were related to the Jews (Gen 25:24-34). Instead of helping them against the Babylonians they rejoiced in their defeat.

137:8,9 This language seems very harsh today to those who have believed the gospel of the Lord Jesus. But all we have here is a cry for justice - "do to them as they have done to us." The Babylonians doubtless had done to the infants of Israel what he now wishes someone would do to their infants. He longed to see God's retribution coming on a nation which had cruelly oppressed his people. If it was right for God to avenge them, it was also right for God to inspire a hope in their heart that He would indeed do so. This is in accordance with God's law of retribution clearly expressed in the Bible (18:25,26; Num 31:1-3; Deut 32:35,41,43; Gal 6:7). But see the notes at 35:8; 139:19; etc.

138:1 Jehovah God had all his heart. He would not bow down to any of the many gods of the nations round about Israel, but when in those areas where they were would sing the praises of the one true God. On "gods" see 96:5; 97:7; 115:4-11; 1 Cor 8:4-6.

over against the gods I will sing praise to you.

- 2 I will worship toward your holy temple, and praise your name for your loving kindness and for your truth;
for you have exalted your word above
all your name.
3 In the day that I cried out you answered me, and made me bold with strength in my soul.
4 All the kings of the earth will praise you,
O LORD,
when they hear the words of
your mouth.
5 Yes, they will sing of the ways
of the LORD;
for great is the glory of the LORD.
6 Though the LORD is exalted,
yet he regards the lowly;
but the proud he knows at a distance.
7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble,
you will revive me.
You will stretch out your hand against the wrath of my enemies,
and your right hand will save me.
8 The LORD will perfect what relates to me.
Your mercy, O LORD, continues on forever.
Do not forsake the works of your own hands.

138:2 "Temple" - 5:7; 1 Kings 8:29. This was an acknowledgment of God's presence there.

"Name" - 74:21; 97:12; 135:1; Ex 3:15; 34:5-7. God's name means His nature and attributes.

"Word" - see how highly God values His word. This means His revelation in the Bible. Let those who neglect or criticize it take these words to heart. It is possible to translate the last phrase of this sentence "you have exalted your name, your word above all things."

138:3 "Answered" - 18:6; 30:2; 99:6; 116:4; 118:5; 1 John 5:14,15. See one of God's names in 65:2.

"Bold" - 28:7; Prov 28:1; Acts 4:29,31.

138:4,5 See 72:11; 102:15; 117:1; Rev 21:24. This is a prophecy yet to be fulfilled.

138:6 "Lowly" - 113:6; 136:23.

"At a distance" - pride is so obvious to God that He does not need to come near to recognize it. Also He does not want even to get close to the proud, so much is pride an abomination to Him.

138:7 See 7:6; 20:6; 23:4; 41:1,2; 60:5; 108:6.

138:8 Believers are the special work of God, more precious to Him than all of creation (Isa 43:6,7; 60:21; Eph 2:10). He has begun His work in all of them and He will finish it (Phil 1:6). If we are believers this should be our confidence.

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

- 1 O LORD, you have searched me,
and known me.
- 2 You know my sitting down and my getting up.
You understand my thought at a distance.
- 3 You discern my path and my lying down,
and are acquainted with all my ways.
- 4 For there is not a word on my tongue,
but, see, O LORD, you know it altogether.
- 5 You have hemmed me in,
behind and before,
and laid your hand on me.
- 6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me.
It is high; I cannot attain it.
- 7 Where can I go from your Spirit?
Or where can I flee from your presence?
- 8 If I ascend into heaven, you are there.
If I make my bed in the realm of the dead,
see, you are there.
- 9 If I take the wings of the morning,

- and* dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,
10 Even there your hand will lead me,
and your right hand will hold me.
- 11 If I say, "Surely the darkness will cover me,"
even the night will become light
around me.
- 12 Yes, the darkness will not give concealment from you;
but the night will shine like the day.
The darkness and the light are both alike to you.
- 13 For you have formed my inner being.
You have knit me together in my mother's womb.
- 14 I will praise you, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made.
Your works are marvellous,
and that my soul knows very well.
- 15 My frame was not hidden from you when I was made in secret, and skillfully knit together in the lower parts of the earth.
- 16 Your eyes saw my incomplete body,
and in your book all the days ordained

139:1 In this psalm David in beautiful language expresses the truth of God's omniscience and omnipresence – God is everywhere and knows everything. He is not a cold, impersonal, uncaring, unseeing influence. He is the personal, loving Creator concerned with even the smallest details of His people's lives. We may divide the psalm as follows:

God knows everything about us (vs 1-6);
He is everywhere and there is no escape from His presence (vs 7- 12);
He is the Creator of human beings (vs 13-16);

His thoughts are a source of delight to
His people (vs 17,18);

David's stand against wickedness and for truth and righteousness (vs 19-24).

139:1 "Known" – 7:9; 17:3; 1 Kings 8:39;
Job 7:17,18; Jer 12:3; John 2:24,25;
6:64; 13:11; Rom 8:27.

139:2 Not only does God know all of our outer actions He knows our innermost thoughts – 94:11; Deut 31:21; Prov
24:12; Matt 9:4; 12:25; Luke 6:8;
9:47; 11:17; Heb 4:12.

139:3 See 33:13-15; 2 Kings 19:27;
2 Chron 16:9; Job 31:4; 34:21; Prov
5:21; Jer 32:19; 16:17; Dan 5:23.

139:4 Heb 4:13. Notice that God does not simply know this, but knows it perfectly.

139:5 See 32:10; 34:7; 125:2; Job 1:9.

139:6 See 131:1; Isa 55:9; Rom 11:33.

139:7 Acts 17:27,28. David does not mean by these words that he wanted to get away from God's presence. He is only supposing a case to bring out the truth of God's omnipresence.

139:8 Jer 23:24.

"Realm of the dead" – "Sheol" – note at
Gen 37:35.

139:9 East or west, as far as a man might go, God is there before Him. How foolish then was Jonah's attempt to escape (Jonah 1:3), or any attempt we might make.

139:10 David is confident that wherever he is, God's purpose toward him is good – it is to guide and keep him.

139:11,12 Job 12:22; 34:22; Jer 23:24; Dan
2:22. Men prefer to commit their abominations in the dark. Do they vainly imagine that because men cannot see them God cannot?

139:13 David did not believe he came into existence by the mere processes of nature.
He says that God had a direct hand in it all (compare 119:73; Job 10:8-12; 119:73; Isa 44:2,24; 49:5; Jer 1:5). Abortion is interfering with the work of God and so is sin.

139:14 "Made" – man's body, soul, and spirit, and the way they are mysteriously united to form individual persons should produce in all of us a reverence and awe at God's wonderful work in creating us. The more we understand how we are made the more wonderful the Maker will seem. And the more terrible will seem the destruction of helpless human life by abortion.

"Well" – 77:14; 136:4; Job 9:10. Here is a fact David knew very well and so many so-called wise men do not know at all.

139:15 "Secret," "of the earth" – these expressions here mean the womb (v 13).

139:16 God not only made us but planned the length of our lives (39:4; 90:12; Job 14:5). He knows best when we should come for me were written down before there was any of them.

17 How precious also are your thoughts to me, O God!

How great is the sum of them!

18 If I could count them, they would be more in number than the sand.

When I awake, I am still with you.

19 Surely you will slay the wicked,
O God.

So depart from me, you bloodthirsty men!

20 For they speak against you wickedly, and your enemies take your name in vain.

21 Do I not hate them, O LORD, who hate you?
And do I not feel a loathing for those who rise up against you?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred.

I count them my enemies.

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart.
Test me, and know my thoughts;

24 And see if there is any offending way in me,
and lead me in the way everlasting.

To the chief musician, a Psalm of David

1 Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man, protect me from the violent man,
2 Who plot evil things in their heart;
they continually gather together for war.
3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent's.

The poison of vipers is under their lips.

Selah

4 Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked,

protect me from the violent man,
who intends to overthrow my footsteps.

5 The proud have hidden a snare for me,
and cords;

they have spread a net by the wayside;
they have set traps for me.

Selah

6 I said to the LORD, "You are my God."

Hear the sound of my supplications, O LORD.

into the world and when we should leave it.
139:17,18 David was delighted that God was constantly thinking about him and was so intimately concerned with all he was and all he did (40:5; 92:5; Jer 29:11). The reason for his delight was he had chosen the side of righteousness, holiness, and truth, and had renounced all wickedness. This appears in the following verses.

139:19 "Slay" – note at 35:8. In the Old Testament God taught His people to expect the destruction of wicked enemies – Deut 7:1,2; 28:7; 32:35,41-43. For God to destroy the wicked was a perfectly just act. But the New Testament teaches we should pray for them, for their conversion, though they are no less offensive to God now, no less an affront to His holiness.

"Depart" – 6:8; 59:2. David could not stand to be around men who were bent on evil.

139:20-22 David would not be friends with those who were God's enemies (compare Jam 4:4). In fact, he counted God's enemies his own enemies. His emotions, thoughts, and will were altogether on God's side. Evil men are an abomination to God – 5:6; 78:59; Lev 20:23; 26:30; Deut 32:19; Prov 22:14. So they were to David also. Is this consistent with the love which believers should have for their enemies (Matt 5:44)? It can be. It is possible to loathe the character, opinions, purposes, and acts of wicked men and yet desire and pray for their highest good, and be delighted when they are converted and made new people in Christ.

139:23,24 It is not enough to condemn evil in others. We must learn to condemn it in ourselves. We must be on God's side, not merely outwardly, but inwardly. David has already said God searched him and knew him. His words here mean that he wanted to cooperate with God in this searching and to put away anything that was offensive to God's holy nature. Compare 2 Cor 6:14 to 7:1. There is also the suggestion that he is not capable himself to see all that is in his own heart and that he needs God to show him (Jer 17:9,10).

139:24 The everlasting way is God's one way to eternal life and peace. It is the way of grace on God's part and sincere faith on man's part. It is a way of holiness, righteousness, and truth. From the beginning there has been just one way that leads to God and heaven and there will never be another. This way is Jesus Christ Himself (John 14:6).

"Offending" – the KJV has "wicked" here, but this is probably too strong a word to translate the Hebrew word. David certainly did not want any wickedness to be in his heart, but beyond that he also did not want anything there which could offend God in any way.

140 Title: This is similar to such psalms as 7, 10, 11, 17, 58, 64, 71, etc. David was often troubled by evil men and often prayed about them.

140:1 See 17:13; 25:21; 59:2; 71:4; 86:2; 142:6; 143:9.

140:2 See 36:4; 52:2; Prov 6:14; 16:27; Isa 59:4; Hos 7:15.

"War" – 120:7.

140:3 See 57:4; 58:4; Rom 3:13; Jam 3:8. This signifies slander and the stirring up of others to attack him.

140:5 See 31:4; 38:12; 119:110.

140:6 See 16:2; 31:14; 118:28. The LORD (Jehovah) is our God if He has chosen us

A Psalm of David

- 7 O God the Lord, the strength of
my salvation,
you have shielded my head in the day
of battle.
- 8 O LORD, do not grant the desires of the wicked.
Do not further his wicked plan,
or they will exalt themselves.
- Selah*
- 9 As for the head of those who surround me,
let the evil of their own lips cover
them.
- 10 Let burning coals fall on them.
Let them be thrown into the fire,
into deep pits,
so that they will not get up again.
- 11 Do not let a slanderer be established in
the earth.
Let evil hunt down the violent man to overthrow him.
- 12 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.
- 13 Surely the righteous will give thanks to your name.
The upright will dwell in your presence.

- 1 LORD, I cry out to you.
Come quickly to me.
Give ear to my voice, when I cry out to you.
- 2 Let my prayer be set out before you like incense,
and the lifting up of my hands
be like the evening sacrifice.
- 3 Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth.
Keep watch over the door of my lips.
- 4 Do not incline my heart to any evil thing,
to practice wicked works
with men who are evildoers;
and do not let me eat of their delicacies.
- 5 Let the righteous strike me;
it is a kindness; and let him rebuke me;
it is an excellent oil;
my head will not refuse it.
For my prayer will still be there in their distresses.
- 6 When their judges are thrown down at the cliffs,
they will hear my words;
for they are sweet.
- 7 Our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth, and we have chosen Him. If He is our God we may safely trust Him to take care of us. 140:8 "Desires" - 10:2,3; Eph 2:3; 4:19. "Exalt themselves" - they may even imagine that God is with them and blessing them because their crooked ways bring success. This is a mistake that many people make.

140:9-11 He prays that perfect justice will fall on those violent and wicked slanderers. See 137:8,9.

140:12 72:2,4,12-14; Isa 11:4; Jer 22:3,16. The God of the Bible is always on the side of the poor and afflicted and persecuted among His people. At the proper time He will punish those who oppress them, and bring justice to work on their behalf.

140:13 This will be the result of God's work on behalf of the afflicted - 7:17; 11:7; 32:11; 35:28; 54:6,7; 58:11.

141:1 "Quickly" - 22:9; 38:22; 70:5. David was being persecuted by wicked enemies and in grave danger - vs 7-9.

"Give ear" - 4:1; 5:1,2; 27:7; 143:1. 141:2 "Incense" - Luke 1:9; Rev 5:8; 8:3. Prayer is like incense in certain clear ways. Incense was commanded by God. In order for it to be acceptable it had to be offered in accordance with God's instructions. Then it was holy and sweet smelling to the Lord (Ex 30:7,8,34-38). David wanted his prayers to be acceptable to God.

"Sacrifice" - sometimes prayer can consist of bodily movement without spoken words - kneeling, lifting hands or eyes to

God. These sorts of prayers can be as acceptable to God as the evening sacrifice He once commanded (Ex 29:38-41).

141:3 David knew that the mouth that prayed could also say bitter, unwise, unholy words. He knew too how difficult it is to control the tongue (see Jam 3:2-12). So he prays for God Himself to be a watchman at the door of his mouth.

141:4 When the wicked are in positions of leadership and prospering, the righteous may be tempted to compromise with them. And the wicked may offer inducements ("delicacies") to corrupt the righteous. When standards of morality are low, and everyone seems to be practicing certain evils, God's true servants may also get entangled. At such times we would do well to pray as David did.

141:5 Far better to be flogged by the righteous than to be feasted by the wicked. Far better to be rebuked by a good man than flattered by a bad one. David realized that what the righteous did or said to him was for his correction, and he welcomed it (compare Prov 27:6).

"In their distresses" - or "against their evils."

141:6 This was probably written when David was being pursued by Saul in the desert. He believed that Saul and his helpers would fall and that the people would then welcome his words.

141:7 In other words, David and his men were only a step from death (6:4,5; 9:13; 143:3).

- as when one plows and breaks up the ground.
- 8 But my eyes are on you, O God the Lord.
My trust is in you.
Do not leave my soul destitute.
- 9 Keep me from the snares which they have laid for me,
and the traps of evildoers.
- 10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, while I escape.

142

A maskil of David;
a prayer when he was in the cave

- 1 I cried out to the LORD with my voice;
with my voice I made my supplication to the LORD.
- 2 I poured out my complaint before him.
I declared my trouble in his presence.
- 3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then you knew my path.
They have secretly laid a snare for me in the road where I walk.
- 4 I looked to my right and considered, but there was no man who was willing to know me.
Refuge failed me.
No one cared for my soul.

"Grave" - in Hebrew "Sheol" - note at
Gen 37:35.

141:9 See 38:12; 64:5; 140:4.

141:10 A prayer that perfect justice will prevail (7:15; 35:8; 57:6. See Esther 7:10; Dan 6:24).

142 Title: See 1 Sam 22:1; 24:3. Maskil was probably a literary or musical term.

142:1,2 This is the prayer of a lonely, desperate man. It teaches us what to do if we are ever in such a state. The first and most important thing is to lay our troubles before the Lord. There may be no human being we know who can help us, but He will hear us with sympathy and compassion. It is far better to pour out our complaint to the Lord than to men (3:4; 30:8; 34:6; 50:15; 62:8; Phil 4:6,7; 1 Pet 5:7).

142:3 David was a man of exceptional courage and faith, as his history shows. But he knew times of great spiritual weakness and depression - 6:2; 38:8,17; 61:2; 143:4. But God knew all about it and had compassion on him.

142:4 "Right" - the place of a helper or intimate friend.

"No man" - Job 16:10; 19:13-19; Jer
30:17. Many since Job and David and Jeremiah have felt they were utterly friendless in a hostile world. The next verse teaches us what to do in such a case.

142:5 A person without help or safety can

- 5 I cried out to you, O LORD.
I said, "You are my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.
- 6 Be attentive to my cry, for I am brought very low.
Deliver me from my persecutors,
for they are stronger than I.
- 7 Bring my soul out of prison,
that I may praise your name.
The righteous will be all around me,
for you will show goodness to me."

143

A Psalm of David

- 1 Hear my prayer, O LORD,
give ear to my supplications.
In your faithfulness and in your righteousness, answer me.
- 2 And do not enter into judgment with your servant, for in your sight no man living is righteous.
- 3 For the enemy has persecuted my soul.
He has crushed my life to the ground.
He has made me dwell in darkness,
like those who have long been dead.
- 4 Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed within me.

take the Lord Himself for a refuge (7:1; 9:9; 37:39; 46:1; 61:3), and the person without a friend or a possession can go to the Friend of the friendless and find an eternally satisfying portion (16:5; 73:26).

142:6 See 25:20; 43:1; 71:2; 116:4.
God is the strength of those who learn they have not enough of their own (18:1; 31:4; 59:17; 62:17; Hab 3:19; 2 Cor 12:9).

142:7 David was not in a literal prison. The cave he was in, the surrounding enemy forces seemed like a prison to him. God heard David's prayer in this psalm and David did praise God for his deliverance.

143:1 A prayer that can honestly appeal to both God's faithfulness, to His promises and to His righteousness is sure to succeed, for it is in accordance with God's nature and will (89:1,2; 71:2; Ex 34:6; 1 John 1:9; 5:14,15). We cannot expect God to answer a prayer contrary to His Word and His righteous nature. Observe other grounds for prayer in vs 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

143:2 David is coming before God's mercy seat, God's throne of grace, not God's judgment seat. He well knows that there was so much fault in himself that he could not stand before God in his own merit (14:3; 51:5; 130:3; Eccl 7:20; Rom
3:20,23; Gal 2:16).

143:3 See 141:7.

143:4 See 142:3.

- My heart within me is desolate.
 5 I remember the days of old.
 I meditate on all your works.
 I ponder on the work of your hands.
 6 I stretch out my hands to you.
 My soul thirsts for you like a thirsty land.
- Selah
- 7 Answer me quickly, O LORD.
 My spirit wastes away.
 Do not hide your face from me,
 so that I do not become like those who go down into the pit.
 8 Cause me to hear your loving kindness in the morning, for in you I trust.
 Cause me to know the way in which I should walk,
 for I lift up my soul to you.
 9 Deliver me, O LORD, from my enemies;
 I flee to you to hide me.
- 10 Teach me to do your will, for you are
 my God.
 Your Spirit is good; lead me in the land of uprightness.
 11 Revive me, O LORD, for your name's sake.
 For the sake of your righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.
 12 And in your mercy cut off my enemies, and destroy all those who afflict
 my soul; for I am your servant.

144

A Psalm of David

- 1 Blessed be the LORD my rock, who trains my hands for war,
 and my fingers to fight.
 2 He is my merciful one, and my fortress,
 my high tower, and my deliverer,
 my shield, and the one in whom I trust,
 who subdues my people under me.
 3 LORD, what is man, that you acknowledge
 him?
Or the son of man, that you concern yourself with him?
 4 Man is like a vapour.
 His days are like a shadow that passes away.
 5 Bow your heavens, O LORD, and come down!
 Touch the mountains and make them smoke!
 6 Hurl out lightning bolts and scatter them!
 Shoot out your arrows and destroy them!
 7 Send down your hand from above.
 Rescue me, and deliver me out of great
 waters,
 from the hand of foreigners, 8 Whose mouth speaks vanity, and whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
 9 I will sing a new song to you, O God.

143:5 See 77:6; David's purpose here was to encourage himself and strengthen his faith.

143:6,7 More than mere deliverance from trouble David longed for God Himself. Without God's fellowship he felt lost and plunged in grief - 42:1,2; 63:1; 84:2.

143:8 "Morning" - desperate need longs for quick response from God.

"Trust" - David appeals to God on the grounds that he trusts Him - surely a strong basis for prayer.

"Cause me to know" - v 10; 25:45; 27:11; 119:12.

143:9 Observe the basis for this prayer.

143:10 What greater good can God's Spirit do than to teach us to do God's will and lead us so we do not stumble? This He will do if we are believing, willing, and obedient.

143:11 This prayer was more for the sake of God's name and righteousness than for David's sake - another sure ground in prayer.

143:12 Is it not the master's business to look after his servants? When foes are implacable their destruction may be necessary to deliver the righteous from them. Note on enemies at 3:7.

144:1 Note on "Rock" at Deut 32:4. This psalm is very similar to psalm 18. David lived in a time when the people of God fought physical battles against human enemies. Skill in battle was highly desirable. No doubt

David had natural ability and practiced much with sword and bow. But he does not attribute his skill to himself, but to God. In this New Testament age the great battles of God's people are spiritual (Eph 6:10-18). God who taught David will teach us how to fight these battles if we are willing and obedient. If we gain some success we should attribute this to God and not vainly imagine that it is our own ability or goodness that has gotten us the victory (1 Cor 4:7).

144:2 "Fortress" - 18:2. "Subdues" - 2 Sam 2:1-4; 3:1; 5:1-5.

144:3,4 See 8:4; Job 14:1,2; Heb 2:6; Isa 2:22. David included himself in this description of man. He knows that it is God alone who has made him strong, skillful, and successful, and it fills him with praise that the great God should care for puny man.

144:5-8 In all his danger David knows that safety and deliverance depend on God alone. Compare 18:7-15. David prays that God will do as He did before.

144:5 See 18:8; 104:32; Isa 64:1.

144:6 See 68:1; 18:14; 7:12,13; Hab 3:11; Zech 9:14.

144:7 See 18:16,17.

144:8 See 12:2; 36:3; 41:6.

144:9 See 33:3; 40:3; 96:1; 98:1; 149:1. New deliverances call for new songs, and every answer to prayer should bring forth

- I will sing praises to you on a lyre and a ten-stringed instrument, 10 you who give salvation to kings, who deliver his servant David from the deadly sword.
 11 Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of foreigners,
 whose mouth speaks vanity,
 and whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood, 12 So that our sons may be like plants grown up in their youth,
 that our daughters may be like pillars, carved like palace carvings.
 13 And that our barns may be full, furnishing all kinds of provisions, and that our sheep may give birth to thousands and ten thousands in our fields,
 14 That our oxen may be strong to labour,
and that there be no breaking in,
 or going out,
that there be no outcry in our streets.
 15 Happy are the people who are in such a condition;
yes, happy are the people whose God is the LORD.

145

David's Psalm of praise

- 1 I will exalt you, my God, O king, and I will extol your name
 forever and ever.
- 2 Every day I will praise you,
 and I will praise your name
 forever and ever.
- 3 Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised, and his greatness is unsearchable.
- 4 One generation will praise your works to another,
 and will proclaim your mighty acts.
- 5 I will speak of the glorious honour of your majesty,
 and of your wonderful works.
- 6 And men will speak of the power of your awesome acts;
 and I will declare your greatness.
- 7 They will pour forth the memory of your great goodness and sing of your
 righteousness.
- 8 The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion,
 slow to get angry, and great in mercy.
- 9 The LORD is good to all,

new thanksgiving.

144:10 See 18:50; 2 Sam 8:14.

144:12-14 David does not pray for victory just for his own sake. He is thinking of all the people of God. He desires their prosperity and peace.

144:12 "Plants" – 92:12-14; 128:3.

"Pillars" – the word signifies stability, usefulness, and beauty.

144:15 Deut 28:3. Notes on blessing at 1:1; Gen 12:1-3; Num 6:22-27; etc. Blessed indeed are those who have the one true God as their God. There can be no blessing higher than this. And even though we live in poverty or deadly danger we are still blessed indeed if this God is our God.

145 Title: There is praise to God in nearly every psalm, but this is the only one that is named a psalm of praise. Here David does not mention his enemies or troubles of any kind. He is completely taken up with the greatness, goodness, and righteousness of God. In Hebrew the verses begin with the successive letters of the alphabet with one letter (nun) omitted.

145:1 See 5:2; 47:2; 95:3. David the king knows his king is in heaven (see Eph 6:9).

145:2 He is resolved to praise God and repeats his resolution four times in these two verses. Not only so, he resolves to praise God every day, regardless of circumstances, whether well or sick, in comfort or in trouble, in sadness or in joy (see 1 Thess 5:18).

Not only so, he is confident that he will praise God forever (see 23:6; 37:18; 41:12).

145:3 The one true God is worthy of the greatest praise possible for men to give, the most sincere and wholehearted, the most intelligent and spiritual praise. It will take all eternity to understand all His greatness and to praise Him as He ought to be praised.

145:4 See 22:30; 102:18.

145:5 See 44:1; 71:16; 75:1; 77:12; 96:6; 105:2; 107:8,15; 148:13. This verse could be translated "I will meditate on the glorious splendor of your majesty and on your wonderful works."

145:6 See 65:5; 66:3; 106:22; Deut 7:21; 10:21.

145:7 "Goodness" – 23:6; 27:13; 31:19; 33:5; 52:1; 107:8; Ex 33:19; 2 Chron 6:41; Rom 11:22.

"Righteousness" – 7:9; 19:9; 145:17; John 17:25; Rom 3:21,22; Phil 3:9; 2 Tim 4:8; 1 John 2:1; Rev 16:5,7. Righteousness is one of the glorious attributes of God. Because He is absolutely just and righteous, believers can be sure that the future will turn out perfectly well.

145:8 See 86:5,15; 103:8; Ex 34:6,7; Matt 9:36; John 1:16,17; 1 John 4:8.

145:9 See 103:13,14; 136:1; Matt 5:45; Rom 2:4. All things God has made display God's wisdom and skill. His dealings with men reveal His justice, love, grace, patience, and other attributes. God will be honored

- and his tender mercies are over all his works.
- 10 All your works will praise you, O LORD, and your saints will speak your praise.
- 11 They will speak of the glory of your kingdom, and talk of your power,
- 12 To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.
- 13 Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and your dominion continues on throughout all generations.
- 14 The LORD upholds all who fall, and lifts up all those who are bowed down.
- 15 The eyes of all look to you, and you give them their food in due season.
- 16 You open your hand and satisfy the desire of every living thing.
- 17 The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.
- 18 The LORD is near all those who call to him, to all who call to him in truth.
- 19 He will fulfil the desire of those who

- fear him;
he will also hear their cry and save them.
- 20 The LORD preserves all those who love him, but he will destroy all the wicked.
- 21 My mouth will speak the praise of the LORD; and may all flesh extol his holy name forever and ever.

146

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Praise the LORD, O my soul.
- 2 While I live I will praise the LORD.
I will sing praises to my God while I have being.
- 3 Do not put your trust in princes,
or in a son of man,
in whom there is no help.
- 4 His spirit goes out;
he returns to his ground;
in that very day his plans perish.
- 5 Blessed is he who has the God of Jacob as his help, by everything, even the wrath of men (76:10). But of all creation His believing people will be the means of the greatest glory to Him (Eph 1:6,12,14).

145:11-13 Here are glorious themes for believers to speak about. So many people have never yet heard of God's kingdom, glory, and mighty acts recorded in the Bible. Telling others gets the truth to them, glorifies God, and encourages ourselves. God's kingdom is so rich a subject that if we speak of it our whole life long we will not tell a small part of what can be told (22:28; 66:7; 103:19; Dan 4:34,35; Matt 6:33; 13:11; 25:31-34; Mark 1:14,15; 9:47; John 3:3; Acts 1:3; 8:12; 19:8; 14:22; Rom 14:17; 1 Cor 6:9,10; 15:50; Rev 12:10).

145:14 See 37:17,23,24; 146:8. God is great in power and glory, the majestic king of eternity, yet He is great in compassion and kindness also.

145:15,16 See 104:14,27; 111:5; 136:25; Gen 1:30; Job 38:41; Matt 6:26.

145:17 Perfect justice combined with perfect grace are revealed in the King of the universe.

145:18 This great King hears prayer - 65:2; 102:17; Prov 15:8,29; Matt 7:7,8,11; 1 John 5:14. But our prayers must be sincere and according to His will - 17:1; Isa 29:13; Matt 6:5-8; Jam 1:5-7.

"Near" - 46:1; 119:151; Deut 4:7; Isa 55:6; Acts 17:27.

145:19 "Fulfil" - 37:4. Note on fear of the Lord at 34:11-14; 111:10; Gen 20:11.

"Save" - 7:10; 34:18; 1 Sam 10:19.

145:20 "Preserves" - 31:23; 37:28;

97:10; John 10:28,29.

"Destroy" - 9:5; 37:38; 73:18,19; 94:23; 2 Thess 1:8,9. God destroys the wicked because it is perfectly just to do so. They do not desire or seek His mercy and forgiveness, but delight in wickedness.

145:21 Those who heartily praise God want everyone else to do the same. They delight to hear God magnified, exalted, and praised (103:20-22; 150:6).

146:1 "Praise the LORD" (also v 10) - note at 104:35. In this and in the remaining four psalms there are no requests, no complaints, no cries for help, no grief, no tears, no shame, no depression. All is praise and joy in God, a foretaste of heaven. The author exhorts others to praise the LORD (Jehovah), and then exhorts himself. He will not get others to do what he will not heartily do.

146:2 See 63:4; 104:33; 145:1,2.

146:3 See 60:11; 108:12; 118:9; Isa 2:22.

146:4 "Ground" - 103:14; Gen 3:19; Job 7:21; Eccl 12:7. They who trust in men are leaning on a pile of dust.

146:5 "Blessed" - In Hebrew the same word as in 1:1 and 119:1.

"God of Jacob" - this name of God appears 24 times in the Old Testament. Thinking of why God chose to link His glorious holy name with Jacob can teach us some good lessons. Jacob was not the greatest of saints. He failed in many ways. A study of his history and the history of his descendants, the nation of Israel, reveals what is meant by the name "God of Jacob."

He is the God who chooses individuals whose hope is in the LORD his God, 6 Who made heaven and earth, the sea and all that is in it,

147

 who preserves truth forever,
 7 Who executes justice for the oppressed, who gives food to the hungry.
 The LORD sets the prisoners free.
 8 The LORD opens the eyes of the blind.
 The LORD lifts up those who are bowed down.
 The LORD loves the righteous.
 9 The LORD watches over the foreigners.
 He gives relief to the fatherless and widow,
 but the way of the wicked he turns upside down.
 10 The LORD will reign forever,
 your God, O Zion, to all generations.
 Praise the LORD.

1 Praise the LORD!
 For it is good to sing praises to our God;
 for it is pleasant and praise is beautiful.
 2 The LORD builds up Jerusalem.
 He gathers together the exiles of Israel.
 3 He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.
 4 He counts the number of the stars;
 he calls them all by their names.
 5 Great is our Lord and mighty in power.
 His understanding is infinite.
 6 The LORD lifts up the meek.
 He hurls the wicked down to the ground.
 7 Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving.
 Sing praise on the harp to our God, and a whole people according to His own good pleasure, not because He sees some merit in them (Rom 9:10-13; Eph 1:4; Deut 7:6-8).

He is the God of grace who saves people apart from their good works, or attempts to be righteous, or any such thing (Rom 11:5; Eph 2:8,9; Titus 3:3-5; etc).

He is the God who keeps His promises even when there is failure and sin on the part of His people (89:1,2; Gen 28:15; Rom 11:29; Titus 1:2; Heb 13:5).

He is the God who displays great patience (Ex 34:6; 2 Pet 3:15).

He is the God who transforms sinners into saints (Gen 32:24-28; Rom 8:29; 2 Cor 3:18; 5:17; 1 John 3:2).

We see all of these divine attributes displayed in the case of Jacob, and indeed toward every individual who will ever reach heaven. Blessed indeed is he who has the God of Jacob for his help!

146:6-10 These verses give the reasons why they are blessed who have the God of Jacob as their help.

He is the almighty Creator who is completely faithful and who cannot be hindered from fulfilling His promises to His people (v 6; 18:25; 108:4; 117:2; Deut 7:9).

He is on the side of the hungry, the poor, the oppressed (v 7; 103:6; 74:21; Isa 42:6,7; Luke 4:18,19).

He shows infinite compassion especially toward the righteous, the needy and helpless (vs 8,9; 10:18; Ex 22:22; Lev 19:34; 10:18; Matt 9:29,30; 12:22; Luke 13:10-13; 2 Cor 4:4-6; Jam 1:27).

And He is the eternal King. Earth's princes go to the dust and their thoughts perish, but not God and His thoughts (v 10; 33:11). His thoughts will stand forever. Happy indeed are those who have this God, the God of Jacob, the one true God, as their God.

147:1 "Praise the LORD" (also v 20) - note at 104:35. This is a psalm of praise to God for His greatness as the God of creation (vs 4, 5, 8, 9, 15-18), and for His grace and kindness to His people (vs 2, 3, 6, 11, 13, 14, 19, 20). The writer praises God for what He has done, is doing, and can do.

"Pleasant" - 135:3.

"Beautiful" - 33:1. Since it is fitting to praise Him, not to praise Him is unfitting.

147:2 "Builds" - men labored to build but the inspiration, strength, and will came from God (127:1).

"Gathers" - this may refer to the return of the people Israel from the Babylonian captivity. But the words would also be suitable to express the gathering of David and his men after the persecutions of Saul. Now God is building His Church and gathering those exiled from His presence by sin (Matt 16:18; John 11:52; 2 Cor 5:20,21; Eph 2:17-22).

147:3 See 6:2; 30:2; 34:18; 38:3-8; 41:3; Isa 61:1; Ezek 34:16; Rev 21:4. One name for God in the Old Testament is Jehovah Ropheka - "The LORD who heals you" (Ex 15:26). Especially He loves and heals those who have hearts broken in repentance for their sins (51:17).

147:4 God can gently lay one hand on a wounded heart and with the other hold far distant galaxies. The one who has regard for the lowly is so great He can name every star in the universe. Though there are only a few thousand stars visible to the naked eye, beyond the visible stars there are multiplied billions, crores upon crores, a host so vast that man can hardly even estimate the number. God knows them all, made them all.

147:5 "Great" - 145:3; Jer 32:17,27; 33:3.

"Understanding" - Isa 40:28; Rom 11:33.

147:6 "Meek" or "humble" - 146:8,9; 2 Chron 16:9; Jam 4:6. Stars do not occupy all the attention of the Almighty. He is concerned with men and is active in their affairs.

"Ground" - 37:9,10; 145:20.

147:7 See 27:6; 30:4; 33:3; 42:4; 98:5.

- 8 Who covers the heavens with clouds,
who prepares rain for the earth,
who makes grass grow on the mountains.
- 9 He gives to the beast its food,
and to the young ravens which cry out.
- 10 He does not delight in the strength of the horse;
he does not take pleasure in the legs
of a man.
- 11 The LORD takes pleasure in those
who fear him,
in those who hope in his mercy.
- 12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem!
Praise your God, O Zion!
- 13 For he has strengthened the bars of your gates.
He has blessed your children within you.
- 14 He makes peace in your borders, and fills you with the finest of the wheat.
- 15 He sends out his command on earth;
his word runs very swiftly.
- 16 He gives snow like wool;
he scatters the frost like ashes.
- 17 He hurls out his hail like fragments;
who can stand before his cold?
- 18 He sends out his word and melts them.
He causes his wind to blow,
and the waters flow.
- 19 He declares his word to Jacob,
his statutes and his judgments to Israel.
- 20 He has not done so with any other nation;

and as for his judgments, they have not known them.
Praise the LORD!

148

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Praise the LORD from the heavens.
Praise him in the heights.
- 2 Praise him, all his angels.
Praise him, all his hosts.
- 3 Praise him, sun and moon.
Praise him, all you stars of light.
- 4 Praise him, you heavens of heavens,
and you waters above the heavens.
- 5 May they praise the name of the LORD,
for he commanded and they were created.
- 6 He has also established them
forever and ever;
he has made a decree which will not pass away.
- 7 Praise the LORD from the earth,
you sea monsters, and all depths,
- 8 Fire and hail, snow and vapours, stormy wind fulfilling his word,
- 9 Mountains and all hills,
fruitful trees and all cedars,
- 10 Beasts and all cattle,
creeping things and flying birds,
- 11 Kings of the earth and all people,
princes and all judges of the earth,

"Thanksgiving" - 7:17; 50:14,15; 56:12;
Lev 7:12,13; Eph 5:20; 1 Thess 5:18.

147:8,9 After creating the world God did not withdraw to some distant place. Clouds and rain do not come merely because of some natural laws. God is active in nature (104:10-15; 135:6,7; 148:8).

147:10,11 Verses 16-18; 33:16-18;
103:11; 1 Sam 16:7; Heb 11:6. For fear of God see notes at 34:11-14; etc. God delights in good inward qualities that He produces in individuals, not in outward appearance or physical strength.

147:12-14 See 48:1. Who was there in all the earth to praise the LORD (Jehovah) if Jerusalem did not? No other people had received such blessings as Israel. Now it is the duty and privilege of believers in Christ to praise Him, for now we are the people blessed by the Lord of heaven and earth.

147:15 See 33:9; Job 37:12; Isa 55:11.
God can and does give commands to any part of His creation (1 Kings 17:2-4,9; Mark 4:39-41). Only sinful men and Satan disobey Him.

147:16-18 Verses 8,9; Job 37:12;
38:22,29.

147:19 See 78:5,47; 148:8; Ex 20:1;
Deut 33:4; Josh 1:8; 2 Kings 22:8; Rom
3:2; 9:4. Far better than the breeze, the clouds, and the rain is the Word of God sent down from heaven to bless men forever.

147:20 Deut 4:7,8,32-34. Then the people of Israel were a repository for the Word of God as Christ's church is now.

148:1 "Praise the LORD" (also v 14) - note at 104:35. Psalm 146 is one of individual praise. Psalm 147 is the praise of the people of God. This one is a psalm of universal praise. It begins in the highest heavens, then goes to the deepest deeps, ascends to inanimate and then animate things of earth, and finishes with all people everywhere.

148:2 See 103:20; Luke 2:13,14; Rev
5:11-13.

148:3 The sun and moon have no personality and no life. In this respect they are like snow, hills, and clouds which the writer also exhorts to praise God - vs 8,9. This is poetry. The writer is merely setting forth a truth that delights him - all things were created by God and for the glory of God, and that because of them praise comes to God.

148:4,5 Deut 10:14; Gen 1:7; Isa 40:26.
148:6 Jer 31:35,36; 33:25.

148:7-10 All creation on earth, animate and inanimate, are for the glory of God, and because of them all He receives praise.

148:11,12 He comes now to humanity. On the grounds that God has created them all

- 12 Both young men and maidens, old men and children.
- 13 May they praise the name of the LORD,
for his name alone is exalted.
- His glory is above the earth and
the heavens.
- 14 And he exalts the horn of his people.
He is the praise of all his saints,
of the children of Israel,
a people close to him.
Praise the LORD!

149

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Sing to the LORD a new song,
his praise in the congregation of the saints.
- 2 May Israel rejoice in him who made him;
may the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
- 3 May they praise his name with the dance;
may they sing praises to him with the tambourine and harp.

and preserves them all and is good to all,
all should praise Him.

148:13 All men should praise Jehovah God alone, for He is the only God there is, and He is a splendid God, glorious in every way (Isa 42:8; 44:6; 45:22).

148:14 "Horn" – 75:4,5; 89:17; Luke 1:69. God did a special thing for His special people and so they should offer special praise.

149:1 "Praise the LORD" (also v 9) – note at 104:35. This is a psalm of joyful praise to God as Maker and Saviour of His people (vs 1-5), and as avenger of wickedness (vs 6-9).

"New song" – 40:3; 96:1; Rev 5:9. God's mercies are new every morning (Lam 3:22,23), so there are daily reasons for making new songs of praise for all the saints to sing.

149:2 "Who made him" – that is, Israel should rejoice in God who made them into a nation when they had been but slaves in Egypt.

"King" – not the earthly but the heavenly one (10:16; 47:6; Zech 9:9; Rev 19:16).

149:3 Ex 15:20; 2 Sam 6:14,15. Sometimes believers have such joy in God that the body too becomes involved in the expression of it.

149:4 "Pleasure" – 147:11. Here is a reason for great joy and praise. Though we are poor and sinful the Lord delights in us, not for what we are in ourselves but for what He is making us to be in Christ (Eph 2:10; Phil 1:6). He saves us from the ugliness of sin and gives us the holy beauty of salvation and begins the work of sanctification

- 4 For the LORD takes pleasure in his people.
He will beautify the meek with salvation.
- 5 May the saints be joyful in glory.
May they sing aloud on their beds.
- 6 May the high praises of God be
in their mouth,
and a two-edged sword in their hand,
- 7 To execute vengeance on the nations,
and punishment on the peoples,
- 8 To bind their kings with chains,
and their nobles with fetters of iron,
- 9 To execute on them the written judgment.
All his saints have this honour.
Praise the LORD!

150

- 1 Praise the LORD!
Praise God in his sanctuary.
Praise him in his mighty firmament.
- 2 Praise him for his mighty acts.
Praise him according to his surpassing greatness.

which will result in fullness of beauty (see Eph 5:25-27). God's people are God's masterpiece and He delights in them.

"Meek" or "humble" – 9:12; 10:17; Prov 16:19; Isa 57:15; Matt 18:4; Jam 4:6,10.

149:5 What an honor it is to be the people of the one true God, made beautiful with His salvation! No one has more cause for joy and song.

149:6-9 Israel in the Old Testament was an instrument in God's hand to inflict God's vengeance on wicked people. See Num 31:2; Deut 7:1,2. In these New Testament days the weapons of our warfare are not physical but spiritual (2 Cor 10:4; Eph 6:17). We fight wickedness by proclaiming the Word of God, by faith and by prayer. At the end of this age Christ will appear to take vengeance on God's enemies (2 Thess 1:5-10; Rev 19:11-16). At that time His people will be with Him and share in His judgment of the earth (1 Cor 6:2,3).

150:1 "Praise the LORD" (also v 6) – note at 104:35. He is filled with praise to God and wants the whole universe to sound and resound with praise. The first and last psalm each has only six verses. The first has blessing as its subject and the last has the result of blessing – praise to God.

"Sanctuary" – 68:24-26; 73:17; 102:19. Praise should begin where God is best known and truly worshiped.

"Firmament" or "Expanse" – see Genesis 1:6-8.

150:2 "Mighty acts" – 106:2; 145:12; Deut 3:24.

- 3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet.
Praise him with the lyre and harp.
- 4 Praise him with the tambourine and dance.
Praise him with stringed instruments and flutes.

- 5 Praise him with the loud cymbals.
Praise him with the high sounding cymbals.
- 6 May everything that has breath praise
the LORD.
Praise the LORD!

"Greatness" - 47:2; 48:1; 86:10; 95:3; 145:3; 1 Tim 6:15,16.

150:3-5 See 45:8; 57:8; 149:3; 2 Sam 6:5; 1 Chron 13:8; 15:24; 16:42. Praise God with all the musical instruments available, with all joyous sounds.

"Flutes" - organs (KJV) had not yet been invented when this psalm was written.

150:6 He is so convinced of the fitness of praise by all created beings that he longs to hear every breathing thing joining the mighty chorus. This is what heaven will be like (Rev 4:8-11; 5:8-14; 7:9-12; 14:1-3; 15:2-4; 19:1-8).

PROVERBS

Authors:

Solomon wrote most of the proverbs in this book, but others wrote some of them. See 1:1; 22:17; 24:23; 30:1; 31:1. See also 1 Kings 4:32.

Date:

Solomon reigned 970-930 BC, so most and possibly all of these proverbs were written down during that time.

Themes:

Solomon himself gave the reasons why he wrote down his proverbs, and so indicated the themes. See 1:2-6. He wanted people to know how to live in this world, how to behave in the various circumstances they face. In 1:7 he gives a very important theme – the fear of the LORD. Throughout the book there is a vivid contrast between wise people and fools. The wise are those who fear God and follow His ways; fools are those who do not fear God, and follow their own ways. True wisdom results in righteousness; foolishness leads to sin. In fact, we may say that wickedness is foolishness, true righteousness is wisdom.

- 1 The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel:
- 2 To know wisdom and instruction; to discern words of understanding;
- 3 To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and fairness;
- 4 To give shrewdness to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the young
- 5 (A wise person will hear and increase learning, and a man of understanding will attain to wise counsels);
- 6 To understand a proverb, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their riddles.
- 7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction.
- 8 My son, hear the instruction of your father, and do not forsake the law of your mother;

- 9 For they will be an ornament of grace to your head, and necklaces around your neck.
- 10 My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent.
- 11 If they say, "Come with us. Let us lie in wait for blood. Let us lurk secretly for the innocent without cause.
- 12 Let us swallow them up alive like the grave, and whole, like those who go down into the pit.
- 13 We will get all kinds of valuable stuff. We will fill our houses with plunder.
- 14 Throw in your lot among us. Let us all have one purse."
- 15 My son, do not walk in the way with them. Keep your foot from their path.
- 16 For their feet run to evil, and hurry to shed blood.
- 17 Surely in vain the net is spread in the

1:1 Altogether Solomon spoke 3000 proverbs (1 Kings 4:32). There are less than 1000 proverbs in this book and not all of them were written by Solomon (30:1; 31:1), so many of his proverbs are lost. Only those God wanted to remain have remained. Solomon had more practical wisdom and discernment than any man who ever lived (except for the Lord Jesus), because they were a special gift from God (1 Kings 3:10-12). The proverbs recorded in this book were chosen from Solomon's proverbs by God's Spirit for our instruction.

1:2-6 Here are the several reasons why Solomon wrote his proverbs and why the Holy Spirit has included them in the Bible. The principal reason is that we might gain practical wisdom and know how to conduct ourselves in the various affairs of life. But knowledge alone is not enough – it must be put into practice. Unfortunately Solomon himself did not always do so (1 Kings 11:1-6).

1:4 "Simple" – Ps 19:7; 119:130; Prov 8:5. In the Bible, the Word of God, we have a great storehouse of wisdom and understanding. But we need to believe it, receive it into our heart, meditate on it, and practice it.

"Young" – even the young can attain to wisdom by God's Word. Much of this book of Proverbs is addressed to the young (1:8,10; 2:2; 3:1; 4:1; etc).

1:7 "Fear" – Solomon comes to the main point right away. Without a reverential awe and fear of God there is no true wisdom. Without it one cannot even begin to be what God calls wise. See notes at Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; 130:3,4. Without this fear of God men may be educated, intellectual, and brilliant, and may even know much of the Bible, but they will not be wise. The phrase "fear of the LORD" (Jehovah) is used 14 times in Proverbs and is a key thought. Observe carefully how different the wisdom the Bible presents is from the wisdom that philosophy speaks about.

"Fools" – the word is used 61 times in this book, far more than in any other book of the Bible. It does not mean people who are uneducated, or lacking in brains or ability. It indicates those lacking in morals, those who are perverse and disobedient to righteous standards, those who do not know God and who try to live without Him their lives. See also Ps 14:1. Fools are not interested in learning the fear of God and the wisdom which comes from it. They follow their own thoughts. They want only to satisfy their desires and behave as they please. In this book fools are everywhere contrasted with the wise. The fools are the wicked; the wise are the righteous. To sin is foolishness; to live righteously is wisdom.

1:8 It is the duty of parents to properly teach their children how to live in this world (Gen 18:19; Deut 6:7; Prov 13:24; 22:6; Eph 6:4). If they do not, they should not be surprised if their children turn out badly.

1:9 3:21,22; 4:7-9.

1:10-16 It is possible for the children of even good parents to fall into the companionship of evil men. When this happens they are on the slippery path that may lead to violence, robbery, and crime (compare 22:24,25; 1 Cor 15:33). Everyone, and especially the young, must be very careful about making friends, for friendships have a powerful effect on our behavior, and can lead either to great good or to much evil.

"Grave" (v 12) – in Hebrew "Sheol" – Gen 37:35.

1:16 Isa 59:7; Rom 3:15.

1:17 A hunter used nets to catch birds, but if the birds were watching him start to work they would fly away (6:5; 7:23; Ps 91:3). If we are alert to the plans and tricks of evil

- sight of any bird.
 18 And they lie in wait for their own blood!
 They lurk secretly for their own lives!
 19 Such are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain.
 It takes away the life of its owners.
 20 Wisdom cries out in the public square;
 she utters her voice in the streets;
 21 She cries out in the principal thoroughfares, at the entrance of the gates of the city
 she utters her words, saying, 22 "How long, you simple ones,
 will you love simple ways?
 And the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?"
 23 Turn at my rebuke.
 See, I will pour out my spirit to you,
 I will make my words known to you.
 24 "But since I have called, and you refused;
 I have stretched out my hand,
 and no one paid attention, 25 But you have ignored all my counsel,
 and were not willing for any of my rebuke, 26 I also will laugh at your calamity.

men we can escape.

1:18 An evil man will be caught in his own schemes to catch others (26:27; Ps 7:15; 35:7,8; 40:2; 94:13). By becoming ensnared in his own net he shows he has not as much sense as birds.

1:19 4:14-17; 11:19; 1 Tim 6:6-10.

1:20,21 There are two principal voices calling to men – the voice of wisdom which is the Word of God (8:12,22-31), and the voice of folly which is the counsel of the wicked (9:13; Ps 1:1). The one we obey will determine the nature of our life on earth and our eternal state.

1:22 The voice of wisdom is heard until the end of this chapter. Indeed, the voice of wisdom is heard all through the Bible and wherever the Bible has gone and wherever God speaks to men. Most are unwilling to listen to the voice of wisdom, and so show themselves to be foolish. It is a strange but true thing that foolish people love their foolish ways and delight to mock at wisdom and hate knowledge (Ps 50:17). Hence the terrible warning which follows.

"Simple" – in Hebrew this word in Proverbs does not mean someone who is innocent and uncomplicated. It usually indicates a person who does not have good sense in the area of morals, a person who is likely to run after the wrong things.

1:23 This is what God longs to do for people if only they will respond to Him. For this reason He gave the Bible to mankind. Our whole lifetime should be spent in learning more and more of God's heart and God's thoughts.

1:24,25 Isa 65:12; 66:4; Jer 7:13; 26:5; 35:17; 36:31; Heb 12:25. The most

- I will mock when your fear comes.
 27 When your fear comes like desolation, and your destruction comes like a whirlwind,
 when distress and anguish come on you.
 28 Then they will call on me,
 but I will not answer.
 They will seek me early,
 but they will not find me, 29 For they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD.
 30 They would have none of my counsel.
 They despised all my rebuke.
 31 Therefore they will eat the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own schemes.
 32 For the turning away of the simple will kill them,
 and the prosperity of fools will destroy them.
 33 But whoever listens to me will dwell in safety,
 and will securely rest from fear of disaster."

- 2 My son, if you will receive my words,
 and store up my commands with you,
 2 So that you turn your ear to wisdom,
 and apply your heart to understanding,
 3 Yes, if you cry out after knowledge, foolish, arrogant, and dangerous thing any human being can do is to refuse to listen to the voice of wisdom, the voice of God. Compare 2 Thess 2:10,11.

1:26-32 Here are the sad results of refusing wisdom's voice.

1:26,27 Ps 2:4; Deut 28:62,63.

1:28 There is such a thing as calling too late for help. When justice demands punishment and is already in the process of executing it, men may call in vain (Deut 1:45; 1 Sam 8:18; Isa 1:15; Jer 11:11; Hos 5:6). For example, once Noah and his family were in the ark and the judgment of the flood had begun it was too late to call for mercy.

1:29 Verse 7. The fear of the Lord is something which must be chosen by men. It must also be cultivated and practiced.

1:31 2 Chron 36:16; Ps 18:25,26; Prov 14:14; 22:8; Jer 6:19; 21:14; 30:15; 34:17; Gal 6:7.

1:32 Men destroy themselves by their wickedness and folly. Let them not blame God for something they do themselves.

"Prosperity" – or "complacency."

1:33 Num 24:21; Deut 33:28; Ps 23:4; 112:8; Isa 32:17,18.

2:1-4 Wisdom and understanding are not gained by the careless or the lazy or the worldly. It must be valued according to its worth, and sought as some people seek for riches (Job 28:12-28; Ps 19:9,10; 119:72; Prov 8:10; 1 Cor 1:30; Col 2:2,3). How sad it is when men spend their whole lives in the pursuit of riches, and go to their graves in their folly, without that priceless wisdom they might have had if they had sought it. Whatever else we may or may

- and* lift up your voice for understanding, 4 If you seek her as for silver,
 and search for her as for hidden treasures,
 5 Then you will understand the fear of the LORD,
 and find the knowledge of God.
 6 For the LORD gives wisdom.
 Out of his mouth come knowledge and
 understanding.
 7 He stores up sound wisdom for the righteous.
He is a shield to those who walk uprightly.
 8 He guards the paths of justice, and preserves the way of his saints.
 9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice and fairness,
 yes, every good path.
 10 When wisdom enters your heart and knowledge is pleasant to your soul, 11 Discretion will preserve you, understanding will keep you,
 12 To deliver you from the way of the evil man,
 from the man who speaks perverse things, 13 Who leave the right paths to walk in the ways of darkness,
 14 Who rejoice in doing evil and delight in the perversity of the wicked, 15 Whose ways are crooked,
 and who are devious in their paths.
 16 It will save you from the strange woman,

- from the stranger who flatters with her words, 17 Who forsakes the guide of her youth,
 and forgets the covenant of her God.
 18 For her house goes down to death,
 and her paths to the dead.
 19 None who go to her return again or reach the paths of life.
 20 Thus you may walk in the way of good men,
 and keep to the paths of the righteous.
 21 For the upright will live in the land,
 and the blameless will remain in it.
 22 But the wicked will be cut off from the earth,
 and transgressors will be uprooted from it.
- 3 My son, do not forget my law,
 but let your heart keep my commands,
 2 For they will add to you length of days and long life, and peace.
 3 Do not let mercy and truth leave you.
 Bind them around your neck,
 write them on the tablet of your heart.
 4 So you will find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.
 5 Trust in the LORD with all your heart,
 and do not lean on your own understanding.
 6 In all your ways acknowledge him,
 and he will direct your paths.

not seek for, let us seek for wisdom with diligence and zeal!

2:5 Here is the reward that comes to those who search diligently for wisdom. They gain the highest, brightest, and best treasure men can ever have – the knowledge of God.

2:6 But we must seek wisdom where it is – not in books of philosophers, nor in writings of men about their gods, not in some so-called jnana marg but in the LORD (Jehovah), the God of the Bible, the only living and true God. He alone gives wisdom.

2:7,8 Gen 15:1; Deut 33:29; 2 Sam 22:3,31; Ps 3:3; 7:1; 18:25; 97:10. Observe that after speaking of wisdom he turns our attention to our way of living. True wisdom is always practical, always related to morality and ethics and holiness of life.

“Wisdom” (v 7) – or “success.”
2:10 14:33.

2:11-17 True wisdom protects from all evil – evil words (v 12), evil ways (v 13), evil deeds (v 14), evil temptations (v 16).

2:13 4:19; John 3:19.

2:14 10:23; 15:21; Rom 1:32; 2 Thess 2:12.

2:15 Ps 125:5; Prov 21:8; Isa 59:8; Matt 7:13.

2:16,17 “Strange woman” – used several times in Proverbs to indicate an immoral woman. Adultery is one of the most terrible of sins. God repeatedly warns against it in His Word (Ex 20:14; Lev 18:20; 20:10; Num 5:12,13,29; Prov 6:29,32; 1 Cor 6:9,10,18; Eph 5:3; Col 3:5,6; Rev 21:8). That is why the wise father here counsels his son against it, as all wise fathers should do.

2:18 5:5; 7:27; 9:18; Eccl 7:26; Rom 6:23; 1 Tim 5:6.

2:19 Adultery is a sin that so captures those engaging in it, so overpowers their reason and conscience, that escape is exceedingly difficult. Those who practice it will never, in their own strength, arrive in the path of life and holiness. But God in His mercy can bring them there if they repent and turn to Him (1 Cor 6:9,11).

2:20-22 Compare Ps 37:9-11,20,27-29,35-38.

3:1 The peril of forgetting God’s truth is often pointed out in the Bible (Deut 4:23,24; Ps 78:11; 106:13; Heb 12:5; 2 Pet 1:9).

3:2 Though the rewards of the righteous are given in the next world, even in this world they will benefit from good behavior.

3:3 Deut 6:6; Prov 6:21; 7:3; 2 Cor 3:3; Col 3:16; Heb 8:10. If the Word of God is not written on our hearts, if it does not become the inner spring for our behavior, it is useless to have it on our lips, or to profess to be pious.

3:4 1 Sam 2:26; Luke 2:52.

3:5,6 Here are three essentials to a walk directed by God – full trust, renunciation of one’s own wisdom, and acknowledging God in everything. Such a walk is contrasted in Proverbs with “dark ways” (2:13), stumbling (4:11,12), wickedness (11:5), and foolishness (15:21). So David prayed that God

- 7 Do not be wise in your own eyes.
Fear the LORD and depart from evil.
- 8 It will be health to your navel,
and marrow to your bones.
- 9 Honour the LORD with your possessions,
and with the firstfruits of all your harvests;
- 10 Then your barns will be filled with plenty,
and your winepresses will burst open with new wine.
- 11 My son, do not despise the discipline
of the LORD,
nor be weary of his correction,
- 12 For whom the LORD loves he corrects,
as a father the son in whom he delights.
- 13 Happy is the man who finds wisdom,
and the man who gets understanding.
- 14 For profit from it is more valuable than the profit of silver,
and its yield better than fine gold.
- 15 She is more precious than rubies, and all the things you can desire are not to be compared to her.
- 16 Length of days is in her right hand, and in her left hand are riches and honour.
- 17 Her ways are pleasant ways,
and all her paths are peace.
- 18 She is a tree of life to those who take hold of her;
and happy is everyone who retains her.
- 19 By wisdom the LORD founded the earth,
by understanding he established the heavens.
- 20 By his knowledge the depths are broken open,
and the clouds let drop the dew.
- 21 My son, keep sound wisdom and discretion,
not letting them depart from your eyes.
- 22 So they will be life to your soul,
and grace to your neck.
- 23 Then you will walk in your way in safety,
and your foot will not stumble.
- 24 When you lie down, you will not be afraid;
yes, you will lie down and your sleep will be sweet.
- 25 Be not afraid of something causing sudden terror,
or of the ruin of the wicked, when it comes.
- 26 For the LORD will be your confidence, and will keep your foot from being captured.
- 27 Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in the power of your hand to do it.
- 28 Do not say to your neighbour,
"Go and come again",
and "Tomorrow I will give",
when you have it with you.
- 29 Do not plot to do evil against your neighbour, living securely near you.
- 30 Do not strive with a man without cause,
if he has done no harm to you.
- 31 Do not envy the oppressor,
and do not choose any of his ways.
- 32 For the perverse man is an abomination to
the LORD,
but his secret is with the righteous.

would lead him in a straight way (Ps 27:1). So should we all. A straight way is a way of integrity and uprightness. It is a way full of God's blessing. It is a way that will lead to the right goal – God Himself.

"And He will direct your paths" – or it could be translated "and he will make your paths straight."

3:7 "Own eyes" – 26:12; Isa 5:21; 47:10; Rom 12:3; 1 Cor 3:18-20. This is a fault of many men. They are so wise in their own eyes they will not listen to God's Word. Their pride keeps them from the truth, shut up in ignorance.

"Fear" – notes at Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; etc.

3:8 Compare Ps 38:3. See Prov 4:20-22.

3:9,10 Ex 22:29; Deut 26:1-15; Mal 3:10-12; Luke 6:38. If we offer nothing to God and His service we are dishonoring Him and cannot have His full blessing in our lives.

3:11,12 See Job 5:17; Ps 73:14; Heb 12:5,6 (where these words are quoted).

3:13-18 1:7,33; 2:1-6. Once again the value and fruits of true wisdom are placed before us. Remember that this wisdom has nothing to do with the so-called wisdom of philosophy, or of Advaita Vedanta. The Bible presents the true wisdom, far more valuable than anything one can gain on earth. The principal fruit of wisdom is found in v 18. That wisdom which is a knowledge of the true God and awe and reverence for Him results in eternal life and blessing (John 17:3). On blessing or blessed see notes at Gen 12:3; Num 6:22-27; Ps 1:1,2; 119:1; Matt 5:3-10; etc.

3:18 "Tree of life" – 10:11; Gen 2:9; Rev 2:7.

3:19,20 8:27-29; Gen 1:31; Ps 136:5-9.

3:21-26 Here are more fruits of true wisdom – a life that is gracious, secure, upright, fearless, restful. True wisdom will cause us to trust the Lord God, not ourselves (v 26).

3:27-32 True wisdom will cause us to behave righteously and compassionately in this world.

3:27 Jam 4:17.

3:28 Lev 19:13; Deut 24:15; Luke 10:25-37.

3:29 Zech 8:17.

3:31 Ps 37:1; 73:2,3.

3:32 "An abomination" – note at Ps 5:5.

- 33 The curse of the LORD is on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the home of the just.
- 34 Surely he scorns the scorners,
but he gives grace to the lowly.
- 35 The wise will inherit glory,
but fools will be held up to shame.
- 4 Hear, you children, the instruction of a father,
and pay attention so as to find understanding.
- 2 For I give you good teaching.
Do not forsake my law.
- 3 For I was my father's son, tender and the only one in the sight of my mother.
- 4 And he taught me, and said to me,
"Let your heart retain my words.
Keep my commands, and live.
- 5 Get wisdom, get understanding.
Do not forget it or turn away from the words of my mouth.
- 6 Do not forsake her, and she will preserve you.
Love her, and she will keep you.
- 7 Wisdom is the principal thing.
Therefore get wisdom, and with all your getting get understanding.
- 8 Exalt her, and she will set you on high.
She will bring you to honour,
when you embrace her.
- 9 She will give an ornament of grace for your head;
she will provide a crown of glory to you."
- 10 Hear, O my son, and receive my words, and the years of your life will be many.

- 11 I have taught you in the way of wisdom;
I have led you in right paths.
- 12 When you walk, your steps will not be cramped,
and when you run, you will not stumble.
- 13 Take firm hold of instruction.
Do not let her go.
Keep her, for she is your life.
- 14 Do not enter the path of the wicked,
and do not go in the way of evil people.
- 15 Avoid it. Do not travel on it.
Turn from it and pass on.
- 16 For they do not sleep unless they have done evil,
and their sleep is taken away,
unless they cause someone to fall.
- 17 For they eat the bread of wickedness,
and drink the wine of violence.
- 18 But the path of the just is like the shining light, that shines more and more to the perfect day.
- 19 The way of the wicked is like darkness.
They do not know what they stumble at.
- 20 My son, pay attention to my words.
Turn your ear to what I say.
- 21 Do not let them depart from your eyes.
Keep them in the center of your heart.
- 22 For they are life to those who find them,
and health to their whole body.
- 23 Keep your heart with all watchfulness,
for out of it come the issues of life.
- 24 Put a crooked mouth away from you,
and put perverse lips far from you.

3:33-35 One of many examples in this book of the contrast between the reward of the righteous and of the wicked. God's curse or blessing, His scorn or His grace, honor or shame are dependent on our state before God.

3:33 See Deut 11:26-28 and 28:1-68 for this principle at work for a whole nation.

3:34 To some extent at least God, in perfect justice, acts toward people as they act toward Him and others. Note at Ps 18:25,26.

4:1,2 1:8; 19:20.

4:3-9 Father and mother were David and Bathsheba (1 Kings 1:28-30). Solomon was the son who was to succeed David on the throne of Israel.

4:4 7:2; Deut 30:15-20; 32:45-47.

4:5 2:12; 3:13-18.

4:6 True wisdom has such influence because God is behind it working with it.

4:7 Since wisdom is far more precious than wealth, then one must be willing to give all one's wealth to get it. It is hardly obtained otherwise (compare Matt 13:44-46; Mark 10:21-25; Luke 14:33). If there is something we will not give our wealth for, then it is plain that we value our wealth more than that thing. And why should God give us something we value so little?

4:9 1:8,9.

4:10 Under the old covenant God promised long life to those who obeyed Him (9:11).

4:11,12 3:6; Ps 5:8.

4:13 3:18,22; 4:4.

4:14,15 1:15; Ps 1:1.

4:16,17 Wickedness is so natural to some people that it is like their food and drink, and trying to sleep without it is useless.

4:18 Ps 18:28; 37:6.

4:19 2:13; John 3:19,20; 2 Cor 4:4; 1 John 2:11.

4:20-22 3:8,18; 4:13.

4:23 Here is one of those gem-like maxims of profound meaning which appear frequently in this book. Our hearts are like storehouses and what is in them will come out some time, some way (Matt 12:34,35). They are like gardens which will produce a good crop if the seed and water and care are good, but which will produce evil weeds if left to themselves (24:30,31). Our hearts are like fountains and will pour our sweet living water or bitter deadly water, depending on what we have in them.

4:24 Eph 5:4; Col 3:8.

- 25 Let your eyes look right ahead,
and let your eyelids look straight before you.
26 Consider the path of your feet,
and let all your ways be established.
27 Do not turn to the right hand or to the left.
Turn away your foot from evil.

- 5 My son, give attention to my wisdom,
and turn your ear to my understanding, 2 That you may regard discretion and that your lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman drip like a honeycomb,
and her mouth is smoother than oil,
4 But the result with her is as bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death;
her steps hold to the path of the grave.
6 Lest you should ponder the path of life,
her ways are unstable,
so that you cannot understand them.
7 Therefore, listen to me now, O you children, and do not depart from the
words of my mouth.
8 Keep your way far from her,
and do not come near the door of her house, 9 Lest you give your honour to others,
and your years to those who are cruel, 10 Lest strangers be filled with your wealth, and your labours be for the house of a stranger,
11 And you mourn at the last,
when your flesh and your body are consumed, 12 And say, "How I hated instruction!
And my heart despised rebuke!
13 And I have not obeyed the voice of
my teachers,

- or turned my ear to those who instructed me!
14 I was almost in total misery in the midst of the congregation and assembly."
15 Drink water out of your own cistern, and running water out of your own well.
16 Should your springs flow outside and be like rivers of water in the streets?
17 Let them be only your own,
and not strangers sharing with you.
18 Let your fountain be blessed,
and rejoice with the wife of your youth.
19 Let her be like a loving doe and graceful deer;
let her breasts satisfy you at all times,
and always be captivated by her love.
20 And why will you, my son,
be captivated by a strange woman,
and embrace the bosom of a stranger?
21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD,
and he ponders all his goings.
22 The iniquities of the wicked will capture him,
and he will be held by the cords of his sins.
23 He will die without instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he will go astray.

- 6 My son, if you act as security for your friend,
if you have struck your hand in pledge with that of a stranger,
2 You are ensnared by the words of your mouth,
you are captured by the words of your mouth.
3 Do this now, my son, and rescue yourself, when you have come into your friend's hands:
go, humble yourself, and make sure

4:25 If we do not do so we may stumble and fall.

4:27 Deut 5:32; 17:11,20; 28:14; Josh 1:7; 1 Kings 15:5; 2 Kings 22:2. Going to right or left means to go out of the path of complete obedience to God's Word. Out of the straight and narrow way there is only sin.

5:1,2 Verse 7; 1:8; 4:1,20.

5:3-23 He returns to the theme of adultery which he referred to in 2:16-19 and which he takes up again in 6:23-35 and 7:6-27. He shows it for what it is - one of the most dangerous and deadly of sins. It may seem sweet in the beginning (v 3), but the end will be bitterness and death (vs 4,5), and condemnation by one's own thoughts, by others, and by God (vs 11-14,21).

5:3 7:5.

5:4 Eccl 7:26.

5:5 2:18; 7:27. "Grave" - in Hebrew "Sheol" - Gen 37:35.

5:6 9:13; 30:20; Eph 4:17-19.

5:9-14 The practice of adultery will bring a person to utter ruin. Even if he (or she) seems to escape in this life the deserved punishment, escape will not be forever (1 Cor 6:9,10; Heb 13:4; Rev 21:8).

5:15-19 Each verse here exhorts the son to be satisfied with his own wife and not to go looking for pleasures forbidden outside the marriage relationship.

5:20 Since adultery leads to ruin and destruction why even consider engaging in this deadly sin?

5:21 Men may not find out the sin of the adulterer or punish him, but God will (Jer 29:23; Heb 4:13).

5:22 Num 32:23; Ps 7:15,16; 9:16. If we sin we are creating bonds that will hold us in slavery. See John 8:34; Rom 6:16.

5:23 If false ways that lead to death are the result of a lack of instruction how we should welcome and value instruction in our lives. See Ps 25:4,5.

6:1-5 This refers to taking the responsibility of paying someone else's debts if he should fail to do so, or any other obligation of a similar nature. The wise man says this

- your friend.
- 4 Do not give sleep to your eyes,
or slumber to your eyelids.
 - 5 Rescue yourself like a roe from the hand of the hunter;
and like a bird from the hand of the fowler.
 - 6 Go to the ant, you lazy one.
Consider its ways, and be wise.
 - 7 It has no guide, overseer, or ruler,
 - 8 But arranges for its provisions in the summer,
and gathers its food in the harvest.
 - 9 How long will you sleep, O lazy one?
When will you arise from your sleep?
 - 10 Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep,
 - 11 So your poverty will come like a traveller,
and your scarcity like an armed man.
 - 12 A worthless person, a wicked man, walks about with a perverse mouth.
 - 13 He winks with his eyes,
he speaks with his feet,
he teaches with his fingers.
 - 14 Perversity is in his heart.
He plots evil continually.
He sows discord.
 - 15 Therefore his calamity will come suddenly.
Suddenly he will be broken without remedy.
 - 16 These six things the LORD hates, yes, seven are an abomination to him:
 - 17 A proud look, a lying tongue,
and hands that shed innocent blood,
 - 18 A heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are swift in running to evil,
 - 19 A false witness who speaks lies,
and he who sows discord among brethren.

- 20 My son, keep your father's command,
and do not forsake the law of your mother.
- 21 Bind them continually on your heart,
and tie them about your neck.
- 22 When you go about, it will lead you.
When you sleep, it will keep you,
and when you wake up, it will talk with you.
- 23 For the command is a lamp, and the law is light, and the rebukes of instruction are the way of life,
- 24 To keep you from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.
- 25 Do not lust in your heart for her beauty,
nor let her take you with her eyelids.
- 26 For through a prostitute a man is brought to a piece of bread, and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.
- 27 Can a man take fire to his chest,
and his clothes not be burned?
- 28 Can one go on hot coals,
and his feet not be burned?
- 29 So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife.
Whoever touches her will not be free from punishment.
- 30 People do not despise a thief, if he steals to satisfy his soul when he is hungry;
- 31 But if he is found out, he must restore sevenfold, even though he must give all the resources of his house.
- 32 But whoever commits adultery with a woman lacks understanding.
He who does it destroys his own soul.
- 33 A wound and dishonour is what he will get,

is a foolish thing to do (17:18), and could result in complete poverty (11:15; 22:26,27), and bondage. Striking hands was a sign of agreement.

6:6-11 There is much about laziness in Proverbs. We learn the character of the lazy man and the results of his laziness. See 10:26; 13:4; 15:19; 19:24; 20:4; 22:13; 24:30-34; 26:13-16. Even small and insignificant creatures like ants have more sense than the lazy man (v 6).

6:12-15 This particular kind of scoundrel tries to destroy others by hypocrisy, deceitfulness and plots. His end will be in accordance with perfect justice. Note at Ps 18:25,26.

6:16-19 Let us write these words on our hearts and read them there daily. It is a terrible folly to practice what is detestable to God, or to love what He hates.

6:17 "Proud" - Ps 10:4,5; 18:27; 101:5; Isa 2:10-17; 13:11.

"Lying" - see 12:22; 19:22; Ps 58:3; 62:4; 63:11; 101:7; John 8:44; Col 3:9; Rev 21:8. A very common sin and very detestable to the God of truth (Ps 31:5) who is the only God there is.

"Blood" - Deut 19:10; Prov 1:16; Isa 1:21; 59:7.

6:18 "Heart" - 24:2; Isa 32:6; 65:2; Gen 6:5. "Feet" - 1:16; Isa 59:7; Rom 3:15.

6:19 "Lies" - 12:17,18; 25:18; Ex 20:16. God hates seven things and two of them are telling lies. So emphatically is lying condemned in the Bible.

"Discord" - 15:18; Zech 8:17; 1 Cor 3:3; Gal 5:19,20; Phil 2:2; Ps 133:1.

6:20 1:8; 3:21.

6:21 6:8; 3:3; 7:1-3; Deut 6:8.

6:22 4:11.

6:23 10:17; Ps 19:8; 119:105.

6:24-35 See 5:9-21.

6:25 "Lust" - Ex 20:17; Matt 5:28; 2 Pet 1:4.

6:26 5:10; 7:22,23.

6:32 7:7; 9:4,16; 1 Cor 6:18. An adulterer breaks the law of God, rushes into danger of disgrace and punishment by both man and God, and sins against his own body, all for a brief passing pleasure. Is he not a fool?

and his disgrace will not be wiped away.
 34 For jealousy is the rage of a man;
 therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.
 35 He will not show regard for any compensation, nor will he rest content, though you give many gifts.

7 My son, keep my words, and store up my command with you.
 2 Keep my command and live, and keep my teaching as the apple of your eye.
 3 Bind them on your fingers.
 Write them on the tablet of your heart.
 4 Say to wisdom, "You are my sister", and call understanding your relative,
 5 That they may keep you from the adulteress, from the stranger who flatters with her words.
 6 For at the window of my house
 I looked out through my lattice,
 7 And I saw among the simple ones,
 I discerned among the youths, a young man lacking understanding,
 8 Passing through the street near her corner;
 and he went along the way to her house, 9 In the twilight, in the evening,
 in the black and dark night.
 10 And then a woman met him, dressed like
 a prostitute,
 and with a cunning heart.
 11 (She is loud and stubborn.
 Her feet do not stay in her house;
 12 Now she is in the public square,
 now in the streets,
 and lurks at every corner.)
 13 So she took hold of him,
 and kissed him,
 and with a brazen face said to him,
 14 "I have peace offerings with me.
 Today I have paid my vows.
 15 Therefore I came out to meet you, to seek your face earnestly;

 and I have found you.
 16 I have spread my bed with coverings, with coloured linen from Egypt.
 17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
 18 Come, let us take our fill of love until
 the morning.
 Let us delight ourselves with love.
 19 For the man is not at home,
 he has gone on a long journey.
 20 He has taken a bag of money with him, and will come home on the appointed day."
 21 With her great persuasiveness she enticed him,
 with her flattering lips she drew him on.
 22 Suddenly he goes after her,
 as an ox goes to the slaughter,
 or like a fool to the correction of the stocks, 23 Till an arrow pierces through his liver,
 like a bird hurrying into the snare, and does not know that it is
at the risk of his life.
 24 Now therefore, listen to me, my children,
 and be attentive to the words of my mouth.
 25 Do not let your heart turn to her ways.
 Do not go astray in her paths.
 26 For many are the wounded she has thrown down;
 yes, many strong men have been killed by her.
 27 Her house is the way to the realm of the dead, going down to the chambers of death.

8 Does not wisdom call out,
 and understanding raise her voice?
 2 She stands on the top of heights, beside the way where the paths meet.
 3 She cries out at the gates,
 at the entrance of the city,
 at the entry of the doors:
 4 "To you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the sons of men.

7:1-4 1:8; 3:3; 4:4; 6:21; Deut 6:8; 32:47.
7:5-27 5:9-21; 6:24-35.

7:5 2:16; 6:24.

7:7 1:22; 6:32.

7:14 Those who give themselves to the deadly sin of adultery may try to give offerings to God. Prostitutes sometimes profess to be pious, and rascals are often religious (Rom 2:21-24).

7:14-21 Sin appears in beautiful colors to deceive the unwary and the foolish.

7:22,23 5:11,14,22,23; 6:26-29.

7:26 Saul has slain his thousands and David his tens of thousands, but who can number the countless victims of adultery?

7:27 2:18; 5:5; 1 Tim 5:6.

"Realm of the dead" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – see Gen 37:35.

8:1-3 Job 28:12; Prov 1:20,21. Solomon here emphasizes the availability of wisdom to all who will seek for it. It is not remote and unattainable.

"On the top the heights" – where all can see and hear.

"Where the paths meet" – where changes of direction are possible and decisions must be made.

"At the gates" – where city leaders met for discussion and making judgments.

8:4-11 Several important things are said

- 5 O you simple ones, obtain wisdom!
And you fools, obtain an understanding heart!
- 6 Listen, for I will speak of excellent things, and right things will come from the opening of my lips.
- 7 For my mouth will speak truth, and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
- 8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness.
There is nothing crooked or perverse in them.
- 9 They are all plain to the one who understands, and right to those who find knowledge.
- 10 "Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold.
- 11 For wisdom is better than rubies, and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared with it.
- 12 I, wisdom, dwell with prudence, and am the discoverer of knowledge and discretion.
- 13 "The fear of the LORD is to hate evil.
I hate pride and arrogance and the evil way and the perverse mouth.
- 14 Counsel is mine, and sound judgment.
I am understanding. I have strength.
- 15 By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.
- 16 By me rulers govern, and nobles, all who judge righteously.
- 17 I love those who love me, and those who search for me will find me.
- 18 Riches and honour are with me, yes, lasting riches and righteousness.
- 19 My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold;
and my revenue is better than choice silver.
- 20 I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of justice,
- 21 That I may bestow riches on those who love me;
and I will fill their treasuries.
- 22 "The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.
- 23 I was established from everlasting, from the beginning, before the earth was.
- 24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth, when there were no springs abounding with water.
- 25 Before the mountains were settled, before the hills, I was brought forth,
- 26 While he still had not made the earth,

about wisdom here. It can be gained by anyone, even by the simple and foolish (vs 4,5). Wisdom is related to the right, the true, the holy, the just (vs 6-9), and everything contrary to these is foolishness. Wisdom is more precious than any material possession a man may gain (vs 10,11).

In the Bible the way to gain wisdom is to turn from evil to God, meditate on His Word, obey His instructions, and seek Him for it (Jam 1:5-8). The believer in Christ is at the source of all true wisdom, and no one else in the world is. For Christ is the wisdom of God, and He is in believers, and He is made to them wisdom, and they are complete in Him (1 Cor 1:24,30; Col 2:3,8-10). They who believe Christ and know Christ have the true enlightenment, the true wisdom of God. What they need to do is to look to Christ, yield to Christ, and learn from Christ. They who are now unbelievers can also obtain true wisdom if they will humble themselves, repent, turn to God and believe in the Lord Jesus.

8:12-21 Further facts about the nature and fruits of wisdom. Wisdom is not some philosophical speculation or impractical thing dealing with matters which do not concern our daily lives. Wisdom is closely related to an understanding of how to behave in this real world (vs 12-16). Wisdom (as all lovers do) will rush to the one who loves it (v 17). Wisdom sometimes may lead to material wealth (vs 18,21), but gives something far better than such wealth (vs 19,20). They who have true wisdom will lay up treasures in heaven, not on this earth (Matt 6:19-21). 8:13 See notes at Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10. Wisdom hates evil, pride, and crookedness because God hates them, and because they ruin and destroy men.

8:15,16 If kings, leaders, and others in authority do not have God-given wisdom they will be bad rulers. So king Solomon prayed for wisdom above everything else (1 Kings 3:7-9; 2 Chron 1:8-10).

8:17 "Find" - Matt 7:7-11; Jam 1:5-8. Should we not seek earnestly for something so valuable when it is attainable?

8:22 "The LORD possessed me" - or "the LORD brought me forth."

8:22-31 Wisdom speaks as if it were a person, as it does also in 1:20-33; 3:15-18; 9:1-12. Some scholars think Christ is meant here, other scholars think that Solomon is speaking in poetic language of an attribute of God. It is not right to be dogmatic about doubtful things, but it certainly seems possible that Christ is meant. In 1 Cor 1:24 Christ is called the wisdom of God, and we are told that all creation was made through Him (John 1:3,10; 1 Cor 8:6; Col 1:16; Heb 1:8).

8:23-26 Micah 5:2; John 1:1. Christ is eternal. Wisdom, as an attribute of God, is also eternal. There was never a moment when God did not have wisdom. Therefore the expression translated "I was brought forth" (v 24) cannot be taken to mean

- or the fields,
or the first dust of the world.
- 27 When he prepared the heavens,
I was there.
When he drew a circle on the face of the deep,
- 28 When he established the clouds above,
when he firmly set the springs of the deep,
- 29 When he appointed to the sea its boundary, that the waters would not pass over his command, when he marked out the foundations
of the earth,
- 30 Then I was beside him, as one brought up with him,
and I was daily his delight,
rejoicing always in his presence,
- 31 Rejoicing in the inhabited world, his earth,
and my delight was in the sons of men.
- 32 Now, therefore, listen to me, you children!
For blessed are those who keep my ways.
- 33 Listen to instruction, and be wise,
and do not refuse it.
- 34 Blessed is the man who hears me,
watching daily at my gates,
waiting at the posts of my doors.
- 35 For whoever finds me finds life,
and will obtain favour from the LORD.
- 36 But he who sins against me harms his own soul.

literally came into existence.

8:27-31 All of God's works were created with the utmost skill and wisdom (Gen 1:9,12,18,25,31; Ps 104:24; 136:5), and they were all a reason for great rejoicing. In Job 38:4-38 we see God describing His works with joy. All was good – until man fell into sin and brought grief to God's heart (Gen 6:5-7).

8:32-36 Wisdom is still speaking and saying that men may, and should, partake of God's wisdom. Man was made in the image of God, and men are capable of great things if they will gain wisdom.

8:32 "Blessed" – notes at Gen 12:1-3; Num 6:22-27; Ps 1:1,2.

8:34 Gaining wisdom is not a once and for all event but a continuing process.

8:35 9:6.

8:36 "Harms his own soul" – 15:32; Isa 3:9; 2 Pet 2:1. Ignorance will keep us from Christ, from spiritual life, from God's blessings, from heaven itself (Eph 4:18). So it is a great destroyer of people. They who hate wisdom are hating heaven and God's blessing and Christ who is the wisdom of God, and such people really love only death. Hating God's wisdom is spiritual suicide.

9:1 This chapter gives the great contrast between wisdom and folly. Both have prepared something for men, both call out the

All those who hate me love death."

- 9 Wisdom has built her house;
she has hewn out its seven pillars.
- 2 She has slaughtered her animals;
she has mixed her wine;
she has also set her table.
- 3 She has sent out her maidens.
She calls out on the highest places of the city:
- 4 "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!"
As for the one who lacks understanding,
she says to him:
- 5 "Come, eat my bread, and drink the wine which I have mixed.
- 6 Forsake folly, and live, and go in the way of understanding."
- 7 He who corrects a scorner gets contempt for himself, and he who rebukes a wicked man gets
an insult for himself.
- 8 Do not rebuke a scorner, lest he hate you.
Rebuke a wise man, and he will love you.
- 9 Give instruction to a wise man,
and he will be even wiser.
Teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.
- 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning
of wisdom,
and the knowledge of the holy is same invitation (vs 4,16). But the one calls to life, to understanding, and to righteousness. The other calls to sin and death. Both call from the highest point of the city where all can see and hear them. Every person will answer the call of one or the other of these. Wisdom's house with its seven pillars is large and perfect (seven is the Biblical number of perfection and completeness). Folly's house is just a house (v 14) – no perfection, no completeness will ever be found there, unless it be the completeness of utter foolishness.

9:2 Luke 14:16-23.

9:3 1:20; 8:1-3.

9:4-6 This calling to the simple means that the way is open for them to become wise. And life, eternal spiritual life, comes to those who abandon their ignorant ways and receive Christ the wisdom of God.

9:7 23:9; Matt 7:6.

9:8 Willingness or unwillingness to take a rebuke reveals something of a man's character. The wise man, unlike the foolish mocker, knows a rebuke is for his correction, for his good (Ps 141:5).

9:9 1:5; 12:15; 13:10; 14:6; 15:31; 19:25.

9:10 "Fear" – 1:7.

"The holy" – or, "the Holy One." What men need above all is the knowledge of the holy God – not a theoretical knowledge, but

- understanding.
- 11 For by me your days will be multiplied,
and the years of your life will be increased.
- 12 If you are wise, you will be wise for your benefit,
but if you scorn, you alone will bear it.
- 13 The woman Folly is loud.
She is a simpleton, and knows nothing.
- 14 And she sits at the door of her house,
on a seat on the heights of the city,
- 15 To call to those who pass by,
going straight on their ways:
- 16 "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!"
And as for the one who lacks understanding, she says to him:
- 17 "Stolen water is sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant."
- 18 But he does not know that the dead are there,
and that her guests go to the depths of hell.

10 The proverbs of Solomon.
A wise son makes a glad father,
but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.

the knowledge that comes from experiencing God. This is eternal life (John 17:3), and this is the only way to a holy life. Note on "holy" at Lev 20:7.

9:11 This was an Old Testament promise often repeated to those who feared God (Deut 5:16; 11:9,21; Prov 3:2; 10:27). It is not much emphasized in this New Testament age when to depart and be with Christ is often the longing of believers (Phil 1:21-24). But in any age the fear of the Lord will lead to clean, disciplined living which will tend to produce longer life than self-indulgence and sinful ways will do.

9:12 "Benefit" - 3:16-18; 4:22; 8:35; 14:14.

"Scorn" - wisdom will scorn those who scorn her (1:22,26) and God will act toward them as they deserve (Ps 18:25,26; Gal 6:7).

9:13-16 "Loud" - 7:11. Foolishness will always make more noise than wisdom, and can make a great show to attract people to her. To deceive people she uses some of the same words wisdom uses.

9:17 Compare 9:2,5. Wisdom has food of her own. Folly must steal it. Wisdom wants people to leave their foolish ways (v 6). Folly wants them to plunge further into them by sins done in secret. She does not give them the truth of 20:17.

9:18 2:18; 7:26,27; Rom 6:23. By nature we are all the "guests" of folly (Titus 3:3; Eph 2:3; Rom 3:9). If we have escaped from its house to wisdom's palace it is all because of God's grace.

"Hell" - in Hebrew "Sheol" - Gen 37:35.
10:1 15:20; 17:21; 19:13; 23:22-25; 27:11; 29:3.

- 2 Treasures wickedly obtained profit nothing,
but righteousness delivers from death.
- 3 The LORD will not let the righteous go hungry, but he thrusts aside the craving of the wicked.
- 4 He who works with a slack hand becomes poor,
but the hand of the diligent makes rich.
- 5 He who gathers in summer is a wise son,
but he who sleeps in harvest is a son who causes shame.
- 6 Blessings are on the head of the just,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- 7 The remembrance of the just is blessed,
but the name of the wicked will rot.
- 8 The wise in heart will accept commands,
but a chattering fool will fall.
- 9 He who walks uprightly walks securely,
but he who perverts his ways will be found out.
- 10 He who winks the eye causes trouble,
and a chattering fool will fall.
- 11 The mouth of a righteous person is a fountain of life,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- 12 Hatred stirs up strife,

10:2 "Profit nothing" - 21:6; Ps 49:10-12; Eccl 5:15; 1 Tim 6:6-9.

"Delivers" - v 16; 11:4,19; 12:28. The righteousness of Christ freely given by God to all who trust in Him delivers from eternal death (Rom 3:22; 5:21; 2 Cor 5:21; etc).

10:3 "Righteous" - Ps 37:19,25; 111:5; Matt 6:25-27.

"Wicked" - 13:25; Num 11:33,34; Ps 112:10.

10:4 "Slack hand" - 6:6-11.

"Diligent" - 12:24; 21:5.

10:6 "Blessings" - Ps 1:1.

10:7 "Remembrance" - Ps 112:6; Phil 1:3,4; 2 Tim 1:4,5; Hebrews chapter 11; 13:7.

"Rot" - Gen 17:4; Job 18:17; Ps 9:6; 34:16.

10:8 "Commands" - 9:8,9; Deut 4:5,6. The wise know something of the value of God's commands and will keep them especially.

10:9 "Securely" - 2:7; Gen 15:1; Ps 7:10; 37:23,24; Ps 91.

"Found out" - Num 32:23; Matt 10:26; 2 Tim 3:9.

10:10 "Winks" - 6:13; Ps 35:19.

10:11 "Life" - vs 20,21; 3:18; 11:30; 13:14. The righteous teach others the way of the good life here on earth and eternal life with God hereafter.

10:12 "Strife" - 6:14,19.

"Covers" - Jam 5:20; 1 Pet 4:8. Love will lead the sinner to God who covers and forgives his sin (note at Ps 32:1). Also love will not want to expose the sins of others unless there is a very good reason for doing so. Sometimes when the word of God is hindered or God's people endangered it must be done (compare Joshua chapter 7;

- but love covers all sins.
- 13 In the lips of him who has understanding wisdom is found, but a rod is for the back of him who lacks understanding.
- 14 Wise men store up knowledge, but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.
- 15 The rich man's wealth is his strong city; the ruin of the poor is their poverty.
- 16 The labour of the righteous tends to life; the fruit of the wicked to sin.
- 17 He who heeds instruction is in the way of life, but he who refuses correction goes astray.
- 18 He who hides hatred with lying lips, and he who utters a slander, is a fool.
- 19 In the multitude of words sin is not lacking, but he who refrains his lips is wise.
- 20 The tongue of the just is like choice silver; the heart of the wicked is of little worth.
- 21 The lips of the righteous feed many, but fools die for lack of wisdom.
- 22 The blessing of the LORD is what makes rich, and he adds no sorrow with it.
- 23 Doing evil is like sport to a fool, but a man of understanding has wisdom.
- 24 What the wicked fear will come on him, but the desire of the righteous will be granted.
- 25 When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more; but the righteous has an everlasting foundation.
- 26 Like vinegar to the teeth,

- and like smoke to the eyes,
so is the lazy one to those who send him.
- 27 The fear of the LORD prolongs days, but the years of the wicked will be shortened.
- 28 The hope of the righteous will be joy, but the expectation of the wicked will perish.
- 29 The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright, but destruction to evildoers.
- 30 The righteous will never be shaken, but the wicked will not inhabit the earth.
- 31 The mouth of the just brings forth wisdom, but the perverse tongue will be cut out.
- 32 The lips of the righteous know what is suitable, but the mouth of the wicked speaks perversity.
- 11 A false balance is abomination to the LORD, but a just weight is his delight.
- 2 When pride comes, then comes shame; but with the lowly is wisdom.
- 3 The integrity of the upright will guide them, but the perverseness of transgressors will destroy them.
- 4 Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death.
- 5 The righteousness of the blameless will direct his way, but the wicked will fall by his own wickedness.
- 6 The righteousness of the upright will rescue them, but transgressors will be caught in their own greed.

10:13 "Rod" – 14:3; 19:29; 26:3; Deut 25:2.

10:14 "Store up" – Luke 6:45. A wise man will want to learn all he can about everything – except, of course, the experience of sinning (1 Cor 14:20).

10:15 Wealth brings a certain amount of worldly power which the poor cannot have (18:23; 22:7). But they should recognize that real security depends on God alone (18:2; Ps 52:1-7).

10:16 See 11:18,19; Deut 30:15,16; 32:46,47; Rom 6:23.

10:17 6:23; 15:5; Heb 12:5-11. Because we are sinful by nature and ignorant of God's holy ways, correction and discipline are very important. We ignore them to our peril.

10:24 "Fear" – Isa 66:4; Ezek 11:8. Whatever, in their more rational moments, they fear regarding God's punishment for their deeds will come on them and more besides. "Desire" Ps 37:4; 145:17-19; Matt 7:7-11; John 15:7.

11:2 3:34; 16:18; 18:12; 29:23; Jam 4:6.

11:3 Verse 5. A person who is upright and has unmix motives, and wants to walk in the right path, will be able to know what the right path is. The wicked will fall into the trap he has made for others (5:22; Ps 9:16).

11:4 "Riches" – Ps 49:5-15; Rev 6:15-17; 18:9-17.

"Day of wrath" – Rom 2:5.

"Righteousness" – 10:2.

11:6 Greed brings people into the bondage

- 7 When a wicked man dies,
his expectation perishes,
 and the hope of unjust men also perishes.
- 8 The righteous is rescued from trouble,
 and the wicked meets it instead.
- 9 A hypocrite with his mouth destroys
 his neighbour,
 but through knowledge the just will be rescued.
- 10 When it goes well with the righteous,
 the city rejoices;
 and when the wicked perish,
there is joyful shouting.
- 11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted,
 but it is overthrown by the mouth of
 the wicked.
- 12 He who lacks wisdom despises his neighbour,
 but a man of understanding keeps silent.
- 13 A talebearer reveals secrets,
 but he who is trustworthy conceals a matter.
- 14 Where there is no counsel,
 the people fall;
 but having many counsellors promotes safety.
- 15 He who puts up security for a stranger will suffer for it,
 but he who hates putting up security is safe.
- 16 A gracious woman wins honour;
 and strong men gain riches.
- 17 The merciful man does good to his own soul,
 but he who is cruel brings harm on himself.
- 18 The wicked earns deceitful wages, but to him who sows righteousness will come a sure reward.
- 19 As righteousnes tends to life, so he who pursues evil pursues it to

- his own death.
- 20 Those who are of a perverse heart are abomination to the LORD, but those who are upright in their way
are his delight.
- 21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked
 will not be unpunished, but the offspring of the righteous will be rescued.
- 22 Like a gold jewel in a pig's snout, is a beautiful woman who is without discretion.
- 23 The desire of the righteous ends only in good,
 but the expectation of the wicked in wrath.
- 24 There is that which scatters,
 and yet increases;
 and there is that which withholds
 more than is right,
 but it results in poverty.
- 25 The generous soul will be made prosperous,
 and he who waters will also be watered himself.
- 26 The people will curse the one who withholds grain,
 but blessing will be on the head of the one who sells it.
- 27 He who diligently seeks good gains favour,
 but he who searches for evil,
 will have it come to him.
- 28 He who trusts in his riches will fall,
 but the righteous will flourish like a branch.
- 29 He who troubles his own house will inherit the wind,
 and the fool will be servant to the wise
 of heart.
- 30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, of sin (John 8:34; Rom 6:16; Jam 1:14,15).

11:7 10:28; 11:23. Though there may be riches, fame, and pleasure in a wicked life, it is a vain and empty life which comes to nothing.
11:8 An example of this is found in Esther
 5:14; 7:10.
11:9 Slander is a very evil thing. It is an attempt to destroy the name, reputation, and usefulness of another person (Ps 101:5).

Rom 5:17.
11:20 "Abomination" - 3:32; 6:16-19. .
 "Delight" - 12:22; 15:8; Ps 16:3; Jer 9:24. The wise person will try to do those things that God delights in, not the things He hates.
11:21 "Not be unpunished" - Lev 26:18,24;
 Isa 13:11; 26:20,21; Hos 4:9; Matt
 25:46; 2 Thess 1:9; Heb 10:29.
11:23 "Good" - Rom 8:28.
 "Wrath" - Rom 2:8,9.
11:24,25 22:9; Mal 3:10; Matt 7:2; Luke 6:38; 2 Cor 9:6-11. Here is a principle we should never forget. Why should God give His blessings to us if we will not give anything to Him and to others? Note and references on giving at 2 Cor 9:15.
11:28 "Fall" - Ps 52:5-7; 62:10; Jer 9:23;
 Luke 16:19,22,23; Jam 5:1-3.
 "Flourish" - Ps 1:3; 52:8; 92:12-14.
11:30 "Tree of life" - 3:18; Gen 2:9; 3:24;
 Rev 2:7. Through the efforts of God's righteous people others are brought to God and receive eternal life through Christ.
 "Wise" - Dan 12:3; Jam 5:20. Here is and he who wins souls is wise.

31 See that if the righteous get their due on the earth, much more the wicked and the sinner.

12 Whoever loves instruction loves knowledge, but he who hates correction is stupid.

2 A good man obtains favour from the LORD, but he will condemn a man who devises evil.

3 A man will not be established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will not be shaken.

4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband, but she who makes him ashamed is like rottenness in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right, but the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright will rescue them.

7 The wicked are overthrown, and are no more, but the house of the righteous will stand.

8 A man will be commended according to his wisdom, but he who has a perverse heart will be despised.

9 He who is despised and has a servant is better off than he who honours himself and lacks bread.

10 A righteous man has regard for the life of his beast, but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He who tills his land will have an abundance of bread, but he who follows vain things lacks understanding.

12 The wicked desires the plunder of evil men, but the root of the righteous yields fruit.

13 The wicked is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the just will come out of trouble.

14 A man will be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the reward of a man's hands will be given to him.

15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but he who listens to counsel is wise.

16 A fool's wrath becomes known at once, but a prudent man conceals dishonour.

17 He who speaks truth declares what is right, but a false witness deceit.

18 There is speaking that pierces like a sword, but the tongue of the wise brings health.

19 The truthful lip will be established for ever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of those who plan evil, but joy is in the counsellors of peace.

21 No harm happens to the just, but the wicked will be filled with trouble.

22 Lying lips are detestable to the LORD, but they who deal truly are his delight.

23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims foolishness.

24 The hand of the diligent will rule, but the lazy will be under forced labour.

25 Anxiety in the heart of man weighs it down, but a good word makes it glad.

26 The righteous finds the best way for his neighbour, a part of wisdom that many seem to be ignorant of.

11:31 Jer 25:29; 1 Pet 4:18.

12:1 "Correction" - 6:23; 10:17; Ps 119:67,71. By God's training we learn more of Him, more of ourselves, more of the proper way to behave.

"Stupid" - 1:7; 5:11-14; 15:5,10,12,32. He is stupid because he is rejecting the way to the knowledge he needs most.

12:3 See 10:25.

12:4 31:10-12.

12:5,6 So we can tell the difference between the righteous and wicked by their words and plans. We should never take the advice of a wicked person (Ps 1:1,2).

12:10 27:23; Deut 25:4. A good man will be kind to man or beast; a wicked person doesn't even know what true kindness is and there will be a mixture of evil in even his best acts.

12:13 1:18; 18:7; 29:6; Ps 59:12.

12:14 Everything a righteous man does will be rewarded - 14:14; Ps 1:3; Matt 10:42.

12:15 "Right" - 14:12; 16:2,25. This is a tragedy. Fools do not think they need God's light or wisdom or advice. They are separated from God by their proud ignorance (Eph 4:18). How things would change if only they would earnestly pray David's prayer in Ps 25:4,5!

12:16 The quality praised here is self-control - 29:11.

12:18 "Sword" - Ps 55:21; 57:4; 59:7; 64:3.

"Health" - the wise can speak the comforting, healing Word of God to those with wounded hearts.

12:19 God is a God of truth (Ps 31:5). He will see to it that truth will prevail. Lovers of God's truth will dwell with God forever (Ps 15:1,2). Liars will have their part in the lake of fire (Rev 21:8).

12:21 "Harm" - 1:33; Ps 91:9-12; 121:7,8; Rom 8:28; Gen 50:20.

12:22 "Abomination" - 6:16,17. There can be few things the God of truth hates more than lying. Mark it down. Write it on the tablets of your heart. Above all things get truth implanted in your inner man (Ps 51:6), and speak it from the heart (Ps 15:2; Eph 4:15).

12:24 Note at 6:6-11.

12:25 15:13; Ps 94:19; Phil 4:6,7.

but the way of the wicked seduces them.
 27 The lazy man does not roast what he gets in hunting, but the possessions of a diligent man are precious.
 28 In the way of righteousness is life, and in its pathway there is no death.

13 A wise son listens to his father's instruction, but a scorner does not listen to rebuke.
 2 A man will enjoy good by the fruit of his mouth, but the soul of transgressors feeds on violence.
 3 He who keeps his mouth keeps his life, but he who opens wide his lips will come to ruin.
 4 The soul of the lazy man desires but has nothing, but the soul of the diligent will prosper.
 5 A righteous man hates lying, but a wicked man is loathsome and comes to shame.
 6 Righteousness keeps him who is upright in the way, but wickedness overthrows the sinner.
 7 There is one who pretends to be rich, yet who has nothing; there is one who pretends to be poor, yet who has great riches.
 8 A man's riches may be the ransom for his life, but the poor hears no threat.
 9 The light of the righteous rejoices, but the lamp of the wicked will be put out.
 10 Only by pride comes strife, but with the well-advised is wisdom.

11 Wealth gotten by dishonesty will dwindle away, but he who gathers by labour will increase.
 12 Hope deferred makes the heart sick, but the desire fulfilled is a tree of life.
 13 Whoever despises the word will be destroyed, but he who fears the commandment will be rewarded.
 14 The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life, turning people aside from the snares of death.
 15 Good understanding gains favour, but the way of the transgressor is hard.
 16 Every prudent man deals with knowledge, but a fool exposes his folly.
 17 A wicked messenger falls into trouble, but a faithful ambassador brings health.
 18 Poverty and shame will be to him who refuses instruction, but he who has regard for correction will be honoured.
 19 The desire fulfilled is sweet to the soul, but departing from evil is an abomination to fools.
 20 He who walks with wise men will become wise, but a companion of fools will be destroyed.
 21 Trouble pursues sinners, but good will be the reward of the righteous.
 22 A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, and the wealth of the sinner is stored up for the just.
 23 Abundant food is in the plowed land of the poor, but lack of justice sweeps it away.
 24 He who does not use his rod hates his son,

12:27 "Roast" – the meaning of the Hebrew word here is uncertain.
12:28 10:2; Deut 30:15. Eternal life and justification (God's counting men righteous when they believe Him) are intimately connected (Rom 5:18).
13:1 1:8,22; 4:1; 9:7,8; 12:1.
13:2 12:14.
13:3 10:6; 18:7,20,21; 21:23; Matt 12:36,37.
13:4 Note at 6:6-11.
13:7 Either sort of pretense, indeed all deception whatever the kind, is wrong and foolish.
13:8 If the rich get into troubles and dangers, sometimes they can save themselves by paying money.
13:9 "Light" – Matt 5:14-16; Eph 5:8. "Lamp" – 20:20; 24:20.
13:10 "Strife" – how much division among brethren, how many church disputes are caused by nothing but pride.
13:12 "Life" – v 19. He means a proper, righteous desire. The fulfillment of it brings a revival of hope and strength.
13:13 "Despises" – v 18; 1:29-31; Num

15:31-36.
 "Rewarded" – Ps 19:11.
13:14 10:11; 14:27. Such teaching will guide others to God Himself the giver of eternal life, and will produce the fear of the Lord.
13:15 The last sentence of this verse may also be translated "but the unfaithful does not endure." See note on the Hebrew language at Ps 14:7.
13:19 Evil is all that fools know or desire. It is their life. Leaving it is the hardest thing they can imagine. Notes on fools at 1:7; Ps 14:1.
13:20 How careful, then, we should be in the choice of friends (1:10; 2:12,20; 12:26; 16:29; 22:24,25; 1 Cor 15:33).
13:21 "Pursues" – Gen 4:7; Num 32:23; Ps 7:14-16.
13:22 "For the just" – Esther 8:2; Eccl 2:26.
13:24 Without discipline and correction children often grow up to be spoiled, foolish, self-centered, and ignorant of God's ways of dealing with men. Withholding discipline is the same as hating one's children and wanting them to turn out badly. Those who neglect giving discipline to their children love but he who loves him disciplines him carefully.

 25 The righteous eats to his heart's satisfaction,
 but the stomach of the wicked will be in want.

- 14 Every wise woman builds her house,
 but the foolish pulls it down with her hands.
 2 He who walks in his uprightness fears
 the LORD,
 but he who is perverse in his ways
 despises him.
 3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride,
 but the lips of the wise will preserve them.
 4 Where there are no oxen the manger is clean, but much increase comes by the strength of the ox.
 5 A faithful witness will not lie,
 but a false witness will utter lies.
 6 A scorner seeks wisdom but does not find it, but knowledge is easy to him who has
 understanding.
 7 Leave the presence of a foolish man, when you do not see the lips of knowledge in him.
 8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way,
 but the folly of fools is deceit.
 9 Fools make a mock at sin, but among the righteous there is good will.

themselves, not their children. Real love always gives discipline - 3:11,12; 19:18; 22:15; 23:13,14; 29:15,17; Heb 12:6. 14:1 "Wise" - 24:3; 31:10-31. Her work edifies the family, builds character in her children, and stability in the home.

"Foolish" - the foolish woman is one who does not know the Lord and has no fear of God. She will contribute to the destruction of the character of her family, though she may vainly imagine she is doing good to it. 14:2 "Fears" - 1:7; Gen 20:11; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10.

"Despises" - devious and deceitful people may not be conscious of this, but it is still a fact (Rom 8:7).

14:5 "Lies" - 12:17; Ps 12:2. A stream of lies is all that comes from some people.

14:6 "Scorner" - 1:22. He will never find wisdom because he refuses the fear of the Lord which is the beginning of wisdom.

14:8 "Deceit" - the fool thinks himself clever and wise to be able to deceive others, little knowing that such behavior is his folly and his ruin.

14:9 "Mock" - in nothing do they show their foolishness more than in this.

14:10 1 Sam 1:7-10; 1 Kings 8:38; Matt 26:38,75; Rom 9:2,3.

14:12 12:15; 16:25; Matt 7:13,14,22,23. There is only one way which leads to eternal life and heaven. There are many ways that lead to death and hell. Each of those ways

- 10 The heart knows its own bitterness, and a stranger does not share its joy.
 11 The house of the wicked will be overthrown,
 but the tent of the upright will flourish.
 12 There is a way which seems right to a man,
 but its end is the ways of death.
 13 Even in laughter the heart may be sorrowful,
 and the end of that joy may be grief.
 14 The backslider in heart will be filled with his own ways,
 and a good man will find satisfaction with his.
 15 The simple believes every word,
 but the prudent man considers his steps.
 16 A wise person fears and departs from evil,
 but the fool confidently rushes ahead.
 17 He who becomes angry quickly deals foolishly, and a man who devises evil is hated.
 18 The simple inherit folly,
 but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
 19 The evil will bow before the good,
 and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
 20 The poor is hated even by his own neighbour,
 but the rich has many friends.
 21 He who despises his neighbour sins,
 but happy is he who has mercy on the poor.
 22 Do those who devise evil not go astray?
 But those who plan good will find mercy may seem right to the people taking them, because Satan has deceived them, and they are ignorant of the true way (John 12:35; 2 Cor 4:3,4; 1 John 2:11; Rev 12:9). Did Solomon have one particular false way in mind? If so, it was probably the way of the fool who rejects the fear of the Lord and has no heart to walk in God's way. For this is the way that is the basis of all false ways. 14:14 1:31; Rev 22:12 - a principle found everywhere in the Bible.

14:15 If people do not have the wisdom the Bible speaks about they are easily deceived. This accounts for the fact of so much false religion in the world.

14:16 8:13; Gen 20:11. This is the highest kind of wisdom.

14:19 This could mean that evil, wicked men will come to ruin and will need to come to the righteous for help. Or it could mean that God will eventually cause this to happen as in Rev 3:9.

14:20 19:4. But how false are those friends who are attracted only by money!

14:21 "Neighbour" - 11:12; Lev 19:17; 1 John 2:9,11; 3:10,15,16.

"Poor" - v 31; 11:25; 19:17; 22:9; Ex 23:11; Lev 19:10; Ps 41:1. Kindness to the poor is a great virtue in God's sight.

14:22 "Evil" - 3:29; 6:14,18; Micah 2:1. "Find" - certainly from God, often from men too. The meaning here might be "show" love and faithfulness. There is no and truth.

- 23 In all labour there is profit,
but the talk of the lips results only in poverty.
- 24 The crown of the wise is their riches,
but the foolishness of fools is folly.
- 25 A true witness rescues souls,
but a deceitful witness speaks lies.
- 26 In the fear of the LORD is strong confidence, and his children will have a place of refuge.
- 27 The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, turning people aside from the snares of death.
- 28 A large population is the king's glory,
but a lack of people is the ruin of the prince.
- 29 He who is slow to get angry has great
understanding,
but he who is quick-tempered exalts folly.
- 30 A sound heart is the life of the body,
but envy the rottenness of the bones.
- 31 He who oppresses the poor insults his Maker, but he who honours him has mercy on the needy.
- 32 The wicked is overthrown by his wickedness,
but the righteous has hope in his death.
- 33 Wisdom rests in the heart of him who has understanding,
but the heart of fools becomes known.
- 34 Righteousness exalts a nation,
but sin is a reproach to any people.
- 35 The king shows favour to a wise servant,
but his wrath is against him who causes shame.

- 15 A gentle answer turns away wrath,
but harsh words stir up anger.
- 2 The tongue of the wise uses knowledge rightly,
but the mouth of fools pours out foolishness.
- 3 The eyes of the LORD are in every place, seeing the evil and the good.
- 4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life,
but crookedness in it crushes the spirit.
- 5 A fool despises his father's instruction, but he who has regard for correction is prudent.
- 6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure,
but in the income of the wicked is trouble.
- 7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge,
but the heart of the foolish is not so.
- 8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD,
but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
- 9 The way of the wicked is an
abomination to the LORD,
but he loves him who follows righteousness.
- 10 Correction is grievous to him who forsakes the way,
and he who hates discipline will die.
- 11 Hell and destruction lie open before the LORD;
how much more then the hearts of the
children of men?

verb at all here in Hebrew.

14:23 Eccl 9:10; 11:6; 1 Thess 4:11; 2 Thess 3:10-12. In the church also there are far too many talkers, too few workers.

14:25 This is most abundantly true regarding spiritual matters. A witness to God's truth saves people from eternal death.

14:26 He who fears God does not need to fear anything or anyone else.

14:27 It is a fountain of life because by it a person turns from evil deeds and false paths.

14:29 "Slow to get angry" - 15:18; 16:32; 19:11; Jam 1:19.

14:30 Our state of mind and desires affect the health of the body.

14:31 Verse 21. God is the Maker of both poor and rich - 22:2; Jam 3:9. He who oppresses the poor oppresses a part of God's creation and thus shows contempt for the Creator.

14:34 11:11. Israel was exalted when it stood for justice and right. It fell to ruin when it abandoned them.

14:35 True too of the King of heaven - Matt 25:21,26; Luke 19:17,22.

15:1 Verse 18. Examples at Josh 22:9-30; Jud 8:1-3; 1 Kings 12:1-19.

15:3 5:21; 2 Chron 16:9; Ps 94:9; Jer 16:17; 32:19; Heb 4:13.

15:4 3:18; 10:11; 12:18; 18:21.

15:5 The fool, unlike the wise, does not understand that discipline and correction are only for his good.

15:6 Not all righteous people are rich in material things, but the house of every one of them will contain spiritual treasures not found anywhere else on earth.

15:8 "Wicked" - Ps 51:17; Isa 1:13; Jer 6:20,21; Micah 6:6-8. Nothing the wicked does, and certainly not his religious acts can please God (Rom 8:8). God detests their sacrifices, their thoughts (v 26), and their prayers (28:9). However, this will not keep them from offering them.

"Prayer of the upright" - v 29; Ps 145:18; John 9:31. God commands His people to pray because prayer is one way He has chosen to bless them and work in and through them. He wants to hear them and commune with them. So He is delighted when His people, who are living uprightly, pray to Him.

15:9 "Way" - Ps 1:1,6.

"Righteousness" - 11:20; Deut 7:12,13.

15:10 Verses 5,12; 1:31,32; 5:23; 12:1.

15:11 1 Sam 2:3; 16:7; 2 Chron 6:30; Ps 44:21; 139:8; Jer 17:9,10; Heb 4:13; Rev 2:23.

"Hell and destruction" - in Hebrew "Sheol" and "Abaddon."

- 12 A scorner does not love one who corrects him,
nor will he go to the wise.
- 13 A merry heart makes a cheerful countenance,
but sorrow of heart crushes the spirit.
- 14 The heart of the one who has understanding seeks knowledge,
but the mouth of fools feeds on foolishness.
- 15 All the days of the afflicted are bad, but he who has a merry heart has a continual feast.
- 16 Better is little with the fear of the LORD than great treasure and trouble with it.
- 17 Better a dinner of vegetables where there is love than a fattened ox and hatred with it.
- 18 An angry man stirs up strife,
but he who is slow to get angry calms strife.
- 19 The way of the lazy person is like a hedge of thorns,
but the way of the upright is made plain.
- 20 A wise son makes a glad father,
but a foolish man despises his mother.
- 21 Folly is joy to him who is destitute of wisdom,
but a man of understanding walks uprightly.
- 22 Without counsel plans meet with disappointment,
but with many counsellors they are fulfilled.
- 23 A man has joy by the proper answer
of his mouth,
and how good is a timely word!
- 24 The way of life leads upward for the wise, that he may keep from
the realm of the dead below.
- 25 The LORD will destroy the house of the proud,
but he will establish the boundary of the widow.
- 26 The thoughts of the wicked are an
abomination to the LORD,
but the words of the pure are pleasing to him.
- 27 He who is greedy for profit troubles
his own house,
but he who hates bribes will live.
- 28 The heart of the righteous studies to answer,
but the mouth of the wicked pours out evil things.
- 29 The LORD is far from the wicked,
but he hears the prayer of the righteous.
- 30 The light of the eyes rejoices the heart, and good news brings fat to the bones.
- 31 The ear that listens to the correction of life abides among the wise.
- 32 He who refuses instruction despises
his own soul,
but he who heeds correction gets
understanding.
- 33 The fear of the LORD is the instruction
of wisdom,
and before honour is humility.

15:15 "Feast" – the food of happiness, contentment, satisfaction with God's plan, and peace of mind.

15:16 16:8; 17:1; Ps 37:16. The person who truly fears the Lord has the beginning of wisdom, has eternal life, has an inheritance in heaven, has the LORD Himself – far, far better than any material wealth. When will we all thoroughly learn this?

15:17 "Love" – most true when the love is God's love.

15:19 Everything seems too difficult to the lazy person and he can accomplish nothing. The upright can always make progress toward the goal. Observe that here the contrast is between the lazy and the upright – signifying that the lazy are not upright and the upright are not lazy.

15:23 "Word" – 24:26; 25:11; Isa 50:4.

15:24 Verses 19,21.

"Realm of the dead" – in Hebrew "Sheol" – Gen 37:35.

15:25 2:22; 12:7; 14:11; Ps 37:35-38; 127:1; Matt 7:26,27.

15:26 "Abomination" – everything about wicked persons is detestable to God, though He loves them in the sense that He desires their highest good and would save them and make them His own dear children if they would repent and trust in Christ.

"Pleasing" – the sacrifices, prayers, and thoughts of the righteous are pleasing to God (v 8; Rom 12:1; Heb 13:12,13). The God of the Bible, the only God there is, loves righteousness and hates wickedness.

15:27 "Greedy" – 1:19; Josh 7:24-26; Col 3:5,6; 1 Tim 6:9,10.

"Bribes" – bribes corrupt people and pervert justice – Deut 16:19; 1 Sam 12:3; Ps 26:10; Eccl 7:7; Isa 33:17. See note at Amos 5:12.

15:29 "Hears" – v 8; Ps 66:2; 145:18,19; Isa 59:1,2; Jer 33:3; John 9:31.

15:30 14:30; 25:25.

15:31 1:23; 6:23; 9:7-9; 12:1.

15:32 "Despises his own soul" – 8:36. Rejecting the way to correct and save oneself from ruin is the same as hating oneself.

15:33 "Fear" – 1:7. There is no other way to learn wisdom. This is why the unbeliever, the wicked person will never gain it, no matter how much education and learning he may gain. The first sentence of this verse may also be translated "Wisdom teaches the fear of the LORD."

"Humility" – 18:12; 22:4; 25:6,7; 29:23; Isa 66:2; Matt 23:12; Luke 14:11; 18:14; 1 Pet 5:6. This is true of the honor God gives – which is the only honor worth having.

16 The plans of the heart belong to man, but the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.

- 2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs the spirits.
- 3 Commit your works to the LORD, and your thoughts will be established.
- 4 The LORD has made all things to answer for his purpose; yes, even the wicked for the day of disaster.
- 5 Everyone who has a proud of heart is an abomination to the LORD; though hand join in hand, he will not be unpunished.
- 6 By mercy and truth wickedness is atoned for, and by the fear of the LORD people depart from evil.
- 7 When a man's ways please the LORD, he makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.
- 8 Better is a little with righteousness than great income without right.
- 9 A man's heart plans his way,

but the LORD directs his steps.

- 10 A divine sentence is in the lips of the king; his mouth must not transgress in judgment.
- 11 A just weight and balance are the LORD's; all the weights in the bag are his business.
- 12 It is an abomination for kings to commit wickedness, for the throne is established by righteousness.
- 13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and they love him who speaks the right thing.
- 14 The wrath of a king is like messengers of death, but a wise man will pacify it.
- 15 In the light of the king's countenance is life, and his favour is like a cloud of spring rain.
- 16 How much better it is to get wisdom than gold! And to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver!
- 17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil; he who keeps his way preserves his soul.
- 18 Pride appears before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.
- 19 It is better to have a humble spirit with the lowly,

16:1 Verse 9; 19:21; 20:24; Jer 10:23. A person plans what he wants to do but without God's working he cannot even utter those plans, let alone fulfill them.

16:2 "Clean" - 12:15; 14:12; 30:12; Jer 17:9. This is one reason why it is so difficult to turn people from false ways.

"Spirits" - God sees the inward intentions and desires of a man which are the source of his actions (20:27; 2 Chron 6:30; 21:2; Jer 17:10; Luke 16:15; 1 Cor 4:4,5).

16:3 3:5,6; 2 Chron 20:20; Ps 1:3; 20:4; 37:5,6; 90:17. Only God can give true and lasting success, and bring about the fulfillment of our plans and hopes. This verse makes it clear what we must do to see this.

16:4 There is no purposeless activity with God. He infallibly fulfills His plans including the eventual punishment of the wicked.

"To answer to his purpose" - in Hebrew there is just one word here, meaning answer.

16:5 6:16; 11:20,21; Ps 40:4. Then surely anything that humbles us is for our good.

16:6 "Atoned" - notes at Ex 25:17; 29:33. By mercy and truth God provided a way for guilty men to be forgiven. And mercy and truth are the qualities which will enable us to lead others to God for this forgiveness.

"Fear" - notes at Gen 20:11; Job 28:28; Ps 34:11-14; 111:10; etc.

16:7 3:17; Gen 39:21; 2 Chron 14:6,7; 17:10; Rom 12:18; Heb 12:14. Such a person will be seeking peace with others and will find it. But with some kinds of enemies this will not be easy (compare Matt

10:21,22,34-36; John 15:18-21).

16:8 10:2; 15:16; 17:1; Ps 37:16; Eccl 4:6. There are things far more important than prosperity and wealth - things such as honesty, integrity, purity, just and wise behavior, and the fear of God.

16:9 God can and does control the activities of men to fulfill His will. The freedom of individuals and whole nations is only within the bounds of God's purposes.

16:10 Rulers are appointed by God, and in some measure are His representatives (Rom 13:1-5). They should be very careful in giving judgments that affect the people (17:7).

"Divine sentence" - or "oracle," that is, a pronouncement from God.

16:11 11:1; Deut 25:15; Ezek 45:10; Amos 8:4-6.

16:12 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of God's throne - Ps 97:2. He will bring down any throne based on unrighteousness and injustice. History shows this again and again.

16:13 "The right thing" - certainly the King of heaven values such a man (Ps 15:1-3; 51:6).

16:14 19:12; 19:12; 20:2; Matt 22:7; Luke 19:27.

16:16 3:13,14; 8:10; Ps 19:10; 49:20; 119:72.

16:17 15:19; 19:16; 22:5.

16:18 11:2; 1 Sam 17:41,42,48,49; 2 Chron 26:16; 32:25; Jam 4:6.

16:19 "Better" - why? Because God is with the lowly and will eventually bless and exalt

- than to divide the plunder with the proud.
- 20 He who handles a matter wisely will find good, and happy is the one who trusts in the LORD.
- 21 The wise in heart will be called discerning, and sweetness of speech increases persuasiveness.
- 22 Understanding is a fountain of life to him who has it, but the instruction of fools is folly.
- 23 The heart of the wise teaches his mouth, and adds learning to his lips.
- 24 Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
- 25 There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the ways of death.
- 26 A labourer's appetite works for him, for his hunger urges him on.
- 27 An ungodly man digs up evil, and his lips are like a burning fire.
- 28 A perverse man sows strife, and a talebearer separates chief friends.
- 29 A violent man entices his neighbour and leads him into a way that is not good.
- 30 He shuts his eyes to plot perverse things; moving his lips he causes evil to take place.
- 31 The gray head is a crown of glory, if it is found in the way of righteousness.
- 32 He who is slow to get angry is better than the mighty, and he who rules his spirit than he who takes a city.

- 33 The lot is cast into the lap, but each one of its decisions is from the LORD.
- 17 Better is a dry crust, and quietness with it, than a house full of feasting from sacrifices with strife.
- 2 A wise servant will rule a son who causes shame, and will have part of the inheritance among the brothers.
- 3 The refining pot is for silver and the furnace for gold, but the LORD tests the hearts.
- 4 An evildoer pays heed to false lips, and a liar listens to a slandering tongue.
- 5 Whoever mocks the poor insults his Maker, and he who is glad at calamities will not be unpunished.
- 6 Children's children are the crown of old men, and the glory of children is their fathers.
- 7 Fine talk is not fitting for a fool; much less are lying lips for a prince.
- 8 A bribe is like a charm in the eyes of the one who has it; wherever he turns, he succeeds.
- 9 He who conceals a transgression seeks love, but he who repeats a matter separates close friends.
- 10 A rebuke goes more deeply into a wise man than a hundred lashes into a fool.
- 11 An evil person seeks only rebellion;

him (3:34; Isa 57:15; Matt 5:3). He is against the proud and will destroy him (v 18). Both the humble circumstances of the one and the ill-gotten gain of the other are only temporary.

16:20 "Happy" - 3:3-5; Ps 1:1,2; 2:12.

16:22-24 24:13,14; Ps 19:10. Certain types of instruction should be given in a pleasant manner rather than in a stern, forbidding one.

16:25 14:12.

16:27 Jam 3:6.

16:28 6:14; 11:13; 14:9.

16:30 6:13.

16:31 3:1,2,16; Lev 19:32.

16:32 "Slow to get angry" - 14:29; 15:18; 19:11.

"Rules" - conquering oneself is the most difficult of all things and far more rewarding than conquering cities.

16:33 "Lot" - in Old Testament days the lot was often used to make decisions, and nothing is said against it anywhere in the Bible (18:18; Num 26:53,55; Josh 13:6; 1 Sam 14:41,42; 1 Chron 26:13; Neh 11:1; Ps 22:18; Jonah 1:7; Acts 1:26). God had no problem in causing the right decision to be made by that method.

17:1 15:16,17; 16:8.

"Sacrifices" - probably indicates an abundance of meat after animals had been sacrificed.

17:2 11:29.

17:3 Note at Ps 66:10-12. God's purpose toward us is to make us pure, and His testing can be like fire (Isa 1:25; Mal 3:2-4).

17:5 "Maker" - 14:31.

"Not be unpunished" - 24:17; Ezek 25:6,7; Ps 35:26. To be happy at another's sorrow, to rejoice when the poor meet disaster, shows one of the qualities of Satan.

17:7 "Prince" - 16:10; 12:22.

17:8 "Bribe" - this is not a recommendation for bribery, but only a statement of how things are in this fallen sinful world. Everywhere the Bible condemns taking or giving bribes with a view to pervert justice and truth. Note at 15:27.

17:9 "Conceals" - this does not mean covering one's own offense, but keeping quiet about someone else's offense instead of spreading the news of it to others. Compare 28:13.

"Love" - 10:12; 1 Cor 13:4-7; Jam 5:19,20; 1 Pet 4:8.

"Separates" - 16:28.

17:10 9:8,9; Ps 141:5.

- therefore a cruel messenger will be sent against him.
- 12 Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.
- 13 Whoever repays evil for good, evil will not depart from his house.
- 14 The beginning of strife is like letting out water; therefore break off before the quarrel begins.
- 15 He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous, both of these are abomination to the LORD.
- 16 Why is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, since he has no heart for it?
- 17 A friend loves at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.
- 18 A man lacking understanding strikes hands in pledge, and puts up security in the presence of his friend.
- 19 He who loves quarreling loves transgression, and he who exalts his gate seeks destruction.
- 20 He who has a crooked heart finds no good, and he who has a perverse tongue falls into trouble.
- 21 He who begets a fool does so to his sorrow, and the father of a fool has no joy.
- 22 A merry heart does good like a medicine; but a crushed spirit dries up the bones.
- 23 A wicked person accepts a bribe from the bosom to pervert the ways of justice.
- 24 He who has understanding has wisdom before him, but the eyes of a fool are on the ends of the earth.

- 25 A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her who gave him birth.
- 26 It is also not good to punish the righteous, or to strike princes for their integrity.
- 27 He who has knowledge is sparing with his words, and a man of understanding has a rare spirit.
- 28 Even a fool is considered wise if he keeps quiet; and he who keeps his lips shut is regarded as a man of understanding.

- 18 A man who separates himself seeks to fulfil his own desire; he bursts out against all wisdom.
- 2 A fool has no delight in understanding, but only in displaying his own heart.
- 3 When the wicked comes, contempt also comes, and with disgrace comes reproach.
- 4 The words of a man's mouth are deep waters, and the fountain of wisdom is a flowing brook.
- 5 It is not good to show favoritism to the wicked, to deprive the righteous of justice.
- 6 A fool's lips bring contention, and his mouth invites blows.
- 7 A fool's mouth is his ruin, and his lips are the snare of his soul.
- 8 The words of a talebearer are like wounds, and they go down into the inmost parts of the body.
- 9 He who is lazy in his work is a brother to him who is a great waster.
- 10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower; the righteous runs into it, and is safe.

17:12 A fool is more dangerous than an enraged bear. A bear can only hurt people physically, but a fool can injure them in many ways.

17:13 1 Sam 19:4; Ps 35:12; 38:20; 109:5; Jer 18:20. Repaying evil for good is devilish. Repaying good for evil is divine and the only proper behavior for a Christian (Luke 6:27-31,35,36; Rom 12:21). So we know which of these wise people will practice.

17:14 Matt 5:25,26. Quarrels are much easier to start than to stop.

17:15 18:5; 24:23-25; Ex 23:6,7; Ps 94:21; Isa 5:23; Matt 12:7.

17:16 No matter how much money a fool has he is still a fool, so his money will be spent foolishly.

17:17 John 15:13-15; Heb 2:11,12.

17:18 6:1-5.

17:19 "Transgression" - quarreling is sin in itself and will lead to other sins (1 Cor 3:3; Gal 5:20). "His gate" - indicates pride (compare Gen 11:4,8; Dan 4:28-32. See Isa 2:12-18).

17:22 14:30; 15:13,30; 18:14; Ps 32:3,4; 51:8.

17:23 Verse 8; 15:27 (note).

17:24 "Ends of the earth" - the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence. The fool is not willing to face reality and get on with the job at hand.

17:27,28 10:19; 14:29; 16:32; Job 13:5.

18:1 A man who is interested only in his own advantage will not be likely to form true and close friendships.

18:4 20:5. Who can tell what strange things may lurk in the unseen depths of men's sinful hearts? On the other hand, true wisdom is always springing up with new sparkling clean water, becoming a flowing stream, producing life wherever it flows.

18:5 17:15,26.

18:7 10:14; 12:13; 13:3; Ps 64:7,8.

18:8 26:22. Gossip becomes a part of those who hear and believe it.

18:9 See 6:6-11; Eccl 9:10. This is true in the things of this world, and true also in the Lord's service.

18:10 The name means the person. "Tower" - Ps 61:3; 144:2.

- 11 The rich man's wealth is his stronghold and like a high wall, in his own imagination.
- 12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.
- 13 He who answers a matter before he hears it, it is folly and shame to him.
- 14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity, but a wounded spirit who can bear?
- 15 The heart of the prudent gets knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeks knowledge.
- 16 A man's gift makes room for him, and brings him before great men.
- 17 The first one to present his case seems right, until another comes forward and examines him.
- 18 Casting the lot ends disputes, and decides between the mighty.
- 19 A brother offended is harder to win than a strong city, and disputes are like the bars of a castle.
- 20 A man's stomach will be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth, and with the harvest of his lips he will be filled.
- 21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they who love it will eat its fruit.
- 22 He who finds a wife finds good, and obtains favour from the LORD.
- 23 The poor man uses entreaties, but the rich man answers roughly.
- 24 A man who has friends may be broken, but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.
- 19 Better is the poor man who walks in his integrity than he who is perverse in speech and is a fool.
- 2 Also it is not good for the soul to be without knowledge, and he who makes haste with his feet misses the way.
- 3 The foolishness of a man perverts his way, and his heart frets against the LORD.
- 4 Wealth makes many friends, but the poor man is separated from his neighbour.
- 5 A false witness will not be unpunished, and he who speaks lies will not escape.
- 6 Many will beg favours from the prince, and every man is a friend to the one who gives gifts.
- 7 All the brothers of the poor man hate him; how much more do his friends keep their distance from him!
He pursues them with words, but they are not there for him.
- 8 He who gets wisdom loves his own soul; he who has regard for understanding will find good.
- 9 A false witness will not be unpunished, and he who speaks lies will perish.
- 10 Luxury is not fitting for a fool; much less for a servant to rule princes.
- 11 A man's discretion makes him slow to get angry, and it is his glory to overlook a transgression.
- 12 The king's wrath is like the roaring of a lion, but his favour is like dew on the grass.
- 13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father,

"Safe" - 14:26; 29:25; Ps 18:2; 20:1; 27:5; 32:7; 2 Tim 4:18. In the Lord Himself is the only safe place in the entire universe. There is no security anywhere else either for time or for eternity, but there is perfect security there.

18:11 So they think they do not need the Lord. But see 17:19.

18:12 11:2; 15:33; 16:18.

18:14 15:13; 17:22.

18:16 Gen 32:13; 43:11; 1 Kings 10:1,2.

18:18 Note at 16:33.

18:20 12:14.

18:21 "Death and life" - we must be careful what we say. Words can kill reputations, can stir up quarrels which result in fighting and killing, can pronounce death sentences, and false words about God and salvation can cause eternal death (separation from God). Other kinds of words can reverse the effect of killing words, can result in life, even eternal life (10:11; 13:14; 15:4). In the end, God will judge us all by the words we have spoken (Matt 12:37).

18:22 "Good" - (12:4; 19:14; 31:10; Gen 2:18), but not best in every time and in every case (Jer 16:1,2; 1 Cor 7:1,2,8,38).

18:24 "Closer" - Jesus does. John 15:15.
19:1 28:6; 16:8; 15:16. Blamelessness will receive an eternal reward. Everything of this world is passing away - 1 John 2:17.

19:3 In other words, he blames God for what he has brought on himself by his own folly or wickedness. This is the tendency of human nature since the fall of Adam (Gen 3:12; 4:5; Isa 8:19-21; Rev 16:10,11).
19:5 Verse 9; 21:28; Deut 19:19; Isa 29:20,21; Rev 21:8.

19:7 The meaning of the Hebrew for the last sentence of this verse is uncertain.

19:8 "Loves" - such a person has sought the most valuable thing for himself. Contrast with 8:36; 15:32.

19:11 "Slow to get angry" - 14:29; 15:18; 16:32; Eccl 7:9.

"Overlook" - Gen 45:4-7; 50:19-21; 2 Sam 1:17-19; 16:5-7,11,12; Matt 5:39-41; 1 Cor 13:5.

- and the quarrels of a wife are a continual dripping.
- 14 House and riches are the inheritance of fathers, and an understanding wife is from the LORD.
- 15 Laziness casts into a deep sleep, and an idle soul will suffer hunger.
- 16 He who keeps the commandment keeps his own soul, but he who despises his ways will die.
- 17 He who is generous to the poor lends to the LORD, and he will repay him what he has given.
- 18 Discipline your son while there is hope, and do not let your soul remove it because of his crying.
- 19 A man of great anger will pay the penalty; for if you rescue him, yet you must do it again.
- 20 Listen to advice and receive instruction, so that you may be wise in the end of your days.
- 21 There are many plans in a man's heart; nevertheless the counsel of the LORD is what will stand.
- 22 What is desirable in a man is his kindness,

- and a poor man is better than a liar.
- 23 The fear of the LORD leads to life, and he who has it will rest satisfied, untouched by evil.
- 24 A lazy man buries his hand in the dish, and will not so much as bring it back to his mouth.
- 25 Strike a scorner and the simple will beware, and rebuke one who has understanding, and he will understand knowledge.
- 26 He who despoils his father and chases his mother away is a son who causes shame and brings disgrace.
- 27 My son, stop listening to the instruction that causes one to stray from the words of knowledge.
- 28 An ungodly witness scorns justice, and the mouth of the wicked feeds on evil.
- 29 Judgments are prepared for scorners, and blows for the back of fools.

- 20 Wine is a mocker, strong drink rages, and whoever is deceived by it is not wise.
- 2 The fear of a king is like the roaring of a lion; whoever provokes him to anger wrongs his own soul.
- 3 It is an honour for a man to avoid strife,

19:14 Verse 13; 12:4; 18:22.
19:15 6:6-11.
19:16 13:13; 15:10; 16:17.
19:17 14:21,31; Deut 24:19-22; Ps 41:1. We may be sure that God will pay his "debts", and with good interest! And those who give to the poor will be laying up treasures in heaven (Matt 6:19,20. Note and references on giving at 2 Cor 9:15).
19:18 13:24; 23:13,14. Discipline is one means of keeping children from evil ways which lead to death. So refusing to discipline children is the same as agreeing to their destruction.
 "Crying" – the Hebrew word means "to die" and the meaning seems to be "Do not be responsible for your son's premature death by refusing to discipline him."
19:19 Inability to control anger will get men into trouble again and again.
19:20 4:1; 9:8,9.
19:21 16:1,9; Ps 33:11; Isa 8:10; 14:24,27; 46:10; 55:11. God is working His purposes out on earth no matter what men may plan to do. To accomplish His will He uses men's plans, or overturns them as He wishes.
19:22 "Kindness" – or the Hebrew could also be translated "What a man desires is un-failing love" – or even "a man's greed is his shame." But is it possible that the same Hebrew words can give such widely different meanings? In this case, the answer is, yes. The Hebrew word translated here "kindness" also means love, goodness, and faithfulness. But it also means reproach or shame. So it could be translated "greedily desires" or "lusts" or "greed" (what a person greedily desires or lusts after may be called his greed). See the note on some of the difficulties encountered in translation at Ps 14:6,7.

 "Better to be a poor man than a liar" – 15:16; 16:8; 28:6 – a thousand times better! A liar sins against God, is doing something God hates, and is in danger of terrible punishment (Rev 21:8). The poverty of a poor man who trusts in Christ is only temporary, and at death he will enter into an eternal rich inheritance with God. Many are placed in positions where this choice between poverty and lying must be made. Alas that then so many start practicing lying and deception to get money. We should tremble for the future of such persons.
19:23 "Fear" – 1:7; 8:13; 9:10; 10:27; 14:27.
 "Satisfied" – 1:33; Phil 4:11; 1 Tim 6:6-8; Heb 13:5. How much better this is than lying and deceiving to get uncertain gain.
19:24 6:6-11. "Dish" – the KJV has "bosom", which is an unlikely translation of the Hebrew.
19:25 9:9; 21:11; Ps 141:5.
19:26 Ex 20:12.
20:1 "Mocker", "rages" – the Bible frequently speaks about over-indulgence in alcoholic beverages. It leads to folly, wickedness, and punishment (23:20,21,29,30; 31:4,5; Gen 9:21; Ps 69:12; Isa 28:7; Hab 2:5; Rom 13:13; 1 Cor 5:11; 6:10; Gal 5:21; Eph 5:18). Far better not to touch them at all than to run the risks involved in indulging.
20:3 6:14; 17:14,19; 18:6.

- but every fool will quarrel.
- 4 The lazy man will not plow because of the cold; therefore he will beg in harvest, and have nothing.
- 5 Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water, but a man of understanding will draw it out.
- 6 Most men will proclaim each his own goodness, but a faithful man who can find?
- 7 The just man walks in his integrity; his children are blessed after him.
- 8 A king who sits on the throne of judgment dispels all evil with his eyes.
- 9 Who can say, "I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?"
- 10 Varying weights and varying measures, both of them alike are abomination to the LORD.
- 11 Even a child is known by his actions, whether his deeds are pure and right.
- 12 The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD has made both of them.
- 13 Do not love sleep, so that you do not come to poverty; open your eyes, and you will have enough food to be satisfied.
- 14 "It is nothing, it is nothing!" says the buyer, but when he has gone his way, then he boasts.
- 15 There is gold, and an abundance of rubies, but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.
- 16 Take the garment of the one who puts up security for a stranger, and take a pledge from him for a strange woman.
- 17 Bread obtained by deceit is sweet to a man, but afterwards his mouth will be filled with gravel.
- 18 Prepare plans by getting counsel, and make war through good advice.
- 19 He who goes around as a talebearer reveals secrets; therefore have nothing to do with him who flatters with his lips.
- 20 Whoever curses his father or his mother, his lamp will be put out in deep darkness.
- 21 An inheritance may be quickly obtained in the beginning, but in the end it will not be blessed.
- 22 Do not say, "I will repay evil," but wait on the LORD, and he will save you.
- 23 Varying weights are an abomination to the LORD, and a false balance is not good.
- 24 Man's steps are directed by the LORD; how then can a man understand his own way?
- 25 It is a snare for a man to rashly dedicate what is holy, and after vows to reconsider.
- 26 A wise king winnows the wicked, and drives the threshing wheel over them.
- 27 The spirit of man is the lamp of the Lord,

20:6 Ps 12:1; Eccl 7:28,29; Micah 7:2. There is one who is eternally faithful - Deut 7:9; Ps 36:5; 89:1; 92:2; Isa 11:5; 25:1; Lam 3:23; 1 Cor 1:9; 10:13; 1 Thess 5:24; 2 Thess 3:3; Heb 2:17; 1 Pet 4:19; 1 John 1:9; Rev 19:11. And God can and does make His people faithful - Num 12:7; Neh 7:2; Matt 25:21; Luke 16:10; 1 Cor 4:2; 7:25; Eph 1:1; Col 1:2,7; 1 Tim 1:12; 2 Tim 2:2; Rev 2:10; 17:14.

20:7 13:22; 14:26; Ps 26:1; 37:25,26; 112:2.

20:9 The Lord Jesus alone of all who ever lived on earth could truthfully claim to be sinless (John 8:46; 2 Cor 5:21; Heb 4:15; 7:26; 1 Pet 2:22,24; 1 John 3:5). All the rest of us are born with a sinful nature and have sinned (Job 14:4; Ps 14:2,3; 51:5; Rom 3:9,23). But God can cleanse us from sin and make us pure in His sight (Ps 51:2,7,10; Isa 1:18; Zech 13:1; Titus 2:11-14; Heb 9:14; 1 John 1:9), and can enable us to live the blameless life mentioned in v 7. 20:17 The pleasures of sin are only for a little while.

20:19 11:13.

20:20 19:26; 30:11,17; Ex 20:12; 21:17; Lev 20:9.

20:21 Compare Luke 15:11-16.

20:22 Deut 32:35,43; Ps 94:1; Rom 12:19; Heb 10:30.

20:23 Verse 10.

20:24 16:9; 21:1; Jer 10:23. God's ways are beyond tracing out (Rom 11:33). He makes man's way also past tracing out. No man understands very much of what he really is and why he does what he does, and what the whole meaning of his life is, and how it is all interwoven with God's purposes. But God understands it all (Jer 17:9,10).

20:25 Perhaps a translation just as good as, or possibly better than this would be "It is a snare for a man to say rashly 'This is dedicated' and after vows to reconsider it."

20:26 See notes on psalm 101.

20:27 1 Cor 2:11. The Lord uses this "lamp" to search men and make them searching all the inmost being.

- 28 Mercy and truth preserve the king,
and his throne is upheld by mercy.
- 29 The glory of young men is their strength, and the beauty of old men is the gray head.
- 30 Blows that wound cleanse away evil;
just so beatings cleanse the inmost being.

21 The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD;
like streams of water, he turns it wherever he will.

- 2 Every way of a man is right in his own eyes,
but the LORD weighs the hearts.
- 3 Doing what is right and just is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.
- 4 A haughty look and a proud heart,
and the plowing of the wicked, are sin.
- 5 The plans of the diligent surely lead to profit, but those of everyone who is hasty surely leads to poverty.
- 6 Getting treasures by a lying tongue
is a fleeing vapour,
pursued by those who seek death.
- 7 The violence of the wicked will destroy them,
because they refuse to act justly.
- 8 The way of the perverse man is devious;
but as for the pure, his behaviour is upright.
- 9 It is better to live in a corner of the housetop, than in a house with a quarrelsome woman.
- 10 The soul of the wicked desires evil;
his neighbour finds no favour in his eyes.

- 11 When the scorner is punished,
the simple is made wise;
and when the wise is instructed,
he gains knowledge.
- 12 The righteous person wisely considers the house of the wicked, but God overthrows the wicked for
their wickedness.
- 13 Whoever shuts his ears at the cry of the poor, will also cry out himself, but will not be heard.
- 14 A gift in secret pacifies anger,
and a bribe in the bosom stirs strong wrath.
- 15 Justice done is a joy to the righteous,
but like destruction to evildoers.
- 16 The man who wanders out of the way of understanding will settle down in the company of the dead.
- 17 He who loves pleasure will become a poor man;
he who loves wine and oil will not become rich.
- 18 The wicked will be a ransom for the righteous, and the transgressor for the upright.
- 19 It is better to live in the wilderness,
than with a quarrelsome and angry woman.
- 20 There is precious treasure and oil in the home of the wise,
but a foolish man consumes it.
- 21 He who follows righteousness and mercy finds life, righteousness, and honour.
- 22 A wise man scales the wall of the city of the mighty,
and casts down the stronghold in which they trust.

conscious of what goes on in their inner being.
